

Gov. Rhodes Hears Students, Faculty; To Meet Trustees

Governor Rhodes met with 12 faculty members from the 12 state supported universities yesterday in Columbus, but most delegates left without commenting.

One faculty delegate from the University of Akron told the press that she personally opposed faculty members on the boards of trustees. Dr. Frank Tarantini, chairman of the executive committee of the University Senate, represented YSU at the meeting, but had not returned from Columbus by press time.

The Associated Press reports that Rhodes plans to meet next week with the collective boards of trustees of the Universities, but YSU board members have not been advised.

These meetings were an outgrowth of a meeting Wednesday that Rhodes held with 60 student leaders to discuss recent campus disorders. The meeting originated with a proposal by Peter J. Isgro, YSU student government president. At the meeting, Rhodes replied favorably to student requests that students and faculty be appointed to each school's board of trustees. Rhodes promised to recommend the idea to the general assembly.

Rhodes stated that he would send copies of legislation before the house to student government leaders so that students may form an effective lobby.

A restructure of the state system, placing the 12 state supported universities under one governing board, as suggested by the students, will be relayed to the Board of Regents, according to Rhodes.

Honor Students Receive Awards

Students in the top one percent of Youngstown State University's six schools and colleges and along with other outstanding students, were recognized and honored at the University's Eleventh Annual Honors and Awards Program held Tuesday (May 26) at the C.J. Strouss Memorial Auditorium.

Dr. Leon Rand, professor and chairman of the department of chemistry, was the main speaker for the occasion. His topic was entitled, "New Goals For Science". In noting the students being honored, Dr. Rand said, "Each of you is rightfully proud of your successful efforts, and your pride is shared by all of us at the University because we see in you some of the results of our own efforts."

Dr. Albert L. Pugsley, University president, welcomed guests and honor students to the Honors Day Program, and Dr. William H. Coffield, vice president for academic affairs, spoke briefly on the purpose of Honors Day. Dr. Coffield and Dr. John J. Coffelt, vice president for administrative affairs, then presented the special awards. The presentation of class honors was made by the deans of the various schools and colleges of the University.

The Rev. Joseph Lucas, associate professor of philosophy and religious studies, delivered the invocation, while the Rev. Burton N. Cantrell, Protestant chaplain, gave the benediction.

The YSU pin recipients, who were cited for scholarship and leadership, are Karen Epperson, Michael Foley, Peter J. Isgro, Penelope J. Laakso, and Patricia Richards.

Arrested Student Found Dead In Cell

Two Youngstown State University students were arrested yesterday morning following a narcotics raid on their apartment at 30 West Madison Avenue, apartment three.

Dennis John Leheny, a graduate student in the school of Arts and Sciences, and Robert J. Quinn, a student of the Technical and Community College are presently awaiting arraignment on charges of possession of narcotics.

Bulletin

Robert J. Quinn was found dead in his cell with a belt around his neck about 6 p.m. last night, one hour after he was charged with narcotics possession.

According to Detective Richard Friednamer, head of the Youngstown Bureau of Narcotics enforcement, agents confiscated quantities of heroin, hashish, marijuana, pills believed to be amphetamines, and opium pipes.

Three persons were picked up in the raid but one unidentified woman was released.

The apartment at 30 W. Madison is not on the approved University Housing list.

Jambar Drug Supplement

A special sixteen page supplement on drugs appears in a feature section of today's Jambar. The supplement, the culmination of a year-long effort, features articles on the use of drugs and includes the results of the Jambar drug survey which was mailed to students in early April.

Editor of the special drug edition is former Jambar editor, John F. Greenman. The drug survey was compiled by Sally Novicky, formerly a student and sociology major at YSU, with assistance from Dr. Sally Hotchkiss, assistant professor of psychology, and Mr. Jack Foster, head of the criminal justice department.

Nat'l Guard Pelted With Marshmallows

COLUMBUS, Ohio AP - Five hundred National Guardsmen armed with bayoneted rifles drove about 150 demonstrating students away from the Ohio State University Administration building yesterday.

The action came as student militants gathered in front of the building 15 minutes before the start of a 2 p.m. meeting of administration officials with student leaders.

Before the Guardsmen advanced, rifles lowered, Brig. Gen. Vernon McMillan used a loud-speaker to read the riot act.

The students fell back as the guards advanced, chanting "Seig Heil" and "Power to the People." The student crowd grew to several hundred before Guardsmen finally fell back and formed a protective line in front of the administration building. Students went back across a campus street from the building, and many threw marshmallows at the guardsmen who made no response.

It appeared the Guard would make no further move to disperse the students. Some violence erupted.

What's so special about Beechwood Ageing?

We must be bragging too much about Beechwood Ageing.

Because we're starting to get some flak about it. Like, "Beechwood, Beechwood... big deal." And "If Beechwood Ageing is so hot, why don't you tell everybody what it is?"

So we will. First, it isn't big wooden casks that we age Budweiser in.

But it is a layer of thin wood strips from the beech tree (what else?) laid down in a dense lattice on the bottom of our glass-lined and stainless steel lagering tanks. This is where we let Budweiser ferment a second time. (Most brewers quit after one fermentation. We don't.)

These beechwood strips offer extra surface area for tiny yeast particles to cling to, helping clarify the beer. And since these strips are also porous, they help absorb beer's natural "edge," giving Budweiser its finished taste. Or in other words, "a taste, a smoothness and a drinkability you will find in no other beer at any price."

Ah yes, drinkability. That's what's so special about Beechwood Ageing. But you know that.

Budweiser is the King of Beers.

(But you know that.)

Discussion

One purpose of discussion is to provide for further communication to resolve existing problems. Often discussion can create new problems though.

The meeting between Ohio Student body leaders and Governor James A. Rhodes called for meaningful discussion of the problems of our university campuses. According to YSU Student Government president Pete Isgro, who initially called for the meeting, discussion at the Wednesday meeting was meaningful. The question now is if this discussion will be valuable.

Gov. Rhodes has promised that he will try to place students and faculty on University Boards of Trustees, as well as include a student on the Ohio Board of Regents. Whether Gov. Rhodes is sincere in this promise or whether he is just trying to save a fading political career, can only be determined in his future efforts.

Hopefully, Gov. Rhodes has come to realize that workable solutions to the serious problems of our universities can come out of communications with the State's students.

Suggests Unity Against Communists

To the editor of the Jambar:

In the interest of improving the climate for truly educational processes on our campus as well as to foster more desirable circumstances in our respective communities I make the following suggestion: Instead of some people opposing the dissenters (that is the true dissenters, not revolutionaries) as the enemy and others opposing established leaders as the enemy WHY NOT CONCENTRATE ALL EFFORTS TOWARD DOCUMENTING AND ELIMINATING THE TRUE ENEMY OF BOTH FACTIONS WHEN THE OBVIOUS PURPOSE OF THIS TRUE ENEMY IS TO CAUSE EACH SEGMENT TO ERR, RESULTING IN SOMETHING LESS THAN DESIRABLE CIRCUMSTANCES ON THE ONE HAND AND POSSIBLE REVOLUTION ON THE OTHER? Is this not a fair proposition? Could it not even be said that anybody opposing this idea is suspect?

We obtain such documentation by scholarly research. There are no quick answers but there is documentation in this regard which has been at our disposal. Additional scholarly research is now going on in other localities. We should, therefore, avail ourselves of acceptable research findings and we should also pursue our own documentation.

Although the latter would take time it should be started immediately because of possible factors which are applicable only to our campus and communities. Documentation already available relative to general conditions as well as to specific situations elsewhere should be acquired and reviewed as quickly as possible.

Individuals and/or properly organized groups should acquire and make known the results of such scholarly pursuits to all members of our academic campus and to our respective communities.

Is there no guide? Do we not need the method of setting up the hypothesis so that our research will prove it to be true or false? What is suggested? It is reasonable from valid research available that the wording of the hypothesis could be as follows:

THERE IS AN INTERNATIONAL COMMUNIST CONSPIRACY WHICH HAS CAUSED OR CONTRIBUTED TO THE CONFLICTS WE ARE EXPERIENCING ON OUR CAMPUS AND IN OUR RESPECTIVE COMMUNITIES THE LACK OF IDENTIFICATION AND APPROPRIATE ELIMINATION OF WHICH CAUSES SOME TO ASSUME ERRONEOUSLY THAT INNOCENT PARTIES ARE ENEMIES.

Yours for a true academic campus and better communities,

Asks For Help , Anti-War Support

To the editor of the Jambar:

The Youngstown Peace Center is existing at the present time solely by the determination of its members. The Center has very little furniture and almost no finances. We must have the support of the University and the community if we are to succeed in our goal, as explained in our statement of purpose.

The type of support we need is manpower, finances, and furniture. Any contributions of furniture or money may be brought to the Center at 1130 Wick Avenue, between 10:00 a.m. and 12:00 midnight daily. Anyone wishing to become actively in-involved in the Youngstown Peace movement of Center call the Center, 746-3726, and leave his name and telephone number.

Inconsistencies

Inconsistency is the cornerstone of frustration. Frustration may eventually lead to violence such as YSU suffered during the past Spring Weekend. I do not condone violence; I do try to understand it.

Two years ago a chartered campus organization called Students and Faculty for Peace set up a literature table in Kilcawley Center. A student mob gathered and proceeded to upset the table and burn the literature table. Dr. Pugsley found Students and Faculty for Peace at fault maintaining that when they saw they were inciting students they should have left. I asked him how he would feel if Dow Chemical or army recruiters came on campus and there was an incident. Would these groups then be held responsible? Dr. Pugsley replied that the prime purpose in getting an education was to get a good job. For this reason a potential employer had preference over a campus organization in treatment and use of facilities. I believe that the university exists to educate and that campus organizations are an extension of the educational process. The university was never meant to be an employment agency.

Likewise, the university is not a part of the military and should not be responsible for military training which is not education. Dr. Pugsley denied a request for a Black cultural center and preference shown to Blacks enrolling for Black courses. He says that it is contrary to state law for discrimination to be shown in favor of one particular group using facilities paid for by all. Yet ROTC students get paid, their time goes towards satisfying their military obligation, their Physical Education requirements are waived and they receive college credit. They use campus facilities while their courses are limited to cadets. Not everyone can join ROTC, the entire female student body is excluded on the basis of sex. Yet the female student body pays tuition like the males.

Other inconsistencies became apparent at a recent meeting between the student body and Dr. Pugsley. Immediately after pleading for better communication he refused to comment on question after question asked by students. He had no reason or explanation for the photographing of student dissidents by campus security police. He had no explanation for the dismissal of Dr. Hunt in the Political Science department. Dr. Hunt's case is a wealth of inconsistencies in itself.

Some time ago the administration refused to renew the contract of a Black instructor named Ron Daniels. The reason given was that he was not making satisfactory progress towards his doctorate. Dr. Hunt was fired by Ivis Boyer. Miss Boyer does not have a doctorate either, in fact she doesn't hold any degree in Political Science. Yet she teaches the subject and is chairman of the department. It may be noteworthy to mention that Miss Boyer was secretary to former university president Jones for thirteen years.

Dr. Hunt had a local political figure in one of his classes named Tom Gilmartin. Gilmartin received an "F" on the mid-term and stormed out. He went to Miss Boyer who set up a special course for him. He received a "C" and this was recorded as the grade he received in Dr. Hunt's class. When I was penalized two letter grades in a course for poor attendance I went to the administration. Although this practice of lowering grades is frowned on by the faculty handbook the administration maintained it could not change an instructor's grade. Yet Miss Boyer changed Gilmartin's grade from an F or an incomplete to a "C".

Communication can help deal with frustration, it can ward off violence; but only by being honest and sincere. The students are ready when you are, Dr. Pugsley. Right on!

Says Nursing Evaluation Unfair

To the editor of the Jambar:

In a recent issue of the Jambar there was an article which attempted to evaluate the Associate degree Nursing program of this university. The article was not only biased but, it also attempted to degrade our program.

The author of this article referred to several evaluation reports taken from a study compiled by Miss DeCapita and her staff. The author failed to inform the Jambar readers of the many facts involved in this study. Data showed that the Nursing students who graduated from the Associate degree program were prepared to become competent Registered Nurses who skillfully applied their theoretical knowledge to their work. The author fails to present this a fair and unbiased evaluation.

An evaluation of any program is based on a complete study report and the presentation of that study should be objective, not, a one sided presentation and/or the citation of one or two paragraphs taken out of context from the study.

This article was not only unfair to all of the nursing students of the A.D. Program, but it also questioned the judgment of the public and all medical personnel who work and accept the A.D. Nursing Students.

Nursing is founded on the principal of scientific theory and practical application of the theory with the patient being the center of its application. The number of years spent in nurses' training is not and never will be the basis for determining the individual competency of a nurse.

The A.D. graduate is prepared to give bed side nursing. The program was initiated to give the public more and better nurses and these nurses should not be evaluated in terms of administrative personnel.

Associate Degree Student Nurses

(Ed. note - The author of the nursing article is a journalism student who submitted the article as part of an assignment. She neglected to mention that she is a Registered Nurse, thus creating an obvious conflict in her relationship to the story. We regret the error on our part and will offer an article on the nursing program here in a later article.)

Solicits Student Donations For Hunt

To the editor of the Jambar:

To the student body:

As you probably are aware, Dr. William H. Hunt of the political science department has not had his contract for the coming school year renewed. There are many of us who feel that the circumstances surrounding this decision are unfair and unethical. Despite all our efforts the administration has refused to heed our appeals for a justification of their actions or for the reinstatement of Dr. Hunt.

Since the chairman of the political science department did not see fit to inform Dr. Hunt of her decision before the suggested AAUP deadline, he is now having difficulty securing a position of equal stature elsewhere. It is entirely possible that he will not be able to find any position or he may be forced to accept a lower-paying one because many universities and colleges have already hired the majority of their faculty members.

In view of these facts a group of concerned students are organizing a Hunt fund. The money collected will hopefully enable Dr. Hunt to remain in the capacity of a free-university professor so that we may take advantage of his scholarship and fine teaching ability. If he does find employment at another university this money will make up the difference between his present salary and a possible decrease in salary.

Therefore, we are asking for contributions from individual students who wish to express their concern with more than just words. Pledges can be made in the amounts of $10, $15, $20, or $25. Preferably these pledges should be fulfilled by August 1, so that it will be possible to persuade Dr. Hunt that it will be economically feasible to remain here. However, the final deadline for payments will be October 1. These payments can be made by contacting one of the following people:

Rosemary Johnson
Jeany Rice
Jack Hagan
Jim Armaline

Promises Tighter Election Security

To the editor of the Jambar:

It seems that there has been some misunderstanding concerning the story in the May 19th issue of the Jambar with regard to the leak in the election results of the Spring Weekend Election. The information was made known early because one of the Student Council members that were present at the time of the tally had, shall we say, a big mouth. Some people seem to have gotten the idea that the security leak was the result of someone from the Computer Center. This is not the case.

Discussing the security problem with Dr. Jonas, he showed me several ways in which this problem can be alleviated. These steps will be taken in the future.

YSU Salutes Honor Students

Five seniors were awarded YSU pins, citing leadership, scholarship, and achievement, at the 11th Annual Honors Day last Tuesday night.

The pin is annually given to the five graduating students who have the largest number of honor points in scholastic and extracurricular activities.

Recipients this year were Karen Epperson, Michael Foley, Peter Isgro, Penny Laakso and Patty Richards.

Violence Possible Cause-

Students Lose Deferments

By Pat Kerrigan

Although U.S. Defense Secretary Melvin Laird maintains that "The Defense Department hopes to significantly reduce the number of draftees" into the armed services in the next few months, few college students will be able to rely on continued exemptions and deferments from the draft.

President Nixon's April 23 request for discontinuance of all deferments must be achieved in part through an act of Congress, and many of the formerly staunch Congressional defenders of student deferments are now questioning those deferments in light of recent campus disorders and violence.

According to the Associated Press, Rep. L. Mendel Rivers (chairman of the House Armed Services Committee and author of the mandatory student deferment provision, has not been receptive to Nixon's proposals so far. Recently, however, he stated he was "losing some of his previous enthusiasm for college students and college deferments." Other deferment advocates in Congress supposedly are also reacting to the college riots.

Until the congressional vote is taken prospective college students will be in doubt as to their eligibility for the draft. In all probability, new applicants for 2-S status will not have that status definitely confirmed until shortly before school starts this fall.

The Youngstown area Selective Service boards plan to continue issuing 2-S deferments with the understanding that Congress might well enable President Nixon to discontinue those deferments. "We plan to go along as usual until we hear differently." Under Nixon's plan, present holders of 2-S classifications will be unaffected by an action until they quit school, complete four years of college or reach age 24, whichever comes first. Only individuals applying for 2-S status since April 23 will be ineligible for that status.

Although present students may be allowed to retain their student deferments, only hardship deferments will be available after graduation or departure from school. Occupational and fatherhood deferments were abolished by the Presidential directive April 23, except for those already holding such deferments.

"Only cases of extreme hardship will be considered" according to a secretary at the local board, "and absolutely no other deferments will be available except to those already holding them."

Secretary Laird maintains that despite increased military involvement in Indochina, the

On University Teaching— Professor Publishes Article

Mrs. Juanita A. Roderick, assistant professor of education at Youngstown State University, will have an article published in the spring issue of "Improving College and University Teaching."

Entitled, "Minority Groups in Textbooks," the article offers concrete aspects of the revolutionary movement to make education open and fair to all people, regardless of race, sex, or creed.

Mrs. Roderick presents a review of the literature and research available on minority groups in textbooks, and shows that the textbook, a principal teaching source, appears to have a major role in projecting images of minority groups.

Mrs. Roderick, a magna cum laude graduate of YSU, received a bachelor of science in education degree, and was awarded the Frieda Chapman Award for the most outstanding prospective elementary teacher.

A native of Youngstown, she earned a master of science in education degree from Westminster College, specializing in supervision and administration, and has done additional study towards a Ph.D. at the University of Pittsburgh and the University of Akron.

draft call will be reduced and only "about 1 in 10 will be drafted." This will be due to the anticipated discontinuance of all deferments and hopefully to the increase of volunteers and career servicemen because of added fringe benefits and a 20% increase in the basic pay rate.
