Ray and Joe Plot Their Program

Going over their scripts are (l to r) Ray Schindell and Joe Phelan. Ray and Joe are those two YoCo men responsible for that show called "The YoCo Quarter Hour," heard every Saturday noon over Radio Station WBBW at 12:30.

YoCo Quarter Hour Begins Sixth Season

By Eddie Simons

Back on the air, starting its sixth consecutive school year, is our radio program, "The YoCo Quarter Hour." Sparking the 15 minute show again, as last year, are Ray Schindell and Joe Phelan. The show is going to be produced in the same manner as last year with informality as a keynote.

Highlighting the show are the much appreciated "Helpful Hints to the YoCo Freshman," and a brief interlude by "Uncle Ray" in which he describes many shortcuts in the freshmen's primary year at YoCo.

Although directed toward freshman, this interesting program is of interest to all and widely accepted as a permanent part of the show. Topics for discussion this semester may touch on the subjects: "Is going steady detrimental to marriage?", "How to cut classes effectively?", "Should College Credits be granted for time spent at Geneva?" and many other subjects of interest. "This will be a banner year," Schindell states.

Interviews Featured

Joe Phelan takes over the show's other featured spot to give you the "Interview of the Week." This portion of the show spotlights a prominent college figure each week, delving into his personal life and school activities.

Another weekly feature of the fifteen minute fiasco is a bit called the "Hit Tune of the Week." It is this part of the show in which Joe and Ray combine talents to introduce a hit tune, popular around campus for the week, and play same.

Student-Faculty Talks

Student-Faculty talks are held every first and third Tuesday at 11 a.m. in the Audio-Visual Room of the new library. These talks are designed to supplement the student's education by providing faculty members to speak on various interesting subjects. The first two speakers were Prof. Myron Wisler and Father Joseph Lucas. The next Student-Faculty talk will be given on Tuesday, Oct. 19.

BULLETIN

Thursday, Oct. 14 - Charles G. Nichols, President of the G.M. McKelvey Co. speaks tonight to the Alpha Mu Merchandising and Advertising Fraternity in Room 12, Tod Hall, at 8:30 p.m.

Mr. Nichols will discuss merchandising and advertising problems confronting a retail store.

McKelvey's President has achieved national prominence for his Chamber of Commerce work here in the Youngstown area and throughout the country.

All students and faculty members are invited to hear Mr. Nichols speak this evening. President of the fraternity is Dick McCollum and advisors are Professors McKinley Browne and William Flad.

FACULTY RECEPTION

The Faculty-Social Committee cordially invites new members of the college faculty to attend a reception in their honor at 8:30 p.m., Friday, October 22, to be held in the Frank Furnell Room, third floor of the new college library.

Money? Boop Has Answers For Us

The Student Activity Fund was the subject of an interview granted to the JAMBAR by Treasurer of Student Council, Dean Boop. He emphasized the various aspects of the 1954-55 budget.

Boop pointed out that copies of the budget he presented to Student Council are available to any interested student, and may be obtained from him.

The Student Council Treasurer stated that "we have more full-time students than we've had for several years. This complicates the budget, since the funds for the budget are provided by last semester's enrolled students. This, in fact, means that we have many more students but a small budget for the fall school activities."

Opinions Appreciated

Altogether though, this show is fifteen minutes of enjoyable listening. Fan mail is encouraged and criticisms (both kinds) may be mailed to them in care of WBBW Radio Station.

S-C WANTS REPORTS

All organizations chartered by Student Council are required to turn in an Annual Report Form no later than October 31. If your group has not received one already, you may get a copy from the Dean's Office. They must be returned to the Dean's Office by the above deadline. (See Page 4 of the Student Council By-Laws for reference.)

S-C Begins Work; Lavin Is Prexy

Youngstown College's annual Homecoming celebration and the Freshman Breakfast head the list of Student Council's recent activities.

Council held its first meeting of the 1954-55 school year on Friday, Sept. 17. Presiding over Council this semester is Pres. Tom Lavin. Advisors to Student Council are Mrs. Karl Dykema and Miss Ivis Boyer.

Permanent charters have been granted to Delta Lambda Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority and to Circle-K. Los Buenos Vecinos was granted a temporary for a four-month period.

Lavin Warns

President Tom Lavin stated that students must stay out of the Butte Art and First Christian Church parking lots when either organization has something scheduled. Lavin emphasized that this ruling would be enforced.

Treasurer of Student Council, Dean Boop, outlined at a recent Council Meeting the budget of the Student Activity Fund for the school year 1954-55. Boop moved that the budget be accepted by the Student Council and this motion was carried unanimously.

Chairman of the Constitution Committee, Noreen Bennett, reported that she has issued Annual Report Forms to 53 campus organizations.

Looking Around...

by Ray Schindell

Yours truly has been doing some looking around lately - much to M.E.'s disgust. But with all the new freshmen one can hardly keep his "eyes front", a military term used quite often (oddly enough) by the military - (it figures).

As of yet I haven't met all the freshmen, but those I have encountered are really nice kids, and it looks like they're going to bring a great deal of that "go, go, go" to old Youngstown College.

A few of those that came over from Warren and were foolish enough to take an 8 o'clock are:

John Latham, Gus Marmarinos, Ed Fiore, and "Mo" Brown, a transfer from Ohio State (which is a small college to the south), who has a strong nose from holding up those glasses, and Pat Pat Crowley, just out of the Air Force, is keeping those boys out of trouble.

Girls, Girls, Girls, --- A paradise in Miss Reiley's 2 o'clock typing class - sitting there limbering up their fingers and waiting for that pleasant (and now famous) Beginnnnnn --

Elizabeth and Pat Daley - (not related), Mary Adell Gates, Almedah Morse, Betty Mucollo, Barbara Scaghone, Joyce Van Sack (no relation to Sad Sack), Pat Rudesill from Uniontownship (which is just north of Beaverville to pinpoint it for you, Eileen Larson, from Boardman and little ol' Paggy Tiller from Vir-gin-ya.

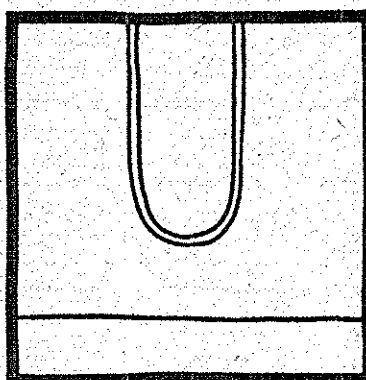

Fred Melquist, Dick Blake and Carl Garner, all from Boardman, promised to read my column. Standing in line for books were Arlene Delision and Marilyn Slicker. Charlene Jarvis shouldn't have any trouble making friends.

Back again this year of course are Paul Malenky and Dick Winslow, Marty (two creams) Flynn, Bob (your deal) Mahone, and Ken (Geneva Kid) Shaffer.

Draw your Droodles any size, on any piece of paper, and send them with your descriptive titles to Lucky Droodle, P. O. Box 67, New York 46, N. Y. Be sure your name, address, college and class are included.

That's All-- We've Had Enough

We've had enough. No, we're not talking about home work or difficult professors, we are talking about the lack of support shown in the past towards Youngstown College's Student Council.

Student Council is such an integral part of life at our college that without it we would founder around like lost sailors. And yet, does the student body really care about Student Council? How many of us have actually taken time out on Friday afternoon at three o'clock to see Student Council in action? There assembled are some of the leading students of Youngstown College and there they decide problems and issues that concern every student whether full or part-time. Student Council is open to anyone who wishes to attend its meetings. And yet students seldom take advantage of this privilege.

This paper believes we have a good Student Council this semester. We have a capable president in Tom Lavin and a slate of officers who are fully capable of discharging their duties with integrity and intelligence.

It is our hope that the student body will see fit to avail themselves of attending the future meetings of Student Council. Only by doing this can they fully appreciate the magnitude of problems that are continually confronting the members.

It is our solemn duty to support our school. If we adopt an attitude of inertia then we have lost sight of one of our prime responsibilities. That responsibility is to make Youngstown College the best college.

G.N.M.

Homecoming

Homecoming is a word that brings to the minds of all of us the important part that college is playing in our lives. It is the time to tell all those who have gone on from Youngstown College to their individual careers that we remember them. They mean just as much to us as all the traditions that we associate with our college.

The alumni have made our college what it is today. Each one has while here at YoCo, helped to put in place a particle of the mosaic that forms our college today. To alumni the hearing of the word "Homecoming" brings all the wonderful memories rushing back. The football games, the dances, the fraternities and sororities - all were part of their lives. They have left a part of themselves here at YoCo.

We students owe them a debt too big for words or lofty phrases. We can only say Thank You. Youngstown College is a better college because you were here.

Our Policy Is . . .

With this first issue of the JAMBAR for this semester, perhaps a word or two would be in order with regard to the editorial policy of this paper. It shall be our aim to tell you, the reader, the news that we feel will be of greatest interest. We shall strive continually to present the news with fairness to all. We shall further attempt to provide you with the best possible news coverage of all subjects.

The JAMBAR does not believe that the size of a club or organization is necessarily the proper measuring device for the number of times its name should appear in print. While realizing that larger organizations are perhaps engaged in more activities on campus, it shall be one of our basic aims to provide news of all organizations, regardless of size.

In regard to our policy on the editorial page, it shall be our vigilant desire to encourage, not discourage. In a world today that finds it so easy to criticize, it might be perhaps refreshing to take this attitude. When we do find it necessary to criticize, we shall at the same time endeavor to offer constructive criticism.

The flames of journalistic progress require constant rekindling. We feel that the JAMBAR has grown considerably since the days of its first issue. We shall regard it as our solemn duty to maintain the high journalistic standards already set by past editors, and to do our part to make the JAMBAR the best newspaper possible for you all.

G.N.M.

It's Nice To Meet You

Take heart, poor freshmen, take heart! Harried and hounded as you may well be, take heart. You are not losing a life, you are gaining a college education.

We veterans of scholastic life at Youngstown College offer you one consoling word - we were once in the same boat. However, most freshmen do not feel they're in a boat, they feel that they are already drowned, or at least down for the count (to purloin a quaint phrase from the pugilistic profession.)

But, as we say, take heart! Your head shall soon emerge from the deep waters of freshmen life and you shall realize that you are in the best college of them all - Youngstown College.

And so, take heart, poor freshmen, the world has not yet ended.

Photopinions

Question: What is your impression of Youngstown College?

by Joe Anne Gioglio

Paula De Brukeleer - Soph.

What impressed me most about Youngstown College was the friendly attitude and sense of unity found in the student, faculty, and personnel. Being a transfer student, many things amazed me such as students and faculty members sitting together in the cafeteria, upperclassmen helping freshmen, different sororities and fraternities associating together, and the right to voice your own opinion during class hours. These are only a few of the many favorable characteristics that I found to be very evident on this campus and which deserve favorable comment.

Anthony Metash - Fr.

My impression of Youngstown College deals with the student. Their overwhelming reception has given me the impression that everyone is a friend. We feel that is an important part in the attitude and feelings of every student. The faculty has given me the impression of self-responsibility. In general, I am glad to be a part of Youngstown College and hope to be a friend of everyone.

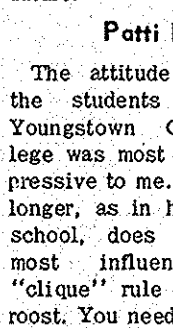

Theresa Todarello - Fr.

The thing that impresses me most about Youngstown College is the friendliness of the students and their eagerness to make you feel a part of the college. The friendly competition between fraternities and sororities shows sporting college spirit.

Frank Logar - Fr.

When I came to Youngstown College I was given a feeling that I was really welcomed. The new student was asked to dances and parties and to join clubs. There was no distinction in class rank. I liked the school spirit in the Homecoming election. I like everything I've seen and experienced and hope for the same in the future.

Patti Duley - Fr.

The attitude of the students at Youngstown College was most impressive to me. No longer, as in high school, does the most influential "clique" rule the roost. You need no secret pass word to get along with other students on the campus.

Louise Callard - Fr.

The things I like most about Youngstown College are the vigor, friendliness, and enthusiasm of everyone connected with the college. The recent Homecoming Queen campaign illustrated how energetic and full of fun the students are.

With the ENGINEERS . . .

Greetings gang - welcome back to these hallowed halls. And how are all the perspiring, or - aspiring engineers getting along with their steadies - (Ho! Enough of that trash) - we mean studies?

We hope that you are all faring better than one Joe Ziemanski. It seems Joe has had a hard time tearing himself away from those summer habits. Just the other day his clear tenor voice was heard ringing through the building, with a southern accent! At the time Joe was clinging precariously to the water fountain. No doubt figuring the angle theta between the water pipes and the American. Don't laugh, freshmen, it could happen to you.

Congrats, Men

Congratulations are in order for the O.S.P.E. This organization has done a fine job for the past few weeks in keeping the parking lot in a state of orderly confusion. In case any of you illiterates don't know what the O.S.P.E. is -- it is the student chapter of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers and we at Youngstown College are proud of them.

This is one of only seven such chapters located at various engineering schools throughout the state of Ohio. Just in passing we might mention here that our chapter placed second in the state last year. The chapter taking first place gets a beautiful trophy and our aim this year is to have that trophy reside right here in Youngstown College.

However, that depends on the members of the organization itself and you should feel it your duty to do your part in bringing that recognition to your school. So let's get on the ball and report in to Wallace Horlick, the membership director. You can learn a lot from your fellow engineers, especially the more experienced ones. Like which instructors to avoid and all such helpful information.

"Just the Facts"

Should anyone want to find out a few facts about how the school is being run and where your money goes, (stop that noise), corner one of the representatives to Student Council. We have five of them: Gilbert Marsh, Don Baird, Jay Troy, Bob DeHoff, and Fenton Koch. It would be a good idea to get to know how the other half lives. (We just lost five more friends. That leaves us with a minus two.)

Best of luck to Joe Comparato and Marty Bauer, each of whom found a woman and got married this summer. May all their troubles be with Mr. D'Isa.

Parties Planned

We might also add that the boys in this outfit like their fun and in keeping with that fine college tradition, they throw a few parties. In fact we remember one particular party that they throw right through the back window of the Cycle Club.

This being a good time to plug the Radio Club, we shall Plug it. (No comment) These men have their own station, WBRGC, set up in the old library at the engineering building. Here's a chance for all you fellows to get a little bit of practical experience and the opportunity to get up on the air (professional term meaning "knob twisting"). If you have any friends who are students, not necessarily engineers, bring them around.

For more information see either Bob Moyer or Jack Schaffer.

Seeing all these familiar faces brings out the poet in me. Now that we're free from the clutches of the civilian world and back to the sane, normal life of the engineer, we can once again speak in familiar terms. So I, (Mert speaking) have rewritten the old poem Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star just for this occasion. It goes like this:

Scintillate, Scintillate asteroid minific,
Fain would I fathom your nature specific,
Loftily poised in the ether capacious,
Strongly resembling a gem carbonaceous.

And so we take leave of you, but before doing so, we would like to leave you with these famous words spoken by an grad of '53.

"If all the engineers at Youngstown College were laid end to end, -- they would still point in all directions!"

Raupple, President of the Alumni Association, will act as General Chairman; William Finn, Howard Mason, Eddie Simons and Stanley Wyosky will represent the student body and Stanley Silak, Howard Rempes and Richard Selby are serving as alumni chairmen.

Value

Fund Provides

"The Student Activity Fund," he explained, is comprised of the Student Activity Fee of $22.50 paid by each full-time student. This fund is used to provide to each student, in an efficient and economical way, the extracurricular programs that are enjoyed by all other colleges throughout the country.

"For example, each student who has paid his fee will be automatically paying for his subscription to the JAMBAR.

"The money is allocated for this new budget by comparing last year's budget against what was actually spent. Sound judgement is used to see that the money is allotted to the activities that will be enjoyed and participated in by the majority of the student body."

Members Drive Ends Sunday

The First Christian Church was the scene for the recent bi-monthly Religion in Life meeting when Dr. Eugene Beach spoke on "Building for Tomorrow," which is the RIL theme for the coming year.

Wednesday night, members met at the YWCA for a swimming party followed by dancing and refreshments at the Pilgrim Collegiate Parish House.

Coming events include the regular meeting this Sunday at 8:00 p.m. at the First Christian Church, with Rev. William H. Phillips as the speaker.

PR Sponsors Dance; Everyone's Invited

A record hop will be sponsored Friday, October 22, 8 p.m. Strouss Auditorium by Company P-1, Pershing Rifles, of the YoCo ROTC. Admission will be fifty cents per person and it will be a stag or drag affair.

Company Commander John DeLeo states that "everyone on the campus is invited to attend. Pershing Rifles, through this dance, hopes to bring about a closer relationship between the students, many of whom do not see each other at all during the school year."

Pershing Rifles has been on the campus since May, 1952 and has become an important element in the ROTC program. Advisor to the unit is Maj. Leonard B. Main.

Skeggs had a one-man show of paintings at the R & H Gallery in Chicago in 1953 and has been invited to present another one-man show of paintings, drawings and prints at the Canton Art Institute this fall. He and his wife Nancy have enamel on copper ware handled by a number of shops in Ohio, Michigan and Illinois.

Organizes Show

The popular art teacher organized the "College Prints 1954" show, national in scope, which was exhibited at the Butler Institute of American Art and was on tour this past summer in colleges and museums of the United States.

Holder of the degree of Bachelor of Arts from Dennison University, Skeggs received his master's degree from State University of Iowa. He has done special study with Hans Hofmann, of Provincetown, Massachusetts.

Works Exhibited

His works have been exhibited in many leading U.S. galleries and he has received numerous major awards.

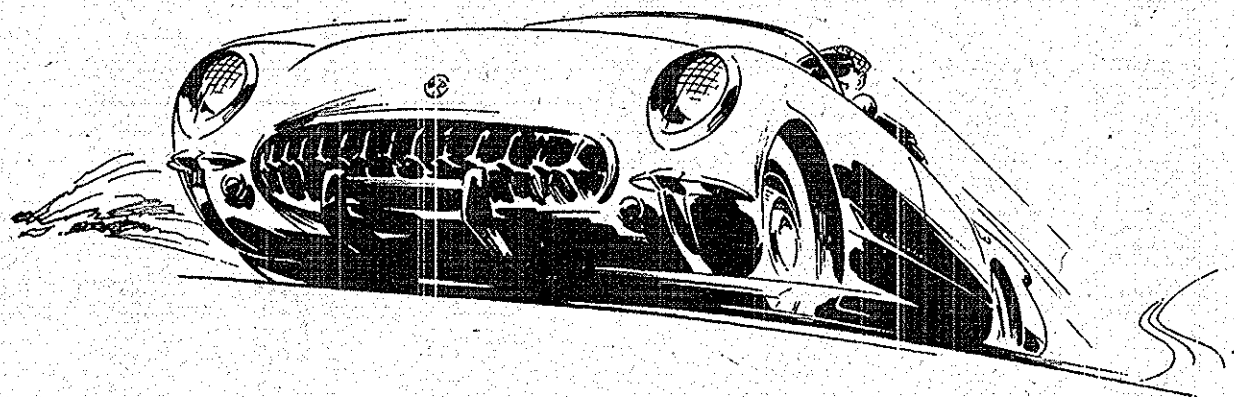

Skeggs, head of the YoCo art department since the fall of 1952, and a member of the art faculty since 1948, will assume his new duties this fall. The art center at Sioux City was organized 15 years ago and a building program was recently begun on a new contemporary gallery in Sioux City.

It will be Skeggs' task to formulate plans for the new building and to organize exhibitions of paintings, prints, architecture, contemporary design and crafts. He will also promote general art interest in the community and sponsor talented local artists and designers.

Wins Awards

A winner of many firsts in art competitions, the former YoCo art director has exhibited his works in numerous U.S. galleries. He recently won purchase awards for his works for permanent collections at Akron Art Institute, Butler Institute of American Art, Smith College, Dayton Art Institute and Indiana State Teachers College.

If you drive for the sheer zest of it
you owe yourself
this hour!

If your hands rejoice in the precise balance of a fine gun or the sweet response of a racing sloop . . . then you owe yourself an hour with the Chevrolet Corvette.

You'll find it is, quite literally, like no other car in the world—a heart-lifting blend of the true sports car with all that is best in American engineering.

There is the velvet smoothness of a Powerglide automatic transmission (but with the classic floor selector-lever).

The trouble-free durability of a Chevrolet "Blue-Flame" engine (but with three side draft carburetors to unleash its flashing 150 horsepower).

The ruggedness of an X-braced box girder frame (but with the astonishing impact resistance of a glass-fiber-and-plastic body).

Luxurious seating for driver and passenger in deep foam rubber (but cradled in the traditional security of bucket seats).

Generous luggage room, the panoramic sweep of a deeply curved windshield, the flair of tomorrow's styling (but within the polo-pony compactness of a real road car).

The Corvette blends all this and more. For it is a driver's car . . . a low-slung torpedo with a center of gravity only 18 inches above the concrete . . . with outrigger rear springs that make it hold to the road like a stripe of paint . . . with a 16 to 1 steering ratio that puts needle-threading accuracy at your finger tips.

Frankly, the Corvette is a "limited edition," made only in small numbers. It is intended only for the man or woman to whom driving is not just transportation but an exhilarating adventure, a sparkling challenge to skill and judgment. If you are one of these, then you owe yourself an hour with a Chevrolet Corvette.

Call us now and let us set up a demonstration run . . . for in a short 60 minutes you can discover that motoring has a whole new dimension of delight.

WRA Begins Season; Playday Is Tomorrow

The first playday of the Woman's Recreation Association will be held tomorrow at Carnegie Tech, Pittsburgh, Penna. Field hockey, tennis, swimming and softball are some of the sports in which the YoCo girls will participate.

The intra-mural program is already in full swing. Every Tuesday and Thursday it's hockey and every Wednesday it's tennis. Both activities are scheduled from 4 to 5 p.m. at Ford Field and Ford Tennis Court.

Starting in late November two other sports, fencing and badminton, will be offered. Both of these will be co-educational. (The exact date will be in the next issue of the JAMBAR.)

The WRA semi-annual Sweatshirt Sale is nearing its end, but any girl desiring a new sweatshirt should stop in at the Woman's Physical Education Office to get a new one.

The membership drive for this season began early this week. WRA offers opportunities for all women at YoCo to participate in sports, make new friends, and go on trips to playdays at various colleges.

Penguins To Face E-K At Rayen

Youngstown, undefeated in homecoming competition, will be out to defend its record, while Eastern Kentucky will attempt to shatter the long string of victories.

Since last year was the first meeting between the two teams in the schools' histories, the Eastern Kentucky Maroons will also be in top shape to avenge their defeat. The Penguins had to come from behind three times to defeat the Kentuckians 20-19.

Kentuckians boast the versatile playing of half-back Don Daly, who piles up points with his hard running and superior speed. Opening up the holes for Don are seniors, Karl Bays and Frank Nassida, both of whom are guards, weighing 225 and 220 pounds, respectively. These two mainstays on the line not only excel offensively but are equally talented on defense.

Be No Pushover

Eastern Kentucky by no means will be a pushover for they handed John Carroll, a familiar foe to the Penguins, a crushing defeat of 19 to 0. After the Penguins handed the Maroons their defeat last year, the Kentuckians completed the season undefeated and as the paper goes to press, they and the YoCo team are still unbeaten. So from past and present information the contest should prove to be quite a thriller.

Sporting Views

By Ed Poplava

As the season opened for the Youngstown College Penguins, the predicted hopes were high, but as the season rolls along the team are not only living up to expectations, they are surpassing them.

In their first encounter with Gustavus-Adolphus, the Penguins really set the home air blue with cheering, the Penguins played headsup ball throughout to gain victory over a saddened Gustavus eleven.

This victory was only a preview of the potential strength of the YoCo eleven. Their remarkable ability out loose in the first home game against the powerful Great Lakes Naval Training Base, who were loaded with all-Americans and ex-pros such as Bernie Flowers from Purdue.

Came Back

The Penguins came back with two touchdowns to tie the game, after having allowed the Navy men to garner the lead at the end of the first half. From then on the men from YoCo pulled out all stops in demonstrating their prowess with the pigskin.

The dazzling ball-handling and passing of Frank Beck, who put across three of the Penguin touchdowns, showed the old pros that they weren't playing with a "small" college team.

Beck, supported by magnificent replay on the part of Pagano, Garcar and Del Signore, never once showed signs of tiring as he piled up points for the YoCo team. Despite the fact that Joe Guido, the agile back, was hampered by injuries, John Rouse kept Dike Beede's hopes alive with his outstanding performance.

If the Penguins keep up with this rate of play, there may be hopes of them getting a Bowl bid at the end of this season.

Deserve Credit

Dike Beede and his coaches deserve special credit for their numerous hours spent in surveying the team in and placing the right men in the right places and getting them to rack up the points that decide victory or defeat.

Victory seems to be in the Penguin blood, this season. By showing its skill in the Great Lakes game, the YoCo team has literally

Bowling Planned By YoCo League

The 1954-55 season of the Youngstown College Intramural Bowling League opens October 24 at the Champion Bowling Alley. Starting time will be 4:30 p.m.

John Grohovsky will again be league secretary and announces that any team desiring to join up should contact either him or Dom Rosselli. Seven teams are already on the roster.

If possible, Grohovsky announces, five more new teams would effectively round out plans for the season. The seven teams who have already signed up are the ROTC, Freshmen Aces, AOH, Phi Gams, Sig Delts, Nu Sigs and Kappa Sigs.

Last season's champions, the "Culture Vultures", have since disbanded.

Record Ramblings . . .

By Ben VanCobb

Are you a lover of bop? Or do you dig the boggies and blues? Maybe you prefer Mr. Bach? Or is it a polka that you choose? Well, regardless of which you dig the most, this is the column, and I am your host, so read on my friend. You can't go wrong and you may even run across your favorite singer, band or song.

So let's hop aboard our musical bandwagon and begin our bi-monthly journey into music-land via the printer's ink.

Top Five Listed

Nowadays with so many bad recordings being played night and day, listeners are always eager to hear a few really good tunes. Among the recordings that are being played today there are some that have risen to the top. Of these tunes I have chosen five recordings which I shall call the Top Five and I'm sure that you'll agree that these are the cream of the crop.

Leading the list of the Top Five is the recording of "Teach Me Tonight," by the DeCastro Sisters, who have found the road to success with their first major recording by doing some pretty fine harmonizing.

Picked by Ben

Second on the list is an instrumental that came all the way from South Africa. The tune is called "Skokiaan." The best recording is that made by the Ralph Marterie Orchestra, with some beautiful sounds coming from the lead alto sax.

Third is the beautiful record from the sound track of the picture of the same name, "The High and the Mighty." Although several artists have recorded it, Victor Young seems to have the version that most people prefer.

Fourth on the list is Roy Hamilton's "Ebb Tide." Roy offers a fresh new style that is making everyone sit up and take notice. Greater things can be expected of him in the future. (Look out Mr. "B".)

Climbing Fast

The fifth spot is being held by Kitty Kallen, with her new recording of "I Want You All to Myself." This is a recording that is catching on pretty fast and may even reach the popularity of her recording of "Little Things Mean A Lot."

"Congrats Joe"

I would like to extend my congratulations to Joe Dannery, a Yo-Coite, who is now doing a disc-jockey program down at WBBW. So if you're ever in the mood for some fine listening tune him in and I guarantee you that you'll enjoy the selections he has to offer.

Well, that's all for this session of record Ramblings, but I hope to see you again in the next issue of the JAMBAR.

put in storage the old idea that a small college team was a pushover. YoCo's victory has given courage to teams from schools of similar size.

The Penguin eleven played clean, fast and hard. They showed that you don't have to be an Ohio State or a Notre Dame to attract good players and to win good victories.

Purnell Room Receives Paintings From Butler

Youngstown College has received a loan of three paintings from the permanent collection of the Butler Institute of American Art which have been hung in the Frank Purnell Room of the college library.

The paintings are: "Tapping a Furnace," showing the interior of a mill, by George Pearce Ennis; "Plant Entrance," an oil by Robert Bidner who is a Youngstown artist now in the U.S. Army; and "Progress," an industrial scene by Edmund Erucker which was given to the Institute by the Friends of American Art in 1949.

The Frank Purnell Room was dedicated recently in memory of Mr. Purnell, former president of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., and a long-time friend of the college who donated much time and money and was a member of the board of trustees for many years until his death in 1953.
