JAMBAR WINS SCRIPPS-HOWARD AWARD

JUDGED BEST COLLEGIATE BI-WEEKLY PAPER IN OHIO AT O. C. N. A. PRESS CONVENTION HELD IN COLUMBUS

YoCo Quarter Hour Heard at New Time

YoCo Quarter Hour, radio edition of the JAMBAR, will be heard at 10 o'clock a. m. beginning Saturday, May 8. The broadcast was formerly heard at 9:45 a. m.

The popular broadcast continues to draw favorable reaction from an increasing radio audience. The latest word came from Detroit and Akron, where the program was received with enthusiastic appreciation.

The program is a product of the untiring efforts of radio editor Olive Davis and radio sports editor Jimmy Lowery.

Council Recommends College Increase "YC Pin" Awards to Seniors

Recommendation will be made to faculty authorities to award "YC Pins" to five per cent of a graduating class instead of the customary three pins per class. Student Council decided to recommend this action after it was recently pointed out that the enrollment had increased to a great degree since the college began awarding the honor pins.

"YC Pins" are given at graduation to the three students having the most honor points, the majority of which are from academic scores.

Student Council Election Dates Set for May 19-20

The elections committee of Student Council has announced that the dates for the Student Council elections for next semester will be May 19 and 20, 9:00 to 3:00 and 6:00 to 8:00. Six independent students are to be elected.

Candidates for Student Council must meet the following qualifications: They must have a cumulative scholastic point average not lower than 1.75, and they must be carrying 12 semester hours. Independent candidates running for Student Council must submit to Council a petition signed by 50 students who are eligible to vote in the election. Petitions must be submitted to Council not less than five days before the election date.

O. C. N. A. Convention Is 22nd to Be Held

Organized by eight Ohio colleges May 1, 1926, the Ohio College Newspaper Association celebrated its 22nd anniversary last week. Since its beginning, OCNA has striven toward the attainment of three purposes:

1. To further the interest of all Ohio college newspapers.
2. To further co-operation among the editors and business managers of the association.
3. To raise the standards of Ohio college journalism.

Jambar Is Second In Ad Competition

Second prize in the state of Ohio for advertising layout went to the JAMBAR at the recent Ohio College Newspaper Association contest in Columbus. The prize, in the form of a certificate, was awarded by the association for the series of advertisements run for the Strouss-Hirschberg Co.

Andy Jardien's photograph of the Homecoming Queen, Marty Altman, won honorable mention for the JAMBAR in the photography contest.

The OCNA awards were given at the banquet ending the annual convention, just preceding the awarding of the Scripps-Howard cups for the best college papers.

"Mr. Hush" Dance Has "Hush" Band

Miss Hush might be gone forever but YoCo's MR. HUSH is a coveted secret of Phi Lambda Delta Sorority.

The Mr. Hush dance will be held May 14 at the American Legion Hall with dancing from 9 to 12 to the music of Jim Man, a fictitious name for the band which is also hush.

Ticket sales to this stag will begin Monday with an even number being distributed among males and females at 60 cents each. Miss Barbara Harcar is chairman of the affair.

Each day next week one more clue will be released concerning the identity of Mr. Hush, a prominent YoCo personality. At the dance Friday each person will be given a number to be dropped in a box at the door. From these numbers individuals will be chosen to guess Mr. Hush and have a chance at the grand prize.

Miss Harcar's committee includes Peg Shook, Mary Alice Joyce, Margaret Moore, Sara Patterson, Jeanne Lyons, and Jo Anne McCarthy.

BETTY HOUSER IS QUEEN OF MAY

Miss Betty Houser will reign at the annual May Day festivities May 21. Miss Houser, a Gamma Sig, is a senior, active in Mimes Dramatic Fraternity. She is also the school nurse.

May Day afternoon ceremonies will include the procession of the Queen and her court and the coronation. Attendants are Cathy Naughton, Mary Janowski, Kay Kabealo, and Phyliss Grein.

Ray McKinley to Play
The prom will be held at the Tri-Lan Ballroom. Dancing will be from 9 to 12 to the music of Ray McKinley and his celebrated orchestra.

During the intermission the Queen will be introduced. A floor show is also being planned for the entertainment of the dancers at intermission.

No Tickets Sold at Dance
Couples will be admitted to the dance only if they have invitations. To secure an invitation the activity book and $1 per couple must be turned in at the cashier's office between May 17 and May 24. No tickets will be sold at the door to assure the attendance of exclusively college students and their dates.

Warren Pritchard is chairman of the dance and Frank Krayak is in charge of afternoon ceremonies.

Students Favor U. M. T. And Powerful Air Force

Ballots of 630 Youngstown College students revealed this week that the majority of YoCoites think universal military training and air force expansion is the best policy for the United States in view of the present world situation.

The collegiate poll is another in the series conducted by Roy Pilcher and Chester Crumpler under the direction of Mr. Westenfield, political science instructor.

The results of the poll are as follows:

Per cent checked	Policy given	Number checked
4.4	Universal military training	28
4.4	Draft	28
9.7	Air Force expansion 70 group now proposed by congress	61
3.8	Universal military training and draft	24
32.38	Universal military training and air force expansion	204
18.25	Draft and air force expansion	115
16.87	All three	105
10.32	None of these	65

Scripps-Howard award for the most outstanding bi-weekly college newspaper in Ohio was awarded to the JAMBAR at the annual banquet of the Ohio College Newspaper Association held at Capital University in Columbus Saturday. The silver cup was presented by Wayne V. Harsha, executive secretary of the O. C. N. A.

John Carroll placed second in the best newspaper competition. Third recognition went to the Seton Journal of Mount St. Joseph College. The Ohio Northern Transcript was chosen for fourth place. The Seton Journal had placed first for the past two years.

The bi-weekly's contest was judged by two professors of the Indiana University School of Journalism.

Saturday's banquet climaxed a two-day convention attended by 161 delegates of Ohio college newspapers. Thirty-one of the 45 collegiate papers of Ohio are members of O. C. N. A.

Three Columbus newspapers, The Columbus Dispatch, The Citizen, and the Ohio State Journal were hosts at the annual banquet. Senator John W. Bricker addressed the delegates. Bricker pointed out the need for unbiased news in today's newspapers and claimed that columnists have too much influence on the reader.

JAMBAR representatives attending the convention were Robert B. Weyer, editor; Sally O'Horo, associate editor; John Pugh, sports editor; and C. J. Partridge, columnist and former editor.

Wittenberg College, Springfield, was selected as the 1949 convention host.

Reserve Officers Training

Like to wash dishes? Pull KP? Silly question! The fact that most of us don't like to do such menial chores is a top reason for investigating the benefits of the proposed ROTC unit for our campus.

Graduates of ROTC, in the event of another war, will find themselves wearing bars, chickens and eagles — maybe even stars. The sad sacks who say "ROTC is not for me" will be the ones on the spud line.

Getting out of enlisted men's chores isn't the real reason for wanting Reserve Officers Training. College students who take these courses would be preparing themselves to serve their country more efficiently. At the same time they would be gaining experience in leadership, hygiene, administration, law, and military sciences. The ROTC graduate would find himself better prepared to meet the competition of civilian life.

Youngstown College would give non-laboratory science credit to students enrolled in the military science courses if they were to have an ROTC unit.

Members of the ROTC unit would receive a subsistence allowance of $25 per month — and that ain't half if you're working your way through college.

ROTC is ideal for those who were not in the last war. They should not pass up this opportunity to get in on the ground floor. Veterans who have two years or more to go in college would find the course valuable, for they would not have to take the first two years.

Application for the establishment of a unit of the Reserve Officers Training Corps will be made by the administration of Youngstown College only if enough students express their interest. You may get further information at the information desk in the main office. The girl will give you a simple questionnaire form to complete. The form will not bind you. It will show that you are interested in ROTC and the continued expansion of Youngstown College.

May Day at YoCo

Probably the biggest event on the social calendar for the balance of the semester is May Day. This is an annual affair popular on every college campus, a carry-over from an old tradition seemingly to celebrate the arrival of warm weather. However, most superstitions concerning the day have been discarded. No wonder! How would you like to tip-toe barefooted in the dew covered grass at sunrise to the nearest cornfield in the belief that this procedure would remove freckles?

YoCo's version of May Day will be May 21. There is no need to ask co-operation to make the evening dance a success judging from general enthusiasm, but there is plenty of room for comment on the afternoon ceremonies. Usual procedure includes the dancing around the Maypole, coronation and procession of the queen, and a well planned program of activities. All this will be obviously pointless without enthusiastic student interest. Appreciation by the student body can be demonstrated by 100 per cent attendance at the ceremonies. The next issue of the JAMBAR will carry full details on the schedule for May 21.

The Inquiring Reporter

by R. M. GRAHAM

This week we turn once again to the more serious side of wife. In the year of April, 1816, Stephen Decatur made this toast at a dinner in his honor: "Our country, in her intercourse with other nations, may she always be in the right; but our country right or wrong!" Mr. Decatur may have been perfectly correct in 1816, but how would his statement hold up today?

SUBJECT: STEPHEN DECATUR'S TOAST

JOHN PIZZOLA — Junior

Some criticism has been directed at our foreign policy and our path of action. Our immediate concern is the degree of criticism being directed against our statesmen and the manner in which they are handling the situation. We in America constitute one of the most co-operative teams the world has seen and this team is being led by our statesmen. These statesmen have been right most of the time, however, when they are wrong we still should have faith in them and back them to the limit.

JOAN WISE — Freshman

As Americans we have the right to criticize the formulation of our country's policies and even after they are made. But once these policies are formulated we should stand behind them 100 per cent. All of us gripe over small things, such as lowering of our helmets and shorter haircuts, but once they are the fad we all conform to them. So it is in politics or policies, once established and adhered to by the majority, we must all back them to the best of our ability.

DON L. HANNI — Junior

Our country, right or wrong! That's a good idea, but aren't we ever wrong? For instance, take our present foreign policy. I'm sure we may be right a majority of the time, but the Russians can't be wrong on all issues. It's this strong nationalistic feeling in all the countries of the world that creates wars, so why not do away with it. Let's do away with the prejudices, American and Russian, by investigating the fallacies of both sides before we allow ourselves to make a decision. Let's start a new motto and that is: "Mankind, right or wrong, let's preserve it."

EVELYN SAVO — Sophomore

"Right or wrong," or shall we say, "democracy or Communism?" The battle is on for the survival of each. Well, maybe an atomic bomb will settle everything one way or another. But, I think that the U. N. should be the determining body in saying what shall be right or wrong, not in favoritism to nations, but in contrast to the welfare of the people's resources throughout the world. World monopoly on natural resources is the cause of all wars. The U. N. should remedy all controls on resources so that every nation can operate proportionately and accordingly to the benefit of all.

MARIANNE DEAK — Freshman

Today we're living in a world where co-operation is not merely important, but essential. The time has come when we must sacrifice hypocritical individual sovereignty and establish a world organization for the mutual benefits of all the world's peoples. The misguided conception of our country, right or wrong, has caused sufficient misery to prove this doctrine false. We should now look to the United Nations for the doctrine: "Our World, May We Make It Right."

JIM WEISS — Junior

Stephen Decatur's thinking reflects the consistent political attitude of most military men. The idea reflected in his attitude is most dangerous. To the continuation of a democratic form of government, such as we today are trying to improve and perpetuate, requires a more honest and progressive attitude. Rampant, emotional nationalism, the essence of Decatur's comment, is the forerunner of chicanery, oppression and neo-facism. To the many sins, created in the name of duty, are added the multitude of tyrannies committed in blind nationalism.

Looking Around ...

with DONNELLY and DURSO

This column really started out with a bang! Durso pulled the chair out from under Donnelly as she sat down to type. Be that as it may... what is so rare as a day in June, unless it's a clear day in Youngstown in any month. However, with the prospective approach of fair weather, we hope, a few pessimistic people are mentioning the fact that the semester's almost over — and just when we were getting our heads above water, too — some low life has to remind us of final exams — ugh!

We are just now beginning to see some of the people who came back this semester, such as SAM HANKINS, seen walking around with buddy JOHN (or is it JACK) JONES. Speaking of JONES, one of our favorites (though we haven't seen him much lately) is J. R.; better known as ZOOK, who taught us how to make paper ducks. Quite an accomplishment that is, too, also. Another JONES we could mention, but in this case merely to serve as an introduction to his friend CORKY STANYARD, is ROY JONES. We understand CORKY had quite an adventure while ROY was waiting for him one night. He never did pick ROY up; we think the Youngstown police had something to do with that. Traffic entanglements, maybe.

POEME:

Oh, what is so gay as a day in May,
When winds are lights without the blight
Of soot and dirt from homes and plants;
It makes you want to hop and dance,
And wish the *!#) :$!)! (rain would go away.

Having abused the privilege of poetic license to destruction, we submit another —

POEME:

THE MOON AND I

The moon was yellow, the lane was bright,
As she turned to me in the autumn night;
Her every gesture, every glance
Gave me a hint that she craved romance.
I stammered, stuttered, and time went by,
The moon was yellow and so was I.

(Given to us with the compliments of CHUCK PERAZICH.)

NOTES IN PASSING:

Orchids to KAY KABEALO for taking MARY JANOWSKI all the way home to New Castle to get some "clothes for the May Queen judging. It's a shame she wasn't told about the time for the judging until 11 o'clock of the same day... Surprise of the week was EUGENE BULGOZDY's Saturday night date from which he emerged minus an appendix... The excuse presented by CHARLEY SONGER to MR. MILLER for being late one day was certainly original; sees as how he was chasing a calf and missed the bus from Sharon? ? ?... MIKE CRAVER must have been feeling pretty good when he broke the door of a North Side cafe the other night... We met E. E. FORD, who admits being a friend of CRAVER's... How peculiar!... Never thought we'd see the day when YoCo students would act so silly as to have water pistol fights in the cafeteria; guess that's how higher education affects some people... Wonder how ELAINE MOLNAR felt when BILL HALFERTY turned the tables on her and squirted her with her own water pistol. We didn't know there was so much water in the things — bet she didn't either!

BARE BRUNCH NOTES:

Having had a nice time at the Bare Brunch, don't forget to go to the May Dance, and then study for your finals. Hope youse all sail through them. Chins up!

Dana Music Institute Will Present Opera, "Bohemian Girl," May 13, at Rayen School

"The Bohemian Girl," an opera by Michael W. Balfe, will be the presentation of Dana School of Music at Rayen High School Auditorium Thursday, May 13, at 8:15 p. m. The opera is under the direction of Dr. Henry V. Stearns and Mr. Donald Elser.

The story of the opera deals with the Count of Austria and his daughter, Arline. How she comes to live with a band of gypsies, falls in love with a Polish exile, and is even accused of being a thief, is something worthwhile to see. Superb performances are given by a distinguished cast, all music students of Dana instructors: Helen Lou Ceglie, Ralph Meranto, Vernon Hamilton, Wealthie Bush, Dan Santelli, and Gene Crone.

Other members of the cast including the various choruses of court ladies, gypsies, soldiers, nables, and sweet little Patricia Elser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Elser, as Arline the child, show promising talent.

To prevent over-payments of subsistence allowances, the Veterans Administration urges student vets to notify the V. A. as soon as a veteran interrupts or completes his program. In many cases, veterans stop their training and receive additional payments before the V. A. is notified of the change. All these over-payments must be refunded to the government. The V. A. would like advance notices whenever you decide to interrupt or discontinue your training, but prompt notice immediately after such a break in training will prevent most over-payments.

At last the V. A. has announced the priority list for admission into V. A. hospitals. Number one priority is given to those vets who require hospital attention because of an emergency condition. Second on the list are those vets who have service-connected disabilities. Third, veterans who have non-service-connected injuries or ailments are entitled to hospital care if they state that they are unable to pay for private medical care. All requests for admission into a V. A. hospital should be made at the nearest Veterans Administration office or hospital.

The Veterans Administration branch office in Columbus, O., has urged vets to use the official V. A. premium mailing envelopes when paying G. I. insurance premiums by mail. The V. A. also requests that no money be used to pay premiums. Money orders or checks, payable to the Treasurer of the United States, are much safer and easier to handle. Why take a chance of losing money and possibly your insurance policy? Use the methods prescribed by the V. A. and be assured that your payments are up to date.

That increase in subsistence should have found its way into your pocket by this time; but in case you still have any questions about it, here is the complete story again. Single vets receive an automatic raise from $65 to $75 per month, and a vet with one dependent automatically receives $105 instead of $90. Student vets with more than one dependent should submit additional information of dependency before July 1 in order to receive retro-active payments to April 1.

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Any question you might have will be answered in this column, if possible. Questions should be addressed to BIVOUAC and deposited in the JAMBAR news box in the main office.

Q.—In converted my G. I. insurance to 20-payment life. Is it possible to convert this policy once again to a cheaper plan of insurance, such as ordinary life?

Mr. ABC Gives Free Fags to Campus Smokers of Brand

Characters come and characters go, but Mr. ABC, the latest character to invade the YoCo campus, is destined to be a popular addition to the list of college personalities. A creation of the Chesterfield Co., Mr. ABC will give the students' free cigarettes if they are in possession of a pack of "Chesties" when he stops them. If you're actually smoking a Chesterfield when this mystery man trips you, you'll be given two packs to keep going on.

Realizing that the BMOCs of YoCo already smoke the ABC brand, not to mention the prominent movie stars and tobacco farmers who acclaim them, the Chesterfield people are making this move in an attempt to acquaint the few YoCo shmoes with their popular product who as yet haven't become hep.

So don't be caught napping. Make sure you're carrying the right brand of coffin nails when Mr. ABC strews cigarettes your way. Smoke Chesterfields — they satisfy!

YoCo's most popular girl and boy of 1948 — Mary Agnes Hatagan and Harry Deskin!

These results were tabulated by the Phi Gamma Fraternity. Voting was open to all students for one week. The winners were introduced at the annual Popularity Dance when they were given an array of gifts including complimentary tickets to local theaters, thereby making them even more popular.

Miss Hatagan, a member of Gamma Sigma Sorority, steps into the spot held by Betty Houser, Gamma Sigma, most popular girl of 1947. "Hat," as she is so commonly referred to, is also an active member of Newman Club, Mimes Dramatic Fraternity, and the JAMBAR. A sophomore English major, she recently retired as society editor of the Campbell Journal.

Harry Deskin is president of Phi Sigma Epsilon Fraternity. He succeeds Sig Delt President Dick Organ, last year's most popular man. Harry is a senior in education.

Chairman of the Popularity Dance was Bud Schermer.

Man of the Hour, RAY McKINLEY, conducts his great ork on two tunes currently being offered by Victor. On one side of the disc, Ray vocalizes the virtues of his favorite city, CINCINNATI, and receives fine backing from his crew. Displaying the versatility of the band, Ray then flips it over to knock himself out, jokingly, that is, with a novelty called AIRIZAY. This is but an example of the ease with which the band swings from one type of arrangement to another.

LAROO, LAROO, LILI BOLERO seems to be receiving quite a whack of dimes today. PEGGY LEE does this fairly well with able aid from her husband and a band of Brazilians. Reverse finds Mrs. Barbour TALKING TO MYSELF ABOUT YOU. It's done with a light hit and sounds pleasant enough . . . Capitol.

VIC DAMONE also has recorded L L L BOLERO and MY FAIR LADY. With a slow, hush vocal Da Moan moons mellow if not outstandingly . . . Mercury.

Columbia's Royalty set, DUKE ELLINGTON and his band, reign on two sides, offering AIR CONDITIONED JUNGLE and IT'S MONDAY EVERY DAY. The "Jungle" features the clarinet throughout along with some pre-eminent bass work. Al Hibbler sings "Monday" with much feeling and makes this one about the best of the "Monday" recordings out. That man is the living end.

I don't know whether you would term this next one a novelty, a vocal or just a loose screw, but it's G-STRING BOOGIE by ALVINO REY. The words tell the tale of a burly queen who could doff her outer garments like mad when this tune was being played. This ought to sell like crazy to the crowd which hangs next to the Edison. ANTRA'S BOOGIE covers the other face and is itself covered with Rey guitar. Too repetitious.

YoCo Drawings Exhibited At Indiana, Pa., Art Show

YoCo is well represented in the Indiana State Teachers College Annual Art Exhibit at Indiana, Pa. Currently showing are entries submitted by Beatrice Fried, John Nabrezny, Steve Bencetic, all art students, and Mr. Paul Komar, art instructor.

Entries include two watercolors and two oils by Miss Fried, two oils by John Nabrezny, and one oil by Steve Bencetic. Mr. Komar received honorable mention for two of his oil paintings submitted.

Samuel Rosenberg of Carnegie Tech was judge for the show.

News of the Menu Design Contest was recently disclosed when prizes were awarded to winning students in Miss Evan's design class. Many interested designs were created by the entire class which made it a difficult task for Mr. Hollander, proprietor of Hollander's restaurant (Petraikos Grille).

Final winners were Mario Bertolini, first prize of $10; Ed Palko, second prize of $5; and Barbara Simpson, third prize of $3.

Sigma Kappa Phi Business Fraternity To Hold Convention

The silver anniversary convention of Sigma Kappa Phi, national business fraternity, will be held in Youngstown May 14, 15 and 16. The headquarters for the convention will be the Pick-Ohio Hotel where registration of members from all the chapters will be taken during the evening of May 14.

The convention is an annual event held by the fraternity to strengthen the bonds of brotherhood and association among the members. Business meetings are to be held to elect new national officers and also to discuss the new expansion plan and other programs of interest to the national group.

For relief from the efforts necessary to carry on the business meetings a program of entertainment has been planned. A stag will be held for the gentlemen at the Pick-Ohio the evening of registration, while the ladies are invited to attend a dessert bridge. A dinner dance is planned for the evening of Saturday, May 15. The dance will be held in the ballroom of the Pick-Ohio Hotel with Kenny Hogg and his orchestra supplying the music.

Danny Mirto, president of the local chapter, has announced that Jack Ritter is general chairman of the convention. Committees have been appointed to assist him in planning the numerous events.

YoCoites Are Entertained At Popular Bare Brunch

Fifteen hundred students and faculty flocked to Mill Creek Park's Pioneer Pavilion Wednesday afternoon for the Bare Brunch. Baseball and dancing formed the nucleus of the day's entertainment, and refreshments were served all afternoon.

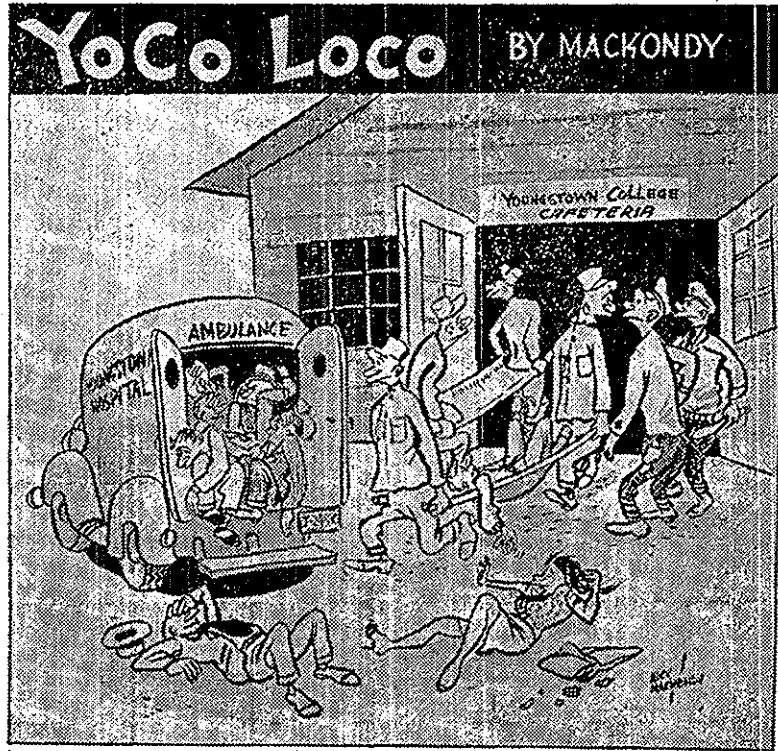

The surprise of the day was Michael Dolevy's orchestra. It was the first time in the history of the affair that an orchestra was obtained.

The Brunch was the climax of weeks of planning and publicity on behalf of Jim McLaughlin's able committee which worked under the supervision of Professor Bare after whom the day is named.

WHAT GOES with the ENGINEERS?

by JOHN P. BARRETT

All the activity that's been going on down in the engineering school library has had a lot of us curious. Seems that all the engineering books and magazines which were still up in the library at the main building have been moved down here. The metallurgy books are here, and our sets of Iron Age, Engineering News, and Engineering News-Record are now complete. These sets run as far back as the early 1900's, and provide a mass of much needed reference data.

If some of the students who have lost things around the engineering school will stop in at the office, they'd stand a good chance of getting them back. There's a pile of lost articles in there that are just waiting for someone to claim them. All of which brings to mind my physics experiment book. I hope the guy who has it now takes better care of it than I did.

The proposed slide rule class has been sent to the curriculum committee for consideration. If approved, it will become required for physics and math majors, as well as for engineers. This is a course which will save a lot of time for anyone doing very much math, and everyone down here hopes it's approved. It will give one-hour credit, and is to be taken in the second half of the freshman year.

Another course that's being added to the physics department is a course in meteorology. Mr. Crane will be teaching it, and he says that as much of the technical end as well as math will be omitted. The purpose of the course is to give a good over-all view of weather conditions, and their causes. Mr. Crane spent much of his time in the army as the weather man for the commanding general in the European theater, and made many of the forecasts for commercial flights out of Paris. The course is not required for engineers. It is designed with the liberal arts student in mind.

Alpha Iota Sorority Inspection Meeting And Initiation Held

An inspection of the local chapter of Alpha Iota National Sorority was held on April 20 at Shady-lawn Tea Room. Mrs. Blanche Keiffer from Ravenna, O., made inspections.

Mrs. Keiffer gave a report on the activities of various other chapters in the United States. She also gave a list of events that will take place at the State Conclave to be held at Akron, O., on May 6, 7 and 8.

Mr. Burger of the Burger Traveling Agency spoke on different types of summer vacations and trips.

Refreshments were served buffet style. The table was attractively decorated with a centerpiece of yellow daffodils surrounded by yellow candles.

Mrs. Robert Hanna presided at the tea table.

Formal initiation services were held at the residence of Miss Joan Waldschmidt, 947 Ottawa Drive, on April 27, for Miss Marylou Simko.

Miss Betty Baker, president of Alpha Iota Sorority, had charge of the services.

Miss Simko was presented with a corsage of red roses and white mums, and a gold pledge pin bearing the sorority shield and coat of arms.

Refreshments were served buffet style.

Mrs. Robert Hanna and Mrs. Dale Filz, sponsors, were present.

Bandmaster Ray McKinley Leads Versatile Music Aggregation; Booked for College May Day Prom

by HARRY MESHEL

One of the most versatile bands in the business today is the one fronted and sparked by Ray McKinley.

Since leaving the service Ray has built an aggregation tops in the eyes of both musician and layman. Proof of this is the long list of bookings he is receiving and the fact that we had to change our Prom date in order to secure the band.

Played with Dorsey Brothers

First to notice the talents of McKinley was Ben Pollack who, upon hearing him, immediately gave him a permanent chair in his then great organization. Through the Pollack crew Ray came to the attention of many music notables among which was Milt Shaw. Shaw wasted no time in grabbing onto Ray and it was in this band that Ray and Will Bradley first met. Needing a drummer, the Dorsey Brothers soon snagged Ray, who proved to be a worthy addition to their group. Then came the event, the result of which gave the swing fans of the day one of their greatest thrills, the formation of the Will Bradley band built around Ray, his drums and vocals. This crew, you will recall, also featured Freddie Slack at the piano.

The success of this fine band was halted by Ray's entrance into the army air force where, after Glen Miller's disappearance, Ray led the famous Miller Air Force Band. Discharged from the army in '45, Ray set about establishing a bustin' outfit and creating best sellers such as "Hoodleaddle" and "That's Where I Came In."

Ray McKinley is Male Vocalist

Currently recorded by Victor, Ray McKinley handles the male vocal spot while Marcy Lutes holds down the other end. This charming little chirper gained prominence with the Tay Voge Quartet in Chicago until Ray went searching for a fem voice to fit his style of music. This he acquired when he hired Miss Lutes, and she does sing exceptionally well.

Eddie Sauter, one of the best arrangers in the modern vein, handles the scores for the band, producing intricately beautiful arrangements as well as bouncy novelty and modern jazz plums.

Here is a band whose musical balance is superb, which provides crisp, well played dance music and which is fast rising to the peak of modern musicdom.

Johnny Gardner Records to Get National Market

Johnny Gardner

by LOUIE TABOR

One of the gentlemen of note here at YoCo is tall, well-groomed Johnny Gardner, whose presence is acknowledged by his debonair nature, horn-rimmed glasses, flashy necktie, and excellently tailored clothing.

Truly a man of musical note, Johnny heads a five-piece band composed of piano, saxophone, trumpet, drums, and bass viol. Our maestro not only waves the baton, but tickles the ivories as well.

As an eighth grade student (way back when), Mr. Music led his first band. His latest venture is, of course, his fine five-piece combo which was organized in 1945.

Such groovy numbers as "Afraid," "Easy Moods," "You Use Your Heart" have been recorded by Johnny's band for the Rich Recording Co. of New York and Chicago. These recordings may be obtained soon at local record shops.

Musique a la Gardner combo is in constant demand at many of our college dances and other local dances. They played Monday night for the Y. W. C. A. May Fiesta at Idora Park.

After graduating from college, Johnny plans to go into the commercial field; should this venture fail to be lucrative, he will teach music.

GENERAL, EVERYDAY CHEMISTRY ARE NEW COURSES SCHEDULED FOR THIS SUMMER

Dr. E. D. Scudder, head of the chemistry department of Youngstown College, recently announced plans for several new courses to be offered this summer.

The course, General Chemistry, will consist of laboratory work that is separate from the lecture. Another course offered this fall will be Everyday Chemistry which is a general chemistry course for students who are not science majors. It treats the everyday things about us. There will be little emphasis on the mathematical phases. Most of the laboratory work will be by demonstration. The purpose of the course is to give a less mathematical approach to chemistry, but at the same time give a scientific course of college level. The other courses offered for freshman and sophomore students are listed in the college catalogue.

There are two new courses that will be offered for juniors and seniors. A two hour course called Rare Elements will consist of a lecture course that will cover the less common elements that are not usually covered in organic courses. Some of the material studied will be Thorium, Titanium, Lutecium, and some of the radioactive elements. A three hour course called Biological Chemistry, which is general biological course, will be given that requires organic chemistry as a pre-requisite.

This summer, the second semester of General Chemistry, Organic Analysis, Qualitative Analysis, Volumetric Part of Quantitative Analysis, Chemical Problems, and

Just for a Laugh —

The stranger laid down four aces and scooped in the pot.

"This game ain't on the level," protested Sagebush Sam, at the same time producing a gun to lend force to his accusation.

"That ain't the hand I dealt ye!"

The preacher was out on the golf course, and that a small moral lesson might not be amiss —

"I notice that the players who get the lowest scores are those who do not swear."

The gloomy golfer dug another slice of turf. "What the h... do they have to swear about?"

The police had photographed an escaped convict in six different positions. These photographs were sent throughout the country, asking authorities to arrest him. Promptly, a reply came from the Marshall of Hickville. It read: "Pictures received, have captured five of them, am on the trail of the sixth."

MEET THE ATHLETIC STAFF . . .

by TED BERNDT
(Fourth in a series)

"It's a gentleman's game in which fellowship and good feelings prevail," were the words of Dr. J. S. Smith, golf coach, when asked his opinion of golf as a sport and its future at Youngstown College.

"It's definitely a game with a future and is becoming an accepted sport at most colleges," Dr. Smith continued, "and it is a game in which disputes and haggings do not arise because they do not exist."

Dr. Smith became interested in golf as a sport while teaching here at Youngstown College. He coached last year's team through a 13-game schedule, emerging with 10 wins and three losses. He has high hopes for this year's squad which is slightly stronger than last year's team but is meeting stiffer opposition. Their record to date is three wins against three losses. This may be explained by the fact that the three losses were sustained away from home on unfamiliar courses.

A pleasing personality and an interesting method of lecturing has made him a popular member of the faculty. His position as dean of men has brought him into close contact with the student body. As a consequence he is deeply interested in the problems of the individual students.

One of the few left-handed golfers in the country, Dr. Smith shoots consistently in the low "70's". He enjoys the game and believes it to be especially beneficial to the individual because of the various qualities in which it differs from other sports. There is a spirit of competition between golfers, but it is no disgrace to lose. The feeling at the end of a golf match is one of satisfaction and acceptance rather than one of elation or despondency.

His love for the game plus his popularity among the players has doubtlessly contributed much to his success.

SPORTING VIEWS

By JOHN PUGH
The Youngstown College baseball team will compete in the local "AA" league this summer under the banner of the Worth Clothes. This should give the YoCo boosters a place to go on the forthcoming summer evenings. Most of the "AA" loop teams have their followers and it is hoped that the YoCo students will find the time to get out and give the team some support this summer when they play under the sponsorship of the Worth Clothes. The team has played good ball against its college opponents thus far and they should do well in the local sandlot loop this summer. While it isn't expected that they will win the league title, the team will give a good account of themselves.

With Coach Rosselli, a more than capable shortstop, to bolster the infield and with a catcher who has had experience in the "AA" league, the team should offer stiff opposition to the rest of the league. Semansky, Penguin catcher, should be able to offer valuable aid to the pitching staff regarding the opposing hitters. While the pitching seems to be more than adequate at the present time it may prove to be the deciding factor in just how strong the team will stack up in the "AA" race. If the pitchers can be effective, and keep their control the team should be very effective. The outfield seems to shape up pretty well at the present.

Regardless of the standing of the team, the student body should remember that the squad will be made up of YoCo students and deserve their support. One thing can be certain, that when the season is ready to get underway, Coach Rosselli will have a team on the field that will play good, clean, heads-up baseball.

Today there are 31 members of the collegiate group.

Penguin Netters Battle Kent State U. Today

The Penguin tennis team will meet Kent State at the Volney Rogers courts this afternoon, weather permitting.

Enjoying one of the best seasons in local tennis history the Penguin team is all set to hang up another victory. The team has displayed a consistently strong attack and the individual team members seem to be going along at top form. If they can keep up the present pace it looks very much as though we can look forward to one of the most successful seasons in the history of the college.

YoCo Tops Reserve, Kent; Loses to Waynesburg

by CHUCK PERAZICH
Waynesburg's "Fighting Yellowjackets" came from behind in the late innings to hand the Youngstown College Penguins their first defeat, 14-11.

Behind 11-9, the Pennsylvanians rallied in their half of the ninth to tie it up. The Penguins had the bases full and none out in the last half of the inning but couldn't push the run across. In the 10th the Yellowjackets scored three times off pitcher Bob Bloom to go ahead and win 14-11.

The big gun for Waynesburg was Fred Kreuter who blasted out a home run and two doubles. John Karaffa led the Penguin attack with three hits.
