Local Peace Plans Slated

A three-day local peace program coordinated with the November 15 peace march on Washington, was revealed yesterday by Rev. Burton Cantrell.

Cantrell said four programs will be staged by groups of faculty members in support of the November national Moratorium activities. The programs, which will take place on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, November 12, 13, and 14, will each be headed by a different faculty member.

The programs will begin at 9 p.m. Wednesday, November 12 at the Gates of Eden with a "peace happening." Fr. Raymond DiBlasio, Gates program director, will be in charge of the program entitled, "A Celebration of Life."

Thursday's activities begin at 3 p.m. in the Dana Auditorium when Msgr. P. Breen Malone, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, and Mr. Cal Roth, owner of the Varsity Shop, will discuss U.S. involvement in the Vietnam War. Dr. Thomas Shipka, assistant professor of philosophy, and coordinator of the Thursday program, said that the discussion has been arranged to change the direction of the local Moratorium from academic to non-academic.

The speak-out will be followed at 8 p.m. Thursday evening in Dana Auditorium by a Moratorium Symposium organized by Dr. Morris Slavin, associate professor of history. The panel discussion will be chaired by Mr. Don Elser, chairman of the speech and drama department, and include Mrs. Christine Dykema, associate professor of foreign languages; Dr. Martin Greenman, chairman of the philosophy and religious studies department, Dr. George Letchworth, director of the counseling center; Dr. Pauline Botty, associate professor of sociology, and Dr. William Hunt, associate professor of political science. The topic is President Nixon's Vietnam speech of November 6. A program of anti-war poetry and folk-singing will conclude the protest activities at 3 p.m. Friday, November 14, in Dana Auditorium. The program is dedicated to Dr. Martin Luther King, late President John F. Kennedy, and all the Americans who have died in Vietnam.

Mr. Ronald Rowe, instructor of English, is in charge.

Capital March Is City Effort

An estimated 200-250 people will represent the Youngstown area effort to end the Vietnam War on the November 15 protest march on Washington, D.C. Rev. Burton Cantrell, local peace coordinator announced yesterday.

Cantrell stated that 41 students, faculty and townspeople have made reservations on a chartered bus to Washington sponsored by the local Moratorium Committee. He also estimated that an additional 100-200 peace supporters will make the trip by private car, airplane or by hitchhiking.

The bus will leave at 11 p.m. Friday, November 14, from the Unitarian Church on Elm Street.

The march on Washington is part of a one-day protest program sponsored by the New Mobilization Movement to End the War in Vietnam and is organized locally by the Moratorium Committee.

Protestors will congregate at the Lincoln Memorial for a massive peace rally and march on an as yet undetermined route.

Cantrell said John Lindner, student coordinator of the local Moratorium Committee, has been in Washington for over a week planning accommodations for local supporters. Lindner reported accommodations "tight" in Washington and suggested that participants plan to sleep in their cars or on buses.

"Pro-America" Program Is Set Here Today

Organizers predict a large turnout for today's YAF sponsored Pro-America Program scheduled for 12:30 p.m. in Strouss Auditorium.

Tom Anderson, YAF president, said yesterday plans have not changed for the two-phase Veteran's Day program. He said the "Show Your Colors" campaign, the distribution of lapel size American flags, is in progress but could not estimate how many flags have been distributed.

The local "Show Your Colors" coordinators, Jack Lally and James Cochran, were not available for comment.

The Pro-America program will include speeches by Mr. Robert Wolz, YSU YAF secretary and National Chaplain of Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War; Mr. Myron Young, former State Commander of Veteran's of Foreign Wars; and Mr. Fred Childress, theater critic for the Vindicator and a recent visitor to South Vietnam.

A documentary film, "Tyranny," about Communism, and a film describing "violations by the Viet Cong of the Tet Truce" will be shown.

First Council Reading—

Action On Grievance Begun

Plans for the introduction of a formally structured grievance committee fell short yesterday when Student Council heard a first reading of a proposal to create the committee.

RAL Chuck Hettler introduced a constitutional amendment to establish a Student Grievance Committee whose members would be appointed by the President of Student Government. In Hettler's proposal the chairman of the committee would hold a cabinet position in the Executive Branch. After the meeting Student Government President Pete Isgro said, "although I am very much in favor of a grievance committee, I would like to see its power delineated before the committee comes into existence."

In Last Friday's Jambar, it was reported that Isgro and Mike Foley, Isgro's grievance secretary designate, collaborating to have a proposal of their own introduced at Council. Foley said he expected the Grievance Committee would deal with three areas. He anticipated that the committee would concern itself with University Administration and student services, faculty relations, and student government.

Hettler introduced his motion before Isgro and Foley finalized their plans.

In another motion, Hettler called for the establishment of a grade appeals board consisting of students and various deans of the university.

Council members said such a board would probably overlap on the functions of a student grievance committee. Greg Bednarcik, Council President, postponed action on the motion until next week.

NEWS BRIEFS

Compiled From The Associated Press

International

TOKYO—A week long countdown to Prime Minister Eisaku Sato's departure for summit talks with President Nixon on Okinawa's return to Japan began Monday with a small bomb explosion, a giant protest rally and the start of a round the clock police alert.

Most political observers expect a major confrontation between the government and leftist forces before Sato's plane takes off next Monday for Washington.

SAIGON—A captured enemy document orders the Viet Cong to launch heavy attacks and kill South Vietnamese village leaders near Saigon this coming weekend to support the antiwar protest in Washington, U.S. officials said Monday.

But they cautioned that the document, found on the body of a Viet Cong guerrilla 30 miles east of Saigon, may have been a propaganda plant or circular aimed at boosting guerrilla morale.

LONDON—Labor party legislators committed to principles of spreading the wealth dug in their heels yesterday against giving a pay raise to Britain's richest woman—Queen Elizabeth II.

Government ministers were reported sympathetic toward the rising cost of royal living but hopeful that the furor stirred by Prince Philip's comments in the United States Sunday on deficit palace financing would die down before the next general election.

National

WASHINGTON—A Western Hemisphere Security Council—based outside the United States—was recommended Monday by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller as a means to deal with subversion in Latin America.

This recommendation by the New York governor came as part of his report on his fact-finding trips to Latin America and was the only major one not disclosed by President Nixon in his Oct. 31 speech on hemispheric problems.

Rockefeller declined comment on why Nixon had not endorsed in his Oct. 31 speech Rockefeller's U.S. assistance in strengthening hemispheric security structures.

PHILADELPHIA — "The mob, the mobilization, the moratorium have become somewhat fashionable forms of citizen expression" that are "negative in content and disruptive in effect," and prove nothing, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said yesterday.

"They inflame emotions rather than stimulate solutions," he said in a speech at the 75th annual conference of the National Municipal League.

Agnew said mass street demonstrations were pointless and predicted that their popularity would diminish.

WASHINGTON — The nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., for the Supreme Court, caught in a tight squeeze in the Senate, picked up one vote Monday and lost one.

An Associated Press survey shows 36 senators who have said they plan to vote for Haynsworth's nomination and 39 senators listed as opposed.

Haynsworth's nomination is slated to be brought up in the Senate on Thursday, and majority leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., said his guess is that vote will be taken Nov. 17 or 18.

State

COLUMBUS, Ohio—The Ohio State Bar Association Executive Committee has announced its opposition to an amendment introduced in Congress giving state governors power to veto federal legal services offered to the poor.

The amendment, introduced by Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., would allow governors to veto all or part of the legal services to the poor.

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio—Dr. Cecil Max Freeburne, a professor of psychology at Bowling Green State University, believes the mole may hold the solution to man's air pollution and space travel problems.

"If we can find out how moles are able to filter out breathable air while digging underground, we might be able to help man breathe in smog covered cities," said Freeburne.

Coffield Reveals—

Few Graduate On Time

Based on previous year's statistics, fewer than fifty per cent of the 4,000 new students who enrolled this Fall will graduate within four years.

Students here often take longer than the normal four years of study to graduate, Dr. William Coffield, vice-president for academic affairs, said yesterday.

The tendency of new students to remain freshman beyond their first year of study was cited by Dr. Coffield as a primary cause for expanded undergraduate study time.

This statement was made when Dr. Coffield was questioned yesterday about the University's dropout rate.

Dr. Coffield said the largest dropout rate occurs between the freshman and sophomore year.

Ohio's open door acceptance policy, where any student graduating from an Ohio high school must be admitted, and students' work-study conflicts were cited by Dr. Coffield as prime reasons for freshman to sophomore dropouts.

Dr. Coffield explained that because of its commuter status,

YSU's open door acceptance policy allows an exceedingly large number of students to be admitted, unlike Ohio's residential state schools which limit admittance because of housing space.

A large number of freshman work full or part time, Dr. Coffield said, and have the tendency to quit school for one or more quarters to work full time.

He stated that statistics comparing Youngstown's dropout rate with other state schools are not available.

Engineer Award Set Up At YSU

The Penn-Ohio Chapter of the National Electrical Contractors Association has established its first scholarship award for YSU's new two-year Electrical Engineering Technology Program, William H. Axelson, President of the chapter, announced.

The scholarship, which covers all tuitions and fees is valued at $1,650, and will be awarded to a high school graduate or to a student already enrolled in the University who desires to enter the two-year program.

Students living in Columbiana, Mahoning or Trumbull Counties in Ohio or Lawrence or Mercer Counties in Pennsylvania are eligible.

Applications, which will be accepted at the Chapter Office

Manuscripts Being Accepted

The Penguin Review is now accepting articles, poems, and original quotations for publication in its Winter Issue. Manuscripts can be left at the Penguin Review Office, East Hall, Third Floor or mailed to: Tony Trainor, Editor, Penguin Review, 410 Wick Avenue, Youngstown State University, Youngstown, Ohio.

The manuscripts will only be returned if a self-addressed, stamped envelope is enclosed.

until December 15, may be obtained at the offices of the Penn-Ohio Chapter, Room 235 Ohio Edison Building, 25 East Boardman Street, Youngstown, Ohio.

Dr. Clayton Is Named To Committee

Dr. Ruth B. Clayton, associate professor of special education and chairman of the department at YSU, has been named to three special education committees in the Youngstown area.

The University announced that Dr. Clayton, who joined the YSU faculty in 1968, is now a member of the advisory committee of the Youngstown Area Association for Children with Learning Disabilities, the advisory committee of the Youngstown Public Schools for classes for the emotionally disturbed, and membership chairman for the Mahoning Valley Chapter of the Council for Exceptional Children, as well as faculty advisor for the YSU Student Chapter of this organization.

Dr. Clayton has previously served as president of the Akron chapter of the Council for Exceptional Children for four years and secretary of the Ohio Federation for two years.

Columnist To Speak Monday

The Journal of Psychological Reports has recently published a research article compiled by Dr. Virgil B. Smith, associate professor of sociology at YSU.

Appearing in the August issue, the article is entitled "Non-persuasively Induced Dissonance-Reducing Covert Altruistic Action," and deals with a study of 15 married student couples, aged 20 to 28, concerning their selfish and unselfish acts.

Dr. Smith is also conducting research among YSU students and faculty concerning various aspects of campus life.

Having an extensive background in teaching, writing, and sociology, Dr. Smith was formerly a social worker in California, and has served as editor of The Instructor magazine for five years.

He joined the YSU faculty in 1968.

Bob Dylan's first major interview in three years is in the new issue of Rolling Stone Magazine. In the same edition of Rolling Stone, the first complete discography of the unreleased Dylan tapes and records. The interview with Bob Dylan, based on a four hour rap with Rolling Stone Editor Jann Wenner, is complete and unedited.

Replies On Cafeteria

To the editor of the Jambar:

The resident-students of YSU are paying for their meals along with an uncrowded, peaceful place in which to eat them. The small section of the cafeteria is reserved for this purpose and justly so. I am a commuter student and have never failed to find a seat in the large, main section. There are also numerous empty classrooms during any given period in which students can and do study and eat lunch. I would like Mr. Set to remember that the cafeteria was not designed for a place to study. Students using it for this purpose are the ones who cause the crowded conditions in the first place. I wonder if Mr. Set could somehow in the future see fit to eat in the cafeteria and do his "serious study" in the library. He will be doing justice to himself and his fellow students. Let the residents have the dining area to which they are entitled.

Trainor Editor Of "Review"

Anthony M. Trainor, a senior majoring in English and philosophy, has been named editor of the Penguin Review, Youngstown State's only literary magazine.

Trainor's plans include a bi-annual publication, the first edition to be released this winter. His main objectives are to reflect and enrich the school spirit and intellect. Believing that the student body is the life of the magazine, Trainor has expressed concern that he would like to see more students submit poems and short stories.

A native of Bronx, New York, he is a 1965 graduate of Evander Childs High School and attended Queen of Apostles School of Communications Arts, a junior college, before transferring to YSU last year.

A member of the English Arts Society, he also holds membership in the Society of St. Paul, a group of men dedicated in the field of mass communication. He resides at St. Paul's monastery, Rt. 224 Canfield.

Advisor for the Penguin Review is Dr. Jean Kelly, assistant professor of English and communication.

AAUP Rejects Proposal

The YSU chapter of the American Association of University Professors (AAUP) last Wednesday overwhelmingly rejected a proposal by Student Government president, Pete Isgro, to include students as either representatives or observers of the association.

Dr. Elizabeth Sterenberg, president of the AAUP, explained that Isgro's request was made to her by phone.

Dr. Sterenberg explained that Association members expressed sympathy with student participation and representation on university committees, but that the AAUP is a professional association of university professors.

Isgro was not available for comment.

Cites Paper "Racket"

To the editor of the Jambar:

Since protest articles have been the latest craze in the letters to the editor section of our famous Jambar I thought I would offer a "Beef" of my own. Why, in many of the communications courses at Y.S.U. is it required to purchase Youngstown State University Theme Paper? This is nothing but a racket! I see absolutely no reason why the students of Y.S.U. are compelled to purchase these tablets of paper with wide spaced lines. These lines are reminiscent of the paper we used in the first grade, surely the university doesn't consider us that infantile. Or do they? If the university's reason for mandatory usage of its theme paper is that each sheet has on its back side that wonderful literary description of plagiarism, why don't they mineograph this description of plagiarism and give it to the students? Instead of making them pay more for every sheet of paper just because it has the description of plagiarism on it. I can see no reason why students cannot use regular tablet paper, which is much cheaper, and skip lines when they write their themes. Why do we have to purchase Youngstown State University Theme Paper? If someone can give me a reasonable explanation, I will be "all ears". If not, let's get this injustice to the students rectified. I am certain other students of Y.S.U. feel the same as I do about this question. We would be most appreciative of any light that can be shed on this matter.

Letters To The Editor

Discusses Pedestrian Problem

To the editor of the Jambar:

There has been much talk about the need to enforce the right-of-way of pedestrians in crosswalks near campus. I can recall instances which I had to jump to prevent being run over. Sure this problem is deplorable, as many other problems of this University. But how can we expect people to respect these cross walks when personnel of this university don't. I'll explain what I mean. On Monday, November Tenth, at the intersection of Rayen and Phelps as I was crossing in the cross-walk a late model red Chevolet pickup with university stickers on the door bearing State license plate 558-507 came charging through. There were three persons inside of that vehicle, at least one of them should be able to read. But what scares me even more is that this occurred at 10:55. There are many students walking to classes at this time. When are we going to see some action on this? Is it necessary for someone to be killed first? It sure looks that way. But why is it that it takes a disaster to make those in power to take action that is necessary?

Airs Disapproval Of Concert

To the editor of the Jambar:

I was very annoyed by the Homecoming concert at Struther's Field House, on Sunday, November 2. I found the behavior of some of our so-called "college students" deplorable. First, when my date and I were waiting to enter the field house, we were subjected to an "animalistic" mob-action by fellow college students who literally crushed us, as well as each other, as they struggled to enter the field house. It seems to me that college students are su-posed to be educated and adults, but they did not prove this upon entering the field house. If they are not able to enter in an orderly adult fashion, then I suggest that future events have monitors to lead the students, and think for them, like children in grade school.

Secondly, the field house was packed to a hazardous degree, yet there were many students who showed no signs of having any common sense by smoking cigarettes. When the lights were out, there were constant cha i n reactions of ignited [sic] matches, which drew more attention than the performance. Also, the smoking of the cigarettes added to the stuffiness of the over-crowded field house.

Lastly, I hope that in the future, the Major Events Committee acquire entertainers who live up to professional standards and suit the taste of the majority of students. I, along with many others, felt the concert was a waste of time and money.

Disagrees With YAF Prexy

To the editor of the Jambar:

In an article concerning the Y.A.F. Two Phase Pro-America Program, Mr. Tom Anderson, president of the YSU Y.A.F., referred to the activities of the October 15th Vietnam Moratorium as disgraceful. I feel that Mr. Anderson has failed to realize and understand the absurdity of his statement. It takes a distorted mind to condemn the basic rights of Americans to petition and assemble freely, which are re-iterated in the first ten amendments to the Constitution of the United States! If the apathetic ignorant masses, commonly known as the silent majority, honestly feel that the exercise of the right to petition and assemble which were and will be displayed on Oct. 15th and Nov. 15th respectively were and will be a disgrace, and then have the audacity to support a foreign policy which continues to aid the South Vietnamese government in their activities of executing imprisoning and exiling religious and political dissenters, then they are in need of mental exorcism.

It is people like the above who have rendered the perverted form of constitutional democracy; democracy. It is in a democracy where complusions override all forms of law and where the masses fall victims to demagogues such as Wallace, Agnew, Nixon, and Ku Klux Klan Imperial Wizard Robert Shelton who stir them to actions that become indefensible and irresponsible.

Thus I feel it is a disgrace to the mental capabilities of everybody who has read the Y.A.F. Pro-American Program Article, for Mr. Anderson to have resorted to typical Woody Allen absurdities. Let's really be pro America by purging ourselves of the stupidity which was displayed by Mr. Anderson's comments concerning the Oct. 15th activities.

Scores Nixon's "Yahoo" Message

To the editor of the Jambar:

A recent letter to the Jambar suggested that social scientists might freely translate President Nixon's term, "the silent majority," as the "ignorant masses." This suggestion is an affront to social scientists.

A more accurate estimation of President Nixon's feelings about the "silent majority" may be found in quotations from the book, The Selling of the President, by Joe McGinniss. Here one of Mr. Nixon's top campaign specialists is quoted as referring to "...the schmucks we're trying to reach...the people down there along the Yahoo Belt."

If President Nixon still follows the speech writing philosophy used in his campaign, we may assume that the best translation of the term "silent majority" might be something like, "the schmucks along the Yahoo Belt."

My own personal opinion of the American people, of course, is much higher than that of Mr. Nixon's speech writers.

Free Inquiry

Marcia Baugh
Sr., English

It has always been a goal of our American universities that the university should foster a spirit of free inquiry. Those involved in education have recently become increasingly aware of the fact that the instruments which are supposed to promote that inquiry are, rather, stifling it. Some universities have adjusted in order to further this goal. Yet, some stubbornly cling to past practices.

Youngstown University has built more and better equipped classrooms, has added more and better qualified teachers to its staff, and is trying to provide adequate parking facilities. But its bookstore is of the most Medieval variety. It fails to serve the wants of the students and serves only their barest needs.

I believe that a college bookstore may promote free inquiry by allowing the students to browse. This is impossible when all the books are kept out of sight behind the counter. The fact that the store lists all available books by class number does not much help the student, for at the beginning of the quarter, he is pressured by the other waiting students to move on as quickly as possible. This allows no chance for impulse or interest buying. If books were displayed, a student might read a book not required for a course and diversify his education.

Another deterrent to pleasure reading is the cost of books. As the university bookstore does not buy back used books from students, the cost of new books is high. Therefore the student seldom has money left over for books not absolutely necessary.

In order to meet the desires of the student, the bookstore should have open stacks with course departments such as English, Education, etc., with the course number, instructor, and required books. Both new and used books should be available to the student. Books not required should be offered to the student.

Some may argue that the students would steal books from the store. This can be prevented by having shelves or lockers in which the students leave their own books as they come into the store. All books would go through a check-out counter. They might also be less tempted to steal if prices were reduced by selling used books.

The suggested revisions would help to promote inquiry and communicate trust to the students.

YSU's 'Blood Wedding' To Open This Friday

"Blood Wedding", now in its final week of rehearsals, will open at 8:30 p.m. Friday, November 14, in Strouss Auditorium.

Additional performances are scheduled for Saturday, November 15, and Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 20, 21 and 22. All performances are at 8:30 p.m.

The first production of the drama department's of the year, "Blood Wedding" is a play representative of man's universal ideals and fears.

Written by Federico Garcia Lorca in 1933 and directed for the YSU performances by Dr. C. David Haller, the play concerns the separation of two lovers.

Incidental music and a lullaby, for the Youngstown production, have been composed by John R. Cole, a Dana senior.

Members of the cast and their characters are Richard Zuti, Leonardo; Miss Toni Scali; the Bride; Mrs. Carol Shaffer Mills, the Mother (of the groom); Miss

Donna Smith, the Mother-in-law; Miss Suzanne Petrella; Leonardo's Wife; Miss Kathleen Fallat, the Servant Woman; Miss Claudia Von Ostwalsen, Neighbor Woman; Ed Dravec, the Bridegroom; Gary Banks, the Bride's Father; Pat Ennis, the Moon; Miss Kathleen Fallat; Death (as Beggar Woman); Miss Ann Howard, Miss Maryann

Reitano, the Girls; Don Khoury, Howard Greene, and Bill Taylor, the Woodcutters.

Accompanying Cole in the guitar are Frank Balzer, guitar; Jo Ellen Maus, flute; Lynne Listjak, flute; and Tim Webb, piano.

AAUP Panel

The YSU Chapter of the American Association of University Professors will present a panel for students interested in graduate study at 4 p.m., Wednesday, November 12, in the Audio-visual Room on the third floor of the library. ## Sheldon Speaks On Propaganda

Dr. James Sheldon will be speaking on "Public Opinion and Propaganda in Relation to the Middle East" at 3:30 p.m. Monday, November 17, in Pollock House.

Dr. Sheldon, who began his public life as a political science professor at Boston University, is a columnist and foreign correspondent who has visited 62 different countries and a well-known lecturer and civic leader. He first visited the Middle East during the closing phases of the Arab-Israeli wars in 1948, and in his most recent trip he covered Israel "from Dan to Elath" as a guest of the Israeli Foreign Office and also visited refugee camps in Arab lands, as a guest of UNRWA.

He has made special visits to American Foreign Aid and USIA projects in 25 countries and has filled more than 1200 speaking engagements during the past 15 years.

Moratorium Program At Gates Of Eden

A "Celebration of Life", with emphasis on the November Moratorium, is the theme of this week's program at the Gates of Eden Coffee House, Fr. DiBlasio, Gates program director, announced today.

The program, consisting of dramatic readings, folk song presentations, and any spontaneous reactions from the audience, promises an "atmosphere of open discussion and an opportunity to let emotion freely express itself."

Among the scheduled speakers are Mrs. Phoebe Alexander, producer of the "Amerika" show now in performance at the Youngstown Playhouse's Curtain Call Cafe, and Mrs. Stephanie Henkle, instructor in English and communications at YSU.

This "happening-type program," which will take place on Wednesday, November 12, beginning at 9 p.m., is one in the series of programs and talks which the coffee house sponsors each week.

YSU ROTC Sees "No Conflict"

Criticism of Reserve Officers Training Corps, found on more than 350 of the nation's colleges and universities, has brought many campuses to the verge of conflict but not at YSU.

When queried about why YSU is not a scene of conflict over the ROTC issue, Lt. Col. Richard Connolly, YSU's ROTC commandant, cited the type of student and the fact YSU is a commuter college as reasons.

"Most of the students here are working their way through school and know what they want out of life," Lt. Col. Connolly said. "The protest against ROTC is advertised out of proportion on a selective few campuses, especially the Ivy League colleges," he said. "This is because the students live in dormitories or in fraternities where the dissenters find captive audiences after school hours. This is not found on the campuses of commuter colleges like YSU," Lt. Col. Connolly said.

Lt. Col. Connolly stated that YSU's emphasis is on education first and ROTC second, producing cadets with strong moral conviction and strong strength of character. "Our cadets recognize their responsibilities to their country and choose to fulfill this responsibility by entering the armed forces," Lt. Col. Connolly said.

Zips Zonk Penguins 60-27

Sparked by the running of Dan Ruff and Jack Beidleman and the passing of Mic Hutton, Akron State University rolled to a crushing 60-27 victory over Youngstown State University last Saturday before 8000 fans at Barberton High Stadium.

The Akron Zips now hold a 8-1 slate and have now won six in succession since losing to Eastern Michigan, 10-3.

The Penguins suffered their fifth loss in seven outings. This Friday night they will conclude their season against Gustavus Adolphus at home.

Denny Klembara sparked throughout the contest as he tossed three touchdown passes and ran for another. He has now fired at least one TD pass in each of the 16 games he has played in a YSU uniform.

Klembara also hit on 24 of 49 attempts for 312 yards and overtook Harold Green's all-time career completion mark of 191 with 208 connections.

The Zips gained a 21-0 lead before the Penguins could get on the scoreboard midway through the second period. Klembara hit George Miller on a four-yard bullet to end a 41-yard scoring match. Don Jaworski ran for the two-point conversion.

Miller's catch for the TD was the first time this season that a foe had passed for a marker against Akron's rough defensive backfield.

Three of the Zips' first-half touchdowns were accomplished via the aerial lanes. Hutton hit Beidleman on a 65-yard heave and later connected with Ruff on a 22-yard strike.

Later string quarterback Chuch Shuman also fired a 38-yard bomb to Ruff in the opening quarter on a fake field goal attempt for AU's second touchdown.

Behind 31-8 at halftime, YSU finally began to score. Klembara sneaked over from the one early in the third stanza, but Akron quickly matched the TD when Hutton fired a 60-yard scoring pass to Ruff again. The Penguins then bounced back with two straight TD huris by Klembara. He fired a 69-yard bomb to Dave DelSignore and an eight-yarder to Rudy Florio to close the gap to 38-27.

However, the Zips scored two more touchdowns in the final six minutes of the frame on a 16-yard jaunt by John Vargo and an 80-yard sprint by Beidleman.

The Akron eleven tallied nine points in the final period on a safety and another TD by Vargo to ice away the victory.

Congratulations!

Dr. Riley Program Third Time

Dr. Bruce Riley, associate professor of philosophy and religious studies at Youngstown State University, participated in a program of the Society for Scientific Study of Religion held recently in Boston.

Dr. Riley's contribution to the program was his paper, "The Intersection of Numinosity and Social Science: Conversion and Mysticism." This marked the third time Dr. Riley has taken part in the program in the past four years.

while Ken Scelfo, Dick Murray, and Bagnola, who added two TD's, led the offensive aggregate.

This marks the third straight year the two North Side frats have met for all the marbles in IFC football. Theta Xi outpointed the Sig Tau's last year, while reaching a deadlock two years ago and sharing the crown.

Sigma Tau Gamma, going on the assumption of their record, their flawless play, and "third time's the charm," is the Jambar's pick over the Theta Xi's Sunday.

Theta Xi-Sig Tau Classic Set

By virtue of a 20-2 victory over Alpha Phi Delta, Theta Xi will appear in its 15th straight IFC football championship tilt. The third annual Theta Xi-Sig Tau contest will be played next Sunday afternoon.

The tenacious Sigma Tau Gamma brothers smothered Sigma Alpha Epsilon 38-20 to gain the championship final.

A Williams-to-Murphy toss put the "animals" in front 6-0 midway through the first half. Minutes later, Williams was caught by the Alpha Phi's front line in his own end zone to close the gap to 6-2 and end the first half scoring. The well-played first half, that separated the two undefeated powerhouses by only four points, and the lopsided second half, that saw Theta Xi dominate the scoring, provided onlookers with IFC's most thrilling game of the season. A 20-yard scamper by Williams and a pass to Murphy in the end zone enabled to Theta Xi's to slide to 20-2 triumph in the second half. The name of the game in the second half was "defense"...Theta Xi defense.

Alpha Phi Delta found it extremely hard to penetrate the Xi territory and stop the Williams-Murphy machine. Sigma Tau Gamma, a two-touchdown favorite of the Jambar Sports Page, overwhelmed the SAE's by three TD's in a decisive 38-20 trouncing. The flawless Sig Tau's, undefeated in four outings, was outstanding on offense with six touchdowns and near-perfect on defense. Frank Bors, former Canton McKinley Bulldog, opened the Sig Tau attack by placing his 215-pound, 6-0 frame in paydirt. Rich Didonato, IFC's three-sport athlete, followed,

Individuals Pace Squad

Looking at the individual Penguin performances this year, one would find it hard to believe that Youngstown State will end their 1969 campaign with a losing slate. The young, and somewhat inexperienced, Penguins have "held their own" against the far bigger and more experienced 1969 foes to, technically, finish a "successful" season. Gustavus-Adolphus, a Penguin victim 14 times over the years, invades Rayen Stadium Friday night to help YSU pull the curtain on the 1969 season.

Denny Klembara, the sensational sophomore quarterback, and senior end, Dave DelSignore, were atop the record-breaking antics of this year's Penguin edition. Klembara, whose records are too numerous to mention at this time, has done in two years what every other Penguin quarterback in history took four to do! DelSignore, YSU's best receiver in history, has carved his initials deep into the annals of Youngstown State.

A special Jambar "wrap-up" article will follow the season conclusion along with the Sports Editor, Terry Lawrence's pick of the Most Valuable Player in Football for 1969. An award will be presented.

With seven down and one to go, it can be said, "it's been a heckava good season"...
