Dearest Darling Pete:

Well honey boy here I am again writing you just a few lines to let you know I'm fine and so is everyone here. I hope to hear the some from you. I haven't received a letter from you today but I hope I get one tomorrow. Yesterday sweetheart I received your letter of 3 but I should say just a note.

You say honey you were listening to the radio and you bought one. Well that's nice but are you about to have one? I bet it is a beautiful one. Well hon if you come home you will have to take your radio along or else you won't have a radio when you get back at camp.

You know what sweetheart here I am in bed trying to write to you with both of my sisters. Mary Jane is here too. Mother + Dad went to an Italian show tonight so I had to watch watch the baby. We are a little crowded but Mary Jane don't take any rooms. So you see when we get married well you will have to sleep on your side or else I'll fall out of bed. Haha. I let you say that's what you think Mary.

You feel sad honey but you should be very happy that you are still here and sometime soon I will be seeing you. I know you want to be home and so does everyone else what you to be here but now you have to stay in army for awhile.

after the war is over you will be home always and
maybe sometimes when you get mad at me
I bet you will say I wish I was in the army.

Tonight hon I called your place and everybody has a cold. But I guess it will go soon. Anyway Mary told me she has something nice to tell me that you wrote your brother. Now what did you tell him you want to get married or something like that. But she said to go see her that she will tell me so maybe I'll go Sunday. I talked to Rita too can you imagine she calls me Aunt Mary well
it sounds very nice maybe ^{it} soon will be true.

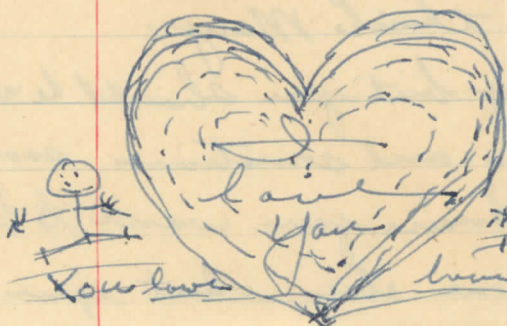

Well hon this weather is crazy cold than it gets warm. I hope it gets warm soon because I don't like cold weather.

Also sweetheart when do you think you will be home? Well hon I guess I've said all I can think of right now so the family sends best regards
and I wish you best of luck in world.

God Bless You Always

Your sweetheart,

Mary Massullo (Future)
(Mrs P. Centofanti)

Good Night, I wish you could be here. Love Mary
