

Dance Tops Homecoming CARROLL HOMECOMING FOE TONIGHT

Royalty Will Reign Tonight

Reigning as King and Queen for the 13th annual Youngstown College Homecoming celebration are Pat Ogyg and George Ceremuga. Chosen by the combined results of a popular vote and judging at a series of teas, they will be crowned at half-time ceremonies tonight when Youngstown College faces John Carroll. They will also reign at the annual Homecoming dance after the game.

King, Queen In Spotlight

Reigning as queen of YoCo's 13th annual Homecoming celebration is Patricia Ogyg, sophomore art major. George Ceremuga, a junior physical education major, will co-reign with her as homecoming king. Miss Ogyg will be crowned at half time during the Youngstown-John Carroll game tonight, and Ceremuga will receive his crown at the intermission of the dance, following the game.

As editor of the 1954 Neon, member of Phi Mu sorority, R.I.L. and the Booster Club, Miss Ogyg is a busy lady. She's the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Ogyg, 132 Marion Dr., Poland, and is originally from Montreal, Canada.

Is Footballer

Ceremuga, a member of the football squad and this year's captain, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ceremuga, 121 N. High St., Greenville, Pa. He graduated from St. Michael High School, Greenville, in 1949, and is treasurer of Newman Club.

Attending the royalty will be Leona Gilboy, Joan Lantz, Cookie Karody, Virginia Shelar and Dolly D'Antonio. Dick Troxil, Ray Schindell and Jack Calpin were candidates for king.

Were Past Queens

Other homecoming queens through the years include Marie Barrett, first queen, 1938, (now Mrs. John Marsh), Margret Ann Lovell, 1939, (now Mrs. Wm. J. Smith), Adalaide Finnegan, 1940, (Mrs. John Denmeade), Jean Belleville, 1941, (Mrs. Wm. Kelley), and Mary Dolwick, 1942, (Mrs. Paul Leonhart).

Wanda Foremski was 1946 queen, Martha Altman, 1947, (Mrs. Wayne Ridinger), Peggy Biga, 1948, (Mrs. R.D. Cooper).

Navy Officer Procurement Section Here

Representatives of the Navy's Office of Naval Officer Procurement, Pittsburgh, will visit the campus today from 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. to talk to senior men and women interested in Naval Reserve commissions.

Lieutenant Commander Jane Boyd Roper, of the Wave Procurement Section, and Lieutenant G.J. Simonetti and David Porterfield, yeoman first class, of the Officer Procurement Section, will be available at the Placement Office, Second Floor, Annex Two.

Insure Opportunity

The Navy's objective is to insure that all college students have an opportunity to learn of the opportunities available to them in the various officer programs.

This year's royalty will be crowned by Joan Pokabla and Lou Lehner, last year's queen and king.

Bloodmobile Will Visit YoCo Wed.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Strouss Auditorium from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 4, to receive Youngstown College blood donors.

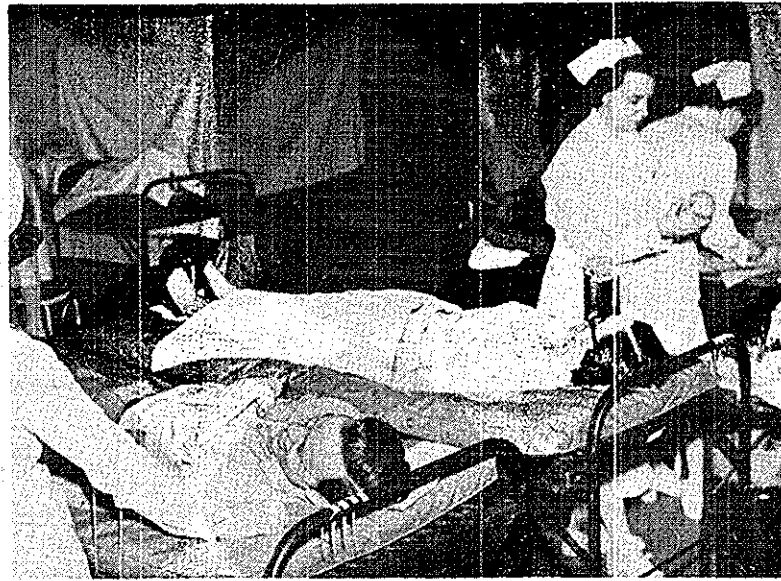

Members of the Scabbard and Blade, military organization sponsoring the visit, hope to exceed last year's donation when a record 169 pints were received.

Cadet Captains Joseph Knapic and Robert Yuhus were in the main hall last week to give students an opportunity to make appointments. Blood donations are set up for 15 minute intervals Wednesday and an appointment is not required.

Go Direct

Students who would like to give blood but have not registered are urged to go directly to the bloodmobile. All donors must be between the ages of 18 and 59.

Permission of a parent, legal guardian or spouse is required of all donors (Continued on Page 8)

Youngstown students contribute to the record 169 pints of blood which were donated when the Red Cross Bloodmobile visited here last Jan. It is hoped that this record contribution can be exceeded when the Bloodmobile is here Wednesday, Nov. 4.

Benny Jones Plays 13th Annual Dance

Dancing to the music of Benny Jones and his orchestra tonight at Stambaugh Auditorium will climax Homecoming 1953. The dance begins right after the ball game and will continue until 1 a.m.

The Homecoming game with John Carroll University will get under way at 8 p.m. An elaborate halftime program is being planned. It will include the parade of floats and convertibles, the judging of the floats, and presentation of returning alumni.

After the Homecoming court has been presented, the King and Queen will be crowned. Mayor Charles P. Henderson, who has performed this honor in years past, is expected to be on hand.

Floats Displayed

The floats will be displayed in front of Butler Art Institute, from noon to 3 p.m. today. Following this display there will be a parade of the floats to Rayen Stadium, where they will await tonight's game.

As the JAMBAR goes to press plans are about complete for the Pep Rally, 8 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 29, in the Wick Ave. parking lot. There will be music, singing and cheering around a bonfire. The Homecoming Queen and court will be introduced.

A Stag dance at Strouss Memorial Auditorium will follow the rally. Visiting alumni and students will attend the dance. Top name recording artists will be featured and refreshments will be served.

A large sale of tickets to alumni for the Homecoming Game tonight has been reported by the ticket sales office and a large delegation of former students is expected.

Many fraternal alumni groups have purchased blocks of tickets.

Tickets Reduced

Football tickets for tonight's game have been reduced to $2 for all Alumni, an alumni letter prepared by A.H. Kindler, homecoming ticket sales manager revealed.

Alumni Association telephone solicitors have made an effort to contact all known alumni to make the turnout for Homecoming as complete as possible.

S-C Reviews Methods Of Selections

A preliminary move in revising the present method of selecting queens, was made by Student Council last week.

A committee consisting of Kevin Ramsey, Shirley Orange, Tony Karotis and Virginia Shelar, was appointed by President Bill Bender to find a more acceptable method.

"Any student who has an idea for correcting the difficulties will be welcome to voice his views," Kevin Ramsey, committee chairman, announces.

Commendations were given to Charlotte Italiano, Joan Pokabla, and Alpha Pi Epsilon for their excellent work in arranging the Freshman Brunch.

Although limited by a small budget, the annual affair compared favorably with those of past years.

Martie Plays Frolic

The Social Committee announced that the date of the Snowflake Frolic has been moved from December 12 to December 4. "The change was made to secure the band of Ralph Marterie, who has been contracted to play at the dance," stated Mary Yaksick, chairman.

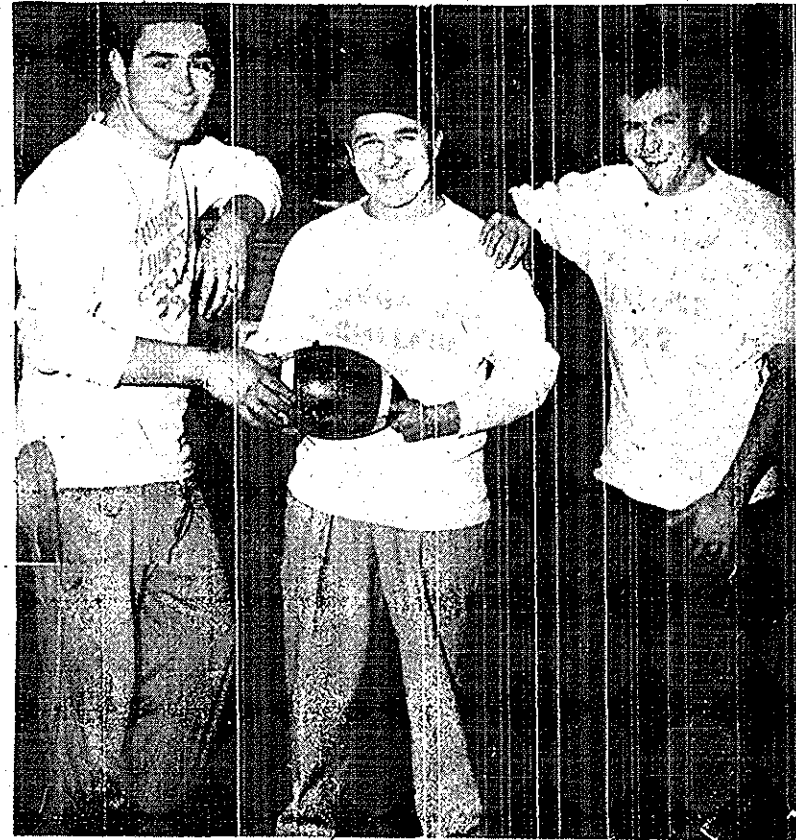

A plea for student aid concerning the parking situation was made by Ed Crooks. "Unless more parking reports are handed in to Council, a survey of parking conditions will be impossible," Crooks said.

YoCo's Rifle Team was placed in the level of other minor varsity sports. All members of the team will receive one honor point for each semester that they participate.

Tony Esposito, Constitution chairman, reminded all social and honorary groups that October 31, is the deadline to submit their charter reports.

The Jones Boys—Benny Jones and his ever popular orchestra will provide the music for the 13th Annual Homecoming Dance to be held tonight at Stambaugh Auditorium from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. The dance is open to all students, faculty and alumni of Youngstown College. Benny is well known in the Youngstown district as he consistently packs the house Saturday nights at Yankee Lake, where he has played for over ten years. He may also be seen at the Elms Ballroom. His orchestra combines fine musicianship and excellent arrangements plus the personality and musical talents of its leader.

Football's Forgotten—This trio of Youngstown College managers are the forgotten men of the football world. They saw plenty of action at Berea last week, running on and off the field more than the squad. Their towels and spike cleaners were as much a part of the victory as the T-D. We hope they're not as busy tonight, for rain and mud really slowed up the Penguins.

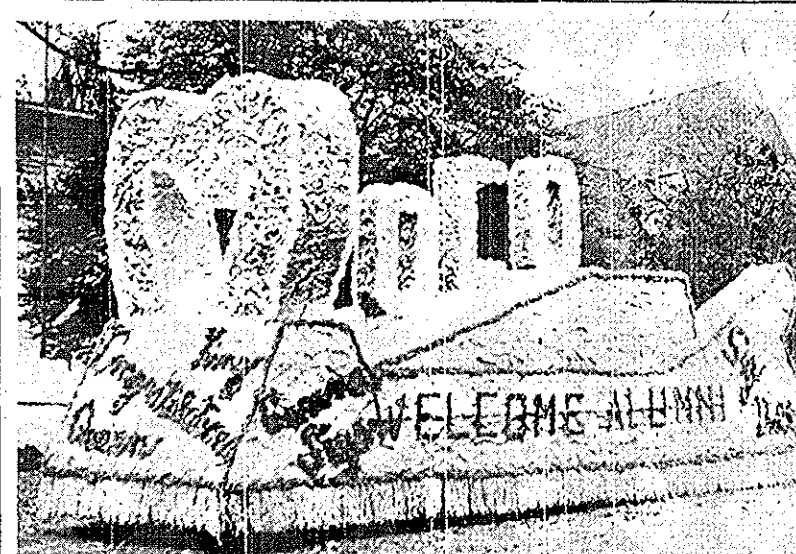

Sideline Generals—Head Coach "Dike" Beede and Line Coach Ralph Wolfe anxiously watch action in a recent Penguin game. Beede, Wolfe and the rest of the staff will try to keep YoCo's undefeated Homecoming skien intact when the Penguins tangle with John Carroll's Blue Streaks tonight.

1952 Queen

Miss Joan Pokabla, 1952 Homecoming Queen, will be on hand to crown 1953 Queen Pat Ogy at the annual Homecoming ceremonies at half-time of the YoCo-John Carroll game tonight. Joan is a junior majoring in elementary education and a member of Phi Lambda Delta sorority.

A Winner—A prize winning float of a former year which typifies the gaily decorated floats which will be seen at tonight's Homecoming Game. All floats entered in the 1953 contest will be on display in front of the Butler Art Institute. They will form a parade and be judged during half-time ceremonies tonight.

Silence Prevails—But not for long because tonight the Rayen Stadium at the corner of Ohio Ave. and Benita Ave. will be filled with students, friends, faculty and alumni of Youngstown College who will come to witness the game between YoCo and John Carroll and view the half-time ceremonies of the 13th Annual Homecoming.

Queen's Court—The 1953 Homecoming Court will feature these five lovely YoCo students who are out enjoying the beautiful autumn weather which has prevailed in this area recently. They are (l. to r.) Virginia Shelar, a sophomore education major from Beta Sigma Omicron sorority; Cookie Korody, a sophomore art major from Gamma Sigma sorority; Leona Gilby, a sophomore business administration major from Phi Lambda Delta sorority; Lucille D'Antonio, a business school major from Ta Kappa Nu sorority; and Joan Lantz, a sophomore from Gamma Sigma sorority.

Kappa Sig's Post Sadie Hawkins Day

"With a catch, or caught or not," the Kappa Sig urge everyone to attend their annual Sadie Hawkins Dance at the Krakusy Ballroom on South Ave., 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., Saturday, Nov. 7.

The dance will climax Sadie Hawkins Day which will be officially proclaimed Saturday morning. Tickets are $1 per person, Ward Morrisroe announces, and urges everyone to don a traditional "Dogpatch" costume.

Joe Peterson will provide the music for dancing and intermission entertainment is being arranged.

Based on Comic

Sadie Hawkins Day, based on Al Capp's famous comic strip, is rapidly becoming a fall feature on all college campuses. Males become free game and only the fleet of foot have any hope of preserving their bachelorhood.

As Sadie Hawkins Day approaches in Dogpatch a clean living college youth has been captured by local females and returned to the land of his youth, which he fled as a baby to escape the squalid living conditions.

Ironically enough, the college student is a track star, possessing the strongest legs in the world. He grows weak in the knees, though, at the sight of one sultry brunette, the filthiest girl in "Dogpatch."

NYU Offers Scholarship For Seniors

Outstanding American college seniors interested in a career of legal leadership may apply now for a $6,600 three-year Root-Tilden Scholarship offered at the New York University School of Law, Dean Russell D. Niles announced Sunday, Oct. 25, 1953.

Applications for the 20 Root-Tilden Scholarships to be awarded next year must be made by February 15, 1954. Final selections will be announced late in April and recipients will begin their study at NYU in September.

The unique scholarship program, designed to help educate and develop potential leaders in public affairs, was inaugurated at the University three years ago. It now has 54 young men under training for the legal profession.

Honor Graduates

Made financially possible by an anonymous donor, the scholarships honor two NYU School of Law graduates famous in legal history - Elihu Root (1867) and Samuel J. Tilden (1841).

In the tradition of the men for whom they are named, Root-Tilden Scholarships are awarded on the basis of superior academic record, potential capacity for unselfish public leadership, and active extracurricular participation in college life.

Dean Niles pointed out in his announcement that leaders in the profession consider the opportunities created by the Root-Tilden Scholarship program to be "on a par with those of the Rhodes Scholarships for study at Oxford."

Faculty Distinguished

"The scholar will receive his legal education at NYU's new five-million-dollar Law Center building under a faculty of distinguished legal authorities," he said.

"General and individual instruction in fields allied to the law will help him develop his public leadership potential and also give him every chance for success as a jurist.

"A series of special seminars and informal meetings with some of this nation's prominent lawyers and judges will equip him practically as well as

Ghost Writer Snoops Here

Yesterday I interviewed Mr. Rebel, our new bird spotting coach, he seemed quite confident that YoCo's new team would out spot Bridgewater Tech's experienced bird spotters next Sunday morning on their home field.

Through my undercover man, "Sano", I discovered a new military menace. Its military name is Vacuum Bomb M2A1 better known to laymen as the V-Bomb. Instead of blowing everything apart it sucks everything in. A test explosion was tried last week.

Reported Destructive

It is reported that it is far more destructive than either the A-bomb or the H-bomb. In the test explosion a whole herd of cows were milked fifty miles from the blast in one tenth of a microsecond. Quite a gadget, huh?

I was snooping around in the engineering school and was approached by a confused freshman with a math problem. I will put this problem to you advanced engineers since I'm a Time and Space major. Here it is.

If eight pencils costs $.40 and the relative humidity in Boise Idaho is 63%, how fast can an albino platypus swim in SAE 20 oil? (The answer must be in meters per microsecond).

Miss Speaks, Soprano Presented in Recital

Margaret Speaks, gifted soprano who has sung to millions in almost every state in the Union and in many of the principal cities of Europe, was presented in recital by the Dana School of Music, Thursday, October 22, at 8:30 p.m. in the C.J. Strouss Memorial Auditorium.

Her program was four parts. Part I was a group of biblical songs by Dvorak; Part II, the Poeme de L'Amour et de la Mer by the composer Chausson; Part III Schumann's Les Papillons, played by Miss Ruth Heed, Miss Speaks' accompanist.

Part IV consisted of popular and classical Spanish songs and Brazilian songs; and Part V, English songs by Ernest Charles, Oley Speaks, Randall Thompson, and Celius Dougherty.

Began Age 3

An all-American artist, born in Columbus, Miss Speaks began her musical career at the age of three when she was chosen soloist for a Children's Day program at her church. By the time she was seven she could play her own piano accompaniments and had learned to sing her uncle, Oley Speaks', famous "Sylvia."

Miss Speaks has been singing "Sylvia" ever since.

It has been on every concert program she has sung in this country and in Europe, either as a scheduled number or as an encore. It is the most requested number in the repertoire of the gifted singer.

Although it has been sung by every famous singer in the world, Oley Speaks said that "Margaret sings it better than anyone I have ever heard."

After graduation from Ohio State University, Miss Speaks went to New York to continue her study of music, singing whenever and wherever she was offered the opportunity.

lege library gave the girls an opportunity to show their knowledge of world affairs.

Margaret Speaks

She sang in musical comedies, in churches, and on many local radio programs. After several years of experience on the air, she was picked as soprano soloist on the Voice of Firestone and her rise to fame since that time has been rapid.

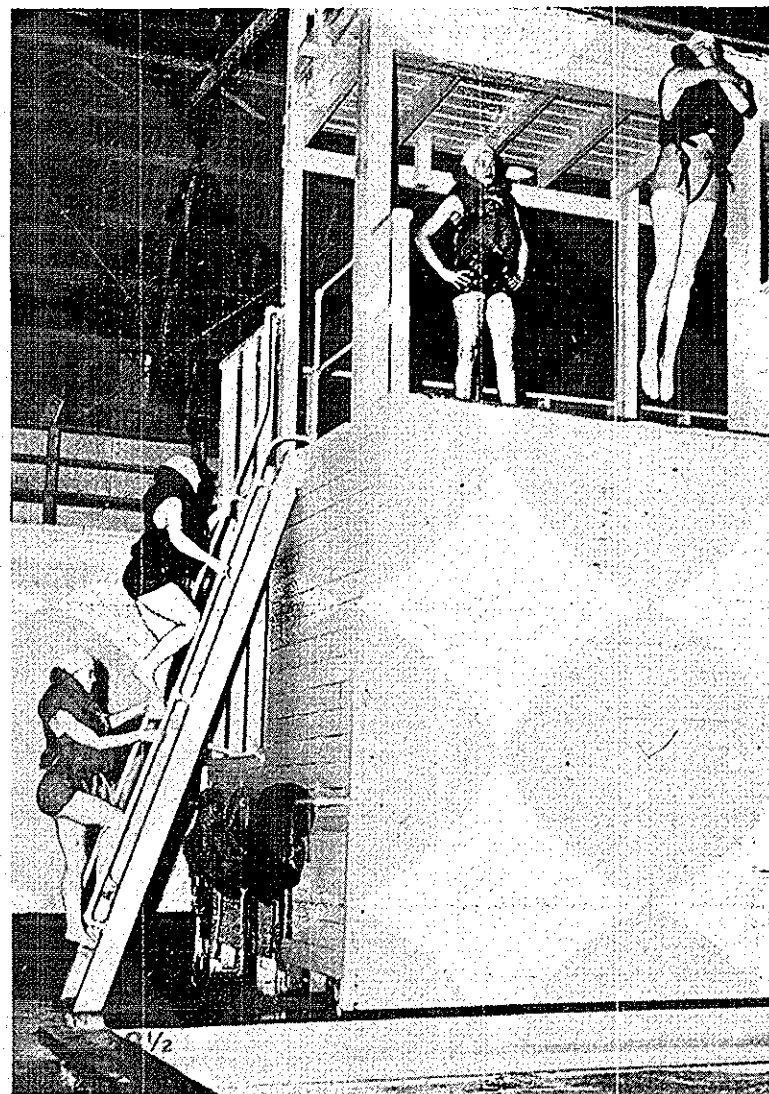

Kitchen Appears In Vocal Recital

Prof. Kenneth Kitchen, bass baritone, head of the vocal department of the Dana School of Music, appeared in recital recently in the C.J. Strouss Memorial Auditorium.

Kitchen sang numbers by Scarlatti, Mozart, Richard Strauss, Brahms and other noted composers.

Mrs. Nellie Gwynne Dehnhostel, acting dean of the Dana School of Music, was at the piano.

Nothing Like A ROC Is Verdict of Coeds

Co-ed candidates run through a simulated abandon ship drill during a swimming class at USNTC, Bainbridge, Maryland, last summer. Official U.S. NAVY Photograph.

Bainbridge, Md. - "There's nothing like a ROC."

That was the verdict of eighty coeds who returned to their campuses after six weeks at the Navy's summer school for women Reserve Officer Candidates at USNTC, Bainbridge, Md., this summer.

Ordered to training duty on July 2 from 70 different colleges, they were transformed from casual co-eds to military misses overnight.

"ROC School forced me to organize myself and work with others", said one co-ed candidate as she logged out for home six weeks later.

And so it did.

ROCS "hit the deck" at 5:45 A.M. They were in their bunks at 9:30 P.M. except on week-ends. Every hour in between was scheduled.

Paid as petty officers if they were enrolled in the advanced phase of the program and as seamen if enrolled in the basic phase, the embryo officers proceeded about their area in platoon formation. They marched to chow.

They sailed through four classes daily in such subjects as naval orientation and administration, communications, naval weapons and navigation. There were classes, too, in drill to prepare trainees for military formations and other periods for swimming instruction and softball.

A working part of her own platoon, every ROC was placed in positions of responsibility and leadership. She took her turn keeping "the log", standing a "security watch" in her barracks, and "hopping" her platoon

A Welcome

A warm welcome from the JAMBAR staff, on behalf of the student body is extended to all returning alumni. The students here are proud to be a part, as you are proud to have been a part, of Youngstown College.

During this two day Homecoming celebration you will see the student body at work and play. You will see in the Homecoming floats the creations of student minds, and in the parade, the rally, the dance, you will see the results of cooperate student effort.

As you view the fighting Penguins in action, you'll not only see an outstanding display of football know-how, you'll witness a display of college spirit which perhaps you felt was absent or dormant in former years.

Some of you "old grads" may get a touch of nostalgia as you catch fleeting glimpses of campus life at YoCo. Always limited, due to YoCo's urban location and part-time enrollment, perhaps you'll realize elements of campus life which were not a part of your matriculation.

Once more a very sincere welcome to all of you. The student body is proud and grateful for what you are and what you have been. They realize that you are as much a functioning part of this institution as themselves or their professors. Welcome...

On Votes And Values

Any politician who has ever gone against the old axiom, "Never Take any Thing For Granted in Politics," has always found himself, eventually, sitting out in the cold. Arm-chair experts made that mistake in the 1950 Ohio Senatorial Race.

They predicted that the late Senator Robert A. Taft would be defeated because they were sure that the labor vote would go the way the labor bosses wanted it to. The results showed the experts to be wrong.

The laboring man has a mind of his own. This is true of practically all groups. The voter's ideas on who he wants to represent him in public office are his own.

Whether they are in accord with the rest of the voters makes no difference. As long as that person considers fairly the choices listed on the ballot, he need have no further worry.

Because the single, well-considered vote is just as valuable as the gold in Fort Knox. And as long as this country is a Democracy it will be guarded just as well.

G.M.

Mayor's Message

May I take this occasion to extend my congratulations to your King and Queen and the student body of Youngstown College upon the occasion of the 1953 Homecoming celebration.

Youngstown College has time and again proved itself to be a vital part of our civic development, and its progress has been a major step forward in the culture and character of our community.

May I likewise take this occasion to commend the editors and staff of the Jambar for the progress they have made in journalism.

Let's Break The Bank

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit YoCo Wednesday. With the Korean War temporarily delayed many may think blood drives unimportant. Blood plasma is always important.

A blood donation is a very small matter to you, the donor. It consumes only 15 minutes of your time and even less of your blood. Blood plasma can be a very big thing to the kid next door stricken by polio.

There is not much that the average person can do to save a life, and yet faced with death most of us would give all to preserve it. Death fortunately, does not always face us, but it is always here. Generously to preserve life.

Question: How do you think Queens for Student Council events should be selected?

Patti Pagonis, Fr.

As everyone likes to think they've had a hand in choosing the beauty Queens on campus, all should have their wish. There should be preliminary, unbiased, voting in which you, I, and everyone has a chance to name his favorites. The girls receiving the highest number of votes should then be candidates in the final selection.

Carol Jones, Fr.

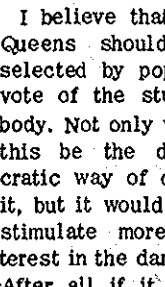

College Queens should be chosen in a democratic way in which the student body has complete choice, through popular election. The student body and the student body should have the right to elect a Queen. There must not be any outside judge, other than the student body.

Margaret Smik, Jr.

Should a queen be selected on the basis of personality, looks or first opinions? It seems at YoCo a queen is selected on the basis of first opinions. If she were chosen according to her personality and looks, who is a better judge than the student who sees the candidates in everyday situations.

Jack Chugden, Fr.

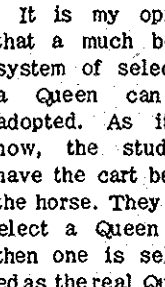

I believe that the Queens should be selected by popular vote of the student body. Not only would this be the democratic way of doing it, but it would also stimulate more interest in the dances. After all if it is a college dance, the Queen should be chosen exclusively by the college.

Audrey Radcliffe, Jr.

My personal opinion for selecting a Queen would be to pick the three girls, receiving the highest number of student votes. Next, the girls should be brought before three judges. These judges should be unbiased and have no personal opinion of the girls. Character, poise and intellectual ability should be the final analysis in selecting a Queen.

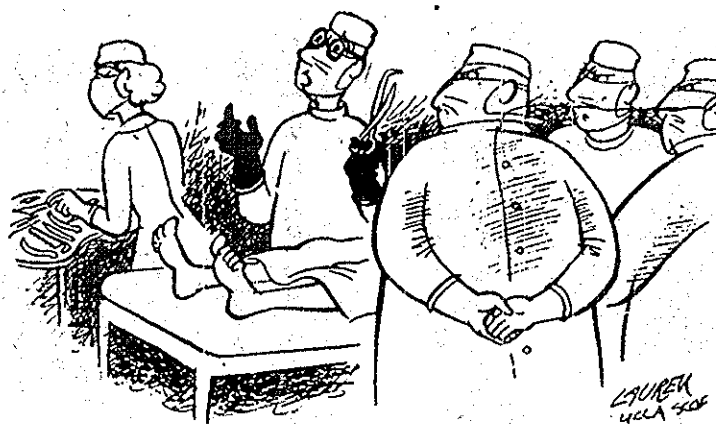

Chuck DePalmo, Soph.

It is my opinion that a much better system of selecting a Queen can be adopted. As it is now, the students have the cart before the horse. They first elect a Queen and then one is selected as the real Queen. What's the sense of voting? Why not select the Queens and then elect one?

She: "How was your party last night?"

Voice on fraternity phone: "We're having a swell time."

Letters To The Editor

PROBLEM NOT LIMITED

The parking problem is by no means limited to available space.... There is another.... the careless or indifferent parker. I no longer worry whether I can find a place to park, but rather, "how many battle scars will I take home today?"

WHA' HOPPENED

The Jambar dood it again! Wha' happened to the end of the British scholarship article? Just what issue will it be continued in? Huh? The suspense of the ending is - unbearable!

FULL O' SUSPENCE

Ed. Note - Don't give up hope - The JAMBAR's Trans-Atlantic Cable will be repaired as soon as the Editor completes a correspondence course in deep sea diving - funny -)

WHERE CREDIT IS DUE

Last issue, look as I may, I could not find the name of one of the busiest members of the staff. Could it be that she left it out for want of space? Anyway I'd like to draw attention to the fact that Nancy (Cros) Crofford is, to my knowledge, one of the biggest helps up there at the Jambar.

AN ADMIRER

HEARD FROM A GHOST

I noticed in reading your letters to the editor column many of the writers do not sign their names. I wonder if an occasional article by a ghost writer could be published? Yours for better humor -

DANNY X SCHWANHAUSER

(Ed. Note - Yes, Danny, notice we use your pen name, and in the future it seems probable that we will be forced to bring more and more writers back from the grave. Refer to Page -3)

LOOKS LIKE ME

Who is the Eddie Collins in the Oct. 16 issue with Photo Opinions? It looks just like me about four years ago. Whose idea was it to put that picture in.

Do you think I could sue for falsification, misrepresentation, or something. I'm just joking, for I got a big kick out of it when I saw my picture in the JAMBAR.

I was honored, all those old photos lying around and you choose mine, thanks. I just thought I'd let you know I saw it and was flattered. You and the staff are turning out a good paper. Keep it up.

EDDIE COLLINS

HASN'T FORGOTTEN

I haven't forgotten your unsatisfactory explanation for discontinuing the engineers column. We down here at Rayen feel something like the citizens of California before the Pony Express was put through. I know all those little incidents up there at the "country club" are important but things do go on down here.

ENGINEER

(Ed. Note - I understand that courses in Public Relations are not a part of the Engineering curriculum.)

GOOD POLICY

Is it a good policy to have staff members writing letters to the editor? I speak especially of letters which are uncomplimentary to prominent local officials.

A.M.

(Ed. Note - We feel it is not. The letter to which you refer was written before the writer became a staff member.)

STILL CAN'T READ

I hate to keep harping on this, but I was unable to get a copy of the JAMBAR again. We are all charged for the paper in our student activity fee. Something has to be done.

READER

(Ed. Note - More copies of the next issue will be placed in the rack. If you still desire a copy of the last two issues pick them up in the JAMBAR office.)

IN ACCORD

I was very much in accord with your last editorial on queen selection. The present set-up is deplorable. Many of the same things that were said and felt last May are being repeated now.

FROM HERE TO THE NAKED AND THE DEAD ETERNITY

Chapter I

"-----," bellowed Sergeant Callum. "-----" answered Private Bruett simply, evasively. "Man is a green eggshell and the enemy is what?" said Tadpole. "Ammo, ammo!" cried Swiniarsky.

Chapter II

The four men were all that was left of Doggy Company. They had been on K.P. now for six years. Lieutenant Fulsom had promised them, five years ago, that they'd be relieved and rotated home by Arbor Day.

But five Arbor Days had come and gone. There was a saying in Doggy Company, "-----Lieutenant Fulsom and ----- Arbor Day."

The four beaten, unshaven, hollow-eyed men were; Sergeant Callum (he had been in the service for 83 years and was due to be retired in a few months).

Papers Lost

His original retirement papers had been lost 47 years ago. Private Bruett, (a hard, cynical man who had been earning six million dollars a year as an advertising executive).

He gave up this job to go into the army because, as he put it, "I was drafted". Tadpole, an Ohio farmer had a streak of mystic in him.

He had been bucking for a section eight but the medics decided nobody was THAT nuts). The last Swiniarsky, was a Brooklyn taxicab driver with a wife and four spare tires.

Chapter III

"-----," screamed Sergeant Callum. "-----," mumbled Private Bruett, realistically, caustically. "Man is a Tuesday animal," said Tadpole. "Ammo, ammo," shouted Swiniarsky.

There was a lull in the dishpans and Private Bruett thought of the good old days. He had been a fine, odd man. He was well liked at the Turkish Bath.

He'd had the usual number of affairs; six months with the left half of a pair of Siamese twins, two weeks, glorious weeks, in a Cape Cod lighthouse with Treeno.

What a body that Treeno had. Tattooed from neck to ankles with "Men are Beasts." And finally his wife -- Goshu. Goshu who was half Irish and half plastered all the time. He had wanted to make a good thing of their marriage.

Had Tried

He had tried. But, she was used to being poor and couldn't get along on his six million a year. Then there were the quadruplets....but Private Bruett was awakened from his reverie by Swiniarsky who cackled:

"Ammo, Ammo."

"How many seashells in an hour," babbled Tadpole.

"-----" simpered Private Bruett, happily, insanely. "-----," called Sergeant Callum.

MCKELVEY'S

Pageant Mag Gives Advice

Here are "10 ways to get through college without even trying," as written in Pageant Magazine by Professor Robert Tyson of Hunter College.

Bring the professor newspaper clipping dealing with his subject. If you don't find clippings dealing with his subject, bring in clippings at random. He thinks everything deals with his subject.

Look alert. Take notes eagerly. If you look at your watch, don't stare at it unbelievably and shake it.

Its Objective

Nod frequently and murmur "How true!" To you, this seems exaggerated. To him, it's quite objective.

Sit in front near him. (Applies only if you intend to stay awake.)

Laugh at his jokes. You can tell when to. If he looks up from his notes and smiles expectantly he has told a joke.

Don't Have to Read

Ask for outside reading. You don't have to read it. Just ask.

If you must sleep, arrange to be called at the end of the hour. It creates an unfavorable impression if the rest of the class has left and you sit there alone, dozing.

Be sure the book you read during the lecture looks like a book from the course.

Ask Question

Ask any question you think he can answer. Conversely, avoid announcing that you have found the answer, and in your brother's second reader at that.

If you know he's written a book or an article, call attention to his writing by asking in class if he wrote it.

Art Head Has Chicago Show

Prof. David Skeggs, head of the art department here, has a one man show in R and H Gallery, 750 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. through November 15. The show opened October 15.

The show is composed of all new works by Skeggs and consists of 13 oils and 3 water colors.

A graduate of Denison University, and a former student in art at Youngtown College, Skeggs received his Masters degree from the University of Iowa. He has studied under Hans Hofmann in Provincetown, Mass.

Has Won Awards

Skeggs has won many awards and purchase prizes in the Ohio Water Color show, Akron Art Institute, Ohio State Fair, Boston Society of Independent Artists, Dayton Art Institute and others.

He has exhibited in the Art Institute of Chicago, San Francisco Museum, Cleveland Museum, Cincinnati Museum, Butler Art Institute, Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts, Philadelphia Museum of Art and many other exhibitions.

Mr. and Mrs. Skeggs were in Chicago for the week-end and a reception was held for them in the Gallery Saturday evening. Critics, collectors, and area artists were invited to the reception.

She: "My hobby is collecting stones and keeping them in my bathroom".
He: "You've got rocks in your head."

NEONS ON SALE

1953 Neons will be on sale during the week of Nov. 2 in the ticket office of the main building. Any student who doesn't have a copy of last year's Neon may purchase the book at a price of $5.

Looking Around...

by Roy Schindell

Greatest thing since Cocoa Cola, was the opinion of all the guys who were fortunate enough to make it up to the nurses dance at St. E's last Friday. Among those present were - Bob D'Amico, Ward Morrisroe, Jerry Eberhardt, Joe Phelan, Tiger Dempsey, Eddie Simmons, Ray Baker, Gary Olsabvsky, and Ralph Reel. Conspicuous by his absence was Bill Harrison.

The roaring, cheering section at B.W. was made possible by the combined efforts of the Newman Club, and the Booster Club. Dick Selby and Father DeCrane, our most exuberant and ardent fans have come under the appraising eye of our cheerleading team.

We need those voices. Others there to cheer the team were Tom Dundon, Susie Ritz, Gerry Lewis, Marilyn Ervin, Francis Stetts, Ann Herschel, Lloyd Krautz, Carolyn Easter and (How's the weather up there) Mike (Same as the strawberry pickin' down there) Blasko. Conspicuous by his absence was Bill Harrison.

Those pretty girls turning all the guys heads in the Cafeteria are: Pat Emerine, Arlene Barnes, Shirley Ogy, Patti Aey, Sonja Lloyd, Lil Lindquist, Virginia Shelar, JoAnne Powell, Nancy Johnson, Izzy Splaine, Joan Pokablo, Carole Weaver, and Crof (Just zooming by). Conspicuous by not turning anyone's head is Bill Harrison.

Seen having one "swelluva" good time at the Pete Penguin Hop were Bob Mahoney, Kitty Henderson, Bob Shaughnessy, Marilyn Davis, Don Phillips, Jean Santangelo, Herb Williams, and Virginia Shelar.

Of course it was from a worm's eye view when yours truly fell to the floor during a fast jitterbug while trying a new step, much to the embarrassment of my mate who by choice wishes to remain anonymous. Conspicuous by his absence was Bill Harrison.

Social Shorts

Educational movies and music were part of the regular meeting of the Spanish Club. President Frank Salvatore presided. Activities were presented by program chairman Marilyn Amey.

Films on "The Brotherhood of Man" "Boundary Lines" were shown. Both films exemplify the ideals and principles of "Buenos Vecinos," (Good Neighbors.)

Student Thomas Speece presented two piano solos, "Malaguena" and "Tango on D." Guest speaker, Carmen Nicas gave an account of life in her native country, Salvador.

Group singing, refreshments and informal Spanish conversations climaxed the evening. The next regular meeting will be held on Nov. 5 at Pollock House.

Give to Library

The proceeds of an Alpha Phi Delta raffle will be turned over to the library for the purchase of books. Tickets are $1.00 or three for $2.50. They may be purchased from any member of the fraternity.

Alpha Phi is also planning a dance Friday, Nov. 13. All the proceeds from this dance, as well as the raffle will be turned over to the library. The raffle drawing will be held during the dance intermission.

Have Parties

Kappa Sigma Kappa had a party with the Gamma Sig's last week. The following night they went to St. Elizabeth's for a party with student nurses. A party was also held with Beta Sigma Omicron.

Sadie Hawkins Day Dance chairmen urge all students to attend the annual dance Saturday, Nov. 7 at Krakusy Ballroom. Ward Morrisroe, Denny Barrett, and Jerry Murphy are in charge.

The Phi Sig's extend congratulations to Phi Mu Pat Ogy, their candidate for Homecoming Queen. They have made preliminary plans for "rushing" and plan to enter a float in tonight's parade.

College, Industry Hold Conference

Thirty-five educators and twenty industrialists will participate in the first Industry-College Conference which will be held at The Greenbrier Hotel, White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, November 12-13, 1953.

This announcement was made today by Dr. Henry Heald, Chancellor of New York University, and Admiral Ben Moreell, Chairman of the Board of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation, who will serve as co-chairmen of the project.

Plans for the conference are being developed on the basis of plans originated by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, President of Pennsylvania State College, and Mr. Robert R. Young, Chairman of the Board of The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company.

Is Administrator

Administrator of the conference will be Dr. C. V. Newsom, Associate Commissioner for Higher Education of the State of New York. Clifford H. Ramsdell, Secretary-Treasurer of the Federation for Railway Progress, will serve as conference secretary.

This cooperative venture between industry and education is an outgrowth of a proposal outlined in an address by Mr. Young before the Fifth Annual Barnard Forum in New York last February 14th in an address "A Marriage of Business and Education."

In announcing the forthcoming conference, Chancellor Heald and Admiral Moreell expressed the belief that further cooperation between industry and education is essential if we are to preserve and further develop the kind of society that will be most conducive to individual and national progress.

If she volunteered to plan exchange dances with navy men or work on the water show, the yearbook, or the company show, she met members of other platoons and companies. And at station reviews and traditional ROC ceremonies she learned what it meant to be an indivisible part of a battalion.

Every ROC also had an opportunity to broaden her military horizons when the battalion "cruised" nearby military installations in Navy busses. She saw jet bombers take off at an air base. She watched rockets launched at army proving grounds.

This just fills this line.

Civil Service Exam Offered

The United States Civil Service Commission has again announced its Junior Management Assistant and Junior Agricultural Assistant examination for filling positions in Washington, D.C., and throughout the United States.

The entrance salary for the agricultural positions is $3,410 a year, and for the management positions, $3,410 and $4,205. The positions are located in Washington, D.C., and throughout the United States.

The Junior Management Assistant examination is designed to bring into the Federal service outstanding young men and women for training and development into future Federal executives. The Junior Agricultural Assistant examination is for filling positions in various fields of agriculture. Both types of positions offer excellent opportunity for advancement.

Must Pass Test

To qualify, applicants must pass written tests and must have had appropriate education or a combination of education and experience. Students who expect to complete their courses by June 30, 1954, may apply. Appropriate experience alone may be qualifying for some positions.

Candidates for the Junior Management Assistant examination who meet the requirements will be given an oral interview. The age limits, waived for persons entitled to veteran preference, are 18 to 35 years.

YoCo Rooters View Victory

Over 200 YoCoites made the trek to Berea last week to see the Penguins turn back Baldwin Wallace. Booster Club busses and a Newman Club auto caravan made their way to the northern Ohio city.

The Boosters boarded busses about 5:30 p.m. Saturday. Tickets to the game and return tickets were supplied for the $3 price. The Penguin delegation was nearly as large as the Baldwin Wallace fans who turned out to root.

A full corps of eight cheerleaders was on hand to lead college yells. Father DeCrane, catholic chaplain, Lt. Col. Lash and Captain Main, ROTC heads, and their wives were in the visiting contingent.

Record Ramblings . . .

Hello record fans, this is the first of a series of articles written by yours truly keeping you abreast of the latest popular recordings, vocalists, bands, and combos. It is my sincerest wish that you will enjoy reading these articles as much as I will enjoy writing them for you.

Those who were fortunate enough to be at Stambaugh Auditorium on the 18th are still buzzing about the "Fall Edition" of the Biggest Show of '53 starring Nat "King" Cole, Divine Sarah Vaughan, Illinois Jacquet, and the great band of Ralph Marterie that provided the background music for the entire concert.

Sarah Vaughan held the audience spellbound with her renditions, displaying the tone and phrasing that has put her into a class all by herself. No one can deny that she will again be a top contender for the title of the "Nations No. 1 Female Vocalist" this year.

Nat "King" Cole, as usual, provided his own enchantment with his vocal stylings of latest recordings as well as a few of his past hits. There is little left to be said about "King" Cole, since critics and fans alike have used practically every adjective possible in their lavish praise of him.

The dancing of "Peg Leg" Bates, and the mimicing of George Kirby helped to make the show a success.

Stambaugh Auditorium will be the scene of the "Festival of Modern American Jazz", starring Stan Kenton, June Christy, Erol Garner, Dizzy Stan Getz, and Slim Gaillard, on November 17. So for an evening of rocking entertainment you had better make plans to be there.

TOP THREE POPULAR RECORDS - "EH CUMPARI" - J. LaRosa, "ST. GEORGE AND THE DRAGONET" - S. Freburg, and VAYA CON DIOS - L. Paul - M. Ford.

TOP THREE RHYTHM & BLUES RECORDS - "SHAKE A HAND" - F. Adams, "CRYING IN THE CHAPEL" - Orioles, and "GOOD LOVING" - Clovers.

The hullabaloo around music circles these days is on religious-type tunes. They are outselling all the ballads and upbeat songs. Tunes enjoying this success today are Crying in the Chapel, I Believe, and Shake a Hand.

Patti Page has come out with the "Lord's Prayer" on wax. Most of the big names have one or more numbers of the same type in the process, with some being held back for Christmas release.

Frankie Sinatra has shown the public that he can act as well as sing. His performance in "From Here to Eternity" was tops.

Singer of the Month

Patti Page, the best female seller of records, has run the gamut from a hillbilly singer on a Tulsa radio station just a few short years ago to a miss who consistently hits the best-seller lists each time she sings a new song for Mercury Records.

She made her biggest success via the aid of tape, on her double-voice renditions of such tunes as the Tennessee Waltz and others. For three years she made about $65 weekly until she snagged her first hit, "With My Eyes Wide Open I'm Dreaming."

Since then, the singer has seldom sold fewer than 300,000 copies of any record she has made, and, of course, quite a few of her platters have gone past the one million mark. Patti also has her own show on TV, and you'll always find it quite enjoyable.

Well, it's time for to sign off now but look for me in the next issue of the JAMBAR with the tops from pop, to bop.

At meetings of clubs, by an effort of will, I always contrive to keep perfectly still.

For it takes but a word of annoyance or pity, And whom! there I am on another committee.

WAC's Offer Commissions

Under a new Department of the Army policy, qualified women students of Youngstown College may apply for commission as officers in the Women's Army Corps, and be granted reserve commissions upon graduation from college.

Lt. Col. E.L. Lash, Professor of Military Science and Tactics, announced that he is authorized to assist interested senior women students in preparing applications for commission as second lieutenants, Women's Army Corps.

Women who are accepted will be commissioned at the same time that they are awarded degrees by Youngstown College, and will then attend the WAC Company Officers School at Fort Lee, Va., before being assigned other duties as WAC officers.

Has Variety

WAC officers are assigned to a wide variety of positions throughout the world. In addition to assignments involving the training and administration of enlisted women, WAC officers are needed for many administrative and technical jobs for which women are as well or better qualified than men.

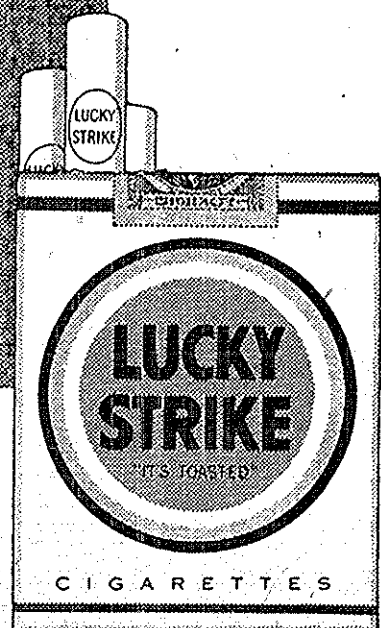

Senior women who are interested should contact Col. Lash of the Department of Military Science and Tactics.

Brand-new national survey shows college students prefer Luckies

This year another nation-wide survey was made—a representative survey of all students in regular colleges coast to coast. Based on thousands of actual student interviews—this survey shows that, as last year, Luckies lead again—lead over all other brands, regular or king-size—and by a wide margin! The reason: Luckies taste better.

YoCo Dumps Jackets 7-0 In Mud, Rain

by George Mitchell

The Penguins rammed over a fourth period touchdown and then withstood a terrific Baldwin Wallace offensive thrust to score a 7-0 victory over the Yellow Jackets.

Neither team was able to move the ball well in the first half due to a slippery gridiron that hampered the offense throughout the game.

BW threatened twice in the first quarter but the Penguin defense stiffened in the shadows of their own goal posts to halt both drives.

Muster Threat

Youngstown was able to muster enough drive for one serious threat but a fourth down pass fell incomplete in the end zone. The long run by George Ceremuga and Joe Guido pgt the Penguins on the Jackets 21 yard line.

Nogowski and Beck ripped the BW line for a first down. Ceremuga, Guido and Nogowski were able to move the ball to the six in three tries and then the Yellow Jacket defense stiffened as the pass from Beck to DelSignor went astray.

Ceremuga fumbled with the Yellow Jackets recovering in Youngstown territory. Once again the Penguin pass defense proved to be air tight as the famed Baldwin Wallace aerial circus failed to dent the Youngstown goal.

After intermission the Jackets passes began to click and the Penguin goal was threatened. With a first down on the Youngstown four yard line the Jackets found the Penguin goal hard to dent. A fourth down attempt for a field goal was wide.

Riflemen Drop Opening Match

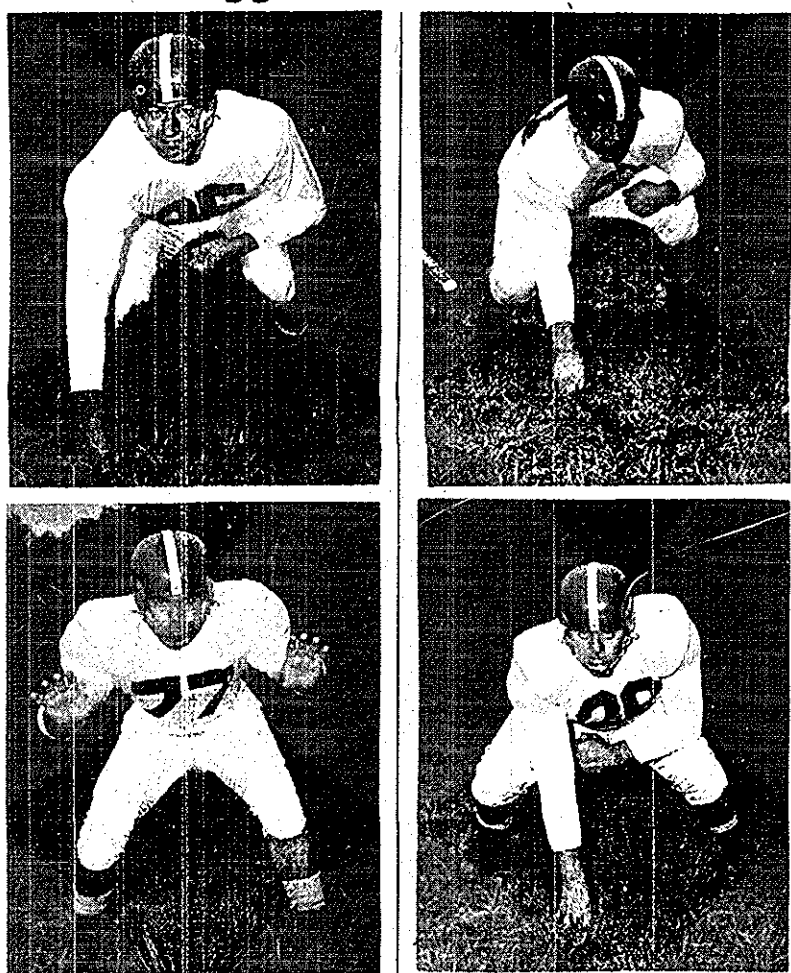

The Youngstown College Rifle Team dropped its opening match to a strong Kent State five recently. Perkowski led the Kent Team with 378, and Hixenbaugh, with 352, was high man for Youngstown.

The YoCo team is now doubling its work at practice in preparation for the next match which will be at Akron Oct. 22. The team will journey to John Carroll a week later and return home to fire against Oberlin.

Although the turnout this year is good the team could use more support president Bob Hixenbaugh reports.

All students enrolled at Youngstown College are eligible to join.

Rugged Forward Wall

John Carroll's Blue Streaks will get a view something like this every time they come up to cover the ball. (l to r. top) Sam Pagano and Norm Stafford are the king-pins in the right side of that Penguin forward wall. (l to r bottom) Lou Chiaro and Bob Garcar make up the left side.

The YoCoites who braved the elements to make the auto-bus caravan to B-W last week really set the Berea air blue with cheering. The Youngstown contingent was nearly as big as the entire local audience across the way and certainly every bit as noisy.

Those who kept their hair dry during the rain hampered first half saw a pretty fair brand of football after the intermission. Taking nothing away from the Penguins, who played heads-up football throughout to gain the victory, there was one fortunate limiting factor in the Baldwin Wallace camp.

That was the absence of seasoned quarterback Frank Roppolo. Sophomore Dick Miller turned in an acceptable job of signal calling and his post-rain pin-point passing left little to be desired.

Hurries Pass

But after spearheading a sustained assault with four or five completions in a row, he needlessly hurried on a fourth down pass and threw far over the intended receivers head. This was one of a number of plays that spelled the difference between victory and defeat for the Yellow Jackets.

Its highly problematical, but a more experienced Roppolo might not have missed on that one. Make no mistake about it, though, Miller is going to be another in a line of phenomenal B-W flingers.

Ken Saunders, Jacket wing back who was on the receiving end of many Miller aerials, was a team mate at East High of newly installed Penguin end Dom DelSignore. DelSignore comes to YoCo by way of Ohio State and is one of the most promising flankers seen here in years. He does everything well, floats, drifts, charges, and offensively, is a shifty

Undeclared Homecoming String on Line Tonight

by George Mitchell

John Carroll's vaunted Blue Streaks last week ruined Bradley University's homecoming with a 23-12 victory and tonight will attempt to stop Youngstown, undefeated in homecoming competition.

Last year was the first time in Youngstown College history that a Penguin team failed to emerge victorious in a homecoming tilt. The Thundering Herd from Marshall College stopping the Penguins with a 6-6 tie.

Remembering how close their victory string came to being snapped the Penguins will be out to halt the fast, elusive Blue Streaks from John Carroll.

Boast Offense

The Clevelanders boast one of the most potent offenses in Ohio. The International News Services last week rated the Streaks fourth in the State.

This will be the eighth meeting between the two schools. John Carroll has won four while Youngstown has won three.

In the scoring column the Streaks have amassed 120 points against the Penguins while Youngstown has only scored 61 against the John Carroll defense.

Is Versatile

A hard running backfield, two very talented passers and some capable ends give the Streaks a versatile offense and a great scoring punch.

Forster Rapier and Chuck McMillan are the Streak's two pass snatching ends. Rapier is an experienced end, out most of last season with injuries.

McMillan, John Carroll's leading scorer last year, was slated for a halfback spot but moved up to end again when Jim Bowser was injured early in the season.

Faul Brubeck, John Martin, Jack Zebkar and Mike Torrelli, 205 pound

fullback provide the punch in the JC attack, while Rich Hoffman and Ray Pikus are the scat backs. Directing the John Carroll T-formation will be Pete Chirla, a southpaw passer, with a fine record.

George Ceremuga, senior halfback and Penguin captain is a doubtful starter in tonight's encounter. He received a broken nose in the first half at Berea and was out of action the remainder of the ball game. If Ceremuga isn't ready, freshman John Guzzo, will move into the right halfback spot.

YoCo Outlasts Eastern Ken.

Youngstown's resurgent Penguins came from behind three times to defeat the Eastern Kentucky Maroons 20-19 in a bruising battle.

Kentucky scored early on a sustained drive, but the undaunted Penguins put together a drive of their own to march 52 yards with Frank Beck slashing over for the score.

Eastern Kentucky took the ensuing kick-off and pushed over another touchdown to lead 13-7 at halftime.

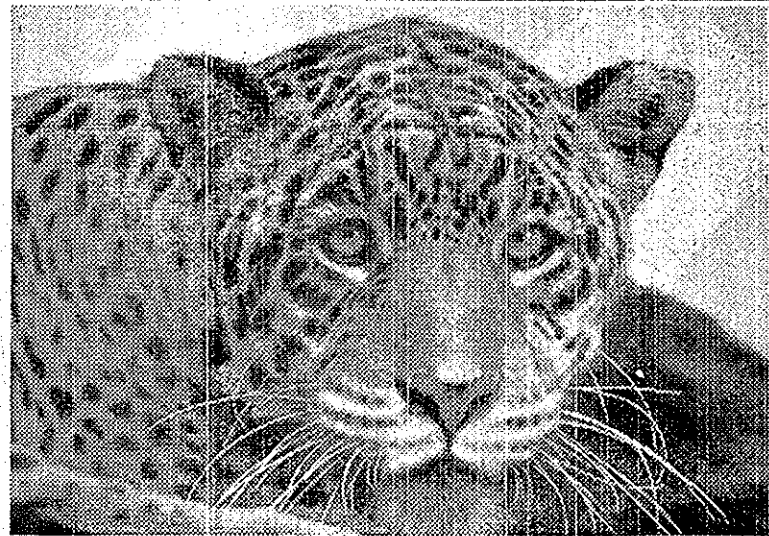

The Penguins third period score came when DelSignore knocked the ball out of the Kentucky passers' hand and Stafford recovered.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

"Safari as I'm concerned" said Sheedy's gal, "your hair looks like something the cat dragged in. Perhaps you better spring for some Wildroot Cream-Oil, America's favorite hair tonic. Keeps hair combed without greasiness. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Relieves annoying dryness. Contains Lanolin. Non-alcoholic." So Sheedy roared down to his druggist for Wildroot Cream-Oil, and now he's feline mighty fine. All the girls paws and stare when he passes. So you better leopard on the bandwagon and try Wildroot Cream-Oil right meow. Scratch up 29¢ for a bottle or handy tube at any toilet goods counter. YoCo Dumps Jackets 7-0

After holding off the furious B-W threat the Penguins surged to life. Beck and Nogowski moved to a first down and then caught a Beck pass for a long gain into Yellow Jacket territory.

After two plays failed Beck faked a pass and set sail for the B-W goal. He was stopped on the 13. Beck again took over the running and with Guido pushed the ball to the two yard line. On the next play Ed Nogowski crashed over for the games only touchdown. Guido made good the conversion.

Undaunted the Yellow Jackets struck back. Through the air B-W moved to a first down on the Youngstown four.

The Jackets pushed over what appeared to be a touchdown but the officials ruled that the runners knee hit on the one yard line.

On fourth down the B-W back fumbled and Youngstown recovered to end the threat.

The Penguins were forced to punt and B-W was right back knocking on the door again. An incomplete pass in the end zone halted this Jacket thrust and the Penguins were out of danger.

The Youngstown line was superb in their defensive efforts.

Dick Franko, who shares the signal calling duties with Frank Beck, and saw limited action against Baldwin Wallace, should be available for full time duty tonight.

In their last two outings the Penguins have been using a modified two platoon system on the line. Coach "Dike" Beede now rates DelSignore, Pagano, Stafford, Lynn, Chair, Garcar and Pezzulo as his regular linemen.

Right behind them though, and slated for considerable action are Ottawa, Krafcik, Starinchak, Gurski, Santillo, Mervos, and Cougras.

Lose to Ken.

John Carroll to date has won five out of six games, their only loss being to Eastern Kentucky in the season's opener 21-19. Youngstown had to come from behind three different times to nip the same Kentucky team 20-19.

The Penguins were able to eke out a 7-0 victory over Baldwin Wallace last week on a muddy gridiron in comparison to John Carroll's 26-0 conquest of the Yellow Jackets in their second game of the season.

Last year after winning four and tying one, the injury riddled Penguins were crushed by the Blue Streaks 40-0.

The Youngstown team with a better

A pass to Cougras moved the ball deep into Maroon territory and Frank Beck again slashed over for the touchdown.

In the final period Eastern Kentucky put another drive together to reach pay dirt. Ned Mervos broke through to block the extra point attempt in what later proved to be the deciding factor.

With a little over eight minutes remaining in the game the Penguins had the ball on their own 33 yard line. Guido, Beck, Sveda, Ceremuga and Pezzulo played major parts in the drive for the final tally. The touchdown came when Joe Guido cracked over from 12 yards out. The point-after-touchdown by Guido was good and Youngstown led for the first time in the game 20-19.

downfield pass receiver. We visited a Penguin practice session recently and found Norm Stafford referred to affectionately by his mates as "animal". He's a stand-out in every workout. How can he be missed with his rail roaders cap and orange sweat pants.

Incidentally we'd like to thank "Dike" Beede and his coaching staff, along with the squad, for the fine cooperation we received when we dropped in during practice to get a few shots.

The boys were hard at work bolstering their pass defense, with lefty Fred Glears simulating B-W's Miller. Reserve halfback and ends were using the Jacket's famed "Z" out and button hook pass patterns to baffle the regular backs.

Shapes Up As Natural

This ball game tonight shapes up as a natural. Both teams sport identical won-loss records going into tonight's fray. John Carroll, a high scoring aggregation, led by a Notre Dame transfer at fullback, who weighs in over the 200 mark and runs like a halfback, should get the nod.

However, don't give up on the Penguins, still smarting from that 40-0 trouncing last year. If they can get their offense rolling and the line continues their fine play, YoCo will be very much in the ball game.

Coach "Dike" Beede, like so many football mentors, can overlook a physical failure or shortcoming but a mental lapse really burns him. A Penguin lineman covered a low driving Ceremuga punt inside the B-W 10, and Beede's rain hat was heaved on the turf.

As a result the ball was moved out to the 20 yard line. If YoCo had permitted the referee to blow the ball dead on the 10, Baldwin Wallace would have taken over there.
