YOUNGSTOWN STATE UNIVERSITY

VOLUME 45—NO. 19

Packard Here Thursday

Vance Packard, one of the nation's leading liberals, will speak to YSU students next Thursday, March 7, at 2:00 in Strouss Auditorium.

The subject of Mr. Packard's lecture will be, "The Changing Relationship Between Men and Women, or Is There a Revolution in Sex Roles?"

Vance Packard is the author of numerous best-sellers, including such works as, "The Hidden Persuaders," "The Status Seekers," "The Waste Makers," "The Pyramid Climbers," and "The Naked Society."

Mr. Packard's works are the products of meticulously researched investigations of trends in modern society that endanger individual liberty. His concern for human liberty has resulted in some of the most important social documents of our time.

He has written numerous articles which have appeared in many leading periodicals including Look, The Saturday Evening Post, The New York Times Magazine, The Atlantic

Mr. Vance Packard

For years he has delivered lectures at various universities throughout the nation.

Mr. Packard is a native of Pennsylvania, with a master's degree from Columbia University's Graduate School of Journalism.

Ticket information will be available early next week.

Russell Kirk Speaks Tuesday

Dr. Russell Kirk, political writer, lecturer, and columnist, will speak to YSU students on Tuesday evening, March 5 at 8:00 p.m. in the Engineering Auditorium.

The topic of his speech will be "Disintegrated Liberalism in Foreign Policy."

The program will be sponsored by the YSU Young Republican Club and admission will be free. Following Dr. Kirk's lecture there will be an informal coffee hour in the Pollock House.

Russell Kirk has been called one of America's leading thinkers by both Time and Newsweek.

He is a Professor of Politics, and the only American to hold the highest arts degree (earned) of the senior Scottish university—doctor of letters of St. Andrews.

His daily column, "To the Point", appears in more than a hundred newspapers throughout America.

Russell Kirk is the author of 15 books, over 400 essays and short stories, and many other publications. His best-known book, "The Conservative Mind", is probably the most widely read work of political theory in this country.

Dr. Kirk has spoken on nearly 300 American campuses on such topics as conservative thought, educational theory, literary criticism, and foreign affairs.

WHAT IS IT? . . . is the question that has been circulating around the campus for the last several days. According to Ohio Bell it is a microwave relay tower, a link in an improved communications network. Construction of the mammoth 193-ft. tower is expected to be completed shortly.

Four Students Attend College Leaders Lab

Four Youngstown State students were among 77 students from 20 Ohio colleges and universities who attended Ohio's first College Leadership Institute which was held at Burr Oak State Park, this past weekend.

The students were: Marcia Ann Kasony, Micheal L. Wholehan, Raymond C. Johnson, and Mark T. Shutes.

Miss Kasony is a Junior majoring in math. She is the secretary of SNEA.

Wholehan is a Sophomore in Business and is a member of Student Council's Major Events Committee.

Johnson, a Council member, is majoring in Business and is a Sophomore.

Shutes is a Senior majoring in

2. If the regularly scheduled hour for the class does not appear on this schedule, the instructor will set the time for the examination.

MUSIC ON CAMPUS

By Nicholas J. DeCarbo

The chamber music of Johannes Brahms and Benjamin Britten will be featured as part of the Dana Artists' Series on Monday evening, March 4, at the Dana Recital Hall. The starting time for the concert is 8:00 p.m.

Appearing first on the program will be the Dana String Quartet, made up of Dana faculty members, Fred Rosenberg and Lorna Larson, violins, Paul Chenevey, viola, and Robert Taylor, cello.

For this concert they have chosen to play the "Quartet No. 2 in A Minor, Opus 51," by Johannes Brahms. Composed in 1875, this work is recognized as one of the masterpieces of the string quartet literature.

The remainder of the concert will be devoted to the performance of Benjamin Britten's "Serenade for Tenor, Horn, and Strings." Recognized as a modern classic since its composition in 1944, the "Serenade" is also recognized as one of the most difficult works for the tenor voice and French horn.

Along with the high tessitura for the tenor and horn, which is quite demanding, a great deal of instrumental and vocal flexibility are essential.

Texts used in the "Serenade" include "Pastoral" by Cotton, "Nocturne" by Tennyson, "Elegy" by Blake, "Dirge" (Anonymous, 15th Century), "Hymn" by Ben Johnson, and "Sonnet" by Keats. The "Prologue" and "Epilogue" are for unaccompanied, solo French horn.

Joining the string quartet will be Wade Raridon, a member of the voice faculty, regular performer in Artists' Series operas and oratorios, and director of the YSU "University Singers," and Lois Hopkins, principal horn in the Youngstown Philharmonic, and member of the Dana Brass and Woodwind Quintets.

Appearing with the string quartet will be Maurice Wininsky, string bass, and conductor for the evening will be Esotto Pellegrini.

SNEA News

The Student National Education Association will have a meeting on Wednesday, March 6 at 8 p.m. at the Dana Recital Hall.

"Which Should You Join—NEA or AFT" will be the topic of discussion.

Mr. Mike Yohman, vice-president of the AFT in Ohio, will present the views of AFT, while a representative from YEA will discuss the merits of NEA.

All interested students are invited.

Coming Events

Of great interest to all students at YSU should be the upcoming concert of the Youngstown State University Wind Ensemble, on March 6, at the Kilcawley Student cafeteria. The starting time for the concert will be 8:00 p.m.

A newly organized ensemble, the wind Ensemble is composed of the outstanding musicians from the Dana student body, along with all those who have qualified from the entire student enrollment at the University.

Numbering forty-eight players, the wind ensemble is under the direction of Donald W. Byo, a member of the Dana faculty and principal bassoonist with the Youngstown Philharmonic.

Promising to be one of the most exciting concerts this year, the wind ensemble will feature the works of the contemporary composers, H. Owen Reed, Carl Orff, Kent Kennan, and Serge de Gastyne.

Chi Delta Given OK To Organize

On February 2, 1968, Student Council granted permission to organize to 37 girls under the name Chi Delta Sorority. The group when organized, would add a sixth social sorority to the campus.

Chi Delta will undergo a four month probationary period with Student Council, the purpose of this period of probation being to assure Council that no groups chartered will promptly become inactive. All new groups must be accepted in this manner.

The officers for the sorority are: President, Linda Dunmire; Vice-President, Karen Epperson; Treasurer, Kathy Ford, and Secretary, Anita Morrison.

It is the opinion of Chi Delta that the expanding campus could certainly afford the room for another sorority, and that perhaps they could offer a little more to the general campus life at this university.

S C Election Preview

Student Council elections are set for Monday and Tuesday, March 4 and 5, in Strouss Auditorium. The elections will be supervised by members of Student Council to insure an equitable election.

The polls in Strouss Auditorium will be open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday and from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Tuesday. All voting students must present their university I.D. cards to secure a ballot.

Seats must be filled from the schools of Liberal Arts, Business, Engineering, Education, and Music. In addition to the school seats, two representatives-at-large must be elected. There are twelve seats open in all.

Students from the various schools will only be permitted to vote for the candidates representing their schools and for Representatives-at-large. For example, no Engineering student may vote for a candidate from the school of Business.

This is to insure that the various schools of the university have their own qualified representatives.

All Student Council candidates have been attending the S.C. meetings for the past few weeks to familiarize themselves with the actual legislative process. The candidates all must maintain an accumulative average of at least 2.5.

Poor Voter Turn-Out

The problem of poor voter turn-out has been a perennial one. Only 8% of the eligible students voted at the last Council elections.

The members of the Council have requested that all eligible students make an effort to see that they are represented by turning out to vote.

Many students are apparently unaware of the many functions which are performed by Student Council and which affect the students' campus life.

Council President, Ken Tomko describes council as "an outlet for student opinion which can act as a middleman between the student and the administration."

Tomko cited a recent incident to illustrate this point. Because of the great amount of student unrest due to the increased cost of campus parking, Council made an appeal to President Pugsley to lower the rates.

While this end was not achieved, Pres. Pugsley did explain to Council and to the students the need for the increased cost.

Council also acts as the controlling factor in the governing of student organizations. All student organizations must have a Council Charter, and must act according to the rules set up by the Council.

Council is also responsible for Homecoming, Winter and Spring Weekends, which are planned and carried out by the Major Events Committee.

This committee is composed of 20 students, the great majority of which are non-council members. Applications to Major Events are now being accepted. About six more students are needed.

Chairman of Major Events is Mike Foley. The co-ordinator for the upcoming Spring Week-End is Mike Wholchan.

Constitution Revised

Student Council is presently in a state of re-organization with a complete Constitution and By-Law revision almost complete.

The Constitution has been rewritten over almost a year. It was approved by the Student-Faculty Committee last week and was submitted to Pres. Pugsley early this week.

It is expected to be approved today by the Faculty Senate and could possibly be put into effect by Council at next Friday's meeting.

Under the new system there will be two branches of the Student Government, the Executive and the Legislative. The Executive Branch will be composed of a President and Vice President who will be elected by popular vote, and by a cabinet composed of appointed Secretaries of Finance, Student Affairs, Public Relations, and Major Events, and appropriate committees.

The Legislative Branch will remain similar to the existing Council, with 25 members elected by the student body and four members of the Executive Board elected by the Council members.

The Legislative Branch will also function as the judicial body, attending to infringements of campus regulations, and mediating disputes.

Six Youngstown State graduates have recently been selected for inclusion in the 1967 edition of "Outstanding Young Women of America."

They are Carol Amendolara, Youngstown; Loretta M. Liptak, Struthers; Joann Powell, Brookfield; Sally Dunn, Youngstown; Marianna Kane, Youngstown; and Mrs. Judith Pruce Rogers, Boardman.

Miss Amendolara, a 1963 graduate with an A.B. degree, earned her Master of Social Work from The Catholic University of America and is currently an instructor of social science at YSU.

Miss Liptak, a 1957 graduate with a B.S. in Education degree, earned her Master of Arts from Ohio State University and is currently an instructor in the department of health and physical education at YSU.

Miss Powell, 1956 graduate with a B.S. in Education in business education, earned her Master of Science in Education in guidance counseling from Westminster College and is currently working toward a doctorate in counselor education at Northwestern University.

Miss Dunn, a 1964 graduate with a B.S. in Education degree and her Master of Science in Education from Slippery Rock State College, is currently teaching at the Harrison Elementary School in Youngstown.

She has worked with the Y.W.C.A. as a teacher for various adult classes and has served as an instructor for blind, retarded and handicapped individuals.

Miss Kane, a 1963 graduate with an A.B. degree in Spanish, is currently teaching Spanish in Girard High School.

Mrs. Rogers, a 1960 graduate with a B.S. in Education degree, has served as an elementary teacher for Pleasantview Elementary School, Parma Heights; Butzbach American School, Butzbach, Germany; Lawton Public School, Oklahoma; Seven Hills Elementary School, Ohio; Fort Knox Dependent Schools, Kentucky; and Van Voorhis Elementary School, Fort Knox, Kentucky.

R.O.T.C. Prof. Leaves For Vietnam Tour

Major Walter C. Evans, assistant professor of military science at the University for the past 18 months, has departed for a one-year tour of duty in Viet Nam.

Major Evans is a graduate of Pennsylvania Military College, Chester, Pa., with a Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering degree.

This will be his second tour of duty in Viet Nam in his 11-year military career.

During his time at YSU, Major Evans served as military science advisor to sophomore cadets, advisor to the National Society of Scabbard and Blade, University Rifle Team advisor, and unit supply officer.

Want to move up fast in aerospace/electronics?

Hughes is where the action is. HUGHES

HUGHES AIRCRAFT COMPANY

You can go forward, go fast, go far... at Hughes Field Service & Support Division. If you are seeking a stimulating assignment where you can get in on the ground floor of the rapidly-expanding aerospace/electronics field, capitalize immediately on your background and training, and progress quickly toward your career goals—Hughes Field Service & Support Division in Southern California will welcome your inquiry.

Some current fields of interest include:

DESIGN ENGINEERING

Openings exist for Electronic and Mechanical Design Engineers in the development of Trainers & Simulators and in the design of checkout and test equipment for large missile and aerospace systems. These responsible positions require interest and/or experience in such design areas as: analog circuits, digital logic, switch/relay logic, electro-mechanical packaging, infrared testing, inertial guidance and Command/Control systems.

Responsibilities will include all phases of design and development from concept to final fabrication and evaluation. M.S. or Bachelor's degree is required in E.E., M.E. or Physics.

FIELD ENGINEERING

The Field Engineer's job ranges from complete contractor maintenance of electronic systems to technical assistance. His primary function is to assist the customer at operational sites. Responsibilities include: providing maintenance, operational and technical assistance; formal and informal on-the-job training; logistic assistance and the investigation and solution of equipment problems experienced in the field. Requires a Bachelor's degree in E.E. or Physics. Experience with military fire control, radar or communications systems is desirable but not mandatory.

MAINTAINABILITY ENGINEERING

During design phase, positions involve analysis of the feasibility of built-in, self-test features, application of automatic checkout equipment, standardization of circuitry design, minimization of adjustment and alignment requirements and packaging of the product. During system development, assignments will involve production of a complete set of integrated logistics support documents for use as planning guides. Requires B.S. degree in E.E. or Physics.

TECHNICAL TRAINING

Hughes Technical Training prepares both civilian and military personnel to efficiently operate and maintain advanced electronic systems. Technical instructors conduct training courses at Hughes California sites and work directly with customers to evolve special training devices, plan field training programs and prepare courses for use at customer bases. Requires a Bachelor's degree in E.E., or Physics. Experience in preparing and presenting technical electronics material in the classroom and laboratory is highly desirable but not mandatory.

ENGINEERING WRITING

Specialists in printed communications convert complex engineering data into simple, accurate, illustrated support publications, including technical manuals, orders, brochures, sales proposals, etc. Fields of interest include: digital/analog computers, display systems, digital and voice satellite communications systems... and many others. Requires a B.S. degree in E.E. or Physics.

Dr. Roberts Selected As Summer Lecturer

Dr. Sidney I. Roberts, associate professor of history, has been selected by Clark University, Worcester, Mass., as one of 13 educators from throughout the country who will lecture at the university's summer institute in American history from July 1 to August 16.

The seven-week institute is sponsored jointly by Clark University and the United States Office of Education with a grant under Title XI of the National Defense Education Act.

The program will provide 45 in-service high school teachers, grades 9-12, with a knowledge of recent interpretations in American history from the colonial period to the present.

Dr. Roberts, who will lecture on "Twentieth Century American Politics," has been a member of the YSU faculty since 1961.

Prior to that time he taught at taught at Texas A & M University for five years.

He earned his Bachelor of Science in Education degree from City College of New York, his master's degree in history from Columbia University, and his Ph.D. in history from Northwestern University.

He was the recipient of the William R. Hearst Fellowship in American History for three consecutive years and was one of 12 historians to be awarded a grant-in-aid in 1964 by the American Association for State and Local History for further study in the field of history.

In 1967 he was appointed a Visiting Scholar by the Ohio Academy of Science.

Dr. Roberts has chaired many committees since his arrival at YSU, among them the Skeggs Lecture Series, which brings nationally prominent speakers to campus.

He is supervisor of the University's Honors seminar program, and is institutional representative of the Rhodes Scholarship Trust.

He is a member of the following professional societies and organizations: the American Historical Association; the Organization of American Historians; Phi Alpha Theta, National History honor society; National Education Association; Kappa Delta Pi, National Education honor society; Ohio Area Honor Association; and the Ohio Academy of Science.

Dr. Sidney I. Roberts

Deadline!

The deadline for YSU's PENGUIN REVIEW has been extended to March 6, 1968. More short stories and poems are still needed. Anyone may submit; all works will be given utmost consideration. Art works and photographs would also be appreciated. Submissions should be dropped off at the REVIEW office, Kilcawley 116, or left at the Kilcawley Desk mailbox, no. 116.

William S. Flad; Talented Leader In Business Admin.

Lending his talents to the functions of the School of Business Administration is Professor William S. Flad, Chairman of the Department of Advertising and Public Relations.

Mr. Flad's many duties, other than administrative functions, include teaching classes in Advertising Copy and Layout and Advertising Principles.

He also spends many hours advising students in Business Administration.

Mr. Flad came to the university in the spring of 1950 as a part-time teacher of an advertising class when the regular instructor became too ill to continue.

He had not previously considered teaching as a profession but after accepting the position he liked teaching very much.

In the fall of 1950 a full time position was offered to Mr. Flad and he joined the faculty as a full time instructor.

He has been a full time instructor since that time and has helped the growth and development of the School of Business Administration through his teaching and administrative efforts.

Immediately prior to coming to

Y.U. he owned the Flad-Erwin Advertising Agency in Youngstown.

He spent several years working for advertising agencies in New York and Cleveland prior to owning the Youngstown firm.

He served as a copywriter and Account Executive, coordinating the advertising activity for the firms.

He graduated from Lafayette College in Easton, Pennsylvania, and went on to receive his Master's Degree from Harvard Graduate School of Business where he majored in Administration, Advertising and Sales Management.

He has done additional work toward his Doctorate at Western Reserve University in Cleveland, Ohio.

Mr. Flad is a native of Youngstown and attended Rayen High School.

During his years here he has taught every advertising class offered at the university and an advertising seminar not currently offered.

Mr. William S. Flad

For four years Mr. Flad served in the United States Coast Reserves and spent 18 months stationed in Hawaii.

He pointed out that the School of Business Administration is growing very rapidly and he feels the recent combination of the two previous major fields available of Advertising and Public Relations are a great advantage to the school.

Planetarium Presents Three Public Showings

The University will present three public showings of the planetarium classroom in the Ward Beecher Science Hall the second week of March.

"Exploring the Southern Sky" will be shown at 8 p.m. Friday, March 8; Saturday, March 9; and at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, March 10.

Reservations for the showing may be made by calling the University between 10 a.m. and noon, Monday through Friday. There is no charge for admission.

In the course of the program, the planetarium visitor will be taken on an imaginative trip from Youngstown to the southern hemisphere to view the sky as seen from below the equator.

Friendly and familiar to the inhabitants of southern countries, this half of the sky is foreign and fascinating to the traveler from the north.

The planetarium classroom houses a 40-foot projection dome on which the visual sky can be simulated by a special projector.

The projection instrument is capable of simulating the sky from any point on the earth's surface in the past, present and future, and can also produce many special effects.

Although the planetarium is to be used primarily for instructional purposes at the University, other public showings will be made from time to time.

SPORTS SCENE

With Mike Foley

As the winter sports scene draws to a close, excitement fills the air. Although losing to St. Vincent last Saturday night the YSU basketballers came on strong to defeat Akron University on Tuesday night in front of a jam-packed crowd.

This season has also proven to be the most successful in the YSU Swim Team history.

St. Vincent scores Upset

Last Saturday evening YSU once again found a foreign court to hard to adjust to as they lost their 8th game to St. Vincent College, 80-73.

Although the Roselliman had bombed the Vincentman by 42 points, 115-72, just 10 days earlier, they could not find the range as St. Vincent displayed excellent defense.

John McElroy and Bill Eckert, in a combined effort, scored 37 points with 19 and 18 points respectively.

Revenge victory against Akron Last Tuesday night it looked as though the Penguins might be in danger of losing their first game this season at home, as the Akron Zips constantly opened 6 and 8 point leads in the first quarter.

After discussing strategy with their coach the YSU team began to play with a team effort, managing to pull ahead by half-time, 35-32.

During the second half the game remained extremely close as both defensive units displayed a gallant effort.

However a man-to-man strategy and the warm shooting hands of Fitz, Nigro, and McElroy were the determining factors which gave YSU an 82-79 victory and an undefeated home season.

Finmen most impressive team this year The YSU swimmers wound up their most successful season of action last Saturday by downing Slippery Rock State 67-41.

This closed out the dual meet season for the Penguinauts with 13 wins against 2 losses.

Tomorrow the finmen, led by their six All-American candidates who have all qualified for action in the NCAA National Championships, will travel to the U. of Pittsburgh where they will compete in the Penn-Ohio Conference Championships.

Listed as co-favorite with Grove City College, the Penguins have a good chance to swim to the championship.

Coach Ralph Johnson predicts All-American status for six of his swimmers in the Nationals.

The members of the squad are Cliff "Flash" Ashe, Terry Tatch, Tom Parker, George Kavish, Dale Welk, and Nick Gavolas.

The first four will swim together as a 400-yard freestyle relay team.

OAS Granted Organization Permit by S.C.

On Friday, February 16, 1968, Student Council permitted the Arab students to organize. The organization is called Organization of Arab Students in Youngstown State University (O.A.S.) and is a chapter of the mother organization in the United States. The purpose of the organization is to introduce the Arab culture to the American people and help the Arab students understand the American culture, thereby improving Arab-American relations.

SENIOR WOMEN!
All senior women are invited to be the guests of the American Association of University Women at their tea at 2 p.m. on March 2, at the Westminster Presbyterian Fellowship Hall at 119 Stadium Drive in Boardman.

Soccer Club Has Elected New Officers

The Soccer Club of YSU elected officers at a meeting held on Monday, Feb. 26. The newly elected officers are: Victor Popescu, President; Mario Marchionda, Vice-President; Gary Crop, Secretary, and Tony Monokandylos, Treasurer.

Preliminary provisions regarding games with other University teams were discussed. It was decided that a practice game will take place on Sunday, Feb. 3 at Campbell's Roosevelt Park at 3:00 p.m. Any student interested in joining the club is welcome.

The next club meeting will be held on Monday, Feb. 4 at noon in room 273 of the Engineering building. Mr. Webster, the director of Athletics of the university, will attend.

It is important that all members and students wishing to join be present.

Playhouse Scene Of Two Dramas This Weekend

The Youngstown State University Theatre production of "The World of Carl Sandburg" will end its two-week run this evening Friday, March 1 and tomorrow evening, March 2 at the Youngstown Playhouse.

Curtain is at 8:30 p.m. in the Arena Theatre of the Playhouse.

No seats are reserved for these performances and admission for YSU students and faculty will be by I.D. Card only.

In addition, the oldtime melodrama, "The Drunkard or The Fall on Saved", plays its first weekend tonight and Saturday at 8:30 and Sunday at 7:30 on the main stage.

According to Vera Friedman of the Playhouse, "Audiences will be guaranteed an opportunity to hiss the oily villain, cheer the weak but handsome hero, weep over the beautiful maiden betrayed, and transform peanuts into ammunition."

Audiences will be urged to sing along with the chorus of singers and dancers who will perform between-the-act, olios choreographed and staged by Dana Snyder, with musical direction by Ed Barnes.

The Playhouse lobby has been transformed into an old time saloon complete with player piano.

The CASUALS invite you to their OPENING DANCE NINO'S RESTAURANT 6308 Penn Ave., Pittsburgh Sunday, March 10 -- 9 p.m.

Gamma Sigs Will Install Actives Tonite

Nine new members will be installed into Gamma Sigma Sigma National Service Sorority during ceremonies tonight.

The formal installation and dinner will be held at the Mansion Restaurant this evening at 6:30. New members will be presented recognition pins during a candle-light ceremony.

The new members include Paul Grimes, Norma Burns, Linda Wolf, Diane Jozwick, Anna Marie Cichon, Tina Castro, Debbie Monaco, Jo Ann Zalko, and Pat Cavanaugh.

Gamma Sigma Sigma has served as Y.S.U.'s service sorority since 1963. Notable projects in the past include voluntary services for the March of Dimes, UNICEF, and the adoption of a foster child from Greece.

Words Don't Seem To Work Vote for a Stronger Student Council

Young City Council of Students

By Bill Weimer

Every Friday the Council of Students of Young City College meet to discuss the topical issues of the week that affect student life.

They discuss problems like purchasing a live walrus as mascot for the school, or changing by-laws to permit the windows of the meeting room to be open during the meetings. The Council of Students discuss only those issues that really matter.

One Friday C of S president Kent Thompkins called the meeting to order. He wanted to start the meeting at 3, but had to wait until 5:30.

There was some silly rule that you had to have something called a quorum present to hold a meeting.

No one really knew what a quorum was. Some say it only lasts for an hour or so; the quorum, that is.

Finally, Secretary Carol Overland began to read the minutes. I guess that should read, "the hours." Vice President Jed Kling fell asleep before she even got to the committee reports of the previous weeks.

She finally finished the hours, then President Thompkins had to have a recount to make sure the quorum was still there. It was, so he called on Treasurer Jerry Isopropyl for his report.

His report was real short. Some even missed it.

The next order of business was the committee reports. The by-laws report was given by the chairman—Donny Larock.

Larock read his report and read his report and read his report. Every-one was grossly interested in his brief 22 page summary of the proposed two by-law changes.

When objections were asked for, C of S representative Roy Jentel (appointed, not elected) said that page eight and nine of Larock's report were out of order because of President Jackson's report to the Congress on civil disorder.

Discussion followed. It was later decided that the report of Jackson was not applicable because he was not enrolled as a full time student at Young City College at the time of his report.

The by-laws were finally passed by the close count of two members for and one against.

Twenty-two members abstained because they did not understand the discussion. Someone always abstains.

After eighty-seven more committee reports, President Thompkins passed the gavel to Vice-President Kling for a minute. We won't go into the reasons behind that political move. Some things are just better left to the imagination.

The President called for old business. (He got back quickly.)

Representative Nono DeNono (he really is a representative, he was elected) started to discuss the coming Council of Students elections.

No one knew a thing about them. DeNono stated that the elections were to be held the following week. No one knew about them.

DeNono said that only those students who filed for the election could run. No one heard about the filing.

DeNono said that only those students who have attended several Council of Students meetings could run. No one was in the gallery.

DeNono moved that the election be accepted as he stated. It was passed unanimously. Re-election is blissful.

President Thompkins then called for new business. Representative Rip Bronze (another mistake—he was appointed, not elected) suggested that since it was now 8:30 and some members had to get dressed for their dates, the meeting should be adjourned.

His suggestion was put in the form of a motion and the regular procedure of sending the bill to a committee was suspended.

The motion was passed unanimously. Every once in a while the members really get excited about something.

The meeting was adjourned and the problem of the walrus was still not solved. Alas, spring will come and the walrus will have no place to live. Maybe someone will take home the stray walrus for weekends until suitable quarters can be arranged.

Our Man Hoppe

Improving The Breed Through Warfare

Arthur Hoppe

—Chronicle Features

Herewith is another unwritten chapter in that unpublished reference work, "A History of the World, 1950 to 1999." The title of this unwritten chapter is, "The Perfect Draft Law."

The decision by the President in the late winter of 1968 to draft hitherto-deferred graduate students proved widely unpopular.

The universities were most unhappy at the prospect of losing their most intelligent, most eager, most questioning young minds. And the Army was equally unhappy at the prospect of getting them.

"A soldier who demonstrates an intelligent, eager, questioning mind," said General Zip K. Zapp gloomily, "is asking for a court martial."

But most unhappy of all were the geneticists. "This is a tragic step backward," said Dr. Homer T. Pettibone, D.V.M., author of "Whither Homo Sapiens?" and other works.

"Our wise policy of drafting only those too poor to go to college or too stupid to stay there was working wonders. By sending these poor, stupid young men off to kill each other before they could breed, we were well on our way to becoming a nation of rich, clever Americans."

Economists were equally appalled. "It makes no sense," they said irritably, "to defer any college students at all. Why instruct a young man in the history of Etruscan vase paintings and then send him off to be shot? It's a disgraceful waste of public funds."

Nor were the sociologists at all pleased. "If the only way to avoid being shot is to present evidence of sexual perversions, psychic aberrations or criminal convictions, what's to become of our society?"

Nor were such dire predictions unfounded. Poor, stupid young men bred untrammelled. Rich, educated young men were killed in foreign climes at great waste of public funds. And as for the clever . . . Well, the U.S. was in grave danger of becoming a nation of homosexual, bed-wetting bank robbers.

"We are fighting this war, like any war, for the good of the country," said the President thoughtfully. "So maybe we ought to change the draft law."

Thus Congress, after long study and debate, unanimously passed what became known as "The Perfect Draft Law."

The same mental and physical tests were given young men facing induction. But to satisfy the geneticists only those were drafted who flunked.

To appease economists, the draft age was lowered to 14, thus saving the costs of not only a college, but a high school education. And at the behest of sociologists, young men who later evidenced any abnormal inclinations—sexual, criminal or political—were automatically reclassified 1-A.

Everybody was happy with the new law. Educators were happy not to have to deal with the stupid. The taxpayers were happy not to have to deal with the poor. The Army was delighted with its new recruits "who display the greatest quality of any soldier," as General Zapp put it, "unquestioning obedience."

And it was widely held that the poor, stupid, uneducated, criminal American boys falling in distant lands died happy in the secure knowledge that they were giving their lives to make this country a better place in which to live.

But none was happier than the President. "I promised to wipe out poverty, stupidity, ignorance and crime and I can now see the light at the end of the tunnel," he said happily, "if only we can keep this war going for another generation."

That proved easy. At last America became a nation of rich, intelligent, well-educated, law-abiding citizens. In tribute to the vision of the late President the new era was called, "The Great Society."

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor of the Jambar:

It is probably unnecessary that I write this letter to you, but as a loyal American I feel it my duty to defend my country wherever and whenever it comes under attack by Communistic and subversive organizations such as the group that invaded our campus last Feb. 14, and attempted to undermine the Constitutional ideals of the more impressive present.

Why can't these people realize that the Hanoi Government is the main obstacle in the way of world peace? When we can finally succeed in showing Ho Chi Minh that American boys are willing to kill, die, and maim anyone for peace and justice and the American way, we have taken the first and most important step in achieving world peace.

My fellow Americans, I shudder to think of the day when my mother or sister will be afraid to go grocery shopping because of the pinko-commies walking the streets and preaching world annihilation.

Should they get to the super market without being brainwashed or buried in flowers, they cannot escape the Anarchist Socialist subversion. Right there on the canned goods shelf they see Chun-king Chop Suey next to that All-American symbol of Motherhood, Mrs. Grass' egg noodles. Even the liquor stores have hundreds of bottles of Vodka stashed away for the invading conquerors and their skinny white peace creep associates.

Wake up America!
If we don't destroy North Viet Nam, who knows where Ho Chi Minh will pop up next! Perhaps in India, or maybe Egypt, or Katanga.

Impenetrable fortresses like Paris or Buenos Aires will fall and their brave defenders will perish. Even that most impregnable of all outposts of democratic ideals and human concern could fall. Think of it my fellow students; The granite penguin replaced by a statue of Mao Tse Tung! R. Wilbur LaVogue
Soph. Chemistry '70

To the Editor of the Jambar:

The powerful, dramatic letter of Miss Margaret Fitch, which appeared in the February 23 issue of the Jambar, deserves our most enthusiastic congratulations for its presentation of issue involved: ie., the "riot".

Knowing for a fact that Miss Fitch was not present at the scene of the disturbance, and that she received all her information second-hand from professedly "anti-everything" individuals who are well-known for their emotional instability and uncleanness, I would like to suggest that she and the millions like her all over the world become a little more knowledgeable about the issues involved before becoming "authorities" on them.

Miss Fitch's letter is excellently written, ironic, satirical, and emotion-arousing. This makes it all the more dangerous, as its tone gives an erroneous impression of knowledgeability. This kind of "authority" is the last thing the world needs in its present precarious state. Find out the facts first, Miss Fitch, write letters to the editor later. The world will be much the better for it.
