YOUNGSTOWN STATE UNIVERSITY

VOLUME 46—No.22

Black Courses Added

Two upper division courses, one in Negro history and the other in Negro literature, will be offered by the Youngstown State University department of history and the department of English starting with the academic year 1969-70, it was announced today by Dr. Albert L. Pugsley, University president.

The Negro history course, entitled "The Negro in American History," is a two quarter course with three hours credit each quarter. It will be a historical study of the Negro's role in, and contributions to, the political, social and economic development of the American society from the colonial period to the present. Teaching the course will be Dr. Frederick J. Blue, assistant professor of history.

The English department course will be on "The Negro in American Literature," for five quarter hours credit and will be listed in the catalog as literature by and about the Negro in America. The course will include some literary works that present stereotypes of the Negro, but the primary emphasis will be on novels, poems and plays written since World War II that fully display the personality of the American Negro and the complexity of his culture.

"The Negro in American Literature" is also the topic chosen for a graduate seminar in American literature to be offered by the English department in the spring quarter, 1969.

Schedule Conflict Forces "Marat-Sade" Cancellation

Over scheduling of the Strouss Auditorium and a lack of communication between the Dean of Women's office and the Drama Department forced the cancellation of "Marat-Sade", stated Dr. C. David Haller, Associate Professor of Speech and Dramatic Arts and director of drama department productions.

Although the Dean of Women's office, who administers calendar scheduling, does not schedule productions in Strouss for the same hour, sufficient prior time for staging is often not taken into consideration, Haller stated. Dr. Haller added, "Cancellation (Marat-Sade) could have been avoided if those in power had had better understanding of the technical factors involved in stage productions.

The cancellation of the "Marat-Sade" production was caused by a rescheduling of the Dana School Ballet without consideration for the time element involved in set construction and rehearsal, Haller stated.

Haller added that when "Marat-Sade" was originally scheduled for February 20 with the Dean of Women's office at the beginning of the year, he was informed that the Dana Ballet would be held November 5 and 6 and that a "hold" had been placed on February 6 and 7. Haller stated that in November he requested and was assured by the Dean of Women's office that he would be informed as to the scheduling of February 6 and 7.

Dr. C. David Haller

Subsequently, the Dana Ballet was cancelled and rescheduled for the February 6 and 7 "openings."

Haller suggested that there be a "reappraisal" of scheduling methods; particularly, he added, with regard to stage productions.

Three Weeks to Go—

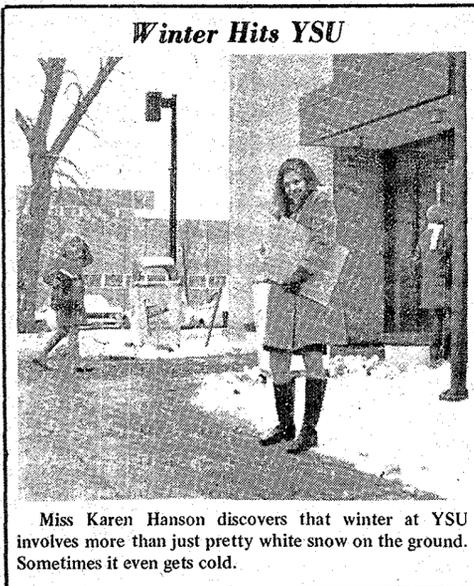

Winter Weekend Nearing

Winter weekend begins three weeks from tonight with an informal dance in Kilcawley Student Center. The weekend, as always, is being organized by the Major Events Committee of Student Council. Chairman of the committee is Don Allen.

The Friday night dance will feature Freddy "Boom Boom" Cannon, the Outsiders, and the Mysterians. Supervising the Friday activities for the committee will be Butch Comley.

The Saturday afternoon activities are as yet incomplete. The committee is trying to arrange an afternoon of outdoor activities at Mill Creek Park, but those arrangements have not been completed.

Saturday evening there will be a basketball game at 8 p.m. at the South High Field House featuring YSU and Michigan

Signup for Yearbook Is Extended

About 1,500 students have signed-up so far for the 1969 NEON, it was announced yesterday by the yearbook editor, David Costello.

The sign-up, which had been scheduled to close today, has been extended for one week, Costello stated, to give the almost 13,000 students who did not sign-up a chance to receive the book.

Last year 3,800 students received a yearbook.

Students should pick-up the necessary form and pay the $1.00 postage charge at the cashiers office in Jones Hall. The year book will then be mailed to the students' home.

Delivery of the NEON will begin in May.

Biology Graduate Program Set—

Regents to Approve Masters'

The pending masters' program in biology received a favorable recommendation Wednesday from the advisory committee of the board of regents of the Ohio state universities. YSU was represented by Graduate Dean Earl Edgar, who takes the program before the state board of regents today and approval is expected.

According to Dr. George W. Kelley, chairman of the Biology Department, the graduate program must face examination for accreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. This would take place in April or May, and if accredited, the department will begin selection of students at this time.

If approved, the department will be added.

Among the specialties to be offered are bioenergetics, physiology, entomology and ecology. The masters' program will eventually lead to an area of departmental research.

Dr. Kelley feels that both the University and the Youngstown area will be enriched by the program. "More academically oriented area students, who are forced elsewhere for graduate work, will be utilized by the local community," says Dr. Kelley.

Twenty-five Years of Service—

Basketball Coach Dom Rosselli

by Minnie Cohen

Dom Rosselli, YSU's head basketball coach, who ranks eleventh among the active coaches today for the most wins in basketball, celebrates his silver anniversary year in coaching this year.

"In 25 years," observed Coach Rosselli, "there have been a number of outstanding boys who helped to promote and build the basketball program here; and, the number will continue to grow."

"Our squad this year is carrying on the great tradition of bringing excitement to fans in the area."

"With the addition of the new Physical Education building in sight, our program is definitely going to be on the upswing."

Born and reared in Youngstown, Mr. Rosselli attended Rayen School, Class of 1935. While there, he played on the football and basketball teams.

At Geneva College, Beaver Falls, Pa., he participated in varsity football, basketball and baseball, in addition to being very active in intramural sports. Mr. Rosselli held the school championship in four racquet sports: ping pong, paddle tennis, tennis and badminton.

In his sophomore year, 1936, he made the all tri-state football team as quarterback. Among those included were such schools as the University of Pittsburgh, Penn State, the University of West Virginia and Duquesne.

Upon graduation in 1939, he started to coach at the then-named Youngstown College as assistant football and assistant basketball coach.

In 1940 he became head basketball coach here, and continued as assistant football coach. He later became head baseball coach. Mr. Rosselli is the only baseball coach YSU has ever had.

His coaching was interrupted during World War II, when he served four years in Special Services with the Air Force and was discharged a captain in 1946.

He was selected "Small College Coach of the Year" in 1957 and 1964; in 1958 he was named "Italian Coach of the Year." The Curbstone Coaches have voted him "Sportsman of the Year."

Among other honors he has received is the first Sportsmanship Award by the Western Pennsylvania and Tri-State Officials Association.

In addition to teaching Physical Education classes, he is also Coach Dom Rosselli head of the Intramural department.

"This was to have been a rebuilding year in basketball, due to the loss of many fine boys such as Joe Nigro, Charles Rowan, Joe LaVolpa, Frank Fitz and Roger Dyer," remarked Rosselli.

"The squad is built around the returning high scorer, John McElroy.

"Some who have contributed to date are Willie Teague (who missed most of last year), Bill Eckert, Denny Steinbeck, Bob Patton, plus freshmen newcomers Richard Denamen and Bill Johnson. A transfer student, William Barnhart, who recently became eligible, should help the squad."

"Freshman who will contribute in the future are: Tom Cope, Joe Ziak, Chris Ellis, Ron Smith, Greg Merrill and Lindsay Randall," he added.

Accordingly to Coach

Rosselli, this year's squad is a small, exciting group, built around four capable guards all under six feet in height—small for present-day standards.

"John McElroy, William Eckert, Denny Steinbeck and William Johnson are the nucleus of the offense because of their hustle, good shooting, good play-making, and speed," he said.

"Willie Teague is definitely the backbone of our defense, with his ever-present ability to block shots and his ability to intimidate around the basket. Richard Denamen and William Barnhart should give Teague the necessary help required on defense."

In evaluating the future the coach said, "We've gotten off to a good start, but the road ahead is going to be tough. We hope that themomentumpicked up will help carry them in the remaining games. Our goal is to have a team good enough to be picked for a berth in the NCAA regional play-offs."

NEW HOURS FOR THE LIBRARY

The University Library will be open Saturday nights until ten o'clock, beginning January 11, and Sunday afternoons from one to five, beginning January 12.

It is hoped that enough students will use the library during these additional hours to warrant continuing the new schedule.

To Meet New Demands— Rush Changes

I.F.C., Inter-Fraternity Council, is planning some new things for their winter rush program, said Pete Colissimo, I.F.C. President yesterday.

Colissimo admitted that the rush program fared poorly during the Fall quarter, and to eliminate this from happening again, the Council has decided to bring forth new ideas that may further interest the students of this campus.

In the previous I.F.C. rush, a fee was required to sign up. This fee has been eliminated altogether in hopes of drawing more students. The rush, which is scheduled for later in February, will be governed by new rules set up by I.F.C.

New pamphlets are being published, making more information about fraternities available to the students. Finally the grade requirements have been dropped to a 2.0 accumulative point average; it had originally been a 2.2.

Mr. William Collins, Financial Aids Director and Advisor to I.F.C., explained that the idea that most people feel the main interest of fraternities lies in their social activities is not true by saying, "that the fellows are taking more of an interest in the Greek system and academic values. This has been quite a change from what it used to be, and I am very pleased with the fellows' interest."

Collins told of the I.F.C. Christmas project of supplying 20 needy families in the area with food baskets at Christmas and of some of the fraternities' fund raising projects throughout the year.

On a final note, Collins said, "If students take an interest in

Students & Faculty in Tobacco Road

Youngstown State University is well represented in the cast of "Tobacco Road," the legendary Jack Kirkland adaptation from Erskine Caldwell's novel, opening tonight at the Youngstown Playhouse.

YSU student and faculty members in the cast include Dr. Robert Secrist, Associate Professor of Speech and Dramatic Arts, R.W. (Chip) LaVogue, who doubles as actor and stage manager, Carol Shaffer Mills, Jeanne Elser and Richard Zuti.

Staged by Playhouse Executive Director Bentley Lenhoff and featuring Justin Gray, a New York professional, as Jeeter Lester, "Tobacco Road" will play tonight and tomorrow night at 8:30 and Sunday, January 12, at 7:30. It resumes next Wednesday and plays through until its final performance, a matinee, on Sunday, January 19. There will also be two performances on Saturday night, January 18, at 7 and 10:30 p.m.

Probation Policy Revised

YSU freshman and sophomores got a break last week when the Faculty Senate passed on the recommendations of two academic committees, eliminating what one committee member termed "the essential absurdities" in University grade point average policies.

The new policy, reported in the Tuesday Jambor, essentially provides for a sliding scale in the determination of academic good-standing. The new system which will take effect the Fall Quarter of 1969, requires that an incoming freshman gradually increase his minimum grade point average from a 1.4 to 2.0 over a period of six quarters.

The old system required a freshman to maintain a 1.5 until attaining sophomore status which required a minimum point average of 2.0.

According to the joint statement of the Council of Academic Deans and the Senate Academic Affairs Committee justifying the recommend changes, one result of the old system was that "a student who was in good standing with a 1.5 at the end of his freshman year couldn't possibly achieve a 2.0 average in the one quarter he changed from a freshman to sophomore status."

Dean Painter Sees No Problem—

YSU Girls' Housing

"Campus housing for women is not a problem," Dr. Edith Painter, Dean of Women, stated in a conversation Tuesday. Three main housing locations—Buechner Hall, the Y.W.C.A. and Lincoln Towers— and a number of approved private residences are now more than adequate for the 300 out-of-area women involved in the housing situation.

Things apparently have changed since 1967 when the Jambor printed the statement: "The housing situation for women at Youngstown State University is no better than it was at Youngstown University. If anything, it is worse."

Dean Painter pointed out that because of increased tuition for out-of-state residents, fewer such women are attending the university this quarter than ever before and their numbers are small compared to their male counterparts. As a result, the unoccupied rooms at Lincoln Towers were made available to men as well as to women by the university.

Dean Edith Painter

Mrs. Painter also said that "approved houses" are strictly private residences which have met certain conditions to be considered approved. A list is available at the housing office. Holly Manor, the newest residence for women students, is not yet on the approved housing list.

If a housing shortage exists, the Dean's Office is unaware of it and Lincoln Towers seems evidence against it.

Women students 21 and over who feel that some stigma is attached to living in an approved residence and attempt to eliminate this by moving to a freer atmosphere may find that abundance of good housing is a myth.

AAUP Acts; Pugsley Reacts—

Resolution and Answer

A.A.U.P. Resolution

The Youngstown State University chapter of the AAUP regrets the resolution adopted by the Youngstown State University Board of Trustees on Nov. 1, 1968, in clarification of Mandates of Revised Ohio Code Section 3345.21. As an organization whose primary concern is the rights of university professors, the AAUP has committed itself to the principle that the faculty should participate significantly in the formulation of regulations which apply to it. (See the Statement on Government of Colleges and Universities, AAUP Bulletin, Winter 1967.) The chapter recognizes the necessity and desirability of making explicit such regulations, but it regrets the failure to consult and it finds portions of the regulations reprehensible in a free society. That the Inter-University Council formulated these regulations without consultation with the faculties of the state universities indicates an insufficient regard for the interest, concern and proper role of faculties in such matters. The failure to consult contradicts the spirit of the Regulations of the Board of Trustees of Youngstown State University wherein Section 13 states "...the Board empowers it [the University Senate] to formulate suitable rules, requirements and procedures for the admission, government, management, control of students, ... and other internal affairs of the institution necessary to meet the objectives of the University in accordance with the established policies of the Board and subject to final approval of the Board." The failure to consult not only the faculty but also the students violates both the spirit and letter of the Joint Statement on Rights and Freedom of Students (AAUP Bulletin, Winter 1967), which specifically states that "disciplinary proceedings should be instituted only for the violation of standards of conduct formulated with significant student participation."

We agree with the philosophy behind the preparation of the November 1 regulations that guidelines need to be stated explicitly concerning the conduct of all members of the University community while on campus. Because changes are needed in the regulations and because proper consultation needs to be established for the good of all, we request that the University Senate in consultation with the Student Council or appropriate committees of each be authorized to discuss and submit a reformulation of the regulations to the Board of Trustees for final approval and that the problem of consultation among the Board of Trustees, administration, faculty, and students be subjected to rigorous study.

Pending such a reformulation this chapter requests that the Board make the following changes immediately: The words in item (7) of "lewd, indecent, obscene conduct or expression" be replaced by "acts of moral turpitude" and the sentence concerning behavior of students and faculty members "on or off the campus" be deleted.

We suggest as a guideline in the reformulation of the regulations a statement in the Cox Commission Report on the Columbia disorders: "Hindsight suggests the dangers of maintaining a prohibition upon student protest activity which is broader in its command than its intended enforcement. The undeniable value of administrative flexibility may be purchased only at the overriding cost of an unclarity, which opens an administration to charges of arbitrariness on the one hand, or weakness on the other, and thus may cost it the moral support that milder and more explicit forms of regulation might enjoy."

YSU Receives State Grant

Youngstown State and ten other state-assisted Universities in Ohio have received a $9,600 grant from the Ohio Board of Regents, announced James Furman, Executive Officer of the Board of Regents, earlier this week.

Under Title I of the Higher Education Act, the grant provides a state-wide continuing education and community service program during 1969-1970.

The project, according to Furman, is designed to identify the priority urban problems for which institutions of higher education should develop educational programs in continuing education. Furman added that an inventory of institutional resources will be made and a

President Albert L. Pugsley

To Explain the Letter & Resolution

On December 31, 1968, the Youngstown State University Chapter of the AAUP ratified and submitted to YSU President, Dr. Albert L. Pugsley, a resolution expressing their "regret" over the Youngstown State University Board of Trustees' resolution clarifying the Mandates of Revised Ohio Code Section 3345.21 (12 Point Statement on Violence).

On January 3, 1969, Dr. Pugsley, in response to the AAUP Resolution, wrote to AAUP President, Raymond W. Hurd, acknowledging his receipt of the AAUP statement. In his letter to Hurd, Dr. Pugsley indicated that he had forwarded the resolution to Dr. Philip Hahn, Chairman of the Senate Council, for the Senate's consideration and advice.

The Jambar has reprinted the AAUP Resolution and Dr. Pugsley's letter to Hurd, each in its entirety.

Dr. Raymond W. Hurd

Dr. Pugsley's Letter

Memo to: Raymond W. Hurd, President
Youngstown State University Chapter of A.A.U.P.

Dear Dr. Hurd:

This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of December 23 transmitting to me the statement adopted by the local chapter of A.A.U.P. at its meeting on December 13. I had previously advised Dr. Hahn, Chairman of the Senate Council, that if a statement were forthcoming from the A.A.U.P. I should refer it to the Senate Council for consideration. This I now do by forwarding a copy of this letter and a copy of your resolution to Dr. Hahn. As I said at an earlier Senate meeting, I shall expect the Senate to advise concerning these matters.

The intent of your request "that the University Senate, in consultation with the Student Council or appropriate committees of each, be authorized to discuss and submit a reformulation of the regulations to the Board of Trustees for final approval" is clear. Perhaps the process is implied, but it should be recognized that Trustee regulations specify that recommendations from the faculty come to it through and from the President. I further hold that there is no need for me to authorize the Senate to discuss and submit a reformulation of these regulations should they wish to do so. The Senate has at present such powers to recommend. This does not mean that the Board must accede to recommendations nor that the President need recommend approval of faculty recommendations.

Secondly, in view of the expected consideration by the Faculty Senate, which is representative of the entire faculty, whereas the A.A.U.P. Chapter represents a voluntary membership of limited numbers, would it not be quite improper for me to request that the Board make the language changes you suggest immediately? There is no evidence that they are desired by a majority of the Faculty Senate. To take the immediate action you propose would seem to be exactly the type of action of which you are critical since it lacks broad faculty consideration.

Thirdly, and in view of the above, I question the need for your proposed broadside release of the resolution to the Board of Trustees, all members of the faculty, and the Jambar before such recommendations are forthcoming from the Senate. However, since you feel it is important to make this release also suggest that it is proper for a copy of my response to go to the same persons. Otherwise, people would wonder whether a response has been forthcoming. You were in agreement and since the two letters belong together you very kindly offered to include my response with your release.

In view of your interest in these matters it is my hope that the Senate and the Youngstown State University Chapter of A.A.U.P. might direct their attention to further clarification of what may be expected of the faculty in terms of responsibility, morality, conduct, attitude and motivation. This is not, of necessity, a part of the revision of the document which is the subject of this letter. One of the real concerns of the public for higher education has been the failure of faculties to make known in a positive and constructive way what they stand for in this area. Visibility in this matter would be most helpful to all concerned. This is quite different than protecting rights.

Sincerely,

A. L. Pugsley

Previewing SAE—IFC Basketball

The brothers of SAE again this year will be a definite strong contender for the IFC basketball crown. With only the loss of Dick Adipotti from last year's lineup, the Lions should prove to be in top form for the coming cage season.

Sporting one of the tallest teams in IFC, if not the tallest, the SAE's are a pre-season pick for the championship contest. All-IFC, Jim Omodio, 6'5", Denny Dello Stritto, 6'3", newly acquired pledges, Len Stillson, 6'5", and Chuck Salie at 6'0" provide the SAE's with more than enough board strength, in addition to bench capabilities.

Returning to offer outside assistance in the shooting department and hustling defense, for the purple and gold, are: Mitch Joseph, potential All-IFC candidate with his deadly outside shots, Rich Wittman, Bob Seragi, Ron Zarento, Joé Caruso, and John Nicastro.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon has the skills and abilities filled in every department for the coming roundball campaign and the reality of the purple and gold Lions sweeping IFC basketball in 1969 is only weeks away.

PROBATION POLICY

plauded the new, sliding scale system saying "it should make the students much more aware of the jeopardy that they are in and also much more aware of the jeopardy that they are in and also much more likely that they can rescue themselves from their difficulties without having to undergo the major shock of suspension."

In addition, the new policy provides a warning period for a student whose GPA drops below the minimum grade for good standing. If by the end of the following quarter the student's GPA does not meet minimum standards, he will be placed on probation.

The new policy, however, allows for a student who has made substantial improvement during the probationary quarter (2.5 or higher) to be continued on probation even though his cumulative GPA does not meet the minimum.

The report further pointed to the "pressure" that faculty members were under to assign a higher grade to a student than he actually deserved in order not to jeopardize the student's academic standing. The statement asserts that, "the gradual increase in the point average requirement from quarter to quarter should remove a great deal of this pressure from the teachers."

"Last but not least," the joint statement concluded, "it should be pointed out that the present Selective Service regulations tend to work a hardship on the student without money."

The report concludes that "the suggested changes would not, of course, eliminate the fundamental inequity, but they would probably mitigate it to some extent, which is about all we can hope for."

The Motor Bar Really "Grooves"

by Patty Rush

If you're a regular patron, there's no need to tell you. If you are a new-comer, you'll find out soon-enough. If you've never been there, chances are you won't believe it anyway...but, the Motor Bar is, to use a worn-out colloquialism, groovy!

The small, white-washed building is located in the center of the city's "new-and-used car strip" on Wick Avenue, hence the name, Motor Bar.

A long, rectangular bar takes up three-fourths of the narrow room. A low, black ceiling with yellow, red and blue translucent light panels gives the establishment a quiet, soothing atmosphere. In one corner there is a pool table with the traditional green-shaded lamp overhead and above that, a color television. A few metal tables and chairs fill the other side of the room.

Several factors are involved in making this small bar the favorite spot for all types of people to meet, talk, laugh, cry or just drink.

The proprietors, for instance, are different from those in many bars where the color of your money is the only interest they have in you. Harry and Chuck Beshara and their sisters, Arzi and Amy, may take your money, but they never make it seem as though that's all they are interested in. They talk with you-- on light subjects, deep subjects, sex, war, love or anything else that may interest you.

The Besharas, who came from a small village in Lebanon 16 years ago, took over operation of the Motor Bar five years ago. The family also leases five other bars in the Youngstown area.

Attracts Individuals

Another reason the Motor Bar is a favorite is the different type of people that this particular establishment seems to attract. Perhaps it is not fair to say "type" since most of the Motor Bar's regular patrons could not be stereotyped to fit into any one role. The majority are free thinking individualists who would feel stifled in a regular "college hang out" where ritual-like duties must be performed. This includes saying "hi, how are you?" to everyone, whether you give a damn about them or not.

The Motor Bar cannot be called, in the strictest sense of either, for people come from all over the city to meet there. Nor is it a flashy night club with loud music and psychedelic lighting.

What, then, is it that makes it so groovy?

One senior YSU student said he likes it because it was a good place to talk. "You don't have to yell over six blasting amps to talk to the fellow next to you," he said.

Another student said that he thought the Motor Bar was the closest thing that Youngstown

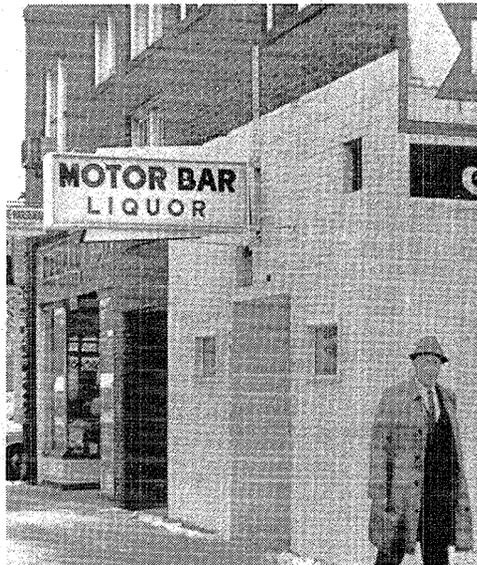

"The first time I went it was with a boy who had studied for the priesthood at one time. The next time it was with an archeology major, and the next with a boy who was getting his masters in English. There must be something about the place that attracts intellectuals," she surmised.

Whatever their reason may be for going there, the patrons of the Motor Bar don't feel that it's necessary to publicize them or even to think about them.

They go because they like the atmosphere, the proprietors and the other people who go there-- and that's all there is to that.

Due to an excellent response, yearbook sign-ups will continue through the week of January 13-Jan. 18.

Procedure: Pay $1.00 at the cashier's office (Jones Hall) and bring both receipts to the Neon office at Spring and Bryson, in the old Placement Office building.

THE MOTOR BAR, located on Wick Ave., is one of the favorite 'hangouts' of the YSUer's.

the word, a college hang out, simply because not only college students go there. You'll find teachers, artists and business men there as well as students.

It is not a neighborhood bar, has to the Bohemian-type atmosphere you can find in large cities.

One girl, who admits to being a little conservative, said that she always seems to end up there on her dates.

Music on Campus

by Nick DeToro

William Conable, cellist on the faculty of the Dana School of Music, will present a recital of the Dana Artists' Series Monday, at 8:00 p.m. in the Dana Recital Hall. He will be assisted by Delores Fitzer, pianist and Jane Brainard, cellist.

Conable will play Sonata in G by Cervetto, (this will be the first modern performance of Conable's own edition), Arpeggione Sonata by Schubert, Sonata ein Brahms, and Variations on a Theme by Rossini by Marinu.

Nota Bene: The opera Die Fledermaus was composed by Johann Strauss.

The concert is free and all are invited to come and hear.

Presenting Excedrin headache 289-42-7227, (YSU) comes another lifeless adventure of Huck and Dask-Dash-Dash plus one. We would like to congratulate the Major Events Committee on another outstanding, stupendous array of "Oldies but Goodies Remind Me of You; 1960 Dick Clark Show." Not only is there some group that cannot find its identity but also there is the one and only (Transister Sister), two hits "Boom Boom".

Things we like:

Question Mark and the Periods, Who Put the Boom in the Boom Boom Cannon, Turtles, Little Ginger Ale and some Imperial, warm weather, preparation-H, Professor Irwin Corey, the big puddles of water at every door, vericose veins, change of registration, August in the Tundra, Summertime in Kilcawley, Autumn at the Youngstown Locker room (breath-taking), Tubby Kocinski, Winter on Fire Island, painting the rock, galoshes, bringing your file up to date in Dean Painters' Office, working for the Jamber, Garbage, smut, a date with Kathy Caffo, attending your 57th consecutive Friday night hop, and Pasquale Caputo. Things we dislike: Having Kathy wipe the table in the cafe and end up with crumbs and garbage in your lap, plastics, provolone feet, yentas, babushkas, short bellbottoms with wing-tipped shoes, Crisco hair, and hairy legs.

For those people who have taken the "BIG" step, we would like to award the Ball and Chain. They are:

Jim Duffley (SAE) to Paula Statler (AOPi), Greg Murray (SAE) to Sheree Gampolo, Jim Fabry (AKPsi) to Carol Krukowski, Rich Lampich (Phi Tau) to Anne Figuelli. Engaged: Denny Sardello (SAE) to Ilene Miller, Bob Lafferty (SAE) to Lynnaya Hudson.

Awards of the week: The following awards are given to those people who must win it 3 weeks in a row.

The Profiler Award: The Award (presented in Struthers) to Miss Cindy Bundy. Since she has no competition in this field, she has already won this Trophy.

To Jose Desimone the "Nightly Belch over the Telephone Award."

We are running a contest. If you can describe in 25 words or less the elements making up the liquid in Cathy Cafeteria's Clean up Can, you will win First Prize which is one date with the Mouse. Second prize is two dates with the Mouse. Third prize is a one week stay in the honeymoon suite with the Mouse at Woodside.

Alumni News—

Dr. Melnick Honored

Dr. John C. Melnick, an Associate Radiologist at South Side Hospital in Youngstown and 1949 YSU graduate and Dr. Charles F. Needles of Mount Sinai and City Hospitals in Queens, New York has recently been honored for the first documentation of a bone disorder.

The disorder is now described as "Ostedyplasty" (a Greek term for "badly deformed"). This inheritable skeletal abnormality has been termed the "Melnick and Needles Syndrome"

It was named by three French physicians: F. Costa, M.D.; P. Maroteux, M.D.; and L. Chouraki, M.D., at the Hospital Cochin in Paris. Acknowledgment of this syndrome was printed in the Annals of the Rheumatic Diseases, a British Medical Association publication.

The original paper by Dr. Melnick and Needles was presented before the 1965 convention of the Rocky Mountain Radiological Society in Denver and resulted in honorary membership in that society for Dr. Melnick. Since the hundreds of requests for the paper have been received from all over the world, including some from behind the Iron Curtain.

The same week that Dr. Melnick learned that a bone disease syndrome was given his name, two of his papers on other medical phenomena were announced as published or made reference to. One of the papers, written in conjunction with Dr. Abdul Hafiz, a Fellow in Radiology, Saint Mary's Hospital, Quebec, was printed in the Journal of the Canadian Association of Radiologists.

Another of the papers was given extensive reference in the German Encyclopedia of Medical Radiology. Dr. H.G. Claus at the Johannes-Gutenberg University in Mainz, Germany, in writing on "Osteopoikilosis" or spotted bone disease referred to Dr. Melnick's comprehensive study of this very rare bone disease.

Corresponding with Dr. Claus since 1963, Dr. Melnick explained his discovery and follow-up of a family case in which the grandmother and grandfather both had spotted bone disease, an occurrence that might happen one in 400,000,000 instances.

Dr. Melnick graduated from Youngstown in 1949 with an A.B. in Pre Med. He received his M.D. degrees from Western Reserve in 1951 and 1955.

In addition to his research and publication, Dr. Melnick holds membership in numerous Professional Organizations and Societies.

FRENCH CLUB

Les Bons Vivants, the YSU French Club, will hold its monthly meeting at 8 p.m. tonight in Pollock House.

Dr. Morris Slavin, Associate Professor of History, will present a talk on the French Revolution. A question-answer discussion period will follow.

All interested students are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Geog. Dept. Plans European Tour

YSU juniors and seniors will have an opportunity to tour Europe next summer under the auspices of the University's geography department, it was announced yesterday by Michael Klasovsky, Chairman of the Geography Department, the tour's director.

The tour, which will be the fourth annual program sponsored by the University, will enable students to visit England, France, Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Belgium, Italy and Austria during the 48-day program. The itinerary includes stops at London, Amsterdam, Paris, Lucerne, Copenhagen, San Remo, Florence, Innsbruck, Avignon, Koln, Bingen and Bruges.

According to Klasovsky, students participating in the program will be given the opportunity to obtain as much as nine quarter hours of upper level elective geography credit, on both the graduate and undergraduate levels. The cost of under $1,000 will enable a limited number of students to participate. The fee covers all transportation, food and lodging while in Europe, and covers insurance during the tour.

The tour will leave by chartered jet Friday, July 11, and return Thursday, August 28.

Interested students who will be juniors and seniors by the fall term, 1969, are urged to sign up as soon as possible at Mr. Klasovsky's office.

GOOD LUCK, SWIM TEAM

Beat Baldwin-Wallace

Sponsored by INTER VARSITY CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

"ON THE BEACH"

In a coffee house where the beat generation congregates, a young man came up to a table of sight-seers and proudly showed a letter from his church disowning him as a member. He was seeking sympathy and justification. He told of going away to seminary, his tuition paid by the church back home, only to meet up with a few rebels whose "show-me" attitude he found congenial. His arrogant heckling of his teachers got him into trouble, and the first thing he knew he was out on his ear, and all his standards had tumbled around him. Now he was bragging of his plight with a sickly smile to strangers.

There is no sadder sight than a former idealist sitting in the gutter and pretending to enjoy it. There is nothing more heartbreaking than to see a man or woman who once started out to serve God, who now gets a charge out of defying Him. The beaches of California are littered with those who "concerning the faith have made shipwreck," as the Apostle Paul terms it. Greenwich Village is filled with the "little lost sheep who have gone astray . . . doomed from here to eternity." If you try to tell them of Jesus Christ, they become vastly uneasy. They will tell you that they have tried religion and it failed them. Actually, they "tried it on," as a second-hand suit, but were only too glad to shrug it off when they found their true level among the malcontents.

You can rebel all you want to against accepting your faith secondhand; but when you rebel against accepting it first-hand from God, you are like a minnow defying the ocean. Preferring to live "on the beach," you shrivel and die. "Why will you die?" asks God. "How often I would have gathered you under my wings, and you would not . . . Come unto me, and live."

Point Average

The resolution passed by the Faculty Senate concerning withdrawals, incompletes and academic standing is a major step toward a clearer student understanding of the system of which he is a part and so heavily dependent upon.

The most noteworthy aspect of this resolution is the adjustment of the Grade Point Average to make the transition from high school to college somewhat less traumatic for freshmen and sophomores.

A graduated system, ranging from a GPA of 1.4 for the first quarter to a 2.0 at the end of the sophomore year enables students who are having difficulty adjusting to college a little more leeway insofar as underclass pressures and indecision are concerned.

Freshmen and Sophomores should take advantage of this step, which can be of immeasurable importance in career planning and final choice of a major. Without the overhanging fear of flunking out in the first two years, more mature and far better oriented students of Junior and Senior standing will become a reality.

Resolution

It is unfortunate that the AAUP found it necessary to demand reformulation of the University's 12 Point Statement on Violence, for it should never have been adopted in its present form.

Immediately following the announcement of the Board of Trustee's adoption of the 12 Point Statement, interested student and faculty members protested the inclusion of Clause 11, the statement giving the University jurisdiction over student and faculty off-campus activity.

It is necessary to protest the position that the University has the authority to police either student or faculty off-campus activity.

Legal authorities oversee activities that might endanger the welfare of the community because evidence suggests that crime is not advantageous to society. However, the University has failed to evidence that student or faculty off-campus activity in any way not covered by civil code endangers the University community or student-faculty effectiveness in their respective roles within the University community.

Those in power should take immediate action to reformulate this unjustifiable policy.

Inside Out

DOCTOR CHICAGO

by Dan Kutsko

Deep in the Urals, work on the newest dam and hydroelectric power complex of the current Five Year Plan was proceeding rapidly. One of the female laborers was just getting off work when she got a call to report to General Schlopkov, Dean of the University of Moscow.

As she approached the office, the gnawing fear of Soviet officialdom knurled her stomach, but when she was invited in, she was immediately put at ease. General Schlopkov was quite a likable fellow, but his eyes belied a deeper concern than the girl could fathom.

"We of the general staff," he began, "are attempting to find a Ph.D. who could serve as a member of the Business School staff at Moscow U." The girl obviously didn't understand.

"Let me put it to you more plainly," he said. "We have reason to believe that your father holds a Ph.D. in Business, and we need him very badly."

The girl was still in the dark, "My father?"

"Yes, your father. Dr. Chicago!" The girl was embarrassed. "I never even knew my father."

Schlopkov said, "It just so happens that I have a prepared script for the story of your father's life. If you have three hours and forty-five minutes and twelve seconds, I will tell it to you."

As the story unfolded, the girl became quite involved. Schlopkov watched carefully, noting any kind of familiarity on the girl's behalf.

It seems that young Yuri Ivanovitch Lasnowonosovich lost his mother at an early age. His last remembrance of her was of leaves and snow blowing into her grave. He observed this with interest, noting that it was quite a striking picture which could be possibly used in a memorial park advertising brochure. This was the first hint of a business career.

From this time, he lived with an Aunt and Uncle and occasionally cohabitated with Tonia, his cousin. In high school, he got a chance to take an American study tour. Using this as an excuse, he got a grant and completed his Bachelor's, Masters and Ph.D. at the Chicago College of Business Administration, Steamfitting and Shoe Repair.

When he got back to the Soviet Union he became known in the fashionable Leningrad circles as Doctor Chicago. Here he married his cousin and set up a counseling firm which came to be known as Atchinson, Topeka and Santa Fe With a Stopover in Chicago, Ltd. Then he met Lauri.

Enter: Lauri's Theme.

Lauri's mother had a dressmaking shop which was in need of counsel. Chicago was asked to take over the account from one Krumorovsky. Here he sees Lauri for the first time, but they do not speak.

He sees her a second time while playing the first "L" game in the Leningrad Bingoland. They both called "Bingo!" at the same time and split the forty-five rubles, but did not speak.

When he got home that night, he found that he had been reclassified I-A and had to report for induction. World War One was a reality.

As far as Lauri was concerned, she left Bingoland at ten o'clock, met Krumorovsky and dined at the East Side A.C. After a delicious and excellent dinner of pigs-in-the-blanket, pirohi and Iron City beer, Krumorovsky molested her.

Disgusted by this animality on the part of her date, she becomes a nurse and joins the army. But before she leaves she gets a chance to humble Krumorovsky. She sneaks into the wedding engagement party which is being held for Chicago and Tonia and to which Krumorovsky has been invited. She walks up to him, and, in public, shoots him with her squirting carnation. Chicago is impressed. He would like to see her again.

And, as fate would have it, they are assigned to the same hospital unit and sent to the front lines.

To be continued Tuesday

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor of the Jambar:

Since I am leaving school I would like to express my appreciation to those who have encouraged me in the years I have spent here, especially Dr. John Cernica, Department of Civil Engineering; Mrs. Edna McDonald, Advisor; and Mrs. Hildegard Schnutgen, Librarian. Thank you.

Sincerely,
 Jim Jelokani
 Sr., Civil Engineering

To the Editor of the Jambar:

I am writing this in response to the articles in your paper about David Beacom and to the letters written to you on that same subject.

Dave Beacom has decided to confront the Selective Service System; a few people have questioned both his right to do this and his sincerity. Some have gone so far as to ascribe an ulterior political motive to his actions and have called him unpatriotic.

To those that may have any doubts, let me say that as an acquaintance of Dave's, there is no doubt in my mind as to the sincerity of his letter to the draft board. He is honestly questioning the legality of our government's claim to the right of forcing men to participate in war.

The acceptance of a student deferment is just as wrong to him as if he were actively supporting the Selective Service system.

This, to me, indicates to me a desire to change our government rather than destroy it. Is this an unpatriotic gesture? If we are willing to call a legitimate desire to improve our government unpatriotic, and not willing to give it an honest hearing, than a reevaluation of our country's policies and goals is needed, along with whatever changes are in order, such as the abolishment of our Selective Service System.
