Trustees Approve Hike In Dorm Fee

Authorization to increase dormitory and food service fees effective Fall Quarter, have an architect design and prepare drawings for the proposed expansion of Kilcawley Student Center, and plan and construct an electrical power substation on the University grounds was granted by the Board of Trustees at their regular meeting yesterday.

The appointment of an architect to design and prepare working drawings for Kilcawley remodeling and addition will be made by the director of the Ohio Department of Public Works, and is expected to take six weeks.

The University is currently in the final stages of revising plans that call for construction of the first of two proposed units to be built on to Kilcawley. Estimated cost of the first unit is between $3.5 to $4.0 million.

Funding for the Kilcawley expansion will be drawn from the University's building fund. The fund which draws its revenue from student fees, presently totals about $2.7 million. Mr. Joseph Rook, vice-president for financial affairs stated that the University adds approximately $.5 million to the building fund every six months from the student fees. $4 million is needed in the fund before work can begin on the project. Groundbreaking is expected in two years.

The first unit of the proposed expansion is expected to provide additional meeting, recreational and cafeteria space to Kilcawley. Unofficial plans for the second unit of the expansion call for a 2000 seat auditorium. Expansion to Kilcawley will be financed without the use of state funds.

Anticipating expanded electrical power needs due to University expansion, the trustees also authorized the University, in conjunction with the Ohio Edison Company, to construct a single power substation on University grounds. The present University power hookup will not be able to supply power to the new Beeghly Physical Education Building or any other new building.

Cost for the new substation will not exceed $300,000 and it is expected the station will pay for itself within 10 years. The substation will take about two years to build.

Revised Financial Policy Proposed For Student Gov't

A new financial policy has been proposed for Student Government budgeting by Secretary of Finance Mike D'onofrio and Student Council Finance Chairman Chuch Hettler to be initiated in the area funding Student Council chartered groups.

Student Council presently allocates nearly $100,000 to academic, social and athletic organizations on campus.

A comprehensive reassessment will be made of each funded group under the proposed policy. Instead of requiring the finance committee to do massive investigations of arbitrarily chosen groups, each group will be required to submit along with their budget allocation request, an enumeration of present programs, an explanation as to how these funds will be used and justification for these funds.

New Procedure Explained

The second area to be affected by the new policy is that any organization who feels that they can justify funding by Student Government may make out the appropriate budget allocation applications following the same procedure presently funded groups follow.

Submitted to Public

The report filed by these groups who wish to be funded will be edited and compiled for public scrutiny. These reports will not only determine the amount of the groups allocation but also whether or not the group will be placed on the budget.

Winter Enrollment Up 735 Students

YSU enrollment for the Winter Quarter, 1970, has increased by 735 students over last year's total, Dr. Albert L. Pugsley, University president, announced yesterday. The substantial increase in students brings total Winter Quarter enrollment to 13,814 students.

Enrollment increases over last year showed significant gains in three of the University's six schools. The graduate school experienced a 60% enrollment gain over last year, the Technical and Community College a 59% increase, and Dana School of Music a 26% increase.

There was no significant change in the other schools.

Enrollment by undergraduate colleges shows the School of Business Administration with the most students, 3,640; followed closely by the College of Arts and Sciences with 3,554; the School of Education, 2,911; the Technical and Community College, 1,578; the Rayen School of Engineering, 1,292; and the Dana School of Music, 297.

Enrollment Breakdown

Enrollment breakdown by classes shows that 582 students are enrolled in the graduate school, 2,490 are classified as seniors, 2,536 as juniors, 3,343 as sophomores, and 4,730 as freshmen.

Students Named To YSU Senate

The last two non-voting seats on University Senate were filled yesterday, according to Pete Isgro, Student Government President, completing the student seats on that University body.

Gerald Burks and Phillip Dennison, both from the School of Business Administration received the seats, chosen from 12 new applications received by the Student Government.

According to Isgro, "There were no applications from the School of Engineering, the Dana School of Music, and the Technical and Community College. All twelve were from the School of Business Administration."

Already named to seats on the University Senate were Dan Chrison, Engineering; Greg Bednarcik, Engineering; Pete Isgro, Arts and Sciences; and Ted Brachfeld, Arts and Sciences. Brachfeld, Burks and Dennison are the only non-voting members of the Senate who do not hold Student Government positions.

First of Three Charged In Yablonski Murders

CLEVELAND, Ohio AP — The first of three men arrested in connection with the death of Joseph Yablonski, United Mine Workers insurgent, and his wife and daughter, was accused today of conspiring to kill Yablonski to keep him from testifying before a federal grand jury investigating labor activities. Claude Edward Vealey, 26, Cleveland, was charged with conspiring to kill Yablonski, illegally transporting a gun across state lines, and interfering with administration of justice. Arraignment was set for Jan. 30 in Cleveland.

Others to appear before a U.S. Commissioner today were Paul E. Gilly, 37, East Cleveland, and Aubran W. "Buddy" Martin, 23, Cleveland.

All three men were arrested in Cleveland Wednesday by FBI agents.

1100 Ohioans Are Deferred For February Lottery Limit

COLUMBUS, Ohio AP — As many as 1,100 Ohioans have received a temporary draft delay following a National Selective Service order limiting the state's lottery system.

Col. William P. Richardson, manpower chief for the Ohio Selective Service said from 600 to 1,100 men will escape February induction because of a national order limiting draft calls to lottery numbers of 60 or less next month.

Richardson said about 2,000 men were to have been called up in February to meet the state's quota of 991. The extras were being called for physicals to guard against physical rejections or last minute enlistments.

The National Selective Service issued the lottery limit to "maintain national evenness in the random sequence of lottery calls."

Nixon Gets Plea

WASHINGTON AP — The White House received an urgent Nigerian plea for aid today and President Nixon promptly ordered that the request be met "fully and on an emergency basis."

In announcing this, presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler listed these items which will be rushed to Nigeria to help relieve suffering in the former secessionist state of Biafra:

— Four 18-ton C97 cargo planes. The craft are now in Cotonou, Dahomey, neighboring Nigeria, and will be supplied for airlifting of relief goods inside Nigeria. International Red Cross hired crews will fly the planes.

— Two 10-ton DC6 planes. They are now in Iceland. They will also be flown to Lagos in Nigeria for service under arrangements similar to those for the C97s.

— Immediate airlifting from the United States to Nigeria of 50 generators, 10,000 blankets and 10,000 hurricane lamps for hospitals.

Ziegler said the aid ordered by Nixon, based upon a telephone call received from Lagos this morning, is in addition to U.S. relief previously earmarked to alleviate hunger and provide medical help in Biafra.

Should you drink beer straight from the bottle?

If you're on a blanket party or something, carrying along a glass is pretty clumsy. But when it's convenient, we think it's a shame not to use one. Keeping Budweiser inside the bottle or can is missing half the fun.

Those tiny bubbles getting organized at the top of your glass have a lot to do with taste and aroma. Most beers have carbonation pumped in mechanically. Not Budweiser. We go to a barrel of trouble and expense to let Budweiser create its own bubbles with the natural carbonation of Beechwood Ageing. So you really can't blame us for wanting you to get it at its best, can you?

Just for fun, pour your next four or five bottles of Buds into a glass. If you don't agree that the extra taste, clarity and aroma make a big difference, go back to the bottle.

We won't say another word.

Budweiser is the King of Beers.

(But you know that.)

YSU Students May Lose Deferments

Many YSU students could lose their educational deferments if the Nixon Administration passes the present proposals under study by the National Security Council and the Senate Armed Services Committee, it has been reported.

YSU's Dean of Admissions, Dr. James A. Scriven, explained that the new proposal would eliminate deferments for other than sophomore, junior, or senior students, or males having an occupational or parental deferment.

Dr. Scriven expressed concern as to the overall effect this proposal could have on the students presently enrolled at YSU. He feels "timing" is the most important thing to consider in speculation about retention of draft deferments if the proposal is passed.

"Under the lottery system students are not placed in such a precarious position," he said, and further explained, "if a need arises and it is necessary for a student to drop out of school he is at least more confident as to how 'safe' this step might be."

Dean Scriven felt the most important thing to consider as far as the University is concerned is the anticipation of an increased male enrollment, although he feels the University could handle projected increases.

Draft May Boost ROTC Program

The Army's chief of ROTC believes its 283 contingents will increase in enrollment if draft eligible students are stripped of their college deferments.

On campus yesterday inspecting the local ROTC unit, Brig. Gen. Melvin Goers reflected on the Nixon administration's selective service reforms and the effect they might have on Army ROTC.

He said the lottery system is so new that he is unable to determine an effect it will have on student's attitudes toward campus military training. He pointed to the Nixon proposal calling for an end to college deferments as a factor which will increase the number of ROTC applicants.

Enrollment in the advanced course guarantees a deferment until graduation and the General argued that the likelihood of military service will increase if deferments are cut and most students would prefer officer status if they must enlist.

Opposed To Course Section In Drug Bill

A conference of college editors panel discussion last week included Rep. George Mastics, 52nd Ohio House of Representatives, who introduced into the legislature Monday an omnibus drug bill. During the discussion, Rep. Mastics indicated that the bill is a "cover-all" aimed at changing the entire structure of drug legislation in Ohio. Though many of the bill's provisions are good and indicate a progressive awareness of the drug problem in Ohio, one section calling for the mandatory teaching of a course on drugs in Ohio public schools has the potential of maintaining the deplorable mythology which surrounds the drug issue.

Rep. Mastics said the provision requires that a 15-20 hour course "the harmful nature of drugs and drug laws" be taught to juniors and seniors in Ohio public schools. During questioning, the representative said the bill does not prescribe specifically what will be taught, and does not specify sources from which factual material will be taken. He presumed that local boards of education would determine the course make-up.

It was the view of the editors present, and this paper, that the drug course provision might lead to severely uniformed and prejudiced presentation of the drug issue and might perpetuate the widespread mythology which permeates the atmosphere of every drug discussion.

Social and physical scientists throughout the country disagree about the effects many drugs have on users. All apparently agree that a vast amount of research must be done. So many different attitudes exist that an attempt in 20 hours to present all of the prevailing attitudes would be impossible; anything less than the full account would be meaningless.

This paper will attempt to enlist the support of every college newspaper in Ohio to amend the mastic's bill removing the drug course provision.

Letters To The Editor Defends Advertising Audience

To the editor of the Jambar:

In reference to "Letters To The Editor" in Tuesdays Jambar, titled "Thank You To YSU." In my opinion, it was somewhat of a satire of university, and its organizations. It didn't make much sense, it was too vague, and in general, said a lot of nothing.

It seems to me that their main complaint was that Winter Weekend Advertising was delayed purposely in order that the fraternities could have first chance at the tickets. This is partially true.

The advertising was delayed, but only for the purpose of cutting [sic] down the number of tickets sold. That is to say, that only 3500 tickets were printed for Winter Weekend and it was felt that if the advertising were kept to a minimum, the tickets would last till the end of the week so everyone would have an equal chance to purchase them.

Anyone could have found out when Winter Weekend was by simply referring [sic] to the student handbook, (Penguin Coop).

These books were printed before Fall Quarter began and all students had access to them.

In Penguin's Coop, there is a social calendar covering all social events starting with Fall Quarter and ending with the Spring Quarter.

If these people would spend a little less time composing long winded Letters To The Editor and more time consulting such books as the Penguins Coop they might know when the next social event will take place.

Bill McKinstry

Criticizes Audience

To the editor of the Jambar:

From the Enobled ivy-colored halls of Kilcawley down the spectre of the academic tradition, which has so often typified the YSU "semi-intellectuals" rose once more in all its splendid apathetic make-violence at the Winter Weekend concert. On the floors of the Struthers Fieldhouse the emigration scenes from the Great Potato Famine of the 1840's were re-enacted during the middle of the Rascals' performance. Displaying a definite lack of appreciation of the musicianship of Felix Cavalier et. al, these Vandal hordes trampled heedlessly upon their fellow students in their hasty evacuation.

It was obvious that this "open house of ignorance" had little effect upon such true pro-professionals as the Rascals. When such groups play in the sweat-sock circuit, they undoubtedly expect such things to happen. However, when we pay $2.50 for a ticket we do not expect this to occur. Rather than seeing the Rascals, we were treated to such mind-expanding scenes as co-eds donning their regalia or a future leader adjusting his belt buckle, and other virtual abrogations of cultural and social consideration. We can appreciate the fervor of those souls who went rushing head-long among the bodies of their fellow students in a mad attempt, no doubt, to attend late Mass.

It curiously never occurred to large segment of the non-audience that we came there to see and hear the Rascals—not them. Gratuitous verbal editorials and bits of erotic gossip were not appreciated when they competed, with the music. It was apparent that this group, (and unfortunate, perhaps) which in its naivete, brought only four Brobdnagian amplifiers, had not believed the half-hysterical tales of YSU concerts told to it by the Association and other groups.

Possibly the cultural deprivation bred on the cosmopolitan asphalt surface of Belmont Avenue might have caused this inability to understand the rapport necessary when a groups "jams". Whatever the reason, we would recommend that those with a strong instinct for survival stay home for the next "concert".

 In other board action, the Trustees increased dormitory and student food contracts $25.00 a quarter effective Fall Quarter, 1970. Separate meal contracts were increased $15.00 a quarter.

The action, which does not require Board of Regents approval, was necessitated by increases in food and food services over the last three years. Food prices have not been increased since the dorm was completed.

The increase will affect 210 dorm students and 50 meal contract students who now pay $325 and $190 per quarter respectively.

Full House At Gates— DJ's Rap On Rock

"Progressive rock is an experimental music." WHOT disc jockeys Boots Bell and Alan Scott told a standing-room only crowd of students and faculty Wednesday night at the Gates of Eden Coffeehouse.

Speaking about the popularity of progressive rock, they stated that it is primarily a "musician's music" and is, therefore, not usually among the top pop hits.

Boots Bell noted that rock has always been a form of protest, whether social, political, or anti-establishment. According to the "good guys", these songs "took the chance to argue at the world and get away with it."

He played excerpts from such songs as "Molly Malone" which he termed a protest against job discrimination against the 19th century Irish immigrants; "Midnight Special" which he discussed as a condemnation of injustices in prisons, and "The Eve of Destruction" which he termed simply a "slap at the Establishment".

Today's rock, according to the two, is a combination of blues, jazz, and folk tunes of the past updated with new electronic sounds.

WHOT disk jockeys Alan Scott and Boots Bell discuss the history of progressive rock at the Gates of Eden Coffeehouse.

Alan Scott cited the irony of listeners who were quick to criticize a "beautiful song" like Dylan's "Lay, Lady, Lay" (I Am Curious Yellow-radio style), but accepted without questions the songs "Honky Tonk Women" and "Jam Up Jelly Tight" which, he believed had even greater explicit sexual implications.

When asked about the future of progressive rock, the "good guys" could only answer that because rock music is "evolutionary and revolutionary rather than contemporary", it cannot be predicted.

Swin coach Ralph Johnson huddles with YSU swim team before Wayne State meet. Penguins won 61-48.

Swimmers Drown Wayne State 61-48

The YSU swim team notched their first victory of the 1970 season with 61-48 decision over Wayne State University, yesterday at the YMCA pool. It was the first win in three starts for the young tankers.

Freshman Mark Thompson led the Penguin swimmers with a record breaking victory in the 1000 meter freestyle, and was the meet's only double winner. Thompson established the new YSU record with a time of 11:31.4 in the event, one-tenth of a second faster than his old mark set by Thompson January 9 against Kentucky. Thompson also won the 500 meter freestyle in a time of 5:31.4.

YSU all-American divers Nick Gavolas and Dale Welk took turns winning the two diving events. Welk won the one meter board competition; Gavolas took honors off the three meter board. Gavolas placed second to Welk in the one meter diving, and Welk reversed the order in the three meter event.

Seek 14th Straight At Westminster—

Cagers Visit Titans

Unbeaten Youngstown State goes after win No. 14 tomorrow night when it concludes a four-game road trip with a stop at New Wilmington, Pa., to face Westminster's Titans.

The 8 p.m. varsity clash will be preceded by a 6 p.m. preliminary between the YSU junior varsity and Westminster frosh.

Although the Titans have a commanding 27-7 lead in the old rivalry, YSU has won six of the last seven meetings including three straight. Westminster was victim No. 4 earlier this season by a 106-74 margin. That contest renewed the series after a 12-year lapse, YSU winning both games in 1957-58 (79-55 and 92-65).

The Titans figure to be tougher at home and could employ stall tactics such as they tried unsuccessfully against Syracuse and Central State. Westminster did have Central State on the ropes for a short time, leading 13-12 at halftime.

The Blue and White of Harold Davis, who has announced he will resign at the end of the year, have won only two of six games since bowing to the Penguins. The Titans are 5-5 prior to tonight's (Jan. 21) game at St. Vincent with wins over Alliance (92-81), Carnegie-Mellon (73-67 in overtime), Waynesburg (70-68), Howard (63-61) and Washington & Jefferson (70-68 in overtime). Westminster losses were to YSU, Syracuse (89-51), Central State (43-30), Cleveland State (75-66) and Indiana U. of Pa. (70-51).

Davis will probably start Bill Samuels, a 6-0 senior from Farrell, Pa., and Gary Brown, a 6-0 junior from Mt. Lebanon, Pa., in the backcourt, Ted Schumacher, a 6-6 senior from Rittman, O., in the pivot, and Scott Greenwood, a 6-3 junior from Abington, Pa., and Randy Huey, a 6-1 junior from Butler, Pa., up front.

Dom Rosselli's charges, ranked 4th by the AP and 11th by the UPI, will also be shooting for their sixth straight road win, the best road streak in the past five seasons. Rosselli, assured of his tenth straight winning season, needs just five more wins to reach the select circle of coaches with 400 career victories. The Penguins will probably start 6-4 Bob Patton (7.7) and 6-3 Ron Smith (10.7) at forwards, 6-9 Will Teague (11.7) at center and 5-10 Bill Johnson (24.5) and 6-1 Gregg Merrill (9.5) at guards. Johnson had 22 tallies the first time around with the Titans. Chuck Montgomery (8.7), 5-9 sophomore guard who was high for that game with 34, should see plenty of action.

YSU closes out its January slate with three games next week. The Penguins host San Francisco State (1-10) on Monday (Jan. 26), Geneva (3-10) on Wednesday (Jan. 28) and travel to Steubenville (1-8) on Saturday (Jan. 31) for a 2 p.m. tilt.
