Contracts finally signed for Winter Weekend; to be February 13-15

Winter Weekend, the sometimes on sometimes off social event, will apparently take place as scheduled on February 13, 14, and 15.

Dan Crishon, Student Government president, confirmed yesterday that details for the event were worked out and that the contracts were signed in a special meeting of Major Events Committee organizers, Student Government officials, and Student Affairs office personnel last Friday.

The contracts were left unsigned through last Friday by Student Activities director Mr. John Bernacki, who refused to sign because of contractual problems. As a result the University lost its "hold" on planned entertainers for the event.

Preparations for the Weekend are now proceeding as scheduled, according to Michael Duquin, Major Events chairman. Duquin said Kenny Rogers and the First Edition and the Friends of Distinction will be featured performers at the traditional Sunday night concert at Struthers Field House. Duquin said that there would be two performances for the Sunday concert at 6:30 and 9 p.m.

On Friday night, would-be presidential candidate Pat Paulsen will headline entertainers in a coffeehouse atmosphere in Kilcawley Cafeteria. Along with Paulsen, folk singer Rich Petroc and other groups will perform.

On Saturday night, Winter Weekend goes are encouraged to attend the YSU-Central State game at Struthers Field House.

Tickets for the event will go on sale on Thursday morning for $2.50 per ticket.

Kurfess committee here: testimony invited

Anyone interested in testifying before the Kurfess Committee open hearings on Campus next week should register beforehand.

A member of the legislative committee will accept written testimony this afternoon in Kilcawley Lobby between the hours of 4 and 7 p.m. Those wishing to testify are urged to turn in written copies of their testimony at that time.

HAMILTON TO SPEAK - Dr. Charles V. Hamilton will speak on Monday at 8 p.m. in Powers Auditorium in observance of YSU's Black History Week.

Columbia urban studies prof to be Black History speaker

Dr. Charles V. Hamilton, co-author with Stokely Carmichael of "Black Power: The Politics of Liberation in America," and professor of urban studies at Columbia University, will be the main speaker at Youngstown State University's observance of Black History Week, Feb. 8-15.

The holder of a special Ford Foundation-endowed chair at Columbia, where he teaches urban politics, Dr. Hamilton will speak on the topic "Political Changes in Urban America." A guest speaker in the University's Lecture Series, Dr. Hamilton's appearance will be open to the public and is set for 8 p.m. in Powers Auditorium, Monday, February 8.

Mr. Al Bright, Director of Black Studies at YSU and coordinator of Black History Week, has stated that the goal of Black History Week is to get Black and other minority group seniors interested in college careers. The program for the week includes lectures, films, seminars, and an art exhibition all open to the public.

According to Mr. Bright, teams of YSU Black students have been holding assemblies in four pilot schools, North, East, South, and Rayen, to attract Black seniors to participate in the week's program

Dorm residents escape injury, elevator joke nearly tragic

Eighteen to twenty-two residents of Kilcawley Men's Dormitory could have been seriously injured or killed last Wednesday afternoon in an elevator breakdown caused by horseplay and vandalism.

According to Dr. C. David Bertelsen, assistant dean of Student Affairs, only the emergency stop prevented the elevator from plunging into the pit beneath the basement floor.

The incident occurred when the residents crammed into the elevator, which has a capacity of ten persons, on the sixth floor as a joke. While the elevator descended one of the residents pressed the emergency stop button as a joke and the elevator stopped between the third and fourth floors.

According to a repairman for the Otis Elevator Company, who installed and services the elevator, only the emergency stop prevented the elevator from plunging to the pit which lies about 10 feet below the basement.

Dr. Bertelsen explained that vandalism prior to the incident eliminated an important safety feature on the elevator. He said that the escape hatch at the top of the elevator was knocked out, fell down the shaft, and smashed the safety break at the bottom of the shaft. The safety break would have stopped the descent of the elevator before it hit the bottom, if it had been operable.

Dr. Bertelsen said that the overloading of the elevator and damage to the safety break and escape hatch were the primary causes for the incident.

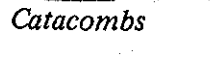

Apparently, the students in the elevator were not aware of the seriousness of the incident. Some did not know what had happened at all.

As a result, Dr. Bertelsen closed down the elevator for one week. In a notice to all Kilcawley residents he stated "that it is regrettable that this action is necessary, but according to the elevator repairman abuse of the elevator has been the cause of every breakdown thus far this year. Vandalism causes not only inconvenience but also could result in the loss of life. Continued vandalism may result in permanent discontinuation of elevator service to residents and will most assuredly result in severe disciplinary action."

Physical plant director discusses nuclear fallout protection at YSU

BY NICK KORECKI
Jambar Feature Writer

Mr. Ray Orlando, director of the physical plant at YSU is "very concerned" with the fallout shelters on campus.

Mr. Orlando does not feel that such facilities are a waste of space and money. As a certified fallout shelter analyst, he has recommended areas on campus which could serve as fallout shelters. The sites were then approved and stocked by the Department of Civil Defense.

Mr. Orlando stresses that the shelters are designed to protect the occupants from the nuclear fallout following an atomic blast some distance from Youngstown. No shelter would be of any use if a blast occurred in this immediate area.

Ideal shelter sites are areas in the basements of buildings, away from windows and surrounded by as much concrete as possible. Many modern buildings, built with few windows, are also potentially good shelter sites. Mr. Orlando pointed out the Engineering Science Building as an excellent example of this type of building.

University shelters are located in Jones Hall, Elm Street School, the Library, Ward Beecher Science Hall, and the Engineering Science Building.

Mr. Orlando stated that if the University is lax in any area concerning the shelters, it would be in that the University is unable to continually check and thereby protect the shelter supplies. He pointed out however that since the University is a public institution, the supplies in the shelters can not be kept locked up. Thus these supplies are easy prey for thieves and vandals who steal medical supplies and radiological testing units, as well as senselessly break open food containers.

Mr. Orlando said that with today's technology, a nuclear attack is potentially only minutes away. And, too, as the supply of nuclear arms continues to increase, the possibility of a nuclear accident also continues to increase. This, he feels, is reason enough to be concerned.

Dear Aunt Mary & Uncle Morris,

I bet you're surprised to be hearin' from your favorite nephew so unexpectedly, weren't you? Ya know, the other day I was thinking about you two. I felt bad that I haven't written you in a long time. You were always my favorite aunt and uncle because you always came through in the clutch. I remember that you told me that I could count on you whenever I needed anything, no matter how small. Well it's only a matter of a small sum (about $20). I need a new pair of bells and a body shirt very badly. My roommate, George, just got a new outfit from a real cool shop in town called CIRO'S where they specialize in bells and shirts of all kinds. George said, his love life couldn't be better since he broke out in his new outfit from CIRO'S. Well, I'd better cut this one short so I can be at the western union office in time for the money since it's probably on the way already. Thanks again.

Your loving nephew

Crime survey reveals night students criticize campus safeguards

By Frank Bigowsky
Jambar Feature Writer

A recent survey of night students on campus crime has provided criticism of the existing safeguards to students and their properties on the YSU campus during night classes.

All the night students questioned agreed that there is a need for extra protection both in the parking facilities and in and around the campus buildings.

The most stunning reaction came from Anthony Galose, a freshman business major. When asked if he thought that YSU provided adequate protection for students on campus he replied, "The campus parking facilities do not provide enough light and should be patrolled by an attendant, but they aren't. So how is it possible for the students to be adequately protect-

Mint makes first like dollar coins

LAS VEGAS (AP) — Las Vegas casinos are dusting off the dollar slot machines and waiting for the boom expected when the U.S. Mint begins releasing the nation's new $1 coin this summer.

Casinos throughout the state converted their big slots to accept iron tokens that substituted for silver dollars when the price of silver drove the old cartwheels into hiding, but the public never really accepted the fancy tokens and most of the dollar machines were put in back rooms.

The mint struck the first of the new Eisenhower dollars, a silverless descendant of the old Liberty dollar, with a likeness of the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower on one side.

A junior education major confided that because of the recent beating of a YSU coed she decided to drop her night class this quarter. She stated, "It's too dark for one or even a group of girls to walk from the parking lot to class. You can never tell whether someone is following you. I won't go to night school again unless some provisions are made."

When asked in what way safety provisions could be made, no one could come up with a definite solution. Most of the answers seemed to favor an increase of policemen to patrol the area for thieves. The best example of this was stated by sophomore business major Dave Robotham, "If the officers who patrol the streets for no parking violations provided assistance in patrolling for thieves and vandals around the campus, maybe their presence would be enough to scare at least the weak-hearted crooks."

YSU police to ticket on Bryson starting Mon.

Mr. Raymond Orlando, said YSU's security force will begin ticketing cars illegally parked on Bryson St. beginning next Monday, Feb. 8. As of 7:30 last night cars parked on both sides of Bryson St. were not bearing tickets.

The congestion and danger caused by these parked cars still exists. It has been proven to definitely hamper any type of rescue operations in case of a fire in any of the buildings accessible from Bryson St.

The announced closing of three fourths of the parking lot bordered by Lincoln, Fifth, Arlington and Elm will not take place this week, Nick Leonelli, YSU director of planning announced yesterday. Mr. Leonelli said that the lot will remain open this week because the weather has prevented the contractor from moving his construction equipment. The lot will be closed next Monday.

The delay shouldn't affect the scheduled completion of the parking decks in June, Mr. Leonelli said. The decks were originally scheduled for completion by September, 1970.

OPINION

Games People Play

Why is it that people must play games? Is it to prove a point, to attract attention, or to have fun at another's expense?

Last week, some residents at Kilcawley dormitory played a game called "wreck the elevator." The end of the game could have resulted in injury or loss of their lives.

We're not sure why supposedly mature college students would jeopardize their very lives just to prove something, and we're not exactly sure what they were trying to prove. We're just thankful that they were lucky.

All of us play games, so we can't be too harsh on some students who used poor judgment. But we are concerned about a society so motivated by such ridiculous things.

Songwriter Joe South wrote in a popular song that game-playing people "never say what they mean, and never mean what they say." We're not sure what games mean or say in our society, but we must begin to learn why people play them. Only then can we begin to understand each other.

PAINT YOUR OWN - Painting the rock on the edge of the Kilcawley Amphitheatre is a tradition at YSU. The rock can be decorated by any student with paint.

You have, no doubt, heard of the Kissing Rock, or the Rock of Gibraltar, or at the very least the famous Blarney Stone. But there exists on the campus of Youngstown State University solid matter composed of one or more minerals forming the earth's crust known as the infamous ROCK of YSU, (alias the painted rock, 'frat' rock, or the S+ rock.)

However each individual of YSU may think of the Rock, it stands as a monument to the frustrations of university life. Although the Rock is not exactly dripping with tradition it became a part of the campus in the spring of 1966 as a pet project of Vice-President of Administration Joseph Rook. Aptly pointed out by Mr. Rook, "We don't have much ivy, but we do have the Rock."

Because most men on campus are interested in figures (as of course, are the ladies), the statistics of the Rock are as follows: girth (that's around the middle) approximately 16 feet (we didn't have enough hands to handle her); weight officially estimated at 27,001.98 lbs.; origin, it is rumored to have risen from the first mud lot; and diameter at six feet. been poured over it, the most common has been paint of which Mr. Hank Garono of the University Landscaping department has kept figures. La artista de Universidad have spent about ten dollars a week, or $2,200 (based on twenty quarters since spring '66 each with 11 weeks.) Ho boy!

But cry not, for when things are getting you down and the world's closing in on you follow the advice of your vice-president when he said, "Some days I just feel like going out and painting the Rock!" (Try Chartreuse.)

Four fraternities undefeated in intramural basketball season

Fraternity intramural basketball reached the halfway point in regular season play with four teams undefeated and a similar number still seeking that elusive initial win.

In what was billed as Sunday's top attraction, undefeated Sigma Alpha Epsilon, employing a smothering defense, handed Phi Delta Theta their first defeat by the surprising margin of 64-34. SAE's well-balanced offense was led by Tom Denny's 20 points while Andy Bresko netted 20 for the losers. Sigma Alpha Mu also remained unbeaten, with a 59-47 triumph over Sigma Tau Gamma. John Angelo and Bill Berg meshed 21 and 20 points respectively to pace the Sammies, while Ralph Ramanna hooped 17 to keep the Sig Tau's close.

Other league leaders had easy times in disposing of their foes. Sigma Phi Epsilon kept their untarnished record intact as Larry Tracy and Terry Burko connected for 17 points apiece in a 63-30 romp over Delta Chi. Jim Eastman of the losers led all scorers with 18 markers. In the mismatch of the day, Theta Xi barbecued Sigma Pi, 70-18. Bob Tutko, playing the role of Goliath, led Coach Bob Patton's crew with 19 points while teammate Tom Testa chipped in with 14.

In other action, in a titanic struggle to stay out of the cellar, Tau Kappa Epsilon, paced by a 12 point outburst by Tom Mentges, beat Kappa Sigma, 42-24. In a contest which seemed at times as if nobody wanted to win, Phi Kappa Tau hung Delta Sigma Phi, 31-11. In the day's nail biter, Alpha Phi Delta squeezed out a 34-32 win over a game Zeta Beta Tau five. Mike McGuire pumped in 18 for the victors.

AAUP to hold business meeting tomorrow in Kilcawley lounge

A regular business meeting of the Youngstown Chapter, American Association of University Professors, will be held at 4 p.m. tomorrow in Kilcawley Faculty Lounge, it was announced today by Dr. Robert R. Hare, president of the chapter.

The agenda will include a discussion of new "late notice" problems, the status of faculty grievance committee proposals, and prospective economic problems brought about by reduced budget provisions, Dr. Hare said. Dr. Joseph T. May, Assistant Professor of History and membership chairman, will report on plans for a membership campaign.

ISO to hold variety show

"International Cabaret" is the theme of the sixth annual International Students' Organization Variety Show at Youngstown State University, scheduled for 8 p.m., Saturday, February 6 in C.J. Strouss Auditorium.

The evening's entertainment focuses on native music and dancing from countries around the world. Homelands represented will be Hungary, Yugoslavia, Turkey, Lebanon, Italy, Poland, the Philippines, Thailand, India, Latin America, Puerto Rico, and Greece, with several represented for the first time on this year's program: Rumania, Bulgaria, Macedonia and Israel.

Approximately 80 participants will lend their musical talents to the program. The performers include YSU students, area elementary and high school students and members of the community.

Singing, spontaneity characterize Catacombs' opening

The Catacombs, sponsored by the Cooperative Campus Ministry, opened with a crowd of close to 150 last Friday night. Entertainment included spontaneous folk singing and many songs composed by the entertainers themselves. The Catacombs will be open every Friday night from 9 p.m. till about 2 a.m. The sponsors of the coffee house encourage all to come and do their thing. They hope to offer crafts in the future. It is located in the basement of the Newman Chapel.

RAPPING - A part of the 150 people on hand at the opening of the "Catacombs" talk during the break between performances.

PENGUIN PROFILES

Montgomery, A Star

Chuck Montgomery, a 5 foot 9 inch 165 pound guard, was last year's top foul shooter with a season average of more than 75 percent.

Chuck has often been used by head coach Dom Rosselli as a spot starter when Youngstown State needed points in a hurry. Chuck is the type of player "you like to have on your team and not your opponent's team" says Rosselli.

Last year Chuck was the Penguin's fourth leading scorer with 235 points for an average of nearly 10 points per game. He had a season high of 34 points against the Westminster Titans.

Chuck is a streak shooter who can ram home long jump shots from anywhere near the top of the key or the deep corners. When he gets a hot shooting hand there is no way to stop him from scoring.

Chuck Montgomery

With a player like Chuck in the line-up opponents must be careful not to overload their defense on one player because he will burn them with his deadly outside shooting.

Chuck came to the Penguins from Salem High School where he was the team's scoring star. He is a junior at YSU majoring in special education and health and physical education.

Cagers open four game home stand tomorrow

Youngstown State's Penguins (13-4) open a four-game home stand Wednesday night with Cleveland State which includes battles with two of YSU's toughest foes—Western New England and Central State.

The Penguins and Vikings square off at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Struthers High Field House following a 6 p.m. JV game between the two schools. High-scoring Western New England pays a visit Saturday evening followed by Hillsdale on Monday (Feb. 8) and powerful Central State next Saturday (Feb. 13).

Ray Dieringer's Cleveland State club will be seeking revenge for YSU's earlier 76-55 beating and trying to snap a six-game losing streak at the same time. The Vikings have gone 2-8 since losing to the Penguins for an overall mark of 5-13.

CSU has been traveling in fast company, though, with four of the recent losses being to Kent State, Western Michigan, Duquesne and Detroit. The Vikings nearly upset Ashland Saturday night before bowing 44-38.

Dieringer has been favoring a nearly all-sophomore line-up lately and should start second year men John Neale (6-4) and Matt Taylor (6-5) at forward, Don Cooper (6-8) at center and Eddie Trice (6-1) at guard. The other guard is Sam Thomas (6-2) junior.

Thomas leads the Vikes in scoring with a 14.0 average. Neale and Trice are also in double figures with 13.0 ppg.

SEX IS YOUR BUSINESS (BIRTH CONTROL IS OURS)

We believe you're entitled to your privacy when it comes to buying contraceptives. We're a nonprofit family planning agency and we offer you contraceptives through the privacy of the mails. We specialize in men's products (including two new European imports)—but we have nonprescription foam for women, too. And a wide assortment of books and pamphlets to answer your questions on birth control, family planning, the population problem and ecology.

Interested? Send $4 for package of mixed samples (3 each of five condom brands, including both British imports) or write for full details.

This program is endorsed by the Community and Family Study Center of the University of Chicago.

They've got just the spot for you.

Maybe you sweated four years to lose your identity. To become a bit of information stored in a computer.

Well, congratulations.

You've got plenty of chance to become just that in our depersonalized, do-not-fold-spindle-or-mutilate world.

What you don't have is much chance of escaping the numbers game and holding on to your identity.

Maybe we can give you that chance.

We're Hoover.

You probably know us for vacuum cleaners. And we're the biggest in that field.

But you'll also find our name on about 80 other products.

And you'll find it on 14 plants. In 9 different countries. On five different continents.

The reason for our success? People.

We develop talent. Not machines. If you've got ability, you'll get the chance to show it.

And if you show it, people will notice. And you'll get ahead.

We're big enough, and growing fast enough, that there's plenty of room for you to grow.

Yet we're not so big that you'll ever get lost in the shuffle.

So why not sign up now for an interview with Hoover.

About all you've got to lose is 20 minutes.

Those 20 minutes may gain you the chance not to lose your identity.

Catch—YSU
The Waiting Game
by Skip Miller and Carl Basic

Here we are sitting in the offices of Student Government or Student Council (take your pick) getting ready to play one of our favorite games here at YSU, the Guess Who's Coming for Winter Weekend Game. Some of the things needed to play are:

One large gymnasium. (Preferably Struthers Field House)

Winter Weekend. (Usually comes in Winter) About $30,000.

One small door. (To restrict entrance)
 One broken PA system.

A pair of scissors. (For cutting red tape)
 Entertainment.

One University Cafeteria.
 14,000 college students.

The authority of selecting a group for this wintertime fantasy rests in the all-mighty Major-Events Committee. This committee is headed by Bert and Bark Starr, identical twins from Niles who astounded the University last year by signing George Wallace and Eldridge Cleaver on the same billing.

Realizing that this committee needed help in selecting entertainment for this year's fiasco, we rounded up Dean Dean and headed over to give them a hand.

The Dean immediately suggested booking one of his groups for the event. But, this suggestion was immediately dropped for lack of support, both financially and morally. It seems that the Dean wanted to bring in the entire cast of the Follies Bergiere direct from Las Vegas along with slot machines and roulette tables. He backed up his reasoning by saying that the students might as well have a chance of winning some of their hard-earned money back from the University.

Looking further into the matter, we found that several other suggestions were offered, but were turned down. The Newman Center wanted to bring in the Boys' Choir from the Vatican but ran into opposition when the Campus Ministry wanted equal time with Billy Graham.

Again this year, as usual, the committee brought up the idea of serving beer in the Cafeteria during the Friday night dance. The move was vetoed by Miss Sarah Goodbody who said that alcohol and college students don't mix. Miss Goodbody's suggestion of serving Ovaltine and cookies was voted down and the committee finally settled on having cider and doughnuts.

For the Friday night entertainment, the Security Department offered to get a group together and do a little skit that related to preventing crime on campus, but the committee regretfully turned down the offer saying that it would take too much rehearsal and that time was limited.

Recognizing that good talent and experience were needed to entertain the student body at this event, we offered to do one of our world famous Miller and Basic "Riding to school and looking for a parking space" routines. We cited the fact that we had a lot of experience and know-how on the subject and that we needed the money.

After careful thought, the committee had the audacity to reject our offer, saying only that they would have trouble promoting an act that was rated "X".

and 10.0, respectively. Taylor, Neale and Cooper are one-two-three in rebounding.

The Penguins are ahead 17-4 in the series and haven't lost since CSU was called Fenn in 1935-36. The first meeting this season was closer than indicated by the final 21-point spread since YSU needed a brilliant second half rally to overcome a 33-29 halftime deficit. The Penguins were also without the services of ace guard Billy Johnson in that contest.

Johnson will be in the starting line-up Wednesday and his first point will make him YSU's 10th all-time scorer. His 16 tallies in Saturday's 63-52 loss to Buffalo State tied him with Ronnie Allen with 1,001 career points. Steve Gergely is 9th with 1,016.

Johnson, who is averaging 16.9 ppg., will probably be joined in the backcourt by J.C. Williams (8.6). Should Williams not recover from a minor illness, Dom Rosselli will have to pick a replacement. The front line will include Ron Smith (17.7) and Rich Denamen (8.2) at forward and Jeff Skeeles (4.7) at center. Skeeles has 170 rebounds, Smith, 167, and Denamen, 112.
