6th Annual Military Ball To Present An Artillery Theme

Committeemen Chosen for Military Ball

University Art Club Presents Student Art At Butler Institute

The Art Department of Youngstown University is presenting its 20th annual student art exhibit at the Butler Institute of American Art until April 29.

More than 150 works are on display in two galleries on the first floor and one gallery on the second floor. The exhibit is open to all students and is open from 1-5 p.m. daily except Monday.

Included in the exhibition are oil and water color paintings, drawings in all media, two and three dimensional designs, and sculpture in several kinds of stone, wood, plaster, cement, and plastic both representational and abstracts.

On Sunday April 8, the judging of the art took place and the $50 Student Council purchase award was presented to Nick Vaccaro for his sculpture, "Louella", made of Indiana limestone from a piece of stone picked up on the campus. Nick is the president of the art club.

Harry Rowan, a sophomore, won one of the City Office and Art Co's. awards for his oil painting, "Time, Space and Motion." The second City Office award went to Ralph Humphrey for his oil entitled: "Mountains and Plains." Robert Mayerchak won the third City Office award for his jewelry entry, a necklace.

Mrs. Warren Park, a postgraduate student, won the Spanish Club award for a black and white drawing.

Honorable mentions went to Rowan for a sculpture, "Meditation", and a black and white drawing, and Guy Chiarella for an oil, "Uncertainty".

Judge for the show was Mr. Leroy Flint, curator of education at the Akron Art Institute, who also talked to the students on various points on their entries and gave his observations on the show.

100 YOUNGSTOWN UNIVERSITY WOMEN

Ketchum, McCleod, and Grove, public relations firm in Pittsburgh, have sent their representatives, Mr. Ronan and Miss Cramer to the Youngstown University Campus.

They are conducting a survey to find the opinions of Youngstown University women on new china patterns. These patterns will be on display in the Auditorium in the Main Building from 10-12 today.

At least 100 women are invited to stop in, see the displays, give their opinions and be interviewed concerning these patterns.

Barile Orchestra Plays For Dancing

Next Friday night the Youngstown University Unit of the Reserve Officers Training Corps will hold their 6th annual Military Ball. The Ball will be held at Stambaugh Auditorium from 9-1 with Nick Barile and his orchestra furnishing the music for dancing.

This dance is the only formal dance of the school year and the chairman, Cadet Major Richard Rein announces that this year the ball promises to be more colorful and more elaborate than any of the dances in the past.

The charge for the dance is $5 per couple, which also includes a corsage for the women and refreshments.

The Military Ball is open to everyone in the school if they will come in formal dress. This consists of service dress uniform, tuxedo, or dinner jacket.

Any former servicemen are welcome to attend the dance. Several invitations have been sent out to the military installations in this area inviting any member of the post to feel welcome to take part in the festivities.

Baseball Season To Begin In Intramurals

This is the time of year when intramural baseball practice is in full force.

The following is a list of the teams and their managers of the Intramural Baseball League.

- Stolmack - Jim Leslie
- T.G.I.F. - Lewis Kotsovolis
- Pi Beta Chi - Don Seely
- Sigma Phi Epsilon - Lou Gossik
- Nu Sigma Rho - Dick Moskosky
- Bombers - William Hollis
- O.S.F.E. - Joe Ivizdak
- Gridders - Tony Cougras
- Vorshek A.C. - Bill Vorshek
- Kappa Sigma Kappa - Al Swartz
- R.O.T.C. - Nat Safranek
- Phi Gamma - Bill Finn
- Newman Club - Ed Nader

Team play started this past week at Harrison Field. The tournament is under the direction of Dom Rosselli.

Kappa Delta Pi Holds Initiation

Miss Alma Klinger, Boardman High School faculty member who recently spent time in France as an exchange teacher, was the main speaker at the initiation meeting of Eta Chi chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary society in education.

Miss Mary Haddow, nationally known educator, and University faculty member Mr. Stewart G. Wagner were initiated as honorary members at the April 14th meeting.

Installed Several Members

University alumni Anthony R. Buarducci and Patrick F. Vaccaro were also installed, along with the following honor students in education: Mrs. Betty J. Armhurst, Mrs. Ruth Brandyberry, Michael Covelli, Mrs.

Patricia Dimon, Marilyn Ervin, Victor Gorze, Thomas Gubtosl, William Hurlbert, Kathryn Irely.

Felix - Kikel, Beverly Kinleyside, Barbara Knott, Theresa Kracko, William Lawrence, Carmen Leone, Mrs. Olive McCann, Nicholas Manos, Wayne Miller.

Ellen Morley, John Petti, Phyllis Plamin, Mrs. Jeanette Rapp, Joan Roberts, Paul Rucek, Daniel Speece, and Robert Welton.

Flash: Billy May Here For May Day

We Need A Song

Practically every school in the country has a fight song around which to rally their forces in the stands at athletic contests and at other occasions. Youngstown University doesn't have this strong rallying point around which to form their cheering sections.

Evidently Youngstown did have a fight song but over the past several years it has become dormant. Now we never hear the strains of this song to spur on the Red and White forces on the field of athletic combat. Undoubtedly very few students would be able to recognize it if it was presented to them.

In other schools when the fight song is struck by the band the entire student body is stirred to the heights but we here at Youngstown have never had this feeling. Since we are progressing rapidly in other directions it would also be nice for us to advance in this direction. It may seem like a trivial point to dwell on but actually it is a very important facet of our college life.

There are several solutions to this problem. One would be to revive the old song to its original status and in this way regain much of our lost "spirit".

Another solution I would like to suggest to the student body and to the administration would be to select a new song. Selection of the number would be a comparatively easy process. The song could be selected by a committee selected by Student Council and the administration. Possible members of the committee would include the president and vice-president of Student Council, President Jones, Dean Kitchen of the Dana School of Music, a member from each of the fraternities at the School of Music, Phi Mu Alpha and Sigma Alpha Iota, and possibly the editors of both the NEON and the JAMBAR.

One more solution would be to have one of the instructors or one of the students of the Dana School of Music compose a new song.

Immediate action should be taken to insure the student body of the University a fight song to open the football season next year. I would like to request Student Council to discuss this project and to take definite steps toward the fulfillment of the goal of having a fight song around which to rally our forces.

New Improvements

Each year the Ohio College Newspaper Association holds a convention to select the outstanding newspapers in the State and to hold several meetings discussing several of the problems of the various papers in the State.

This year the convention was held in Steubenville on April 13 and 14. Through the meetings that were held there, the staff of the JAMBAR have acquired several fine ideas for improving our paper.

In this issue you will see a few of the changes that are going to take place. The entire delegation to the convention has discussed these changes quite extensively.

We would also like to extend an invitation to any student who wishes to work on the newspaper to come up to talk to the editor and the sub-editors. While at the convention the delegates had the opportunity to talk with staff members of other schools and discuss the ways that their staffs were run. There are some schools in the state with enrollments of 400 that have larger staffs than we have, and we have an enrollment of over 4800.

We would like to increase our staff in order to make the work easier for each member of the staff. Some of the provisions that would be made would include an editorial staff, a copy reading staff, and a make-up staff. Thus we could improve our newspaper immensely.

Again we remind you, if you have any aspirations to work on the JAMBAR staff please come up to the office in Pollock House and you will start immediately. If you don't want to work on the staff but do have an idea on how to improve the paper please come up and talk to us or send a letter to the editor.

Question: As a pledge, what embarrassing situations have you experienced?

Betty Jane Biga - Phi Mu

My most embarrassing moment happened off campus. As pledge recorder, I was requested to accompany an active down to the Vindicator. I was wearing the pink ribbon and carrying a paper cut containing white paint. In the building I was stopped by an elderly gentleman and asked, "What organization are you soliciting money for?"

Anna Marie Shon - Gamma Sigma

As a pledge I have encountered many embarrassing situations, introducing myself to all students in the cafeteria, singing, and dancing. These embarrassments have been the very situations which have brought into my life many new friends and pleasant memories.

Angie Stizza - Phi Lambda Delta

My experiences as a Phi Lambda Delta Pledge have been both embarrassing and amusing. One of my most embarrassing experiences was when an active asked for a cookie, and to her great surprise placed her hand into a bag of crumbs.

Another trait very characteristic of a Phi Lambda Delta Pledge is the ample supply of safety pins she has hanging from her side. These pins have created embarrassing moments and also have caused pledges to get more demerits when they find themselves pinned to an active as they try to leave the cafeteria.

Joan Sinistra - Gamma Sigma

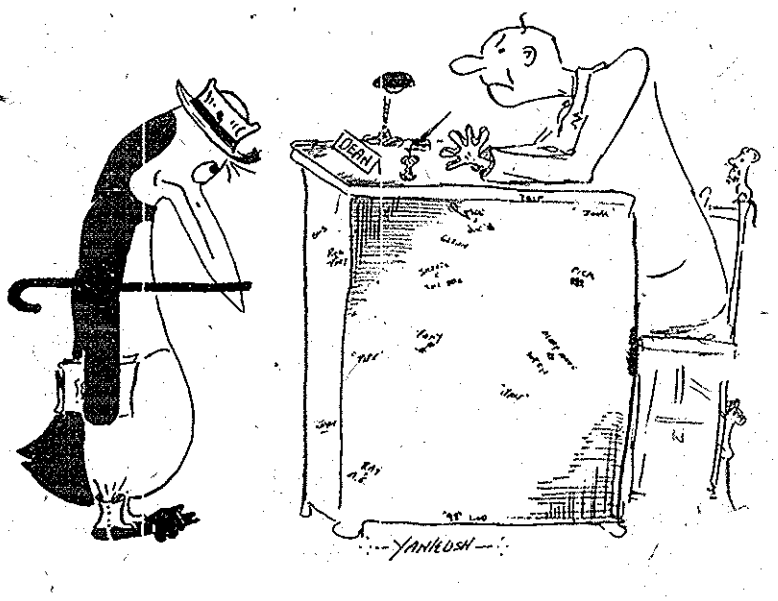

As a pledge of Gamma Sigma Sorority, I have experienced a few embarrassing situations. The most embarrassing was when I had to walk out of the University library as an elephant and this is pretty hard for a human to do. There I sat with the man of my dreams when two of my actives asked me to perform this task. I do think, however, that pledging is an exciting experience and something all college girls should undertake.

Barbara Niesen - Beta Sigma Omicron

There have been quite a few embarrassing situations but I think having to get up on a chair in the cafeteria and apologize for being a naughty pledge was the worst I've yet to experience.

Another incident that put me in a rather humiliating position was having to run from one building to another backwards. Also carrying a teddy bear through out town can catch some curious glances. There are still four more weeks to go and who can tell, it could be worse.

One thing about baldness - it's neat.

So, caught selling the "Jambar" to Freshmen again eh?

ENGINEER'S ANGLES

Announcing the new secretary of the Dean's Council - Mr. Robert Mazur! I hope all is forgiven.

The collection for the Engineers' Lounge has finally reached the goal of $500. Much of the success of this campaign was due to the efforts of John Ewashko, Chairman of the committee, and to men like Bill Vogan and Mike Solomon who spent many free hours collecting for this worthy cause. Congratulations gentlemen on a job well done.

Apologies are in order to Ed Salata and the Civil Society which was actually the first organization to donate to the fund. Pardon the mental lapse.

Congratulations to Wayne Arnold, Senior Electrical Engineer, on the addition to the family. Mrs. Arnold gave birth to a seven pound ten ounce baby boy on Sunday, April 8th. His name is Randall Wayne. If this keeps up, I may develop a taste for those cigars yet.

With all these warm days coming around, the boys in the back room are beginning to migrate slowly to become the boys on the front steps. It won't be long before the balls and gloves will also be in evidence.

Speaking of baseball, some of the boys were down at Harrison Field the other day playing the favorite American sport. After a gruelling workout, five stomachs were given a lining of proportionate mixtures of barley, hops, etc. It looks like the O.S.P.E. will have a great team this year! I predict they'll finish!

Just a reminder to all the seniors who plan on taking the state Exam this July. Your complete applications must be in before the 5th of May, so get these papers in the mail or you may be left out.

Well, gang, it looks like we're heading into the last month, and before you have time to bind your thesis, it'll be all over. I have heard some suggestions that I should turn this column over the rabble for one week and give all the men whose names have appeared herein a chance to defend themselves at my expense. Well, there's not much time left, but I'm willing to go along with the idea. Anyone who has anything they'd like to see in print, if it can pass the censor, can be sure it will appear for all to see. This is your one and only chance, gents!

This is also the time to put forth a call for all budding young journalists. In short, is there anyone in the crowd who would like the pleasant task of chastizing their fellow engineers for a year or so? The pay is high, and the hours are short. So, if you are the man to continue this column after I'm long gone, speak up! Contact me during the next week and I'll see what arrangements can be made. Line forms at the right.

There was not enough time to include the O.S.P.E. Dinner Dance in this week's column, but it will appear in full force for the next issue.

Chemical Society Meeting Tuesday

The Student Affiliate Chapter of the American Chemical Society will meet on Tuesday, April 24, and Tuesday, May 8, in room 312 of the Main Building at eleven o'clock in the morning. These meetings will conclude the society's meetings for the spring semester.

Members of the society will deliver prepared talks at the April 24 meeting. The winning presentation will be entered in the contest being sponsored by the Penn-Ohio Border Section of the American Chemical Society.

On Friday, April 27, the local members will tour the B.F. Goodrich Company Research Center at Brecksville, Ohio.

The Student Affiliate Chapter recently donated a Chemistry Handbook to the University Library. Work is now being completed on a crystal gourd which will soon be on display in the library.

Election of officers for the university year of 1956-1957 will be held at the May 8 meeting. A general review of this year's activities will be given at that time.

Alpha Mu Hears Speaker At Last Meeting

Alpha Mu, the honorary advertising and merchandising fraternity, held its last meeting on April 5 in the Audio-Visual room of the library.

The meeting, with approximately thirty-five present, heard a speech given by Edward Montgomery of the Meek and Thomas Agency. Montgomery is also the president of the N.I.A.A. (National Industrial Advertising Association). The subject of the speech was, "Industrial Advertising and Merchandising in this Changing World."

The next meeting, which will be a general business meeting for members only, is scheduled for April 19 at West Hall.

Student Council Notes

Student Council has just approved all of the necessary factors for what we are sure will be a successful May Day. The date is Thursday May 17, at the newly remodeled Idora Park Ballroom. The music will be provided by Billy May and his Orchestra. Patty Sfara and Carol Emery will be in charge of this annual event which shall include the Chase, May Pole Dance, and the semi-formal dance culminating the activities in the evening.

The theme of the dance will be "Paradise Plantation" which includes a unique plan for decorations that should please all who attend. Tickets from the Activity Book is the price of admission.

Petitions for May Queen must be returned to Student Council no later than April 20 at 3:00 p.m. The election of the Queen will take place May 3-4. While on the topic of elections, Student Council will hold the spring elections for its members on May 9-10. Interested students may sign up in the Dean's office of their respective schools. Qualification for membership are that one must be a full time student and have a cumulative point average of 1.75.

Classes Dismissed for Bare Brunch

The Bare Brunch will be held on May 15 at the Pioneer Pavilion in Mill Creek Park. Classes will be dismissed from 1-5 in the afternoon.

Don't forget that the Bulletin Board in the Main Building was purchased by you and can be used by you. So, if you have an all school event to be publicized, please apply at the Dean of Women's Office.

Attention to those persons interested in trying out for cheerleader: tryouts will be held shortly, the date has not been announced. If you are interested, contact your Student Council Representative.

Prof. in Ethics: I will lecture today on liars. How many of you have read the twentieth-fifth chapter?

Nearly all raised their hands.

Prof. That's fine. You're the very group to whom I wish to speak. There is no twenty-fifth chapter.

Prof. Lyman Will Speak At Luncheon

Miss Jane Louise Lyman, assistant professor of sociology at Youngstown University will be the principal speaker at the noon luncheon meeting of the Youngstown Crime Clinic, Tuesday, May 1, 1956.

Miss Lyman will speak on "Impressions of British Police," according to announcement by the Crime Clinic program chairman, Lt. W.B. Umpleby, Ohio State Highway Patrol. She will conduct a short question and answer period on opportunities for police officers making professional studies in their chosen field at Youngstown University.

Born and raised in Youngstown, Miss Lyman holds degrees from Geneva College, Youngstown University, Western Reserve University, and Oxford University, Oxford, England.

She did research on English Social History and as a part of that work made a study of the London Metropolitan Police, New Scotland Yard, Metropolitan Women's Division and the River Thames Police.

Sponsor Selected For PR

English Society Holds Meetings

Programs for the last three meetings of the semester of the Youngstown University English Society will include initiation of new members, a panel discussion of Ernest Hemingway and annual election of officers.

Thomas Reedy, Program chairman, reports that the initiation was held during the last meeting, April 18. On May 2, "The Life and Works of Ernest Hemingway" will be debated.

Unfortunately, the author will not be here to defend himself, but a six-member panel composed of club members have planned what promises to be an interesting program. Members and those students interested in becoming members are urged to attend and take part in the discussion.

Members of the panel will include Jean McClure Kelly, Marilyn Irwin, Mrs. Mae Turner, Michael Laverty, Carmen Leone and Richard Hixson. Thomas Reedy, club program chairman, will act as moderator.

Robert Saltsman, president, announces that election of officers will be held May 16, at the last meeting of the semester.

The film "Les Miserables," adapted from the novel by Victor Hugo was shown at one of the recent meetings.

GREEK MIXER

The Annual Greek Mixer will be held Wednesday, April 25 at the Eagle Ballroom, announces chairmen, Joan Pavlov, of Gamma Sigma Sorority and Bob Covelli of Alpha Phi Delta Fraternity. All Greeks are invited.

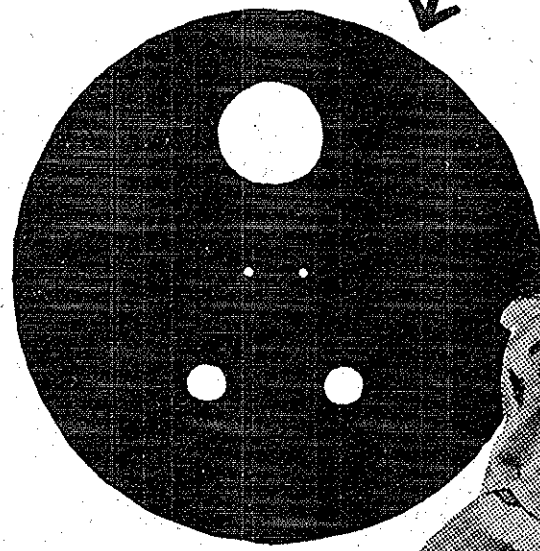

Then there was the case of the young army doctor in the South Pacific who had diagnosed the ailment of a sergeant, but knowing he could do little with his limited facilities wired base hospital: "Have a case of Beriberi. What shall I do?"

The message was taken by a young technician at the base who wired back: "Give it to the engineers. They'll drink anything."

"But darling, I couldn't elope with you tomorrow - I have three cuts already."

THE GREEKS SPEAK

By Joan Pavlov

Welcome to the new pledges of the fraternities. I'm glad that the actives of the fraternities, now have pledges. Maybe they'll stop getting the pledges of the sororities in trouble. Right, Bill Livovsky and Gil Prokop.

NU SIGMA RHO

Congratulations, or should we say almost ... Al Fedor recently made the society column in the "Vindy". Everybody was looking forward to hearing the wedding bells, only to find that he had received a "Thank You" for doing some art work for the Nuota Club.

Dan "Varipapa" Donofrio really has a trick shot in bowling. Bill Livovsky, and Herm Sostaric watched in amazement as he tried to pick up a seven-ten split on alley 15, with the ball winding up in the gutter of alley 16. In spite of the "Trick" shot, Dan rolled a nifty 203 at the North Side Alleys.

Never say die is the theme of the Nu Sigs basketball team. Behind eight points with 2½ minutes to go a team effort of spirit, drive and determination, proved to be a fatal blow in the defeat of the Phi Gams. (With a big margin of ONE point.)

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

Welcome to all the new pledges on behalf of the Sig Ep actives. Congratulations to Bob Magni and Carol Pastell on their engagement, Ed Wainco and Shirley Cummerick on getting pinned, and Don Miller, who is getting married.

A party with the Gamma Sigs is planned for this month. A date party is also planned for May 5th. There may be many engineers in the Sig Ep fraternity but they still have time for their social life.

PHI MU

All the Phi Mu's recently enjoyed their recent party with the Pi Beta Chi at the Arco Club. A pajama party was held at Janet Smeltzer's house on April 20. Girls, Struthers is a quiet town.

Some of the members ushered for the Notre Dame Glee Club concert at Princeton Junior High on April 10. A good time was had after the concert, just ask Lillian or Emily.

Swinging into the routine of pledging, the pledges, such as Peggy Vittorio and Janet Davis, Phi Mu pledges, have been asking the actives. "How did you do it?" but they also received the pledge of the week award. They recently held two successful bake sales. Plans are now being made to clean Dean McCarty's cellar for a meeting place. Don't forget gals, bring your scrub buckets.

The Boardman Arena was the place for the pledges recent get together skating party.

SIGMA SIGMA

Sigma Sigma fraternity welcomed its new pledges at a smoker on Thursday, April 12. Bill Camie, Ron Ssell, Terry Tannehill, Judge Repasky Ed Lombard, Bill Beeman, Jim O'Neil, Al Hegedus, Dale Cunningham, Bill Simon, Dick Shoemaker, Joe Reddick, Allan Camp, and Larry Nord, are the new pledges.

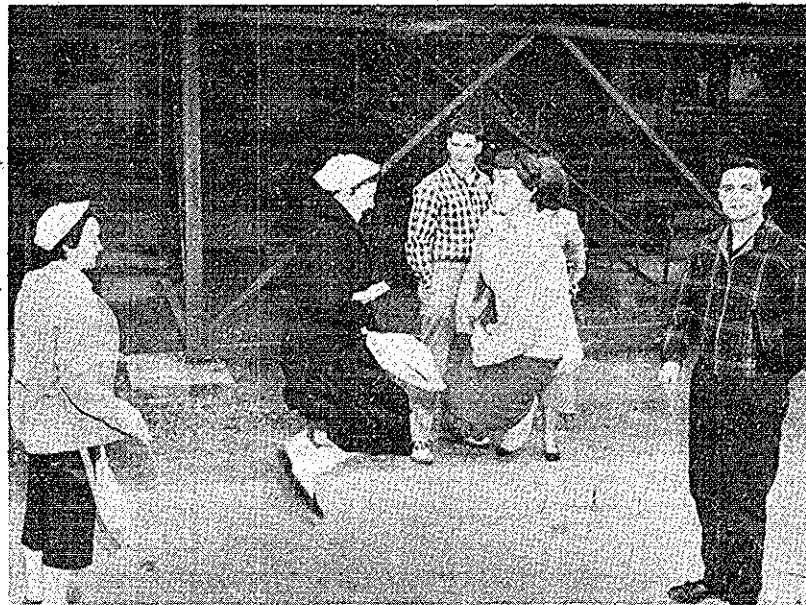

All the members are looking forward to the Annual Tri Sig Blast to be held at the famous "Venetti's Grove" in the woods.

With the closing of rushing the "interesting" spring social season will blossom into full swing. Parties are already planned with Beta Sigma Omicron and Gamma Sigma. The dinner dance is to be held at the Pica-dilly Room in the Tod Hotel, and a alumni picnic has been scheduled.

KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA

Frank ($) DiGiacomo was responsible for acquiring the K-K series of

Spring Is Really Here

Thoroughly enjoying themselves, Vivian Sherwood and Janice Simpson, skip a rope of safety pins twirled by Angie Stizza and Ed Lavin, while Al Smelko and Fran Doyle amusedly look on.

license plates now decorating the Kappa Sigs cars on campus. Tom (R.A.) Yazvac chased a K-K series all over Youngstown before he found out it was the Chief of the Traffic Division.

The Kappa Sigs would like to welcome their new pledges while I would like to break two of their necks, the two who poured water on my head. Of course, they were instructed by Bruce Bond and Chuck Lehnerd. (The Con-ning Two), and my brother, Johnny.

The pledges are John Arens, Steve Valentasis, Marv Levy, Bob Hawkins, Dennis Migletz, George Taylor, Charles "Teddy" Young, Tom Gloszler and Pat Reardon.

The noise heard from the distant North side on April 7th wasn't the Russian invasion, just the people at Jim Mangie's and Evy Delong's wedding. After having fully recuperated from Jim Mangie's nuptial festivities, the Kappa Sigs ventured to Lowellville to Fred Nebot's and Louise Sarville's wedding the following Saturday.

Current theme song of the Kappa Sigs: "Those wedding bells are breaking up that Old gang of Mine." This stems from the latest list of recently announced engagements, Jim Nagy, Chuck Britton, Lee Crisan, Moe Franko and Paul Malenky -- Next, Jim Corbett, maybe ?????

Bruce Bond is currently setting the world of fashions afire with John Lane's latest creation, the total split sport jacket. The fraternity was very much pleased to see their brother Chuck Wollitz return from two year stay in the Air Forces. Chuck plans to "take up where he left off" in school that is!

GAMMA SIGMA

The Gamma Sigs have been entertained very well with their social activities recently. A party was held at Jack Storey's with the Sig Sigs. The evening was quiet until Karl Mogg started his game of "Can You Top This?" and "Winner Take All". Some of the members had never played this game but winners were Helen Savic, Alma Mackin, Moe Cooney and Pat Quinlan.

On April 19, a party will be held with the Kappa Sigs and on April 24, one with the Sig Eps. Besides, all these interesting social affairs the Gamma Sigs have been busy with sing practice.

Pledges are still seen running and hiding from Loreta Liptak and Maggie Docherty but believe me girls, they aren't that bad. You just have to know the magic word. Right, Peggy Murphy. Does anyone know where we can get some permanent tape or string so that Helen Reardon, Connie Pappas and Anna Marie Ston will wear their hats constantly?

The Beta Sigs would like to welcome Lahni Stanier, who recently went active into the sorority after a lengthened pledge period due to her transfer here from Westminster.

BETA SIGMA OMICRON

The Beta Sigs and their pledges recently had parties with the Sig Eps and Pi Beta Chi. They were the first joint parties for their pledges and everyone had a very enjoyable time.

Being the social chairman for the Beta Sigs isn't an ordinary job, is it Pat? Not only does she have to arrange the parties but she also has to contend with the frozen sandwiches and record players with broken arms.

After Junior Prom the Beta Sigs had a "slumber" party at the home of Teddi Morgan. Now you know why the Beta Sigs were walking around campus in a daze on Mopday morning.

Congratulations to Virginia Guglielmi who was voted Most Popular Girl and also to Jerry Zupp, who was voted the Most Popular Boy at Youngstown University.

PI BETA CHI

The Pi Beta Chis would like to extend their congratulations to Peg Potts on being elected Junior Prom Queen.

On April 3, a party was held with the Phi Mu sorority at the Arco Club on Albert St. Music for dancing was provided by the John Bradshaw Record Player and Co. Highlight of the affair was Bob-Bucher's exotic dancing.

Another party was held April 12, with Beta Sigma Omicron at the Willow Ranch. All Bob Mondak can say is, "I hope everyone got home. Do you know why Bob Mondak buys papers? To read the obituary column to see if any of his patients from the hospital have died. What happens at that hospital, is the question.

ALPHA PHI DELTA

The Alpha Phi's are really happy over Jerry Zupp, being chosen Mr. Popularity. He thought it was all a mistake and had to be pushed up to the stage.

Browsing Around

With Ernie Gauld

With spring in the air you are liable to see anything around our little "institution". Professors are holding semi-private classes, love-birds are chirping, and "hokey" is becoming a predominate thing.

Did you know that Kay Harmon and Vivian Sherwood have become caddies at a local country club? They are decked out in their bermuda shorts and golfers caps (Ivy League) and have formed a union for carrying golf bags - Kay even takes her dog along to retrieve the balls. The only catch to this system is that the dog keeps stealing the ball off the tee and the green, instead of chasing the ones that go in the rough.

Just the other day Ernie Hammer, Ron Nagy, and Jack Schafer were seen hiding in the woods in back of a green waiting for a golfer to hit his ball on the green or over the green. This saves them the expense of buying them.

If by any chance you should happen to find a "gully" on some tee, don't let the wonderment of how it got there bother you. It's simply where Nancy Puskar teed off (she was too). In fact she dug holes with her driver faster than the tractor and three man crew could fill them.

Some people really have it made. If you don't think so ask Bill Swift and Co. (Mary Veauthier) who spent Easter Vacation in Florida.

I just came across another of my "crazy" poems:

Ode to a Sardine in a Flat Can

Think of this as you lie in your olive oil -

If you are a boy sardine, I hope the one next to you is a goil.

Pledging is in full swing and the pledges are running around doing crazy things as usual. For those who don't know what you're missing what could be better than to have music supplied by the pledges of the various sororities. Myself, I can think of a thousand things better but according to Janie Huff, Louise Gossick, Betty Wiga and Pat McGowan, I just don't appreciate good music.

During my roving, I decided to come up to school for a night school session and see what some of their conceptions on the place was. To my amazement, I discovered that night students are smarter than day students. Take Pat Jurich for instance, she runs around the library selling last weeks Kinsey's report on Dogs to everyone for a dime a copy. (I have a hard time getting a nickel in the day time.)

Then there's Alice Mound and Elaine Hoffer, who have three hours of class a week (which they cut), and oddles of extra-curricular activities. Some times I think they are majoring in dancing, parties, and anything else to do with social life.

Don McDermott, famed for his classical journal "The North East Youngstown Slums", recently carbon dated and epigraphized the Youngstown University cafeteria.

For the non-pulsed, carbon dating is a radio active method of determining the age of organic material. Epigraphy is the study of inscriptions. And what he found out about the good old cafe!

From the inscriptions found on the tables, Don concluded that the Youngstown University cafe has been a center of culture for who knows how long. And they must have produced a great line of artists and scholars. (Boy, this kid has a lot to learn.)

There were also lots of Greek symbols which Don interprets as the revival of the renaissance cult of classical letters.

Don also discovered that the coffee was quite effective in eating up the tables. In fact, he was quite mad at the way it ate up the writings and symbols.

Don also discovered many drawings on the cafeteria tables - mostly crude female figures (which were highly exaggerated) which Don has labeled "primitive American".

In closing don't forget -- "A fool and his money are some party."

During a recent round table at the library the fellows discovered Frank Taratine's display of modesty. After seeing his test papers for the past two semesters with nothing but A's on them he finally revealed his 2.4 average in engineering. Let's stop the social life, get your fraternity pin back and build up that point average, Frank.

Larry Mirto, social chairman is planning a busy schedule. On April 14, Carmen Pastore, a former student and brother of the fraternity is getting married.

We heard that Tom Marcone, has recently turned down three chances to make a permanent martial stitch. Zsa Zsa Gabor, Marilyn Monroe and Jane Russell are losing their faith in Leap year.

Years ago I once had a teacher,
A sweet feminine little creature.
In her own cultured way,
She would smile and say,
"Shut up, youse kids, or I'll beat cha."

"Some blind date! Look at her - she's too fat, her nose is broken, her hair is bleached, she's knock-kneed,
and she's missing two front teeth."

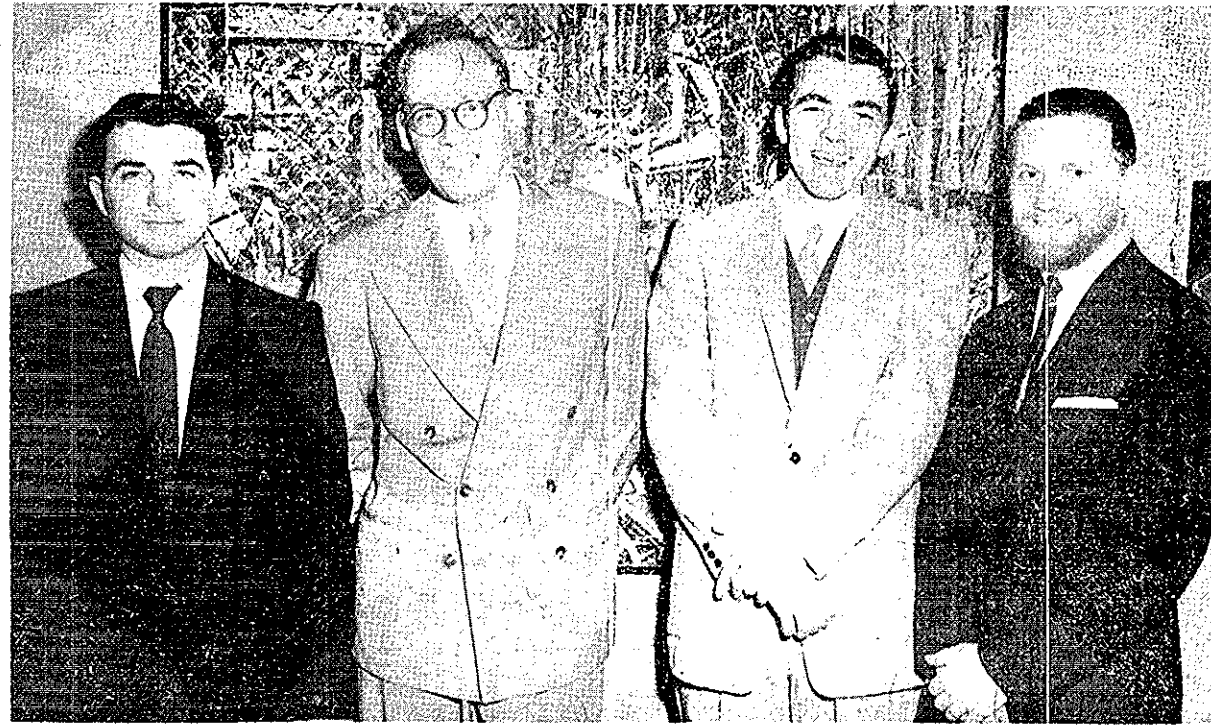

"You don't have to whisper; she's deaf, too!"

Youngstown Chapter Host to FTA Meet

Youngstown University chapter of Future Teachers of America was host to over 120 delegates and members from Ohio colleges and universities at the eighth annual conference of the Ohio Association of Future Teachers of America last Saturday, April 14.

The general business meeting was held that morning in the visual aids room of the University Library with Bob Schiller of the University of Dayton, president of the Ohio Association presiding. The Rev. Albert L. Linder, Youngstown University chaplain gave the invocation and University President Howard W. Jones welcomed the guests. Robert A. Skaffe, field director of the National Education Association, Washington, D.C. was guest speaker, and Edward L. Hoon, field director of the Ohio Education Association, Columbus, will represent the organization at the conference.

Afternoon meetings, which included election of officers for 1956-57, were followed by a get-acquainted party in the C.J. Strouss Memorial Auditorium.

The day-long program closed with a banquet at the Pilgrim Collegiate Church, followed by reports of group chairmen, presentation of awards, and transfer of the gavel to the new president.

Twenty-seven colleges and universities in Ohio have chapters in the Future Teachers of America. The University's William Holmes McCuffey Chapter is sponsored by Dr. George M. Wilcox, head of the Department of Education. Officers are Cyril Tsvet-anoff, president; Barbara Nemer, 1st vice president; Beverly O'Neill, 2nd vice president; Mari Anne Bartik, recording secretary; Mrs. Wilma Walker, corresponding secretary; Julia Costa, treasurer; Agnes Cassidy, historian; Barbara Smith, reporter; and Mrs. Nancy Kubina, censor.

The general committee in charge of conference arrangements were Tsvet-anoff, Charleen Tuhill, and Neil Del-Arco.

"Did you get home from the party all right last night?"

"Fine, thanks, except that just as I was turning into my street some idiot stepped on my fingers."

Horizon On Sale April 24

"Horizon" scheduled to appear the week of April 16 will be delayed due to unforeseen difficulties. The magazine is now being printed and will go on sale either April 23 or 24.

The magazine will be sold at a stand in the main hall from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., the first two days after publication. It will be available evenings and for two weeks following in the bookstore and from student representatives around the campus.

To cost 35 cents, the 40-page book will be composed of original writings from the student body, including essays, short stories and poetry.

Those students having material in the first edition include Michael Lavery, Jean McClure Kelly, Carmen Leone, Mary Ella Bell and Thomas Reedy, short stories; Melvin Kallis, Ralph Humphrey, Elizabeth Johnson, Waltraut Stein and Leonard Thomas, poetry; and Richard F. Hixson, essay.

"I've got my husband to the point where he eats out of my hand."

"Saves a lot of dishwashing, doesn't it?"

Nick and Big White

The winner of the Art show for his sculpture, Big White, made out of a stone found on campus, is Nick Vaccaro.

John Petti Wins Scholarship

John Petti, student assistant in the Youngstown University Department of Education, has been awarded a $720 scholarship to the University of Chicago, for the academic year 1956-57.

John, a Social Science major, will graduate this June with a degree of Bachelor of Science in Education. He will use his scholarship to study for a Master's degree in History. He then hopes to do college teaching.

Petti is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary society for students of education.

One of the students who vacationed for the summer, stopped at a small southern hotel. It was very early and none of the townspeople were up yet. He strode importantly up to the desk.

"Say, just how long has this town been dead, sister?" he asked the girl clerk.

"Not very long," was the reply, "You're the first buzzard to come around."

Prof. Elser Works Printed in Magazine

Prof. Donald Elser of the speech and dramatics faculty of Youngstown University has the lead article in the March number of "Dramatics," an educational magazine for directors, teachers, and students of dramatic arts. Prof. Elser's article, is titled "Writing the One-Act Play," is a discussion of the problems involved in the job of producing a one-act play from getting the idea to the finished job.

Prof. Elser suggests that there is no magic formula for any kind of writing, that you must first get the idea, let your imagination go to work, become thoroughly acquainted with your characters, keep your speeches short, and then sit down and write.

In a discussion of Prof. Elser's article in the magazine, the editor, Leon C. Miller, wrote, "In my opinion Donald Elser is one of the better known authors of outstanding one-act plays. Whenever I attend play festivals or our own regional conferences throughout the country, I feel sure that I will see at least one of his plays included in the program and I have memorized most of the lines of several of his plays by observation.

Makes Suggestions

Mr. Elser, in his article, "Writing the One-Act Play," lays the groundwork for all our Thespian would-be authors by his suggestions."

Some of Prof. Elser's best known one-act plays are "Balcony Scene," "Special Guest," and "Concert in the Park," all of which are frequently produced in secondary school theaters throughout the country.

A frantic mother rushed into a doctor's office, dragging a four-year-old boy by the hand. "Doctor," she panted, "is this child capable of performing an appendectomy?"

"Why, my dear lady," answered the doctor, "don't be silly. Of course not."

"See!" screamed the mother, "Now you march right out of here and put it back."

Life Was Unbearable For J. Paul Sheedy* Till Wildroot Cream-Oil Gave Him Confidence

Sheedy's honey kept giving him the cold shoulder. "This is more than I can bear! Why not be n-ice?" he moaned. "What fur?" she demanded. "It'll be a frosty Friday before I date you again. And just in glacier wondering why, take a look at your shaggy hair." This made Sheedy paws and think. So he got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now he's the picture of confidence. His hair is handsome and healthy looking, neat but not greasy. Wildroot contains the best of Lanolin, Nature's finest hair and scalp conditioner. Take Sheedy's advice. Whether your hair is straight or curly, blonde, red, black or bruin, keep it neat with Wildroot Cream-Oil. In bottles or handy tubes. It's the bearies!

Alpha Tau Gamma To Hold Annual Accounting Clinic

Alpha Tau Gamma, Youngstown University accounting fraternity, will hold its sixth annual Accounting Clinic and dinner Wednesday, April 25, in the VFW Auditorium, 225 W. Boardman Street, at 6:30 p.m.

Four experts in the various phases of accounting will participate in the clinic, conducted to establish a closer relationship between the University and public and private practicing accountants in the area.

All men and women interested in accounting are invited. Alumni members of Alpha Tau Gamma are especially invited to the first clinic since the school became Youngstown University.

Tickets may be purchased from fraternity members or the office of the School of Business Administration of the University or by phoning Ernest Bodo, KE 4-1943.

Officers of the fraternity are Gerald Pratt, president; Harry Fry, secretary; and Ernest Bodo, treasurer.

University To Offer Honors Seminar

Beginning next fall Youngstown University will offer an honors seminar in the criticism of some ideas that have proved vital to civilized man.

The course, to be called The University Seminar, will embrace and interate the particular studies of science, society, and the humanities. It will be conducted by three instructors, and occasional lecturers, representing the above three fields.

Meetings will be symposia in which the members present and discuss reports on projects embracing two or more fields of study. Students completing the seminar with distinction will be granted special honors by the University.

Although eligibility for the course will be determined by faculty selection, students who are interested in the seminar, and who will in September need one full academic year to complete their requirements for their Bachelor's degree, should get in touch with their department heads or with Dr. Gould, Dr. O'Brien, or Dr. Cohen.

Brass Ensemble Holds Program

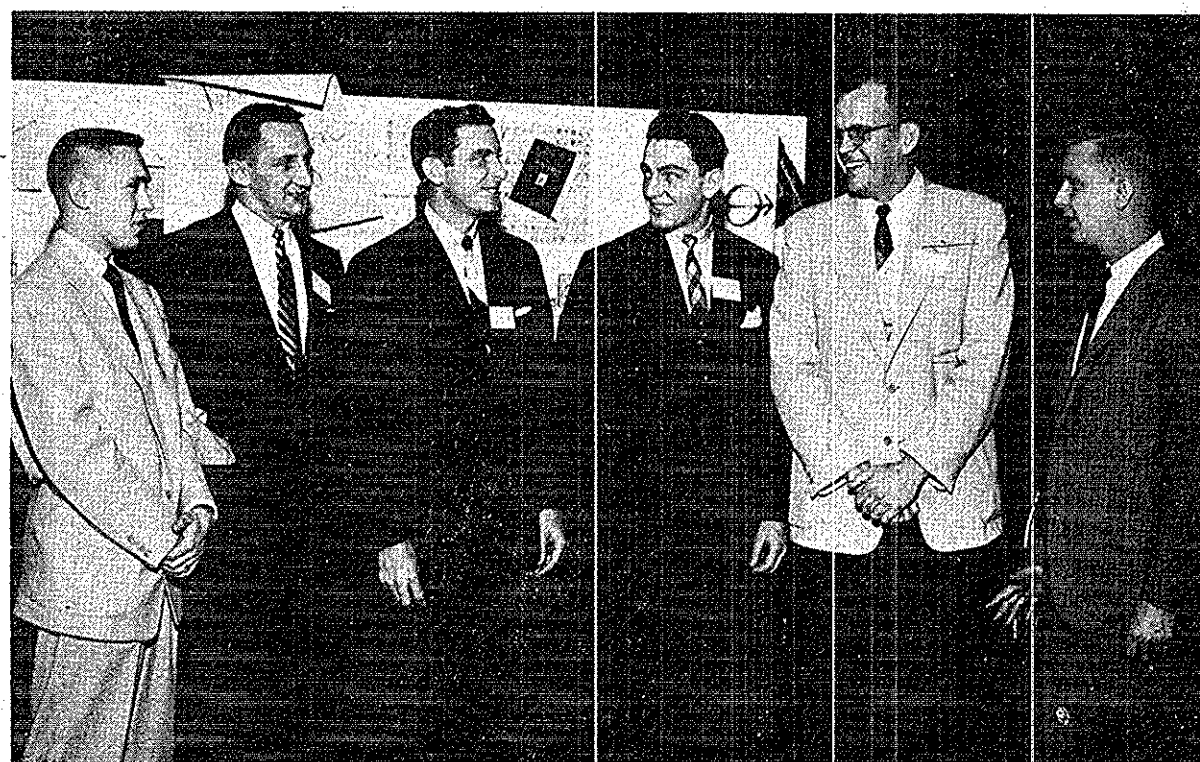

The brass ensemble, under the direction of Mr. Raymond Dehnostel, presented a concert on Wednesday the 18th of April in Strouss Memorial Auditorium.

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young manager handles finances for $40,000,000 business

General Electric is made up of more than 90 product departments that operate as individual "businesses" — each conducting its own legal, financial, manufacturing, engineering, marketing and research activities.

One of the most important of these businesses is the Technical Products Department that makes broadcasting and communications equipment and semi-conductor devices. Responsible for managing the finances of this $10 million business is Robert H. Platt.

Platt's Work Is Important, Responsible

In the next ten years, the Technical Products Department is expected to reach the $100 million mark — more than doubling its present size. This is a big job. And it requires Platt to keep tabs on everything from tax, cost, and general accounting to payrolls, budgets and measurements, credits and collections, and internal auditing.

25,000 College Graduates at General Electric

Experience gained in the Business Training Course and as a traveling auditor gave Platt a variety of financial experience. Like each of our 25,000 college-graduate employees, he was given the chance to grow and realize his full potential. For General Electric has long believed this: When fresh young minds are given the freedom to make progress, everybody benefits — the individual, the company, the country.

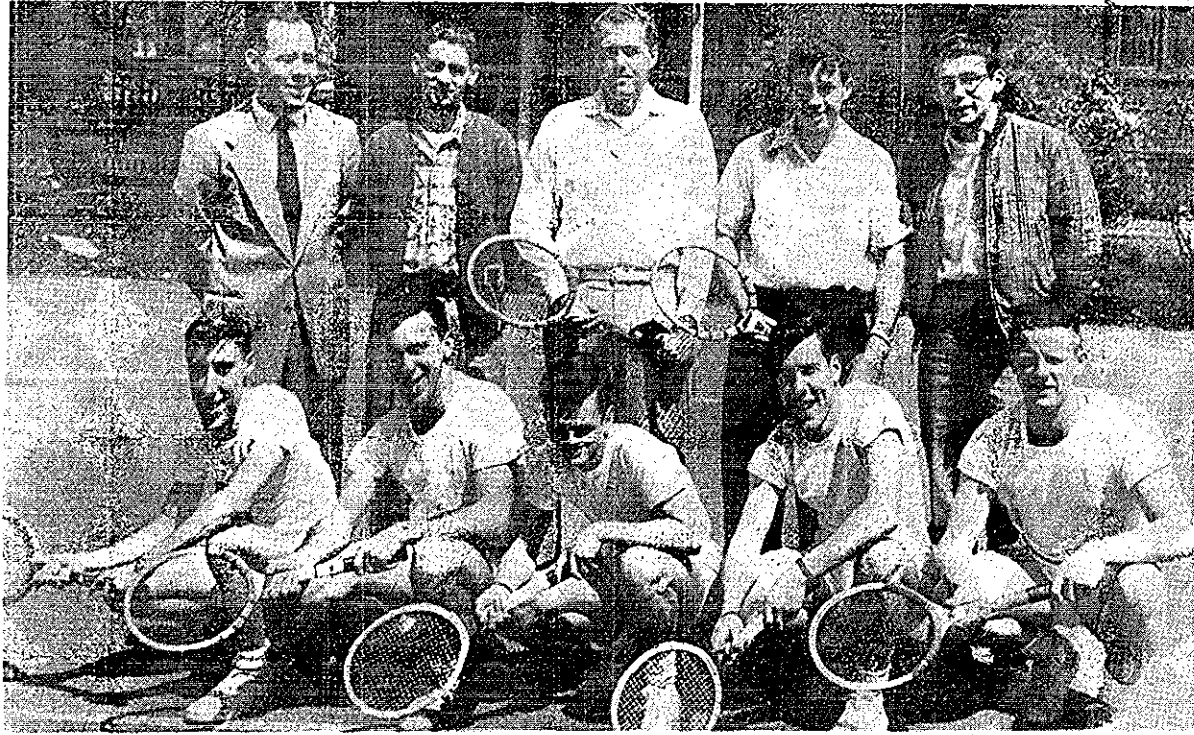

Educational Relations, General Electric Company, Schenectady 5, New York

ROBERT H. PLATT joined G.E. in 1941 after receiving his B.A. at Colgate University. He served 2 years in the Navy, attaining the rank of Lieutenant (J.G.). He is also a graduate of G.E.'s Business Training Course.

BEHIND LOCKER ROOM DOORS

By Don Infante

On the ninth of April, the greatest hitter of modern baseball hit his first home run of the 1956 season. On that day the Boston Red Sox, aided by the three run homer by Ted Williams, won their game with the Philadelphia Phillies by a score of 21 to 1.

Ted, whose incredible feats include a lifetime average of .350 and 394 homers, has been limited in his work this spring because of a painful groin pull and many fans have been disappointed in not being able to see him play.

It is apparent that the Red Sox are a different team without Williams. The threat of a sudden eruption is minimized when he is not playing.

Age Doesn't Show

It might be suspected that the pains of advancing baseball age are catching up with Ted. Not so, instead it must be remembered that he enters spring training with the same determination and purpose that characterizes everything he does.

Let us take for example this year spring training at Sarasota, Florida! Anyone who didn't know anything about baseball greats would think Williams was a rookie trying to make the club instead of it's most valuable player.

He has blistered his hands taking batting practice. He has run himself into the ground, in fact he has not spared himself one bit this spring. Williams has built himself into such a physical specimen that he amazes everyone. Who could do 400 pushups and still have some pep left? That's Williams.

100 out of 154

Nobody can predict how many games Williams will play this season but he believes he can play approximately 100 out of the 154 games the Red Sox have scheduled and should make them a threat for the American League Pennant. Or to repeat a familiar saying, "As Williams goes, so go the Red Sox."

Bowling League Awards Given At Annual Dinner

Youngstown University Intramural Bowling League held their annual awards banquet last Sunday night, April 15, at the Aut-Mort Grotto.

The bulk of the awards were taken by Newman Club No. 1, which edged out the T.G.I.F.'s for the League Championship. T.G.I.F. is a three-time league titleholder and put up a strong battle before losing out to the Newman kieglers.

Newman Club No. 1 also had the high team single game of the season, 900, with T.G.I.F.'s 894 in second spot. T.G.I.F. took the three-game total pins honor with a 2458 tally.

Ed Wall of Newman Club swept individual honors with the high league average of 179. His 256 game and 622 set were also tops during the past season.

It was announced that the deadline for old and new entries in the Intramural Bowling League for next fall is May 1. Interested parties should contact Al Mike on campus or by phone at RI 6-1307.

Once Over Lightly

By Vince Golle

Youngstown University's 1955 grid squad was honored this past Tuesday evening, April 10, at the annual football banquet, held at the Four-Square Club.

Each year Coach Beede sets aside one game known as the "dinner" game. If the Penguins win the game, they are served by the entire coaching staff at the banquet. This year the team upset Great Lakes to earn the dinner.

Former Grid Stars Attend

The undefeated "41" eleven was well represented at the dinner and took part in a discussion period of the happenings occurring in the outstanding 1941 season. Movies were shown of the Akron University game of 1941 where Youngstown University upset the "Zippers" by a score of 19-0. Memories of the spectacular upset victory over St. Bonaventure were revived by Assistant Coach Dom Rosselli.

Taking part in the discussion were Cy Worden, Dick Sontag, Bob Burns, George Hardy and others.

Golf Team Defeats Steubenville

Youngstown University golfers opened the 1956 season last Friday with an 18-0 shutout victory over the College of Steubenville at the Mahoning Country Club.

Medalist honors went to Pete Rosko with a 75 total. Frank Gragewski was low man for Steubenville with 78. A pair of 78's by Joe Galko and Ed Knizer were good for runner-up honors on the Penguin squad.

Although it doesn't appear in the final score, the linksmen were a bit hampered by the rapidly dried-out greens, which wouldn't hold approach shots too well, and by the absence of co-captain Ed Seginak, who was confined to classes.

President Jones was among guests at the dinner, along with other members of the Youngstown University Staff. Staff members attending the dinner included Mr. Nelson, P.C. Pickard, Maj. Leonard Main, Col.O.R. Hummel, Mr. Lazar and Lt. M. Fredrick. Don Gardner of WKBN, Lawrence Skole and Chuck Perazich of the Vindicator sports staff were also on hand for the festivities.

Hernando's Hide-away

Due to the death of John Hernandez's father the Hideaway column has been written by Ron Vanatsky. We of the JAMBAR staff wish to extend to John and his family our deepest sympathy.

Varsity golf coach Bill Carson is welcoming back from last year's squad veterans: Pete Rosko and Ed Seginak, co-captains; and Bob Kupka, as another big season on the links is predicted for the Penguins. Newcomers expected to bolster the squad are Joe Galko, Dave Houlihan, Ed Knizer, and alternates Jack Gerberry, Tom Richards, Bill Blascak, Alan Hegedus and Cal McMahan.

Although hampered by the loss of Bob Savko, Ed Poplava, and Birdie Mikulski, all top-notch performers last season, the boys look forward with optimism to their arduous 13-match schedule, which includes five dates at the home course, Mahoning Country Club.

The Penguin's first three matches, with Steubenville, Geneva and John Carroll, were held this past week at Mahoning.

Coach Carson is hopeful of a repeat story of last year's successes, when the swingers compiled an exceptional 10-3-1 record, including several stunning routs. However, this season's schedule contains a great deal of very formidable opposition, and the boys have their work cut out for them.

A summary on the members of this year's squad follows:

Ed Seginak, graduate of Sharon High School, is co-captain. A senior majoring in biology, Ed is well known in this area for his triumphs in Pennsylvania and Ohio amateur tournaments, especially his victory in the Leeland Club Championship Tournament last year.

A sophomore in pre-med, Co-captain Pete Rosko, is a 1954 graduate of Woodrow Wilson High School. He has made his mark in local golfing circles by winning the 1955 Youngstown District Junior Golf Championship. He was a medalist in the Youngstown Junior Chamber of Commerce and Ohio State J.C. Tournaments of two years ago, and is also a former winner of the Vindicator-sponsored Caddy Tournament.

Joe Galko, another Woodrow Wilson graduate, is a freshman in liberal arts. Joe was an outstanding golfer in high school and was captain of his army golf team while stationed in England.

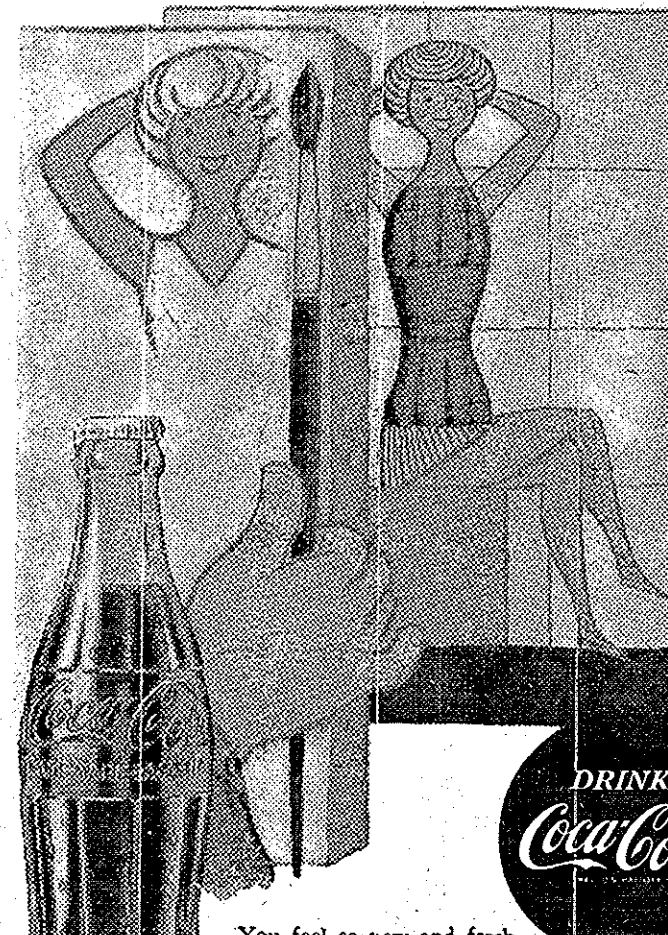

Bob Kupka, the winner of the 1952 Champ of Champs Tournament, and a letterman last season, is a sophomore in the School of Engineering. He is a graduate of Salem High School.

Freshman Ed Knizer has made a fine showing to gain a varsity spot. A graduate of East High School in Youngstown, he has seen duty with "Uncle Sam" and has had much experience through his play on army golf teams.

Dave Houlihan, a freshman in engineering from Girard, is slated to see much action on this year's squad also.

Alternates on the team include Bill Blascak, a sophomore in biology from Girard; Jack Gerberry, freshman in engineering from Wilson High; and first-year man, Tom Richards of Sharon, Alan Hegedus, and Cal McMahan, all of whom should prove to be valuable additions to the team.

Mrs. Niemi Awarded Scholarship To Reserve

Mrs. Ray Niemi of 1337 Union St., S.W., Warren, mother of two children and a senior in accounting at Youngstown University, has been awarded a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship amounting to $1,250 for a year's graduate study plus, $660 remission on tuition at Western Reserve University where she will work toward her masters degree.

Mrs. Niemi entered Youngstown University in September 1952 and will receive the degree of Bachelor of Science in Business Administration at the May 31, 1956 commencement. She is a member of Alpha Tau Gamma honorary accounting fraternity having been the first woman ever to be admitted to the group.

Mrs. Niemi received one of the Vindicator social science awards at Youngstown University, amounting to $100 and was an honor student while at Warren Harding High School.

The National Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Program is a development of the program established by Princeton University in 1945 and is now sponsored by the Association of Graduate Schools in the Association of American Universities.

*Sleep, little freshman, while ye may
For there shall come a weary day
While you sit up through half the night,
And work and work by electric light.
And drink hot coffee cup on cup
To stir your nerves and wake you up.
Then 'twill be true, though you sigh and frown,
You're turning your schedule upside down.
So sleep, little freshman, all night while ye may,
You'll soon be sleeping, my child, all day!*

A college student arose from his table in a fashionable dining room and walked toward the door.

He was passing the house detective at the entrance when a silver sugarbowl dropped from his bulging coat.

The guest glanced calmly at the officer, then turned with an expression of polite annoyance toward the occupants of the room. "Ruffians," he said, "Who threw that?" and walked out.

Guglielm, Zupp Selected Miss and Mr. Popularity

Miss Virginia Guglielm, a senior physical education major at Youngstown University, and Jerry Zupp, Jr., a senior business education major, were chosen as "Miss and Mr. Popularity of 1956" at the tenth annual popularity dance at Stambaugh Auditorium Saturday evening.

A college freshman was being severely criticized by his professor.

"Your work should be written so that even the most ignorant will be able to understand it."

"Yes, sir," said the student. "What part didn't you get?"

Advice to young leaders:

Stand up to be seen, speak up to be heard, shut up to be appreciated.

Sponsored by Phi Gamma Fraternity, the selection of winning students is by popular vote of the full-time students.

Miss Guglielm is a member of Newman Club, Women's Recreation Association, Health and Physical Education Club, Future Teacher's of America, Girls Intramurals, is social chairman of Phi Lambda Delta social sorority and treasurer of the Senior Class.

Zupp is a member of the Newman Club and social chairman of Alpha Phi Delta Fraternity.

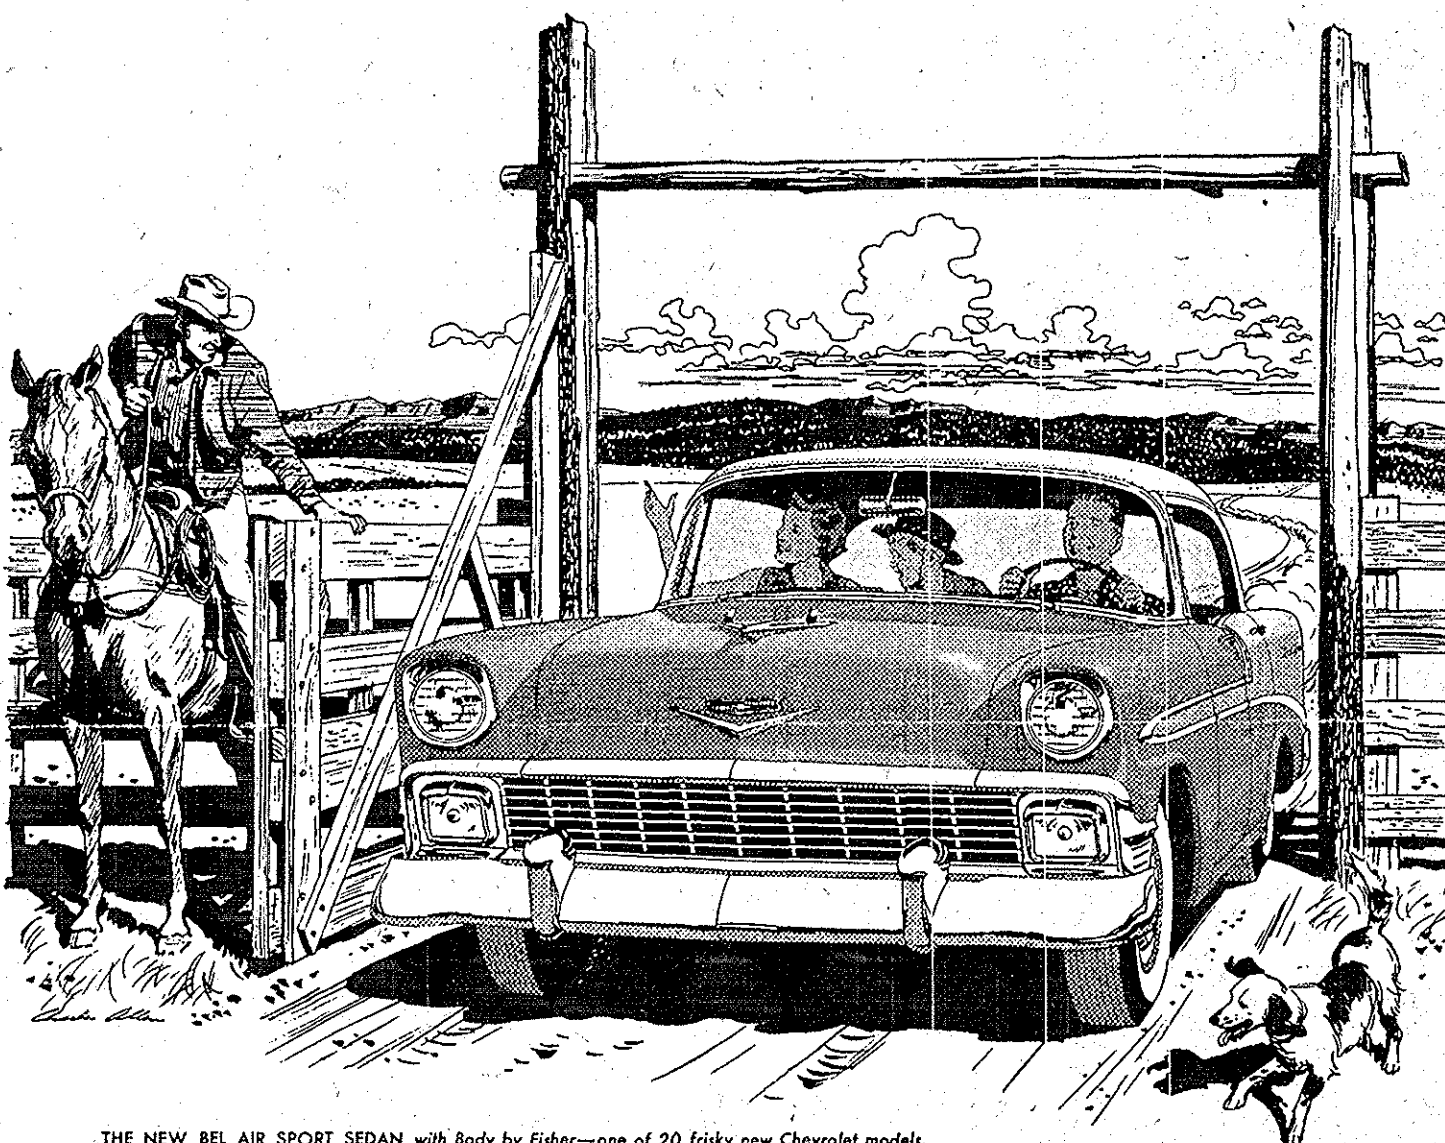

A tramp knocked at the door of an English inn named "George and the Dragon." The landlord opened the door and the tramp asked, "Can you spare a poor man a bite to eat?"

"No!" and she slammed the door.

After a few minutes, the tramp knocked again. The door opened and the lady appeared.

"Now," said the tramp, "may I have a few words with George?"
