Young Dems convention will be here

YSU Young Dems will host the 1972 National Collegiate Young Democrats Convention to be held February 10 through 13, Miss Kit Harahan, national executive director of College Young Democrats of America announced Saturday.

The Voyager Motor Inn, where Librarian Heintz dies in sleep Sat.

Edward C. Heintz, assistant librarian at the university library since July, 1970, died of a heart ailment in his sleep Saturday night at his home.

Dr. George H.G. Jones, head librarian, said that he enjoyed working with Mr. Heintz whose duties included overseeing personnel and equipment. Many student assistants at the library considered him a pleasant, cheerful person to work under.

Before coming to YSU, Mr. Heintz was librarian from 1952 to the announcement was made will be the site of the convention. Ron Chesin past executive director, was also there for the official announcement.

In mid July it was announced that YSU was being considered as a possible convention site along with several other cities including Richmond, Louisville, and Cincinnati. After 3 months of investigation and negotiations it was made official that the convention site would be Youngstown.

Andy Bresko, Treasurer of the YSU Young Dems, said they had been working since May to get YSU picked as the Convention site. Miss Harahan stated that the primary reasons for choosing Youngstown for the convention were its central location, its "fine Democratic tradition" and the "outstanding record" of the YSU Young Dems.

Chesin, past national director, stressed the importance of the 1972 Collegiate Young Dems and the role of the Young Collegians will play in shaping the Democratic party, especially since the passage of the 26th Amendment which gave eighteen-year-olds the right to vote.

Homecoming crowd of 3400 hears Rareearth, David Frye

An estimated 3400 persons packed Struthers Field House Sunday night to rock with the sounds of Rareearth and enjoy the antics of David Frye, according to Ray Jackson, Homecoming co-ordinator.

The enthusiastic crowd drew the group back out for an encore after an hour and ten minutes of hard rock which had the crowd clapping and dancing to hits such as "I Just Wanna Celebrate," "Get Ready," and "Born to Wander."

Poddar arbiter says YSU reasons are legal

The court-appointed who heard the case of the non-renewal of Assistant Professor of Sociology and Anthropology Bhagwati P. K. Poddar's contract found that "the reasons given by the University are not arbitrary and capricious and are supported by sufficient and credible factual basis and were not motivated by and based upon constitutionally improper reasons."

Atty. Stanley M. Fisher of Cleveland, the hearing officer, submitted his findings and recommendations to U. S. District Court Judge Frank J. Battisti last Friday. Attorneys for Dr. Poddar and YSU will meet with Judge Battisti in chambers Thursday before he issues his final order in the case.

Atty. Fisher, an experienced arbitrator, recommended in his 18-page report that YSU renew Dr. Poddar's contract for the academic year 1971-72 because Dr. Poddar has been assigned a teaching schedule and was "deprived of a timely opportunity to seek other employment" through YSU's delay in giving him the reasons for non-renewal and a hearing on them.

Fisher's findings cited the deterioration of the working relationship between Dr. Poddar and the other senior members of his department following his failure to receive a promotion as a valid reason for not renewing his contract. Mr. Fisher noted that the determinations of Dr. Poddar's co-workers in the department of sociology and anthropology "are partially or even totally justified by highly subjective considerations and some subtle and difficult to articulate."

Fisher found that Dr. Poddar was "a well qualified and competent teacher," and that "while (Dr. Poddar's) performance was impaired within this department because of his sensitivity, suspicions and displeasure over his own denial of promotion...these circumstances should not deter any other institution of learning from hiring Dr. Poddar in the future since his credentials and performance...attest to his qualifications to teach in any university."

The findings also noted that "the failure of the university to communicate certain basic requirements for promotion, such as tenure, to those responsible for making recommendations to the (Promotions) Committee appears highly conducive to creating ill-feelings among its faculty."

Fisher further found that there is no evidence, "to the effect that

Mayoral candidate Frank R. Franko to speak tomorrow

Frank R. Franko, democratic candidate for mayor of Youngstown, will speak near campus tomorrow night at 8 p.m.

Franko will speak and answer questions at the Catacombs coffee house located in the basement of the Newman chapel on the corner of Wick and Rayen Avenues. Franko's presentation will be the first in a series of Catacombs lectures presented under the sponsorship of Cooperative Campus Ministry.

On Tuesday evening of next week, Mayor Jack C. Hunter will speak. The Catacombs forum style presentations are open to the public and all are invited to attend. Anyone interested in speaking is asked to contact Pete Wilms, forum coordinator at the Jambar.

With the exception of next Tuesday's presentation all forums will be held on Wednesday evenings. Tentative topics for future forums are the Ohio Education Association, ecology on the YSU campus, and the role of the student in university policy making.

Student Affairs Committee meets to discuss student code of rights and conduct

The Student Affairs Committee met last week to discuss the proposed Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities and Conduct.

The purpose of the Student Affairs Committee is to recommend policies concerned with student welfare not covered by another committee.

In particular the Student Affairs Committee covers the following areas: (1) Student Organizations, (2) Financial Policy, (3) Housing, (4) Social Organizations, (5) Student Code and Discipline.

Dean Darrell Rishel opened the meeting with a discussion of the changes in the Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities and Conduct.

Changes include the use of 3.2 beer by social or fraternal organizations with an "F" liquor permit.

Also discussed were the rules and regulations of committee meetings. This discussion concentrated on the fact that faculty members may belong to many committees, whereas students are permitted membership to only one committee.

Dean Rishel reviewed all points in the handbook of Student Rights, Responsibilities and Conduct, those being Campus Organizations, Student Records and Student Publications.

An issue on night parking problems is being considered for discussion at the next meeting.

Needed: Camp Fire Girl Leaders

Any female college student interested in working with young girls, age 6-17, should call the Camp Fire Girl Office at 788-8746.

Classic Comedy

The YSU department of speech and dramatics will present "The Golden Age of Comedy" as the first production in its Award Winning International Motion Picture Classics series. The showing will be at 8 p.m. Thursday in Strouss Auditorium and admission is free.

Assistant Professor of Art

Miss Elaine S. Juhasz, assistant professor of art, has been elected vice president of the Steel Valley Art Teachers Association for the 1971-72 year.

Ecology Answers

The YSU Campus Ecology Group will be on hand from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Wednesday in Kilcawley Breezeway and from 10 to 1 Thursday in either Kilcawley Breezeway or the Engineering Science Building Lobby to answer questions from any students who would like to learn more about the CEG.

Graduate Schools News

Any senior undergraduate or graduate student planning to continue his education on the graduate level and who needs assistance in determining what graduate schools are available, can now consult the graduate school reference library under the directorship of graduate assistant Mr. Uwe Haushalter. The graduate catalog library is located in the Graduate School Office, room 409 Lincoln Project.

Mug Shots

All seniors planning to graduate in the first three quarters of 1972 may now sign up for their Neon senior pictures by signing the appointment sheet which is posted in the Breezeway of Kilcawley Hall. Senior pictures will be taken November 1 thru 10 in the basement of Kilcawley Hall.

YSU History Club presents movie on Mussolini

The YSU History Club will present "Blood on the Balcony," a movie documentary on the rise and fall of Mussolini, at 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Engineering Science Building auditorium, Roger Davis, History Club president, has announced.

The club will also be holding "rap" sessions every Wednesday afternoon from noon till 2 p.m. in the Cardinal Room of Kilcawley Student Center. The "rap" sessions, which are open to all YSU students are unstructured discussions between some members of the History department and the attending students. Coffee will also be served.

In months to come, the History Club will present many outstanding movies and lectures on November 3, Davis said. "The Spanish Earth," a documentary on the Spanish Civil War and its effects on the individual, will be shown.

Dr. Dominic Capeci, assistant professor of history, is scheduled to speak on "Al Capone and the American Dream" at Pollock House on November 17.

Realizing that within a commuter university it becomes difficult for students to consistently participate in club affairs, the YSU History Club will function on an "ad-hoc" level for the '71-72 season. The club will be structured and guided by a nucleus of students who are able to devote the time. Although the majority of History majors may not actually join the club, they can attend whatever events they are able to.

Bookstore boycott voiced at Mon. council meeting

A possible student boycott of the university bookstore was one of the topics which came before the YSU Student Council at their rather uneventful meeting yesterday afternoon in Kilcawley Center.

Council also voted to authorize publication of the Penguin's Coop and added a section providing initiative and referendum to the council's by-laws.

The latest project of Student Government President Larry Simko, a student boycott of the university bookstore, was brought to light during the president's report to council at yesterday's meeting.

Simko said that he had not worked out the details and cited re-location of the bookstore, inflationary prices at the bookstore, and the frequent book changes as the reasons behind his starting the project.

In other business council voted in favor of publishing the Penguin's Coop, a student publication which supposedly gives the "students eye view" of the university.

The Penguin's Coop, which was temporarily blocked by Dean Painter, must now go back to her for authorization of funds.

Council also passed a motion to enter an initiative and referendum section into the council by-laws.

The initiative will permit students to bring legislation before the council without the support of any council member. However, before legislation can be presented it must be accompanied by a petition containing the names of at least 3% of the students enrolled, full and part-time, at YSU.

The referendum section provides for the placing of an issue on the ballot during any normal election sponsored by the council. The requirement here is that a petition, signed by no less than 5% of the student body and supporting the issue, be submitted to council at least two weeks before the election.

The purposes of the initiative and referendum are to insure students channels to initiate legislation and to make the policies of Student Council more relevant to the student.

We want George McGovern for President because . . .

1. Vietnam. He favors an immediate and final disengagement from Indochina. He believes we should rescue American troops from Vietnam with the same sense of urgency one would try to rescue men trapped in a burning building.
2. Priorities. He will re-order national priorities away from the "warfare state" and he is the only candidate who favors a foreign policy capable of doing this.

Pugsley states stickers outnumber spaces 2 to 1

YSU President Albert L. Pugsley Monday said the university maintains a policy of selling twice as many parking stickers as there are available parking spaces.

"I can only sympathize with the student who has difficulty in finding a parking space," said Dr. Pugsley.

According to the President, "parking wouldn't be a problem at all if only Urban Renewal Projects had gone as planned."

Dr. Pugsley told the Jambor that expansion by the university—which would have resulted in a substantial increase in student parking—has been hampered by Urban Renewal problems.

"We plan to construct five parking decks similar to the ones along Lincoln we're building now but we're being forced to wait on the city" said President Pugsley. He continued, "I think the students know we're making an earnest effort and are reminded of that effort whenever they see the Lincoln Parking Decks."

While admitting the university sells twice as many parking stickers as available parking space Dr. Pugsley also said "We never schedule more classes at any one time than we have parking to accommodate."

"We try to work from our peak hours. Our peak hours occur on Wednesdays between 9 and 11 a.m." he said.

In defending the university's charge of $15 a parking sticker with no guarantee of a parking space Dr. Pugsley said "You must still remember that our fees are the lowest in the state. Akron charges $20.00 for a parking sticker and they can't guarantee a student a space either." The President said the same would apply for all other state-operated universities.

When asked why students were required to purchase parking stickers each quarter when faculty members pay only once a year, Pugsley replied, "You can't expect a person to pay to park where he works."

While the faculty member pays for one parking sticker, the university foots the bill for the remaining quarters of the year. The money comes out of a special fund. Dr. Pugsley told the Jambor that students could arrange a system like that also, but the university would have to charge more in tuition.

In a commuter school like YSU, "the parking problem may never be solved," said President Pugsley.

Letters to the Editor

Says clean up pollution

To the editor of the Jambor:

Pollution today is our number one enemy. Every one in our generation is trying to bring about its downfall! Everytime we see a plant, factory or whatever pouring out filth into our waters we scream and we scream loud. Anytime we see someone throw something into a stream, lake, or pond we yell. What is the point of this? We forget that we are supposed to clean up our own backyards, too. We police everyone else but we don't police ourselves. Look at that nice fountain which is never on, outside the cafeteria. Look into it, and what do you see. You see leaves yes, but what else, plates, straws, papers, paper cups, and other assorted odds and ends. This garbage did not fall from the trees except the leaves, it fell from us. We created all that filth. How can we in our right minds expect companies to clean up their pollution when we won't even clean ours up. We are hypocrites we are worse than the guy who is polluting and not saying a word. We say clean it up, but WE NEVER DO!

Regrets omission of candidate

To the editor of the Jambor:

I would like to take this opportunity to express my regret that the picture of Miss Deborah Copeland did not appear in the Homecoming program.

Of greater concern to us, however, was the mistake, wholly on our part, which resulted in the omission of Miss Copeland's name and sorority affiliation in the Homecoming program. We sincerely apologize for its occurrence.

Forum and Letters Policy

The Jambor wants students, faculty, and staff to express their opinions on University subjects and issues. To this end, the Jambor offers two avenues of expression, Letters to the Editor and the Forum.

The Forum is intended to permit comment on matters that are broader than immediate campus issues. The Jambor will print only those manuscripts which conform to accepted literary standards and which do not exceed 700 words. The author should fully identify himself and include a phone number.

Letters should be typed, triple-spaced, and should bear the author's signature, address, school-class, and phone number. Letters under 250 words in length will be printed in full, providing they contain no libelous or otherwise offensive material. The editor reserves the right to edit or otherwise condense letters which exceed 250 words.

YSU student reports VW stolen Fri.

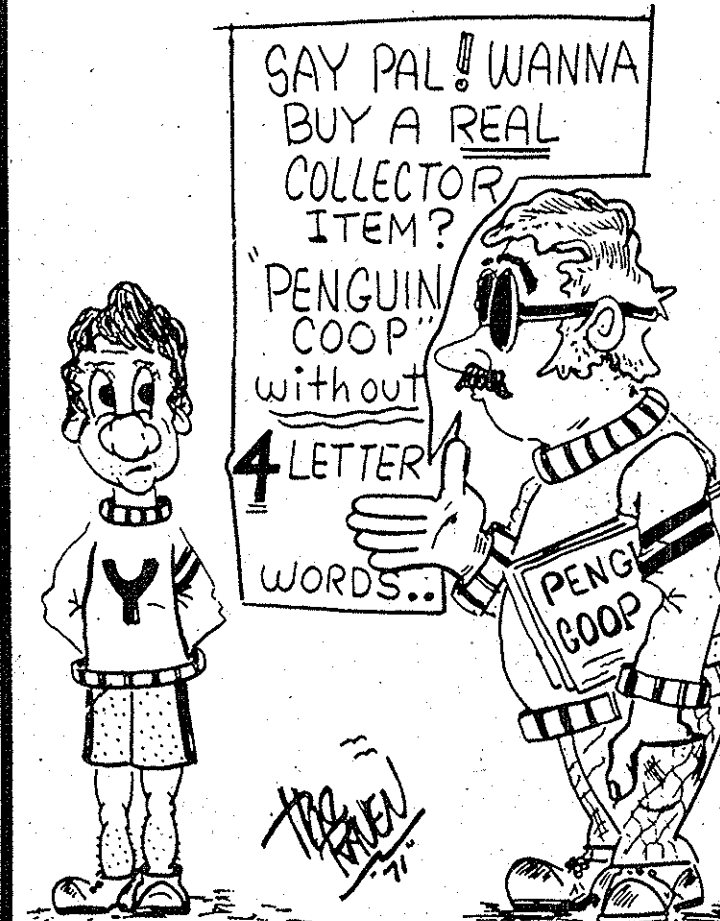

A black 1960 Volkswagen belonging to YSU student Ray Horner, junior in Arts and Sciences, was stolen Friday afternoon while parked near Ford Hall. Paul Cress, Chief of Security at YSU, said yesterday.

According to Cress, Horner parked his car in the driveway of Ford Hall at approximately 3 p.m. Friday. When he returned at 5:00 p.m. the car was missing.

Chief Cress checked to see if the car had been towed by either the Youngstown Police Department or the campus police for illegal parking, since the driveway of Ford Hall is closed to parking. There was no report of the car being towed.

Cress also said that when a car is towed for illegal parking by the campus police, a report of the incident is forwarded to the YPD. Thus, when a student reports a missing car to the YPD, the police can ascertain whether the car was actually stolen or merely towed for illegal parking.

YSU environmental group issues study of campus ecology

(A summary of the Campus Ecology Group's study will be printed in Friday's Jambar.—Ed. Jambar.)

The Campus Ecology Group, a number of students concerned about our campus environment, has issued a fifty page analysis of our campus ecology, Janet Yaniglos, junior biology major and group spokesman, announced yesterday.

Approximately thirty group members have been working on the study during the past six months. It examines our campus' present ecological situation and attempts to show how currently-proposed campus development will totally ignore the ecological environment on campus.

Copies of the study have been sent to Dr. Pugsley, Dr. Coffelt, and the Board of Trustees, Yaniglos said.

The Campus Ecology Group is now trying to form a permanent ecological organization on campus. In the future, the group plans to 1) landscape the barren area in back of the Butler Art Museum, 2) rejuvenate Pollock gardens, 3) examine the possibility of setting up a recycling center near YSU, and 4) investigate YSU's future parking situation.

Yaniglos will speak to biology group

Jan Yaniglos, YSU junior, biology major has been asked to speak on Campus Ecology at the Second National Biological Congress, Miami, Fla. Oct. 22.

Her talk, titled "Concern, Study, Reaction: Student action for ecologically sound campus planning", will be delivered at one of the symposiums sponsored by American Institute of Biological Sciences.

The talk is based on the belief that a well-developed environment is essential to a student community, and relies on data gathered at the YSU campus.

Miss Yaniglos is a spokesman for the Campus Ecology Group. She indicated that the findings from their studies will be made public next week.

and suggest alternate solutions to the parking problem.

The group will answer questions and talk to interested students on Wednesday from 10-11 in Kilcawley Lobby, and on Thursday from 10-11 in Engineering Science lobby.

The group plans to organize as a regular campus activity and recruit members, Yaniglos said.

SIGNS, SIGNS — Five man Electrical Band performed their hit record, "Signs," Friday evening in the Kilcawley cafe. Appearing with them was Mainstreet, a local rock group.

OEA Month events continue; seminar, forum, panel slated

The YSU chapter of the Ohio Education Association is sponsoring a seminar on the state teacher's retirement system Wednesday, a forum with YSU trustees Thursday, and a panel on higher education and the legislature Friday as part of its "OEA Month" program.

Tomorrow, Dr. James Sublett, Executive Director of The State Teachers Retirement System, and his staff invite any interested faculty to an analysis of the State Teachers Retirement in Lincoln from 2 to 3:30 p.m. Discussion and questions will be welcome after the presentation.

The members of the YSU Board of Trustees have been invited to discuss topics of mutual concern with the YSU faculty from 2 to 4 p.m. Thursday at Pollock House. Students are also invited to attend. Four board members have indicated that they might attend.

A panel on recent legislative developments affecting faculty members will be held on Friday, October 22 from 2 to 4 p.m. in Lincoln 103. The participants of this panel will include John Hall, OEA vice-president for governmental affairs, who is currently an active lobbyist in the Columbus legislature, Joseph Newlin, OEA's director of higher education, and Ohio State Senator Harry Meshel, from Mahoning County and a limited service instructor at YSU. Students are invited to attend the program.

Bookstore transfer to begin soon; completion due by winter quarter

The huge task of transferring all materials from the present bookstore site to its new location at the corner of Fifth Avenue and Grant Street will soon get underway.

The new location must be ready before moving can commence, meaning that new cabinets and much new storage must be bought.

George B. Conner, director of bookstore services, says that it is unknown when the move will begin, but that it definitely should be completed by the beginning of winter quarter.

One of the major problems will be the transfer of the enormous number of books which must be moved. "The bookstore carries approximately 3000 titles and anywhere from five to 350 copies of each title. Therefore it is impossible to estimate the tonnage of books involved," Mr. Conner said.

The books are to be moved by truck, but first they must be packaged and boxed with each box marked in order to expedite storage at the new location. Mr. Conner hopes to be able to use the conveyor at the present bookstore to aid in moving the books.

Since there will be less office and storage space, the new Bookstore will have more sales room. Therefore the new store will add a small trade book station and more art and engineering supplies, Mr. Conner said.

After everything is moved, the main floor of the present store will be moved to the present site of the Jambar building and placed on top of a new basement which will be built there. The old basement will remain at the original location. The building is being moved because less cost is involved in moving the building than in building a new one.

The present bookstore building, when moved to its new location, will probably be used as a new practice site for the YSU band. The new basement will house the offices of the University's Central Service.

GLORY AT ANY PRICE — Debbie Sause, sophomore education major, borrowed a Van Ladder truck from her dad, who sells them, last Sunday afternoon and played daredevil in order to retrieve Neon editor Jim Larene's frisbee from the drain on the second floor of East Hall. Debbie was properly rewarded with a free copy of the Neon.

Crime conference here next Wed.

A conference on crime and delinquency will be held at YSU on Wednesday, October 27 in cooperation with the Ohio committee on Crime and Delinquency.

The goal of this conference is to promote understanding between private citizens and professionals from the criminal justice system, including police, public officials and court personnel and to acquaint local citizens with the new criminal justice planning structure at the state level.

Registration will begin at 7 p.m. in Schwebel Auditorium in the Science and engineering Building. The keynote speaker will be Joseph L. White, deputy director, state department of urban affairs.

performed his imitations of former President Johnson, President Nixon and other political figures and show business personalities.

At Saturday night's game, Jackie Roche, Sigma Sigma Sigma representative was crowned Homecoming Queen by university President Albert L. Pugsley. In her court were Barbra Busch, Delta Zeta, first runnerup; Deborah Copeland, Alpha Kappa Alpha, second runnerup; and Becky Dixon, Zeta Tau Alpha, third runnerup.

The rest of the court, in alphabetical order, consisted of Kathleen Copola, independent, Carol Ficeti, Alpha Sigma Tau, Linda Primavera, Alpha Omicron Pi, and Terri Wilkes, Phi Mu.

The YSU cheerleaders kicked off the festivities Friday night with a bonfire which was followed by a dance in the Kilcawley cafeteria. Five Man Electrical Band and Mainstreet provided the music to which approximately 1,500 students danced.

The Weekend stayed well within its budget, Jackson said, and $6,500 remains to go toward winter and spring weekend activities. An amount of $18,800 came from student fees and $8,500 in ticket sales to more than adequately cover the $21,000 worth of expenses.

Penquins come close; 'Necks squeak 17-14 win

The heavily-favored Leathernecks of Western Illinois barely squeaked by the Penguins, 17-14, Saturday night in Campbell Memorial Stadium before 4,750 fans.

The Birds lost the game in the final 25 seconds of play, when Ed Hornbeck kicked a 42-yard field goal to break the 14-14 tie.

The Leathernecks scored first with 3:05 left in the opening period when Phil Rhode took a hand-off from quarterback Bob Majka for a three yard touchdown plunge. Gary Birch kicked the extra point.

The Penguins tied the score in the second quarter when tailback Andy Kuchmaner caught an aerial from quarterback Ron Jaworski for 24 yards to set up the scoring play. The TD came on the next play as end John Toy caught a 24 yard pass. The Penguins traveled 52 yards in four plays with 10:38 remaining in the half.

The third quarter was a scoreless tie as the Penguin offense couldn't move the ball, but the defense stifled all the Leatherneck drives. WIU came close, though, on the fourth down and two with the ball lying on the Penguin 24. Linebacker Joe Caldwell tackled WIU tailback Mike Cunningham for a three yard loss to stop the Leathernecks.

The fourth quarter touchdown for WIU might have never come except for a questionable face masking call that gave WIU a first down and sustained their TD drive. The ball was on the WIU 43 before the penalty was called. The Leathernecks drove 60 yards in eight plays to go ahead 14-7 after Majka scored on a one yard plunge, with 10:27 remaining to play.

The Penguins put together one of the best offensive drives in YSU history for their final touchdown of the evening. After WIU was stopped on their own 44, Bob Muller punted for 55 yards, leaving the ball on the YSU one. Fifteen plays later, and 99 yards, the Pens were on the scoreboard as backs Rosie Blackwell and Rudy Florio, ends Bob Ferranti and John Toy, and Jaworski picked apart the Leatherneck defense. The scoring play was Jaworski to Ferranti on a four yard bullet pass, with 1:58 to play. Bruderly kicked his sixth straight extra point (covering all five games.)

The Leathernecks then drove to the YSU 32 to set up the final score to win it all.

The outcome of the game might have been different as Penguin end Naziah "Snezy" Banna, sophomore business major, cremated Majka three times in the backfield and caused him to fumble twice. The first fumble Banna ran back for a TD but it was called back because of a NCAA rule that if the offense fumbles and the ball hits the ground and the defense recovers, the ball cannot be run back.

The second fumble was recovered by Caldwell and also was run back for a touchdown but this time YSU was caught offside and the ball went back to the Leathernecks.

When the Penguins scored their second touchdown and the score was 14-13, the fans yelled for the two point conversion.

The Penguins went for one point and made it. Coach Bob Dove was asked why he didn't go for two and replied kiddingly, "Ara Parsegean has been trying to answer that question for four and a half years when he tied Michigan State in the last quarter 20-20 instead of going for the two points and the win." Do you expect me to answer that question in five minutes?"

Dove went on to say that a tie was an upset in itself and that a tie for WIU would have proved very little for them. Second guessing, if YSU would have scored the two points the defense may have been more aggressive and maybe the Leathernecks wouldn't have got their field goal. On the other hand, if YSU would have missed the two points the defense would have been hard-pressed to get the ball back with time running out.
