-Weekend Thaw Brings Mud-

Pedestrians and motorists on the YSU campus yesterday met with rain and mud mostly as a result of warming trends during the weekend which melted January snow accumulations.

More cold weather is in store for area residents who took advantage of temporary "mild spell". Officials at the U.S. Weather Bureau at the Youngstown Municipal Airport predicted a high today of 12 degrees, with a low of 7 degrees and a chance of snow flurries throughout the day.

Social Rules Revised; Await Committee Review

Discrepancies over existing social rules has resulted in consideration to revise the University's Student Activity Regulations. A draft of revised

Neon Sign-Up Extended
Sign-up for the 1969-70 edition of the NEON has been extended to February 11, John Moritz, editor, announced yesterday.

regulations issued last week by the Ad Hoc Committee on Social Regulations, was approved yesterday by Student Council, and awaits review by the Student Affairs Committee Friday.

The draft deleted rules concerning women's visitation hours in fraternity houses and hours at which social functions might end. Under the new rules most regulations relating to fraternities and sororities would be adopted by Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic Council with the approval of the Student Affairs Committee.

Council approved the measure only after amending the "general" section of the rules to permit beer at open social functions.

Dean Edith Painter, Student Affairs Committee member and Pan Hellenic advisor, stated yesterday that she is dissatisfied with parts of the draft. Dean Painter said some of the sections need further revision but declined to elaborate on the draft at this time.

Recommendations to update and eliminate most of the existing regulations were made by Dan Chrison, Student Council Discipline Committee chairman, last December when he determined that many of the rules were violated and could not be enforced.

Dana Break Blamed On Poor Security

Damage to a $7,000 Steinway piano Saturday in the practice barn of the Dana School of Music has resulted in allegations of poor security around the school and counter-charges of too many students having keys and access to the practice barn.

One allegation was made yesterday by Rod Wollam, Student Council representative from Dana, after the discovery of the damage led to a security investigation. He said security is inadequate.

Bruce Katz, a freshman music major, said that he entered the practice cubicle at 12:30 p.m. Saturday and found the baby grand piano with its leg removed and the main carriage of the piano resting on the floor.

Katz said that the window of the room was opened about six inches and that there were pry marks on the outside of the sill and frame.

Robert Brown, investigating security officer said, "There was no sign of breaking and entering. The pry marks on the window were old ones and the window has been found open repeatedly."

In his allegation, Wollam said, "Security rounds around the barn and the school itself are at a minimum." He added that the doors are hinged on the outside and locked with chains attached to the door-jam making them very easy to open.

Officer Brown said that scheduled rounds are not made because they are grossly ineffective, adding that security at Dana is unique because so many students have keys and access to the buildings at odd hours of the night.

Officer Brown noted in surveying the damage, that there were no castors on the piano and that damage may have resulted from someone trying to move it.

Further investigation by the Jambar yesterday, however, showed the castors were present.

Sister Agnes Jean Lavin, acting chairman of the department, stated that the Steinway piano is a very delicate instrument and the most prized instrument among the piano students, being a hallmark of the piano field.

She said a damage estimate will not be made until tuners are able to investigate internal damage.

Rod Wollam, Dana School of Music Student Council representative, and Sister Agnes Jean Lavin, acting chairman of the piano department, inspect the piano leg which was forcibly removed from the Steinway baby grand during an alleged break at the Dana practice barn Saturday.

Cleveland Law Chief Denies Mafia Bribe

CLEVELAND, Ohio AP — New Cleveland Police Chief William P. Ellenburg today firmly denied charges that he had shared in Mafia bribes and said he had no plans to resign.

Ellenburg held a news conference to answer allegations raised in stories by the Detroit Free Press and Cleveland Plain Dealer, both of which reported statements by Mafia lawyer Lawrence Burns of Detroit.

Ellenburg, a retired Detroit officer named Cleveland's chief last week, said he had told his own attorney to initiate lawsuits against Burns and the Free Press, but he did not indicate the nature of the suits or the amount of damages which might be involved.

Burns was quoted in both newspapers as saying Ellenburg and other Detroit policemen had shared in bribes averaging $1,000 a month which Burns paid to protect an abortion operation.

"I categorically deny all these allegations in their entirety," Ellenburg told newsmen today. "I refuse to enter into a rock throwing contest with Mr. Burns," Ellenburg said.

Minor Incidents Result From Forced Integration

MISSISSIPPI AP — Only minor protests developed Monday as court-ordered school desegregation spread to several more Southern school systems meeting a Feb. 1 deadline.

Seven more school districts in Mississippi were integrated without incident. Schools in three Louisiana parishes opened without incident and with near normal attendance under new desegregation plans.

Minor pupil and parent protests occurred at two Alabama districts.

Mississippi files federal injunction.

In Washington, the State of Mississippi asked the Supreme Court to block federal school desegregation directives. The petition, naming U.S. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and Robert H. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare, charged that federally imposed desegregation plans violated the Constitution, federal law and Supreme Court decisions.

The petition charged that desegregation orders had the effect of actually creating and permitting continued operation of all white and all black schools.

Florida's attorney general, Earl Faircloth, told school officials they must obey federal court orders on desegregation and ignore Gov. Claude Kirk's threat of executive action against them.

Kirk had issued an executive order prohibiting busing of pupils to achieve integration.

Punxy Phil Predicts End Of Winter

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa. (AP) — Punxsutawney Phil, the weather forecasting groundhog, refused to come out of his hole to look at his shadow Monday and jubilant members of the Punxsutawney Groundhog Club planned to celebrate the rare occurrence with an extraordinary banquet. It was only the fourth time in the 89 year history of the club that a groundhog failed to see his shadow, thus predicting an almost immediate end to winter weather.

Rights Atty. Calls Carswell Civil Rights 'Obstructionist'

WASHINGTON AP — A surprise witness testified today that Supreme Court nominee G. Harold Carswell, while a U.S. district judge in Tallahassee, Fla., had a reputation as an obstructionist in civil rights cases.

The testimony before the Senate Judiciary Committee was given by Ernest H. Rosenberger, a New York City lawyer, who said he served as a volunteer counsel for civil rights workers in the Florida panhandle in the summer of 1964.

Most of his testimony dealt with a case in which nine clergymen were sentenced to jail by a city judge in Tallahassee after they had attempted to integrate the airport there, and their subsequent efforts to obtain release through a habeas corpus petition.

Rosenberger contended that Carswell had told the city attorney how to circumvent an order of the 5th U.S. Court of Appeals by reducing the sentence of the clergymen to the time they had already spent in jail.

The witness said the effect was to wipe out the clergymen's standing to get a hearing on their habeas corpus petition and to leave them with a permanent criminal record.

His interpretation was challenged by Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska and other Republicans on the committee.

The calling of Rosenberger delayed the scheduled appearance of leaders of civil rights organizations to testify in opposition to Carswell's nomination.

Clarence Mitchell, director of the Washington office of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said in prepared testimony that a white supremacy statement made by Carswell 22 years ago was enough in itself to cause rejection of Carswell's nomination.

Carswell, now a judge on the 5th U.S. Court of Appeals, testified last week that the ideas he expressed in a political speech in 1948 pledging allegiance to white supremacy and racial segregation are now abhorrent and obnoxious to him.

However, Mitchell said that no attempts to dismiss the statement as one made in the heat of a campaign "will ever be accepted by most Negroes of the United States and most civilized people in the world" as a legitimate excuse for approving the nomination.

Hearings Ended

Committee Chairman James O. Eastland had said Monday's session would wind up the hearings, with a vote possible on Tuesday.

High Court Denies Powell Back Pay

WASHINGTON AP — The Supreme Court rejected today an attempt by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D N.Y., to recover the $55,000 in congressional pay he lost when he was excluded from the 90th Congress.

The court also declined to establish Powell's right to seek recovery of the $25,000 fine he paid in January, 1969, as a condition to taking his seat in the 91st Congress.

The court had left these issues unsettled last June when it ruled 7 to 1 that Congress acted unconstitutionally in unseating the Harlem Negro Democrat.

Federal Judge George L. Hart Jr. of the District of Columbia ruled subsequently that Powell would have to prove he has "clean hands" before he may recover the lost pay. This means lawyers for the House would have a chance to argue that at least part of the $55,000 should be withheld on grounds Powell had misappropriated at least $46,000 in government funds.

Powell's lawyers then petitioned the Supreme Court, insisting that since the exclusion had been held illegal, its consequences—loss of pay, the fine and also the loss of his 22 years' seniority—were also illegal and must be rectified.

But the justices turned down their appeal and request for a hearing without comment except the notation that Chief Justice Warren E. Burger did not participate in the case.

Powell has been paying the fine at the rate of $1,150 a month deducted from his House pay check.

Fr. Lucas To Run For U.S. Congress

Father Joseph R. Lucas, associate professor of philosophy, who announced his candidacy for Congress last Friday, said yesterday his position as a priest is irrelevant to his candidacy because he is running as a civilian with citizen's rights and responsibilities.

Questioned specifically on possible congressional legislation on birth control and abortion, Fr. Lucas said he would be guided by "ethical principles and the rationale of the problem in question." The Roman Catholic church has opposed to artificial birth control and abortion.

Vietnam, poverty, education, and efficiency in government as well as decreased expenditures, air and water pollution and more equalized taxes are issues Fr.

Lucas said that will guide his campaign.

Fr. Lucas's education includes 11 earned degrees, four of which are doctorates: in philosophy, theology, canon law, and civil law. He is an attorney in the state of Ohio.

Dr. Lucas has been at YSU since 1947 as a member of the Philosophy department — part of the time as co-chairman.

Dr. Lucas said of his candidacy, "I think my educational background, teaching, and work experience provides the qualifications necessary to analyze the facts to reach critical and prudent judgements about proposed legislation and its value to the people of this district and the nation as a whole."

Pugsley Nixes New Univ. Tuition Hike

In light of requests for fee increases at six Ohio state universities, Dr. Albert L. Pugsley, YSU President, said that he sees no increases in the fees at the university until "after the 1970-71 school year, and may not even then if we can get away with prudent budgeting of fees now being collected"

Dr. Pugsley added that inflation was the reason behind the increases asked for in relation to the Kilcawley Student Center dormitories and cafeteria, and that as far as he could see, there was no reason for increases in other fees at Youngstown.

He said "We have the lowest fees of any of the state universities in Ohio, and this is regarded as most important to the students. We could find places to spend the money, but with prudent budgeting we can make it through at least the next school year without an increase."

The school president feels that Youngstown can continue to grow along with the rest of the state universities without any increases for a while, but expects them to eventually come as the university grows. Other schools asking for increases are: Ohio University, Bowling Green State University, Miami University, Kent State University, and the Universities of Toledo and Akron.

Fans are urged to arrive early since the doors will be closed once the field house capacity is reached.

They've got just the spot for you.

Maybe you sweated four years to lose your identity. To become a bit of information stored in a computer.

Well, congratulations.

You've got plenty of chance to become just that in our depersonalized, do-not-fold-spindle-or-mutilate world.

What you don't have is much chance of escaping the numbers game and holding on to your identity.

Maybe we can give you that chance.

We're Hoover.

Council Says No To Part-Time Prexy

A constitutional amendment which would have allowed the President of Student Body to be a part-time student failed at yesterday's Student Council meeting by a 8-14-0 call vote. An amendment to the original motion which clarified the fact that the Presidential contender had to be a full-time student while running for the office also failed.

RAL Larry Simko had introduced the amendment saying "If the President is registered for 12 hours and has to drop a course he's up a creek without a paddle; he would have to eat up an F."

After Council adjourned Simko stated, "a very high correlation can be drawn between most of the people who voted this motion down and the people who do a minimum amount of work on Council."

The "yes" votes for the constitutional amendment were cast by Barsodi, Crishon, Dell Arco, Fleisher, Kurjan, Leone, Simko, and Stubbs. The votes against the motion were cast by Carasi, Figerrelli, Gates, Hackett, Hedland, Hettler, Marquard, Miller, Python, Saban, Schiffauer, Vasilchik, Wollam, and Yozwiak.

Letters To The Editor Criticizes Forum Debate Results

To the editor of the Jambor,

Last Thursday night I had the honor and privilege of participating in a debate concerning the abolishment of the Greek system here on campus. I would like to thank the huge number of concerned independent students of YSU who saw fit to come to this debate (all five). Maybe YSU is indeed apathetic.

In regards to the matter of reference material, my colleague, Larry Slifka was criticized for using a report about fraternities which was printed in a high school magazine, Senior Scholastic. However, when a member of the negative side (retention of the status-quo) quoted several reference room magazines published by different social fraternity organizations, no questions were raised concerning the possible lack of objectivity of these sources.

The last point is in regards of the Greeks holding 24 out of 25 seats on Council (actually 23). 70% of the greeks on council are more concerned about the prestige their being on council brings to the house, rather than the work they could do for the student body. If everyone on Council were as concerned for the welfare of the student body as Pete Isgro and a few others on Council (one or two), then something might be done. However, since Council does basically nothing of importance (are social activities really that important!), then those 25 Council members had better check to see if they are putting all they can into council. If they aren't, they have no right to run for re-election.

Thank you,
 Larry Simko

Applauds Fight Against Pollution

To the editor of the Jambor,

I am applauding President Nixon's decision to fight pollution also the Jambor's article on the same subject!

For as one drives to Youngstown by way of route I-680 on a cloudy day all one can see is smog and the clear water of the Mahoning River.

In the sixties, youth and blacks fought to end the old draft systems and to get equal rights and an end to the war in Vietnam. Now as we move into the seventies I believe that the youth of America can and must fight for some of the things that we have complained that the adult society has ruined for us.

In Youngstown right near the college all one has to do is look to Belmont Avenue, there one sees a cloud of black smoke rising up every day. There you and I sit in our classes looking out the windows complaining about how bad it smells but we still don't do anything.

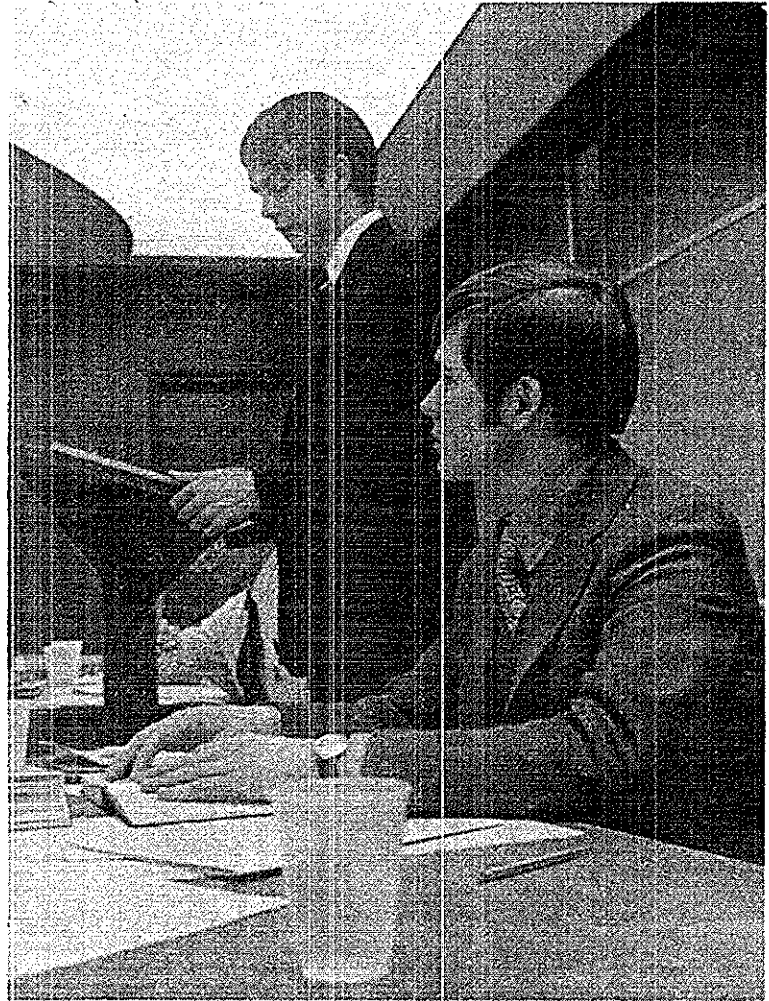

Youth applauds itself on the new ideas of showing rights to blacks, poor and in general all the minority groups. But do we ever think about how each day we are letting the big business of this country kill millions through pollution while we are still sitting in certain coffee houses and bars condemning the adult world while we do nothing.

I marched in the moratorium just like thousands of other young people but I believe that in the case of pollution, youth cannot stop and take it easy on their rear ends but rather youth should start new to do something for if we wait there'll be no time for any moratoriums in the future.

Alex Hector

Al Miller (standing) and Ray Yozwiak upheld the negative side of the fraternity and sorority debate Friday evening. An audience vote awarded the decision to the pair who debated against Larry Slifka and Larry Simco.

Forum Debate Ends With Pro-Greek Vote

The Greek System is here to stay, according to the unanimous decision of those who attended the Youngstown State University Debate Forum's first meeting Thursday evening. Larry Slifka, Larry Simko, Ray Yozwiak, and Al Miller debated the resolution that "The Greek System should be abolished on this campus."

Slifka and Simko represented Independents. They based their case on the idea that sororities and fraternities prevent a person from choosing his own friends and from being an individual.

Simko cited the fact that 24 of the 25 members of Student Council are Greek. He questioned whether or not these 24 Greek students could effectively pass laws for the 90 per cent of the YSU students who are Independents.

However, the Greek supporters were quick to argue that few Independents bother to run for Student Council.

Yozwiak pointed out that events such as Friday night dances, Homecoming, and Winter Weekend owe their success to the energies of those involved on sororities and fraternities.

Miller concluded the debate, noting that belonging to a sorority or a fraternity, like any other extracurricular activity, "can hurt your grades if you fail to take time to study. But, he continued, "Being a Greek can also mean being a better student—one who is more spirited, more dedicated, and more involved."

Some office jobs are more interesting than others.

In the old days if a man wanted to be an executive and craved adventure too, he could skipper a clipper ship.

Today... the clippers are gone... but the superpersonics are here. And swashbuckling executives still get their chance.

That's maybe a million bucks worth of plane. And when you fly it the responsibility's all yours.

If you'd like to mull that over every time you bank or roll at 1,400+ mph, try for Officer Training School after you graduate from college. Also, remember the nice idea of yourself, an Air Force pilot, captain of all you command, getting to visit foreign ports like the clipper captain of yore.

SC Election Forms Deadline Extended

The deadline for Student Council election applications has been extended to 3:30 p.m. Thursday February 5, due to a lack of candidates from the School of Business and the Technical and Community College.

Dr. Howard To Speak
 Dr. James F. Howard of Ohio University, sponsored by the Geology Department, will speak at 2:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Thursday, February 5, at Ward Beecher, Room 407.
 His first lecture will be on the neogene biostratigraphy and paleogeography of North and South Carolina.
 The evening lecture will concern the Florida Keys as a geocological study area.

At Student Council yesterday Don Leone, Election chairman, said the extension was necessary because Council's constitution calls for at least two candidates for each open seat. To date three more students are needed from business, and two more the Technical and Community College.
 Leone said if the needed applications are not filed by the deadline, deans of the two schools will choose students and inform them that they are running for Student Council.

Success On Line Against Gannon

Tomorrow night a seventeen game winning streak, two national rankings, a post season tournament selection, and a coach's 400th victory will be put at stake against a traditional rival. Sound like a script from an old Pat O'Brian movie? It isn't. It's the very real background of YSU's big game with the Gannon College (Erie, Pa.) Knights tomorrow night at Austintown Field House.

The Penguins will put their 17 game winning streak on the line against Coach Denny Bayer's Knights in the perennial meeting of the two teams. Youngstown holds a 23-14 series edge in the rivalry. The teams traded home court wins last year with the Penguins winning in overtime at South Field House 70-67, but losing at Erie 74-70.

Both teams hold high national rankings in the small college wire polls. YSU is ranked 3rd in the AP and Gannon 12th, but the Knights are four notches above YSU's tenth position in the UPI poll. A bid to the NCAA's Small College Regional Tournament may be extended to the winner.

Selection for the regional tournament will be made at the end of this month.

The stage for the big game was set when the Penguins demolished the hosting Steubenville College eagles last Saturday afternoon by an 86-52 score. YSU's defense forced Steubenville to make only 14% of their shots. Billy Johnson led the Penguins with 34 points. YSU lost the services of starter Ron Smith for the game. Smith, who averages 15 points a game, sprained his ankle and may have to sit out the Gannon game also.

Veteran coach Dom Rosselli will have additional incentive to win the Gannon game. Apart from the fact that Coach Rosselli would consider any season a successful one if his team defeated Coach Denny Bayer's Knights, Rosselli will be after his 400th coaching victory. Only seven living coaches have won more than 100 games.
