Discipline Committee to hear charges against Hettler

The Student Council Discipline Committee will consider whether or not Chuck Hettler, Council chairman and representative-at-large, is eligible to retain his seat following charges that Hettler is illegally a member of a Greek organization.

Council yesterday passed by a 12-9 vote a motion that Council's Discipline Committee consider the allegations after Student Government president Dan Crishon urged Council to send the case to the committee to "clear the name of either Council or Hettler."

Council's action subsequently gave rise to the following developments:

*The temporary suspension of Hettler's privileges as Council chairman and representative.

*The temporary suspension of Andy Bresko as Student Council Discipline chairman since Bresko is a member of the fraternity (Phi Delta Theta Colony) of which Hettler is allegedly a member.

*Charges before Interfraternity Council against Phi Delta Theta Colony by Pete Isgro, former Student Government president and IFC member, that Phi Delta Theta Colony has violated IFC regulations.

*The possibility of disciplinary action against Hettler by the University Discipline Committee.

The suspension of Hettler's privileges occurred immediately following Council's decision to send the case to the Council Discipline Committee. Dave Fleisher, business representative, suggested the action be taken and quoted from Robert's Rules Of Order that "after charges are preferred against a member and the assembly has ordered that he be cited to appear for trial, he is theoretically under arrest and is deprived of all the rights of membership until his case is disposed of."

Following the deprivation of Hettler's privileges, the chairmanship was assumed by Pat Galterio, Council secretary, who is also reported to be Hettler's girlfriend. Bill Mahoney, vice chairman of Council, was not at the meeting.

Council member Bobbie Ropar then moved to prohibit any Phi Delta Theta member from serving

First History Week speaker notes need for assimilation

BY JIM BELLARD
Jambar Staff Writer

The Black History Week Program at YSU got off with an electrifying start yesterday afternoon with an address in the Lincoln Project Building from Prof. Wilbur Watson of Rutgers University before a capacity crowd of students, teachers and concerned citizens. He spoke on "Black Thought in the Historical Context." Malcolm X, W.E.B. Dubois and Marcus Garvey were used as the focal points for his lecture.

"We today-Blacks-are a people who are not only faced with the grips of a long history of oppression and alienation but...many of us believe that somehow we can be assimilated into this system, independent of oppression, that somehow we can pull ourselves up by our bootstraps." This was the way Prof. Watson summarizes the "Main Currents of Black Sociological Thought" in America today.

Prof. Watson reminded us that in order for the Black Man in this country to make any significant progress toward "Freedom" it will require a certain social, political and economic transformation by white Americans. "Before this can happen it will be necessary for white people to become humanitarians, they will have to believe in the concept of liberty justice and equality; they will have to become endowed with compassion and LOVE."

Prof. Watson concluded his address by citing 4 modes of thought that are currently reflected among the masses of Black people today:

1) Seclusion and withdrawal

Threats to Jambar staff follow Phi Delt story

Jambar staffers were subject to a variety of threats and insults over the weekend, apparently as a result of the Jambar's disclosure that Chuck Hettler, chairman of Student Council, is an active member of Phi Delta Theta colony.

Jambar editor, Dale I. Peskin, and news editor, Pete Wilms received threatening phone calls and were verbally insulted at the "Sig Ep Fite Nite" on Friday evening.

Wilms, who was photographing the event, was told by an unidentified student that the Weather--Oh boy!

YSU remained open yesterday despite a request by the Youngstown Police Department that all but emergency traffic stay off the streets. President Pugsley, in refusing to close the University, said "this is northern country."

The campus was characterized by snowball fights, marooned cars, and some cancelled classes as a blizzard hit the YSU area yesterday. Thirty mile-per-hour winds with gusts up to fifty, and ten or more inches of snow and temperatures as low as ten degrees by this morning were predicted by the weather bureau.

Traffic came to a virtual standstill on many city streets, including Wick Avenue, where it took one student an hour to travel one block.

A few hardy souls braved the snow only to find their classes cancelled for lack of a teacher or enough students, although the University remained officially open.

Kilcawley Amphitheater was a battle zone yesterday--the scene of numerous snowball fights, one involving an estimated fifty people.

Campus walks were clogged with snow as University maintenance crews fought a losing battle with the weather.

AKA sorority has introduction party

Sisters of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc. held a Get-Acquainted-Party, on Sunday, February 7, 1971 at 6:00 p.m. at St. Augustine's Church Hall.

Young college women had the opportunity to meet Alpha Kappa Alpha sisters and to see the relationship of the sorority to YSU, the community, as well as to other sororities and fraternities.

Officers for Alpha Kappa Alpha for 1971 are as follows: president, Barbara Byrd; vice-president, Renee Dumas; secretary, Sadie Cochran; corresponding secretary, Dorothy Epps; treasurer, Bonnie Bryant; dean of pledges, Alnita Bryant; assistant dean of pledges, Odessa Johnson. Mrs. Brneda Person, Epsilon Mu Omega Chapter, AKA, is graduate advisor; Sister Elizabeth Staudt, H.M., biology instructor, YSU advisor.

Peskin was warned in two phone calls not to show up at "Fite Nite." He did appear, but was met with just one gesture of insult.

Ray Jackson, sales manager of the Jambar, was seated at the event among a group of Phi Delta's. He was informed that they "weren't after him, but were after you-know-who."

Daniel J. Dunmire, Jambar staff writer whose eye-witness account of Hettler's participation in Phi Delta rushing activities appeared in last Friday's Jambar, said he simply walked away when he was accosted by a Phi Delta.

Last Fall, when the Jambar disclosed that the Phi Delta Theta organization claimed national affiliation when, in fact, the national headquarters disclaimed any knowledge of their status, the Jambar staff was subject to more serious threats. These included threats to burn down the Jambar building, to beat up a photographer, and threats to parents of a student who had charged that Hettler then was a pledge.

Stanford student urges approval of draft abolishment

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Stanford University student accused Congress today of giving up its right to declare war and urged the Senate Armed Services Committee to approve legislation to abolish the draft.

Peter Knutson, chairman of the Stanford Draft Repeal Council, said his draft age friends are frustrated because of being forced to fight and die in an undeclared war in Southeast Asia.

The moral dilemma facing young men today would be similar to American men having to fight on the side of Germany in World War II, he said.

He questioned why the Congress failed to declare war and asked rhetorically whether it could be because a majority felt that the war wasn't "just enough" to warrant a declaration.

Knutson made his remarks on the third day of hearings before the Senate Armed Services Committee on legislation to end the draft.

Record of Intent

Some people have wondered why the Jambar is making such a fuss about Chuck Hettler and the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity. After all, they say, he's an active chairman of Student Council and if he wants to join a fraternity, let him.

We don't agree; and we're glad to see that the majority of the members of Student Council don't agree. Overlooking these charges (as some members of student council apparently wish to do) is like looking the other way while the till is being robbed.

No doubt the record will reveal that Chuck Hettler is not on the fraternity's roster of pledges. No doubt the pledge paddle with his initials on them has already "disappeared." No doubt national headquarters of Phi Delta Theta will never have heard of Chuck Hettler. After all, we were informed last fall, during that dust-up, that "all fraternities have under-cover pledges."

In short, Hettler may be in a position to make a very good defense "on the record." What he cannot defend is the matter of intent. His constant association with Phi Delta Theta, his presence at the rush party, his systematic appointment of Phi Delta Theta Brothers to committee positions on Student Council, suggest where his heart is. It is in a place no "member-at-large" has any right to put it. And it has been there for months.

We hope that Hettler will resign his position. But if he does not, we intend to keep reminding Student Government that rules mean nothing if there is no intention to enforce them. Hettler might be an excellent member and chairman—if one can be "excellent" by fraud.

Letters to the Editor
Denounces 'Jambar' Phi Delt story

To the Editor of the Jambar:

Who says the Jambar is anti-greek? Last Friday's edition of the Jambar gave an insight into the values of belonging to a fraternity. The house was described well along with some of the social aspects of belonging to a fraternity. It was pointed out very well that all of the brothers were very sociable, even to someone that they didn't know. This is the main point of belonging to a fraternity, a nice place to spend spare time with people you get along with.

I feel the Jambar was very generous giving us all of the free Rush publicity, but there are a few discrepancies that must be pointed out. First of all, when I am quoted, I would like to be quoted correctly. Friday's issue stated that I said Chuck Hettler has not attended any fraternity functions. This is a ridiculous statement and false. Everyone knows that most of our brothers are friends with Chuck. As Mr. Dunmire noted, our rush parties are open to the public. (All those truly interested in joining, not those interested in making a name for themselves with a sensationalistic story based on half truths or rumors.) It is our policy to let non-members in our house if he knows the brothers and it is also our policy to have guests at our parties. This in my opinion does not mean that a man is a brother merely by being seen with us.

I would like to say that Chuck Hettler is not a brother, a pledge or a rushee and cannot be such until the time that he is no longer a Representative-at-Large. The Jambar proved this themselves by saying he was not registered with I.F.C. or National Headquarters.

It was also noted that after the Jambar caused such a stir about the Colony of Phi Delta Theta misrepresenting itself during the fall and summer quarter that they saw fit to give us full chapter status by omitting the word "Colony" ten times. It seems strange that the Jambar could make such a mistake. Are they interested in printing the truth and making valid criticisms of wrongs on campus or are they merely putting out a scandal sheet based on half truths and rumors. A little research into this problem could have saved a lot of misconceptions, but no one at the Jambar seemed willing to talk before the article was printed.

Donald L. Weaver
Phi Delta Theta Colony President

(Editor's note—Mr. Weaver's statements warrant specific responses. First, he underestimates us if he thinks the purpose of the Jambar article was to give "insight into the values of belonging to a fraternity." If he is being facetious, then he misjudges us, for we are extremely serious about the allegations. Second, Mr. Weaver offers no evidence that he was incorrectly quoted. No less than three people heard and witnessed what he said. Third, staff writer Dunmire was sent to the rush party in full knowledge of his duties as a reporter and did not attempt to falsify or sensationalize a story. He was sent to the rush party to clarify a persistent rumor. Fourth, Jambar reporters contacted Mr. Weaver and fraternity advisor Mr. Ralph Burkholder prior to the release of the story and printed their statements of the issue. It was Mr. Weaver who was not willing to "talk before the article was printed."

We stand by our two stories on Friday and maintain they are accurate. We urge students to reread Mr. Weaver's letter and our stories of last week, then reach their own decision.)

Finds Hettler situation outrageous

To the editor of the Jambar:

In reference to your articles appearing in February 5th's Jambar there are many things that can be said about Mr. Hettler and the Phi Delta Theta colony, but the first thing that comes to mind is "How dare they?"

Many people have spent a great deal of time in Student Government and on Student Council. It is outrageous that charges must be brought against the Chairman of Council for not regarding that body's Constitution of which he surely must be aware.

He has denied having any affiliation with the Phi Delta Theta colony; yet the way he spoke to your reporter doesn't indicate this in the least. He has also spoken to other people about being affiliated with the colony.

At Monday's Council meeting, the members of Council who also belong to the Phi Delta Theta colony engaged in block voting to prevent Mr. Hettler's case from being considered by the Discipline Committee of Council. They also voted against a motion which would prevent members of Phi Delta Theta Colony from serving on the Discipline Committee while the Hettler case is being handled. This can be interpreted as an admission of guilt by the brothers.

Hettler has also given indications of his affiliation with the Phi Delta Theta colony when he appointed three of the five newly elected to council brothers to chairmanships of Council Committees and completely disregarded the qualifications of old members of Council who in the interest of the student body should have been appointed first. In the selection of members on the Nominating Committee for students to serve on student faculty committees, he has placed three Phi Delt's out of seven committee members. This could give block nominations for students to serve on these committees. This does a great deal of damage to the student body for these committees are the legitimate channels for student recommendations. With one organization in charge it is possible that only one side could be heard instead of all sides of student opinions and furthermore, the possibility of favoring one student organization by it exercising complete domination of the committee system. Instead of representing all facets of the University-Greek and Independent—this situation leaves Student Council nothing but a pawn and not the representative body it should and must be.

Peter J. Isgro
former President of Student Gov't.

University / Hettler case
Forum / "Matter of Magnitude"

BY TED BRACHFELD

YSU is faced with a problem at the moment unparalleled in magnitude within its recent history. The question has been raised as to the right of the present chairman of Student Council to hold his position. It is now the responsibility of the Student Council Discipline Committee to investigate these charges, and to pass judgment on their validity.

It has become the immediate concern of the Discipline Committee to investigate this matter honestly, openly and as objectively as possible. For it is not only the chairman of Student Council that is being challenged here, but the entire value of Student Government.

There can be no question of the need of this investigation. Even more so there must be no question of the impartiality of those who will conduct this investigation. If Student Council sees fit to whitewash this affair, if there is any evidence of vested interests on the part of those dealing with this matter, the results will be disastrous.

The question of the relationship of the student to Student Government is the essence of this action. There are now entering this university young freshmen in unprecedented numbers. Men and women who will find a need to express themselves on matters concerning their life in the university. They must have a cohesive, well run, government to turn to. Student Government must begin to demand the respect and power its due from the university community on behalf of the student. It must be in the forefront in the battle for student rights. It must once and for all challenge the charges of being a do nothing group with vested interests and prove them false.

The point here is not so much as whether the charges are true or not, but whether council is mature enough to investigate one of their own objectively. Here lies the vital question. No one is condemning Council for any oversight that may have occurred, we are only asking that they seek justice and the truth in their investigation.

If they prove unable to cope with these internal problems, it will destroy all faith that the students may have in council now. But should they succeed in dealing with these charges in an acceptable way, they will open up a new era of involvement on the part of students and council. They will help begin the creation of a system that the individual student can work through and feel that he is part of the university through.

Letters and Forum Policy

The Jambar wants students, faculty and staff to express their opinions on University subjects and issues.

Letters and forum articles should be typed and triple spaced. The Jambar reserves the right to edit, accept or reject a letter. Forum authors will be consulted about any editing changes.

"The University Forum" column is intended to broaden communications in The Jambar. Readers are invited to comment on national or political issues that significantly affect the University community. Unlike "Letters to the Editor," The Jambar will print only those manuscripts which conform to accepted writing standards and which are written out of intellect rather than emotion.

Letters and forum manuscripts should be typed, triple spaced and include author's name, address, school-class, and phone number. Letters should not exceed 250 words. Forum manuscripts should not exceed 700 words.

The Jambar will not print letters or forum articles which are libelous or in poor taste, consist of attacks on personalities or are obviously based on factual errors.

All responses should be addressed to The Jambar and be specifically labeled.

because of self-degradation which is largely responsible for the great numbers of Blacks who fill penal and mental institutions.

2) Assimilation—an attempt by some Blacks to be totally integrated into the white American society.

3) The building of autonomous political and economic systems in America.

4) The Pan-Africanists' Movement, which states simply that nothing can be done for Blacks in America until Blacks build a stronger Africa and eventually separate from this country and migrate to the Mother Country—Africa.

The program for the remainder of the week will consist of films, lectures, Black poetry readings, an art show on Friday, and the weeks' activities will be capped with the presentation, on Saturday, of the Black play: "Ceremonies In Dark Old Men."

The play will be performed primarily for the 300 Black high school students who were selected from over 700 applicants, on the basis of financial need and their response to a questionnaire, to attend the Saturday Seminar and subsequently attend YSU.

These 300 students, in keeping with the main objective of the Black History Week Program, will be given the necessary information concerning admission procedures and requirements, financial aids and academic programs at YSU. Furthermore, an all-out effort will be made by the YSU "Big Brother & Sister Teams" to secure admission to the university for the 300 students who will attend the Seminar. Members of the Big Brother and Sister Teams have devised a "Follow-Thru" program, whereby each high school senior who is admitted to YSU will be advised, tutored and generally looked after during their sophomore year by a Big Brother or Sister.

An example of the charismatic relationship between the Big Brother and Sister YSU Teams and the selected high school seniors was demonstrated in an assembly last Thursday at South High School. The students were asked for general comments on the Black History Week Program: "I can relate to the Team Leaders because of their age and experiences," said Curtis Nether. "The Team Leaders and Mr. Alfred Bright are showing us how to get it together," replied Miss Gail Womack.

Intramurals near end, Sig Eps still undefeated

In Sunday's intramural cage wars, 16 fraternities began the stretch run, with all divisions still up for grabs with two weeks remaining in the regular season.

Undefeated Sigma Phi Epsilon, the top defensive club limiting opponents to 31 PPG, clinched at least a tie in their league by virtue of a 60-36 shellacking of Phi Kappa Tau. Dave Schnurrenberger flipped in 14 points to pace a potent Sig Ep attack. Theta Xi, scoring at a clip of 63 PPG, best in the league, continued their winning ways with a 72-41 pasting of Zeta Beta Tau. Tom Testa canned 20 and Barry Simstand 16 for the winners.

The dynamic duo of Bill Berg and John Angelo combined for 36 markers to help Sigma Alpha Mu preserve its unblemished record with a physical 51-43 victory over Phi Sigma Kappa. Greg Rochow countered with 12 for the losers. The fourth team that has yet to taste defeat, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, won handily over Tau Kappa Epsilon, 59-37. Tom Denny paced the SAE's with 17, while the loser's Tony Retone took scoring honors with 18.

In other frays, Theta Chi, looking ahead to a crucial do-or-die game this week with the Sammies, had too much over-all balance for Sig Tau Gamma and triumphed, 46-31. Mike Roman, YSU griddy, muscled in 13 for the Sig Tau's. Andy Bresko netted 16 points to trigger Phi Delta Theta past Kappa Sigma, 45-34. This week's award for best defenses (or worst offense) goes to Delta Chi and Delta Sigma Phi who staged a classic exhibition of mediocrity, which, incidentally, the former won, 30-20. Finally, Alpha Phi Delta scorched hapless Sigma Pi, 41-20. Mike McGuire drilled in 17 for the victors.

Students consider private lots to be possible solution to parking dilemma

Many students at Youngstown State University have taken steps to solve their parking problems on their own. While some risk tickets and others come hours early, numerous students have turned to private parking lots instead of entering the battle for space on campus.

There are five privately owned parking lots in the vicinity of Rayen and Clingan-Waddell, near the Wood-Champion street intersection. These lots alone handle approximately 600 cars together with the present number of students using them being about 261. The charges average about eight dollars a month or twenty-four dollars per quarter. There are also weekly and daily rates, the latter which are rather beneficial for students who only come to school a couple of days a week.

It is usually not too difficult to get a parking space and there are usually attendants on duty, at least until the hours when the downtown area is open.

The number of students handled by the parking lots individually ranges from as few as 11 out of 180 spaces to nearly 100% of 150 spaces.

The attendant at the lot on the corner of Wick and Champion next to Clingan-Waddell said he thought students used his lot because: "Most of them are art students and this is convenient. Besides, you yourself know the parking conditions on campus."

Students themselves give various reasons for choosing a private lot over University lots. Mary Ann Moronti, a sophomore business major said that the sticker for parking is "Too expensive considering the fact that it's almost impossible to find a space unless you come to school around 6:30."

Others find the congestion just not worth the trouble. Kathi Pusch, junior psychology major said, "There's just too much by Isgro. IFC will not meet until next week, but Fleischer, who is also IFC president, said that he expects that the IFC Judicial Court will consider Isgro's charges.

A third disciplinary procedure, possible action by the University's Discipline Committee, was raised by Ted Brachfeld at the Council meeting. Although Brachfeld has not filed a written complaint to Student Affairs Dean Darrell Rishel, Brachfeld said that a "possible fraud on the student body may exist" and this could warrant action by the University committee.

on the Council Discipline Committee in order to insure an objective investigation. Andy Bresko, a Phi Delta, was appointed as head of the Council Discipline Committee earlier in the year by Hettler. Four other Phi Deltas serve on Council.

The motion carried by a 11-9 margin. Four of the five Phi Delta on Council voted against the motion as well as against the motion sending the Hettler case to the Council Discipline Committee.

traffic. Besides, if I want to come at seven in the morning to find a parking place I'd just as soon try to find a spot at the curb where there's no charge."

Diane Vicarrel, freshman English major, gave a similar statement but also added that miserable road conditions, especially in the winter added to her reasons for avoiding the University parking lots.

Along with traffic problems and expensive prices, Debbie Carrier, a freshman art major said that "if you want to chance getting your car bashed to hell, park at the University."

It seems that even though most students dislike the price to park at the University, they are willing to pay a little more for convenience and a place to park. They do have a valid argument. Why pay fifteen dollars for nothing?

ABORTION COUNSELING, INFORMATION AND REFERRAL SERVICES

Abortions up to 24 weeks of pregnancy are now legal in New York State. There are no residency restrictions at cooperating hospitals. Only the consent of the patient and the performing physician is required.

If you think you are pregnant, consult your doctor. Don't delay. If you choose to have an abortion, early abortions are simpler and safer.

Abortions should be performed by Board certified obstetricians and gynecologists, with Board certified anesthesiologists attending, in fully licensed and accredited general hospitals. You should not have to pay exorbitant charges for any of these services.

If you need information or professional assistance, including immediate registration into available hospitals, telephone The Abortion Information Agency, (212-873-6650), which has helped counsel and place more than 22,000 women for safe, legal hospital abortions.

The total costs at good facilities range as follows (in-patient hospital service, except as noted):

For D & C: Pregnancy up to 9 weeks, $285-$310 (out-patient hospital service); up to 12 weeks, $385-$410; up to 14 weeks, $560. For Saline Inductions: 16-24 weeks, $560-$585.

8 AM to 10 PM Seven Days a Week

Dear John,

I am writing you this letter because it would be too hard for me to tell you in person. John, it is all over between us. But don't think it is because you're a drunken bum or because you cheat on me constantly. Don't think it's because of your long greasy hair or your ugly, grubby beard. It's not. It's just because of the way you dress. You've worn the same dirty sweat shirt and crummy jeans constantly for the past two quarters. To look at you makes me want to throw up. But it's too late to change. I found a guy named George who is all I ever wanted. He is handsome, sincere, and the finest dresser I've ever known. He buys all his clothes at CIRO'S, a boutique shop in town. I simply go bananas over his bells and body shirts. So John, quit monkeying around and go to CIRO'S so that someone can go bananas over you.
