Sig Eps Hear Chief Cress

"We treat too many symptoms, and don't use enough therapy in this scientific day", said Police Chief Paul Cress in his speech to the members of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity on the occasion of their Founders' Day Banquet, November 2.

The active members of the Ohio Mu chapter and their brothers in the Alumni Organization met at the Mahoning Country Club in Girard to hear Chief Cress discuss the driving forces which motivate our existence in this complex world. He compared these forces to the cylinders in a machine saying that in both instances they must be functioning properly and "hitting on all eight" to give proper and stable performance.

"Too many times when one of these cylinders is malfunctioning, we tend to treat the symptoms and fail to give therapeutic attention to the cause", said Chief Cress.

Continuing, Cress stated, "An example of this is the way we handle the treatment of mental disease. Rather than look for and treat the cause, we clear our conscience by placing the afflicted in a mental institution where they will be out of

S-C Has What It Takes

Did you think Student Council was just a puppet group put up by the administration? If you did, you were wrong. If you do now, after reading this, you'll be more wrong than ever.

Only five members out of twenty-one, were members last semester. Most new members have held office for only a week or two at the most. But this semester's Student Council, under the strong and forceful leadership of President Tom Lavin, has made a decision that took plenty of intestinal fortitude to make.

Student Council was faced with a dilemma. The time limit set on the annual report forms was about to expire. The number of organizations who had not turned theirs in was formidable. The question? Should Student Council make exceptions or should it be firm.

Proudly we can state that Student Council was firm. The move took courage. Those organizations who did not turn their report forms in, are now, as far as Youngstown College's Student Council is concerned, "temporarily out of business."

The JAMBAR told you that Student Council had the stuff required for a good council, at the beginning of the semester. Council has proved that they are not puppets of the administration or anybody else. They are the servants of only one group - the student body of Youngstown College.

You can be proud of your Student Council. They came through when the going got rough. The members of Student Council deserve your respect and admiration.

A word of praise is necessary also for the two advisors of Student Council, Mrs. Karl Dykema and Miss Ivis Boyer. Both have done their best, with this council as they have others, to give credit to the students, not themselves. These two women have given freely of both their time and ability to see that Student Council can prove that student government can be a success.

The JAMBAR is proud to say that at Youngstown College, Student Council is a reality, not a dusty theory.

Mayor Kryzan Here To Proclaim "Day"

Anytime now, fellas, the girls will have you for keeps. This is a preview of what to expect at the Sadie Hawkins Dance at Krakusy Ballroom tomorrow night.

Tomorrow will be the last chance for all poor-unfortunate spinsters to grab themselves an unlucky red-blooded American boy, as Kappa Sigma Kappa holds their sixteenth annual Sadie Hawkins Day Dance.

SENIOR CLASS MEETING.

There will be a meeting of the Senior Class in the C.J. Strouss Memorial Auditorium at 12 noon on Wednesday, November 17.

The weekend festivities begin at noon today when Mayor Frank X. Kryzan will be at Youngstown College, in front of the Main Building, to officially proclaim tomorrow, November 13, as Sadie Hawkins Day in Youngstown.

The celebrations then move downtown, where WFMJ-TV will televise an actual preview of the Sadie Hawkins Day Race on the "Hal's-A-Pop-in" Show. Videoviewers will see some of the early entrants of the race run down Boardman Street with a bevy of beautiful Dogpatch Damsels hot on their trail.

Girls Can Ask

In accordance with the tradition of Sadie Hawkins Day the maidens of YoCo get their chance to ask any "po' unfortunate" member of the opposite sex to go to the Sadie Hawkins Dance with her. (This is the gals' only chance except for leap year.) If some of you lucky females are shy, you can still go to the dance stag and capture your male during the Bachelor Chase at the Ballroom.

The Dance starts at 9:30 sharp tomorrow night to the music of Ted Hydos and his Orchestra in the beautiful Krakusy Ballroom. To fit in with the true Dogpatch style, the dress will be informal. Outside of dungarees for the upper-crust to last year's red flannels for the upper-middle class, there is only one piece of required apparel. The "po' bachelors" are advised to wear a good pair of running shoes for their own protection.

Prizes Awarded

Prizes will be awarded to those best-dressed in Dogpatch styles. Prizes will be awarded during the talent-packed intermission.

Original Music Is Offered

A program of original compositions, including music and poetry, was presented recently at Pollock House by members of the Youngstown College Chapter of the Composers, Authors, and Artists of America.

Mrs. Maude Miller Girardeau, national president of the organization, and other members of the Cleveland Chapter, were guests.

Those who had original compositions on the program were Prof. James Taviolaro of the Dana School of Music faculty, whose composition was a voice and trumpet number. Dr. Henry B. Stearns of the Dana faculty with a tenor solo composition and Lynn Beardon, who played her own piano composition.

Raymond Lally, a Dana student, played his own piano composition, and Prof. Nellie Gwyn Dehnpostel, of the Dana faculty, offered a composition written for brass ensemble. Dr. Walter Mayer, head of the department of psychology, and Prof. John Bare of the college faculty, read their own original poetry compositions.

Basile, Crisan, Seely Elected Class Prexys

Stepping into the prominent Senior class offices for the 1954-55 year are; president, George Basile; vice president, Jean Santangelo; and secretary, Kathy Nosich.

George Basile, elected by majority vote, is a member of Nu Sigma Rho and past president of the old Panhellenic Council. A metallurgical engineering major, George is also a member of O.S.P.E.

Jean Santangelo, elected vice president of the Senior class, is a business administration major, secretary of Phi Mu Sorority, secretary of Alpha Mu Merchandising Fraternity and Alpha Pi Epsilon Service Sorority. Jean also is secretary of Panhellenic Council and a member of Newman Club.

Nosich is Secretary

The third office of secretary is held by Kathy Nosich, an accounting major and Rushing Chairman of Beta Sigma Omicron. She who hails from Warren, is also treasurer of Panhellenic Council and was a former member of Student Council.

Heading the Junior class offices are president, Lee Crisan; vice president, Cookie Korody; secretary, Alma Mackin; and treasurer, Helen Savic.

Lee Crisan, a Biology major from Fyrrell, is a member of Kappa Sigma Kappa and president of IFC.

Seely Prexy

Sophomores elected Don Seely, president; Nancy Puskar, vice president; Bob Mondak, secretary; and Lois Jacobson, treasurer.

A History major and a member of Pi Beta Chi, Don Seely enjoys playing basketball for the fraternity. He also belongs to RIL and the Boosters Club.

Recently elected Senior class officers are (l to r) Jean Santangelo, George Basile and Catherine Nosich. They were elected by majority vote. Basile is a member of Nu Sigma Rho fraternity.

Both Jean Santangelo and Catherine Nosich were named to Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges for 1954-1955.

Not Dead Yet

Who said school spirit was dead at Youngstown College? That fellow had better see a psychiatrist. It wasn't dead, it was just in hiding for awhile, until it was brought out in the limelight again at the John Carroll game held in Shaw Stadium, Cleveland.

The fans from YoCo went up and even when the snow was bad and the cold almost unbearable, they stayed. They stayed and cheered. They cheered the Penguins, who, under Coach Dike Beede's able supervision, won 7-0 over John Carroll.

The weather was bad, the playing field was even worse and it was cold. But that night will long be remembered in the history of Youngstown College. Yes, it was a victory, and a hard-won victory. But that really wasn't the best thing that happened that snowy, cold and muddy night.

Bound with an invisible chain of loyalty, pride, good humor and love of sport, school spirit enveloped those from Youngstown College.

The student body should be proud of what happened that night. Something that everybody thought was dead or non-existent, school spirit, came out in full blossom like a flower in May, even though it was nearly the middle of November.

There are moments, in the life of every college, that are great moments. They deserve remembrance and honor. That night shall long live to remind us that if we want, if we try and if we will, we can never fail. We are on the way up the ladder to becoming a really great college, and with more demonstrations of school spirit like that one, we will be climbing fast.

WRA Needs Members

It is our aim to promote and utilize the highest standards of our journalistic profession as it is humanly possible to do. Impartiality is the beacon by which we guide our vessel.

But, we do not feel that we are violating this highest of aims when we say a few words about an organization on campus that is in a class by itself. As there it is the only one of its kind, we don't feel we can be criticized for giving it a boost.

That organization is the Women's Recreation Association. It needs members and it needs support. Such a group promotes and helps safeguard one of our most sacred gifts, our health.

It's not a big group. It has served well to provide the women of Youngstown College with activities that benefit all. It is a pity that more women have not seen fit to join.

As happens so often, in our college, the good organizations suffer because the student body does not give of its time and support. Too many women, as well as men, attend college without even scratching the many surfaces for the many opportunities offered here for fellowship and enjoyment.

W.R.A. is only one group, but it is an important group. It deserves the support of the women on campus - your support.

Take Your Choice

The time is near for many of the young men of Youngstown College to make an important decision, a decision which may make or break their future on campus. The fraternities at the college are in the midst of rushing, a period set aside each semester when they scour the campus for prospective members. During this time they invite men to parties and smokers in order to look over the group and decide on each prospect's good points and see what he has to offer their organization.

While the fraternities are looking these rushees over the rushee also gets a chance to look the fraternity over, this leads to the important decision we spoke of before. As a new student you will need to study carefully all of your organization memberships in college. Many students academic death is caused by "Joinitus".

However, all fraternities expect one thing from their members - sound support. Many prospective fraternity men have the misconception that pledgship is all work. Pledging is, indeed, not all work, but a period in which one becomes acquainted with the ideals and objectives of the fraternity.

In order to clear up many false ideas about a fraternity one must be familiar with the six main reasons why a man should belong to a fraternity.

1. A fraternity man learns to judge and be judged.
2. A fraternity man learns the give and take of life while yet in college.
3. A fraternity man forms lasting ties of brotherhood and friendships which he retains all throughout his life.
4. A fraternity man learns to give his wholehearted devotion and support to his college and his fraternity.
5. A fraternity man, by supporting his chapter, learns valuable training in running and financing a fraternity which will prepare him to hold responsible positions in the field of his choice after he graduates.
6. A fraternity man forms intimate contacts with other "Greeks" which may prove of value to him in later life.

Consider wisely and well your choice.

Question: What is your opinion of Youngstown College's Student Council?

Joe Schiffer - Soph.

The Student Council is necessary for the organization of the student body and their activities on campus. It is the democratic voice of the students and has expressed this voice in the past year by bringing some of the top bands in the country to play at school affairs. However, Student Council's accomplishments remain in the dark to many students on campus. The Council should tell us more of what is being done and their purpose on campus.

Lee Hedrick - Fr.

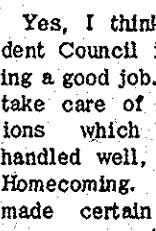

Being that I'm a freshman and not very familiar with the responsibility of the Student Council, I do not believe I am well qualified to pass judgement on whether or not they are doing a good job, but from what I have learned in my short time at YoCo, I would say that the Student Council is a well organized and qualified group.

Pete Dantonio - Jr.

Student Council has made some improvements such as selecting a queen whereas before the faculty did the selecting. There are several other problems they have to contend with such as the parking situation and the cafeteria. I would like to see before long a jukebox inserted in the cafeteria. I guess they are doing the best they can and little by little they are decreasing all these problems, and in time they will be depleted.

Fran Fabry - Soph.

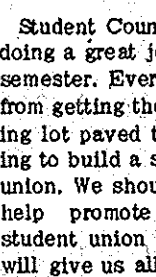

Yes, I think Student Council is doing a good job. They take care of elections which were handled well, as at Homecoming. They made certain that everyone received a chance to vote by taking the ballot box to the various buildings. Then they've also enlarged the parking facilities. If Student Council continues its good work for the rest of the year it will most certainly be an institution for the students to be proud of.

John P. Costarella - Soph.

Student Council has done a pretty good job in carrying out its responsibilities. However, its importance on campus is not realized by the student body. It seems that the students pass over any comments for or against any conclusions drawn by council. I suggest council do something about this unawareness of the students about the benefits they receive from council's functions.

Lee DiVito - Jr.

Student Council is doing a great job this semester. Everything from getting the parking lot paved to trying to build a student union. We should all help promote this student union which will give us all sorts of recreations for our "leisure hours."

With the ENGINEERS ...

As I sit here staring into the interior of this chemical concoction they call coffee, I am reminded by a slight beating of a doubled up fist into the small of my back that I must have this column done 'ere another instructor runs in for his morning cigarette and coffee. Usually I could dash it off in nothing flat but my train of thought was rudely interrupted this morning. There I was studying and someone came in and woke me up! It has spoiled my whole day. But I shall attempt to aggravate you in my best style.

First of all - can we have a little more co-operation from the fellas who eat their lunch in the classrooms? The papers are never picked up and it always looks like someone is trying to get revenge on the school. When it comes to a showdown between the electricals on one side of the hall and the mechanicals on the other side, we see that in a two team race, they're both tied for last place. Let's take a little more pride in the school and acquire a little professional attitude to the place. (Stamping of feet, waving of flags, and cries of "Hoya, Hoya".)

Teachers Age

I can see why teachers age so quickly - Vic Riehley started the fire, works for the then approaching elections by holding a show of his own in D.C. Machines Lab. I guess he's to get his money's worth out of that lab fee. Anyone interested in purchasing a slightly charred ammeter with a bent pin?

After that Warren-Massillon game Dick Jones and George Cassudakis are only speaking to each other. And speaking of Jones, he has the only car in the parking lot with four forward speeds. First, Second, Third, and get down on one knee and push with the other foot.

DEFINITION: Matrimony - An institution of learning where a man loses his bachelor's degree and his wife acquires her master's.

Good to See

We're glad to have a familiar face around again. Art Moosally. How does it feel to be on the other side of the fence, Art? All you prospective hams - there is a possibility of having code classes in the Radio Club if interest is shown. Line forms to the right.

Why do they call Dick Kukura "Zippy?" At this time I'd like to compliment Dick on the way he helps all the newer students with their studies. If anyone has any questions, just see Dick.

Mike Lallo and Hank Burley couldn't afford to go to the John Carroll game after paying their O.S.P.E. dues so they had to go to the locker room and watch the movies of it.

Pics Taken

The O.S.P.E. had their pictures taken, a couple of weeks ago and the boys were out in force. Chuck Dittmar was there in his new khaki suit, with a green bow tie and sneakers. The boys complained a bit though. It seems that the pictures were taken outside and the sunlight hurt their eyes. They're just not used to it.

Congratulations to Tom Mosure on his fine performance with the football team while keeping at the head of his class.

The center of gravity in Mr. Kramer's Henry "J" is so low he had to shorten the string on his Yo-yo two inches.

DEFINITION: Engineering student: The kind of a man who would marry Marilyn Monroe for her money!

Rumor Out

Rumor has it that Dick Troxil has switched from blondes to red-heads. Is that true, Dick?

Joe Ziemanski in slightly unstable condition in phone booth: "Number, heck, I want my peanuts!"

Bob Moyer recently celebrated his twenty-first birthday. That means that he has the honor of joining that select group of men who enjoy the privilege of paying for their own way through college. Why don't all you fellas send him some sort of card to let him know that you haven't forgotten him?

Welcome to "Junior" DiPlacido and Tony Morano, both from the foreign country called Conneaut, Ohio, (whose fame lies in the fact that it is close to Geneva.) How are things over at Pizzi's and down at the Lakeside, boys? Give my regards to Al the next time you're in town.

If there are any comments or news that you would like to submit (no threatening notes will be tolerated), deliver them to this column in the Jambar office. Any suggestions will be appreciated and those not conforming to my opinions will be thrown in the wastebasket!

Aurora Vona Heads Pan-Hellenic Council

Guiding the future of the newly created Pan-Hellenic Council this semester are (l to r) Diane Burke, vice president; Joan Santangelo, secretary; Aurora Vona, president and Catherine Nosich, treasurer.

Recently created is the new Pan-Hellenic Council made up of representatives from each campus sorority, who meet to discuss and determine sorority matters twice monthly at Tod Hall.

Aurora Vona is presiding over the Council which was created when the old Pan-Hellenic Council was dissolved and a new Pan-Hellenic was instituted for sororities and the Inter-Fraternity Council for the fraternities.

Other officers, besides Aurora Vona, Phi Lambda Delta, are Diane Burke, Gamma Sigma, vice president; Joan Santangelo, Phi Mu, secretary and Catherine Nosich, Beta Sigma Omicron, treasurer.

Officers Appointed

Officers were appointed according to the age of the organization to which they belong on campus. Besides the four delegates, two representatives are sent from each organization. However, only one vote is allowed to each sorority.

The purpose of the Pan-Hellenic Council, as stated in their constitution, is to strengthen each sorority through the mutual exchange of ideas, to build a loyalty which is larger than anyone's chosen group loyalty through emphasis on the fine things all groups have in common; to cooperate with the college administration in the maintenance of high social standards and to make rules as are necessary for the finest inter-sorority relationships.

Governs Rushing

Aside from these aims, Pan-Hellenic Council governs rushing, infringes penalties upon rushing violations and sets up budgets of expenditure for rushing parties. Pan-Hellenic will sponsor the Snowball Dance to be held next January.

Other members in the council are Beta Sigma Omicron, Elaine Ohl, Nancy Puskar and Lucy Zarlenga; Gamma Sigma, Alma Mackin, Helen Savic and Nancy Johnson; Phi Lambda Delta, Barbara Brezoveck, Barbara Knott and Marilyn Ervin; and Phi Mu, Arlene Barnes, Yolanda Morano and Dorothy Dolan.

Advisor to Pan-Hellenic Council is Mrs. Nellie G. Dehnpostel, Assistant Dean of the Dana School of Music.

Barbershoppers To Hold Concert

Eight of the finest barbershop quartets in the United States and Canada will gather at Stambaugh Auditorium, Youngstown, O. on November 20 for the S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A.'s sixth annual Youngstown Parade of Quartets.

The show, called a parade in barbershop circles feature eight quartets and two choruses. Outstanding among them will be the Four Chords from Canada; The Lytle Brothers from Sharon; the Chordblenders from Easton, Pa.; the Humdingers from Canton; the Four Larks from East Liverpool; the Pittsburghers from Pittsburgh; the Pole and Clippers from Poland, O. and the 3½ Four from Youngstown.

Ticket orders should be sent along with a check or money order to Post Office Box 111, Youngstown, Ohio. Tickets will be sent by return mail.

Talks Informally

After the banquet, Chief Cress chatted informally with the members answering their questions and offering his opinions.

President Don Phillips took initial charge of the affair and then turned the proceedings over to Mr. James D. Turner. Mr. Turner is the loan representative of the Union National Bank.

Dr. Howard W. Jones President of Youngstown College, spoke briefly on the importance of fraternities to college life.

Other speakers for the evening were, Gene Barko, acting head of the Alumni Association and Dr. Karl Benkner, of the William Raven School of Engineering and advisor for Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Following an old tradition, Mr. Benkner was presented with a gift from the members of the fraternity.

RIL Makes Plans For Turkey Trot

The second annual Turkey Trot of Religion-In-Life Club will be held November 26 at Trinity Methodist Church, beginning at 8:00 until 12:00.

Included on the decorations committee are Sharleen Powell, Gloria Sanchez, Marylee Davis, Nancy Kerr, Mike Sakara and Mike Blasko. Making up the food committee are Jerry Lewis, Joanne Thomas and Lee Harris. Planned activities, including dancing, will be under the supervision of Marylee Davis, Ella Clark and Jack Moore.

Carry Lunches

Students are invited to carry their lunches to the Monday and Thursday noon Bible Study Groups held at First Christian Church, 12:00 until 1:00. Coffee and tea are furnished. Chapel is held on Wednesdays in the Christian Collegiate Church from 12:00 till 12:20.

A surprise speaker is scheduled for the regular Sunday evening meeting, November 21 at 8:00. Visitors are invited for the meeting and mixers and dancing afterward at First Christian Church.

Rev. Albert Linder, college chaplain, is RIL advisor.

Don't complain, just transfer.

Soc. Science Club Stimulates Study

Movies, discussions and social affairs will highlight the activities of the Social Science Club for this semester. At the first regular meeting of the school year, held recently, slides of Mexico were shown by Shirley Krepis and Barbara Griffith, who visited there last summer.

The Social Science Club aims to promote fellowship among the students of sociology and its related fields by stimulating interest in the problems of those fields. Membership is open to all students and alumni interested in sociology.

Morgan Spoke

Last year the club saw movies, had panel-discussions and heard talks about contemporary problems encountered in this field. Especially enjoyed last spring was Mr. Walter Morgan, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, who spoke on the past and present conditions of the American Indian.

This year the club will hear various speakers from the departments of social science, see films and sponsor several social affairs. Social Science Club officers are President Barbara Griffith, Secretary-Treasurer Jo Ann Harrison. Advisor to the group is Mrs. McDonnoid.

Next meeting will be held Friday, November 19, in Room 210 of the Main Building at 8 p.m. With the conclusion of the business meeting there will be a discussion of the various fields open to Sociology majors and the opportunities for graduate study.

Alpha Tau Gamma To Meet Tonight

Alpha Tau Gamma, National Accounting Fraternity meets tonight at the D.A.V. on Glenwood Avenue. The fraternity, was organized at Youngstown College for the purpose of instilling accounting ethics in the student and bringing him in contact with other accountants.

Founded here in 1946, the fraternity aims to foster the ideals and principles of the American Institute For Accountants, and to give students a more practical outlook in the field of accounting.

Breakfast Held

Each semester Alpha Tau Gamma sponsors an accounting breakfast, which all Business Administration students may attend. The fraternity also sponsors an Accounting Clinic with many of the outstanding accountants in the country attending. Alpha Tau Gamma also holds two dinner dances yearly for members and alumni.

Officers this semester are: President Dean Boop, Vice President Leonard Yonek, and Secretary-Treasurer William Turner.

In order to obtain membership a student must major in accounting, or have 18 hours in accounting and have 2. point average or better in their major and 1.65 as an overall average.

Record Ramblings . . .

By Ben VanCobb

In the hope that I may stimulate more interest in this column I've gone directly to the female students and compiled a listing of some of their favorite recordings. The list reads as follows:

For Coralia Williams and Beverly Knight, it's the Crew Cuts' "Bazoom."

Jean Santangelo likes the Chordettes' "Mr. Sandman." (We do too.)

Shirley Aey's favorite recording is "Kitty In The Basket", by Jimmy Boyd and Gayla Peevie. (This is one that has replaced "Drink, Drink, Drink" in the cafeteria.)

Lois Austin says that she has fallen in love with Sammy Davis' version of "Hey, There."

Nancy Gordan and Wanda Smith agree on "Baby All the Time," by Amos Milburn.

Pat Emerine casts her ballot for Jaye P. Morgan's recording of "That's What I Need."

Lavonia Jones likes Sarah Vaughn's fine new recording of "Make Yourself Comfortable."

Pat Valicenti requests the DeCastro Sisters' popular disc of "Teach Me Tonight."

Sandy Butler's favorite is "Always You."

For Bonnie Person it's Theresa Brewer's "Au Revoir."

Doll Greene and Margaret Salter have chosen "The Chuckles" new recording of "Run Around." This is one that you all should hear if you haven't, because it's a very cool recording.

President Jones Outlines Our Gains

Two important money gifts to the college, increased enrollment of 490 students over that of last fall, and several advancements in the college plant and program were announced by Dr. Howard W. Jones, president of the college at a meeting of the board of trustees held at the Youngstown Club recently. Mr. James L. Wick, chairman of the board, presided at the meeting.

Dr. Jones announced the receipt of a gift of $4,000 from the Vail estate to be known as the "Grace M. Vail and Blanche F. Vail Scholarship" and to be used "to help students of excellent character and scholarship who need financial assistance."

Both of the sisters taught in the Youngstown public schools for more than 30 years. Miss Blanche Vail taught 20 years at Myrtle School and Miss Grace Vail, at Erier Hill, Jefferson, and Princeton Schools.

Gift Received

Another gift of money was received from the United States Steel Foundation. Dr. Jones said the gift from the Foundation indicates the participation of Youngstown College in the educational program initiated by the Foundation this year and the grant is to be used for current operations expenses, preferably for faculty salaries or educational advancement.

Dr. Jones reported a total enrollment of 3,846 for the semester as compared with 3,356 for the fall semester of last year, an increase of 490 students.

The freshman enrollment this year is 1,676, an increase of 238 over that of the first semester of last year according to Dr. Jones and the veteran enrollment shows an increase of almost 50 percent over that of 1953 due to the increasing enrollment of veterans of the Korean War.

Dr. Jones Discusses

Dr. Jones discussed a number of plant and program developments, including the addition of furniture, draperies and rugs to the Frank Purnell Reading Room in the college library, and improved parking facilities at the college.

The two parking lots on the main campus have been regraded and hard-surfaced, the student parking lot on Wick Ave. was regraded and freshly slugged, and the northeast corner of the Ford Hall property has been developed into a supplementary student parking lot.

The Student Council of the college collected $2,000 from the student activity fund reserve to apply on the cost of work on student parking lots.

Programs Expanding

Dr. Jones said that expanding programs for women at the college including home economics, physical education, and the freshman nurses' training program, as well as a potential Technical Institute, will call for plant expansion planning.

Dr. Jones called the attention of the board to the new classes in technical mathematics and mechanical drawing which were organized this fall for employees of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company and said that 75 men are being taught by Youngstown College professors, with the company paying all expenses for tuition and supplies.

Dr. Jones reported that Prof. Harold Crites of the college faculty who has been teaching basic economic courses for the Industrial Information Institute, visited several colleges this summer which are offering technical programs of this nature.

Conducts Program

Purdue University is conducting such a program and Dr. Jones said that we are experimenting in this field following the Purdue pattern in the Youngstown College-Sheet and Tube program and may extend it and develop a Technical Institute here if the demand from industry warrants it. Classes are held in Clingan-Waddell Hall at the present time.

Activities Planned For By Pi Beta Chi

Rush parties, winning the Homecoming Float Contest, and intramural league participation, have been sparking Pi Beta Chi Fraternity. Joe Simeo, newly elected social chairman of the fraternity, has been planning a series of rush parties for all candidates for membership.

Pi Beta Chi recently held a party with the Phi Lambda Delta Sorority at the Phi Gam Room on Market Street. The fraternity is also sponsoring a raffle for a V-M Triomatic Phonograph. The winner will be announced on the last day of school before Thanksgiving, November 23.

Officers Named

Officers for this year are President Bill Crownover, Secretary Bob DeHoff, Treasurer Jack Schafer, Historian Jim Bucher. Pledgemaster for the fraternity is Frank Bogen. Sergeant of Arms is Bob Dugan.

Advisor to Pi Beta Chi is Professor Philip Buchanan, Registrar of Youngstown College.

U.S. Civil Service Exam Announced

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for Student Trainee, covering positions in various fields of science and engineering. The positions pay $2,750 to $3,175 a year and are located in various activities of the Potomac River Naval Command in Washington, D.C., and surrounding area, and the Engineer Center, U.S. Army, Fort Belvoir, Virginia.

Applicants must be high school graduates who have completed courses which would admit them to an engineering curriculum at college, or they must be college students who are majoring in one of the fields covered by this examination. Those selected will participate in special training programs requiring alternate periods of attendance at college and work in one of the activities named above.

Further information and application forms may be obtained at many post offices throughout the country, or from the U.S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D.C. Applications will be accepted by the Board of U.S. Civil Service Examiners for Scientific and Technical Personnel of the P.R.N.C., Naval Research Laboratory, Washington 25, D.C., until further notice.

Bowling Planned Tomorrow Night By Newman Club

The YoCo Newman Club will hold a bowling party tomorrow night at 9:00 p.m. at the Marvondale Alleys, 3130 Market Street. It is the first one to be scheduled this year.

Social chairmen Betsy McClurkin and Jack Hamley have announced that there will be one bowling party a month throughout the semester. Members are to meet at the alleys at 8:45 p.m. As in the past the only charge will be the cost of the lines.

The climax of the Newman Club's social activities will be a Thanksgiving party on Sunday, November 21 at the Catholic Action Center at 141 West Raven Avenue.

Highlight Program

To highlight the program social chairmen McClurkin and Hamley are planning a turkey raffle. Tickets for the gobble will be sold at the meeting.

Bill Conroy, program chairman, has planned a message of Thanksgiving in his novel skit.

On Wednesday, November 24 at 11 a.m., classes will be excused to enable students to participate in Thanksgiving services. Catholic students will attend St. Joseph's Church. The Newman Club Chaplain Father Arthur B. DeCrane.

Regazzo Directs

The Newman Club Choir under the direction of Bernie Regazzo has started practicing. Regazzo asks that everyone wishing to sing with the choir attend the practices at the Immaculate Conception Church, 811 Oak Street, every Sunday at 2:30 p.m. The group plans to prepare programs for use when they visit other colleges.

A delegation of YoCo Newmanites visited the Inter-Collegiate Newman Club of Cleveland, who were hosts to the Ohio State Meeting of Newman Clubs on Nov. 5, 6, 7.

Recital Given By Miss White

The Dana School of Music of Youngstown College recently presented Miss Jean White, soprano, in her junior recital, in the C. J. Strouss Memorial Auditorium of the college.

Miss White sang numbers from the composers Donaudy, Mozart, Boito, Verdi, Bizet, Faurdin, Brahms, Schubert, Giordano, Kabalevsky, Mednikoff, Wolf, and Malotte.

Miss Betty Takacs of the Dana School was accompanist and James Robert Fitzer, clarinetist, also of Danas, assisted Miss White in one number.

Clingan Jackson To Be Speaker

Professor Clingan Jackson, political science instructor at Youngstown College and political analyst for the Youngstown Vindicator will speak at the Student-Faculty talk to be held at 11 a.m. in the audiovisual room of the college library on Tuesday, November 16. All students are invited to attend.

Looking Around...

by Roy Schindell

For the benefit of those who missed the trip to John Carroll on the Booster Club bus, I shall attempt to verbally take you along. The bus which was to have left at five o'clock sharp, left at 5:30, not too sharp. Our late departure was brought about by the late arrival of the delegation from New Castle. However, with Jerry Tyndell cracking the whip and pushing the car they got here and we were off (they were off before they got here.)

We got about two miles out of town only to find that Steve Goryanec was at the wheel, and we had to come back for the driver. We were off again. A Halloween party was held on the bus, with do-nuts, cider and the works. The kids quickly got into the spirit of things and under the able direction of Jim Hudson broke into song.

We sang a clever little ditty about a girl named Lillian who had an aversion to taking baths. Soprano was supplied by Loretta Liptak and all and all it sounded pretty good. Rhoda Sable, Cookie Korody and Anna May Franko, between gulps of cider, supplied the counter-melody and the bus rolled along.

After a quick stop at the Pittsburgher we were off again - about two miles out we discovered Steve at the wheel again. We didn't go back for the driver; he couldn't carry a tune anyway.

It was Hal McGonnell's birthday so we gave him a cake, gift, and all sang a clever little ditty about a girl named Lillian, which wasn't very appropriate I'll admit. But the song had captured their fancy and they would sing nothing else. Hal enjoyed it so much he promised to have another birthday next week.

Ginny Krupa, Mary Summers, Jan Welsh kept assuring everyone it would not be snowing in Cleveland. They were so very stubborn that when we got there they insisted we were out in Alaska. With Steve driving no one wanted to argue the point too strongly.

Ignoring the request of Charlie Port that we have every two people carry another stretched across their shoulders, and avoid paying the admission by passing ourselves as goal posts - we rushed eagerly into the game. Luckily we had a reserved section. Was that place ever jammed! That's what I'd like to know - Was that place ever jammed?

As you know by now we won the game in a driving blizzard, (that darn Steve wanted to drive that too. He didn't see the game, sat in the parked bus practicing steering and blowing the horn.)

Then the trip home - this was a million laughs. Lloyd Krauz, Peggy Tiller, M.E. and Don Fleckenstein teamed up and were taking a collection for the widow of the unknown soldier.

About this time Tom Moran, Gomer Lewis, Bill Moore, Fred Welquist, and Jack Hughes crowded around Shirley Granny and Nancy Puskar and tried to convince the girls it would be warmer sitting close to one of them. Bob Crain, never one to waste words, just sat down with them, and the boys walked dejectedly away singing a mournful ballad about a girl named "Lillian."

When we got back to Youngstown we found Mike Santulius waiting for the bus, he paid his money he said, and wanted a trip to Cleveland. The driver consented to this, so we loaded Mike on the bus and sent him off to Cleveland. If we play up there next year, Mike will have a good seat.

With the Greeks . . .

by Ella Clark, Joan Pavlov

After a relaxing week at the lake this summer the sororities and fraternities came back to school ready for a wonderful year. Many parties have been held and all groups are planning and have had many projects and activities. No fraternities are mentioned in this issue mainly for the reason that none turned in any news - no news, no mention. Now to what the Greek girls are doing on campus.

Beta Sigma Omicron's National executive secretary inspected the local chapter and had individual conferences with each girl. Class officers from Beta Sigs this year are Kathy Nosich and Nancy Puskar.

All the girls enjoyed a halloween party given by the alums. In the way of traveling, the Beta Sigs went to Penn College for the installation of a new chapter there. We hear they had a wonderful time.

Sale Held

The Homecoming Mum Sale held by Gamma Sigma this year was the 15th annual and greatest one ever. Another success for the Gamma Sigs was the October Dance held jointly with their brothers, the Sig Deltas. Congratulations to Alma Mackin, Cookie Korody

Phi Mu pledges from last year, Judy McFarlin, Mary Jane Lewis, Doty Dolan, and Carolyn Easter have been installed as actives.

Give Dance

A party was held at Pollock House in their honor. The Touchdown Trot in October was held jointly by Sigma Phi Epsilon and Phi Mu and proclaimed a success by all, especially in regard to the decorations.

October also found the girls busy having bake sales and pizza sales in the cafeteria, also a joint party with Beta Sigs and the Sig Eps and one with the Independents. Mrs. Bloom, their national collegiate vice-president visited the group recently.

That's all the news for now and if your group was missed this time, please get your news in for the next issue.

The second place for floats in the Homecoming Parade was also received jointly by Gamma Sigma and Sigma Delta Beta. Along the line of parties Alpha Phi Deltas held one recently with the girls. A reunion is planned with the Gamma Sigma Alumnae group of Youngstown.

The Phi Lams have been busy going to parties with the Kappa Sigs and the Phi Gams. The Phi Gams-Phi Lamb Sweater dance plans are being laid as well as some for the Poppa-Party, given each Christmas for Christ Mission children. Shirley Cumerick's slumber party for the gals was a success.

Help! Help! Help!; That's What We Need

by Eddie Simons

Hey there, NO, NO, not the guy on your right, I'm talking to YOU! Yes YOU! What do I want? I just want to tell you about the greatest opportunity of the century, that's all. You want to know what that opportunity is? Well, here goes, it's as simple as all this: we, of the Jambar staff, are looking for prospective staff members. You are the prospective staff member we are looking for. Easy enough, right?

What do you have to do to become a staff member? That's simple too! All you have to do is apply at the Jambar office, Second Floor, Pollock House, or see our most illustrious editor, the Honorable George Miller. He's usually running around the campus like a chicken minus his head. Once this contact has been established, the trouble begins.

You are a staff member. You will be given an assignment to write. Then, our most illustrious editor becomes a furnace of emotion, smoking from the nostrils, breaking fire from his mouth and screaming phrases such as "Where's your A9X" - Y article?" and "Get that copy in to the printers."

Become Immune

After you become immune to this outburst of outrage, then you are a reporter. A full fledged staff member, ready and able to encounter any situation that appears before you! You have (journalistically) arrived!

Seriously though, it is pretty easy to joke about the Jambar and it's staff but it's no joking matter.

We are in need of people who want to write and are willing to put in time to do it. We aren't looking for Ernest Hemingways or John Steinbecks. We feel that if any student on campus will devote time to his work and is willing to give his time in order to learn the correct way of newspaper writing, that we will do all in our power to help him and he will produce the kind of copy needed for the Jambar.

Lot of Fun

Don't get me wrong though. We have a heck of a lot of fun too. It's a real thrill to see something that you've written stare back at you from a printed page. But not only that, if you do an appreciable amount of work you can get credit for it, toward your degree.

So, if you have any writing talent, if you can help with the 'make-up' of the paper, if you can type up stories, or if you just want to come up to the office and fold the darn papers on publication day, then by all means contact George.

There's usually somebody in the office, or if you can't find anyone, drop a note telling us you're interested, in Box 69 in the main office. You can learn a lot and have a ball doing it.

Attempt to Organize

Probably the biggest and most important project undertaken by this group is the attempt to organize Future Teacher Groups on the high school level. The YoCo chapter is possibly the only chapter that publishes its own pamphlet, "The McGuffey Reader," for distribution to its members.

Officers of the YoCo chapter are President Nell Dell Arco, First Vice President Virginia Brown, Second Vice President Mary Mastrovasellis, Recording Secretary Barbara Brezoveck, Corresponding Secretary Charlene Tuhill, Treasurer Charles Wilhide, Librarian-Historian Joan Pokabia, Reporter Peggy Porter and Peggy Kramer.

Sponsors are Dr. G.M. Wilcox and Dr. J.F. Swartz. Next meeting will be held November 12, at Pollock House.

YoCo Basketballers Ready For Season

Even though football is still in full swing basketball is definitely slipping into the picture.

The YoCo cagers under the guiding arm of coach Dom Roselli have completed their second week of practice for the coming 1954-55 season.

Thus far the drills have been confined to the stressing of conditioning, speed and fundamentals such as ball handling, shooting and rebounding. After the practicing of fundamentals an intra-squad scrimmage is staged.

Begun Practice

The boys who have been practicing as the first string thus far are, forwards, Fred Cleary, and Bob Atterholt, guards, Tony Knott and Ed Poplava, and center Bob Mayberry.

Others who are expected to see considerable action are Larry Lobaugh, Charlie Moore and Ralph Mill. Of these eight, Atterholt, Lobaugh

Penguins Go On Line Against Mount Union

The Youngstown College Penguins will round out their 1954 football campaign in a home contest with the Purple Raiders of Mount Union at Rayen Stadium on Thursday, November 18 at 8 p.m.

The Raiders' seasonal record hasn't been too impressive because of the loss of regulars due to injuries and heart-breaking defeats which have resulted from their opponents ability to come from behind and overtake the tiring Raiders in the final minutes of play.

Penguins Won

In past games with Mount Union, the Penguins have defeated them three times and tied once, so the Raider coach, Nelson Jones, will attempt to formulate some new offensive pattern to gain revenge over the Youngstown eleven.

A victory for the Purple Raiders would probably erase their previous record, so the contest should prove to be quite a battle.

to display qualities of leadership and sportsmanship. It shall be primarily a cadet function."

Reports on Funds

Williams also reported that Youngstown College has adequate funds to take care of the cost for trophies, which will consist of a large, rotating trophy, which can be kept by any team winning three years in a row, a high scorer trophy and medals for the winning team. Trophies for an all-conference team will also be awarded.

All participating groups must submit a roster. It will be left to the discretion of the coach to list the ten best players. A player must play in at least half of the scheduled games to be eligible for inclusion on the list.

The season will begin about the first of December. Both winning and losing teams must submit the results of the game played within twenty-four hours of the end of the game.

Banquet Planned

The conference group is planning a banquet for all members and coaches of member teams, to be held at the end of the season.

Those representing the Youngstown College ROTC at the conference were Second Lieutenant Herbert Williams, Cadet Lt. Robert Savko and Major Leonard B. Main, Assistant Professor of Military Science and Tactics.

Sporting Views

by Tom Kolic

It took a snowstorm to help YoCo see the light to get back on the win trail as they set down John Carrol, 7-0. It was the second shut-out of the campaign by the Penguins, the first being over Gustavus Adolphus in the seasons opener 13-0. This win put the locals within one game of making it an even 100 wins by a "Dike" Beede coached team.

Youngstown is slowly creeping into the category of being one of the biggest little football eleveners in the nation. They have stepped into one of the stiffest schedules of any little college. Five of their 1954 opponents have been title holders in their respective conferences.

Hold Titles

These league leaders have been Gustavus Adolphus of Minnesota Conference, Westminster of West Chester Pennsylvania Teachers Conference, Abilene Christian of the Texas Conference, LaCrosse of Wisconsin Teachers College League, and the Great Lakes Training group, who are the U.S. Navy champions.

Things that must be taken into consideration with such a schedule are the facts that every league's offense varies. This definitely has had an effect on the Beedemen's defense. One week they'd be playing a southern team who's chief weapon is a dazzling pass offense. The next fray might be against a hardrunning mid-west aggregation. It isn't bad enough that the patterns of moving the ball varies but most of the time the formations set up a problem.

Today we're concentrating on holding off a "T" or split "T" offense, tomorrow they're figuring a means to top a single wing or wing "T" attack. Don't forget that YoCo played some established gridders in the Great Lakes tilt. All in all, it adds up to one thing. Youngstown College is stepping up in the Little All American Race.

Line Underated

One of the most vital factors in the success of the locals is the outstanding play of the center of the line. Responsible for supplying the action up the middle have been the hard tacklers Sam Pagano and Bob Garcar, guards Norm Stafford and Andy Starinchak and center Jim Vechiarella.

These stalwarts have shone throughout the campaign with their opening of holes in the opponents forward walls. The hard charging blockbusters have been even more so effective on defense.

Opposing backs have been steadily confronted by a stonewall when trying to penetrate this territory. They also have pressured the passers to the extent where they look like shades of the old Cleveland Browns.

"Can I see the doctor?"
"Which doctor?"
"Do you think I'm a heathen?"
Judge: Didn't you see the sign, "Fine for Parking?"
Driver: Yes, and I agreed with it.

YoCo ROTC Elected To Be Conference Headquarters

The Youngstown College Reserve Officers Training Corps has been elected to act as headquarters for the Lake Erie Basketball Conference. At a meeting last Saturday, held in the Student Union Building of Kent State University, the conference group held its pre-season meeting.

Under a plan devised by the group, the member organizations will rotate as headquarters each year. The chosen school will then elect from its own group officers to fill the posts of president, vice president, secretary and treasurer.

The meeting was attended by representatives of the Youngstown College ROTC, Kent State University, Vienna Air Force Base, Akron Naval Air Station and Akron University.

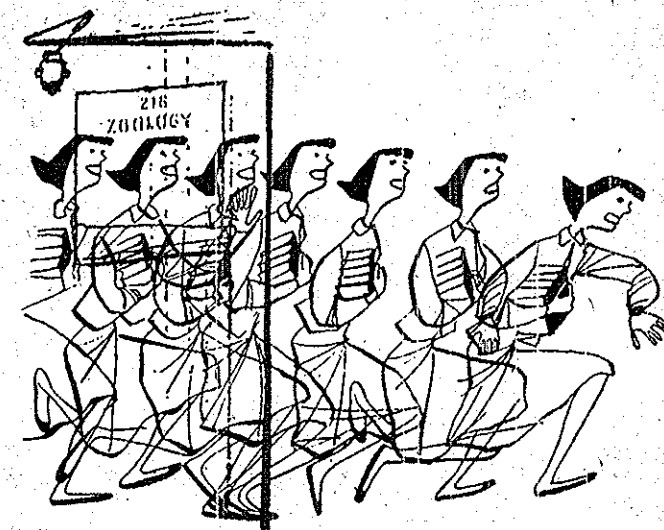

Opens Meeting

At the opening of the meeting, Second Lieutenant Herbert Williams, YoCo ROTC graduate, presided. He thanked Frank Merolla, former Youngstown College student, for making it possible for the conference to be held at Kent.

Williams stated "I believe we have a good, worthwhile idea. It is also practical and feasible. With effort we'll have something we can really be proud of."

The purpose of the conference is to "create positions of responsibility and to give the cadet an opportunity

Even Bell-Ringers Have Their Moments

Twas a cold winters morning many moons ago when this reporter came bouncing into this world. (I say bouncing because we were poor and couldn't afford a doctor who was strong enough to hold me). But that is neither here nor there, and we are here!

Since then I have had an interesting and varied life. At the age of three months I was an unusual child, I had to shave. By the time

I was five months old I had the neatest Van Dyke of all the carriage trade. Progressing toward complete furriness, I used to astound people who would come to visit my parents. When a visitor would come up, pat me on the and mutter "Nice Boy" my mother would explain that I was human and not a dog. Only a lack of tail could prove this point.

Not the point

But this is not the point of this story. My chief concern reason for writing this plea is to promote an interest in my case. As a child of five, I'll admit I was not the beautiful, handsome type that all mothers loved, but when I reached the age of 18, I was well muscled, firm, good-looking.

Thus after 12 years of torture, being ridiculed and tormented, I graduated from high school and to prepare for my college education. Here things would be different, these people would understand me and accept me for what I was and not what I looked like. Here I could do what college students do, I could drink beer with them, I could laugh with them, I could date the girls, I could cut classes with them. Yes, here I would be accepted. And with luck, I would be accepted. And with luck, I could join a fraternity. F-R-A-T-E-R-N-I-T-Y, I spelled the word over in my mind.

Sounds good

It sounded so good. And after meetings, I could sit with my brothers and talk over world situations, study together, help each other and most of all, plan to help other fraternities so we can get an understanding of each other. Yes college will be wonderful.

Ah the thrill of college life, the waiting in line to schedule classes, the waiting in line to get my schedule approved. The waiting in line to get billed and the waiting in line to pay my bill. Sheer ecstasy! College will be fun! The days flew by. But I KNEW what I was doing. Soon it would be rush season. I bought raffle tickets, I went to dances, I'd buy fraternity men their lunches.

Was sure

I KNEW that soon I'd be an "Active." Rush Season was a joy for me but unfortunately I was not invited to any rush parties. "Surely, I'd get a bid though" I mused, "they CAN'T forget Me." But alas, they did! My world crumbled beneath me, I was ready to leave college for a job in the steel mills. "This shan't sway me!" I concluded. And it didn't! I stayed in college. My mother cried, my dad shook my hand!

Since I wasn't to be a social member of the school I decided it was my lot to improve the school. After a year of constant searching I found my chance. This was it. This was MY PLACE. I was awarded the position of ringing the bells to start and end the classes. I rang the bells and did a fine job. The president of the college commended me. Other bell ringers from other schools traveled miles to watch me push the button that started the bell ringing. I did do it well. I liked my job! I was happy. I wrote a book on bell ringing!

Things go bad

Yet I knew that someday, this would all end. I was trudging toward school for my eight o'clock ringing one cold blizzard morning depend on me. What 'ould I do? Now let me analyze this.

But how could I rationalize with only the blank space on the wall confronting me where the push-button used to be. The minutes ticked on, three, two, one! I was frantic with delusions. This was the end of my job. I'd be fired!

Bell rang

Eight o'clock came and the bell rang as scheduled. I was astounded. Was I not doing a good job? Was there a better bell ringer in the school? I was called into the president's office. He explained. After 23 years of excellent service (never missing the bell by so much as 2 seconds) I was replaced by an electrical ringer. Sorrow was in my soul. The school awarded me with a service plaque. I was honored before the student body. Alumnus paid their respects.

Yet, still my heart was heavy. I was not relieved of my salary by the school. I was transferred to the cafeteria where I was made "Chief Can-opener." But I still was sorrowful and unhappy. The work was easier and the hours were much shorter but my heart ... was with the bells. Each hour I would enter the halls and listen to them. Shivers of ecstasy would traverse my spine when their staccato shrill pierced the air. They were MY BELLS and yet ... they WEREN'T my bells.

He's sure

But deep down in my heart I KNOW that someday soon or in the future someone will rush up to me while I'm lifting the lid from a freshly opened can and yell into my ear the words; "The Bell Ringer is broken. Will you please ring the bells for us?" That day will come, I know it will! And when it comes, my heart will be burden-freed and the smile that used to be will appear on my lips once again and I will reply, "YES!"
