Simone Courbot Stresses Need For Foreign Aid

Simone Courbot, speaker for the World Student Service Fund, stressed the need of students in the rest of the world and the desirability of helping them. She pointed out the difficulties and problems that confront students in Europe today. Miss Courbot spoke 4 times in Liberal Arts Building to the students of the college and other interested people.

Miss Courbot is qualified to speak on the subject, having been born in France and educated at the Sorbonne in Paris. Coming from a university that was almost completely destroyed by the war, she knows the conditions of which she spoke.

IRC to Take Part in Program

Youngstown College is planning to take an active part in the program of the World Student Service Fund this year. WSSF is designated by UNESCO as the official relief agency in the United States for students and professors of war ravished areas.

The World Student Service Fund was established in 1937 by the National Intercollegiate Christian Council to raise money to aid students in war-torn China. When war broke out in Europe in 1939, the organization extended its activities to all war-ravaged areas. With the end of the war, the opportunities — and the needs — for rebuilding have expanded vastly. The WSSF is the American organization dedicated exclusively to rebuilding the lives and restoring the opportunities of students everywhere. It is the over-all student relief organization, sponsored by the National Intercollegiate Christian Council, the University Commission of the Council of Church Boards of Education (student denominational groups), the Inter-Seminary Movement, the Student Volunteer Movement, these four comprising the United Student Christian Council, Provisional Committee of the International Student Service, U.S.A. and B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundations at American Universities. Delegates to the National Convention of the National Federation of Newman Clubs voted unanimously this summer to sponsor the WSSF.

When World Student Relief was created in 1943, the WSSF became an integral part of the new international agency. The World Student Relief was created by International Student Service, the World's Student Christian Federation, and Pax Romana, the International Union of Students became a fourth sponsor in February, 1947. The World Student Relief is the over-all agency co-ordinating the plans and policies of the various national committees, and administering all funds raised for student relief. Headquarters are at 13 Rue Calvin, Geneva, Switzerland. A separate disbursement office is maintained in Shanghai.

Students and teachers in 19 nations are raising money for their colleagues in war-stricken areas. Creative action has been taken (Continued on Page 10)

History of Homecoming

By SALLY O'HORO

Youngstown College's first Homecoming Queen made her debut in November of '38 when Marie Barrett was crowned. A ceremonious all-day affair commenced at noon with a parade from the Public Square to South High Stadium. Gayly decorated floats carrying the queen and her court followed the new college band. At a strictly one-sided game YoCo drubbed Clarion State Teachers College, 46-0. Half-time celebrated the coronation of Miss Barrett, attended by the Misses Peg Wylie and Rachel Brown. Post-game festivities were set off at an alumni dinner honoring the victorious varsity. Following the dinner Miss Barrett reigned at our first Homecoming dance, the inauguration of a new YoCo tradition.

Margaret Ann Lovell took the spotlight in the second Homecoming. Competing for laurels that year was the newly arrived Arctic native, Pete Penguin, official mascot of his Youngstown namesake. Miss Lovell reigned under an enlarged election system which we still follow. She was chosen by a committee of judges from five elected candidates instead of three according to the first year's policy. The other four electees attended the queen. Again there was a colorful parade from the campus to Rayen Stadium and a dinner following the game. And again YoCo trampled the opponent, Westminster, 46-0. Gridiron royalty of 1940, Miss Adelaide Finnegan, took the lead role in Homecoming merrymaking the night before the game. Versatile Miss Finnegan, captain of cheerleaders that season, led the student body in a pep rally at the Palace Theater. YoCo downed Tennessee Tech, 28-12, in the third annual Homecoming. That was the year Mr. Dominic Rosselli joined Coach Bede's staff. The traditional pre-game parade and half-time coronation were followed by the dance in the evening with Miss Finnegan in the role of honor.

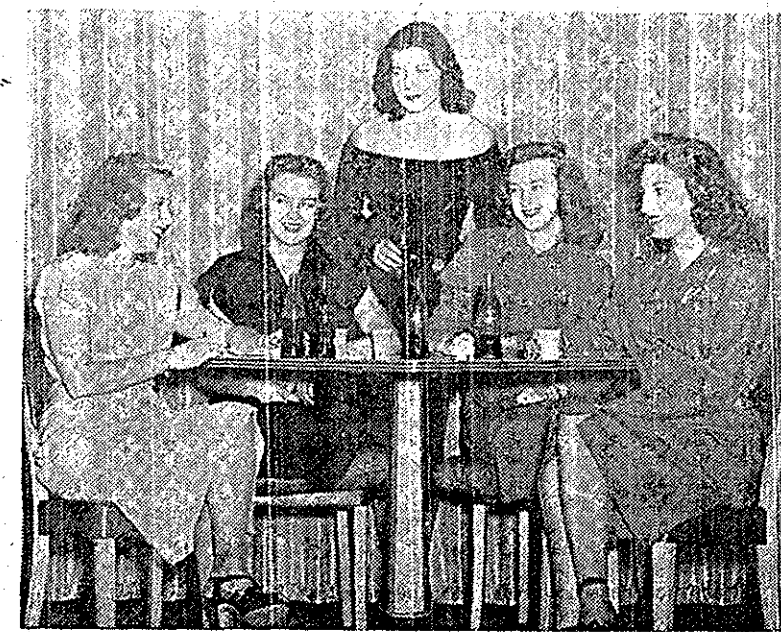

When 1941 roled around signs of the war had entered the campus. Pilot training was available to the students. Miss Barrett, first Homecoming Queen, became the college's first female pilot. That same year saw the debut of majorettes to add to the splendor of the band. Jean Belleville was crowned fourth annual Homecoming Queen. The royal parade to the stadium was accompanied by a corps of soldier students. The team emerged with a 19-0 victory over Akron U. in its first undefeated season in four years of pigskin competition.

In 1942 Mary Dolwick won the Homecoming election in the fifth and last football season until post-war days. Miss Dolwick shared half-time attention with a humorous student pageant. A "Sadie Hawkin's Day" husband chase was enacted by a group of co-eds in typical Dogpatch attire. The varsity celebrated another victorious Homecoming at the expense of Illinois Wesleyan with a score of 35-6.

Four years of war transposed Youngstown College into practically a man-less, and certainly a football-less institution. By 1946 the population had reverted from subnormal to abnormal. With GI's pouring into school by the hundreds the mighty Penguins were ready to take off on another victorious season. Wanda Porembski was chosen first post-war H. C. Queen. Festivities began with a rally at the Palace Theater the night before the game. The Penguins succeeded in chalking up another Homecoming victory over Scranton, 33-14.

Which brings us to 1947's Queen, Marty Altman. Congratulations to the seventh annual Homecoming Queen and a salute to our Queens of the past: Mrs. Marie Barrett Marsh, Mrs. Margaret Ann Lovell Smith, Mrs. Adelaide Finnegan Denmeade, Mrs. Jean Belleville Kelley, Mrs. Mary Dolwick Lenhart, and Miss Wanda Porembski.

Queen candidates relax after ordeal with judges. They are Elinore Lehn, Delores Sostaric, Marty Altman, Joan Wise and Olivetta DeLucia.

MEMORIAL STADIUM FOR YOUNGSTOWN . . .

It has long been obvious to those who have been connected with the athletic department that one of the greatest needs of our school has been the need for a larger, more ample stadium and athletic plant. In this football year alone countless people have been turned away for the lack of good seats for our football games. Many people feel that a game is not worth seeing if they have to sit in the end zone in order to see it.

Under the present set-up, we can offer only 5,000 seats that are acceptable to the general public. Seats between the 40-yard lines comprise only one-fifth of this number. It is easy to see that seats that are usually sold in pairs are sold out long before the general admission seats are touched, which leads us to believe that many more of the better priced seats could be sold if they were available.

With Youngstown College taking its place as one of the recognized football powers of the state, and being mentioned for invitations to inter-sectional bowl games, public interest in our football games is steadily increasing.

On the ballot Nov. 4 there will be a place for Youngstown voters to approve a small levy for the building of a memorial stadium and fieldhouse. Built in memory of the war dead, it will serve to give the citizens useful service, and honor the men who made it possible for us to continue developing our young men on the playing field instead of the battlefield.

Students and faculty members owe it to those who died; owe it to their school, to vote in favor of the tax levy. We need a large stadium. Money will be spent for some kind of war memorial anyway, so here's a chance to kill two birds with one stone.

PARK LEVY IS WORTHY . . .

Every citizen of Youngstown and every student at Youngstown College has, at one time or another, pointed with pride to beautiful Mill Creek Park. This action is justified, for it is easily one of the most beautiful city parks in the country.

Many school outings have been held there and many more will be held there in the future, which makes the future welfare of the park of vital interest to the students of our school.

The park has been coasting along for the past few years on improvements and buildings that are rapidly becoming in need of renovation. However, the increases in the costs of labor and materials in the past few years has rendered the present financial arrangements incapable of handling the repairs and improvements needed.

In 1932 the cost of maintaining the park was $48,400. In 1946 the cost rose to $182,700. At the same time, the income for park maintenance has been reduced to $123,000 in 1946. Income from fees was added last year, and park authorities borrowed heavily from the reserve fund in order to meet the expenses. This reserve fund is rapidly approaching depletion.

The proposed .5 mill levy is estimated to yield $143,862 which will be added to the income from existing sources. This will cover the costs for projects that have been delayed for lack of funds.

It is hoped that the .5 mill levy will be passed by the voters Nov. 4. It would be a crying shame if one of the country's most beautiful parks were allowed to deteriorate because of lack of funds during a prosperous era.

A WORD TO THE FROSH . . .

There has long been an unfortunate misconception of the way Greek fraternities and sororities select prospective members. This has caused many heartaches among new freshmen who haven't had the opportunity to discover the truth.

Greek societies do not always go through the lists of students and pick the "cream." This would be an impossible task. Rather, prospective members are recommended by a friend who is already in the Greek organization. Don't fret if you are not rushed, for you can see that if you don't have a close acquaintance in a fraternal society, you probably will remain an independent.

If you received a fraternal bid, The Jambar advises you to accept it. However, if you feel you haven't time for Greek activities or if you can't afford it financially, we advise you to stay out. There are many other independent organizations on the campus. They offer you just as much enjoyment and are easier on your pocketbook.

Both fraternities and independent organizations are a necessary part of any campus. They add to college social life by sponsoring dances and other collegiate activities for the good of the entire student body. Their members have competitive spirit and excellent organization required to make campus events a success. Your college life will be more complete if you are an active member of an organization of your choice.

The Inquiring Reporter --- Looking Around ...

by MAC GRAHAM

The recent elections of the Homecoming Queen left many students confused as to how the queen is chosen. Although the student constitution is hazy on some points it does state that the student body shall elect the candidates for queen while the actual selection shall be left in the hands of judges who are selected by the Student Council with the approval of President Jones. The candidates for judges are submitted to Student Council by an elections committee appointed by the president of council. The intense interest shown in this matter prompted the following question:

QUESTION: HAVE YOU ANY COMMENTS OR SUGGESTIONS TO MAKE ABOUT THE PRESENT METHOD OF ELECTING QUEENS?

Antoinette Manginelli, Sophomore

The student body chooses those it wishes to put up for election of any one position, therefore they know who they want. Why leave it up to outside judges to eliminate those not desirable. Do they attend Youngstown College — are they an active part of the student body — and, above all, is the judge chosen running for a position in the city of Youngstown or Youngstown College?

Bill Rabil, Sophomore

The method of electing "Queens" should at the present stay as it is. If the Queen were elected by popular vote it would involve only a minimum of girl students at the college with a maximum of vote-getting by the different organizations to secure the title for their choice. The election by impartial judges is by far the fairest method of selection.

Mary Ellen Van Bozel, Sophomore

The process of the student body eliminating all but five candidates is very good. But I think that the judging is unfair. Some judges should be picked from outside of school and the rest of the committee should be representatives of the student body. In this way everyone would be satisfied in the method of electing "Queens."

Harry Meshel, Junior

The present system eliminates in part the essence of the "popular vote" theory. Ample notice should be given EVERYONE before election time so that any person who so desires may enter a candidate.

After taking a vote on this number of nominees another vote should be taken on the five candidates with the highest number of votes. Then the girl receiving the most votes should become Queen. The elections should mean more than just a chance to hang your favorite picture on the wall.

Frank Davanzo

Many of the important rights of the student body have been placed in the hands of Student Council. It seems to me that the Student Council and the various organizations they represent have been using the completely independent and unorganized students who comprise the majority of YoCo's students as a rubber stamp. The elections of "Queens" should be placed in the hands of the electors rather than the candidates. I think that the Queen should be chosen from the three girls with the highest number of nominating votes by a popular ballot.

Letters to the Editor . . .

Dear Editor:

In the last issue of The Jambar the gossip column was written by other persons beside one of the lounge lizards, and quite naturally the column met with approval throughout the engineering school and also in this school, disregarding those who make the lounge their natural habitat. However, upon congratulating the writers, Durso and Donnelly, the information was forwarded that from now on the column would revert to a certain staff member, or in other words, a lounge king. Many students now feel that The Jambar is not a representative paper of the school as a whole, instead that it serves as an organ for various small groups or cliques, so now, to find out that its editorial policies are dictated from the lounge makes it even more despicable.

There are at YoCo quite a few students who do not frequent the lounge, and who do not come to school solely to display their anatomy or brush up on their bridge, and it is only more than fair that a greater portion of the paper be allocated to their interests, this includes gossip column, etc.

We do not personally know the past writers of this column, or the future writers; however, we feel we can safely predict that he or she will wear dark shell rimmed glasses, be a rah rah type, and spend at least 30 hours a week in the lounge. Naturally, he or she will be able to write quite a bit concerning the affairs of the lounge's "200," but how about the other 3,800 students? So how about writing for these poor "3,800" who can't afford to frequent the lounge but would like to keep tabs of persons known throughout the school.

Yours truly,

Dear Editor:

After reading the latest edition of The Jambar, I have come to the conclusion that too big a beef is being made over the "green-cap section." Since it does boost our school spirit, I am in favor of it.

The trouble is that 99-44/100 per cent of the upperclassmen are too proud to put on a freshman cap and sit in that section. Therefore, they have only themselves to blame not the Student Council.

Sincerely,

Marion Farnell

Tired as it may be, that's the sneer and leer department for this time. Drop around in a fortnite and see what Miss D. and Miss D. have stewed 'n' brewed for ya! (If you have any suggestions to improve this column, forget them — we like it as it is!)

Notes from Dana's . . .

by LEE EHRHART

This is the first issue of The Jambar this year in which this column, Notes from the Dana School of Music has appeared. However, throughout the year, I will endeavor to keep you music-minded students informed as to the activities of the music school.

At D. S. M. there are four active music organizations, composed entirely of students of the music school. The organizations are namely: Studio Club, Dana Music Forum, Delta Iota, and Sigma Alpha Iota. To acquaint you with these organizations, a description of each will appear in this and the three following issues. Now — on to the Studio Club.

The Studio Club was organized on Nov. 3, 1946. Its purpose is two-fold, in that the group not only studies and evaluates music but also provides the social life desired by its members. Membership is open to any student enrolled in the Dana School of Music who meets the requirements of the membership committee and who receives the vote of the club.

The annual recital is given in March, with recitals for club members only held at various times of the year.

Among the club's notes of interest during the past year was its attendance en masse at Cleveland for the concert given by Artur Schnabel, greatest living interpreter of the works of Beethoven.

Studio Club gives generously of both time and money to musical activities of all sorts deemed beneficial by the advisory board. The officers for this year are: President, Olga Booth; vice president, June Adams; secretary, Jean Reel; treasurer, Otto Jacoby; social chairman, Alfred DeJulio.

As for the improvements in the music school since Mr. Miller's coming here, I only say "Drop in and browse around." I feel justified in saying that it is only the older students who can really appreciate him, because the new know little or nothing of D. S. M. in the past.

A low doff of the hat to YoCo's band and director, Mr. Dehnhostel. A band of which we can be proud to claim as a part of us.

Mixed chorus had a most pleasant surprise Friday, when its faithful accompanist of the past, Gladys Peppel, dropped in. Gladys is now working on her master's degree at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago, where she is studying under Mr. Allen Spencer. Best of luck, Peppy.

Everything must come to an end — likewise this column. See you next issue.

Relaxing with the Waxings

by HARRY MESHEL

Drape your forms 'cross a seat,
And try to pick up on the beat
Of these few discs as they've been made,
Wondering whether they'll make the grade.

Had to dig into my own files to cover this issue 'cause either the waxing industry is on a sad kick or distribution problems are too big to cope with. I doubt the latter case exists.

A few good gal vocals are to be had, for a price of course. West Coast rage NELLIE LUTCHER pounds piano as she blues HE'S A REAL GONE GUY and LET ME LOVE YOU TONIGHT. She's different and good but just yet I can't seem to go all the way for the chick. JULIA LEE has a juke box hit with her rendition of SNATCH AND GRAB IT. Yeah man, snatch it if you like it, it's pretty fair. Kind of go for PEGGY LEE (not related to Juha, Julia being blue and Peggy gray) on A NIGHTINGALE CAN SING THE BLUES. Fine orchestral backing, too.

An old bop disc by the master himself, DIZZY GILLESPIE, is LOVER MAN with SHAW 'NUFF on the flipover. Sarah Vaughn chirps on the first side. The boys really move on the other side.

You should like SLOW BURN by SY OLIVER. The wierd arrangement features some gone tramping by DICKIE WELLS. It's a shame they had to couple this with HEY DADDY-O. My goodness!

Another fine pair of numbers is HOW DEEP IS THE OCEAN and STUMPY by perennial COLEMAN HAWKINS. Hawk's beautiful tone and wealth of ideas are evident on both of these, especially the "Ocean" side which is given over to the man's tenor sax.

The talents of both CHARLIE VENTURA and former L. Primadonna, LILYANN CAROL are combined on PLEASE BE KIND. This is both catchy and pretty and not a bad investment. A fair arrangement of How High the Moon is on the opposite face.

Besides Charlie Barnet visiting us we'll soon have Illinois Jacquet and a package made up of Andy Russell and Martha Tilton.

OLD STUFF OUT:
KAY STARR, fast rising former Charlie Barnet thrush, has been inked for a waxing deal with Capitol. Vocalist AL HIBBLER has returned to Duke Ellington's

OSCAR MOORE, guitar specialist with the King Cole is due to cut out and may join forces with brother Blazer Johnny. Add DUKE ELLINGTON, HARRY JAMES and uh huh . . . GENE AUTRY to your list of name disc jockeys . . . bet Roy Rogers is teed-off. If you missed the JAZZ AT THE PHILHARMONIC concert in Cleveland or Pittsburgh I offer my condolences. 'Twas great. LENNIE TRISTANO appears to be the greatest of the latest in modern jazz. He's got an album out but it's hard to find.

CAMPUS COMMENTS . . .

by BUD SCHERMER

The annual class elections have been held again, and from all indications an unusually good slate of officers have been elected. Among the people who were elected to serve as the officers of their respective classes, there seems to be a high potential of action and efficiency. The question now arises, will these people have an opportunity to make use of their potentialities? And if the opportunities arise, will they take advantage of them?

What I'm getting at is this: During the past several years there has been an almost complete collapse of "Class Spirit." Realizing that "Class Spirit" is a rather hackneyed phrase, it is used here with caution, but it seems to be the only way of expressing the camaraderie and feeling-of-belonging-to-a-group that should exist between the members of a college class. There are many available explanations for this almost complete disappearance of Class Spirit.

First of all, during the war years there was very little rapport between any of the students at the college, for obvious reasons. Secondly, we are seriously handicapped here at YoCo by not having a place that can be used for assemblies and meetings of large groups. Thirdly, there are still a great many people in attendance here at the school who seem to think participation in any extra-curricular activity is far below their dignity — what to go in for active participation in any function not connected with the scholastic end of their education is "kid stuff," and suitable only for high school students.

However, these explanations do not hold up nowadays. The stress and strain of the war has passed, and there is time for activities of a lighter vein. As to the lack of an assembly hall, this situation is being worked on now, and there is reason to hope that it may be corrected very soon. The "do-nothings" are a problem of a different nature. Telling them that they are missing much of value in their college experience does not seem to impress them, so it is to be hoped that they will soon wither and fall from the vine, and that their places will be filled by students who will participate.

There are some symptoms of a gradual awakening. Last year the sophomore class took over the running of the Bare Brunch. This function will probably be run by the sophomores from now on. This is a healthy sign. Each class now has a function which is peculiarly their own.

But there should be more, much more. Meetings of the classes should be held several times during the school year. At such meetings it would be possible for the members of the class to get to know each other. Information concerning activities and duties of the members could be disseminated. And the members could be reminded of the progress that they should be making in their scholastic pursuits. It does not seem unreasonable to suppose that the classes could arrange to sponsor social events that could be limited to just their own members.

The organization of such functions will have to come from the class officers. These are the duties which they were elected to carry out. The fulfillment of these duties is their obligation.

Let us hope that this year will see at least the beginning of some such activities; there is so much that can be done. The classes, as a whole, owe it to themselves. It will help to make their college experiences that much richer.

Thanks for coming. Hope to see you all here — same place, same time, next time.

BUZZ — at the — BIZ SCHOOL

by HELEN POWERS

One student complains that she has gained 15 pounds since she began taking typing. Every time she completes one line of typing, a bell rings and she goes out to lunch. She can't understand why they have so many lunch hours.

ODE ON AN UNDERWOODIAN TYPEWRITER
Thou many-keyed instrument of torture,
Thou unperturbed zion of clicks and clacks,
Thou nightmare of the secretary's future,
And the cause of all the misery in our backs.

What awful monster dwells within thy walls
Who types acutely and eouble apoes?
With ringing of bells, and ripping of ribbons, it stalls
Keys entangled, space bar spitted — what a mess!

Why must you take our lovely dreams of "S's,"
Toss them from the basket one by one,
And leave us with the same infernal lessons
To type, and type, and type — 'til we are numb.

Saturday-Niter Dances to Resume

The Saturday-Niter dances will be resumed Oct. 25, at the "Y" Center. Shy Lockson and his orchestra will be the first band featured. With dancing from 9 to 12, admission will be 55 cents per person.

All persons of college age are invited to attend.

The second floor of the "Y" Student Center at 21 E. Rayen Ave. has been newly renovated. It will be the new location for the dances which were formerly held at the Y. M. C. A. Scheduled for appearance at the following dances are Bill Dunn and Herb MacPherson. Another feature attraction will be the ice cream bar which will remain open until midnight.

The only failure a man ought to fear is failure in sticking to the purpose he sees to be best.

One speaker offers this explanation of the unbalanced state of humanity: "We are trying to walk straddle along a creek in civilization. ANY interruptions or discontinuations of veteran's training programs under the G. I. Bill should be reported to the training establishment. Failure to notify the VA of training terminations usually results in over-payments of subsistence allowances to trainees, VA branch office officials in Columbus, O., said. Such over-payments must be refunded to the VA immediately.

Veterans who receive unearned subsistence checks after interruptions or discontinuations of training must return all over-payments to the government, or make satisfactory arrangement for the repayment of the indebtedness.

VA said veterans who fail to make arrangement to repay subsistence allowance over-payments while in education or training may be prevented from re-entering schools or job-training courses under the G. I. Bill. Also, if they apply later for unemployment or self-employment allowances they will have the amounts that they owe the government deducted from their benefit checks period. Explaining the federal statutes prohibit payment of government funds to persons indebted to the U. S. VA said instructions would be issued to state unemployment compensation agencies for recovery of such over-payments from readjustment allowance claimants.

In answer to numerous inquiries, VA officials said that trailers and houseboats, although normally used as dwellings, are not homes within the meaning of the G. I. Bill and are ineligible for the loan guarantee. However, loans may be negotiated for trailers and houseboats if used for legitimate business purposes. So under the present conditions if you are of the common peasant stock it is almost impossible for you to buy a decent home in which to live or rear your children.

In comparing the cost of crime to the public annually and realizing that a decent environment is one of the main factors in crime I believe that the government should be interested in saving us the time and the money, which it would in the long run. We are subsidizing decrepit monarchies, degenerate governments so that various grain and oil speculators may reap a lush harvest on the misery of millions starving to death in Europe and on the fear of certain of these nations of another war. It is pitiful to see the stock of some of our finest citizens having to rear their families in hovels and deprived of the barest necessities of life so they can pay exorbitant rents.

Sigma Kappa Phi Plans National Convention

At the last meeting of the Gamma Chapter of Sigma Kappa Phi Fraternity further plans were laid for the national convention to be held here in Youngstown next June. Jack Ritter has been appointed as general chairman. The meeting was held at the Villa Nova Tuesday evening, Oct. 14.

Jerome Harshman, who is vice president of the Sharon Herald, was the speaker at the meeting. His talk was on the power of advertising.

Plans for organizing a bowling league were discussed at the dinner table. Louis Schwing was selected to start the work of forming the league. Anyone who is interested should contact him or our president.

Danny Mirto, president of Gamma Chapter and national vice president, was responsible for the planning of the very successful National Sports Conclave which gave many of the members from all chapters a chance to see old friends and make many new ones. The event was held at Mahoning Country Club Sept. 10. Some 26 members from many of the chapters were out for a round of golf and they were later joined by several other members for the dinner at the club house. Prizes were presented to the outstanding players of the day.

Tau Kappa Nu Rush Party Held Oct. 13

Monday, Oct. 13, Tau Kappa Nu held their first rush party. Pioneer Pavilion was the scene of the festivity where a circus party progressed at which prospective members were entertained.

Miniature dolls were given as favors to those present. The circus theme filled the air with the smell of popcorn, peanuts, and hot dogs, and decorative balloons were to be found everywhere.

Those on the committee for the evening were: Margaret Angelillo, Helen Cascavalos, Margaret Takacs, and Josephine Tesone. The sorority advisors, Miss Angela Gamberale and Miss Elvira Rossi, were also present.

At a meeting early this week the new officers of Tau Kappa Nu were installed. Those who guide the sorority this year are: President, Margaret Angelillo; vice president, Helen Cascavalos; secretary, Margaret Takacs; treasurer, Gloria Anthony, and historian, June Shrilla.

You probably know a number of men in your class who were pilots in the wartime Air Force. They are the best advertisements for the Aviation Cadet program. Talk with them about it.

Chances are, they'll tell you their service as pilots was one of the most interesting and exciting phases of their lives. Fast action, comradeship, and the chance to serve their country paid them dividends they don't forget . . . added something to their stature and poise that they couldn't have gotten anywhere else.

Cadet life today is no different. As a potential pilot in the new U. S. Air Force, you serve at a time of equal importance to the nation. Freedom, responsibility, the chance to use your own initiative are all yours.

The training you get is the finest your government can provide — $35,000 worth for every Cadet.

You're taught by skilled instructors, fly the best airplanes. Your living facilities are excellent.

Learning to fly today opens profitable fields to you in aviation — which is expanding more rapidly than at any other time in history.

Pilot training is open, now, to single men, 20 to 26½ years old, who have completed at least one-half the credits for a degree from an accredited college or university — or pass an equivalent examination. Cadets completing the course will be commissioned Second Lieutenants, ORC, and assigned to active duty as pilots with the Air Force. During their tours of duty they will be given a chance to qualify for Regular Air Force Commissions. This is your opportunity! Look into it today at your nearest U. S. ## With the Greeks . . .

Many of the sororities and fraternities have their rushing plans thoroughly under control, and are looking forward to the next two weeks of silent week, pledging, and initiations. The new students have had a preview of college life through rushing season, football games, dances, and those unusual periods during the day and evening that are called classes. One of the events that many of the students are looking forward to is the Homecoming game and dance, to be held this evening. Many other activities are taking place, a few are mentioned throughout the paper, and within this column.

PHI GAMMA —

The Phi Gams are in the midst of their rushing season, with parties at the frat house on Oct. 15 and 22. Preparations for the Homecoming activities and the November social events are in full swing. The fraternity wishes to congratulate their queen, Marty Altman, a Phi Lamb.

KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA —

The first rush party, a weiner roast and hayride, was held on Tuesday, Oct. 14. It was a joint affair with the Alpha Deltas. A good time was had by all. The second rush party of the season was a smoker, held at the Shady Lawn Tea Room, on Sunday, Oct. 19. There are weekly meetings held on Wednesday nights at the Y. M. C. A. Final arrangements have been made for the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance to be held on Wednesday, Nov. 7, at Stambaugh Auditorium. Tickets may be obtained from Kappa Sig members.

SIGMA SIGMA —

Sigma Sigma fraternity extends their thanks and appreciation to the students for their whole-hearted support of their Harvest Moon Dance. The fraternity also wishes to thank Melva Mantle for her help in decorating Stambaugh Auditorium for the dance. A rush party was held at the Mill Creek Log Cabin on Oct. 13. This gave the rushees an opportunity to meet the members of the organization. A rush banquet was held at the Y. M. C. A. on Oct. 18 to close the Sigma Sigma rushing season. Another Sigma Sigma, Fritz Delamos, was married on Sept. 30.

GAMMA SIGMA —

The Gamma Sigs held a meeting Oct. 7 at Betty Ashmus' home. Pat Lynch was co-hostess. Plans for rushing were discussed. The first rush party was held at the home of Dorothy Shutrump on Saturday, Oct. 18. The committee for this party included Pat Lynch and Doty Shutrump, with Polly Velker acting as chairman. A business meeting was held Sunday, Oct. 19, to discuss the last rush party of the season. The co-hostesses were Melva Mantle and Polly Velker. This party was held Wednesday evening, Oct. 22, in the Fraternity Room of the Pick-Ohio Hotel. The chairman of the committee was Melva Mantle; Sally O'Horo and Penny Angelides were members.

PHI LAMBDA DELTA —

The Phi Lams held a meeting Monday, Oct. 14, to discuss their rushing plans. The first party was held at the Phi Gam frat house on Wednesday, Oct. 23. After the banquet a joint party of Phi Gams and Phi Lams was held, with each of the organizations' group of rushees in attendance. The sorority wishes to congratulate Marty Altman, the '47 Homecoming Queen, to be crowned by last year's Phi Lamb queen, Wanda Poremski.

ALPHA THETA DELTA —

The semi-monthly meeting of the Alpha Deltas was held Oct. 7 in the college lounge. Mary Ellen Von Boxel was named devotional leader for the sorority, and Ruth Van Eskay was appointed the Alpha Delt reporter for The Jambar. Plans for the coming rush parties were discussed. The Kappa Sigs and their rushees joined the Alpha Deltas on a hay-ride Oct. 14 for their first rush party. Afterwards, the group assembled at Nolan's for a weiner roast. Marty Schaffer and Howard Schmidt were co-chairmen for the party.

DAILY BULLETIN:

BEGINNING STUDENTS

The first month of the semester is over. How are you getting on with your school work? If you are not satisfied with the results you have attained, it is wise to think about your study time and study habits. How much time do you spend per week studying on a three-semester hour course? It is expected that a course for which you spend three hours a week in class will require six hours a week in study. Are you improving your ability to study? Study means genuine concentrated effort with a definite purpose. Almost all students, even excellent ones, can learn a good deal about how to study better. Time and effort spent in improving your efficiency in study is sure to give good dividends.

Remember that your record is important to you. Few students realize while they are students how important the record they are making will be to them in the years to come. Make your record now what you will want it to be 10 years from now when you are applying for an important position.

WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES

Our nominations for the next issue of WHO'S WHO must be sent very soon. Seniors and juniors interested in being considered as candidates should get a copy of the Extra-curricular Activities form from Miss Boyer, fill it in, and return it to her this week. Nobody is nominated who has not shown his interest by filling that form. The basis for selection of candidates is the same as for the Y. C. pin.

Central Michigan Host At Homecoming Tonight

The Youngstown College Penguins will meet the Central Michigan Chippewas tonight in the Homecoming game at Rayen Stadium.

The boys from the Wolverine state should not be underestimated as they have played some well touted elevens. Bowling Green defeated Ohio U., 2-0, whose gridgers edged the Chippewas by the slim margin of 20-19.

Last Friday night they defeated Northern Michigan, 45-0 in their only victory of the year. They have been defeated by Detroit U., 34-14; Bowling Green, 20-19; Western Michigan, 20-12; and have tied Northern Illinois, 6-6.

The Penguins will be out to chase the two-game losing streak inflicted by Toledo and Scranton Universities. The road jinx will not be with them tonight and plenty of action will be seen on the Rayen Stadium gridiron come game time.
