

ART MOONEY PLAYS FOR JUNIOR PROM

Youngstown Is Planning Open House

Youngstown College will hold an Open House for high school seniors of the area during the day and for the general public in the evening, Friday, May 2, as an introduction to the awarding of 15 full-time $300 scholarships and 20 half-tuition $150 scholarships to 1952 high school graduates. Dr. Howard W. Jones, president of the college has announced.

Awarding of the scholarships has been made possible by the current Youngstown College Scholarship campaign for 150 $500 scholarships of which about half have been subscribed by industry, business, professions, clubs, and private individuals, Dr. Jones said.

Principals of 100 high schools of the area have been notified of the Open House and the awarding of scholarships, and high school sen-

College Holds Faculty Forum

The first of a series of Youngstown College faculty forums was held recently at the college with Dr. J. E. Smith, dean of the college, serving as moderator. Participating in the forum were Prof. Ralph Beard, head of the department of economics; Prof. Hubert C. Howard, member of the English faculty; Prof. Vera Jenkins, member of the accounting faculty, and Prof. Joseph Swartz, Jr., member of the education faculty.

The purpose of the forums is to discuss together the problems in

Joyce Sterling

The popular young co-ed was chosen to reign at the annual Junior Prom Friday night, April 18, at the Elms Ballroom in Youngstown.

Air Force Needs Cadets; Must Be College Men

Due to the pressing need for Pilots and Aircraft Observers in the U.S. Air Force, the Recruiting Service of the U.S. Army and U.S. Air Force has tremendously simplified the processing procedure for admitting prospective Aviation Cadets.

At the present time, there are openings for more than 1500 qualified cadets during the months of April and May in the states of Ohio and Kentucky alone. A further projection of the strength build-up of the U.S. Air Force already announced indicates that the demand for cadets will taper off to 250/month for the rest of 1952 for Ohio and Kentucky.

The Aviation Cadet program of the U.S. Air Force is directed primarily to the college students of this country, inasmuch as the most important qualification for entrance into this training is the completion of two years of college.

Reward Is Aim

Its aim is to reward the young man who is planning for his future by completing his education with a responsible, well-paying job and to remove him from the possible inductees into one of the Armed Forces, where his education would be of little help in obtaining immediate advancement.

Another advantage offered to Aviation Cadets is their ability to enlist for a two year period, no more than the present 24-month tour required of inductees. Men who are accepted for cadet training are granted automatic four-month deferments to await assignment to classes. At present, class assignments are made approximately one month after processing is completed.

In order to take advantage of this opportunity, applicants must be citizens of the United States, single between the ages of 19 and 26½ and have completed two years of college.

If these requirements are met, the

His major field of study for the master's degree was in Far Eastern history under the late Harley F. MacNair, and internationally recognized authority on the Far East, and for a time Dr. Smith served as student assistant to Professor MacNair.

Dr. E. B. Smith Directs State Dept. Plan

Dr. E.B. Smith, professor of history at Youngstown College, has been appointed by the U.S. State Department as director of its summer seminar program for July and August. This program, financed jointly by the State Department and the Carnegie Foundation, is designed to instruct a small number of outstanding graduate students and college instructors in the actual problems of American foreign policy and the functional organization of the Department.

Participants in the program are selected on the basis of scholastic achievement. After investigation and clearance for loyalty and security, the participants attend high-level briefings, lectures, and conferences on actual problems of foreign policy, are taught functional organization of the Department and in turn are expected to make a valid contribution to the work of the Department.

Wide Range.

From a wide range of choices, the participants select and pursue independent research on projects and problems of actual significance and value to the Department and its work.

Dr. Smith participated in this program last summer and his assignment this summer will be scheduling, coordination, and general supervision of the activities of the program.

Dr. Smith came to Youngstown College in September, 1949. He received his bachelor of arts degree from Maryville College (Tenn.) in

Dance Set For April 18; Joyce Sterling Is Queen

Art Mooney and his orchestra will provide the music for the Junior Prom, to be held April 18, from 9 to 1, at the Elms ballroom. Admission is by activity book.

Prom Queen Joyce Sterling will be crowned during the traditional intermission ceremony by last year's queen, Mary Lou Rawson.

Nancy Tapley, Joan Bernard, Josie Frazzini and Virginia Nicoludis will attend the queen. The royalty were chosen by a vote of junior men, and judged by Mrs. Marjory Mariner, Attorney Fred Lanz and Oscar Gayton.

Chairmen Named

Co-chairmen for the dance are Dan Dundon and Bill Snyder. Dundon, a junior advertising major, is affiliated with Phi Gamma fraternity and the Newman Club. Snyder, a senior majoring in merchandising is a member of Phi Gamma fraternity and R.I.L.

Dance committee heads are: Decorations - Tom Creed and Nancy Tapley; Program-Phil Snyder; Invitations-Marilyn Dunn; Publicity-Jackie Jones; Gifts and Flowers-Arnold; Intermission-Chuck Bixler; Arrangements-Susan Carlyle.

In Spare Time Queen Enjoys Sports, Music

by Barbara Flint

What with being a full-time student, a member of the R.I.L. Club, treasurer of Gamma Sigma sorority, and a part-time employee at Livingston's, you wouldn't think that Joyce Sterling would have much time left to do what she liked.

But the popular Junior Prom queen, the daughter of Mrs. Chester L. Sterling of 720 LaCleda St. Youngstown still finds time to have an active interest in sports (all kinds of sports, no less!) and music.

Joyce, who is majoring in elementary education, played basketball in the women's Intra-Mural league this year, and, in addition, likes swimming, baseball (to watch) and even archery.

Loves It

(Thinking that all this activity would work up quite an appetite, I asked her what her favorite food was. "Spaghetti", she drooled, "I just love it!")

When it comes to music, she'll take Stan Kenton as her top band, "Tenderly" as her favorite tune, and the sax as her favorite instrument. Oh, yes, better throw George Shearing in there somewhere, too.

But at the moment, there is one tune that she just can't wait to hear, and we don't mean "Try" by Stan Freebury. We are referring to the music she will hear when she marches down the aisle to be crowned Yoco Prom Queen.

Library Drive Results Given

Students and faculty of the College have made another dent in the cost of the million dollar Library with a total of $137.18 given in a room-to-room canvass conducted by Alpha Pi Epsilon and Alpha Phi Omega, service organizations on campus.

The canvass, part of the current drive to raise additional funds for the new library, featured members of the Speech Dept. and Debate Club speaking in the various classrooms in behalf of the library.

While the service organizations conduct the drive at the College, the Association of the Friends of

Has Kefauver Come to Youngstown?

No, this is just a picture of Bobby Pirie, whose father is the head of Yoco's library. However, even though not running for office, Bobby is well known on the campus, and makes the rounds daily on his three-wheeled "bike". It is reported that he could give the Senator from Tennessee some advice on how to win friends and influence people.

Now It's Your Turn

We have received numerous requests from readers that we write an editorial concerning the so-called Puerto Rican situation. Naturally, the requests have come from students on both sides of the fence. Some are for the islanders, some are against.

Well, we had thought of writing one ourselves. However, after three unsuccessful attempts, the task was put aside. At first thought, it seems simple. However, it proved too simple. The problem is nothing new - new suit, perhaps - but nothing new. The answers are not new ones, either. This same case can be found cropping up countless times in American history. It has been THE Great Debate in our history.

Since the problem is common and vital to all of us, we thought it would be a good time to try to let the students themselves answer the questions. Write us a letter, short or long, - even an editorial - but let us know just how you feel, and say what you feel. You don't have to sign it. If there is any response to this request, we will try to publish the best commentaries. At any rate, we would like to know.

To Set The Record Straight

Recently there has been considerable debate - or perhaps it should be called argument - over the question of sending an ambassador to the Vatican, as President Truman has proposed. We don't know, or believe that anyone else except Mr. Truman knows, what was behind this move. A good guess, however, is that it will provide an embarrassing question for many of Mr. Truman's opponents come election day. Regardless of motives, however, the debate over the actual proposal goes on.

Recently we heard a speaker who, in our opinion, put the question in its proper setting. He stated that, to Americans as Catholics, the appointment would have no advantage whatsoever, since his relationship to the Vatican is spiritual and not political. He went on to point out that the reverse was true. The move would have definite disadvantages, since it would tend to stir up religious hatred and bigotry, which are always more or less latent in American life.

However, to all Americans, the proposed ambassador would be beneficial. As one of the two centers of world-wide information, (the other is Communism), and the only one available to us, the Vatican can be an invaluable listening post. That this is generally conceded is proven by the fact that every major power in the world, with the exception of Russia and the U.S. has a representative in the Vatican. It seems that our only point of agreement with Russia concerns the Vatican.

The proposal is attacked by American Protestants as being a violation of what is called "the American principle of the separation of Church and State." This notion is derived from the article that Thomas Jefferson inserted in the Constitution prohibiting the Congress from making any laws respecting religion and "the free exercise thereof." This is the same principle that supported the banning of religion in the public schools, at the request of a single atheist. It has come to be the tool of those who would secularize the nation.

As a matter of fact, Jefferson had no such idea in mind when he proposed his amendment. He was faced with the hard political fact that each of the colonial governments has a virtual or actual state church, and that no federal government could hope to exist under such circumstances. It was a measure dictated from necessity, not from inclination. At that time, Jefferson was roundly damned by American Protestant churchmen in general and Virginia churchmen in particular for his actions. He was looked upon as a traitor and an atheist.

Today, those same men, or their successors, hold this one-hated principle to be sacred, but not, however, without some embarrassing consequences. For instance, Episcopalians can only shrug their shoulders when reminded that the titular head of their church, the Queen of England, has a personal representative in the Vatican.

As a matter of fact, our own President Roosevelt had a personal representative in Rome. Truman should have done the same, and could have, with much less trouble, and with the same results, as it is not the rank of ambassador but the establishment of relations that counts. That he didn't makes it seem likely that he had his own reasons for the move.

Question: Has your opinion of General MacArthur changed in a year?

Chuck Wallit - Fresh.

My opinion of MacArthur as a Military leader has not changed and will not change. Statesmanship is different; I think less of him as a statesman and a man than I do as a military leader. To me his dismissal was justified, however the United States lost a highly successful soldier. - Incidentally he is also a good actor.

Floyd Shick - Fresh.

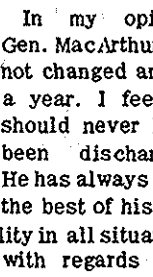

No, I haven't changed my opinion I still think he is a good military man. He has always made a good attempt to fulfill his duties. I believe he did as well in the Far East as anyone else could have done. I think he acted upon an idea that he thought would be the best for the U. N.

Paul Shaffer - Fresh.

MacArthur has always impressed me as a brilliant strategist and a man of sound character. However, in recent months, after carefully considering the many sides of his story I no longer hold him in great esteem. His dismissal was justified. Despite this his numerous victories will take a top spot right in American history through out the years to come.

Peggy Balla - Soph.

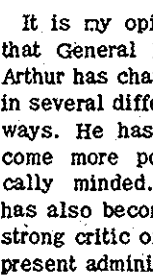

In my opinion Gen. MacArthur has not changed any in a year. I feel he should never have been discharged. He has always done the best of his ability in all situations with regards only for the welfare of the country. In my estimation he has always been and will remain a great leader in our America.

James Hurley - Fresh.

My opinion of Gen. MacArthur is one that will never change. If he was a few years younger I think he would be an ideal President. I believe if we had followed his advice a year ago we would be in a much better position in Korea today.

Arlene Barnes - Fresh.

It is my opinion that General MacArthur has changed in several different ways. He has become more politically minded. He has also become a strong critic of the present administration. The song "Old Soldiers Never Die" was MacArthur's favorite song, but it has now been changed to "Old Soldiers Never Die and Politicians Go On Forever." He has made this transition in just one brief year.

Letters To The Editor

CARTOON BEST EVER

That cartoon you printed on your editorial page last issue was really fine. The likeness of Truman was as good as a photograph, and the humor was biting - even if unfair to a man who has done as well as he could.

WATCHA GONNA DO?

Well, now that Truman has decided not to run, what in the world are you going to do? He has provided you with so much material that I bet you feel lost without him. And you will not be the only one who will be sorry to see him quit, either.

Why don't you put Snarky Parker on page nine? Then no one would object to him and his beloved Walt Drope even if they had the whole page to themselves. They are in a class by themselves right now, which is very much like page nine in your paper - nowhere.

DON'T HESITATE

If I must say so, I think your editorial in the last JAMBAR concerning the New Hampshire elections was the best evaluation I read anywhere. Several points which you brought out were completely overlooked or neglected by the area press, and I was amazed at how much the Nebraska and Wisconsin primaries bore you out. As a Taft man, I must admit that I was beginning to get worried.

A.T.

THESE ARE BOYS?

Will somebody please tell me what is the matter with the (cough) "men" in this school? These gentlemen would never think of opening a door for a girl; they stand like cornstalks in the halls and never speak; the fraternity boys think they are such bigshots - they act as though you should feel very flattered just because they speak to you, and when they do it comes out "dees, dem, and dose", or, if you are lucky, "not no good". How can the girls around here be so boy-crazy?

WANTS ISSUE

Why couldn't this paper have an editorial about the Puerto Rican issue? It is a timely subject that should be presented to the readers. Besides, it is a chance to do somebody some good.

That picture of the five girls is more like what this paper should have more of. All students would like to see their pictures in the paper sometime - and pictures make the paper more readable.

THAT WAS ART?

That so-called critic who praised the art exhibit must be as nuts as the equally so-called artists who entered paintings in the show. If modern art is understandable, so is upside-down writing - both of them are fine if you happen to be standing on your head.

Clock of Life

THE CLOCK of life is wound but once
And no man has the power,
To tell just when the hand will stop
At late or early hour.
To lose one's wealth is sad, indeed
To lose one's health is more.
To lose one's soul is such a loss
As no man can restore.
The present only is our own
Live, love, toil with a will Place no faith in tomorrow
For the clock may then be still.

Youngstowners Paying U. S. More Than Grocer

The average family in the metropolitan Youngstown area is now spending more to feed the federal government than it is spending to feed itself, B.G. Parker, president of the Youngstown Foundry and Machine Co., said recently.

Parker said this fact, applying to families in Mahoning and Trumbull counties, Ohio, and Mercer County, Pa., has been revealed in a study of official U.S. government statistics just released by the National Association of Manufacturers. The purpose of the study is to show the burden of the cost of government for the average family in relation to family income.

"Federal taxes, both direct and indirect, are costing the average metropolitan Youngstown family approximately $1,100 a year," Parker explained. "That same family spends about $1,000 during a year in the area's retail food stores."

Middle Income Largest

"The NAM study shows that of the total of 143,000 families in metropolitan Youngstown, 24,300 of them have incomes up to $2,400 a year," Parker said. "Some 65,800 families have incomes ranging from $2,400 to $4,800 a year, and 52,900 have incomes above $4,800 a year."

Defining a family as "two or more related persons living in the same household," the NAM study states that "the annual family income for the average family in the metropolitan Youngstown area is $4,800."

"By taxing away $1,100 of this yearly family income," Parker pointed out, "the federal government is taking 23 cents out of every family income dollar in the area."

Parker said that the NAM study shows that the total income of all metropolitan Youngstown families now is about $686,600,000 a year.

Impact Greater

"According to the NAM, the total impact of federal taxes at various income levels is much greater than generally supposed by the public, who tend to think of their federal tax bill as only that amount deducted from their pay envelopes and as reflected in their personal income tax returns," Parker said.

Parker emphasized the fact that the NAM study was based on official U.S. government figures published.

New Members Elected To College Trustees

Mr. Charles B. Cushman, Jr., president of Commercial Shearing and stamping Co., and Mr. Edwin H. Gott, general superintendent of the U.S. Steel Co. of Youngstown district plants, were elected new members of the board of trustees of Youngstown College at the annual meeting held at the Youngstown Club recently, according to Dr. Howard W. Jones, president of the college.

Four members of the trustees whose six-year terms had expired were re-elected to the board. They are James L. Wick, Jr., president of Falcon Bronze Co.; J. Cameron Argetsinger, vice-president, The Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co.; Sidney J. Collins of Clark and Collins, public accountants, and Joseph G. Butler, III, director of the Butler Art Institute.

All officers of the board of trustees were re-elected including Wick, chairman; Argetsinger, vice-chairman; William E. Bliss, vice-president of the Standard Slag Co., vice-chairman; Collins, vice-chairman, and Carl W. Ullman, president, The Dollar Savings and Trust Co., treasurer. Hugh W. Manchester of the law firm Manchester, Bennett, Powers, and Ullman, was re-elected recording secretary.

OSU Professor Claims Colleges Aiding Marriage

Columbus, Ohio - (I.P.)—College marriages turn out much better than high school marriages because those who go to college tend to be better adjusted socially, according to Prof. Merton D. Oyler, director of the Marriage Counseling Clinic at Ohio State University.

Students are romantically minded and practical, but they seem to be dating with sound and genuine thought, a report on dating declared. High School students who date usually make better grades than those who don't, said the study. The same thing probably follows over into college dates and grades, Prof. Oyler said.

Part of Living

Dates alone do not help scholarship, but dating and better or above average grades are parts of the living of a well-adjusted individual youth in present-day society, the research continued. A minimum of dating is necessary to prepare yourself for life, said Prof. Oyler, because "dating is a normal function of growing up."

Those who date make better grades because the dates fulfill certain desires which tend to reduce worry and feelings of inferiority, according to the research. Dating has two functions, said Prof. Oyler, social experience and dates for intellectual experience.

Mooney Has Miller-Style Band Plays Popular, Danceable Music

"That Genial Irish Gentlemen" Art Mooney and his band will provide the music for the Junior Prom, set for the Elms Ballroom on Friday night, April 18. This band, you may remember, is the same one that sold over a million records of "I'm Looking Over a Four-Leaf Clover" for M-G-M. With him will be crooner Alan Foster to handle the vocals, and the "Comedy Capers" of Kerwin Somerville and Johnny Romano.

Art Mooney

Art's band leans heavily on the old Glenn Miller style of arrangement, which makes his music, like Glenn's, easy to dance to. But Art owes more to Miller than his style. Indirectly, he was responsible for Art's becoming a leader.

Always Interested

Mooney always had an interest in music, leading his own small band in high school, but he had decided to make his living by being a linotype operator on the Detroit News. Sometimes, while making up ads for visiting bands, he would insert his own name just to see how it would look.

One day a playful "switch" of this type went through by mistake, and an ad which was supposed to announce the appearance of Glenn Miller read "Art Mooney and Band".

Lost Job

The mistake cost Art his printing job and started him in the band business. He has been hard at work building up his reputation ever since, playing hotel and one-nighters as well as theatre dates.

Art is no newcomer to the Youngstown area, having played both theatre and dance-hall engagements here before. However, his is the biggest name band to play at a Yocodance this year.

The band tries at all engagements to play the type of music that its listeners want, and therefore has become very versatile, as its recordings will show, running all the way from novelties like "Four Leaf Clover" to solid arrangements like their theme song, "Sunrise to Sunset".

College Buys Parking Lot

Purchase of the property directly across Wick Ave. from Youngstown College at a cost of $40,000 has been approved by the board of trustees of the Jewish Federation of Youngstown, owners, and by the board of trustees of the college. Dr. Howard W. Jones, president of the college has announced.

The college will continue to use the property for a parking lot as it has done for the past several years.

With a frontage of 180 feet on Wick Ave. and a depth of 300 feet, the lot will park 150 cars at one time.

The Student Council of the College has voted to install lights for night parking.

Sigma Kappa Phi Plans April Convention Here

Sigma Kappa Phi fraternity will hold its annual convention April 18-20 at Hotel Pick Ohio, James Hyland, president, announces.

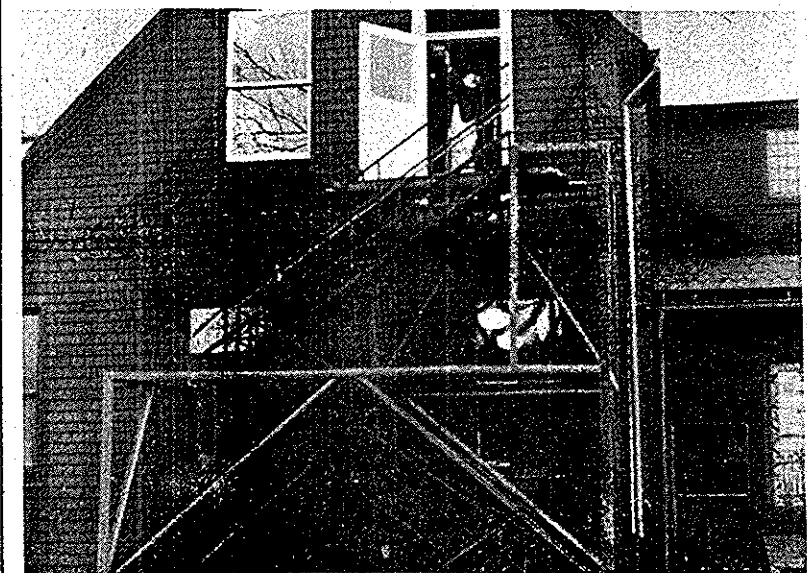

The fraternity has a chapter at the school of business administration at Youngstown College. Entrance to the fraternity is by invitation and is based on high scholastic standards.

A highlight of the convention will be a dinner dance at the Mahoning Country Club.

Expansion and Construction

Construction work on the new library building is moving along rapidly. Above, a recent picture of the structure, taken from the Bryson St., showing that part of the building which will become the Seminar wing.

Demand for Engineers Continues to Increase

Troy, N.Y. - (I.P.) - The dangerous gap between the supply of engineers and the need for their services is becoming wider, according to a report released by Richard W. Schmelzer, Chairman, Public Relations Committee of the American Society for Engineering Education.

Based upon a survey of engineering schools and colleges made in October, 1951, under the joint sponsorship of the U.S. Office of Education and the American Society for Engineering Education, the data contained in this report reveals that only 28,000 engineering students will graduate in 1952 to meet the current demand of from 60,000 to 90,000 engineers.

The increasing desire for graduate training in engineers is reflected by the fact that graduate enrollment is now three times what it was in 1940. At that time, the graduate students comprised only 4.6 per cent of all engineering students. This fall, 13.1 per cent of all engineering students are taking graduate work. For the entire college population, the percentage of graduate students is estimated at about 10 per cent.

Almost 28 per cent of all engineering graduate students are taking their training in electrical engineering.

Trained Women Are Needed In Numerous Occupations

The need for additional trained women is great in all the occupations in which women have led in employment: in nursing, dietetics, physical and occupational therapy, social work, and library work.

Vets' Magazine Printed in U.S.

NEW ERA, a monthly magazine published by the World Veterans Federation, will make its initial appearance on March 15, according to an announcement by the World Veterans Fund, supporting U.S. Agency of the World Veterans. Subscriptions of $1.50 per annum are currently being accepted.

Published in Paris, but printed in English, NEW ERA will be a literary magazine rather than a house organ of the World Veterans Federation which represents 86 veterans' groups comprised of 14,000,000 ex-servicemen in 14 countries.

Influence Growing

Reflecting WVF's growing influence in world affairs, NEW ERA, a completely non-political publication, will report on veterans activities throughout the world as well as containing general features, book, art and music departments.

Off the Record . . .

by JIM MCGINTY

The Drama Guild's "Three For A Quarter" undoubtedly proved to be a definite success. All of the plays were expertly enacted and directed. The most appealing appeared to be the "Idol and His Girl". The most emotional was the "Balcony Scene", written by Prof. Donald Elser of the English dept. And lastly was the "Flattering Word" which was entertaining but at times, failed to hold my attention.

The public response was very good. A definite upsurge in the size of the "house" was visible both nights. This is a good sign; yet the student body of the college showed very little response by its noticeable lack of attendance.

You can't see any kind of an animated show for a mere "quarter" anywhere. Yet the Drama Guild gave three at a time and the students did not attend. I guess you have to pay the PEOPLE to get a crowd. No?

Makes Debut

A beautiful blonde of the opposite sex, made her debut on TV a few days ago. This very energy-supreme young lady was very nervous, to say the least. Her own description of the tension was "I, mortified, beyond all comprehension." That means in Yoco jargon -- "I almost flipped my lid."

But in all fairness to the public, they (them's which own TV sets) should be given another chance to see and hear. Patti Baluck do her stuff. Now that she has some conception of what to expect in a TV studio, her personality and excellent voice will surely carry her to great heights. --

I heard Woody Herman did a stint at the Elms last Sunday. The report from agent S.O.L. states that "Herman really gave the dancers a wild ride."

TV Showoffs

A new program instituted by NBC is "Dagmar's Canteen". This major development takes place on Saturday nights. It's a post-midnight deal. With songs, jokes and Dagmar in a USO Canteen. -- No comment from this corner. I don't want to get fired because of my personal dislike of the above show.

Paul Bedford, formally of radio station WFMJ, is now on a Cleveland TV station, WEWS. Does a nice job of M.C. on their talent shows. Also the latest release by the FCC, is that by July 1, 1952, live video will blanket 59% of the U.S. - I believe WKBN is first on the list in the Jambar area.

Hooper, Tooters and Singers

Sarah Vaughn is now performing at the Spa-Musical Bar in Baltimore. Jo Stafford and husband Paul Weston (bet you didn't know that, did you? I didn't either) open at the Palladium, in London April 7 - Russ Carlyle and orch are back to Cleveland after a few weeks on the road.

Art Tatum, Errol Garner, Mead Lux Lewis and Pete Johnson will do a jazz concert at Syria Mosque, April 14 - Circus Lovers - Ringling Bros. and B & B open at Madison Square Garden the month of April. What this has to do with a music column I don't know -- Tony Bennett was scheduled to vocalize in Pittsburgh, but due to a bad head cold had to drop the engagement. Why doesn't an ambitious gentleman buy or build a good high class night club and book the big names in show business? I don't think the people of Youngstown are that "backwoods minded" that they couldn't indulge in good singing and dancing under favorable conditions and prices. Hanya Holm, the directress of choreography in the musical "Kiss Me, Kate", has been awarded a legal copyright for dance routines. She used the Laban dance notation system. This was the first time any dance steps have been registered. Action is now being considered to cover the field of vaudeville and ballet. Ouch, will this play with Del Castle????

Jukes and Disks

You Are My Sunshine - by Les Brown - a fine arrangement, plus a solid beat. All people with blood should enjoy this record.

After Hours - Sarah Vaughn - Very tender with good singable melody.

Gandy Dancers - Frankie Laine - A full house - I pass.

Come What May - Patti Page - Nice, but commercial - dedicated to Bob Lynn & Ed Nogowski.

Card Still Necessary

Many workers have the mistaken idea that because they work on a part-time job, they do not need a Social Security card. The length of time a person works for any one employer is not the deciding factor.

Generally those who work in trade or industry should pay Social Security taxes, even though they work only a short time for any one employer.

For further information, contact your Social Security office located at 123 West Commerce Street in Youngstown.

"They call that couple over there the 'Teddy Roosevelts'."

Yoco English Faculty Attends Conference

Fourteen Youngstown College faculty members attended the spring meeting of the Conference on College Composition and Communication held Friday and Saturday, Mar. 28 and 29, at the Carter Hotel in Cleveland. The conference is an affiliated group of the National Council of Teachers of English.

Attending the conference were Prof. Karl W. Dykema, director of the division of language and literature and head of the English department, Mrs. Dykema, W. W. Schultz, Gordon W. O'Brien, Hubert C. Howard, Mrs. Anne B. Schafer, W. M. Foley, Donald Elser, Mary F. Johnson, David S. Ives, Mrs. Janet Kimball, Mrs. Rebecca D'Orsi, Mrs. Reno Jones and Harold R. Crites. Prof. Dykema is associate chairman of the group and program chairman for the spring meeting.

The general session on Friday dealt with what employers expect from college courses in composition and communication, with Kenneth A. Stonex of General Motors, W. K. Bailey of Warner and Swasey Co., Robert Tuttle of General Motors, and T. R. Schellenberg, director of the U.S. National Archives, participating. The academic expectation from courses in composition and communication was discussed at Saturday's general session by Paul Anders of Fenn College, Harlan Hamilton and Fletcher Andrews of Western Reserve University, and Elmer Hutchisson of Case Institute of Technology.

"The federal government has mushroomed in the past 23 years from having 600,000 to 2,500,000 employees and from 700 to 1,812 agencies," Parker said. "Youngstown families are now faced with even higher taxes on their incomes."

"It is clear that the only way we can avoid these higher taxes," Parker said, "is to demand that Washington stop waste and extravagance immediately in every branch of the federal government."

D-G Plans More One-Act Plays

by Marily Amey

Due to the gratifying success of the recently produced one-act plays, the members of the Drama Guild have decided to present three more one-acts before the end of the current semester. The plays have not yet been selected.

The D.G. wishes to extend an invitation to anyone interested in dramatics to attend the tryouts. Dates will be announced later.

Meanwhile the next production is getting underway. Under the direction of Prof. Foley, Murder in the Cathedral will be presented the first week in May. It is the tale of the murder of Thomas A. Becket Archbishop of Canterbury written in poetic form by T. S. Eliot.

One of the unusual features is a Greek chorus of women's voices which reflect the thoughts of the people. Jim Shaffer is doing the choreography for the chorus.

In New Play

Several of D.G. members are really devoting their time to the theatrical arts. Jean Vargo, Ed Cunningham and Jim Shaffer have stepped from one play immediately into "Suds in your Eye" at the Youngstown Playhouse. This should prove to be a hilariously funny show. Don't miss Jean as Miss Tinkam.

After seeing Humphrey Bogart in "African Queen" and comparing this performance with that of Marlon Brando's in "Streetcar", I have decided that Hollywood went sentimentally overboard. "African Queen" was an entertaining film, very amusing at times, but Bogart did not rise to the acting level of Brando in his portrayal of the earthy Stanley Kawaski.

It will be a long time before another performance will equal Marlon's and this one should not have gone unmerited. Sentiment-phooey!

Girls are like newspapers: They have forms, they always have the last word, back numbers are not in demand, they have influence, you can't believe anything they say, they're thinner than they used to be, they get along by advertising, and every man should have his own and not try to borrow his neighbor's.

White Man Loco But Improving

John C. Davis, writing in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, reports a story of soil waste and erosion that appeared in the Farmer-Stockman, a widely circulated western-state magazine.

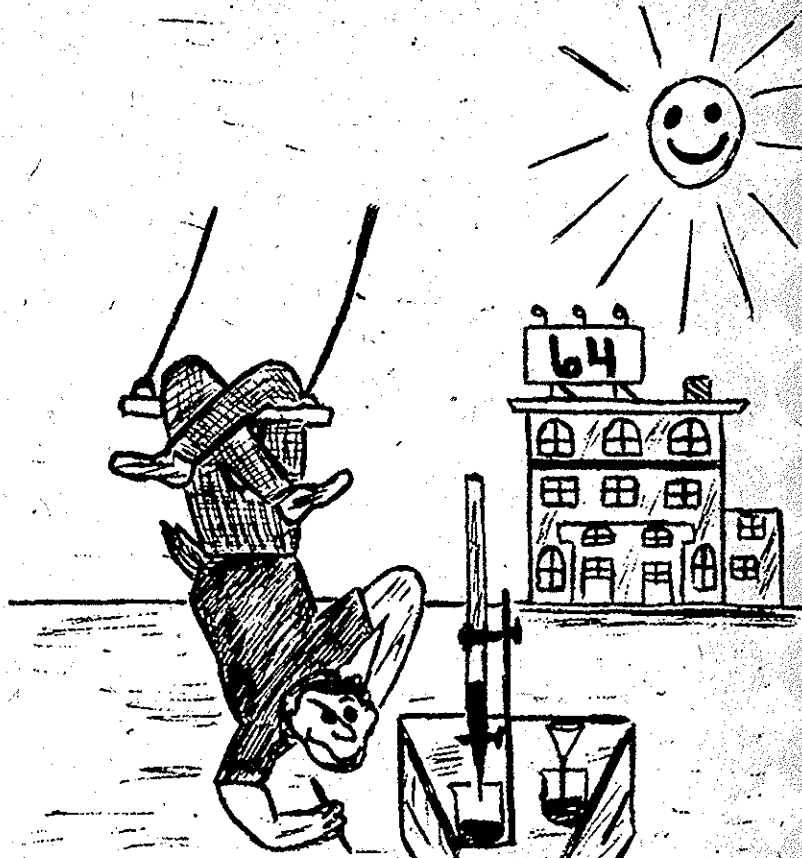

The magazine ran two photos recently, one of a gullied field, the other of an abandoned farmhouse. It offered a prize for the best 100-word essay describing the moral lesson behind the two pictures. An Indian was awarded the prize and here is his winning effort.

The Winner

"Both pictures show white man crazy. Make big tepees. Plow hill. Water wash. Wind blow soil. Grass gone, door gone, window gone. Whole place gone to hell. Buck gone. Squaw, too. Papoose gone. No chuckaway, no pig, no cow, no corn, no hay, no pony.

"Indian no plow land. Keep grass. Buffalo eat. Indian eat buffalo. Hide make tepees, make moccasin. Indian no make terrace, no build dam, no give damn. All time eat. No hunt job, no hitch-hike, no ask relief. No shoot pig. Great Spirit make grass. Indian no waste anything. Indian no work. White man heap loco."

Looking Around...

with Jack De Rose

Greetings, garrulous gates:

And welcome home to YoCo's greatest magician, BOB FILIPS. Sargeant Bob just returned from Europe and will be discharged May 1. He hasn't told me whether or not he will return to college, but we're all hoping he does.

A few years ago, Bob, or "Flip" as he is affectionately called by his closest friends, astounded crowds of students from the stage of the C.J. Strauss Memorial Auditorium where he frequently displayed his vast assortment of card tricks and various other incredible feats of magic. In a recent listing of practicing magicians throughout the United States and Europe, Bob's name appeared. Sargeant Filips is engaged to another former student, ROSE IANNA-ZONE, an accomplished pianist.

And now some news from Pollock Hall. (The next few paragraphs you will read were written by a student who desires to be called "and inmate of Pollock Hall.")

Flash!!! There has been a new addition to the pale, shy boys at the Hall. His name is BOB "YUSHIA" ELIA alias "OLEO". He's the freshman sensation now enjoying real college life thanks to the Pollock Hall boys. Bob, known more intimately as "THE CAMEL JOCKEY", enjoys dancing polkas at the Newman Club. On the gridiron, Bob's a triple-threat, stumble, fumble and fall guy. He is now under the able tutelage of "BIG DUKE" LEHNER and TOM CALKAR. Bob is now engaged in a struggle with BOB LYNN over the right to color the pictures in the first grade coloring book. It looks like the "ASSYRIAN ASSASSIN" will win out.

JOE SANTANGELO and LOU CHIARO are finalists in Pollock Hall's beauty contest. (Ed's.-note: "If there are any lawsuits arising because of the above, I had nothing to do with writing it." "Nor I, J. D. R.")

That furor on the third floor last Wednesday morning was nothing about which to be alarmed. It seems that a deformed calf which was born dead was donated to our anatomy department and before the odoriferous air around it became too repugnant, "Doc" Webster decided to dissect the poor animal. If ever you wanted to see a professional job, this was it, complete with absorbent cotton and a nurse. The faint of heart were held at bay, while the more courageous curiously looked on. Among the spectators were SALLY JOHNSON, HAL ENGLEBAUGH, VIRGINIA NICOLUDIS, ROSEMARY HUM, JOAN MACRI, CARMELLA MACRI, MARY ANN REGA, FRANK VERICOLLI and JEANNE ENGLETON.

There are three men at Youngstown College who qualify as the three handsomest men on the campus. Two of them, who are on a par for second place honors, are GEORGE FINORA and DAN DEGENOVA. At any rate George is in business for himself. Yes, believe it or not, he's working. He purchased equipment worth $5000 and is now ready to make contracts. The equipment? Oh yes, it's a tractor. Not the ordinary farm tractor, but one that digs ditches. You didn't think he'd do anything by hand, did you? All he does is sit there and let the tractor dig the furrow for him...when he's finished, he collects. Good luck, George. ($$$$)

PATTY BALUCK appeared on television recently...she has a fine voice...congratulations to VIRGINIA PITTS, 1952 May Queen.

Oh Yes, congratulations to JIM MAHONEY - if you don't know what for, just ask "MOE" ... JOE KNAPIC tells me that DANNY MICHAELS actually accepts overseas pay for Coast Guard service in Canada, but Danny tells me that Joe is just jealous...I saw CHARLES STREET in the library at noon the other day - studying ...the only trouble with that is all his classes are at night...that would be like catching Mel Wanzor studying at night...Don't forget the Junior Prom - all you need is an activity book - well, besides a date, that is.

Many New Travel Plans Offered For Summer

by Jeanne Shutrump

"And what is so rare as a day in June?"...especially if it is spent strolling leisurely down the Champs Elysees in gay Paris or perhaps sun-bathing on the Riviera. Silly dreamer, you are probably thinking by now, but no, I don't have spring fever and I'm not crazy.

If you have some cash in reserve and were thinking about taking a vacation this summer, then take heed! For most college students, the thought of vacationing in Europe has never occurred. They have looked upon it as something out of the question.

However, within the past three or four years numerous world travel agencies have offered low cost plans for conducted and private tours open exclusively to the college group with itineraries including most of the continental nations and Great Britain.

Private Tour

One of the many tours offered is a 57 day private motor tour through France, Italy, Germany, Switzerland, and Holland including hotels, meals, tips and gasoline for $444.00. It sounds unbelievable but when you consider the rates of exchange in foreign countries, the American dollar goes a long way.

Add to the $444.00 your trans-Atlantic expense which goes from about $200.00 up, and you have almost two solid months of travel and fun before you.

Oddly enough, few people realize how relatively inexpensive it is to live or vacation in Europe as compared with the same time spent in the U.S. The cost of the $444.00 tour averages about $7.70 a day. The above is only one example of the many wonderful tours being offered by various agencies this summer. The itineraries are many, and vary in length, number of countries visited and the cost of same.

Card Will Do

If you are interested, a two-penny post card to any of the following addresses will bring any information you desire.

iors are invited to come in groups to spend the day touring the various departments of the college.

Art and merchandising exhibits will be on display and laboratory experiments will be in operation in chemistry, biology, and engineering. Students will see a play by members of the dramatics department and the Dana School of Music will provide music. The women's physical education classes and ROTC units will give exhibitions.

The Open House will be attended only by high school seniors and their faculty members during the day, and parents, friends, and the general public are invited to attend Friday evening.

Prof. Will Foley, member of the English faculty and director of dramatics, is general chairman in charge of the Open House.

The scholarships will be awarded on the basis of the student's high school record, the recommendation of his or teacher, and his competitive standing in a standard college examination of his high school principal May 6, at the respective high schools.

U. S. Prisoners Rout British Debating Team

Two fast-talking American prisoners defeated a touring debating team from England's ancient Oxford University recently at the Massachusetts State Prison Colony.

It was the first judged debate lost on their American tour by Dick Taverne and William Reesmogg, both 23, of Oxford's Balliol College.

The Englishmen had no reason to feel ashamed of their defeat since it was the 35th victory for the prison colony's debating team in 49 collegiate engagements.

The subject of the debate with the prisoners, believed the first international event of its kind ever held behind prison walls, was the desirability of a "Free National Health Service." The English took the affirmative.

Webster Gives Schedule For Spring Sports

The schedule for spring competition in both golf and tennis has been announced by Athletic Director Willard Webster. Coach Dr. J.E. Smith's golf team will have some rebuilding to do this year, with Mike Prokop the only returning letterman. However, prospects look good, with Jack Blaski, local caddy champ, and Mike Magula on the squad.

The schedule is as follows: (Home, A - away) April 16 - Western Reserve - H, 22 - John Carroll - H 25 - Kent State - A, 30 - Fenn - A, May 3 - Kent State - H, 6 - Geneva A, 9 - Grove City - A, 13 - Slippery Rock - A, 17 - Fenn - H, 23 - Grove City - H, 24 - Akron - H.

Squad Strong

This year's tennis squad should be one of the finest turned out by Coach Ralph Beard. Mainstay of the team will be Joe Pickering, local singles champion. Joe will be backed up by John Boliver, Penguin griddler, and Bob Cantwell, a veteran tennis man. The tennis schedule follows:

April 23 - John Carroll - A, 25 - Westminster - H, 30 - Fenn - A, May 3 - Western Reserve - A, 6 - Mt. Union - A, 13 - Slippery Rock - A, 15 - Geneva - H, 17 - Fenn - H, 20 - Akron - H, 22 - Westminster - H, 24 - Bowling Green - A.

At the present time, neither mentor is making any predictions, but with other spring sports cut out, the accent will be on tennis and golf.

Rosselli Plans Spring Sports

Coach Dom Rosselli has announced that Intra-Mural baseball will get under way as soon as possible, probably around April 14. Ten teams have signed up for league play. They are:

Phi Sigs, Engineers, Varsity Hall, The Bumpers, ROTC No. 1, Pollack ROTC, Alkanols, Phi Gams, Mechanics, and Sigma Sigma.

With such a large turnout, the league is expected to produce some fine baseball this season, with a close race for the flag.

The sign-up for participation in Intra-Mural golf and tennis has been slow so far. All those interested are urged to sign the roster in the Athletic Office as soon as possible, so that competition can get under way.

ATTENTION GOLFERS!

There will be Varsity Golf tryouts Wednesday and Thursday, April 9 and 10, between 12:30 and 1 p.m. at the Mahoning Country Club in Girard. If interested, register at Dean Smith's office at once.

Tigers Youngest in League

THE AVERAGE AGE of American League players is 27.28. The oldest average age is 28.2 on the Athletics and Indians while the youngest is among the tigers, 26.5.

Newman Downs Phi Gams, Lead Bowling Race

The Newman Club made itself a strong favorite to clinch second-half I-M bowling honors by downing its closest rivals, the Phi Gams, 2-1. The win gave the Newmanites undisputed possession of first place.

Curtis led the winners with a 595, with Vross' 550 and Zill's 533 aiding the cause. Don Huratt's 523 was high for the losers.

The Independents held on to third place in spite of losing two games to the Phi Sigs. Herman had 234 for the winners, which tied for individual honors.

Take Two

With Iannucci firing 469, the ROTC captured two out of three from the Kappa Sigs. Pagano's 488 paced the Kappa Sigs. The Sig Sigs had a bye, but Martinko hit for 526 in the practice session.

Individual average honors are still held by Vross with 171, followed by Zill with 169, Curtis, 168, and Yurcho, 167.

THE NEUTRAL CORNER

by Snarky Parker

Baseball is here!!! When the umpire shouts "Play Ball" up in Cleveland on the 18th, Northeastern Ohio fans will officially usher in the 1952 baseball season with high hopes of keeping the sport going well into October and the climaxing World Series.

Youngstown College dropping baseball leaves a dent in activities around the local campus but with fast Amateur leagues in the district being available, students and fans alike will see many a thriller in '52.

Locals Play

Well we're on the subject, we might as well mention a few of the boys who are participating in the diamond sport. PAUL ANDRISH, HERB THOMAS and FRAN McHUGH hit well in the "AA" league last season while NICK GRANITO, DICK SELBY and DON MEDLAND were earning laurels on the mound. MIKE BUTCH was going great in the roll of "Bill Dickey" until stopped by a "Beanball". MIKE MAGULA, ace Penguin cager is being chased by many a Big League scout...DICK WILLIAMS was a flychaser for the Edison Grill squad while AL BOGGIA held down the hot corner for same team.

Space limits the mentioning of more YoCo ballplayers this issue but if you can think of some out-of-townners who play the game in surrounding communities, drop a line to me in care of the JAMBAR and we'll see that they are merited.

Here 'N There

Congrats to SAM JANKOVICH on earning a spot on the Serbian Tourney All Star team...SMILEY'S TAVVERN, a team made up of players from the varsity cage squad, won the Hubbard I.O.O.F. cage tourney last week... Intra-Mural softball will soon be started, and from all indications, should be the best ever...That was a tough BREAK for Monte Irvin, but just like JIMMY DUDLEY says, some days you just can't make a nickle.

This Is Why...

The first two fouls that you hit now are called strikes because Roy Thomas, an ex-Phillie outfielder, and John McGraw, then playing third on the old Orioles, became so adept at knocking fouls that a pitcher couldn't very well get out of walking them whenever they were determined to get on first.

What some people don't know about driving would fill a hospital.

Sporting Views

by Danny Michaels

Well, it's almost time for baseball to start rolling along again. Since Snarky Parker has already made his predictions as to how the Major League races will come out this year, we won't venture another opinion. When it comes to picking winners, Snarky is in a class all by himself. After all, hasn't he picked the Red Sox to win the American League pennant for the past three years? And hasn't he been right? No sir, he hasn't. The Yankees have won it every time. Nuff said.

Have you heard what the slogan is this year at the Phillies training camp? Blood, sweat, and NO BEERS! It seems that Eddie Sawyer thinks the Phils poor showing last year after winning in 1950 was due to high living.

The Dodgers are sure to miss their ace pitcher, Big Don Newcombe, who is now in the army. But they won't miss him as much as the Card's Stan Musial will - Stan blasted the Brook hurler for a sizzling .545 last year. And speaking of slugging, most fans think that Babe Ruth was nothing but a slugger. However, after more than 20 seasons in the Majors, he had a lifetime average of .342.

Here are some other baseball notes flashing around the training sites: Gil MacDougald is an unusual hitter - he bats right handed, but would still rather bat against righthanders...Ted Williams says that the Bosox (Snarky should hear this) will come out on top if Walt Dropp comes through. Ted believes that Walt is a solid .290 hitter who can drive in the runs...Who has replaced Luke Appling as the best foul-hitter in baseball? According to the record, it is Eddie Yost, Senator third sacker...Eddie Lopat has been in organized baseball for 15 years, and yet he never once won 20 games in one season until last year...Giants star flinger is - not Maglie, but Jansen - he has won 96 games in five seasons. Secret of his success? Control. He walked only 56 men in 279 innings last year... The Detroit Tigers, badly in need of a first baseman, are trying hard to get Eddie Robinson from the White Sox.

College Holds Faculty Forum

teaching for the benefit of the teachers, students, the college, and society in general.

Special Reference

The discussion for the first forum pertained to the evaluation of students' achievement with special reference to grading on the curve. Other typical topics suggested for coming forums include "is the teacher's primary obligation to the individual student or to society?" "at what point, if any, can ethical and moral teaching in classroom work become indoctrination, assuming that indoctrination has no place in a liberal, academic atmosphere?" and "to what extent, if any, does the independent, urban college differ from the tax or church supported school, or the non-urban campus-centered school?"

Sponsored by Committee

The series of forums is sponsored by the faculty-staff social committee of the college, including Prof. Crites, chairman; Prof. Karl Benker of the engineering faculty; Prof. Pauline Boty, student advisor and head of the department of sociology; Prof. Irwin Cohen of the chemistry faculty; Prof. Nellie G. ### Library Plans

Youngstown College Library announced at their annual meeting at the close of last month that more than $10,000 has been contributed in the 1952 campaign and an additional $1,000 or more is expected.

William F. Magg, Jr., is president of the association which includes prominent businessmen from the Youngstown area.

The money being raised will be used to buy books for the new library which will have a total capacity of 260,000 volumes.

Early in the drive $113 was contributed by students Harry Altman, Jean Vargo, and Andy Vargo. Over two years, students of the college have contributed and solicited over $25,000.

S. Flad of the business administration faculty; William Nelson, assistant business manager of the college; and Prof. David Skeggs of the art faculty.

Tentative plans for the forums include the possibility of holding some of them in the evenings, and when topics to be discussed are of general interest, opening them to the public.

Then there was the professor who forgot to write a five dollar text book to sell to his class.

USAF Needs Men

prospective Cadet should go to the nearest U.S. Army and U.S. Air Force Recruiting Station with his birth certificate and a transcript of his college credits. He will then be furnished transportation to a nearby U.S. Air Force Base for medical examination and completion of air-crew classification testing.

If he successfully passes these tests, he will be assigned to an early class to begin Pilot or Aircraft Observer training.

Next Aviation Cadet pilot training classes will start April 15 and then May 27. Aircraft observer sections convene April 9 and 23, and radar observer classes April 16.
