'Coop' objectives called unclear, bounced to Council for clarification

Pending a decision on the "objectives" of the Penguin's Coop, this year's edition of the YSU student handbook may be available in three weeks, Larry Simko, Student Government president, said yesterday.

Dr. John J. Coffelt, vice president of administrative affairs, suggested taking the book to Council for evaluation after Dr. Edith G. Painter, associate dean of student affairs, refused to sign funding authorization for the Coop.

Dr. Coffelt suggested that the basic question was that of the "objectives" of the publication, and that members of Council should clarify the goals of the publication and decide whether the manuscript in its present form satisfies those goals.

Dean Painter based her refusal on 1) "the largely negative tone of the book" 2) "the use of the four letter word" at one point in the text, and 3) the inclusion of a section on the Cooperative Campus Ministry, which "is not a campus chartered organization, nor... a department of the university. A student handbook should probably be restricted to campus facilities and functions."

C of C to support moratorium to get troops out of SE Asia

In support of the National October 13 Moratorium to Stop Business as Usual the YSU Community of Concern will sponsor two days of anti-war activity beginning with small candlelight vigil on city square, at 8 p.m. Tuesday October 12, Joan Kraynanski, sophomore in Arts and Sciences and Vice president of the Community of Concern announced yesterday.

Kraynanski said the fence surrounding the square will be draped in black to memorialize

The objectionable passage is a comment on the Greek system at YSU: "It is my firm belief that one of the strongest and most influential forces on campus is the thousands of dead in the war in Southeast Asia. The vigil will end with a brief speech on the coming events of the anti-war movement. There will be a rally at Kilcawley Amphitheater on Tuesday Oct. 13 at 12 noon. The rally will include a speech by Fr. Raymond DiBlasio, Associate Director of Newman Center.

DiBlasio will also give students information on the Draft Counseling Center. Kraynanski said that there will be other speakers and a local band to provide music

Nixon names groups to handle restraints

WASHINGTON AP - President Nixon announced machinery last night for administering wage price restraints that he hopes will hold the annual rate of inflation to 2 to 3 per cent by the end of next year.

Nixon fixed no specific wage or price standards. He turned over that politically sensitive issue to two newly created quasi-independent bodies whose major decisions will be subject to governmental veto.

In an address prepared for a nationwide radio and television audience, the President unveiled plans for an economic stabilization program to go into effect Nov. 14 after expiration of the current wage-price freeze.

He did not specifically mention the administration's over-all objective of reaching an annual inflation rate of 2 to 3 per cent by the end of 1972.

However, the White House made available a "background paper" that cited such an objective, as measured by monthly living cost statistics, and said continued reduction of the rate would be the goal thereafter.

"This interim goal for the end of 1972," said the document, "would be an inflation rate about half of the rate that prevailed in 1971 before the freeze."

The White House refused to provide even an approximate guideline for permissible wage settlements; an official said the Pay Board will have to provide "standards or guidelines" before Phase 2 begins on Nov. 14.

However, some economists estimate that wage increases of up to 5 to 6 percent a year would meet the President's goal of holding inflation down to 2 or 3 per cent a year.

The existing cost of living Council will have authority to veto or revise standards recommended by the board and the Price Commission.

Phase II: An analysis

(Editor's Note: A campus analysis of President Nixon's Phase II economic program follows. The analysis was done by Professor Anthony Stocks of the economics department.)

Phase II of President Nixon's New Economics involving wage price freezes has occasioned considerable inequities on the campus. Those on eleven month appointments received their contract wage increase while the faculty on nine month contracts were caught in the freeze. Unfortunately, those faculty with frozen wages received only limited information from the President's announcement of Phase II regarding what, if any, wage adjustments they will receive for the 1971-1972 academic year.

Mr. Nixon did say wage and price adjustments would be permitted to correct inequities which would seem to allow pay increases to the bulk of the teaching faculty. What is less certain is whether these pay hikes will be retroactive to September 1. Perhaps details such as this will be covered by Secretary of the Treasury Connally in his upcoming news conference. If not, the newly created Wage Board will be faced with this determination among others.

Of perhaps greater interest is the longer run wage and price policies to be established by the Wage Board and the Commission on Prices, Costs and Profits under the Cost of Living Council. While the President did call for voluntary restraint through cooperation, he also indicated that the Wage Board and Price Commission would have Federal sanction to prevent violation of their policies. He further wants Congress to extend the life of the Economic Stabilization Act which suggests Phase II controls may last for some time - at least.

Training program for police cadets starts Nov. first

YSU will host a five-week Police Officer Cadet Training School program for new law enforcement officers, between November 1 and December 4. The registration deadline is Saturday, October 23, with enrollment limited to 50 students.

Offered by the department of continuing education at YSU, the school is being held in cooperation with the Mahoning County Police Cadet Training School, the Ohio Peace Officers Training Council and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Program coordinators will be Mahoning County Sheriff Ray T. Davis, Youngstown Police Chief Donald Baker and Dr. Lawrence E. Looby, chairman of the department of continuing education.

Classes will be held Mondays through Saturdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., and will total 240 hours of instruction at a cost of only $100 per participant.

Applications may be obtained from the department of continuing education.

Written request from various student organizations for the use of university buildings and facilities for meetings and activities were the primary topic of discussion at the Calendar Committee's latest meeting held Wednesday afternoon.

One interesting question which came up at the meeting concerned the volume of some of the bands which have performed in Kilcawley Amphitheater. Complaints have been received in the past from professors holding classes in nearby Tod Hall. No decision concerning the problem was made at the meeting, however.

According to Dean Edith Painter, chairman of the Calendar Committee, most requests are granted without much trouble.

The committee is made up of four faculty members, five ex-officio members and three students, chosen through student government.

Outlaw signs will go, says SC publicity head

Beginning October 8 all unauthorized signs shall be removed from Student Council bulletin boards, Chuck Hettler, chairman of the YSU Student Council's publicity committee, said yesterday.

Unauthorized signs are those which have not been approved by the Student Council. Hettler said anyone wishing to have their signs approved must only take their signs to the Student Council office, Room 108 Kilcawley Hall, and have them stamped by the Council's secretary.

Hettler also said that persistent violators of this regulation will be dealt with by the Council discipline committee and that violations should be reported to any member of the discipline committee or to the Student Council office.

Social Notes

Several letters have been written to the president of the university and forwarded to the Jambor protesting the Jambor's coverage of "Greek" news.

It would seem that the "Greek" element of YSU's campus is unsatisfied with the coverage they have been receiving in past issues of the Jambor. The authors of the letters request the revival of a column published two years ago featuring "Greek" news in which engagements, pinnings, and even lavaliering were joined with colorful tales of the antics of the "Greek" community.

The Jambor, feeling that perhaps a social column of some sorts could be accommodated, solicited for three issues running news of births, engagements, and marriages of members of the YSU community and other events not reported elsewhere. The Jambor did not restrict this request to the "Greek" community alone since they comprise only a very small minority (7%) of the entire YSU student body.

To date the Jambor has received no announcements for a weekly "Social Notes" column and assumes that no such column is desired by the YSU student body as a whole or in individual groupings be they clubs, organizations, or "Greek" fraternities or sororities.

Objectives

A university official has refused to authorize the funding from student fees, of a student publication, the Penguin's Coop. This blanket refusal is unfortunate, at best.

It is commendable that Vice President Coffelt has advised that Student Council review the Coop's objectives.

We feel that the Penguin's Coop should not represent a single student's point of view. But it is also true that the students deserve more from the Coop than a bland catalog of rules, regulations, organizations, fees, and activities. This is more appropriately the role of the Catalog. The Coop in the past has reflected no views whatsoever.

The time is long overdue for a decision by Student Council on what the Coop should be, and how it should be administered. We can only encourage that group to honestly make a decision with the welfare of their constituents in mind.

Letters to the Editor

Urges support of free university

To the editor of the Jambor:

The eight free university seminars that are now active at YSU were formed to promote an extension of instruction, inquiry and debate from class participation to discussion among faculty members and students about mutually interesting topics.

The seminars are free non-credit courses. They carry no formal requirements such as major or hour prerequisites, papers or grades. They are in no way a challenge to the university administration. We hope that both the faculty and administration will be encouraged to participate in our initiatives toward a broader education.

The seminars being offered are not part of the university curriculum but are an important factor in how we as concerned human beings adapt to current problem from sexuality to labor history, from cybernetics to an understanding of how our nation operates in the complex of the world today.

We are grateful to the concerned YSU trustee and the seven faculty members who are making this possible. They are generously giving their time and ability to enable an extension of study for the student of the future.

We encourage other YSU faculty members to share their knowledge in specific areas that are not now a part of YSU's curriculum.

We encourage all interested students to participate like this is your university, and your world.

Junior, business major

Forum and Letters Policy

The Jambor wants students, faculty, and staff to express their opinions on University subjects and issues. To this end the Jambor offers two avenues of expression, Letters to the Editor and the Forum.

The Forum is intended to permit comment on matters that are broader than immediate campus issues. The Jambor will print only those manuscripts which conform to accepted literary standards and which do not exceed 700 words. The author should fully identify himself.

Letters should be typed, triple-spaced, and should bear the author's signature, address, school-class, and phone number. Letters under 250 words in length will be printed in full, providing they contain no libelous or otherwise offensive material. The editor reserves the right to edit or otherwise condense letters which exceed 250 words.

the Greek System. If they ever get their shit together they could bring many changes at YSU...."

Simko told the Jambor yesterday that in reply to Dean Painter's first objection that he objects to "the all-is-rosy picture she paints of YSU. If the faults are always glossed over, nothing will be done to correct them." He further pointed out that the book is subsidized by student fees. Simko deemed Dean Painter's second objection "not worthy of reply" and defended the CCM as being a valuable asset to the YSU campus.

Dr. Coffelt said he was "unclear" as to what the objectives of the publication are. "The manuscript does depart from what I understood them to be," he said.

Dr. Coffelt agreed with Dean Painter that the book was largely negative, and that the four-letter word was "inappropriate." Dr. Coffelt said that although he questioned the wisdom of publishing the manuscript as it stands, he wouldn't want to veto it. He said he would go with whatever Council says.

ECOLOGY SIGN - Fred Dieter, freshman art major, looks over a newly erected sign requesting less wear on the grass in front of Kilcawley student lounge. A similar sign is located at the rear of the planetarium.

Sign of the times:
grounds head turns grass-conscious

Ecological reminders in the form of two signs were erected this week, in front of Ward Beecher and in front of Kilcawley amphitheater, in the hope of aiding both students and the campus environment.

The signs, which read: "If allowed to survive, this grass will provide enough oxygen for two students to breathe for one semester," remind students of the value of plant life to the environment.

The signs were erected under the supervision of Mr. Henry Garono, superintendent of campus grounds here at YSU.

In an interview yesterday afternoon, Mr. Garono stated that the reason for the signs is to remind students to exercise some measure of care in connection with the grass areas on campus, with special emphasis on Kilcawley.

Mr. Garono said that through the actions of a thoughtless few, certain portions of the lawn in front of the Kilcawley amphitheater have been nearly destroyed. Some students playing football on the lawn, have torn out pieces of grass.

Mr. Garono said he was not in any way condemning these students but he would greatly appreciate any consideration shown by those using the lawn.

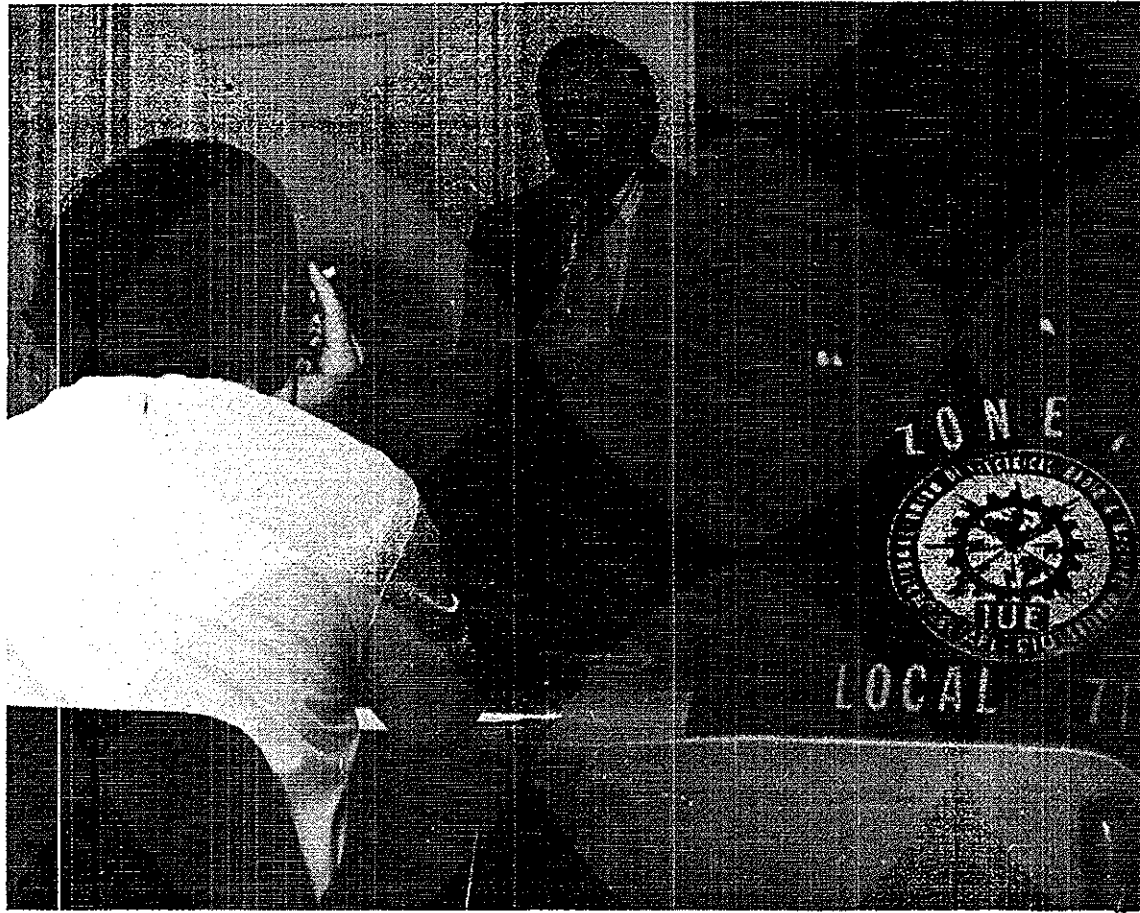

Mr. Garono said that the signs seemed a humorous and diplomatic way to get his idea across, and that more signs are planned for other campus areas.

TEACHING TRUSTEE - Mr. Shipka, a YSU trustee and local labor leader, is teaching a class on labor history as part of the YSU free university. His class is one of eight offered and meets Friday mornings from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

Rifle team and club set target: better team, wider membership

The YSU Rifle Club and The YSU Varsity Rifle Team have both set their sights on increasing their membership, Master Sergeant Robert A. Fairchild of the Military Science Department, team coach and advisor, said yesterday.

Although not widely publicized on campus, the YSU rifle team has competed in intercollegiate competition for several years and has just recently begun to expand, both in equipment and membership.

According to Sgt. Fairchild, this campus activity is actually divided into two parts, the varsity team and the rifle club.

Sgt. Fairchild stated that in order to compete in intercollegiate matches as a part of the varsity team, one has to qualify as a competent marksman. As a member of the Lake Erie Intercollegiate Rifle Conference (LEIRC), the team competes with other universities in the northern Ohio area, such as Bowling Green, Akron, and Case Tech.

To become a member of the rifle club, Sgt. Fairchild said that no qualifications are necessary. The rifle club is merely a campus activity open to all male and female YSU students carrying a full time load and maintaining a 2.0 academic average.

Practice firing as well as home matches are presently being conducted at the Miller St. reserve center, located between South Avenue and Rush Boulevard, near Mooney High School. According to Sgt. Fairchild, new firing facilities will be located in the soon-to-be completed Beeghly Physical Education building here on campus.

Sgt. Fairchild stated that many people have the erroneous idea that these activities are limited only to those in the ROTC program. He explained that the rifle team is run only by ROTC instructors simply because they are the only ones willing to devote any time to coaching, and that any academically qualified student is welcome to join either the team or the club.

For any information concerning either the rifle team or club, contact MSG. Fairchild on the third floor of Pollock House, or call extension 296.

Dr. Karl E. Krill, dean of the graduate school at YSU, has announced the appointments of 11 graduate assistantships in the department of English effective with the fall quarter.

The assistantship program offers graduate students the opportunity to provide a service to the institution and gain valuable experience assisting the faculty.

According to Dr. Krill, duties of the graduate assistants include instruction, research, and other academic services as determined by the department to which they are assigned.

Awarded assistantships were Mrs. Josephine Gloria Greco, Mrs. Karen Lee Klear, Mrs. Nancy Jean Mc Cracken, Howard E. Branscomb, Uwe Haushalter, Mrs. Linda Y. Jacobson, Mrs. Gloria Olson Jones, Thomas Alan Kester, Deborah Mitovich, Mrs. Patricia S. Roberts, and Mrs. Kathleen Ray Williams.

Appointments of assistantships are made by the Dean of the Graduate School upon recommendation of the department concerned. The stipend for the first year is $2600 plus remission of tuition and fees, except for the comprehensive fee.

A total of 77 graduate assistantships were appointed this year representing a total of $210,600 in financial aid to graduate students at YSU, with $195,400 coming directly from the University.

In addition, Nixon appears more committed than ever to bring about price stability before relinquishing direct controls on the economy. If this assessment is correct, it would appear that few wage increases will be permitted which exceed productivity gained and that price increases may be limited to instances where hardships can be documented. In fact, the President argued that prices should fall where Phase II stabilization leads to "excessive profits" in a particular industry. Just how this is to be accomplished, however, is yet to be determined.

Johnny Got His Gun

By John Manser

Those who see Dalton Trumbo's Johnny Got His Gun will be neither unimpressed nor unaffected. Trumbo's cinematic style in presenting a film about a World War I soldier who has had his arms, legs and face blown-off is quite competent.

He overcomes the technical problems inherent in a film movie about a human torso's several years in a Army hospital. Trumbo keeps the film moving with constant flashbacks and dream sequences.

The flashbacks give sustenance to Johnny (played rather ineptly by Timothy Bottoms) but the dream sequences usually go away. Some of the worst are those involving Donald Sutherland portraying a Christ/Death figure.

Probably the main suggestion is religion's failure to stop wars: at best they can only comfort the men in them. Trumbo may be cynical here, I don't know, for he establishes the point in a manner that is more fantasy than chilling and the idea is weaker for it.

However, this is a comparatively trivial facet of the film when one considers Director Trumbo has, besides successfully adapting the film from his own novel, succeeded in what he set out to do: emotionally attack war by documenting a hideous "case history." Unfortunately, this is the film's major and damning failure.

The sole use of emotion to condemn war must be rejected almost as strongly as the concept of war itself. Unbridled emotion is one of the causes of war, any uncontrolled use of it (like the movie's) runs the risk of bringing more misery. To find the cure, man must still look to reason.

Next time, I hope Dalton Trumbo's theme is equal to his not inconsiderable technical ability. The picture is showing at the Newport and Eastwood Mall theatres.

FOR WHAT IT'S WORTH SURF'S DOWN

The Beach Boys - Surf's Up. Here is the long awaited album with Brian Wilson's classic composition "Surf's Up." However, for this particular cut, one could have waited a lot longer. It is far from the best thing the group has ever done (which is the story that had been going around for months before the album's release). It is not even the best cut on the album. It is certainly outclassed by Al Jardine and Mike Love's above-average ecology-based "Don't Go Near The Water." Jardine also collaborates with Gary Winfrey for the very funny "Take a Load Off Your Feet."

The best ballad on the album is Bruce Johnston's nostalgic look at small town love in the fifties: "Disney Girls (1957)."

Coming up with the hit of the album is Mike Love who wrote new lyrics to Lieber-Stoller's "Riot In Cell Block No. 9." The song, called "Student Demonstration Time," chronicles the Berkeley Free Speech movement and racial violence "where Jackson State brothers learned not to say nasty things about Southern policemen's mothers."

DOUBLE BANGLA DESH: Besides the album of the concert coming out at the end of this month, CBS has announced plans to telecast the tape of the "George Harrison & Friends" concert December 4.

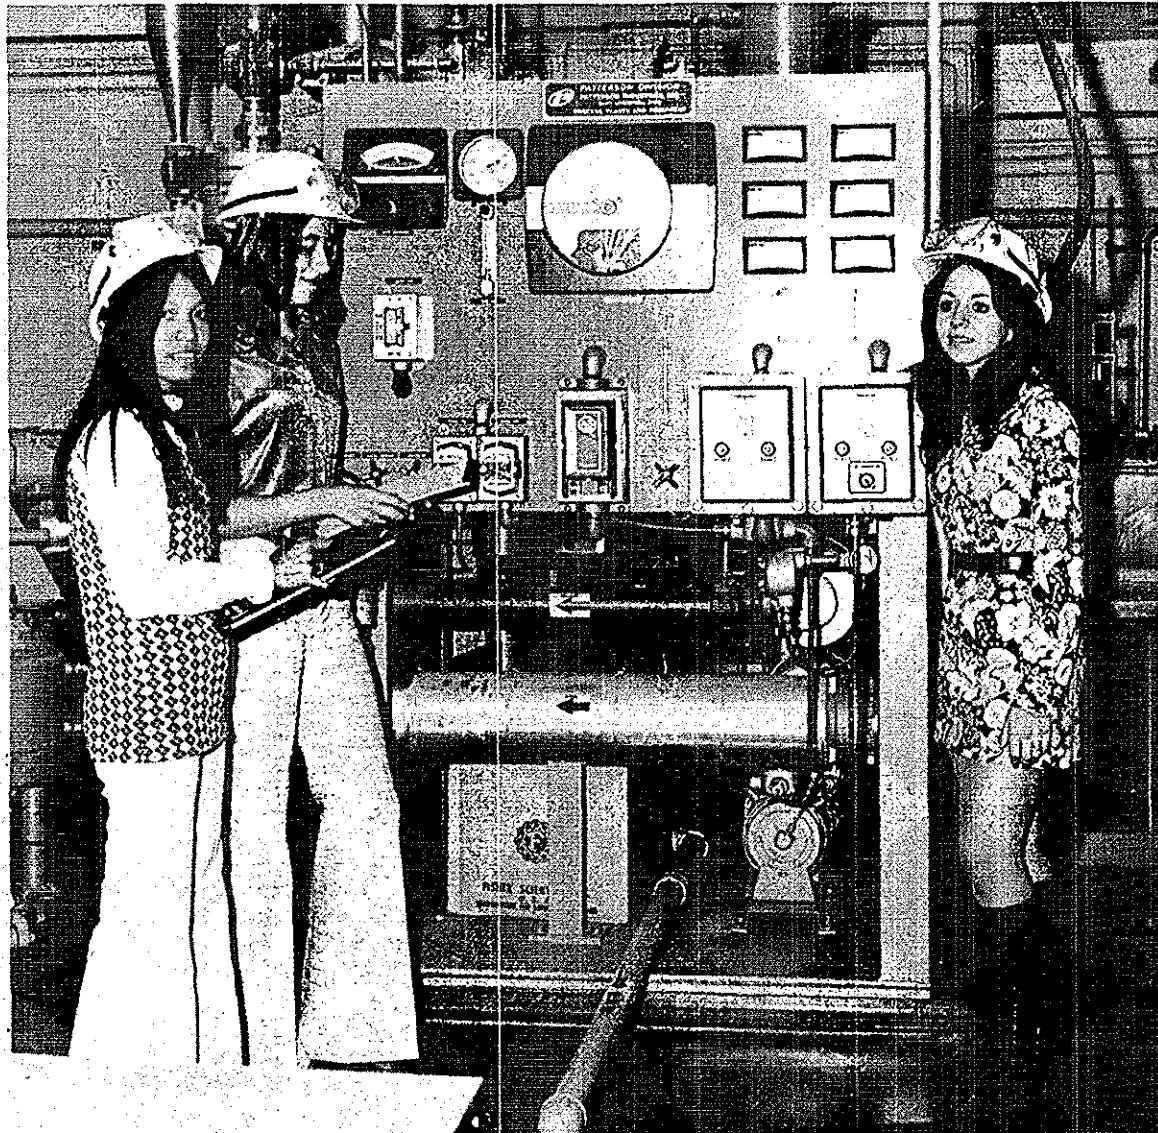

JAMES GANG RIDES AGAIN

AND AGAIN: If you are thinking about buying the James Gang's second album James Gang Rides Again in the near future, watch out! There are two versions of the album. On the original, there is a fantastic song done in three parts called "The Bomber" which on the newer versions being released has mysteriously been reduced to only two of the three original sections. The song originally opened with "Closet Queen" followed by a great lead guitar on Ravel's classic "Bolero" ending with the James Gang's version of "Cast Your Fate to the Wind." Now the song no longer includes the "Bolero" segment which leaves a void in the album. So if you are interested it would be worthwhile to look around for the original.

New Riders of The Purple Sage Gather round the old campfire. tonight while Jerry Garcia (of the Grateful Dead), Spencer Dryden and Mickey Hart (both formerly with the Jefferson Airplane) and others serenade you with songs about how somebody robbed the "Glendale Train" and their "Louisiana Lady." Another fine number is "Last Lonely Eagle" with some mighty fine pedal steel guitar work by Garcia. If ya'll can get into it, ya'll might be well pleased with the sounds off'n this here record.

Underground films showing at CCM

Underground films showing at 12 p.m. tonight at the Catacombs:

A Phantasy - the sort of film that Salvador Dali would be making today, had he not given up film making decades ago. Canadian film pioneer Norman McLaren has brought to life the cover paintings of The Lord of the Rings trilogy and of the standard science fiction anthology. In a surreal landscape, unidentified Flowing Objects melt, crawl, and like proper slithy toves, "gyre and gimble in the wabe."

Steve Miller's Band - sits-or rather jumps-for its documentary portrait by California film maker and wild man Ben Van Meter. The band is caught in the act of belting out Sittin' in Circles and Roll With It.

Judoka - by Josef Reeve documents the efforts of a hulking Canadian Olympic Judo champion to be at ease in his adopted country of Japan. Graceful on the Judo mat and painfully awkward anywhere else, the champ has little more success than Gulliver had in Lilliput.

The Guest - is Frank Gardner's mini-epic, accomplished through time lapse photography, of a male guest at a tea party who uses a stereo slide viewer to great advantage in alternating physical forms of affection with his two female hostesses.

The Pistol - is a polished German cartoon offering by Wolfgang Urchs. Witty drawings comment sardonically on the war, as old as civilization itself, in which cultured and barbaric elements battle for supremacy. A church choir sound track heightens the irony. One is reminded of Gandhi's response to a reporter who asked what he thought of Western Civilization. Gandhi sighed, "It would be nice!"

Below The Fruited Plain - refers to Mexico, unhappily invaded by a honeymooning mores of the New American Husband. The honeymooners are never seen. It is not likely that you would want to see them.

Betty Boop Runs For President - is a disconcerting reminder of what early animated films were on their way to becoming before stagnation set in. By any standards the visual techniques are smooth and sophisticated. Since the Hays Censorship Office had not yet been established, Betty mounts a surprisingly sexy campaign against her opponent, Mr. Nobody. Freudian analysts will want to see it several times.

Blotto - will pacify the nostalgia freaks. Laurel and Hardy manage to sneak out for a night on the town, getting hilariously drunk on a bottle of cold tea. People caught being that suggestible today would be under immediate suspicion of being dope fiends, but L & H are obviously just being dopes.

Penquins to play unbeaten, untied N. Michigan 'Cats

What could be tougher than playing nationally-ranked Tampa? For openers, try an unbeaten Northern Michigan squad which has shut out two foes and given up just three touchdowns en route to a 4-0 slate.

That's the plight facing Coach "Dike" Beede and his outmanned YSU Penguins when they visit Wildcat territory Saturday afternoon. The kick off is set for 2:30 p.m. (Youngstown time) at Memorial Field in Marquette, Mich.

If you believe in comparative scores, YSU is a 51-point underdog against the Wildcats. While the Penguins bowed 47-19 to Central Michigan, NMU made a 37-14 win look easy over the same Chippewas. That was the game Northern found itself offensively after tripping Wisconsin State at Whitewater, 14-0 and Hofstra, 14-7. NMU put it all together last week to blank Northwood, 24-0.

Prior to the Northwood tilt, the Wildcats were holding opponents to slightly over 50 yards rushing and 100 yards passing per game. They specialize in sacking quarterbacks and have not been scored on through the air, bad news for YSU's passing attack.

The defense is led by a pair of All-American performers, line-backer Tim Kearney and deep back Bob Kroll. Kearney, a 6-3, 235-pound senior, earned Associated Press second team All-American honors last year while Kroll, a 6-0 190-pound senior, was honorable mention.

That the defense has showed the way is only natural for new head coach Rae Drake. After spending five years as defensive co-ordinator, Drake got the head job this season when Rollie Dotsch left to become a Green Bay Packer assistant.

Drake's offense now has caught fire, much to his pleasure, following a 418 yard and 5 touchdown performance against arch-rival Central Michigan. The Wildcats, who favor a ground attack, had averaged 236.6 yards per game and tallied 8 times rushing prior to last week.

Beede hopes to have his charges at full strength for the battle. However, quarterback Ron Jaworski (sprained ankle), and guard Jim Infante (sprained knee) are recovering from injuries received in the Tampa game, but tailback Larry Johnson (concussion) is doubtful.

SPORTS WINNERS - Joseph L. Luppert, Assistant Director of Student Affairs, earlier this week presented the 1970-71 All Sports awards to two representatives of the intramural sports. Paul Cicio, left, a senior majoring in industrial management, is awarded the trophy for the fraternity division. Paul is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. The independent receiving the plaque is Paul Zavatchan, right, Senior Health and Physical Education major, representing those H & PE majors who participated in intramural sports.

YSU soccer squad to host Akron U.

Though soccer has yet to attain the popularity at YSU of the proportions that causes crazed Spanish populaces to riot in the streets, it does indeed exist here and will be on display a 2 p.m. tomorrow at the YSU practice football field, Liberty Township, as the Penguin footmen take on the Akron University JV's in their final home appearance of the year.

The 20-man squad, under the self-appointed guidance of Dr. Stephen Hanzely, associate professor of physics and astronomy, currently boasts a 2-1 record, the lone setback coming at the hands of Alderson-Broadus, 5-2, in their last outing. Victories have come at the expense of Alliance College and Lakeland Community College of Mentor, Ohio.

Record number of teams run for intramural championships

A record number of teams will begin their run for the intramural football and soccer championships according to Joseph L. Luppert, assistant director of student activities.

No less than 42 teams will vie for the all-university football championship this weekend at Borts field. Of the 42 entries, 26 are independents divided into six different leagues. The Vikings, All-University champions a year ago, must be rated as one of the favorites to go all the way again this season. The Vikes, who averaged twenty-six points per game last year and beat Alpha Phi Delta 6-0 for the campus crown; have ten of their players back including such standouts as Tom Hricko, Bob Torba, and Nick Gesacion.

The Vikes toughest challenges will likely come from the P.E. Majors, last year's All-Sports Champions, and the Bruins who finished last season in second and third place respectively. The P.E. Majors also have several returnees and consider this year's team much improved over their squad of a season ago.

Strong bids for the title should also come from the Colts, Brothers, Italian Club, and Kilcawley Hall. One thing for sure, the road to the top will be easy for none of the teams.

Catch - YSU

A coach for all seasons

by Carl Basic

Utilizing the various contacts I have throughout the university, using also, some of the journalistic skills I have acquired working for the Jambar (bribery, extortion), and by just plain bad luck, I managed to obtain a person to person interview with the new Chairman of the YSU Football Department, coach Rex Tyrannosaurus.

"Tell me, Mr. Tyrannosaurus, is it true that you are the oldest living coach in the world?"

"Yes. In fact I'm the oldest living person in the world. Even more than that, I am the oldest living thing in the world."

"I'll bet you have coached a lot of teams in your time."

"I sure have. The first team I coached was the Neander Valley Saber-tooths. Now there was a team for you. Those guys were all animals. That's when football was a really rough game, but I did what I could to help clean it up."

"How did you do that?"

"I was the one who instituted the fifteen yard penalty for eating your opponent. Before that, football was a really messy game. Besides it was hard on the equipment."

"How else did you help clean up the game?"

"I had a broom and a shovel. Most of those animals weren't stadium broken."

"I see, but how else did you aid in the development of football?"

"I developed many new concepts which are still used today."

"For example?"

"You've heard of the 'Flying Wedge', well I had a play called the 'Flying Spear', but it was hell on pass receivers. I had another play called the 'Rolling Wheel'. You see, we had this real fat kid. . . ."

"Never mind, coach. What other innovations did you make?"

"It was I who first introduced the play that was the forerunner of the modern 'Statue of Liberty' play."

"Modern???"

"Yes, so to speak. My play was called the 'Colossus of Rhodes' play."

"I guess you have been coaching a long time."

"I'll say. I used to coach the Minnesota Vikings, but when I had them they were still in Norway."

"What is your greatest claim to fame, coach?"

"The fact that I always schedule teams that I have no chance of beating. It teaches the players humility."

"Will you be teaching any courses here at YSU?"

"Yes, I'll teach one course in pre-forestry."

"Why pre-forestry?"

"Because I was around before the forests."

"I see and do you have any new plans to help YSU's Football Department?"

"Yes, I'm bringing in a Canadian superman. He is six feet fourteen inches tall and weighs three hundred and fifty pounds."

"Sounds good."

"Yes, but I'm still working with him and trying to teach him a few things."

"Like what?"

"How to run."

"But coach, isn't it true that you already have one ball player who is 6 feet 5, weighs 255 pounds, runs the hundred in 9.5 seconds, was an All-American in high school and has a 3.7 accume?"

"Yes."

"Why don't you use him?"

"He didn't make enough points."

"OK coach, just one last question. Why is it that with all of your coaching experience you've come to YSU?"

Well son, I tried to coach a team of Australian Aborigines last year, but they said I was too far behind the times for them. Here at YSU I'm a progressive."

OEA FACULTY LOUNGE - Dr. Thomas A. Shipka, OEA Secretary, and Dr. Morris Slavin, professor of history, relax in a spacious lounge for OEA members and other faculty which opened at 237 Lincoln Avenue yesterday. All faculty members are invited to stop in today and tomorrow for refreshments and relaxation.

Intramurals

In the fraternity division, defending champ Alpha Phi Delta and Theta Chi should fight it out for the A-league title on the last day of the regular season. Alpha Phi beat Theta Chi last year for the fraternity championship and this year's rematch will be something to see.

Sigma Phi Epsilon, with much of last year's team returning might emerge from the B-league for the playoffs, but no clear-cut favorite can be seen in either the C-league, which is made up of Kappa Sigma, ZBT, Delta Chi, and the Sig Pi's or the D-league composed of Phi Delta Theta, Sigma Tau Gamma, Theta Xi, and Phi Kappa Tau. Both Theta Xi and Phi Kappa Tau made the playoffs a year ago, but lost some of their stalwarts through graduation.

Intramural soccer will begin next Tuesday at Roosevelt Park in Campbell. With only three teams last year, competition was quite limited, but with sixteen teams entered in four leagues this season both competition and interest in the sport should be greatly improved.

The Siamese Cats, a group of Thai students and last year's champs, Kilcawley Hall, and the Arab Students have more experience than the other teams, but all of the remaining squads are also entered in the football competition and are made up of some fine athletes. Whether or not the P.E. Majors, Vikings, Phi Tau's, will be able to keep up with the International students and Kilcawley remains to be seen.

Senator to speak at OEA workshop

The Ohio Education Association's workshop tomorrow on "Changing Times in High Education" will highlight the YSU OEA chapter's "OEA Month" activities.

The workshop, open to all faculty members, will open with Ohio State Senator Oliver Osasek as the keynote speaker.

Registration is at 9 a.m. on the first floor of Lincoln Project, and there is a $1 charge for faculty from YSU.

Also featured are Dr. Charles B. Simpson, director of the division of higher education of the National Education Association who will lead a seminar on "The national scene in higher education," and Joseph Newlin, director of the division of higher education of the OEA, who will discuss "the Ohio Legislature and higher education."
