61% Say War In 2 1/2 Years

The Jambar Poll of Oct. 20, 1948, put the following questions to the student body: I. All factors remaining the same, is war between the United States and Russia imminent? II. If yes, how soon? III. If answer to I is yes, do you think war is the only course of action?

The statistical breakdown included tabulation by Veteran, Non-Veteran; year in college; and party preference. While other factors were included, these did not pertain to the relevancy of the result.

Results are as follows: In answering the question 'Is War imminent between the United States and Russia'

Veterans answered
.61	Yes
.30	No
.09	Don't Know
Non-Veterans answered
.53	Yes
.25	No
.22	Don't Know

NOTICE

The Jambar Polling staff is desperately searching the campus for the following genius: 17 years old Female, Veteran Social Science Major Senior Votes Progressive We would like to swap war stories!

This points to a relatively pessimistic attitude on the part of the Veterans. In answering the question 'Is war the only course of action'

Veterans answered
.32	Yes
.62	No
.06	Don't Know
Non-Veterans answered
.27	Yes
.68	No
.05	Don't Know

Campus Mourns Death Of Prof. John H. Cramer

Funeral services were held for the late Professor John H. Cramer at King Funeral Home at 2:30 p.m. today. Dr. Cramer died suddenly, apparently of a heart attack, at a Nu Sigma Rho rush party in Lexington Settlement Tuesday night while engaged in party festivities with the fraternity to which he was advisor.

The 46-year-old expert of Lincolniana died just six days after his third book on Lincoln was published October 20. Mr. Cramer has been on the Youngstown College faculty since last February. He lived at 323 Princeton Ave., Hubbard.

When Dr. Cramer collapsed the police ambulance was called and the crewmen made futile attempts to revive him. He was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Prof. John H. Cramer

Professor Cramer is survived by his wife, Elizabeth, and a seven year old son, John, Jr.

Red Feather Drive Nets Chest $99.08

During the recent Youngstown College drive a total of $99.08 was turned over to the officials of the Community Chest.

Students and faculty can be proud of the share they played in helping to make this drive a success. Many gave their contributions where they are employed, and also contributed to the Chest at the college.

The drive was sponsored by the members of the Alpha Phi Omega, National Service Fraternity.

Dick Dunn, Warner Ray Lawson, Jack Bushling, John Spenser, George B. Snyder III constructed the chests used in the drive.

Those who contributed to the Chest aided immensely in furthering the great work of the many agencies that are wholly or partially supported by the local Community Chest.

Date Extended For Organization Reports

Council extended the deadline date this week for reports from active organizations on their status. The new date is Friday, November 5.

The report to council must be made by all council-chartered organizations. It must include a copy of the group's constitution, a summary of functions of the past (spring) semester and a list of expected activities of the current semester.

Organizations failing to submit this information will have their charters revoked, council has announced.

Applications Taken For 1949 Neon Staff

Applications are now being taken by Student Council for positions on the executive staff of the 1949 Neon. The offices of Editor, Business Manager and two assistant Editors will be filled. Juniors and Seniors are eligible to apply, and should place their applications in the Student Council Box, main office.

The Youngstown Printing Company has promised delivery of the 1948 Neon by November 4.

Be'Witch'ing

Lovely Marianne Deak sets the spirit for Halloween. Nice witch, we'd say.

by MARY AGNES HATAGAN

Passing once more through that "cigar smoking, flag waving, and baby kissing period," people the world over are choosing sides. In time our lives will all be affected by the winning team. The conclusions we reach today will become the "fruit" of tomorrow — let's hope it will be sweet.

On January 1, 1949, one man will be endowed with a staggering amount of power and responsibility, to whom would you present this?

QUESTION: What do you think of the presidential candidates?

TED LINDSEY—

In my opinion, President Truman is not the person for the presidency because of his continued refusal to "lay down the law" to Russia. Wallace is a good man, but his trouble is that he is on the wrong side of the fence.

Dewey's ideas are untried in foreign affairs, but he seems to have done a good job in the state of New York, as Roosevelt did before him, so I believe that he is the logical man for the greatest job in the country.

JOE ZEMBA—

I believe the time has come when the good people of the United States deserve and will demand a new man for the leadership of our country. The present administration, through dissension and lack of co-operation from our legislative bodies, has not accomplished the tasks set before it.

Mr. Truman is definitely not the capable statesman our country needs today.

MARY JANE HOOVER—

When one policy (New Deal) becomes so concentrated on one class of people to the exclusion of all the people in general, a change is called for, and long overdue.

Also, Truman does not have the education, insight, or ability for the leadership of a country. These two deficiencies in the present administration form the basis for my opinion that Dewey is the man.

ROBERT TRUCKSIS—

This election will probably bear more directly on the future of our country than any of the others. It is up to the people to weigh carefully the merits of the candidates, their beliefs and philosophies—not their political parties. In order to survive as a nation, we need the right kind of leadership, and I believe the right leadership leans a little more in favor of Dewey—the better politician.

Looking Around ---

by DONNELLY and DURSO

We're afraid that our education along the line of Osadessimus K. Schlug has been sadly neglected because we have no idea who he, she, or it is. However, we earnestly implore ye editor to carefully file any requests to have Schulz replace us in the wastebasket (we promise to get our column in on time honest, Weyer).

Thanks to all the seniors who put us into office, you won't be sorry (HA!)—many thanks to MARY CATANIA for her able supervision of our sign painting . . . as a result of the election MILDRED NOUFER found out that MARY WILMA and "DONNELLY" are one and the same person . . . BENNY DUSZA had the nerve to say, upon hearing the election returns, "I voted for you just 'cause I knew you and then you had to go and win" . . . his buddy JOHN R. SOMPLE said, "What do I get out of it?" By the way girls, Somple bakes a mean chocolate cake and there are only two months left in 1948 . . . that's sufficient hint for any red-blooded American girl . . . only 28 people voted in the Freshman class election. The posters publicizing the girls running for Homecoming Queen were really original—especially the Shmoos on those of JEANNE LYONS . . . the horse laugh DONNA LEWIS let out upon seeing her "glamour" poses was really something—just about blew everyone down. While we're on the subject of queens, DICK EISEMAN and GEORGE TRICOMI are planning the latter's campaign for May Queen (slightly early, we think). Rumor has it that Tricomi and ZOLTON CIBULAS are going to provide stiff competition for each other; however, GENE BULGOZDY says that with his legs Tricomi will win easily. Tsk, tsk, sech goings on.

Preview of a Special Attraction

Coming November 12, is Sadie Hawkins Day, the day all YoCo coeds await with baited breath. The YoCo Sadie Hawkins Day misses Al Capp's Sadie Hawkins Day by just one day, but JIM McLAUGHLIN says for the gals not to worry; it'll be legal at YoCo with PAUL "Marrying Sam" MUEHLBAUER officiating at all weddings . . . so gals this'll be your last chance for 1948 to grab yoreself a YoCo Schmo and dance the evening away.

It's good to see HARLAN URMSON back, cast and all, walking around very carefully . . . that little girl you see chasing around here and there lately is MARTY McCALL; can't see how she does so many things with that MAN coming home nearly every weekend . . . One-man-poll-TOM MARR asked us if pipes are conspicuous on college men—to which we answered no, while his friend RAY PROHASKA was kibitzing and telling everyone to say yes . . . Fellow columnist Schlug mentioned "The Heart" but didn't mention the girls doing such a fine job of editing it—SALLY O'HORO and MARY AGNES HATAGAN . . . JOHN PIZZOLA always smiles when he sees us, other people usually laff . . . we don't see "TINY" QUATRANO very often . . . VIVIAN PHILLIPS plus her red glasses is the belle of her German class . . . CHUCK PERAZICH tells us that CHRISTEIN is a demon on the typewriter, types 16 whole words a minute—sech speed . . . It has come to our ears that the girls are really taking advantage of the 4 to 1 ratio of men to women here at the college; seems that some of the girls tell one date they have to be home at 12:30 by mama's orders and then have another date at that time . . . Goodness!!

Notes on the Central Michigan Game

Congrats to Alpha Phi Omega for staging such a fine rally . . . E. E. FORD was certainly a fine master of ceremonies and PAUL FEYOCK the "intelligent" stooge for the magician . . . saw a lot of people we hadn't seen for some time . . . We sat in front of PAT PENNOCK and BARBARA TAYLOR at the game; Pat is a whole cheering section in herself alone—she was bemoaning the fact that they had forgotten the cough sirup—wonder what it's like when her throat is lubricated . . . One lady got excited and called for a double play and more runs for YoCo . . . HENRY PESA embarrassed himself by trying to catch a football which bounced on the fence and hit him in the mouth . . . wonder if 85 of Central Michigan was embarrassed by the free air conditioning in his uniform; he didn't appear flustered . . . Seemed to us that the students aren't considered to be of much importance since the drum majorettes did their twirling only for those people in the reserved seat section . . . how about letting the students appreciate their art?

We want to tell all of our loyal readers, that if you haven't read Penguin Patter . . . don't . . . you won't miss anything, since Looking Around will keep you posted on all important doings anyway . . . see you'uns around . . .

JAMBAR Budget Report

Appropriations for publication of the JAMBAR were raised from $125 an issue to $150 when the new Student Fund Budget was approved by a student-faculty committee last week. The raise was made with a stipulation that the college paper would make a report on its financial status to Student Council after each publication.

While the new allotment, from all appearances, is a raise in funds, it is actually a decrease. The reason for this is that the paper will have to adhere strictly to the budget this semester. In the past it has been customary for the publication to go in the red. It is said that the JAMBAR debit last semester was over $800. The debit was paid at the semester's end from the miscellaneous fund.

The JAMBAR editor has been informed that the current budget will be adhered to even if it necessitates the production of an inferior product, and that if the allotted funds are used before the semester's end there will be no more JAMBARS until next semester.

The JAMBAR budget is a blindly formed creation. Student Council, faced with the problem of dividing the Student Funds among the various student functions, establishes the JAMBAR budget without an investigation of actual requirements.

Average cost of publishing an issue of the JAMBAR as it now appears is $325 per issue. This leaves the Business Manager responsible for selling $175 of advertising each issue. With $175 of advertising in the JAMBAR the readers will not get as much campus news as they have in the past. The publication will begin to resemble a shopping news.

The JAMBAR management will cooperate to the fullest extent with the wishes of Student Council. We are, however, presenting the facts to our readers so they can weigh them. If students desire that more of their money be used to subsidize their student publication, they should write to Student Council and make their wishes known.

Spirit of Cooperation

College spirit, which was at a low ebb during the first month this semester, seems to have taken a turn for the good.

College spirit may be had when all students are working toward the same goal, that of making Youngstown College a better place to attend and a college from which we will be proud to graduate. It is to be had in an atmosphere of working-togetherness and companionship with collegiate friends. It is a spirit of cooperation.

To achieve the ideal collegiate cooperation we must continue to back campus drives, such as the campaign for a cleaner cafeteria. When their are elections we should run for office, and we should vote for the candidates of our choice, and back them.

Black marks on the YoCo slate this year include the recent Junior Class Election. Only one candidate ran for office. Lack of interest in the Boosters Club by both the students and those who formed it checked the slate again.

However, the balloting on the recent Homecoming Candidate election was at an all time high. 646 students cast their vote. The backing given the Red Feather Drive exceeded all expectations. The applauding of injured members of an opposing football team as they are carried off the field exhibits YoCo sportsmanship.

Council is now accepting applications for staff positions on the 1949 Neon. Students who are interested in the jobs offered should not hesitate to get behind the publication and insure its success.

The leadership and spirit of cooperation shown by students in college today reflects the life and the strength we can expect on the American scene tomorrow.

Candidates Pause for Refreshment, Await Decision

Fedor Is Elected Senior President

During the last few weeks, the halls of Youngstown College have been filled with posters, voting desks, and loyal supporters of class officers elections held from October 15 through October 19.

In the senior class presidential race, Laddie Fedor came out on top. Laddie, a business education major, hails from Struthers, and is a member of Phi Sigma Epsilon Fraternity. Assisting him will be Harry Meschel, vice president; Mary Wilma Donnelly, secretary; and Isabelle Durso, treasurer.

Since only one petition was submitted to Student Council in the junior class elections, it was not necessary to hold elections. After a "tough race," Jack Sandberg now holds the undisputed title of president. No other junior officers were elected.

Heading the sophomore class for the coming year will be Bob Kalafut. Bob will be ably assisted by Dick Dunn as vice president, Joe Hutta as secretary, and Dave Williams as treasurer.

The Frosh have elected Dominic Martin as president of their class. A math major, Dominic promises good results with the aid of Homer Brocius, vice president; Charles Jones, secretary; and John Tobin, treasurer.

Silent Week To Follow Rushing

Rushing season is now two-thirds gone. After one more week of parties Silent Period must be observed by all sororities, fraternities and rushes. Monday of Silent Week bids will be given out to be answered by 3:00 p.m. the following Wednesday.

There will be a white box available in the front office in which all replies must be deposited. This box will then be opened at Pan Hellenic Council where respective representatives of the Greek letter outfits will receive the answers.

Phi Gamma (S)

The Phi Gams held their first rush party of the season at the Poland-American Legion Hall. Jay Dutton, Carl Englehart and Mert Bartelmay were in charge of the party. Movies were shown of the St. Bonaventure and Canisius football game. A little advice to the rushees is offered by the fraternity. Choose the organization that you will join wisely. Remember that you have much to gain and everything to lose; you are known throughout life by the friends you choose.

Phi Lambda Delta (S)

The Junior Alumnae of the sorority held a bake sale at Stambaugh Thompson's last week. Actives and alumnae both took part in the activities. Another alumnae sponsored festivity included a barn dance. Phi Lambda Delta plans to do some charity work through a local orphanage, beginning within the next few weeks. Mary Alice Joyce is the chairman.

Kappa Alpha Psi (S)

The annual Kappa Alpha Psi Smoker was held on Friday, October 16, at the club rooms. A total of 28 guests were entertained by the fraternity after which a number of short speeches were heard. Troy Grove, master of ceremonies, introduced Isadore Blakeny, pole-march of Beta Pi (YoCo chapter), Dr. C. W. Hall, vice-pole-march, and Atty. J. Maynard Dickerson. After the formal business meeting, the group was entertained by spirited selections of the Kappa chorus.

Alpha Iota (B)

On Tuesday, October 19, Alpha Eta Chapter of Alpha Iota Sorority entertained thirty rushees with a dinner at Ravers, followed by a show put on by Magician Jimmie Church.

The table was set in a "U shape," centered with white floral bird cages filled with mums and carnations. At each place a place card embossed with the sorority crest and fastened to an old fashioned doll attached with blue ribbon to a lapel corsage of carnations. The decoration committee included Marilou Simko, Pat Peterson, Marjorie Hobbins, and Mrs. Pils.

After the party, actives initiated Pat Peterson with full ritual, and presented her with a corsage of red roses and white mums. She also received the sorority crest of recognition.

There will be a business meeting at the school Monday, October 25, at 8:30.

Phi Sigma Epsilon (S)

Phi Sigs have full plans under way for the joint Alpha Delta-Phi Sig dance to be presented in November. It will be a new idea in dance entertainment.

Rush parties currently keep the group busy. Rushees and actives recently enjoyed a smoker and an early morning breakfast at Bears Den Pavilion.

Gamma Sigma (S)

Selling "Mums" for Homecoming is tops on the Gamma Sig agenda. This year the H. C. corsages will be white mums trimmed with red bows. Yvonne Person is chairman of the project for which all actives are now taking orders.

Marianne Navin, Evelyn Downie, and Marianne Deak are arranging current rush parties in conjunction with Betty Ashmas, Margaret Vasu and Joan Navin.

Kappa Sigma Kappa

The Fraternity is deep in plans for rushing, putting out bids to prospects, publicising the Sadie Hawkins Dance, and completing ideas for establishing friendly relations with other Greek letter organizations on the campus.

The first rush party was held at the American Legion post on Spring St. The second was held at the Pick-Ohio Hotel. Rushing will be culminated with a banquet Sunday, October 31.

New members as of last semester have received their pins and new sweaters are on the way.

The Kappa Sigs take their hats off to Alpha Phi Omega, the service fraternity who believes in SERVICE in capital letters.

College Spirit Aroused At Pre-Game Rally

The student body showed that school spirit wasn't dead when it attended the rally held recently on the grounds of the Butler Art Institute.

A well-planned program, with Ted Ford as Master of Ceremonies, kept YoCoites wondering what was coming next. The program included: a talk by "Dike" Beede, coach of the Penguins, who spoke on school spirit and what it meant to the men on the playing field, and an act by magician George Daugherty. The band and cheerleaders topped off the program with numerous songs and cheers that instilled "Ole Joe School Spirit" into the gala crowd that attended the Rally.

A lively new song, entitled "Penguin Pete March," written by Arthur Horvath, was introduced to YoCo for the first time during the rally.

Also included in the program was a drawing in which the winners received ten pairs of tickets to the Central Michigan game. The winners were Peggy Biga, Ralph Meranto, Edward Rogers, Frank S. Smaldino, Phil Smaldino, Gene Barko, Betty Baker, Robert S. Conklin, Patricia Pennoek, and John Tesner.

"YoCo Day" was sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, National Service Fraternity, along with Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity and Alpha Theta Delta Sorority, who worked in co-operation with A-Phi-O to make "YoCo Day" a success.

Dana Notes

Sunday Evening Concert Presented by Dana Instructors

Samuel S. Badal, Jr., organist and James Tavorario, pianist, faculty members of the Dana School of Music were presented in a concert at the Sunday evening hour October 24 in Trinity Methodist Church. The concert was sponsored by the Westminister Presbyterian Church, First Baptist Church, and Trinity Methodist Church in cooperation with the Dana School of Music in Trinity's month of dedication ceremonies of its newly installed four manual pipe organ.

Mr. Badal and Mr. Tavorario gave to their large enthusiastic audience a wonderful evening of gratification in artistic musical beauty.

The program opened with organ numbers "Cortege and Litanie" by M. Dupre and "Ar Hyd Y'Nos" by Garth Edmondson of New Castle, Pa., under whom Mr. Badal studied for several years. Mr. Tavorario played a group of Chopin numbers "Mazurka in F Minor," "Etude in G Sharp Minor." Mr. Tavorario's expression wove from the ironic protesting passages to a melody that shone forth with unspeakable loveliness. Reaching a mood of passionate fury, Mr. Tavorario's virtuosity was shown to be outstanding.

Organ works of Garth Edmondson was again heard in his "Apostolic Symphony" composed the three phases of biblical events: "Chasos and Prophecy," "A Carpenter is Born" and "Crucifixion and Fruition" followed by Bach's "Arioso." In these Mr. Badal did not hesitate to show his skill of organ technique.

Tschaikowsky's "Concerto Number I in B Minor" for piano and orchestra concluded the program with Mr. Tavorario at the piano and Mr. Badal doing the orchestral accompaniment on the organ bringing the two artists together in climax of a memorable evening concert.

DMF Holds Halloween Party
Horvath Tea Room was the setting of the Dana Musical Forum Halloween party on October 25. A wonderful time was had by all with fortune-telling, games and square dancing highlighting an enjoyable evening. A word of thanks is to be given to those making the party a success and getting off to a fine start of club activities.

Kenneth Kitchen, Baritone and member of the voice faculty of the Dana School of Music will be presented in a recital at the music annex Wednesday, November 10 at 8 p.m.

Mr. Kitchen will sing a group of songs and arias covering repertoire in English, French, German and Italian literature, with Mr. Samuel Badal, Jr. at the piano.

BIVOUAC

By Dunn and Williams

Veterans Administration branch office in Columbus has announced that effective immediately, all veterans paying their insurance premiums on a quarterly, semi-annual or annual basis will receive three percent discount every year. Besides saving this discount remember that the fewer premium payments due lessens the chance of a policy lapsing. Veterans can take advantage of this saving by visiting any VA office or by writing to the VA office in Columbus, requesting the type of premium payment desired.

Prior notice from the VA will be sent to veterans whose National Service Life Insurance term policies expire after October 8, 1948. VA officials said notice will be sent in time to have the policy converted into a permanent type of NSLI insurance. It is also possible to extend the expiration date. The VA stressed the fact that vets who plan to renew their term insurance should submit their renewal application, plus a premium payment at the advanced rate, prior to the expiration date of the original policy.

Checks Late Again

Columbus VA announced that vets in college and universities this fall may not receive their first subsistence checks until the week of November 7. These first checks, when they do come, will include all subsistence due from the date of enrollment through the end of October. The reason given for this delay is the heavy workload the colleges and VA face in processing extremely large enrollments.

By the way fellas, if your gal claims she has to be home early—don't believe her! She's just trying to help the ratio out by going out with two guys in the same night. It's fine if she can get away with it.

Cooperation Needed To Clean Mess Hall

By Sallie O'Brien
Please - - - ze return your dishes to the scullery. You've no doubt heard this statement so often in the last month that you're ready to tear down the signs, break all the dishes and start a person-to-person fight with some poor guy on student council. (Student Council, by the way, has been hacking this experiment to the limit.)—You'd love nothing better than to go halloweening some night and destroy the loud speaker system in the cafeteria. In fact, if they'd keep their yaps shut and stop bickering about the dishes, you'd do anything. Any thing that is, but, return your dishes to the scullery.

We know it's a hard job, it takes a lot of energy to lift your coffee cup, too much effort to return them to their home. In fact it's even asking a little of the impossible by suggesting that at least pack your dishes on a tray and leave them at the end of your table.

Well don't fret, kids, the episode is over. Hence forth you can enter the Cafeteria, get your food, leave your mess and depart. Course, if someone ahead of you has already beat you to the draw—you're lucky. Think how nice it'll be, you dive in the Cafeteria grab a seat, get in line, buy your food, go back to your table, and woe-and-behold you've got a seat but no place to put your food. Ohhh - - - you lucky person.

Administration Takes Steps
Steps have now been taken by the Administration, we were warned it might happen—it has P. C. Piekard, Bus. Mgr. stated, "That due to lack of 'A Successful Scullery Drive' our luncheons and dinners may be raised 10 cents higher per person, so as to pay for the extra help in cleaning the cafeteria tables." Also, the Cafeteria will close promptly at 1:30 p. m. No one shall be admitted, through any entrance including the kitchen.

No special group can be blamed for the lack of co-operation. We are all at fault. But, one group could get the ball rolling.

Appeals to Frosh
So—come on freshmen, there's enough of you to start this thing with a bang. Get all your friends and pals and start moving. You know with the proper amount of spirit, determination and will power you could make us guys look pretty dog-goned lazy. It's up to you kids, make us look silly, shame us into getting in the fight. Let's go, freshmen, show the rest of us what you're made of.

Late John Cramer Presented History In Colorful Style In His Last Book

From the pen of the late John Cramer, who was professor of History at Youngstown College, came a story of a new Lincoln, a Lincoln under fire. By combing a colorful style of writing with authentic historical data, Professor Cramer's last book, "Lincoln Under Enemy Fire," presents a dramatic incident in the life of Abraham Lincoln.

The narrative deals with one of the most colorful incidents in the life of our Civil War president, Abraham Lincoln. While in the parapet during the battle of Fort Stevens, Lincoln was angrily ordered by the late Justice Holmes "Get down you fool." After endless research, Professor Cramer unearthed an unrecorded eyewitness account of the battle of Fort Stevens by David Bull, a Civil War soldier. In his account, David Bull describes Lincoln accompanied by Mary Todd witnessing the battle from the parapet. A copy of the letter will be found in the book.

This unrecorded incident adds to the already vast collection of Lincoln material that Professor Cramer had compiled, a collection consisting of some 700 volumes on Lincoln and 4000 miscellaneous newspaper clippings, pamphlets and articles.

Located Unknown Speeches
In his research work, Professor Cramer had located more than 100 unknown Lincoln speeches, legal documents and correspondence, the last of which was an original legal transcript owned by the family of Robert Zieger, a student at YoCo. Professor Cramer's collection is one of the three largest in Ohio.

Professor Cramer joined the faculty of YoCo in October, 1947. He had a degree of bachelor of arts and master of arts from Western Reserve University and had completed all requirements for his degree of doctor of philosophy. He was a member of Phi Beta Society, and was historian of the Abraham Lincoln Association of Ohio.

Already the book has had the acclaim of many of the Lincoln authorities, the foremost being the dean of Lincoln authorities, Professor James G. Randall. The book reviewer of the Cleveland News acclaimed it as, "a gem of a little book."

Although Professor Cramer was very much pleased with the success of the book, his greatest interest was teaching history to the fine group of students at YoCo.

TWO NEW WAYS TO JOIN THE RANKS OF AMERICA'S YOUNG LEADERS

DIRECT COMMISSION

A commission as second lieutenant in the Officers' Reserve Corps with a 2-year initial tour of active duty is ready for you if you meet these requirements: one year of honorable service in any of the Armed Forces between 7 December 1941 and 30 June 1947; have completed two years at an accredited college or university; U. S. citizenship; AGCT score of 110 or better; not more than 32 years old; physically fit. Once commissioned, you'll be assigned to a 3-month officers' training school, and, on successful completion, you'll be free to compete for a Regular Army Commission if you meet the competitive tour age requirements. Go to your nearest U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station for complete details at once.

OCS FOR HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

If you've graduated from high school or can pass an equivalent examination, are between 19 and 28 years old, are a U. S. citizen, and have necessary physical qualifications, apply now for enlistment for Army OCS. After your application is approved, you'll be enlisted as a Sergeant and given basic training if you have not had it already, then sent direct to Officer Candidate School, subject to quotas, of course. Upon graduation, you'll be commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Reserve, and placed on two years of active duty. Top OCS graduates are commissioned in the Regular Army—all others may compete for a Regular Army Commission. Get all the facts about applying for OCS entrance at your nearest U. S. Army and U. S. ### What Goes with the ENGINEERS?

by John P. Barrett

Mu Pi Epsilon announces that Bob Coy has been appointed to take charge of athletics for the engineers, and will direct the Mu Pi Epsilon entry in the inter-mural basketball league.

At a recent meeting, 14 new members were accepted for membership in the honorary Engineering frat. Scholastic requirements make a point average of 2.00 necessary, as well as the completion of 76 hours. This is junior level in the Engineering School. Members must be engineering, physics, or math. majors. New members accepted for the fraternity are: Carl Alexoff, E.E., Charles Ballentine, E.E., John P. Barrett, E.E., Robert Bishop, E.E., Henry Brudis, Physics, Peter DiRenzo, I.E., Dale Ewing, E.E., Bill Kroeger, M.E., Bob Miller, M.E., Jim Nestor, E.E., Neil Palante, M.E., Joe Smail, E.E., Walter Stage, M.E., and Jim Stockham, E.E. These are the boys you will see around the engineering school wearing the big plywood Mu Pi Epsilon keys. The charter members are hard at work planning a banquet for the installation of the new members.

By the way, Dean Deesz has been appointed Chairman of the Technical Papers Committee of the Mahoning Valley chapter of the Registered and Professional Engineers. He's also vice chairman of the same committee for the local chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

In case you hadn't noticed, Mr. Deesz is teaching a new class in theory and manipulation of slide rule from 1-1:50 on Tuesdays in room 113. All you fellas who have been asking for the course, take advantage of it. The course is being added at your request, so everyone who's free that day ought to be there.

Gives Organ a Hand

Seems to me that Dick Organ, engineering student and star football player, deserves a hand. Any man who can do such a good job at both engineering and football deserves all the credit he can get. We're sorry to see Dick has broken his ankle. It will probably keep him off the gridiron for the rest of the season, and because of this, YoCo loses one of its best players. Here's to you, Dick.

Don't Whistle While You Work
Don't tell anyone, but Mr. Deesz says the whistling in the halls is on the upswing, and it certainly puts the class at a disadvantage. Let's watch it, fellas.

Next Tuesday, Mr. N. A. Hughes, assistant chief metallurgist for the Carnegie Illinois Steel Corp. (Ohio Works) will come to the Youth Center to speak on The Development and Research Engineer. All the metallurgy students are required to attend, and anyone who is interested will be most welcome.

Memo to student council:
Thanks very much for giving the seniors a chance to vote in their class elections. Most of the boys never see the main building from one week end to another, and so, get no chance to vote. It's a privilege that we all appreciate. Hope you'll have the voting booth in the engineering school for ALL future elections. Thanks again.

The committee approved the submitted budget of all other student activities. With the Neon raise, the total budget is now $8750.

WHERE DO I GO FROM HERE?

After a short gain Al Campana (53) is hemmed in by Central Michigan tacklers Tom Weede, Harold Madden and Ed Schuknecht. Throwing a block in left corner is Penguin Guard Augie Yahn.

YoCo Gridders Face "Golden Flashes"

by J. E. Pugh

In what should be a stirring battle the Penguins will face the Kent State "Golden Flashes" at the latter's field this Friday night. The contest will be a battle for possession of the traditional canoe paddle won by the Penguins last year. This year the Kent Staters are confident that the "Flashes" will gain possession of the paddle by reversing last year's loss to the Penguins. Last year the Penguins downed the Kent eleven by a 13-0 count.

Kent has an enviable record thus far in the season having won 4 games while being held to a tie score by Western Reserve. They have yet to taste defeat. Sparked by the running of elusive Wilbur Little the Kent team has defeated Mt. Union, Wooster, Waynesburg, and Central Michigan in that order. Last week they were held to a 14-14 score by the Western Reserve "Red Cats".

The Penguins while not boasting as successful a season mark as the Kent Staters, have given indication that they are ready and eager to try conclusions with the "Flashes". With the possible return of center Joe Bernard and end Frank Thornton the Penguins will be considerably strengthened. After a slow first half the Penguins came to life and downed the Central Michigan team last week 32-9 and Kent may find that they are going to catch the Penguin team on the up-grade. The only basis for comparison between the two teams is in the Central Michigan contest. Both Kent and YoCo defeated C. Michigan. Kent handed the Michigan team a 28-0 setback. Comparative scores against Michigan indicates the near-even strength of the two teams.

There is a great deal of local interest in this battle because of the large representation of Youngstowners, that are students at K.S.U. The canoe paddle serves as an added incentive to both squads.

The game should be one of the best of the season and a large crowd is expected to be on hand for the game. A large delegation of Youngstown fans are expected to make the trip.

Sporting Views

The Penguin-Kent State game is creating a lot of interest both on and off the campus. The two teams are quite evenly matched on the basis of their performance against Central Michigan. The means of comparing teams is poor, however, and seldom do such comparisons prove conclusive.

In this column predictions have been with-held for various reasons but on this game a prediction will be made. All evidence seems to indicate a Kent victory. I have heard a number of people picking Kent State on the basis of their season record. I can't see any true comparison on such a basis. The caliber of opposition that the two teams have faced seems to be entirely different. Kent, sporting an undefeated record, has bowled over Mt. Union, Wooster, Waynesburg, and Central Michigan. Now without taking anything from the Kent team, I must say that the Penguin opposition has been a little tougher. I would wager that any of the teams that have met the Penguins, with the exception of Central Michigan, would defeat any of the teams that have been on the K.S.U. schedule. Again I say that I am not trying to run down the K.S.U. team but I am merely trying to point out the impossibility of comparing teams on the basis of their records.

Both Kent and Youngstown will be anxious to win this game that is rapidly becoming a traditional battle. The feeling seems to run strong in this game. Last year the

by JOHN E. PUGH

Youngstown campus was invaded by K.S.U. supporters and a possible long range rivalry was born. Last year's game was bitterly contested with the Penguins finishing on the long end of a 13-0 score. This year's game should be equally as bitter with both squads battling for supremacy.

The Penguins for the first time this season, will not go into the game with a weight disadvantage. Should Thornton and Bernard return to the line-up the Penguins would be bolstered considerably. The Penguins gave signs of offensive strength in the game against Central Michigan and may have hit their stride. The lone factor against the Penguins is their inability to overcome the away-from-home jinx that has possessed them for the past two years.

The prediction that was mentioned earlier should be evident by now. This column favors the Penguins to win the ball game and retain possession of that canoe paddle. As for predicting the remainder of the games, we'll take them as they come. This time it's Youngstown over Kent State.

Penguins Down Central Michigan by 32-9

The Penguins scored their second victory of the season by downing Central Michigan by a 32-9 score. The Penguins scored once in the first half and four times in the second half in running up their 32 points. The first half saw both teams fumble frequently and tempo of the game was far from exciting. In the second half, however, the Penguins found the range and emerged with a decisive victory. Al Campana scored twice. Tom Campana once, Lucci once and Savich scored the other. The passing of Gibson was very effective and should continue to hit his receivers, the Penguins may prove troublesome for the remainder of the season.

Kullman and Yedanik were outstanding for the visiting Michigan team. Gibson, Davanzo, and Lucci looked good offensively for the Penguins while Thompson, Hulea, Zangara, and Yahn played stiff defensive ball. In giving credit for defensive play the entire Penguin team was impressive. Angelo, Watson, Smouse and the rest of the linemen were outstanding. Smouse showed fine blocking on a number of plays.

A beautiful run of some 90 yards by Tabachino was nullified late in the fourth quarter.

Tabulation of the statistics by party preference shows the following results in answer to question I:

No .27	No .28	No .33	No .32

In answer to question III, the percentages were:

Democrat	Republican	Progressive	Other
Yes .28	Yes .33	Yes .33	Yes .19
No .63	No .58	No .67	No .73
Don't Know .09	Don't Know .07	Don't Know .00	Don't Know .08

Outstanding result of question III was that of those voting Republican .35 feel that war is the only alternative, of those voting Democrat .28, and split ballot (Other) .19. Also the small number of Progressive votes (3) leaves doubt as to the validity of the attitude. The total of all parties answering question III is: .28 Yes .65 No .07 Don't Know

The tabulation of ages, which ranged between 54 years and 16 years, shows the average age to be 21.1 years and the medium age to be 23 years. The average time given for the outbreak of war was 2.8 years and the medium time was 1 year.
