ROTC To Present First Military Ball Here Tonight

Play Proceeds To Be Given to Campus Chest

Proceeds from "The Little Foxes" and four one-act plays, to be presented the week of May 21, will be donated to the recently re-activated Campus Chest, Professor Will Foley, director of the Drama Guild, announced today.

The celebrated Broadway success by Lillian Hellman and the one-acts will commemorate the Spring Drama Week, Foley said.

The one-act plays will be held May 21 and 23 at the C. J. Strauss Memorial Auditorium with "The Little Foxes" taking the spotlight May 24, 25 and 26. Admission is 50 cents for students and 85 cents for adults. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Drama Guild or at the door.

The cast for "The Little Foxes" includes Clara Lou Adams, Wilson Hamilton, Liz Davies, Don Tamburro, Thomas Sansone, and Eleanor Angelo. Lou Mahar and Susie Freeman are featured in "The Terrible Meek", a one-act drama directed by Wilson Hamilton.

Jean Vargo, Phyllis Gossnell, Francis Barnot and Harold Brooks star in a comedy satire directed by Bill Shaughnessy, "If Women Worked as Men Do". Featured in a humorous retaliation, "If Men Played Cards as Women Do", are Willis Biddlestone, George Tomski, Jim Schaffer, and John Opriz. The cast for the fantasy, "Hunter", has not yet been announced.

Students Elect Seven Council Representatives

Independent members of Student Council for the fall semester, '51 and the spring semester, '52 were recently chosen at a student election.

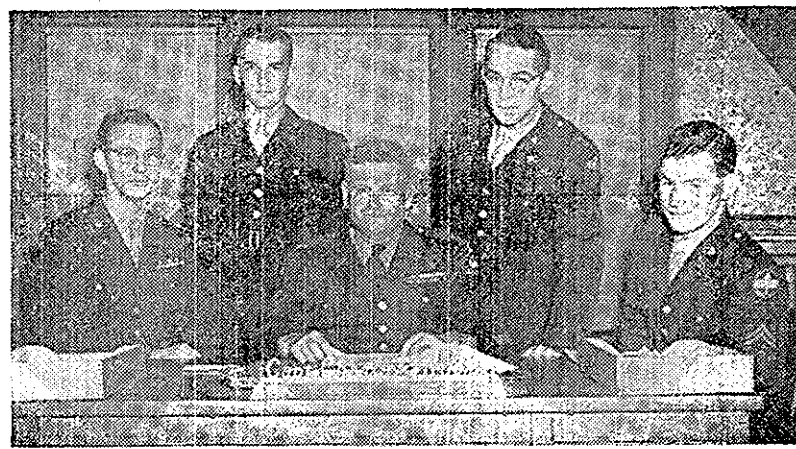

The new members are Emery Braidich, Lawrence Lesh, Robert Pintar, George Bregar, Arthur Lambrecht, Bernard Paluszuk and Dominic Martin. The first Student Council meeting for these students will be Friday, May 25.

Campus 'Chase,' ROTC Guard Form New Features of May Day Here

Colorful pageantry, musical entertainment and a "May Day Chase", in which Youngstown College students will vie for the honor of crowning the 1951 May Queen, will highlight the afternoon May Day ceremonies Tuesday, May 29.

"The Chase", a novel twist in the usually tradition-bound May program, will consist of a search for hidden tokens about the campus. Seven four-man teams representing campus groups will attempt to return first to the queen, Miss Alice Zipay, with the recovered tokens.

The first team to present four tokens to Miss Zipay wins the right for its organization to name the man who will crown the May Queen. Clues in the form of rhymes will be given to the "chasers". Team members will be dressed in distinguishable costumes so that spectators may watch the progress of the chase.

Following traditional procedure Miss Zipay will be attended by four other senior girls chosen by the upperclassmen. The court includes: Maxine Blair, Kathy Shabala, Evelyn Downie and Mary Jo Davin. The royal procession will carry the customary floral chain. Members of the Reserved Officer Training Corps will form an honor guard for the queen and her attendants.

The Youngstown College Orchestra and Chorus will provide musical entertainment. Refreshments will be available during the program.

The public is cordially invited to attend the festivities to be held on the spacious Pollock grounds at Wick Ave.

Canfield Actors Play "On Borrowed Time"

"On Borrowed Time," starring the Canfield Players, will play tonight at the Roxy Theater in Canfield, O. The curtain goes up at 8:30.

Tickets for the production are on sale at the college cashier's office. The Youngstown College Art Club is sponsoring the play.

Charley Pickens Plays At Formal; State, Local Dignitaries Invited

Martial spirit will highlight the first annual "Military Ball" held on the Youngstown College campus tonight at Stambaugh Auditorium.

Sponsored by the Reserve Officers Training Corps unit on campus, the formal affair begins at 9 p.m. A grand march is scheduled for intermission.

Red Cross Will Offer Life-Saving Classes To Advanced Swimmers

Special Senior Life Saving Classes for advanced swimmers are being sponsored by the Madding Chapter of the American Red Cross, Dr. Craig C. Wales, chairman of Safety Services, announced recently.

The classes will be held weekly at the YMCA beginning May 17 at 8:00 p.m. They are open to all YoCo students without cost. Graduates from the classes will be given the opportunity to act as assistant instructors in the official Red Cross summer program.

After receiving the life saving certificate, students are eligible for enrollment in the Water Safety Instructor course. The dates for this have not yet been scheduled.

Invitations have been sent to state and congressional dignitaries and to local government officials.

Charley Pickens and his Orchestra will provide the dance music. Members of the ROTC and other branches of the armed services will wear uniforms. Flowers will be given to the girls and refreshments will be available throughout the evening.

Captain Charles E. H. Jones, of the ROTC staff is directing arrangements. Reserve unit members assisting him are Jack Roth, Emmett Shaffer, Robert Cooksey, Jack Rist, John Adams and Dick Brush.

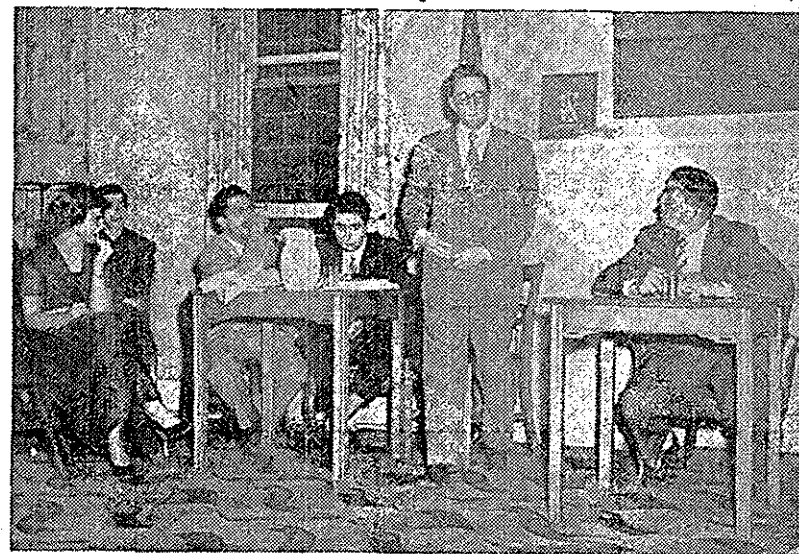

U. S. Steel Interviews

Wednesday, May 9, U. S. Steel will interview for summer employment, anyone still interested, please come to the Placement Office before that date for application.

Jury Acquits Editor, Josie Frazzini In Mock Trial At Newman Club Meeting

The defense attorney concluded his case with two testimonial letters from Father DeCrane's superior and the president of Youngstown College stating that they admired the Newman Club "Not Guilty" was the verdict in a mock trial in which Father Arthur B. DeCrane, Newman Club director, "sued" Josie Frazzini and the editor of the JAMBAR for $50,000 in damages to his Josie Frazzini, star defense witness, testified that she had absolutely no malicious intentions in the article in question nor in any article that appeared in the column since she began writing it. The cross-examiner had attempted to prove that Miss Frazzini had been conducting a campaign of ridicule against the Newman Club by slandering its officers and finally its director, Father DeCrane.

Attention Veterans

Letters are being sent this week to all P.L. No. 346 veterans explaining briefly the new VA regulations concerning the cut-off date, July 25th. Read your letter carefully and ask for clarification if needed; we'll be glad to help you.

Remember, if you are in school this semester you will not have to attend this summer, provided you complete the present term. However, you must re-enter this Fall, under the G.I. Bill to protect your entitlement. If you re-enter this summer or when you return this fall, you must remain in school on a continuous basis. Summers may be skipped but no semester. William G. Seniors Upset Faculty In Brunch Softball Tilt

The graduating seniors edged the faculty 12-10 in the annual Faculty-Student softball game at the Bare Brunch outing Tuesday.

Bruno DeMolli led the winners with six runs batted in, including two home runs. The winners out-hit the teachers 18-11. Eli Danilov also homered for the seniors.

Harry Meshel twirled for the faculty with E. B. Smith catching. John Pastori opened for the students and was relieved by Steve Mavrigin in the fifth inning. Chuck Perazich received.

Other faculty members who played were Dean Robert Miller, Mr. Braden, Mr. Nelson, Mr. Yosiwiak, Mr. Schwartz, Mr. Beard, Mr. Hahn, Rev. Linder, Dean Smith, Dr. Reilly and Mr. Hawkinson.

QUESTION: WHAT DO YOU INTEND TO DO THIS SUMMER?

JO ANNE FABIAN (Jr.) Full of Activity

A better question couldn't have been asked. This summer is going to be full of activity for me. As soon as school is out I am going to do some traveling with my parents. We plan on touring the United States and visiting Nova Scotia. I hope this will help improve my educational practice. If I find any extra time this summer I will use it to further my singing career.

LILLIAN BLICKA (Fr.) Swimming and Loafing

Although it is not definite, I am planning to work as a playground director this summer. You can be sure that there will be many days spent at the swimming pool and just plain loafing. Later on in the summer I will join my family on a tour throughout the New England region. By this time I should be ready for my textbooks.

ROSALIE CENTOFANTI (Fr.) Fresh Air - Atlantic City

This summer I plan on doing recreation work at one of the local playgrounds. I enjoy this type of work because I never tire of being around children. This also combines work with pleasure since I will be out in the open all the time enjoying all the fresh air and other benefits that summer brings. Then, if there's enough summer left, I'd like to take a trip to Atlantic City.

ANTHONY FASLINE (Sr.) Summer - An Illusion

Summer was made to be spent on the golf course, at the lake shore, and on the tennis courts. However, government interference has made this an illusion. Classified as IA and induction set for September my pleasant dreams must be substituted with painful thoughts of classrooms, textbooks, and exams. I'm shy graduation by 12 hours and Uncle Sam, in his generosity, is allowing me to spend this summer academically to gain my degree.

MIKE ZOCKLE (Jr.) Temperature Is Only Change

As far as I'm concerned, the temperature will be the only change for me this summer. I plan on continuing my education throughout the summer months. Being so near completion for my degree gives me the incentive needed to swap books for books. So far Uncle Sam hasn't been breathing down my neck, but of course I haven't looked in my mail box for ten minutes.

"DOC" RILEY (Fr.) No Definite Plans

So far I have been busy with my studies and approaching exams that I haven't given this summer much thought. However it is definite that I will work a major portion of the summer months. As to where I am going to work, I don't know. I do have my application in at several establishments but haven't had an answer as yet.

Are You Guilty?

Only one out of five eligible voters in this city went to the polls to vote in the primaries this week. This adds up to the fact that there are some 60,000 ungrateful, unpatriotic, people in this city who ignore their right to claim a voice in our Democratic nation. If this is the case, a minority of the people of the United States are determining the elections.

Why don't more citizens vote? This question appears again and again in American history and still not a substantial reason has been found. Too many of us are indifferent and let someone else do their bidding. Still, we must admit that for one reason or another some can't get to the polls. However, this situation has been alleviated to a great extent.

Every American citizen should express his opinions on public issues in the form of the ballot. He ought not ever miss it. Don't be one of the 60,000 citizens who picked up the newspapers following election night and shouted "Good grief, look who got elected to office!" Don't be forced to wonder how this will have a bearing on you in the future. It can't be hidden. It takes very little time to place a "X" to strengthen your nation and your family.

Don't Pass Up This Chance

An opportunity to continue their education is being offered college students in the Selective Service Qualifications Test. This test is being held on four different days at convenient testing centers throughout the country. It has been recommended to local draft boards by the President as part of the standard in considering college students for deferment. Class standing was also suggested.

Most of the draft-eligible students on this campus have already applied to take this exam, but a few have not. Some seem to feel that it is not worthwhile to take the exam or they will not benefit by taking it. Others think the deferment program is merely temporary and students will be drafted anyway.

Granted that the military situation may change anytime due to international developments, it is still foolish to pass up the opportunity to display a sincere interest in pursuing an education by passing up the examination. No one knows just what will happen in world politics. College students are forced to accept the word of experts on the military situation. These experts (Major Gen. Lewis B. Hershey included) predict no immediate drastic increase in the military needs of this country.

Students who second-guess the experts, then, and take the pessimistic viewpoint that they'll be drafted anyway are ignoring solid advice and trusting in their own analyses of world events.

There is another possibility overlooked, perhaps, by some students. This is the possibility of a change in the presidential directive to consider both the test results and class standing. Draft boards would definitely hesitate to defer a student who didn't bother to take the test.

Students graduating this June are hesitating to apply for the test also. Many aren't sure whether or not they will attend graduate school. They feel that the test might interfere with the 30-day deferment provided or choose another branch of the service. General Hershey has urged ALL students who intend to continue their education to take the exam. If there is a possibility that a senior might want deferment he should take the test. The local board has not indicated that they will penalize anyone for taking the test.

All things considered, a student has nothing to lose and everything to gain by applying to take the deferment examination.

Dean Smith Elected To Advisor Post By NSA Region; Local Delegates Attend

Dr. Joseph E. Smith, dean of Youngstown College, has been elected to the Ohio regional advisory council of the United States National Student Association. Youngstown College students who attended the two-day spring assembly at John Carroll University last week include: Bill Dailey, vice-president of the Ohio region; Joe Gerek, Kathy Shabala and Robert Clayton, delegates, and Caroline Clark, alternate. Undergraduates of 13 colleges and universities attended.

The Ohio Region of USNSA deplored the hold-up of a grant of food grains to India from America. The assembly finally declared its belief that the ideals of our association, our country, and of international humanitarianism called upon the Congress of the United States to answer India's plea for food grants immediately.

The assembly also endorsed Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey's selective service directive of March 31 making possible the deferment of college students on the basis of a national test and scholastic standing.

Student Council President Bill Dailey, reporting on the Student Affairs Commission, stressed that there was a general need for revision of activities financing in a number of participating schools;

Dean Smith that students should participate in planning of assembly programs in developing school spirit; and he also observed that cheating was

by JOSIE and "DOOTIE"

Well, it's about that time again. Yep, time for another column and another JAMBAR, so here we are to tell you what we found while looking around.

The latest rage at YoCo seems to be the wind-breaker jacket. All the girls are wearing them. The campus looks like a rainbow.

If you YoCoites are looking for a good bargain in jewelry go to see Felix Buttar and tell him you're from YoCo. He'll give you a square deal every time. (Voices of experience.)

Noticed the snazzy chartreuse and blue salt and pepper shakers in the cafeteria? They were placed there by the Alpha Pi Epsilon Service Sorority. Let's see that these aren't stolen the way the phone pads were. Thanks girls.

YoCoites score again! Four students will dance as part of the entertainment for the McKelvey May Dance at Idora Park. The dancers are ELAINE CASEY, TOM DOHAR, DON BECK and MARY CIBULAS.

RUTHIE WEAR sure made a purty dude at the Bare Brunch. Why Ruthie, ol gal, ya almost looked natcheral.

Believe it or not, DOROTHY VROSS was seen with creases in her blue jeans. Honest!

Military Ball

Tonight's THE night. The night of the ROTC Military Ball. The dance will be held at Stambaugh Auditorium and admission is only five dollars per couple. (The ROTC will present flowers to all the ladies present.) Come on fellows, grab your best girl (or someone else's) and we'll see you there.

Did you know that RED TYRELL is an authority on how to raise a brat? He didn't gain his knowledge through practical experience, he read a book dealing with the subject. He claims his mother was the author. No comment.

Speaking of books — MEL MAMULA is going to write a book on 'How to Make an Egg Omelette' or 'I Can Make a Better One Than the Bartender'. Ask Mel to explain, we don't have enough room.

Pavilion Notes

This year's Bare Brunch had some fascinating details. Besides the various softball games played by the Faculty and Seniors, ROTC, and sororities and frats, etc., "Root the Peg" managed by several ROTC cadets was a dandy. EMMETT SHAFFER and JIM SCALISE were the staunch "rooters" all the time. Why didn't JOE SACCHINI, AL YURKO or DAVE MASSARO join in?—Scardy Cats! The ROTCees even went so far as to play golf. At least Brother BOB did.

We could say something about Father DeCRANE's appearance, but one law suit is enough. From latest reports he intends to appeal the case. You can't win, Father! . . . Little "Fermer" was there. She now manipulates a new Ford. The gal can afford it now that she works. Some lucky people! . . . The day was beautiful. We only hope they had enough food.

We wonder why GORDON BUGBY doesn't go to school with his tiny—and we do mean tiny—motor scooter. He used to take it to high school. Maybe he has outgrown it since. Anyway, his brother DAVE, a cute Memorial High Sophomore, can make use of it.

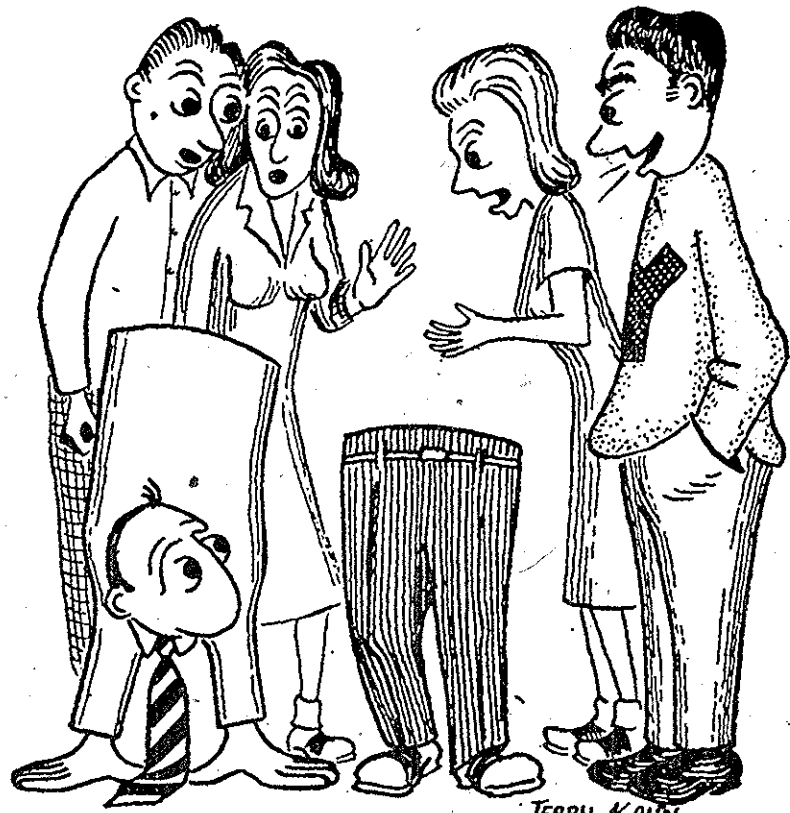

You Can Recognize Them By:

- BILL STORMER his sheepish grin
- JIM CAPPY bright red crop of hair
- ALICE ZIPAY sweet demureness. (She's the May Queen, you know)
- RUTHIE WEAR her "fresh as a daisy" appearance
- CLIFF SAUNDERS "A" marks
- PAT GILBOY always talking
- BOB VAN SUCH with friend Mickey
- PAUL SAVKA his psychological dissertations in the cafeteria
- MARK MARKOS his stately appearance
- MARILYN NOBLE sharp dresser

When Spring is in the air, everyone takes off for Mill Creek . . . The accountants for their annual breakfast, the geologists for their study of rocks and the earth, and the astronomers who study the moon . . . or are they astrologists? Hmm.

The daily concerts presented in the Auditorium were enjoyable. It's too bad more people do not appreciate good music.

YoGo Political Students Attend Mock UN Meet

John Petten and Emmett Shaffer, political science students and members of the International Relations Club of Youngstown College, represented the college at the Third Annual Tri-state Area United Nations Mock Assembly held at Hiram College recently. Thirty-six nations were represented by 96 delegates from 24 different colleges of Ohio, Indiana, and Michigan.

Some of the participating students who are studying in colleges of the United States were from Liberia, Persia, Norway, Sweden, England, Japan, and other foreign countries.

The Assembly of students approved the following: the adoption of a United Nations army; decided against Red China being represented in the United Nations; decided that a commission should be established to study the economic and social problems of Korea; that a commission should be established to investigate all disputes which might lead to armed conflict among member and non-member countries of the United Nations to determine whether or not these disputes are susceptible to mediation, and approved the Declaration of Human Rights as a part of the United Nations agenda.

Reporter Sent to Review Drama Returns with Expense Account

Expense Account—
To: one Jim Mahoney, editor of the Jambar, Youngstown College, Youngstown, Ohio.

From: One Jambar reporter
Item I — 12 cents—bus fare back to college at 9:00 p. m. (reason—rehearsal for "The Little Foxes".)

Item II—40 cents for shoe repair (reason—walk from Green room to auditorium and back).

Item III—Three hours spent away from homework (reason—couldn't tear myself away from rehearsal).

Item IV—Tip—forget the other items and save that 50 cents (the price of viewing "The Little Foxes" in its entirety)—you won't regret it.

Even at an early rehearsal, it wasn't difficult to see the skillful workings of a really good melodrama. (And that's the correct spelling too. There aren't any moustache twisting villains or fainting heroines in this play!)

"The Little Foxes" was written by Lillian Hellman, author of such hits as "Another Part of the Forest" and "The Children's Hour". It was heralded as one of the most outstanding contemporary plays on Broadway when it was first staged with Tallulah Bankhead in 1939 and was received enthusiastically a few years later as a movie, starring Bette Davis.

Just Your Type

And there are the most delightful characters in it, Mr. Mahoney. For instance, take Regina (Clara Lou Adams), the heroine, who's sweet, power-mad, and sadistic; or her husband, Horace (Wilson Hamilton), who used to be a gentleman until he met his wife; or Ben (Don Tamburro), Regina's brother, who doesn't mind making a dollar once in a while, especially if he can cheat his brothers in the process; or Oscar, another member of the illustrious Hubbard family, who's usually the goat in most affairs but doesn't mind as long as money is entailed.

There's Leo (Thomas Sansone), Oscar's son, an unsavory chap following right along in Papa's footsteps; and Birdie (Liz Davies), Oscar's wife, who's so crushed by the demonic atmosphere that she too has become weak and victimized. In fact the only uncorrupted character in the whole play is Alexandra (Eleanor Angelo), Regina's daughter, who's young enough and sensible enough to escape while she can.

The action of the play takes place in the deep South and Mr. Foley, director of "The Little Foxes," has some terrific plans for the scenery and costumes.

Remember the dates too—May 24, 25, and 26. And if you can't find a member of the Drama Guild, you can buy your ticket at the door. Pretty neat too—wonderful entertainment and for a good cause—the college Campus Chest.

Students Taking Draft Test Must Apply By Next Tuesday; Extra Date Is Added

Applications to take the Selective Service Qualification Test should be postmarked not later than Tuesday, May 15, officials of local draft boards announced. The examinations, scheduled for May 26, June 16 and 30, will be considered as evidence in postponing the induction of college students for the academic year 1951-52.

One additional testing date, Thursday, July 12, has been added exclusively for the benefit of those whose religious beliefs do not permit them to take the test on a Saturday. The other three dates are all Saturdays.

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, national director of Selective Service, has urged all draft-eligible college students to take the examination as evidence of their sincerity in pursuing their education. Local draft officials report that most of Youngstown College's draft-age men have applied for the examination.

Gen. Hershey, in a radio broadcast April 29, explained that so far, Congress had not limited or changed the testing plan as it was introduced by President Truman. "The Congressional amendment providing that the local board was not bound by the results of the test did not change the plan," Hershey explained.

Board Has Last Say

The general pointed out that, under the Selective Service Act, the local board has the final word on all such decisions. The President's executive order, therefore, read that the local board "may" consider either the test score or classroom performance as evidence of a draftee's sincere pursuit of a college education.

To be eligible to take the Selective Service Qualifications test, an applicant:

- (1) Must be a registrant who intends to request occupational deferment as a student;
- (2) Must be under 26 years old at the time of taking the test;
- (3) Must have already begun and plan to continue his college or university studies (the applicant need not be in a four-year college but his entire course must be satisfactory for transfer of credits to a degree-granting institution);
- (4) Must not previously taken the test.

Selective Service headquarters emphasize the fact that EITHER his score on the test OR his class standing may be factors in deciding the postponing of a student's induction. Draft officials have pointed out that a student has nothing to lose and everything to gain by taking the test.

If the wording of the order is later changed to BOTH the test score AND the class standing, a student who does not have a test score on file may be considered insincere in his educational pursuit and could possibly be drafted before he completed his college education.

Should Score 70

A score of 70 on the qualifications test has been recommended to the local boards as the dividing line for deferment of undergraduate students on the basis of the test. Students seeking entrance to graduate school are expected to score 75 or better on the examination.

The 70 score has been compared by officials of the Educational Testing Service (authors of the test) to a score of 120 on the Army General Classification Test of World War II. General Hershey reported that only 16 per cent of the men in the armed forces scored at or above this point. He added, however, that research done on the test indicated that it would be about the average score of college freshmen.

Under the provisions now in effect, class standing will be a definite factor regardless of the test score of a student. The following are requirements in school standing announced by Gen. Hershey:

STUDENT IN PROFESSIONAL SCHOOL—Certificates from school that he is satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction leading to his graduation.

STUDENT IN GRADUATE SCHOOL—Certificate from school that he currently is meeting degree requirements and is expected to obtain his degree.

STUDENT SEEKING ADMISSION TO GRADUATE SCHOOL—Scholastic standing in upper-half of male members of his class.

STUDENT PURSUING FIVE OR SIX YEAR UNDERGRADUATE COURSE—Scholastic standing in the upper three-fourths of the male members of his class.

The future of high school graduates is uncertain until Congress completes passage of legislation now being debated. However, Hershey believes that virtually no high school graduate expecting to enter college this fall will be reached for induction before the fall session opens. The provisions currently in effect postpone a student's induction until the end of the academic year in which he is called.

Off the Record . . .

by JIM McGINTY

And there I was, standing in the cafeteria minding my own business, when some large unsavory character approaches me with a look of determination in both eyes. You know the type—they look like gentlemen, but usually wear sport coats and have a beautiful set of molars. A typical brute.

Anyway, this little giant had a problem. It seems he had just listened in on a conversation between a few music students and was completely bewildered by their strange language. Naturally I explained to him that we speak English up at the music school too, but he was doubtful of the probability. His reason for the sudden outburst was caused by the fact that as he walked in the front door of the music school he noticed three young gentlemen standing near a classroom—with each asking and answering questions at a rapid-fire pace.

The dialogue ran something like this: Hey man, what's the latest—why noth'in dad—noth'in—say, you know that gig I cut last P.M.—wow, what a deal—the joint was all stags and no drags—plus coca-cola. And the loot—the worst—what a low blow. I've played at Irish funerals and got more kicks. Yea—noth'in happens. Oh, oh there's the gong—got to amble to class an catch some flatted ninth's. Ok man, meet me about 10:52 in the caff and we'll break bread over a cup of joy juice. You're on cat, I dig ya.

Unquote—Then, so as not to hurt his feelings, I casually asked him—"so what else is new"—ha ha—I made a fun-ny, I made a fun-ny. I am now starting the second chapter of my new book entitled, "HOW TO LOSE FRIENDS AND INFLUENCE FRIENDS". You will also notice that on Monday thru Friday I wear my left eyelid at half-mast—that's to respect the living, boy, not the dead.

Dr. E. B. Smith and Prof. Zenos E. Hawkinson, members of the history department faculty of Youngstown College recently, attended the Pittsburgh World Affairs Forum sponsored by the Foreign Policy Association of Pittsburgh which met at the Hotel William Penn. Youngstown College students who also attended, are James Simon and Marjorie Brimmer.

Some of the outstanding persons who will be speakers at the Forum are Nelson Rockefeller, Madam Pandit, ambassador from India and sister of Nehru, Assistant Secretary of State Dean Rusk, and presidential adviser Averill Harriman.

You Can't Teach if You Use Words with One Set of Sounds

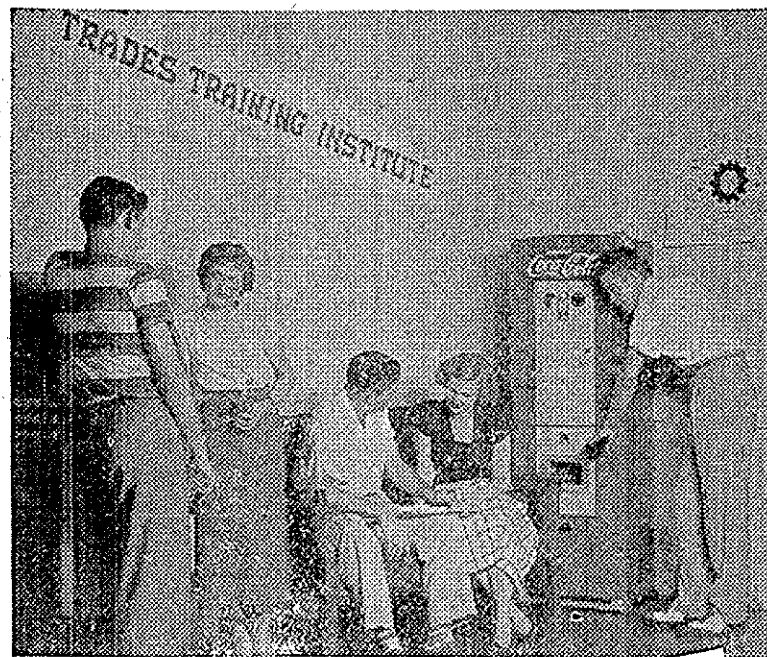

There has been much doubt cast, of late, on the speech of a few men who teach school, as to their use of words with more than one set of sounds. Some claim that these men try to use such words to foul up those who are in their class.

I talked, though, with a "prof" who has had much to do with the how's and why's of school life and, since he taught school for some time, he should know this theme well. (His class was in how to teach the art of plant life.) This is what he had to say:

"Words," he said, "are of much use to us. But to say what we want to say, we must choose just the right words. It has turned out, in the speech we use, that words with more than one set of sounds mean much more than words with but one set. So that we have found in school when we wish to make a point clear to a class, we can best do so by the use of words with three or four sets of sounds.

So the next time you hear the cry that a "prof" makes use of vast groups of words with more than one set of sounds, tell the one who is "picked on" that this trait is the sign of a man who knows how things are done and that one who can't get what he says is deaf or will not be at any time, a man who has broad views of life or cash in the bank.

With the ENGINEERS . . .

by Ted Herman
On April 30 and May 1, 1951 the Strength of Materials Laboratory classes under the capable direction of Professor Benkner went to the Brier Hill Metallurgical Department of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company. The group was greeted by Mr. Roy Williams, assistant chief metallurgist of the company and ten company policemen. The officers directed the cars of the student Engineers to a special parking place and made sure that no one was injured during the tour.

The group was shown a company-invented machine which measured the stress of pipes of various sizes. This machine is believed to be the only one of its kind that exists in the United States, which is really a great achievement in this field. A graphical demonstration by a recording machine of the curves produced by tensile stresses was also shown to the group.

This would be quite an innovation for our strength laboratory due to the fact that the students would not have to make any graphs correctly or otherwise.

The tour was very interesting, the reception very friendly and I hope that in the future we will have repetition of these trips as it leaves an everlasting impression upon the minds of Youngstown College Engineering students.

We, the Engineering students and Professor Benkner want to thank you, Mr. Williams and the company for making these tours possible. I am sure that the forthcoming Strength Laboratory classes will look forward to taking this tour.

Seniors Present Theses
A reminder to those people who might have forgotten . . . On May 15, 1951 theses representing all the fields of engineering will be presented by seven graduating seniors. This program will be held in the Strous Memorial Auditorium at 2:00 p.m.

Ted Gerwing and Walter Vangeloff will represent the Electrical engineering department while William Dell, Cassius Whitehill, William Heintzelman, Glenn Johnson and John Ellsworth will represent the metallurgical, mechanical, industrial, civil and chemical engineering departments respectively.

Each man will give an informal abstract of his thesis. This will let the juniors know some of the fun and backaches in writing a thesis.

Preceding this part of the program Mr. O. W. Irwin, President of the Rail Bar Steel Association will give a talk and show a film titled "Rail Steel in the World of Today". Youngstown College's own Dr. Stearns is a life long friend of Mr. Irwin's and he assures everyone who attends an enjoyable afternoon.

The Mahoning Valley Technical Societies has donated to the library of this school volumes of "The Transactions of the A. I. W. I. American Institute of Electrical Engineers" from the years 1918 to 1921. The Federal Machine and Welding Company of Warren, O.

Rabbi Will Present His "Observations" At Next Assembly

The assembly speaker on Wednesday, May 16th will be Rabbi Samuel Silver, assistant rabbi of the Euclid Avenue Temple in Cleveland. Rabbi Silver has chosen to speak on "Observations of a Rabbi."

Rabbi Silver is a native of Wilmington, Delaware. He is a graduate of the University of Delaware and was ordained at the Hebrew Union College in 1940. He was director of the Hillel Foundation at the University of Maryland from 1940 to 1942. He also served as U. S. Army Chaplain from 1942 to 1946 with the infantry in Hawaii, and Leyte, Philippine Islands. He is now assistant to Rabbi Barnett R. Brickner at the Euclid Avenue Temple in Cleveland.

In the afternoon Rabbi Silver will be in the office of Reverend Albert Linder for conferences with any who may wish to talk with him. Appointments may be made through Miss Henderson in Rev. Linder's office Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings.

Veteran Factor Is Dropping Noticeably In Enrollment Picture, Registrar Says

Enrollment at Youngstown College, as at most colleges and universities throughout the country, will drop next September, according to Registrar P. P. Buchanan.

The approximately 600 seniors graduating this June, the administration official estimates, will not be balanced by the number of entering freshmen. Mr. Buchanan has recently been speaking to senior high school classes on the value of a college education.

Although the draft and reserve calls have dwindled and will continue to sap the manpower and American colleges, high school freshmen will have greater incentive than before to enroll. Mr. Buchanan expressed doubt that this situation would be beneficial to colleges, however.

Must Have Sincere Motive
"A high school student should not enroll in college just to escape the draft for a year or so. I believe definitely in a college education," he explained, "but education should be the motive to go to college."

The Registrar indicated that the veteran component in college was noticeably diminishing. He has interviewed many veterans lately concerning the July 25 deadline for beginning their education under the G.I. Bill.

The great majority of veterans who are sincerely interested in gaining an education under their VA letter of authorization have already begun their schooling, according to Mr. Buchanan. The late-comers, he believes, will not, for the most part, be a significant factor in college.

Want to Vacation in Europe? Travel Council Offers Tours

New York—There are still many openings for students to join a group going abroad this summer, according to a Bulletin issued this week by the Council on Student Travel.

Whether a student wants to bicycle through Europe, use his muscles in an international work camp, study economics and social conditions, or study art, he will find a wide variety of organizations prepared to offer the kind of experience he is looking for.

The Council is sponsoring two low-cost student ships which will carry more than 3500 students and teachers to Europe and back this summer for a minimum fare of $115 each way. In addition to a large number of organized groups, the ship will carry several hundred individual students and teachers traveling to Europe for summer school sessions or for other purposes.

The ships will sail from New York on June 8, June 25 and July 6 to Le Havre, Southampton and Bremerhaven. Westbound sailings will leave Le Havre for Southampton and New York August 25 and September 7.

College Credit Offered
Listed in the Council's Bulletin are travel opportunities offered by more than a dozen American organizations and two foreign governments. There are seminars and study groups for which participants may receive college credit; work camps, in which students help to build schools, playgrounds, or other community facilities. Other groups will spend the summer on tour, studying the particular fields of interest for which they are organized.

Projects are being held in almost every country of Europe, the British Isles, the Middle East, the Far East, South Africa, Central and South America and Canada.

One hundred American students are invited to Austria for a three-weeks vacation free of charge and Yugoslavia has also invited American students to join Yugoslav students in a work camp, or on cruises and vacations at summer resorts. Special railroad and hotel rates are available for students throughout Yugoslavia.

Copies of the Bulletin and information about the student ships and student travel in general can be secured from the Council on Student Travel, 53 Broadway, New York 6, New York, or from campus newspapers.

SIGMA DELTA BETA—(S)

The Sig Deltas recently held a brother-sister picnic with the Gamma Sigs, Phi Lamps, and Phi Gams at the Pioneer pavilion in Mill Creek park. The highlight of the afternoon was the traditional dunking party at the nearby creek. George Fiora, Joan Klein, and Dahlia Vitucci showed exquisite swimming form.

Bob Battiluna was the host for a stag party on Friday, May 4. Everyone enjoyed Bob's well planned program which unveiled a new song and dance sensation in Tony 'Slim' Massaro. At this same party Tom Doran gave an interesting demonstrative speech entitled, "How to Keep Clean While Handling Burn't Christmas Trees."

Doctor 'Frosty' Hall has discovered a new philosophy on how to get the most out of life. He claims that, "you must sleep eight hours a week, work as little as possible, and attend all the formal social functions." He also advocates, "you can determine a person's social rank by the rings around his eyes." Could be!

PHI GAMMA—(S)

Our pledges returned from the four corners of the Earth just in time to attend the installation banquet. This affair was held at the Silver Star last Sunday night. Welcome to new brothers: Bill Snyder, Tom Creed, Dan Dundon, Tom Dundon, Bob Wake, Bud Mayberry, and Tino Powers.

We are going to enter Tom Dundon in a flag pole sitting contest. This boy really has talent when it comes to climbing.

Phi Gamma Bowling team number 2 took second place in the intra-mural bowling league.

Get the rope and the feathers Jack, we are off to Hollywood to star in a new film production entitled "College Days".

Our annual Mothers Day picnic will be held this Sunday at Hawkins Lake. All Mothers please round up their sons in time for school on Monday. The lake will be dragged punctually at 10 p.m.

Thirty days hath September, April, June and November. We have only twenty-six. Whoopee!!!

KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA—(S)

With all the social events, beautiful weather, and jobs taking up so much time, we Kappa Sigs feel that a committee should be formed to seek a way to fit school work into our over-taxed schedule. Yes, the sand is running low in the semester glass, so a word of encouragement is passed on. The grass is always greener on the other side of the road, or you don't have to study when you're not in school.

The ranks of the fraternity have swelled in the past week with the installation of eight new members who completed their pledging and hell week. Congratulations and welcome to Herb Williams, Harry Ritchey, Bill Latham, Chuck Beatrice, Dick Hill, Dick Westerman, Dick Cercone, and Bill Brigham.

A new precedent in social affairs will take place tonight at Stambaugh Ball Room. The brothers wish the R.O.T.C. luck and success in their adventure. Let's all go to the Military Ball.

PI BETA CHI—(S)

As much as we hate to admit it, hell week is over and with it hell night. From all reports the pledges really enjoyed themselves. We don't know if they are making an interior study of city jails, but they seem to be very good authority on the Struthers Calaboose. Ask them and see.

Now that it is all over, congratulations to our new brothers, Bill Williams, Chester Eckman, Tom Hoygt, and Jerry Welsh. A dinner dance at the Ma Perkins Chicken House will be given in their honor.

A very enjoyable time was had at a joint party with Alpha Iota. Refreshments and dancing highlighted the evening. Thanks to Audrey Sabja and Jack Wilson and their committees.

Bill Dell has been honored to bowl in the intercollegiate bowling league at Pittsburgh. Good Luck.

GAMMA SIGMA—(S)

The Gamma Sigs would like to thank all those who helped to make their third annual style show a great success.

Congratulations to the Gamma Sig pledges who seem to have survived "hell" night very well since Mary Po "Nurse" was on hand to provide the necessary medical attention.

Plans are being made for our annual dinner dance, the date to be decided later.

ternity elected new officers. Dom Martin was voted in as the new President. Other officers chosen were: Vice President, Milt Kochert; Secretary, Reese Williams; Treasurer, Mitchell Bolevich; Social Chairman, Ed Vantom; Historian, Bob Whittaker; Pledge Captain, Joe Arbie.

Congratulations go to Joe Arbie and Reese Williams for their splendid work on recent socials. Joe Arbie was chairman of the joint party with the Delta Chi Epsilon Business School Sorority held at the American Legion Hall in Hubbard on April 20. Reese Williams was chairman of the Stag Party given by the new brothers at the Krakusy Ballroom. The Social Committee has set June 20 as the date for the annual Dinner Dance to be held at Shusters.

PHI MU ALPHA SINFONIA

Delta Eta chapter of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia has set the date for its informal and formal initiation of pledges. The informal procedure will be held Friday evening, May 25. The formal initiation will be held Saturday afternoon, May 26 followed by a banquet in the college cafeteria.

The fraternity extends its best wishes to two of its members who left for the Air Force. Robert Fitzer and Sandy Stuart are at Lockland Air Force Base in Tex. for their basic training. After basic, they will be in the Robbins Air Force Base Band in Macon, Ga., which is reputed to be the second best band in the Air Force. Good luck, boys!

NU SIGMA RHO—(S)

At the last regular scheduled meeting, our pledges were formally installed in the fraternity. Congratulations to our new members and the fine fraternal spirit they showed during intermission.

Tentative plans were drawn up for a joint meeting and social with our alumni members to be held on May 16, at the American Legion Hall. A trip to Cleveland to see the Indians play the Yankees is also scheduled for Sunday, May 27. The whole fraternity plans to attend.

This spring weather and the loss of blood suffered by the fraternity has really taken the toll of the boys. If it wasn't for our cousins the Phi Gams we would still have a big goose egg in the win column. Thanks, boys. To top it all, one of the boys really cracked up. Brother Zockle much to our disappointment did the unbelievable and became engaged to Genevieve Tondi. You have our sincerest sympathy, Genny.

Congratulations to Bob Watson and his various committees for a swell Junior Prom. Also congratulations and the very best of luck to the newly chartered Omega Psi Phi Fraternity.

ALPHA THETA DELTA—(S)

Sunday, May 13 has been set aside for a date picnic. Installation of pledges and election of officers will be Tuesday, May 15. Sunt night, with actives, pledges and alumni participating will be May 22. Plans are also under way for our spring dinner dance.

The pledges gave a dinner party for the actives at Pollock Hall May 4. Thanks girls, nice job.

Sister Carla Fenstermaker has been having some gay escapades with June Bugs. Please restrict any further ones until after class, Carla. They're so distracting.

PHI SIGMA EPSILON—(S)

Officers for the coming year were elected at the last meeting. Our new executives are: Ter Herman, president; Phil Snyder, vice-president; Tony Kubilis, secretary; Tom Richardson, treasurer; Bob Anderson, historian; Bill Martin, sergeant-at-arms and social chairman.

Thanks to the retiring officers for the fine job they've done in directing the frat. We trust the new ones will live up to the standards set by their predecessors and we wish them the best of luck.

Local Sport Scene Parallels Creed Of Olympic Athletes

by George Mitchell

THE IMPORTANT THING IN THE OLYMPIC GAMES IS NOT WINNING BUT TAKING PART. THE ESSENTIAL THING IN LIFE IS NOT CONQUERING BUT FIGHTING WELL. BARON deCOUBERTIN

Printed above is the sportsman's creed which governs the Olympics but seems to be good only for laughs in the world today. No longer does it seem like the players are playing for the fun of the game but to see how bad they can beat their opponent.

We are fortunate at Youngstown College that there aren't any athletic scholarships to ruin the situation we have here. Once a boy learns to accept money for nothing the way is open to larger sums for still doing nothing. He is easy prey for gamblers and their kind of business.

Some of the larger colleges are breaking the rules which govern intercollegiate athletics that gives a boy a lucrative scholarship because the N.C.A.A. rules place a limit on the guarantees that a boy may get to attend a school. If the college breaks a rule to entice the boy to their campus he is being told that it is all right to cheat as long as you don't get caught. If we are to straighten out the sports scene we must start at the foundation and rebuild while weeding out the undesirable elements.

We have gone from an amateur, participation-sport ideal to a worship of the professional, with the emphasis on the score, no matter how arrived at. There was a time when "winning a letter" was on a par with a Phi Beta Kappa key. The football players all tried to play sixty minutes and if the home team was behind at half time the coach would put on an act to get the boys to die for dear ol' alma mammy that would do a vaudeville actor proud. Time, alumni associations, high prices, the emphasis on winning and the football pools have greatly changed all this.

YoCo I-M Bowlers To Defend Diadem In College Tourney

by Bob Clayton

This year twelve of YoCo's best bowlers are going to represent Youngstown College in the Intercollegiate Tournament on May 19 at the University of Pittsburgh. Last year in the tournament in Erie, Pa. YoCo's keggers came home with the championship by rolling a terrific 2936. This year's dozen are Delic, Zill, Webster, Vross, Yurcho, Kubilis, Herman, Curtis, Freisen, Hurltuk, Dell, and Martinko. Good luck, boys, here's hoping you bring back another championship.

Awards will be given for all of these outstanding performances at the annual bowling banquet on Sunday, May 13. Tony Zill announces that due to Mother's Day crowds at Ma Perkins the banquet will have to start at 8:00.

Laurels for high average go to Paul Delic who finished far out in front with 182. Our bowling secretary, Tony Zill, holds the runner-up position with a 174. Rounding out the top twelve averages are Webster, 168; Vross, 164; Yurcho, 163; Herman, 159.8; Freisen, 158.9; Curtis, 158.6; Hurltuk, 158.1; Dell, 156; Martinko, 155; and Broderick, 154.

Dan Hurajt nailed down high single game with a neat 239. Delic came close with a 237, and Freisen and Webster followed with 224's. Paul Delic, with consistent bowling, rolled a 641 for high individual set. Freisen entered the "600" circle with a 610, and Zill tossed a 603 for third place.

The champion Phi Sigs took high team set with 2620. Sigma Sigma No. 1 took second in both with 896 and 2537. Newman No. 1 followed the pattern and took third in both with 880 and 2525.

Congratulations go to all men and teams for a great season. See you all at the banquet!

Activity fees are spent. With some of the fine action that is displayed in the intramural leagues it is a shame that there isn't a larger interest in the student body as a whole. These fine spring afternoons would be a good time for those with free time to stop by Harrison field and root for their favorites. I was looking over one of those "Words Frequently Mispronounced" columns in the dictionary the other day and was taken aback to find that they had overlooked the one word that has proved the stumbling block in my otherwise mediocre diction: "Abominable".

"Well," you might say (YOU probably WOULD), "if the word troubles you so much, avoid it!" It's not that easy my friend. Do you mind so much me calling you 'friend'? You remind me so much of a person I knew back in Keokuk. Same eyes; same manner of talking; and your nose crinkles up in the same cute way when you laugh. It's really remarkable!

No. There's more to it than that. The word has become a challenge.

"Look old man," I say to myself, "you can do it! Don't let it throw you!" I often talk to myself that way. That's why some people shy away from me. You see they think I'm listening to 'The Voices' again. But I'm not! I haven't listened to the 'Voices' in

William Houser and Charles Zidian represented Father DeCrane, and the JAMBAR editor pleaded his own defense assisted by Sam Penrod and Ralph Petrucci. Joe Gorski acted as judge.

So why do you keep throwing "abominable" into my face? It's a stupid word really. Stupid and affected! And I don't relish talking about it any more than you relish listening to it! Abominable! Abdominal! Abba bombable! Abbaombable! Abbaun-inableleble! Ootchy - kootchy-Cooo! Xsymononibubbidybubbity boo!

... Are you sure you've never been to Keokuk?
