SPRING CONFERENCE HIGHLIGHTS

Here are a few things to expect at the May 2 and 3 Spring Conference. It will be great - better put on a seat belt before reading this.

- parking available at hotel and at near-by ramps
- May 2 activities include banquet and speaker, Dr. Mike Altekruise, Southern Illinois University. His topic will be "Guidance is Alive, Well, and Living in Ohio."
- 65 plus programs are planned for May 3
- 19 ESEA elementary guidance programs will be presented
- at least 12 other outstanding projects will be described
- student initiated programs will be presented this year
- several programs will focus on involving those attending the presentations
- many presentations will center on technique builders and "how to" approaches
- a social hour is scheduled to begin in the Neil House after the May 2 banquet speech. Door prizes will be awarded.
- reduced registration fee for full-time graduate students.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

SAVE ENERGY AND GROW PROFESSIONALLY. A couple of months ago an Englishman created quite a stir by suggesting that people save energy by taking baths together. I suggest that you save energy by forming car pools to drive to Columbus for the Spring Conference. Not only will this save energy, but also it will lead to professional growth on your part. Fine programs, interesting exhibits, and interaction with fellow professionals await all who journey to Columbus May 2 and 3. SEE YOU THERE!

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MET ON MARCH 2, 1974

The OPGA Executive Board met from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. on March 2 at the Neil House. The purpose of the meeting was to view the facilities available for the Spring Conference on May 2 and 3. The following topics were covered: (1) acceptance of the December 8 minutes, (2) acceptance of the Treasurer's report, (3) decided upon a reduced registration fee of $5.00 for full-time graduate students, (4) discussed publicity for the OPGA Conference, (5) made publicity arrangements for the OPGA and APGA social hours, and (6) much of the remaining time was spent on the various tasks and details in regard to the Spring Conference.

The next OPGA Executive Board Meeting will be held at the Neil House during the Spring Conference. Let a board member know if you have items you wish discussed.

CONFERENCE MAP

Ever wonder how you would find the location for the spring meeting in Columbus? A cognitive map to help facilitate your arrival at the Neil House for May 2 and 3 is provided in this newsletter. The Neil House is located in downtown Columbus on High Street just across from the Capitol Building. The address is 41 South High Street (just one block south of Broad Street).

JOIN OPGA

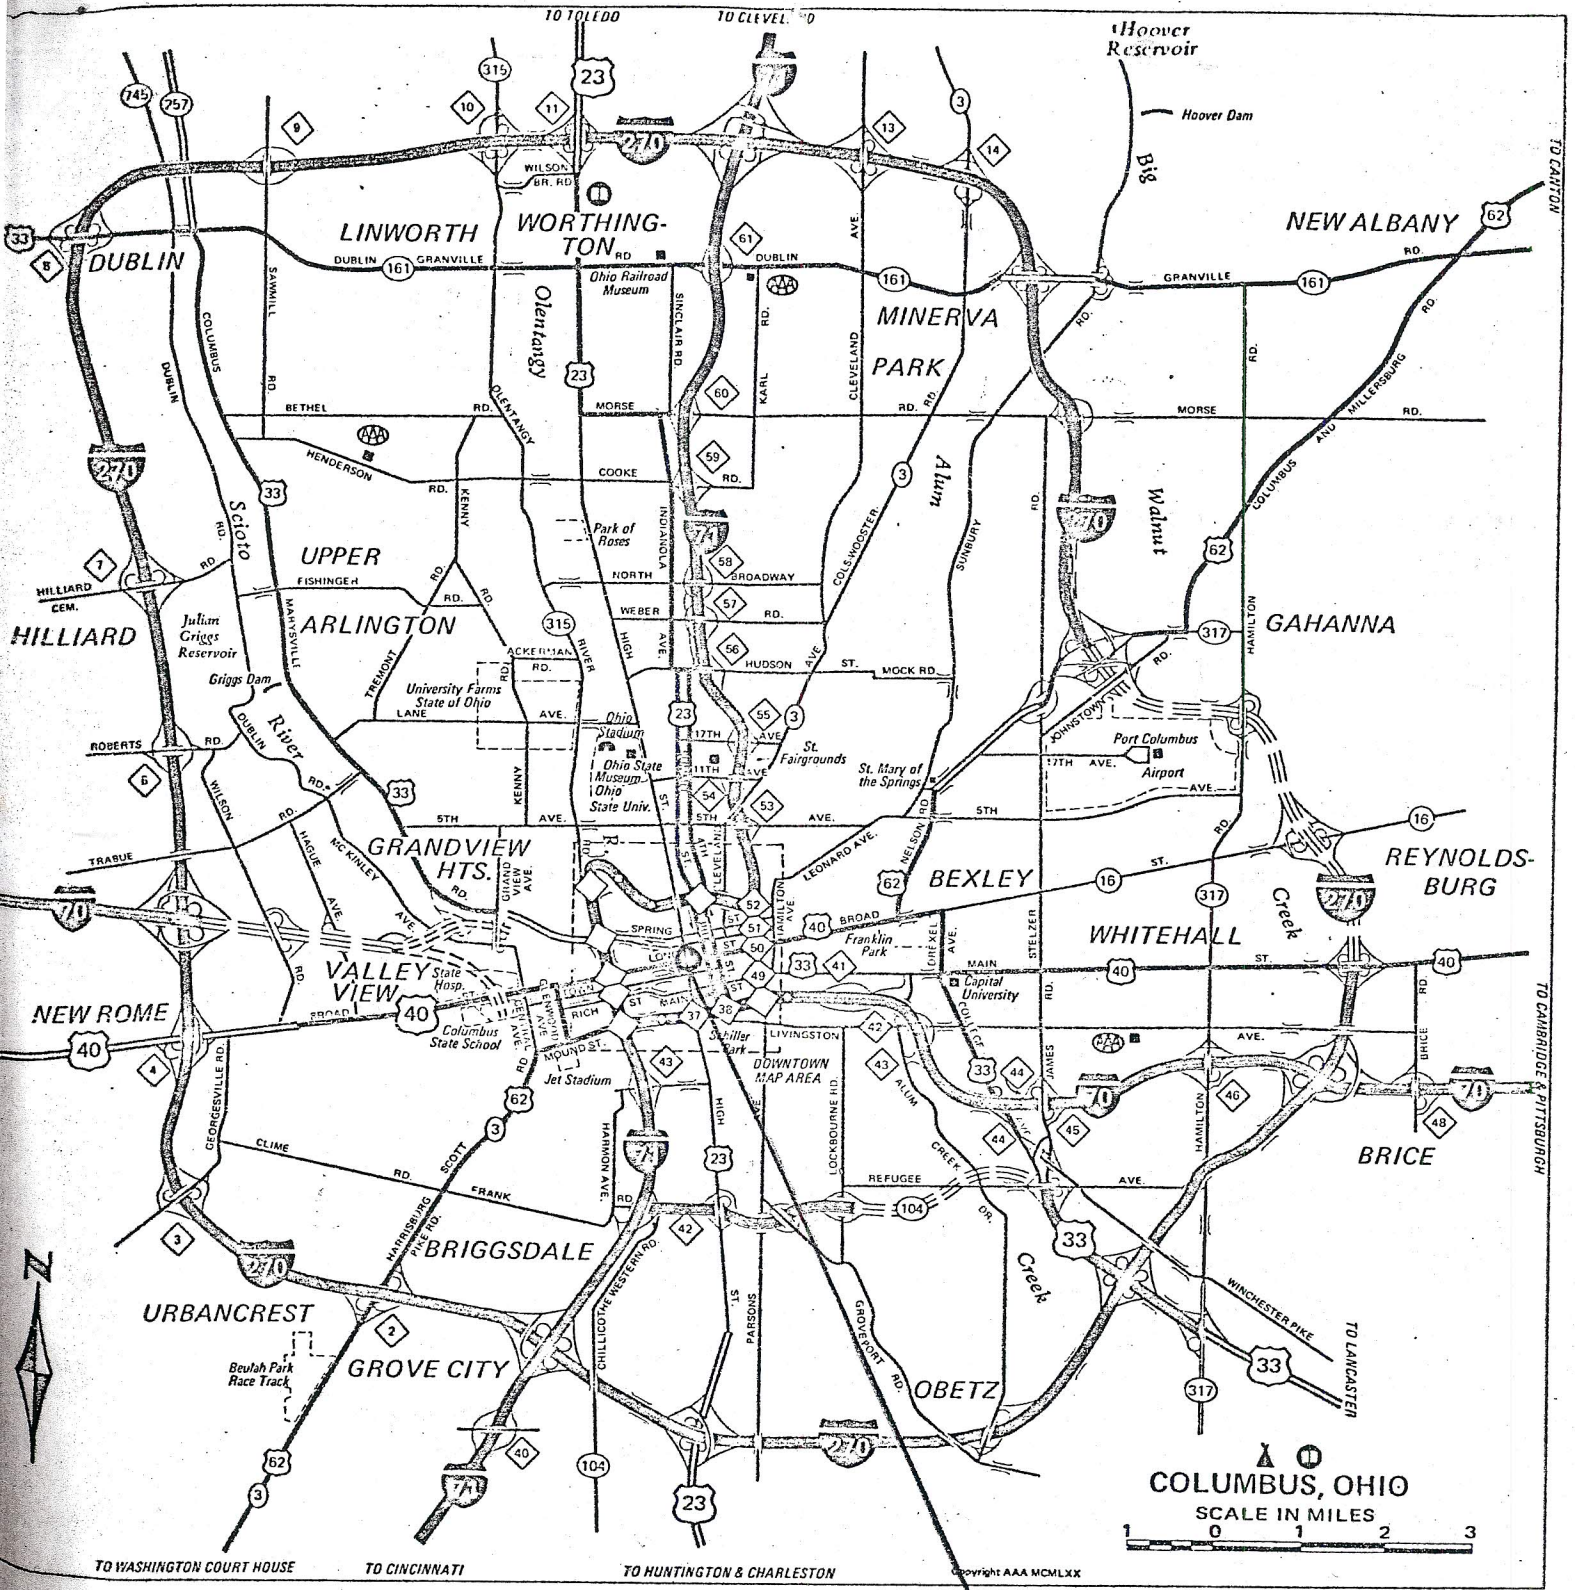

Ever wonder if you could join a professional organization for $1.00? Unbelievable? You can join OPGA as a regular member for one buck. Your dollar makes it possible to sponsor this newsletter, to help send delegates to the Mid-West Branch Assembly, to sponsor candidates for regional and national offices, and to keep you current on the state, regional, and national affairs of APGA. If you have not joined yet, please complete the attached application and mail it with $1.00 to: Frank O'Dell, OPGA Treasurer, 25807 Byron Drive, North Olmsted, Ohio 44070.

Future issues of the newsletter will only be sent to members of OPGA. If you are not a member, join today.
