May Prom to Be Held at Stambaugh Auditorium May 20

Alpha Iota Pledges Formally Initiated

Members of Alpha Iota formally initiated their pledges at the home of Marilyn Lyden on Kiawatha Road, Friday, May 6.

After the impressive candlelight ritual, led by Madalyn Schontz, President, corsages of red roses, the club's flower, was presented to the four pledges with their certificates and membership cards. Betty Betz, Lois Hogue, Janet Haddow, and June Troxel were the four pledges who were initiated. Special services will be held in the near future for the fifth pledge, Dorothy Devite, who was unable to attend.

Words of the sorority's song, "Sweetheart of Alpha Iota", were distributed among the girls after which refreshments were served by the hostess. Mrs. Emery is advisor for the group.

B. S. Sororities Schedule Picnic

Tau Kappa Nu and Alpha Iota, Business School Sororities are planning a picnic for Sunday, May 21, in Mill Creek Park.

At a joint meeting recently five girls were selected from each sorority to compose the committee. Aurora Fortunato, Anela Gamarale, Mary Ellen Rist, Jean Whitstone, and Irene Zelinsky from Tau Kappa Nu and Mary Eddy, Martha Consider, Lois Hogue, Wilma Gordon and Louise McKee representing Alpha Iota.

"Ten Nights in a Barroom" Soon To Be Seen in College Auditorium

By Lois McCallister

The curtains will soon rise on the dramatic production, "Ten Nights in a Barroom," a presentation of the Play Production Class, under the direction of Professor Russell G. Bunn. The title of the play is a well-known phrase to most Americans, but few of us know anymore about the play than these few words. If commencement plans go ahead on the day scheduled, and you're on hand in the college auditorium at 8 o'clock on either May 31st or June 1st, you'll be in on the story of these notorious "Ten Nights."

You'll be amused when you see this famous play and will probably consider it a great farce, but actually you will be seeing what was intended to be a serious, strait laced, moral production. Prof. Bunn says that it was written with as serious intentions as "Uncle Tom's Cabin". Time has changed society's outlook, and as a result, this stilted, melodramatic play comes down from our ancestors as a humorous attempt to be serious. Perhaps an idea of the moral of the story can be obtained from this quotation toward the end of the play, "A drunkard now no longer—that's over! Free, disenthralled, I stand a man once more!"

Close attention will be demanded by some of the lines which reveal by their language that this play was written in the latter part of the 19th century. For instance would you know that a man who "distributes tracts" spends his time peddling religious leaflets? You'll want to test your knowledge of obsolete expressions.

Dana's to Present Recital

Mary Moskalik

Gizella Oros

In the Spring Concert to be presented by Dana's Musical Institute on May 15th and 16th the Women's Chorus will make its first appearance at the college, marking the first appearance of such an organization in the history of the college. There are 26 members of the chorus, which will present a group of songs with the orchestra. The climax to their presentation will be a dramatic cantata, "At the Cloister Gate," by Grieg, written for soprano and alto solos, women's chorus, orchestra, and organ. Mary Moskalik will sing the soprano part; Gizella Oros, the alto part; and Kay Hatch will be at the organ.

The story of the cantata is set in a northern land and is that of a young girl whose father has been killed by the man to whom she was betrothed. The girl runs away, weary and distraught, and seeks peace and shelter from the world. Half dead, she is attracted to the gate of a convent where she hears women's voices singing, and lying there before the gate she pleads for admittance, sobbing out her tale of woe.

The second part of the program will be an opera, "The Songstress," by Hadyn, which was performed in Cleveland for the Music Teachers' National Association in 1933. The opera was written by Haydn for performance at the court of his employer, Count Esterhazy, and consists of four characters, three women, one of them singing a man's part, and one man.

The story is as follows: Gasparina is an aspiring young opera singer who, at the time of the action, is studying singing with Don Pelagio, an elderly singing teacher, who gives her lessons for nothing and also supplies her with her apartment, clothing, furniture, and food.

Living with her is her duenna, Appolonia. Gasparina has another suitor, Don Ettore, the son of a merchant, who continually showers gifts upon her. Ettore has called to give her some silk which he has stolen from his mother, when Pelagio comes in. Gasparina introduces him as a salesman and finally sends him away. Don Pelagio sings a new aria that he has just composed for her and tries to make love to her on the side. Finally he goes and Gasparina and Appolonia prepare a cozy little supper for Don Ettore who returned when Pelagio left. Unknown to the three of them Pelagio has forgotten something and returns in time to hear them ridiculing him, both as a man and a singer. In a towering rage he promises vengeance and storms out at the close of the first act.

The second act opens with bailiffs coming to remove the furniture. Gasparina asks that one little box, Pelagio's first gift to her, which contains the first flowers he sent, be left her. Then gracefully she faints. Pelagio and Ettore are frightened beyond words, thinking that she is dead. They try to revive her by offering her anything and everything. When they finally offer what she feels is good enough, Gasparina revives herself and life continues to be rosy for her.

DiBlasio, Neag, Riddle and Sullivan Are Chosen Candidates for Queen

By June Grimsley

May Queen, chosen from the four senior nominees—Dina DeBlasio, Kay Sullivan, Mary Riddle, and Marie Neag, will reign at the annual May prom, May 20, in the college auditorium.

Attending the queen and her three attendants in the processional will be two representatives from each sorority and two independents. Plus the coronation there will be dancing from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. to Bill Ost's orchestra.

Omicron Lambda Discusses Cancer

Cancer was the topic discussed by Omicron Lambda members at its last meeting held on May 5. The meeting began with a talk by Wilma Gessler in which she outlined the types, occurrences and treatments of cancer. A discussion of the subject followed in which all the members participated.

At the meeting held on April 28 two talks were given by Lois Goldblatt on "The Philosophy of Science," and a talk by Sultana Thomas entitled "Russia's Contribution to Science."

At the meeting to be held today at 4:30, Rose Rozich will discuss Penicillin and Loraine Wollnick will talk on Endocrinology.

The End of The Semester . . . .

As you are putting the last finishing touches to those term papers and setting up a final exam cram schedule for yourself, the Library asks you to stop a minute and collect all books, magazines and pamphlets you have charged to you and return them to the Library. The paper shortage makes it increasingly difficult to replace books and while you may be finished with them your successors still need them.

After Friday, May 12, all two-week books will be due May 26 regardless of when they are charged out to you. If you are going on to summer school and will need to use books due May 26 you may renew them on that day.

Some of you, particularly those taking foreign languages, have had special permission to keep books for the entire semester. Don't get so excited about the coming vacation that you carry those books off with you. Remember they are due May 26.

A Library delinquent list is posted on the bulletin board and if your record is not clear you will find your name on that list. If you are on the list, come to the Library and take care of your delinquency immediately.

How about it, everybody? Let's help those people who will need the books you have by returning them now.

Four Students To Teach in September

Four students, majoring in elementary education, have been appointed to teach in the Youngstown schools by superintendent of schools, George A. Bowman.

The girls who will begin to teach in September, 1944, are Rosalie Mehit, Sylvia Kipich, Jennie Vrancich, and Judith Megala.

Decorations for the semi-formal dance are under the direction of Kay Hatch. Serving on her committee are Donna Kuhlman, Ethel Szalma, Mary Bowser, and Frank Tedde. Along this same line are Sally Hull, chairman and Georgia Lucarell who direct the flowers and procession of the queen.

Leonard Caccamo, chairman, and John Guju serve as the committee for the queen's nomination and election. They will determine the judges who will pick the queen.

Publicity for the affair has been the work of Marie De Moll, chairman, and Leota Gibson. Dina DeBlasio is the chairman of the dance program.

Arrangements for the orchestra were made by Mary Riddle, chairman, and Eli Pacetti.

Fun Will Reign For Religion-in-Life

This evening, Friday, May 12, ALL members of the Religion-in-Life Club are invited to meet at the home of Betty Baird, 808 Woodford Avenue, for a good old-fashioned evening of merriment and fun.

Jack Mehler will be on hand with his bag of entertainment to start the group on one of those favored "Treasure Hunts" with a good time for everyone. Food, which will be plentiful and good, will be in the capable hands of Dorothy Delin.

The next meeting of the club will be Sunday, May 21, at the First Christian Church at 3 P. M. Further plans will be discussed for the picnic with the Newman Club at Frestone Park early in June.

Council to Elect New Jambar-Neon Chiefs

Within the next few weeks the new editor and business manager of the Neon and Jambar for the school year 1944-45 will be selected by a special committee made up of three members of Student Council and four members of the faculty.

The committee, which consists of faculty members Professor O. L. Reid, President H. Jones, Mr. Pickard and Professor Karl Dykema, and Student Council members John Guju, Dina DeBlasio, and Leonard Caccamo, will choose the new editors on the basis of their experience and capability.

Any student interested in the position of editor or business manager of the Jambar or Neon is urged to turn in his application to Student Council.

READ THIS:

Even though you know it anyhow:
The spring semester of college work for the year 1944 is almost at its end. For each of us it marks the reaching of a landmark along the eight semesters of college training. A certain selection of subjects, a given number of credits, a quantity of interest and effort are bundled up and labeled with the number of the semester they represent. It is a final act; an important act. Formal education in these subjects is marked down as completed. It is a final act. Grades are also inserted with these subjects. It is an important act. No one will ever deny that you completed these subjects; no one will dispute your grades. However, careful note will be taken of all the facts. It is a significant part of your history.

Semester examinations are the final page of this definite section of your college work. The opportunity is before you to make an effort to consolidate and smooth out the study you have been making so that your semester record will present a worthy accomplishment to you, yourself, and to all who observe the recorded quality of your work. Don't let anything stand in the way of your making this final effort.

LOOKING AROUND with NOSEY NED

Hi, gang! That man's here again—but not for long. The year is swiftly drawing to a close—and what a year: Every organization is planning an affair for this and though we all have term papers and exams to worry us, let's get out and make these outings successes. For many of us this is our last opportunity to have fun, so let's go all-out for merry May.

Since I was marooned by the bus strike last week I may have missed more gossip than usual, but I trust you'll bear with me if I've slipped up on some things. Puzzling Pairs—You figure out who's chasing who— DINA and JOHNNY—Is it more one sided than it seems? BOB HANSSON and JEANNE GRICE—When a guy likes a gal well enough to spend precious gas coupons to get to see her there must be something to it.

MAC and MARGIE—No wonder MARGIE and JEANNE are so friendly—something in common. GRET ROTHERMUND and JIM QUAY—Now that JUDY's interest has switched to TED HENDRICKSON's brother, BOB. LOTUS KOKEN and CLIFF MOORE—Is he your ideal man, Nell? (Competition presents itself in MARY A. MILLER.)

MALIN and EMRICH — and MORRIS — How did he get in there? (Easy, wasn't it.)

DOTS WHILE DASHING:
Secrets—and lots of them are circulating among some of our sororities—for instance: Gamma Sig CAROL JONES is said to have said "yes" to TED CUBBISON—another duo of last year. Phi Lamb SCOTTY GORDAN almost created a situation when JETTY'S PETE asked her for a date instead of PETTY.

That impromptu picnic the kids got together was fun we hear—with those ace ball-playing Kappa Sigs on hand. They may have beaten the Phi Sigs at ball, but those boys are still tops when it comes to pitching.

Happiest serviceman we've seen was VINT NEELEY, accompanied by JANE RIEBE. JANE has a snapshot of HOWARD EDSALL in BETTY BAIRD's Easter bonnet that affects you like a Frankenstein picture.

HARNEVIOUS is wearing a new ring — have you noticed? BILL forgot it was leap year, but he knows about it now. He was exhibiting it at the Phi Sig breakfast last Sunday. How did they get up that early? Why they just didn't go to bed Saturday night.

We've had an exhibition of the dancing techniques of ORTENZIO and VANSUCH out front every noon. They have so much rhythm they jitterbug sans music.

Those business school girls keep JOHN HORNAK jumping almost as fast as his job at the Central Square garage.

We've heard complaints to the effect that only certain people ever appear in this column. Could it be that those who complain do so because their names haven't appeared? Here are a few vital statistics for your records: Over 130 different students have been mentioned in this column, plus 30 servicemen.

MISS CASSANO makes a point of knowing all about the girls who work in her office, yet it was almost a week before she noticed that ESTHER GALLATIN's engagement ring had been joined by a band.

The Speech Society had a worried moment or two 'til CONNIE JORDAN showed up—measles and all!

From all indications the R. I. L. and Newman Club picnic is going to be one of the biggest affairs of the season.

NOSEY NED'S HIT PARADE:

- GINNY D'ISA — Because she once said she liked my column and for being an average American co-ed minus false glamour.
- KATHY NAUGHTON and MARGIE NICEWANER—even here — together — they prove that true friendship still exists.
- LEONARD CACCAMO — One of the few nice fellows left us. He and JOHNNY are inseparable, except when it comes to girls.

Well, that's all folks. Watch for me next time. The mystery solved!

Campus Comments

By Beverley Mittacos

Before we go any farther, we want to hereby keep a promise and apologize publicly to Johnnie Vansuch for any serious misinterpretation regarding his little descriptive piece in the last Jambar. Any actual resemblance to the person in question was purely coincidental.

We won't bother going through all that bosh that seems to be the only phrase used these days about "Ah! Spring," etc., for he who has not felt the throb of spring to the marrow of his bones is not human. He doesn't have to be told about spring; rather, he needs to have his mind averted from it to some book larnin'. Remember exams? How can we forget—huh? I thought it would be fun and maybe interesting to do up some descriptions of teachers this time, similar to what we did with the students; then I reconsidered when I realized how close we were to exams and the grade period.

To get to the point, or just any point, we've almost come to the end of another school year. At the end of every year it's a good idea to take an inventory of one's self and measure how far we've come along on the road that we've chosen to travel. (High-fallutin' talk—getting philosophical again, but still, if you keep letting one year after another pile up on you and you don't stop to take a check-up on things—where's it going to get you—in the end?)

Thinking things over, YoCo, itself, has undergone some drastic changes during the past year. A lot has happened: An army program has come and gone (men, always coming and going); senior students have practically all gone out to teach, and the older boys are all in pitching to win the war, leaving as a result, a college of quite young students with a more childish spirit than the peacetime one which was hopefully more mature.

Regardless of the thin spots we've had to pass over during the past year, everyone—students as well as faculty—and our president, Doctor Jones, deserve praise and a pat on the back for holding things together. Judy Megala and Marie DeMolli, for their leadership of the Jambar and Neon, respectively, rate special honors for keeping the morale of the school up through these publications.

The nominees for May Queen which the boys have selected present an interesting study, for outside of looks, each one of the girls can display a good sized portion of brain ability. Is it just one of those coincidences—are boys getting smarter in their choice of girls, or does it amount to the fact that girls who have brains know enough to look their best and act their best, which in turn, adds up to popularity and finally a nomination for May Queen?

Last Minute News: Do you believe in Novena? If you are of the Catholic faith, you do. If you are of any other faith, you believe in prayers, of which Novena is one form. Dina DeBlasio has said a special Novena for Howard Landahl, a former YoCo student who is in the air forces overseas, in the European area. He recently took part in a German blitz where he was the only one of his crew who escaped death. Aside from that point, I should really like to see a joint meeting some day of the Newman Club and the Religion in Life Club. Has it ever been attempted? Some of the matters where there are differences of opinion might be aired. I wonder how orderly a group of college students would be at such a meeting where religion would be discussed. How about it, leaders of these organizations? Would a meeting ever be possible?

WHAT HAS SPRING DONE TO YOU?

By Lotus Koken

Take a sun splashed day, students wearing cotton dresses and shirt sleeves rolled up, add a few camera fiends, mix with a deserted lounge and empty classroom seats, season with the bus strike, and what do you have? Springtime at Youngstown College. We waited a long time, but spring finally came and Nell thought an analysis of its affects on YoCoites might be in order at this time. The following is a cross-section of YoCo's reaction to spring. (You know, the time when a young man's thoughts turn to where the gals' thoughts have been all winter!)

VIRGINIA BLACKMAN — "I find that I have Georgia on my mind, and am leaving for Savannah the minute I answer the last question of the last exam wrong!" (What, or perhaps WHO is in Georgia, GINNY?)

EMIL HUNCKLER — "Spring has made me sleepier than ever." (There's always Benzedrine!)

MARCIA WELSH — "I have a strong desire to get out and commune with nature, and my tennis racket keeps beckoning me." (But, remember those — final exams, MARCIA!)

PROFESSOR WEBSTER — "Spring has made me lazier than usual." (Nell feels, but she makes no comment.)

GRET ROTHERMUND — "I can't quite explain my feeling—but MEN have something to do with it." (How unique!)

JOHN HORNAK (Horny, to youse guys)—"In beautiful spring I want to obey an impulse to skip classes and go to such intellectual features as Vaughn Monroe." (Of course, he'd never DREAM of doing it!)

TESS PAGLIASOTTI — "My thoughts have turned to MEN—who aren't here." (Why Tessie!) (Continued on Page Three)

With the Greeks

Well, here we are again to tell you what the local "Greeks" of YoCo are doing. The semester is rapidly coming to an end and with it the life of fun that goes with fraternities and sororities.

ALPHA THETA DELTA—
The installation of pledges was held at the Joan D'Arc home last Sunday evening, April 30. Pledges installed were: Marilla Burkett, Theresa Mattinat, Dorothy Foley, Eose Rosick, and June Kostyk.

A group of the sorority members attended the operas in Cleveland last week-end.

Final plans have been completed for the Alpha Deltas' date party which will be held at American Legion Hall tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

Plans are also being made for the Alpha Delta - Phi Sig party which will be held in the near future.

GAMMA SIGMA—

Sunday, April 30th, was the day of the Gamma Sig tea for its alumnae. It was held at Dorothy Otterman's home and proved a very successful affair.

In contrast to the formality of the tea of the previous Sunday the Gamma Sigs joined the Phi Sigs on Sunday, May 7, for a hilarious breakfast at Bears' Den. There was plenty of food and plenty of fun. A highlight of the day was a baseball game with the Kappa Sigs.

A meeting was held last Wednesday at the Stoneleigh Tea Room with Toque Berger, Dottie Fisher and Mary Kay Buckley as hostesses. The sorority presented Beverly Benjamin with a silver monogrammed compact as a token of remembrance for having been chosen queen of Junior Prom.

Sorority was held Wednesday evening at the home of Beverly Benjamin where the pledges were initiated.

Saturday evening, May 14, the Gamma Sigs had a mother-daughter banquet at Shady Lawn Tea Room.

KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA—

Devoting much of their time to the effort of maintaining their three-point academic average as the semester end draws near, the Kappa Sigs, nevertheless, are keeping their high social position with many activities. Keeping in line with their outdoor affairs, a picnic which will be held at Hawkins Lake, is scheduled toward the end of May.

On Sunday, May 7, in the wee hours of the morn—8 o'clock a. m.—the Kappa Sigs had a horseback ride and breakfast at Mill Creek Park. Some of the former Kappa Sigs who attended were Tommy Johnson, Bill Foley, Ed McGowen and Howard Baughshotz. The committee consisted of Jerry Watt, Joe Miklos, and Steve Patrick.

Two of the old Kappa Sigs home for a few days leave were Lts. Johnny Nelson and Fred Lanz.

PHI LAMBDA—

The Phi Lambs held their formal installation at the Stoneleigh Tea Room, April 30. The impressive candlelight ceremony was conducted by the president, Helen DeCicco. Traditional tea roses were given to the new members and also gifts.

A party for the actives will be given by the pledges May 25. It will be given at the Hunter home. Among the many activities to be enjoyed is swimming at the private pool. Jayne Jones is chairman for the affair.

A slumber party will be held at the home of Grett Rothermond soon.

PHI SIGMA—

The Phi Sigs had a picnic with the Gamma Sigs last Sunday at Bears' Den Cabin.

The pledges went through a very rough initiation on Saturday night which they will remember for a long time to come.

Plans are being made for a party with the Alpha Deltas, to be held in the near future. Other plans are being made to round out the season with a few more fun-filled activities.

Two old Phi Sigs which we were all very glad to welcome home were the sailors, Bod Needham and Vint Neeley.

So long until next time.

YoCo Music Group Acquires New Title

At the last meeting of the newly organized music club for music students and others interested in music, a formal name was decided upon. Henceforth, the group will be known as The Dana Music Forum or in common language, the members will be called Danamites (a revision of the word dynamite).

The SAI musical has been postponed to Saturday, evening, May 20. It will be held at the Dana building and will be the reopening event for the school building which was formerly occupied by the army. Everyone is welcome to come. Punch and cookies will be furnished for those who will have worked up an appetite during the musical. Admission is by the purchase of a defense stamp. We're sure you'll enjoy the numbers—

A chorus will sing a modern, syncopated lullaby and there'll be a string arrangement of the ever popular Stormy Weather. These will be interspersed with the more serious pieces, so as Mae West says, "Come up and see us sometime", preferably on May 20. We'll be looking for you and your friends.

LIMELIGHT

By Lotus Koken

This week, the Limelight (DANGER—HIGH VOLTAGE) is focused on MARIE DeMolli, pretty blonde senior. Our illustrious editor has christened her "Goldilocks" which describes our heroine perfectly. Marie is moderately tall, has blue-grey eyes, a winning smile, and those blonde curls are indeed her crowning glory. This description may be rather beside the point since everyone knows and loves Marie, but not all know of her many and varied activities.

Marie came to YoCo from East High and is certainly an asset to the college. She is a member of Alpha Theta Delta social Sorority, secretary of Sigma Tau Delta, national honorary English Fraternity, and is a member of Delta Epsilon scholastic fraternity. Then, she is circulation manager of the JAMBAR and is co-editor of the '44 NEON. Last year Marie was attendant to the Inter-fraternity Ball queen and was a candidate for Homecoming queen this year. She is a charter member of International Relations Club and belongs to the Newman Club. Publicity for the May Prom is in her hands this year. Now you know why Marie is listed in "Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities".

A major in languages, Marie hopes to someday enter the diplomatic service. She told us (confidentially, of course) that she might even like to marry an ambassador! In June, Marie will become a "sweet girl graduate" and in September she will leave for Porto Rico to work for a master's degree in Spanish at the University of Porto Rico. She spent last summer studying at the University of Mexico.

Here at YoCo Marie lists Dr. Richardson and Professor Dykema among her favorite instructors. We quote: "Dr. Richardson because I admire his knowledge of languages; Professor Dykema because he is so independent in his thoughts. Marie is a model co-ed and we'll bet she is a model secretary too. In the afternoons she is secretary to C. W. Sumner, head librarian at the Public Library.

These are some of Marie's "likes". She likes Cary Grant, is crazy about ice skating, tennis, and enjoys a good football game. Almost forgot—she likes tall, blonde men. Favorite song: "Begin the Begine"; hobby, designing her own clothes.

Marie has a gentle, "Speak Low" voice. She claims a temper, but THAT we don't believe! In spite of her many duties and responsibilities, Marie never loses her quiet charm that makes one enjoy working and being with her.

In September, we will lease our Goldilocks to Porto Rico for a while; she will be YoCo's contribution to the good neighbor Policy!

Letters to the Editor

May 8, 1944

Dear Editor:
I guess I hold the record at Youngstown College for government railroad rides. I reported for induction three times, had two pre-induction examinations and two Air Corps Examinations. These examinations consisted of five train rides to Cleveland and two to Fort Benjamin Harrison. All these rides were free for the asking—from the United States Government. In addition to these physical examinations, I have had two mental examinations. The above-mentioned carousing was all done before I was sworn into the army. Then to give me the proper finish, I have had two physicals and three mental examinations since I have been sworn in.

Do the kids still jump at noon? I miss those dancing sessions that used to be held at noon. All the girls up here are still in the Dark Ages and think the current rage is the minuet.

Tell some of the guys and gals that I miss them.
Best of luck.

P. S. They've made a school teacher out of me. I give classification tests to the new selectees.

Dear Editor
I certainly do enjoy receiving the "Jambar". Keeps me up to date on all my former schoolmates.

I noticed Mike Yatsko is at Miami Beach. Would you please forward his complete address? Miami is the nearest town to this base, so I should like to get in touch with him.

Thanks for the "Jambar". Give my regards to all the professors.

Sincerely,
Dorothy Buckles

E. T. P. C.

It's May again, and time for the annual E. T. P. C. banquet. This year it will be held at the Women's City Club on Wick Ave. on Thursday, May 6th, at 6 o'clock. June Grimsley, who is acting as chairman, promises a good time for all elementary education students who attend.

Guests for the evening will be the Misses Mary Haddow and Sally Tannahill. Assisting the chairman are Agnes Uhrin, Frances Palotsee, Irma Diamondstein, Jacqueline Smith, and Judy Megala.

Election of officers for the coming year will follow the dinner. The nominating committee, composed of Helen Humphrey, Judy Megala, Rosalie Mehit, Theresa Pagliasotti and Agnes Uhrin, will present their nominations at that time. Tickets for the affair may be obtained from Miss F. Chapman, June Grimsley, or Theresa Pagliasotti. Reservations must be made by Monday, May 15.

Kappa Sigma Kappa in 7-3 Win Over Phi Sigma Epsilon

Season's First Baseball Game Is Staged at Bears' Den in Mill Creek

By Ed Whalen

Opening up their half of the first inning with two runs on Hughes' home-run, scoring Miklos who had singled, the Kappa Sigs went on to defeat the Phi Sigs, 7-3, at Bears' Den last Sunday. The first game of the season for both teams, it was a close one until the closing innings when the Kappa Sigs found their batting eye and pushed across several runs.

The Phi Sigs tallied two of their three runs in the fourth inning on singles by Loney, Mehler, Hankins, and Quay, and added the third marker in the seventh when Harnevious scored after advancing from first.

The Kappa Sigs unleashed a barrage of successive hits in the fourth inning to score four runs and clinch the contest. Singles by Patterson, T. Hendrickson, and Whalen, Hughes' double, and Foley's single figured in the scoring.

Threatening to score in the fifth inning with two men on base, the Phi Sigs' attack was stopped when Jerry Watt and Carlson contributed some nice fielding plays.

E. Hendrickson held the Phi Sigs in check throughout the game although he eased up a little in the closing innings.

The game was attended by the Kappa Sig dates who, before the game, had enjoyed a breakfast at Birch Hill and by the Gamma Sigma sorority which had a joint breakfast with the Phi Sigs.

Lineup for the game follows:

Kappa Sigma Kappa

* Service Shorts *

By Grett Rothmund

It's said that good things come in threes, and that's what happened when three of YoCo's aviation students visited us last week.

In the lower hall you could have found Mike Maruskim surrounded by YoCo co-eds. He seemed quite at ease among all the beauties and with a few questions we found out why. It seems that Mike has had to adjust himself to the fairer sexes' graceful glances. You see, he was one of those poor unfortunate 300 soldiers who had to contend with 16,000 man hungry females at Winthrop College. (Sounds like home, huh?) The 11 months that Mike has been away from home he has done a lot of traveling. Beside Winthrop College he has been stationed at seven other places. Now, when he returned home, he brought the bad news that because of the discontinuation of the army aviation program, he is reporting back to the infantry, instead of his former base, Chanute Field. Mike isn't alone in his sorrow, for Tony Ponzio and Eddie Grenga are sharing the same fate.

Eddie is that happy, smiling individual who is Louise Grenga's "little" brother. Eddie, like Mike, is a fiend for airplanes, but he, too, will go into the infantry. Eddie is used to the life of an infantry soldier, however, for he spent two happy (?) months there before entering the air corps. Ed will report back to Camp Livingston, La.

Tony Ponzio will go back with Ed to Camp Livingston. Tony was formerly at Phillip University, Okla., learning what made the airplane fly. Now he'll learn what makes blisters on one's feet. But Tony isn't only G. I. When he was at YoCo he was a big time actor in "Twentieth Century Lullaby," played sax for Doc, and was sidekick of the Kappa Sigs.

For the last four days, Phyllis Gibson has been walking the campus with a naval cadet. He is Julius Guyas, a pianist who studied both at Dana in Warren and here at YoCo. He's home for 17 days, so after that Phyllis will deserve a lot of rest and sleep.

Jack Haller is down at Denison University taking signaling and navigation for the navy. While he stood there watching all the girls file by to have pictures taken for the Neon, he said, "Gee, I'd like to be back at YoCo!" The feeling is mutual!

The latest news is the return of that WOLF, Pete Lanzi. Pete just got in from Arizona and is sporting a beautiful tan and along with it a black eye that Petty gave him.

The best one yet came from Bob Hendrickson — "Tee"ford's brother. Says Bob, "On coming home I was completely lost in a sea of loneliness. Unexpectedly I dropped into YoCo one day and found to my surprise and pleasure a group of delightful girls who made my stay an episode in my life that I will never forget."

(It took him an hour to think that up, but it was worth it, huh girls?)

Band leaders have plenty of problems these days in keeping their personnel up to scratch, but attractive Peggy McCall, featured vocalist with Alvino Rey's Orchestra, proves that there is no lessening of quality in the singing and looking department. Alvino Rey—and Peggy—are heard over the BLUE's "Victory Parade of Spotlight Bands."

Have a "Coke" = So glad you're back again

...or welcoming a home-coming sailor

Fighting men look forward to that home-world where friendliness and hospitality are summed up in the familiar phrase Have a "Coke". Be sure and get Coca-Cola for your icebox at home. From Atlanta to the Seven Seas, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes—has become a global symbol of good will and of good living.

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY COCA-COLA BOTTLING CO., YOUNGSTOWN, OHIO

"Coke" = Coca-Cola. It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".
