University maintenance workers complete the season decor on the front of Jones Hall

According To Scriven —

Registration Is Success

Winter registration was a process by which "more students were registered more effectively, with a greater percentage of success than ever before," Dr. James Scriven, dean of admissions and records stated yesterday.

Jambar Closes For Fall Quarter

Due to the start of final examinations and the approaching holiday vacation, the Jambar will end publication for the quarter with this issue. Publication for next quarter will begin on Tuesday, January 6, 1970.

To all our readers and advertisers we offer our wishes for the happiest of holidays and a prosperous New Year.

Dr. Scriven attributed the institution of remote tally stations and the completion of registration data before final registration as keys to the total success of registration. He also cited The Jambar for its cooperation and rapport in reporting and informing students of the registration changes. The total number of students registered this quarter is expected to equal the number registered last quarter, Dr. Scriven said. Official registration figures cannot be made official until bills are paid, suspensions are cleared, and late registration is completed however. Dr. Scriven stated that Jan. 2, 1970, would be positively the last date to register for Winter Quarter. Students not completing late registration procedures by that date will not be permitted to attend classes next quarter. Add and drop registration will as usual be extended into the first week of the quarter.

New students enrollment for the winter quarter was estimated as average by Dr. Scriven. Approximately 2/3 of those applicants who indicated that they would enroll for winter quarter did so, Scriven stated.

Personnel Donate To United Fund

University personnel contributed a sum of $8,230 to the United Appeal Campaign, President Pugsley announced yesterday. This amount was a 75% increase over the amount given last year.

Approximately 66% of the faculty and administration participated by contributing $6,304 and 51% of the non-academic employees contributed totalling $1,926.

Basketball Out For Weekend

Winter Weekend will be without a basketball game, Mr. James Morrison athletic business director, confirmed last night.

The game with Alliance College, originally scheduled as a home game at South Fieldhouse, had to be scheduled for Alliance when the University moved its games to Austintown Fieldhouse.

Mr. Morrison said Austintown was booked for January 17 thus necessitating the change.

Alliance will play here February 21.

Mr. Morrison said he had not yet been informed of the Winter Weekend date when the change was made.

Pete Isgro, Student Government president said yesterday that plans for the weekend will continue but thought must be given to new Saturday activities.

Isgro said arrangements might be made between Alliance and YSU so Youngstown students can attend the game at no personal expense. Alliance is about thirty miles from Youngstown.

He remarked that a traditional weekend activity, the "Spirit Contest," is obviously out and said that student participation will suffer since the weekend game draws more students than any of the others.

Groundbreaking To Be Thursday

Youngstown State University will hold formal groundbreaking ceremonies Thursday, December 18, at 10 a.m., for the $5.0-million Beeghly Physical Education Center.

Expected to be completed by December, 1971, the structure will be erected west of the School of Education (Elm Street School) facing south across Spring Street, on Phase II Urban Renewal property.

Financed by Federal, state and private funds, the Center will house a 6-8,000 seat main gymnasium which can be divided into smaller playing areas, an Olympic-size swimming pool with seating capacity for 500 spectators, locker room facilities for nearly 4,000 physical education students, 17 classrooms, approximately 25 faculty office spaces, laboratories for health research and kinesiology, separate smaller gymnasiums for wrestling, weight lifting, gym-

John Glenn Announces Dem. Senate Candidacy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — John H. Glenn, one of America's first space heroes, announced Thursday as a Democratic candidate in the U.S. Senate campaign that is already orbiting. The balding retired Marine Corps colonel was flanked by his wife and mother as he told newsmen — to no one's surprise — he would seek the seat that Democrat Stephen M. Young is vacating because of advanced age.

Glenn, first American to orbit the earth, faces what could be a tough primary fight. If he wins there, he must face one of two giants in Ohio Republican circles in the Nov. 3 general election.

Gov. James A. Rhodes, 60, Ohio's two term chief executive, and Rep. Robert Taft Jr., 52, son of senator and grandson of a President, are already battling for the Republican nomination.

Glenn's stiffest opposition in the May 5 primary is expected to come from Howard Metznerbaum, a wealthy Cleveland lawyer who has told friends he expects to be a candidate.

Metznerbaum, a former state legislator, successfully managed two Senate campaigns for Young.

The crusty 80 year old has been irked at Glenn since the former Marine colonel announced against him in 1964. Glenn withdrew from that campaign after a bathroom fall injured his inner ear.

He joked with reporters about that incident in announcing his candidacy. "It'll be a dirty, dirty campaign," he smiled. "I have to promise not to take a bath."

Glenn, until recently, was president of Royal Crown International. He gave up his New York apartment and moved to Columbus earlier this month. He maintains a voting residence at New Concord.

Glenn, who once held the transcontinental flight record from Los Angeles to New York 3 hrs. 23 minutes, called the Vietnam war and inflation two main campaign issues.

Solutions cannot stand idly by and drift into the future," He warned against a defeatist attitude that problems have gone beyond control.

"If I think we can correct the injustices and inequities that plague our society," he said, "while holding fast to those values that have made this the greatest nation on the earth."

Blacks Seize Harvard Bldg.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — More than 100 black students forced their way into Harvard's University Hall and used chains and wooden bars to barricade the building's windows and doors from the inside.

They gained entry by battering down a side door, a university spokesman said.

The structure is Harvard's main administration building. Aware that a takeover might be coming, the university earlier ordered the building cleared of administrative employees and locked.

Two campus police officers were inside, the university said, and they tried unsuccessfully to stop the takeover.

The spokesman said about 15 minutes after the seizure that the two officers still were inside.

He said he did not know whether they were being allowed to remain or whether they were being held.

The same blacks earlier seized control of the Harvard Faculty Club a few blocks away, across

Tax Reform Bill Defeated By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate defeated a move yesterday to strip the tax reform bill of its costliest provisions, clearing the way for a final vote on the controversial measure.

A motion by Republican John J. Williams of Delaware that would have sent the bill back to the Senate Finance Committee was rejected on a roll call vote.

The motion would have ordered the committee to strike out 10 amendments approved in three weeks of Senate debate. The amendments added billions to the total cost of the tax package.

The far-reaching tax reform bill is laden with new Social Security benefits and income tax slashes unacceptable to President Nixon.

Koepchne Inquest Set For Jan. 5

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (AP) — The inquest into the death of Miss Mary Jo Koepchne, the young secretary killed in Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's auto accident this summer, will begin Jan. 5.

Judge James A. Boyle set the date Thursday. Sources said the proceeding probably will take four or five days.

The Edgartown district court judge, who is known to want to complete the inquest as swiftly as possible, acted just a day after the previous judgement on the autopsy of the victim.

Miss Koepchne, 29, of Washington D.C., was found dead in Kennedy's car July 19. The auto had plunged into a tidal pool on nearby Chappaquiddick Island and overturned.

A medical examiner ruled that Miss Koepchne drowned.

Kennedy, who did not report the mishap until nine hours later, pleaded guilty to leaving the scene of an accident and was given a two month suspended sentence.

Boyle did not comment further on the inquest Thursday, but his court clerk, Thomas A. Teller, said the judge was expected to set rules later on use of the courthouse by the press. Newsmen have been barred from the inquest itself. The judge originally ordered the inquest, which was to have begun last Sept. 3, open only to the press. But his procedural rules were challenged by attorneys for Kennedy and the State Supreme Court ruled that the inquest would have to be private.

Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis, who sought both the autopsy and the inquest, declined to comment on whom he will call as witnesses. But he was reported to have summoned at least 15 persons to testify at the Sept. 3 proceeding. These included the 10 men and women who attended a cookout on Martha's Vineyard with Kennedy and Miss Koepchne prior to the accident.

Others expect to testify include the medical examiner, police chief and operator of a ferry.

Peace Talk Boycotted; Protests U.S.

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnamese delegate Xuan Thuy boycotted the 46th session of the Vietnam peace talks Thursday to protest against what his spokesman called a U.S. "deliberate downgrading of the conference."

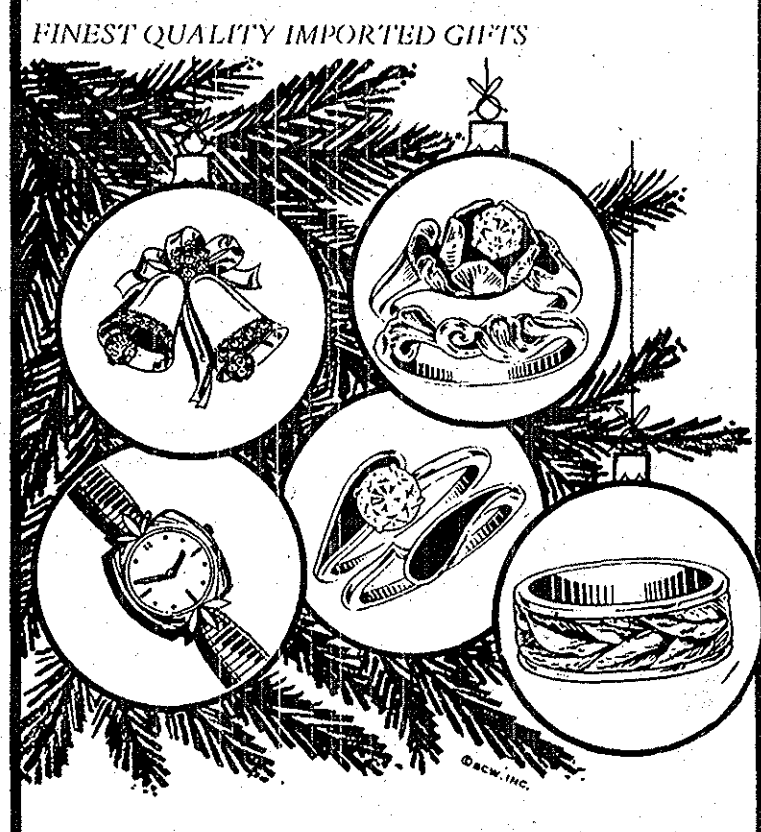

Nothe Vietnamese spokesman Thanh Le described Philip Habib, the acting U.S. delegate, as "a person of low rank. "But the United States has deliberately lowered the level of the Paris conference on Vietnam in order to sabotage it," Le charged.

Hentoff Opposes Tenure

Tenure for college faculty and work-study cooperative education for students were among higher education policies discussed by writer Nat Hentoff in an interview following his lecture here last Tuesday.

He said he is opposed to the long standing faculty tenure policy employed by most universities and in favor of cooperative education where students would receive income and academic credit for "study related community and industry work."

His statements elaborated on basic points covered during the lecture where he accused college educators of fostering a divorce between classroom study and "real world" living.

"Well established tenured teachers" Hentoff said, "become pretty resistant to change when they have that kind of job security." The problem is compounded, he said because the tenured faculty most often are the faculty who hold key policy making power.

He said policy decisions should reflect the judgment of students and faculty together and contended that power should rotate among the students and faculty.

Hentoff graduated from Northeastern University in Boston which has a six-month work, six-month study cooperative program.

He said students interested largely in library study and class related research are not among the majority of college students. Most students, Hentoff said, are more interested in the relation between classroom learning and "real life" experiences and a work-study program would satisfy those interests.

He pointed to Black students working in the community saying that academic credit could be given for this kind of work.

Recalling the public school shutdown in Youngstown last winter, Hentoff suggested that education and liberal arts students might easily work as teachers aides.

Large businesses and accounting firms, Hentoff said, are faced with retraining college business graduates so the new employees will understand the systems inherent in the firm's operations.

"Hiring business undergraduates would be to their long range economic advantage since many would return to the firms following graduation."

Applicable generally to all work-study areas, Hentoff said such programs would help students determine what kind of work they want before graduation so not to graduate with skills in a disliked area.

Articles Published

Dr. Frank A. D'Isa, chairman of the mechanical engineering department at Youngstown State University, and Halil Erzurum, assistant professor of mechanical engineering, have published an article in the November issue of "Iron and Steel Engineer."

The article, "Stress Concentration Curves for Various Neck Configurations of Steel Mill Rolls," was written from research compiled for the E.W.

Bliss Co. in Salem. Collaborating with Dr. D'Isa and Erzurum was John Gross, chief engineer of the Rolling Mill Division of the Bliss Co.

Published in the August issue of the same magazine was an article by Erzurum entitled, "Mill Housing Design" which presented equations for determining the best design for mill housings, based again on tests conducted for the Bliss Co.

CAVU

*CEILING AND VISIBILITY UNLIMITED

At Pratt & Whitney Aircraft "ceiling and visibility unlimited" is not just an expression. For example, the President of our parent corporation joined P&WA only two years after receiving an engineering degree. The preceding President, now Chairman, never worked for any other company. The current President of P&WA started in our engineering department as an experimental engineer and moved up to his present position. In fact, the majority of our senior officers all have one thing in common -- degrees in an engineering or scientific field.

To insure CAVU*, we select our engineers and scientists carefully. Motivate them well. Give them the equipment and facilities only a leader can provide. Offer them company-paid, graduate education opportunities. Encourage them to push into fields that have not been explored before. Keep them reaching for a little bit more responsibility than they can manage. Reward them well when they do manage it.

Your degree can be a B.S., M.S., or Ph.D. in: MECHANICAL • AERONAUTICAL • ELECTRICAL • CHEMICAL • CIVIL • MARINE • INDUSTRIAL ENGINEERING • PHYSICS • CHEMISTRY • METALLURGY • MATERIALS SCIENCE • CERAMICS • MATHEMATICS • STATISTICS • COMPUTER SCIENCE • ENGINEERING SCIENCE • ENGINEERING MECHANICS.

Consult your college placement officer -- or write Mr. William L. Stoner, Engineering Department, Pratt & Whitney Aircraft, East Hartford, Connecticut 06108.

CAVU* might also mean full utilization of your technical skills through a wide range of challenging programs which include jet engines for the newest military and commercial aircraft, gas turbines for industrial and marine use, rocket engines for space programs, fuel cells for space vehicles and terrestrial uses, and other advanced systems.

Letters To The Editor

Questions Lottery "Loopholes"

To the editor of the Jambar:

An article concerning the draft lottery loopholes appeared in Wednesday's Vindicator. In the article, Col. Benard T. Frank, an aid to draft director Lewis Hershey, was quoted as saying that "...some of the Selective Service System's legal experts think a college student...could not give up his student deferment simply upon his own request, while remaining a student." In other words, a student would have to withdraw from school entirely if he wanted to chance the lottery. A major question here is, why can't the student remain in school and be classified 1-A at the same time? It is the government's intention to "plug" this loophole in the lottery but a student can still escape it by withdrawing for one year. The only difference is the added inconvenience to the student. The argument against the government's decision is that, if a student wishes to have a 2-S deferment and the University misplaces the form, as happened with a friend of mine, he is automatically fresh bait for the draft. Yet, the government now says that if an eligible 19-year-old is in college and has a high lottery number, say 366, he cannot refuse his 2-S deferment for any particular year. There is a great inconsistency in this policy and it should be corrected. Either an automatic 2-S deferment should be granted to all full-time students to eliminate mix-ups in handling, or a student with a high lottery number should be able to refuse the 2-S and remain in school.

Cites Privileged Parkers Unfair

To the editor of the Jambar:

There is a situation in the Wick Avenue student parking lot which has disturbed me very much. This particular situation involves a special privilege of parking which is being given to one particular individual at the cost of inconvenience to many others.

Specifically, I am concerned about the lot attendant's practice of reserving a special parking space for one particular car. This is accomplished by setting a large can in a parking space so that no one may utilize the space. Later, when the "special-privileged" person arrives, the can is moved so that she may park her car in the "reserved" space.

This is both unfair and irritating to many students who have no classes until noon and do not wish to come at 7:30 to insure a parking space. Since I have periodic breaks between the hours of ten and two o'clock, I am able to see the consequences of "reserving" a space for one particular student who happens not to have any classes until eleven o'clock. Many times I have seen students come into the parking lot only to be told that the lot is "full", while there is one space being "reserved". This is more than just unfair, it is a gross and deliberate discrimination in favor of one particular individual.

I am quite aware that we have a very acute parking problem at Youngstown State University, but situations such as this are unnecessary and should not be tolerated. It may seem a small problem to many of the students, but if it was one of them who missed a final exam or an important test because of a case of "favor playing" on the part of the lot attendant, I think that they would surely feel as I do.

Firearms On Campus ?

To the editor of the Jambar:

This letter concerns itself with 1) Student Council in general, 2) Chuck Hettler in particular and 3) a resolution made by Larry Simko concerning firearms on campus.

Simko introduced a resolution that would set up a committee of investigate why police science STUDENTS carry their little snub-nosed protectors to class. Of course one can submit some legitimate reasons of his own (eg. being prepared to do battle with the thousands of queers in the library or being on the alert for some trouble from the violent Left of this campus or maybe they just want to spin them on their fingers).

As I understand it STUDENTS are prohibited from carrying firearms on campus. Dr. Coffelt, I believe, informed Council of this rule at the last meeting. Council, as usual, was asleep in the bunkhouse. Even "Wild" Chuck Hettler, who professes to own some liberal spurs, was too busy fixing his mental stirrups and dismissed the resolution as being irrelevant. One wonders if he can ride at all.

Is there a definite need for these men to bear arms? Are they expecting trouble? Are students in danger of possible gunfire? Since Council does not seem to listen to reason maybe they should review some of Roy Rogers' old movies. Ol' Roy always hung up his guns before he went into a church of a little red school house.

Moritz Condemns Bureaucracy Here

The following polemic is dedicated to the bureaucracy here at Youngstown State University. I wish to express my deepest sympathy (maybe empathy) and gratitude with it. It is one of the finest bars I have ever seen. Max Weber would love it. Talcott Parsons would cherish its very existence, for it is in our bureaucrap (our academic and technocratic underbrush) that our structure and institution is maintained (that is to say, continues to function). What would we do without them? Perish the thought! Let us continue to wallow in our bureaucratic mire, as well as the mud surrounding our parking lots. Let us also thank those lesser bureaucrats (sic. the security police) for enlightening us that queers are infiltrating the very special matrix of our library, and protecting us from the ever present communist threat. As an effete snob (cf. Spiro Agnew comments on the moratorium) I am diametrically opposed to the very existence of a cage, let alone a cage with a penguin in it. It is also saddening that Pan Hel has decided to enforce its laws (something it has done quite inconsistently in the past, in light of the many infractions that have slipped by without notice) with regards to Delta Zeta Sorority, that hallmark of excellence. Could it be they are jealous. Returning to my original premise; I would like to thank our bureaucracy for their maggoty benevolence, in allowing us to park in the Urban Renewal space. The least they could have done would have been to put gravel down, since the land won't be put to use for 5 years anyway. I realize that my polemic is highly inconsistent, that it is lacking in cohesion and thesis, but such is the plight of disillusioned young man. Oh, I forgot to say that I deeply appreciate the fact that the floors of the Neon office have not been scrubbed since the beginning of this quarter. Now this is of prime importance. Thank you for your kind attention, I anxiously await the impending revolution, when we will take over, and put you all in neatly packaged glad bags, and dispatch them to that institution in Washington where they put archaic things. It is questionable as to whether they would accept old bureaucrap, for old bureaucrap never die, they become immortalized in our IBM data processing machines. Oh, s--- why don't we just send the machines and all there.

Theater League Offers Plays

YSU students will be able to see five Broadway hits at the Youngstown Symphony Center winter quarter.

As its first season, the American Theatre League of Youngstown, produced by American Theatre Productions in New York City and Mr. Robert Vargo of Youngstown will present each of the five popular plays for one night only.

The season will include: "Fiddler on the Roof," based on one Sholom Aleichem's story Saturday, January 17; "The Price," Arthur Miller's award-winning play; "Do Your Own Thing," Drama Circle Award as best musical 1968, Wednesday, February 18; "Spofford," starring Hans Conreid Saturday, March 7; and "Cabaret," among its many honors, winner of 8 Tony awards.

Theatre subscriptions are now being received by area Strouss Department stores. Season subscribers will receive choice seat locations plus savings on the 5 plays being offered. For additional information on season prices and reservations, contact Robert Vargo, American Theatre League of Youngstown, at 744-3051.

Henderson Speaks To Bus. School

Mahoning County Probate Judge Charles P. Henderson spoke before a School of Business news reporting class last Tuesday.

Judge Henderson emphasized the importance of good and effective news reporting in radio, television and newspaper is paramount for a well enlightened and informed citizenry. He relayed to the students his experiences with the press during his three terms as mayor of Youngstown. He attributed the investigative reporting of the Vindicator during the late 40's for being instrumental in his election as a reform mayor in Youngstown.

YSU Prof's Invention Gets Patent

Dr. Henry P. Sheng, associate professor of chemical engineering, Youngstown State University, has recently been granted a second U.S. patent (No. 3,473,510) for his invention entitled, "Method and Apparatus for the Continuous Doping of Semi-conductor Metals." The title was filed by Corning Glass Works during Dr. Sheng's tenure with that firm.

The apparatus and method provide the chemical doping of semiconductor materials on a continuous basis, thus enhancing appreciably the quality control and cost reduction. The semiconductor materials are the prime source for the fabrication of microelectronic circuits which are used extensively on Apollo programs for guidance systems. Non-space uses include table-model computers and various midget electronic devices current available on the market.

tunity to formally and publically debate today's prominent issues."

He outlined the program as follows:

Topics will be drawn from outlines submitted to the Forum Executive Committee by interested student and faculty. The topic will be argued by an affirmative side, who advocate a change in the "status-quo," and by a negative side, who speak in defense of the "status-quo."

Speakers will be selected from applications and by the Executive Committee.

Since the Forum is closely modeled from the English Union debate style, the winning side will be determined by a vote of the audience, Dr. O'Neil said.

Among topics under consideration are the abolition of the YSU grading system, the military industrial complex, the vice-presidency of the United States, private property and property tax, and Senators Mendel Rivers and Russell Long.

In addition to Dr. O'Neil, Harry A. Drell is the chairman of the Committee and Mrs. Candice Krell is secretary.

Members of the Committee include Dr. Thomas Shipka, Dr. James Kiriazis, Dr. Casper Moore, John Greenman, and Larry Slifka.

Use Hands, Feet, Heads— Karate Club Displays Skills

YSU Karate Club members and their instructor Mr. A.E. Vea demonstrated breaking and self-defense techniques to an audience of 300 students and faculty Wednesday afternoon in Strouss Auditorium.

Club members employed karate techniques to break boards and bricks with their hands, feet, and heads.

Joe Gabriel, a black-belt, leaped eight feet in the air and broke a one inch board with his foot.

Vea, a third degree black-belt, split a potato with a three foot machete which was positioned on Gabriel's chest. Vea said later the blade, moving at full speed, would have cut Gabriel in half had he been unable to stop after slicing through the potato.

Vea said he would like the University to offer karate as a physical education elective.

He urges interested student to inform the department of their feelings.

Several Greek fraternities and sororities held their annual election of officers this past week.

Elected officers of Phi Mu sorority were Sue Shaffer, president; Bev Valentine, vice president; Wendy Gromly, membership; Georgia Elash, pledge director; Maureen Quinn, treasurer; Linda Barid, recording secretary; and Suzy Wagner, corresponding secretary.

Sigma Alpha Mu fraternity's new officers are: Dale Peskin, prior; Tony Leonelli, vice prior; Leonard Farbman, exchequer; and Jim Jannes, recorder.

Elected officers of Alpha Phi Delta fraternity were Chuck Saulino, president; Bob Leslie, vice president; Sinbad Condeluci, treasurer; Jim Asti, recording secretary; Dom Malanes, corresponding secretary; and Phil Chance, chaplain.

Madrigal Choir Xmas Concert Is Tonight

The annual Christmas program of sacred and secular music presented by the Madrigal Singers and the University Chorus will be held at 8 p.m. today in Strouss Auditorium.

The University Chorus, under the direction of Wendell Orr, assistant professor of music, opens the program with works by Tshesnekoff, Byrd, Graun and the "Hallelujah, Amen" by Handel.

The Madrigal Singers, who specialize in music of the 16th and 17th centuries, will present selections in German and English, under the direction of David Starkey, assistant professor of music.

The 12 members of the Madrigals and the 100 voices of the University Chorus join with the Brass Ensemble to present Schutz's "Lo, The Angel Said to the Shepherds".

Also included in the program will be works done by The Early Music Ensemble from the Dana School of Music, including "Fantasy Quarter No. 4" and "Poverty", a Welsh carol.

Concluding the holiday presentation is Handel's "Joy to the World", by the University Chorus with the Brass Ensemble and Cruber's "Silent Night" by the Madrigals.

Dec. Moratorium Groundbreaking Theme Is Peace

In contrast to the organized mass protest marches in October and November, the local moratorium plans for December advocate individual expression toward peace and brotherhood.

"Because this month traditionally is one of peace and brotherhood, we of the Youngstown Moratorium Committee urge each person to take individual expressions of concern for mankind," John Lindner, local campus chairman for the Moratorium, announced yesterday in a prepared statement to the Jambar.

Lindner stated that absence of any organized Moratorium plans for the month of December was not due in any way to changes in feelings about the war or lack of support. He said objections to the war are greater than ever as a result of the success of the protest march on Washington.

Lindner stated that the extension of local marches and protest during this month would be impossible because of obvious activities surrounding Christmas vacation. The Moratorium movement itself will continue though, Lindner said, through the individual efforts of the local and campus community.

The committee, according to Lindner, urges all the students and faculty at YSU to take time to write Christmas expressions of peace to the President, senators, and congressmen.

The American Institute of Biological Science will sponsor a field trip to McConnells Mill, Pennsylvania.

A car train will leave at 12:30 Saturday, January 3, from Ward Beecher nastics and physical education of the handicapped, four handball and two squash courts, a rifle range and the departments of health and physical education and athletics. The building will be a steel frame structure faced with brick and precast concrete. It is designed by the architectural firms of C. Robert Buchanan and Associates and George Tanner Smith and Associates.

The main floor will have facilities for basketball, volleyball, golf instruction, free exercise, badminton, and archery. For intercollegiate basketball, sports exhibitions, concerts, lectures and commencement activities, there will be some 6,000 bleacher seats which will recess into the wall when not in use.

The Olympic-size swimming pool will be 165 feet long by 75 feet wide with three diving boards up to ten meters high. The pool is large enough to provide instruction in swimming, lifesaving, first-aid, water polo, canoeing and water skiing.

Regulations Changed— No Music In Kilcawley

Musical instruments or electronic equipment for reproducing music will not be permitted in the Kilcawley Lounge, Dr. Darrel F. Rishel, dean of student affairs, announced in an official memorandum yesterday.

The statement confirmed a report earlier this week that the policy had been changed.

The announcement came following a decision by the Kilcawley Faculty/Student Center Committee of Dec. 4, reaffirming and/or approving the following regulations: (1.) Food and beverages are not permitted (2.) Gambling is prohibited (3.) Feet must be kept off the furniture (4.) Cigarettes will be deposited in ashtrays (5.) Music will not be permitted.

According to the memorandum, the Kilcawley Center

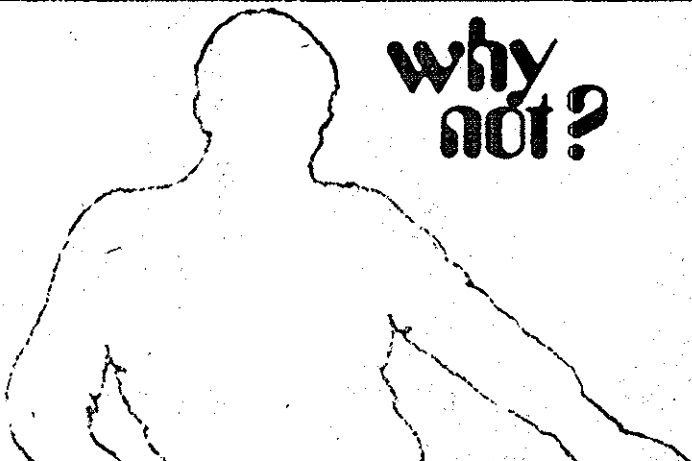

Committee agreed that the continuation of present lounge activities would be allowed and that no single activity should interfere with the overall use of the facility.

The committee also authorized an immediate study of a central music system for the lounge. Recommendations regarding repairs and additions to the present music system in the lounge will be brought forth at the Committee's next meeting on January 8. Student involvement in the selection of music to be played will also be determined at this meeting.

A need for an area where music, dancing, and similar recreational activities can take place was also recognized by the committee. Plans are being initiated to find available space on campus for these activities.

Religious gifts are appropriate gifts, now and throughout the year.

A new ecumenical religious media center provides up-to-date and classic selections of records, books, posters, cards, banners, medallions and art pieces. Quality all the way. For children, teenagers and adults.

AID Scholarship Is Sponsored

A scholarship is available for one male YSU student to act as a liaison between coordinators and participants in the Leadership Training Seminar sponsored by the Agency for International Development, on YSU campus over the Christmas holidays, December 22-29. According to Edna K. McDonald, International Student Advisor at YSU, the student will be an active participant in the seminar and be housed and fed in Kilcawley Student Center along with the international participants in the program. He will have the opportunity of becoming acquainted with visitors from many foreign countries and carry their comments and requests to the coordinators of the seminar. The scholarship will be in the amount of $96. $6.50 will be his only expense for room and board. Any student interested should contact Edna McDonald, East Hall.

Besides Miss McDonald, who is the Coordinator of International Educational Programs in Youngstown, the members of the committee in charge of the programs are Adelina Nordgren, Executive Director International Institute and Doris Burdman, community representative.

The purpose of the seminar, Miss McDonald said, is to provide the international participant with an understanding of the problems and assets of a changing American city. The program will include lectures,

Woody Allen Play Tryouts Scheduled

Playhouse Executive Director Bentley Lenhoff has issued a tryout call for "Please Don't Drink the Water," the Woody Allen comedy which will open at The Younstown Playhouse on February 6.

Lenhoff has scheduled tryouts for 7:30 p.m. Sunday and Monday, December 14 and 15, at The Playhouse, Playhouse Lane off Glenwood. Rehearsals will begin on January 5.

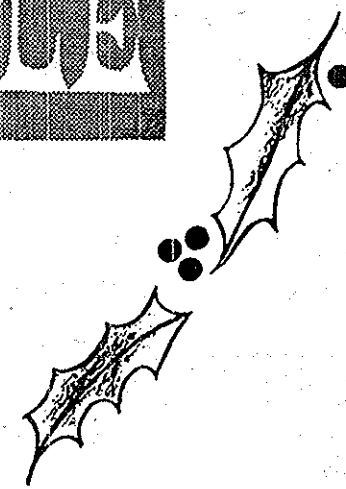

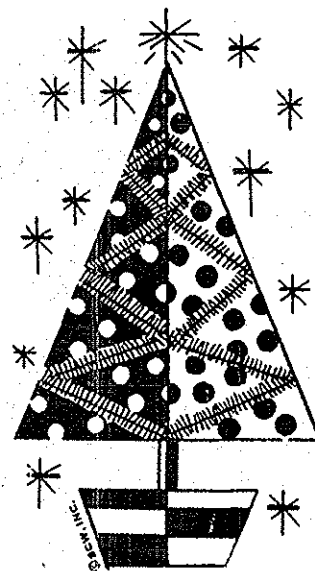

The cast of 12 men and four women includes an American tourist and his wife in their 40's who take refuge in an American embassy with their 20-year-old daughter when they are suspected by the "anti proletariat" police of being spies.

The ambassador and his son, a kookie make chef, three policemen and an assortment of embassy workers and refugees make up the rest of the cast, providing roles for both experienced and inexperienced actors.

Tryouts, as always, are open to the public. Anyone interested but unable to attend the public tryouts can make a private appointment by calling Mr. Lenhoff at 788-8739.

Penguin Tankers Break Record But Kentucky Sweeps By 57-56

What happens when a team breaks eight records in one outing? They win, right? Wrong! In Wednesday afternoon's Penguins vs. Kentucky in the YMCA waters, eight YSU water marks fell, but so did the Penguins — 56-57.

The one point gain on the three-meter board in the twelfth event of the afternoon was the eventual difference in the Penguin heartbreaker. Coach Ralph Johnson, elated over the outstanding performances of his 1969-70 Penguins, commented, "I don't know how a coach can be so happy after losing..."

Johnson said he knew his swimmers were "psyched" for the meet against the Southern powerhouse, but the results underrated his predictions.

A crowd of more than 450 packed the YMCA water stands to witness the best opening performance in YSU swimming history. Tim Lafferty, a phenomenal freshman from Butler, Pa., cracked four records. He was part of the opening 400-yard medley relay, in which he was clocked at :59 seconds, placed second in the 200-yard backstroke with a new time of 2:13.2, and was in on the winning 400-yard freestyle relay. Junior Tom Parker was a member of both the 400-yard medley and 400-yard freestyle relay quartets.

Freshmen Larry Nelson, Al Strata, and Chuck Nienhuis highlighted their college debuts with record-breaking performances. Nelson, a grad from Bridgeport, finished second in the 200-yard breaststroke with a record shattering time of 2:26.6. Nienhuis, from Holland, Mich., set a new YSU mark with a 5:29.5 showing in the 500-yard freestyle. Strata, a Canton McKinley product, established a new Penguin mark with his second place finish in the 200-yard fly which was clocked at 2:22.3.

Co-captain and senior, Al Schmidt bettered the YSU mark in the 1000-yard freestyle with a 11:34.6 mark, for the Penguins' eighth record breaking achievement.

The Red and White swept the first event, the 400-yard medley relay, 7-0 but dropped the next four categories to slide to a 20-23 running score through the first five events. The All-American duo, Dale Welk and Nick Gavolas, provided the Penguins with the lead again with an 8-1 margin on the one-meter board. The next three events, the 200-yard fly, 100 freestyle, and the 200-yard backstroke, were captured by Kentucky with identical 3-6 scores, which, when added to the 1-8 tally in the 500-yard freestyle, give the water invaders a 50-38 running score after ten events.

Kentucky picked up six more markers in the eleventh event, the 200-yard breaststroke, with another 3-6 trouncing of the hosting Penguins. The All-Americans, Welk and Gavolas, helped slim the lead with an 8-1 win on the three-meter board, but the one point gain by Kentucky clinched it for them. The final event, the 400-yard freestyle relay, was captured by YSU with a 7-0 shutout. Final score: 56-57.
