Questioning Election Procedure-

In an attempt to resolve the recurrent hassling about procedure which has accompanied recent Student Government sponsored elections, Council members Paul Dutton and David Henzel called vesterday for an explusion of the present Constitution and By-law procedures for elections and a "complete abrogation of further elections" until new procedures can be established

Dutton told the sixteen Council members present, that the problems in election rules, both Student Government and weekend queens, "cannot be corrected by amendment procedures."

Dutton indicted the present procedures in three areas charging that the 'log of voter's names is not checked," the petitions which candidates must ciruclate are not checked, and that there exists no procedure for "the date, place and time for Council sponsored elections."

He stated that before a new procedure is established, the Council should hold open hearings and consultations and should allow sufficient time tin evaluation of present rules so as not to duplicate existing

In other Council action yesterday, chairman Penny Laakso issued a formal apology to all of the candidates in last month's Student Government elections "for the order of names placed on the ballot."

The Council voted last week to issue such an apology.

Also yesterday, members of Inter Fraternity Council asked the Council to increase from $50 to $150 the amount allocated to traditional spirit of Homecoming floats," the Council should raise that allocation to at least $150 for each participaThe Council is

Protests

Alpha Kappa Psi Business Fraternity attempted Monday to lodge a complaint with Student Council on the destruction Saturday night of the fraternity's Spring Weekend booth and to announce a $20 reward for information about the vandals. However, before the matter could be brought before Council, the quorum was lost and the meeadjourned.

Brad Hoffman, a pledge of the fraternity, stated after the meeting that he questioned the immediate adjournment of the meeting since the Alpha Kappa Psi representatives had waited for one and a half hours to state their complaint.

Vice President of the fraternity, Jim Shaw, stated that the booth was destroyed by vandals sometime between midnight, when the equipment was removed, and 1:00 a.m. Sunday when the splintered booth was noticed by Major Events Chairman Don

Allen stated that he was not aware at the time that the destruction of the booth was by

Shaw stated that the booth, which cost about $100 to construct, was designed in such a way that the frame could be re-used in future years.

Shaw charged that arrangements should have been made to guard the boothes. Hoffman added that he would like to know "where the University security guards were at the time of the booth's destruction."

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court unanimously threw out today conviction of Timothy F. Leary noted drug experimenter, on a finding that compliance with federal marijuana laws would violate his protection against self-incrimination.

The ruling, given by Justice John Marshall Harlan, seriously damaged - perhaps fatally - the marijuana laws.

WASHINGTON — Rep. Robert Taft, Jr., R-Ohio, announced Monday that the department of Health, Education and Welfare has approved a $28,315,941 grant to Ohio to finance special programs for the education of disadvantaged children. Taft said the grant was being made under the elementary and secondary act.

INDIANAPOLIS — The Indiana attorney general called Monday for a federal investigation of Gary where he charged Negro Mayor Richard G. Hatcher's administrations is responsible for a "reign of terror."

NEWTON, Mass. - Dr. James J. Whalen, executive vice president of Ohio University, is the new president of Newton College of the Sacred Heart.

Dr. Whalen, 42, will assume his new duties Sept. 1 and become the first laymen to head one of the six Catholic colleges in the United States conducted by the Society of the Sacred Heart, an international order of nuns.

STANFORD, Calf. — About 200 demonstrators, some wearing gauze masks and helmets, were chased away from the Stanford Research Institute yesterday by squaes of police who rushed to the scene in buses.

The early morning confrontation came as students dissidents from Stanford University continued their protest of war related research at the University's industrial park.

WASHINGTON — Sen. J.W. Fulbright said yesterday the United States must get out of Vietnam even if it has to settle for less than a standoff and turn its attention to donestic problems that have divided the people and spawned a studen rebellion.

The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee called for an overhaul of what he called a foreign policy of "chronic warfare and intervention" in international disputes that he said is leading this country toward an authoritarian government

SAIGON — U.S. planes and artillery pounded North Vietnamese positions stop a mountain Monday while paratroopers rested after 10 attempts to take the peak.

MOSCOW – The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia yesterday praised the courage of America's Apollo 10 astronauts and wished them a successful mission.

After giving a brief, factual description of the moon shot. Izvestia added: "We hope that the courageous crew of the cosmic ship which now is heading toward the moon will be able to fulfill the program of the flight successfully and return safely to earth." SAIGON — American planes and artillery pounded North-Vietnamese positions atop Dong Ap Bia Mountain near the Loatian border Monday, as U.S. paratroops rested after 10 futile attempts in nine days to storm the 3,000 foot peak.

Air Force B42 bombers blasted enemy thoops, bunkers and gun batteries near the mountain in an apparent attempt to cut off reinforcements for the North Vietnamese still holding the peak overlooking the A Shau Valley.

Second Annual Project—

Sigma Alpha Mu Holds' Bounce for Beats"

Sigma Alpha Mu fraternity will hold its annual charity benefit, "Bounce for Beats," to raise funds for the Heart Fund. The marathon basketball bouncing event is the fraternity's national service project, and last year the chapter raised over $1,700.

Members of the fraternity will be downtown Thursday, May 22, from 8:00 am, to 9:00 p.m., bouncing a basketball and collecting funds. That night there will be a "Bounce for Beats" dance from 9 to midnight at the University Club. The New Breed will play, and admission will be $1, all proceeds going to the Heart Fund.

The Sammies will bounce the ball at the Wedgewood Plaza in Austintown on Friday, May 23, from 11:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m., and on Saturday, at the Boardman Plaza. Members of Alpha Omicron Pi and Chi Delta sororities will be aiding the fraternity.

Professor To Receive Science Grant

Dr. Mehdi Ghaffarzadeh, YSU assistant professor of civil engineering, has been selected to receive a National Science Foundation grant to participate in a N.S.F. short course for engineering faculty. The twoweck course on "Finite-Element Methods of Structual Analysis" is offered by Stanford University, California from August 18 to 30.

A member of the American Concrete Institute, Dr. Ghaffarzadeh has had considerable field engineering experience, working as a consultant on bridge design for the architectural firm of Hendrick and Hendrick, Oklahoma; ad a research assistant engineer for the Research Institute, University of Oklahoma; and as a management analysist with the Naitonal Iranian Oil Company.

Dr. Ghaffarzadeh, a native of Iran, earned his B.S. degree from the Abadan Institute of Technology (Iran) and his M.S. degree from the University of Oklahoma. He received his Ph.D. in structural engineering from the University of Oklahoma prior to joining the YSU faculty in 1968.

Youngstown State University, in cooperation with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) will sponsor a two-week Aerospace Science Education Workshop for area elementary school teachers, supervisors, and administrators.

The workshop will run from June 9-20 and will be held in the YSU Planetarium.

Held under the auspicies of the department of elementary education, School of Education, the workshop is open to graduate and advanced undergraduate students and carries three quarter hours credit.

The summer session will focus on the significance of aviation and space for the elementary curriculum. It is designed to provide elementary school educators with a wide range of significant classroom aerospace learning experiences.

Mr. William Kral, space science lecturer with the NASA Headquarters Spacemobile Office in Washington, D.C., will serve as principal workshop resource person.

Kral has addressed primary and secondary school groups throughout the U.S. He has also lectured at colleges, teachers' conferences, professional meetings, and conducted aerospace workshops. Hesalso has appeared on many television
