Preferential parking for Volkswagens and other small cars was eliminated yesterday on orders from Security Office Chief Paul Cress. Stories on page 3.

Asks Opinion—

Evaluation Sheets Sent To Faculty

Student Council's faculty evaluation questionnaire has been prepared and will be distributed immediately to the University's more than 800 full-time faculty for criticism and suggestions, Peter Isgro Student Government president, announced yesterday. The 25 question form was drafted by Penny Laakso Student Government vice president; Larry Simko, Student Council RAL; and Isgro.

Faculty members will have the opportunity to refuse circulations on the the form.

Present evaluation plans call for distribution of questionnaires to designated classes during the eighth and ninth week of this quarter. Students will distribute and collect the forms, the results will be processed by the University computing center, and the findings will be published for registration use next fall.

Evaluation questions are concerned with the instructor's communication, technique, policy, preparation, judgement, ability, and other general aspects of his effectiveness.

Procedures Established

Faculty will be evaluated on a "poor" to "excellent" scale.

Average scored of faculty by department, school and University will be listed along with each instructor's rating.

Dr. Phillip J. Hahn, chairman of the University Senate Executive Committee, who earlier said Student Government should present the questionnaire to the Senate's Student Affairs Committee and the Senate membership for approval, was not available yesterday for comment on Isgro's plan for distribution of the questionnaire to the faculty.

150 Students Involved

Isgro said that currently about 50 students have been approved to distribute and collect the evaluation forms. He predicted that another 100 students will be needed.

Student interested in working for the evaluation should apply at Council offices in Kilcawley Student Center.

Council Elections Set For Next Week

A total of 51 candidates have filed for Student Council election which will be held noon Monday and Tuesday, February 16 and 17. Each student may vote for only those in their school and a representative at large.

Neon Sign-Up

Closes Tomorrow

Sign-up for the 1970 Neon ends tomorrow, John Moritz, editor, said yesterday.

Students should pay at the Bursar's Office, first floor Jones.

Price is $1 for full-time students and $6 for part-time students and faculty.

Moritz stated that this year's Neon will be four separate books bound in a leather case.

Newman Will Support SIP

"Student Government obviously cannot be effective until it speaks for and serves the purposes of the entire student body," stated Fred Kurz, president of YSU's Newman Student Organization, in regard to the recent announcement that Newman plans to support the newly formed Student Independent Party in its attempt to gain four Student Council seats.

The party will sponsor: George Hanuschak, candidate for Liberal Arts; Elaine Pochiro, candidate for Representative at Large; Andy Brinko, candidate for Engineering; and Phyllis Zaleski, candidate for Education.

Social Rules Revised, Sent To YSU Senate

A draft of revised social regulations was passed with minor changes by the Student Affairs committee last Friday. The draft which was drawn up by the Ad Hoc Committee on Social Regulations and approved by Student Council, passed the Committee by a 12-1-1 vote and will be sent to the University Senate for final action.

Dean of Women, Dr. Edith Painter cast the only descending vote and will submit a minority report to the Senate concerning the rules revisions.

The Student Affairs Committee voted down a Student Council proposed addition that would have permitted beer at university social functions.

The bill deleted rules concerning women's visitation hours in fraternity houses and hours when social functions must end. Under the new rules most regulations relating to fraternities and sororities would be adopted by Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic Council with the approval of the Student Affairs Committee.

We Only Park Small Cars; Pull Your Rolls In Here

By Mark T. Shutes

A student came fuming into the Jambar office last Friday, demanding to know why his "little Valiant" was not allowed to be parked in the spaces reserved for small cars at the Spring Street student lot.

It was later learned that during the morning rush hours (7 to 9 a.m.) only "Volkswagens, Triumphs, Volvos, Opels, and Saabs" are permitted in the lower eastern section of the lot near the Dana Recital Hall. At least that's what the sign on the attendants' shack says.

Should there be an open space in this area and the rest of the lot is filled, one of the above cars would be allowed to pull ahead of the larger cars waiting in line and claim the space, even though it is often times large enough for any size car.

This preferential treatment of small cars brings an interesting question to light: who decides what is and what is not a small car?

Chief Paul Cress, University security head, answered the question by saying "What's the difference between a coin?"

Mr. Joseph Jennings, the attendant in charge of the Spring Street lot, said that he made up the sign and those named are only those cars which most frequently seek entrance. He added that other obviously small cars such as MGs and Fiats, were also admitted.

Jennings said after the rush hours are over, a few of the larger cars such as Mustangs, Mavericks, Valiants, etc., are allowed to part in the back row of the little quadrant.

Many problems arise out of this seemingly amicable system,

Writer Mark Shutes suggests that parking attendants at the Spring St. lot judge "small cars" by their national origin rather than by actual size. This might all change with the announcement that "small cars" will no longer receive preferential treatment at this lot.

Small Car Favors Ended In YSU Lots

Preferential parking for small cars in the Spring St. lot will be eliminated, announced Chief Security officer Paul Cress yesterday.

When questioned as to the change, Cress said that numerous complaints were received concerning the fact that available spaces in the lot reserved for small cars were denied to large car owners while smaller vehicles were directed around waiting large ones.

Cress said that, "30 to 50 less cars will be able to be parked due to the change but, if students want to run the lot I don't know what two full time attendants are being paid for."

At present the east end of the Spring St. lot accommodates 70 small cars.

Pugsley Sends Invitations To Servicemen

Over 1,000 Ohio servicemen currently stationed in Vietnam have received a personal letter from Youngstown State University president Albert L. Pugsley inviting them to attend YSU upon their discharge.

The letter, prompted by the U.S. Office of Education's "G.I. Project Memo: More Education, More Opportunity," encourages each man to apply for admission to YSU, citing the advantages of enrolling at the University.

According to William Livosky, YSU director of admissions, there are 30 Youngstown servicemen now in Vietnam who qualify for this program with another 105 from surrounding Ohio counties also eligible.

O'Hare Discussion

"Why the Unitarian Church of Youngstown invited Mrs. Madalyn Murray O'Hare to Speak on Atheism?" will be discussed at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, February 14 in Channing Hall of the First Unitarian Church on the corner of Elm and Illinois.

Everyone is invited to attend the forum.

Now you're on your way up.

Some people think getting to the top means scaling skyscrapers.

At Hoover, the top is on the fourth floor. Of a neat brick building. On tree-lined streets. In a quiet town. Where the air is fresh. And the horizon is sky.

That's where you'd start.

But not necessarily where you'd stay.

Hoover has 18 plants in 12 countries on 5 continents.

Two-thirds of the 17,000 Hoover people work overseas.

You don't have to go.

You might stay at Hoover's home office. Go into marketing, finance, manufacturing, engineering. Take graduate courses at the local colleges and university.

Or you might go to one of Hoover's 150 District Offices. And learn how we move over 80 different home products.

Whatever you do, you'll grow fast. You'll have to. Just to keep up. Hoover's a fast growing company.

First half sales in '69 were up 17%.

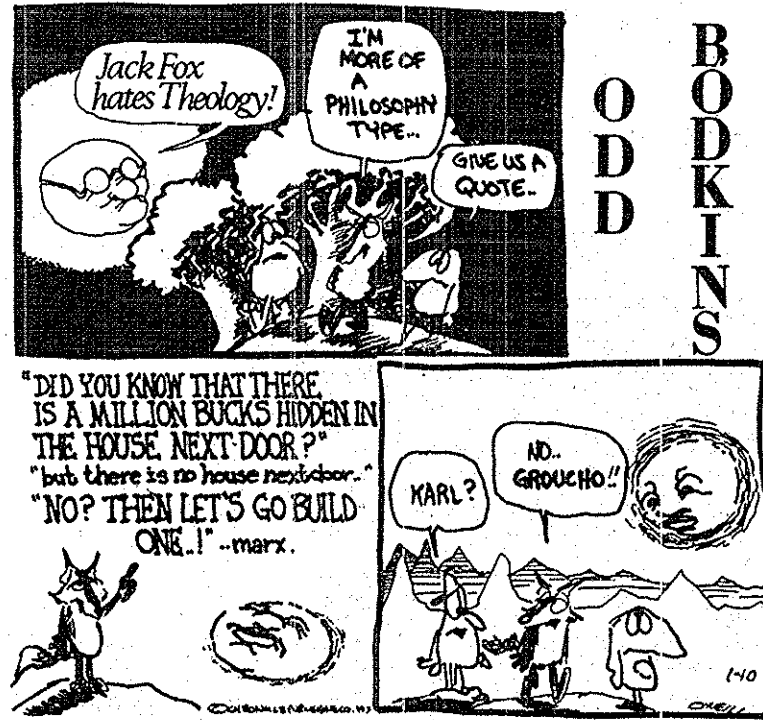

The year before wasn't a bad year, either. In 1968, Hoover's total net sales were over $287 million.

So, if you want to go up, go down to your placement office.

Sign up for an interview. We'll be on campus February 16.

University Forum Awakening Of The Silent Majority

Today, our society has generated a New Breed of People. These Persons are aware, awake, and alive; vibrating with the substance of life, from the inner to the cinema projection. Music, grass, and sex have been made the roots on which this new generation has based its philosophy.

"Peace" and "power to the people" have been slogans which sent the "Old Right Guard" straight to hell. This New Breed, the Beat Generation, the Jet Set, the Vette for Lunch Bunch, the cool sisters, and the hip brothers have made the Grand Ole Party sing along with us, cause without us, baby they is lost.

For years this country has filibustered, gerrymandered, inflated, watched the poor get poorer, helped the rich get richer, and now they have even shot the moon. Wow!

We, the ignorant, the uninterested, unconcerned mass of people were chosen to pay their taxes, fight their wars with no real power to "call a-"; well ring your charm baby, cause it's a new time and a new day and seldom seen, rarely heard from and the almost forgotten "Silent Majority" is beginning to hear that beat.

Can you dig it?

Letters To The Editor Calls Jambar Irresponsible

To the editor of the Jambar:

As a onetime journalist of four years with some of this nation's less renowned newspapers, I was more than a bit dismayed by the calibre of reporting evidenced in the Jambar's coverage of my recent discussion with Dr. Morris Slavin at the Gates of Eden Coffee House.

I suppose I should have anticipated the syntactic and semantic prattle which appeared in Friday's edition of your paper (especially after your reporter called my office Thursday morning, admitting that she did not understand much of what had been said the previous night save that I was "for the Jewish"), but I was ill-prepared for the consistent inaccuracies which marked your five paragraph spread.

First, while I do, in fact, share Professor Slavin's trepidations as to the fate of Israel and mankind because of the continuing Middle East crisis, I have never gone to the idiotic extreme of saying that "in the case of Viet Nam there are no such moral technicalities involved."

Second, the word which I coined for use last Wednesday, and which I repeated twice to your reporter Thursday morning, to explain America's increasing ostrichism in world affairs, its fear of power, fear of greatness, fear of using power even when a cause is just, was not "megalomania," but "megalophobia."

Third, the statement that America paid in the 1930's for the self-indulgence of the 1920's conjures up images of providential punishment imposed for the economic excesses of the earlier decade. In fact, I emphasized that because of this nation's disillusionment with crusades for peace after World War I, our national ennui bore fruit in terms of totalitarian aggression in the 1930's and 1940's. It was against a similar malaise that my remarks last Wednesday were directed.

That my views may not be popular, I readily concede. But if the press is to merit freedom, it must be more than honestly inept. It must be responsible.

Hits Preferential Parking

To the editor of the Jambar:

I am writing this letter as a message of "thank you" to our valiant Gestapo troops, who are at this moment manning the battlements at all of the YSU parking lots. These heroic men wage a constant war against the encroachment of the enemy i.e. the parkers.

They show no partiality to race, creed, color, sex, national origin, or student rights, or make up the majority of parkers. This exception is clearly evident in the "Parking Attendant's Bible" which clearly states "I am the Lord, thy Volkswagen, and thou shall park no other cars before ME."

This exception is only right and just, because we all know that Aryan cars are superior. Thus, inescapable logic leads us to the conclusion that anybody that drives a Volkswagen is superior and of a higher order than we poor peasants that make up the majority of parkers. I also feel that because of the Inalienable rights of these Volkswagen drivers, even though we pay the same exorbitant fee to park in these pot-holed, dangerous, muddy, overcrowded lots, they should have the first choice of any parking spaces available.

Thank you, to the Powers that Be

Wants Better Registration

To the editor of the Jambar:

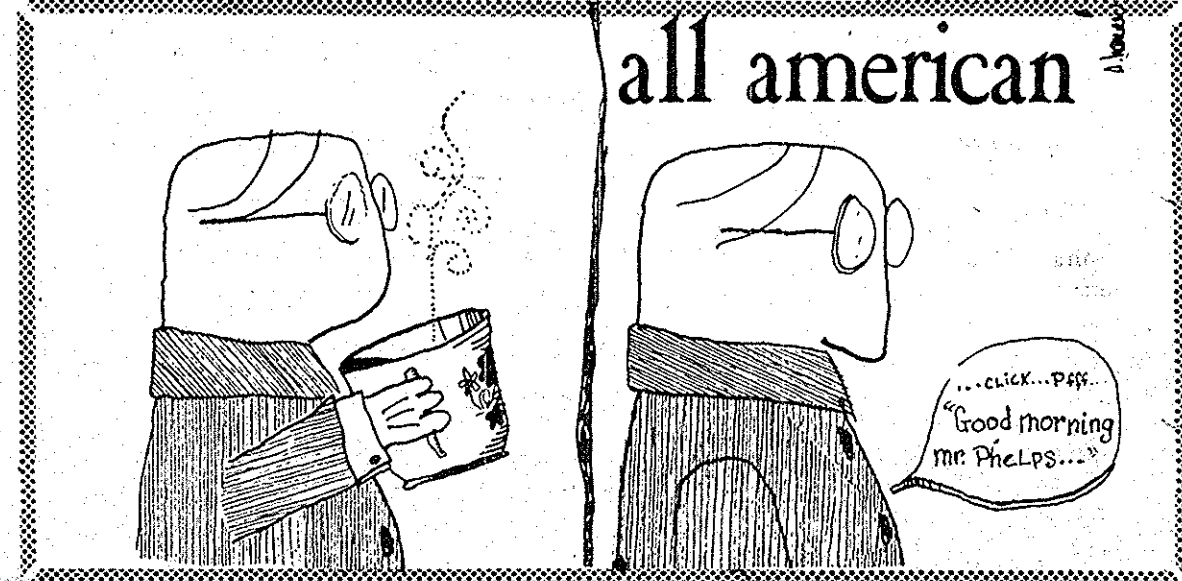

Recently, I conducted an informal campus poll to obtain student opinion of registration for winter quarter classes. It was my hope to improve communication between the student body and members of student-faculty committees.

The registration system used for winter classes of 1970 was found satisfactory by a 140-27 margin in the poll. Although the number of students contacted was a relatively small percentage of the student body, the trend seemed to justify that a majority of the student body found registration satisfactory. However, some students felt the registration process was unsatisfactory; it is these students to whom I appeal to of constructive suggestions for improving registration. I will meet any YSU student who feels that he has a solution to any registration problem; I will be in the lobby of the Engineering Science Building on February 18 and 20, from 11-12 noon, and from 6-7 p.m. I plan to introduce the suggestions that students have already made at the next meeting of the Student-Faculty Committee on Registration and Academic Guidance.

Should a student's grade suffer because he has not attended classes regularly?

This question was posed recently to many YSU students and teachers in reference to a recent Jambar article discussing an official policy needed to clarify faculty grading policy on class attendance.

Based on a majority of the YSU students and teachers polled, they agreed that a student's grade shouldn't suffer for lack of attendance unless it was that type of course where you had to attend to do the work required.

Ed Bidek, freshman political science major, said that attendance shouldn't affect grades except in courses where class participation is part of the grade. David Care, junior education major, said if a student can understand the material by not attending class and pass the course his grade shouldn't suffer. Jack Petralli, senior business administration major, said students are paying for their education and should be able to obtain this knowledge as they desire provided they show some proof they have met the standards of the course.

Mrs. Carolyn Martindale, instructor in journalism, said that in classes where participation is essential, a student's grade should suffer for not attending class, but where tests are the only basis for a grade no penalty should be given. Mr. Stephen Grovich, radio broadcasting and speech instructor, said no, the grade should represent the student's mastery of the subject. In certain subject areas attendance could be a critical factor in the student's commitment of learning and in others attendance means nothing.

Lack Of Space Halts New Self Service Bookstore

Only one obstacle stands between YSU students and the long awaited self-service bookstore—Space.

According to George Conner, Manager of Bookstore Services, self service facilities take more space than the present counter type service.

Recently, Conner installed a small self service section for soft goods which will eventually encompass the office space in the rear of the building.

However, a fully self-service Bookstore cannot be realized without sacrificing more than office space.

Despite the shelving problems, Conner is still considering shifting the Bookstore to self service. If instituted in the fall of 1970, the store will be a "browsing" facility year round, except during the rush periods at the beginning of each quarter.

He explained that this plan is only tentative and will depend upon forthcoming economic figures because extensive remodeling of the existing building will be a "waste" if a larger bookstore is to be included in the Student Union coming within two to four years.

Conner emphasized, however, that regardless of when and how the self service store came into existence, the YSU Bookstore was not going to compete with local merchants, but would remain as academically inclined as possible by handling only textbooks, supplementary readings, and goods symbolically representing the University."

"The Palestinian Struggle As Seen by Young Arabs: New Approaches To An Old Problem," is the topic for Wednesday night's program at the Gates of Eden.

The program was prompted by last week's controversy during Dr. Slavin and Dr. Friedman's discussion of the Middle East situation. which is designed to save space in the lot. In the first place, the attendants are all too prone to judge a car's size by its national origin. Their criteria seems to be that any car that is foreign is small, even if it's a Mercedes Benz or a Volkswagon bus. Also, while Volkswagons are disturbingly small in length, they are only about four inches smaller than a Dodge Dart in width, and about six inches smaller in width than a Camaro, both of which are about two to four inches wider than a Corvair or a Maverick.

In other words, if you include room between cars to allow for the opening and closing of doors, any of the smaller American cars would fit in those tightly guarded spaces with relative ease, and yet they often aren't permitted to park there. Either the attendants are deliberately trying to undermine the American economy by "Anyone interested in the possibilities of movies should not miss the show. The Kinetic Art represents... the most interesting things being done... things that cannot be duplicated in any other art form."

Injuries Plague Team, Drop Second At More

Dimom Rosselli is probably wondering if it was worth it all. His 400th victory at the expense of Gannon last week was supposed to be the charm of an unbeaten season. Back to back defeats, to Central State (67-52) and to Thomas More (77-59) last night, indicate that victory might have been his jinx.

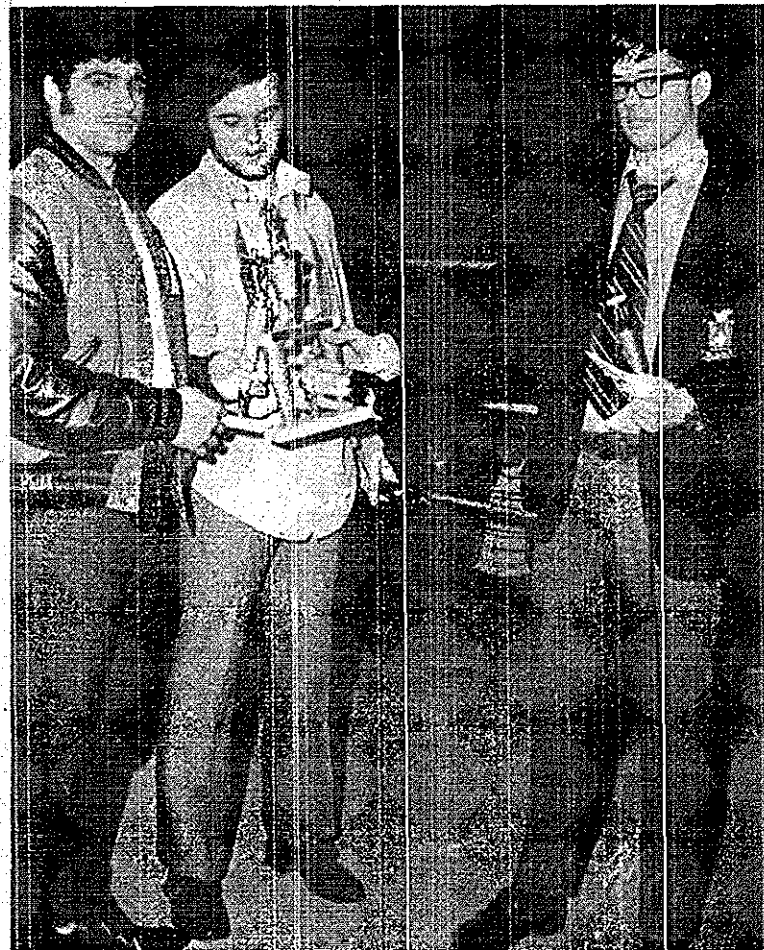

Shooting star Billy Johnson and Ron Smith did not play in either game.

Central State once again broke a Penguin consecutive game win streak with a 77-52 win in Wilberforce. The Marauders, who snapped a 17 game consecutive win streak in 1964, ruined YSU's chances for a nineteenth straight win on Saturday night. Sterling Quant had 23 points for CSU, while Chuck Montgomery had 22 points for the losing Penguins.

Last night, the Penguins encountered problems. In addition to injuries, the team was hampered by what Joe Valicenti, WBBW radio announcer, termed a "so-called Thomas More "team". Valicenti referred to the referees who called 42 personal and two technical fouls on Youngstown, and less than 20 personal fouls on Thomas More.

Valicenti, while broadcasting the game from Covington, Kentucky, announced the game's chief referee officiated Thomas More's eighteenth straight home game. Starters Jeff Skeeles and Will Teague fouled out early in the game.

Chuck Montgomery led YSU with 22 points.
