evening game,
informal dance,
Sunday concert.....

The expectation of cool, dry, fall weather adds to the heightened atmosphere which surrounds this weekend's Homecoming activities. The theme this year invites students on a "Greek Odyssey" which is highlighted by the traditional football game, crowning of the queen and an evening concert by the Fifth Dimension.

Sponsored by the Major Events Committee of Student Government.

the weekend begins with a dance tonight from 8 p.m. till midnight at Kilcawley Student Center. The feature attraction will be the announcement of the queen and her court.

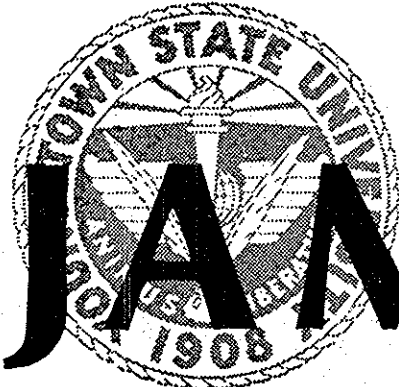

Despite the ban on campaigning, the Elections Committee announced that 1060 voted for the queen. The ballots were counted in the Computer Center and the results will be announced at 10 p.m. tonight at the informal dance. Television cameras will be on hand to film the announcement of the queen and her court, according to Mike Duquin, Major Events Committee Chairman.

Saturday's festivities include the evening football game between YSU Penguins and the Northern Michigan University Wildcats and the crowning of the queen at halftime by Dr. Albert L. Pugsley, University

AFTER THE FALL — A YSU student couple share an umbrella in the gloomy drizzle of Youngstown's fall weather along the ramp of Kilcawley Amphitheatre.

Alleged Violations Mar Election-

Charges dropped against ZTA

Charges of illegal campaigning have tarnished, but not altered the 1970 Homecoming Queen balloting.

Delegates to Pan-Hellenic Council, the judiciary body for such charges, substantiated reports that no less than four allegations of illegal campaigning were directed at Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority and its candidate, Miss Suellen Stiffler. The Pan-Hellenic Judiciary Committee dismissed these charges for lack of sufficient evidence at a special meeting last Tuesday.

The sorority was charged with 1.) posting an illegal campaign sign that suggested voting for the ZTA candidate; 2.) illegal campaigning by Jennifer Ziak, Military Ball Queen; 3.) campaigning by the ZTA candidate's boyfriend; and 4.) an illegal radio announcement that was used to draw attention to the ZTA candidate.

Delegates who attended the judiciary committee meeting said that the illegal sign charge was dismissed because the sign was displayed in a private office. The sign, which was inked in the sorority's color, said "Vote for candidate number one," and was on display in a private office in Pollock House.

Miss Ziak, reigning Military Ball Queen, was charged with escorting ROTC men to the voting booths. This charge was dismissed when ROTC men testified that they were not influenced by Miss Ziak, according to the delegates. Witnesses claim that Miss Ziak congratulated the ROTC men for their testimony after the hearing.

Administration accused of prohibiting beer at concert

The presidents of Student Government and Interfraternity Council publicly denounced the administration yesterday for preventing the serving of beer at last weekend's "Greek Week" Concert.

In a statement to the Jambar, IFC president Dave Fleischer charged that university contact with the management of Idora Park prevented beer from being served at the "Greek Week" concert in the Idora Park ballroom last Friday. Fleischer said that the university action was a "definite detriment to the success of that event."

In a similar statement to university president Dr. Albert L. Pugsley and Student Affairs Dean Dr. Darrell Rishel, Student Government president Dan Crishon and Special Projects chairman Larry Delino said that the university's action was an "open mockery of the 'responsible student' principle which seems to be so popular among these officials when they are speaking to students." The statement called the event a "tragedy" and called the administrative action "another slam at student rights."

Beer at the "Greek Week" concert was entirely permissible according to Dr. Rishel. Dr. Rishel stated that even under the social regulations of last year, beer could have been permitted at the function because it was a "private" function. According to present social rules, beer was permissible.

Beer was served at a similar "Greek Week" event the preceding night. Dr. Rishel said that the serving of beer on Thursday night was discussed and approved, but no discussion took place concerning Friday's event.

According to Mr. Max Rindin, Idora Park associate, there was only a verbal agreement to serve beer at the function. Mr. Rindin said that an unidentified university dean called three weeks prior to the event and told him that beer could not be sold. He said that Mr. J. Jackson, an associate of his who was in charge of events, received a call from the university just prior to the concert telling him beer could not be sold.

Dr. Rishel said yesterday that the original call to Idora Park did come from his office. He stated that Dr. Edith Painter, associate dean of student affairs, told Mr. Jackson that "Greek Week" was not a pri-

Feigns Bomb In Shoe Box-

Tightened Security Tested

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — I marched into the Pentagon Thursday carrying a shabby yellow shoe box just to see how far I could get before the government's security against bombers stopped me dead in my tracks. I walked all the way to Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird's office, and nobody stopped me.

Nobody stopped me when I walked by the offices of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Two Marine sergeants gave me a cold eye but they didn't have a word to say about my box. The cold eye could have been directed at my beard.

It was the same almost everywhere I went—the Capitol, the Senate Office Building, the Justice Department, Internal Revenue Service, the Post Office Department, the Interior Department and even the General Services Administration.

The GSA was the department that ordered the tightened security in the first place. In a directive Monday it said entrance to government buildings should be denied "to anyone carrying suspicious packages unless they voluntarily submit the package for examination," but for all the government guards knew, the box could have held a bomb.

The Pentagon — a place the nation's Weatherpeople dream of destroying—didn't even have a guard at a basement entrance.

At the Senate Office Building, there was a guard inside the door. He was on the telephone and didn't even look up when I walked by.

Outside the Capitol, there was a cluster of guards. They all stared at me as I walked within ten feet of them. I took my box and walked into the Capitol and joined a group of camera-toting tourists. After gawking up at the rotunda, I ducked down a corridor and into the basement. There was a guard there. He didn't say a word either.

At the Justice Department — a building radicals tried to storm last November — I walked through an entrance marked FBI Tours and again mingled with the tourists before slipping down a corridor and into a men's room.

At the Supreme Court, things were different.

"What do you have in that box?" guard A. R. Burgoon asked as he unobtrusively but firmly blocked the main entrances to the building.

"Just a pair of shoes."

"Would you mind opening the box?"

"No, sir."

Burgoon examined the shoes, then took the box. He returned it only when I was leaving the building.

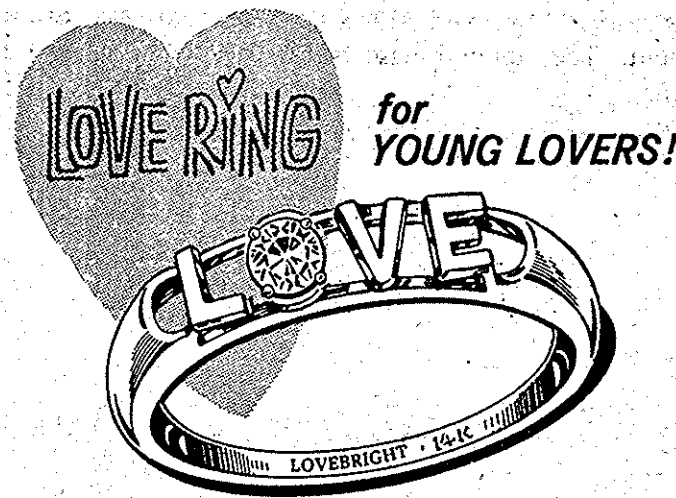

At the GSA, a guard stood in a guardhouse a few yards inside a courtyard—one of the few entrances to the building left open during the security drive. The guard said nothing as I walked by.

I walked through a back door and took an elevator to the sixth floor. There I asked a public information officer if he believed it possible to protect government buildings against terrorists.

"I think it's pretty rough," he said. "But you can keep out people who are carrying bags and shoe boxes."

The spokesman paused and glanced at the shoe box. "I'm really amazed they let you in. Didn't they ask you about it at all?"

Baltimore Orioles Win Baseball World Series

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The slugging Baltimore Orioles won the 1970 baseball world series Thursday with a robust 15-hit barrage that buried the weak pitching Cincinnati Reds 9-3 in the fifth game.

By closing out of the best of seven games fall classic, four games to one, the American League champions thus gained some measure of revenge for their loss to the New York Mets in five games last year.

Baltimore spotted the Reds a 3-0 lead in the first inning, but with pitcher Mike Cuellar, knocked out in the second game, stopped the Reds the rest of the way while his teammates hammered six pitchers.

Frank Robinson got the Orioles started with a two-run homer in the first inning and Mark Belanger and Paul Blair each singled in runs in the second to put the Orioles ahead to stay. Merv Rettenmund added a solo homer in the fifth.

Blair and Dave Johnson each had three hits, and Brooks Robinson added another single and a sensational play in the ninth inning to assure himself of the Most Valuable Player Award.

Robinson finished with nine hits, along with Blair, tying for a five game series.

Cuellar, a 24-game winner during the regular season, silenced the National League champions on six hits as the Orioles won their 18th game in their last 19 outings. Cincinnati starter Jim Merritt was the loser.

Students Lose Financial Aid

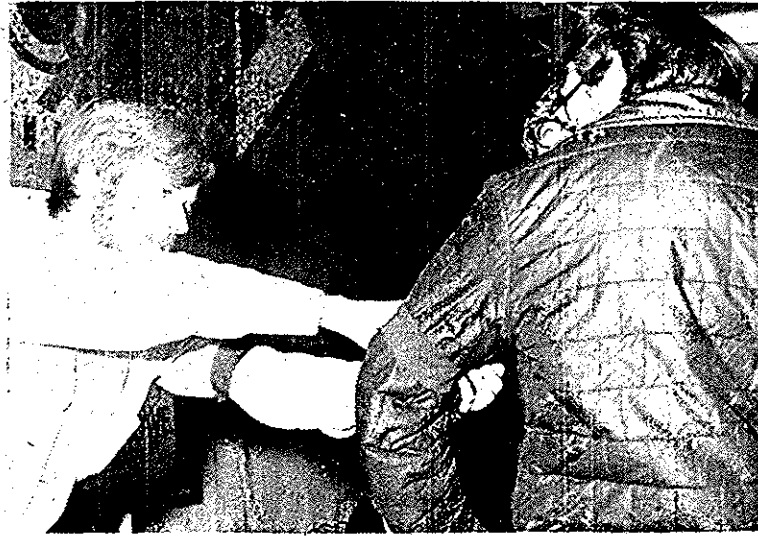

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 434 students at 86 colleges and universities have lost federal financial aid because they participated in campus disorders, the Office of Education said Thursday.

Most of the penalized students attended small colleges rather than the major universities that experienced the most severe disruptions, according to a government report covering the period since June 1969.

Rep. Edith Green, chairman of the House higher education subcommittee, criticized by name such universities as Wisconsin and Michigan for not terminating aid despite unrest on their campuses.

Federal law requires colleges and universities to cut off federal aid to students convicted of participation in campus disorders.

"Only 86 institutions out of 2,600 report taking any action at all in cutting off funds from those who engage in riots or major disruptions," Mrs. Green said.

LEST WE FORGET — Students yesterday manned tables and passed out black armbands in remembrance of last year's October 15, moratorium. Bus tickets are being sold to students who wish to attend the march in Columbus on the 31 of this month. Marches are occurring in most state capitols on that date in order to point out to voters and candidates that the war is still a major issue in this country.

Embarrassment

Student government has charged that the Student Affairs Office is responsible for the fact that beer was not served at last Saturday night's concert at Idora Park. If this is true, we strongly condemn this administrative action, and we would like to offer the following observations.

Last year, when student submitted and approved social regulations were found unacceptable, the Board of Trustees decided that the Student Affairs deans should write their own rules. They revised and adopted a set of new rules that were generally unacceptable to the students. Part of this code did, though, provide for 3.2 beer at private functions.

This past weekend, at a private function, the right to serve beer was denied.

Greek Week organizers didn't stand a chance. Any confusion on their part must seem simple in relation to the confusion in the Student Affairs Office. Ours is the only administration in the country where one dean says you can not serve beer, and another says you could have. Perhaps they should fight it out among themselves to find out who is in charge.

When an administrative branch of any sort maintains that legitimate channels are available in the system, then denies those channels it is irresponsible. When that very administration sees fit to negate its own rules at will, it is embarrassing.

States Jambar Staffed With Sinners

To the editor of the Jambar:

Once again the Jambar has reaffirmed my belief that the PSEUDO Mental Giants who produce that so called paper are in need of white canes and a little common sense.

The Oct. 13 editorial on Homecoming activities is what really convinced me that the Jambar is in dire need of a thorough housecleaning.

Perhaps the editor would turn the $30,000 over to the weathermen to use in their bombing campaign or maybe give it the Israelis to use against innocent Arabs; Y.S.U. students shouldn't have all the fun, huh!

Ignorance can be used as an excuse for only a short time before its continued use becomes a sin. The Jambar isn't staffed with people; it's staffed with sinners.

University Forum: Assistantships Announced

Ride A Bike

A YSU bicycle-riding student was informed recently that he would have to purchase a $15.00 parking permit to avail himself of sufficient space in a university parking lot for his vehicle.

A letter to the editor in an issue of Jambor cites the lack of sites for parking, and expresses the opinion that students are being exploited.

"Parking Decks Delayed for six More Weeks" is a headline in the same issue, while a "classified" reads, "GUESS WHAT - is economical, non-pollutant, requires no parking space, and whose riders have been deemed lazy by YSU chief of insecurity? Bicycles?"

A campus sorority collected contributions for the National Association for Retarded Children as the sisters peddled a mounted bicycle to the tune of "Keep the Wheels Turning."

In Edmund K. Faltermayer's Redoing America, a nationwide report on how to make our cities and suburbs livable, the more-mobile America's problems are brought to light. "The United States is becoming hellishly inconvenient place to get around in. In most major cities the new freeways leading downtown have become so choked with automobiles at rush hour that helicopter-borne traffic spotters frequently advise motorists to detour....we are becoming less mobile by the year on many of the trips we take most frequently....Though many Americans concede that this is so, we are doing amazingly little about the situation...our thinking about the underlying problem and the needed solutions is badly befogged. Partly out of a continuing American love affair with the automobile, many people are still loath to admit that the country needs alternate plans for moving people on the ground... The 'autoists' repeatedly invoke the American sense of individualism and the desire for success and status in trying to preserve a world in which nearly everybody is forced to get around by car...THE NOTION THAT THE AUTOMOBILE HAS MADE EVERYBODY MOBILE IS PURE HUMBUG, OF COURSE."

A recent US Department of Health, Education, and Welfare environmental bulletin informs us that "unfortunately, with increased numbers and use of automobiles, emissions from vehicles are expected to increase by the end of this decade. To stem this problem, Federal efforts have begun which are expected to stimulate DEVELOPMENT OF AN INTRINSICALLY POLLUTION-FREE VEHICLE by 1980."

"YSU Checks Air Pollution" headlined an article in April 19's Vindicator which quoted the recently deceased Dr. Anthony L. Julius, "The problem is very complex and will not be completely solved in the near future." He challenged "those responsible for the sources of pollutants, whether an individual or corporation, to cooperate in helping to control the pollution of our atmosphere."

"Hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide are dirty words," the Vindicator editorial of September 13 informs us. "In the lexicon of the clean car pilots they are fighting words. Demonstrating concern with practical involvement is the sort of 'campus unrest' that deserves wider application."

YSU students find it difficult to get to classes on time. Some YSU students ride bicycles. These students pay as much to "park" a bicycle as they would have to park a car. Bicycles do not take up as much room as automobiles do.

Perhaps sections of the parking lots could be converted to "bicycle parking." Perhaps those riding bicycles could be permitted to park FREE. This procedure might encourage more to ride bicycles. If more rode bicycles, fewer would drive cars. If fewer drove cars, more parking facilities would open up to those who do.

Education today at YSU seem to involve the three P's rather than the three R's: pollution, population, and parking.

Sister Elizabeth C. Staudt
Instructor, Biology

Dr. Frank A. D'Isa, acting dean of the Graduate School at Youngstown State University has announced the appointment of 11 graduate assistantships in the School of Education effective with the fall quarter, 1970. According to Dr. D'Isa, the assistantship program offers graduate students the opportunity to provide a service to the institution and gain valuable experience assisting the faculty.

The duties of the graduate assistants include instruction, research, and other academic services as determined by the department to which they are assigned.

Appointed in foundations of education are Mrs. Pamela M. Alderman, Mrs. Krista Susanne Hlinsky, William Kinnick, Jr. and Mrs. Judith Elizabeth Wansack; in guidance and counseling are Rosemary Elizabeth

Gaetano and Jack D. O'Brien; in master teacher - elementary is Veronica Marie Steines; in master teacher - secondary are Sheila Josephine Alexander and Stanna Mary Kucab; and in special education are Michael S. Puncsak and Georgeann Tarkanick. Campaigning; (from pg.1)

The illegal radio charge was based on a periodic announcement on WHOT last Monday (a polling day) that wished Miss Stiffler, the ZTA candidate, a "happy birthday" and suggested that this would be "her week." Miss Stiffler's birthday is March 1 according to the University's records office.

The illegal campaigning allegations marred the effect of a non-campus experiment being tried for the first time.

Pan-Hellenic Council advisor, Dr. Edith Painter, refused comment on the issue.

Poetry Readings Open To Students, Faculty

Two poetry readings by Ohio poets, to be held in connection with tomorrow's meeting here of the Northeast Ohio College English Group, will be open to all interested students and faculty, it was announced yesterday.

The NOCEG annual meeting, the twenty-ninth since its founding, will be held from 10 A.M. to 3:45 P.M. in Engineering Science Auditorium. Lunch will be served at 12:30 P.M. in the Kilcawley Faculty Lounge, and a reception will follow the afternoon session at the Butler Institute of American Art.

Dr. Mary Virginia Hare and Mrs. Katherine H. Crites are in charge of local arrangements. Dr. Thelma S. Miner is secretary-treasurer of the organization. All are members of the YSU English Department.

The group meets annually each year at a different campus in Northeast Ohio. Membership includes representatives from twenty-one colleges and universities in the area.

The two readings to which non-members are welcome are being given, at 2:30 p.m., by James Kilgore of Cuyahoga Community College; and at 3 p.m. by H.D. Rowe of Baldwin-Wallace College. Mr. Kilgore will read from his book, Midnight Blast and Other Poems, and Mr. Rowe will read his "Blood under the Bridge."

Dr. Gerrit Roelofs of Kenyon College, president of the group, will preside at all of the sessions. Dr. Albert C. Pugsley, President of YSU, will extend greetings at the opening session, and Dr. Margaret Pfau will speak in memory of the late Karl Washburn Dykema, one of the founders of the group and Dean of Arts and Sciences at YSU until his death this summer.

Glass Menagerie To Be Performed Through Oct. 25

Tennessee Williams' great dramatic masterpiece, "The Glass Menagerie," continues its run today through October 25 at the Youngstown Playhouse under the direction of playhouse executive director Bentley Lenhoff.

YSU graduate student Gary Banks appears as the Gentleman Caller who brings a brief and touching moment of reality into the Wingfields' world.

"Glass Menagerie" plays to-night, Saturday and Sunday this weekend and Thursday through Sunday next weekend.

Barry of John Carroll University; "Whatever Happened to Biography?" by Richard Hankins of Baldwin-Wallace College; and "Messianic Nationalism in the Early Works of Herman Melville: Against Perry Miller," by John Gerlach of Cleveland State University.

At the afternoon session, besides the poetry readings, Dr. Roelofs will discuss "Vigil and Festival, Eyeball and Sun: A Reading of John Donne's 'A Nocturnal upon Saint Lucy's Day.'"

A business meeting will follow the readings. The reception at the Butler Institute will give guests an opportunity to inspect the Winslow Homer and Thomas Nast engravings exhibited there as well as the YSU Faculty Show paintings.

NO PARKING - It seems that the recently acquired YSU student parking lot on Wick Avenue still has its entrance easily recognized but not so readily heeded warning to YSU parkers.

Financial Aid Given To Handicapped, Blind

Youngstown State University denies the opportunity of higher education to no one, not even the blind, according to the local Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation, which offers financial assistance to qualified handicapped individuals and blind young people are able to attend the University.

The Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation covers not only the cost of tuition and fees for handicapped students but also pays for additional services and materials required by blind students.

Tape recordings of textbooks, which are furnished by the American Foundation for the Blind in New York, are paid for by B.V.R. (as it is referred to by recipients). They will also provide the student with a tape recorder on which to play the tapes.

4 Students, 4 Landlords, Chairman-

Housing Committee Formed

A housing committee is being formed by Dr. C. David Bertelsen, Assistant Dean of Student Affairs and Dan Crishon, Student Government President. The committee will consist of four students, four landlords and a chairman. The committee will review housing complaints from students and landlords, and recommend revisions of the off-campus housing code.

There are 63 approved housing units on the University's off-campus housing list. The committee is being formed because of many complaints that have been received by the University from students and landlords. The committee will merely act as an arbitrating body of these complaints. It will have no legally binding authority on the complaints, but will merely suggest and advise on settlement between students and their landlords.

Any student wishing to serve on this committee must be a full-time student in good standing with the University and must be living in off-campus housing. Student applications can be picked up in the Student Government office, Kilcawley 108.

Miss Sanders Speaks On Women's New Role

"People refuse to believe what they see and when they see it in print, they don't like it," said Marlene Sanders, ABC's only woman news correspondent, speaking to about 250 people Wednesday in Strouss Auditorium.

Miss Sanders explained that, "distrust of the press makes journalism a difficult job, especially now that Vice-President Agnew has called open season on journalists. True, a small group of people determine what news goes on the air, but we can't take a national referendum before every newscast."

Miss Sanders spiced her lecture with anecdotes about national personalities and events that she has covered. About Mrs. Nixon, "The only thing she could work up any support on was the 4H Club."

To illustrate her discussion of news reporting, Miss Sanders showed a twenty-five minute documentary that she produced, entitled, "Women's Liberation."

Following the lecture and the film, a question and answer session turned to Women's Liberation. When questioned about her views on abortion, Miss Sanders replied that there should be no abortion laws. "A woman should be able to determine what she does with her body," Miss Sanders, who also produced a documentary on the population explosion, added, "Abortion is the most widely used form of birth control and I think other forms of control should be really easily available."

YSU Penguins Face Once-Beaten Wildcats

Once-beaten Northern Michigan, boasting probably the strongest running attack Youngstown State will face all season, invades Campbell Memorial Stadium Saturday night to attempt to spoil the Penguin Homecoming. The kickoff is slated for 8 p.m. (EDT).

Coach Rollie Dotsch's Wildcats have rolled up a rushing average of 257.2 yards per game in sweeping past Northern Iowa (21-0), Hofstra (45-0), Hillsdale (34-14) and Central Michigan (34-14). The lone loss was to powerful Akron (19-6) on a muddy field.

The Wildcats depend on no single back, but divide the running chores among halfbacks Tommie Davis (5-11, 180) and Garry Scutt (6-0, 190) and fullback Dave Ripmaster (6-1, 205). Scutt leads NMU rushers with 359 yards in 76 tries. Ripmaster has 340 yards in 82 carries and Davis 273 yards in 68 attempts.

Quarterback Marty Brenner (5-10, 180) can also lug the ball, picking up 56 yards in last Saturday's win over Central Michigan. An adequate passer, Brenner accounts for 58.6 yards per game through the air.

The key to the Wildcat running success is an experienced offensive line. The blockers include ends Mike Weigandt (6-1, 205) and Mike Bee (6-0, 185), tackles Lew Kautz (6-2, 240) and Tom Watson (6-3, 212), guards Jim Garzella (5-11, 200) and Bob Schaut (6-3, 230) and center Jan Quarless (5-11, 205). Watson and Garzella are seniors, Weigandt, Bee, Kautz and Schaut juniors and Quarless a sophomore.

Northern's veteran defense drew some concern prior to the season before proving itself. However, it is holding foes to under 100 yards rushing and passing per game. The front wall includes Pete Bovan (6-0, 195) and Doug Peterson (5-11, 190) at ends, Tom Bush (6-3, 220) and Frank Holes (6-2, 225) at tackles and Mike Skrocki (5-11, 230) at middle guard. Linebackers are Tim Kearney (6-3, 215), Bob Kroll (6-0, 192) and Ken McLean (5-11, 210) with Bud Rowley (5-9, 170), Mike Perry (5-10, 175) and John Johnson (6-1, 185) at deep backs.

The Wildcats and Penguins weigh-in fairly even with Northern holding a slight edge in all departments. Northern Michigan has the bigger offensive line (211-208), offensive backs (189-183), defensive line (212-207) and defensive backs (191-177).

Saturday's clash marks the third meeting between the two schools with the series tied at 1-1. NMU won 7-0 in 1959 and YSU won 49-26 in 1960.

Jr. Varsity Loses To Edinboro

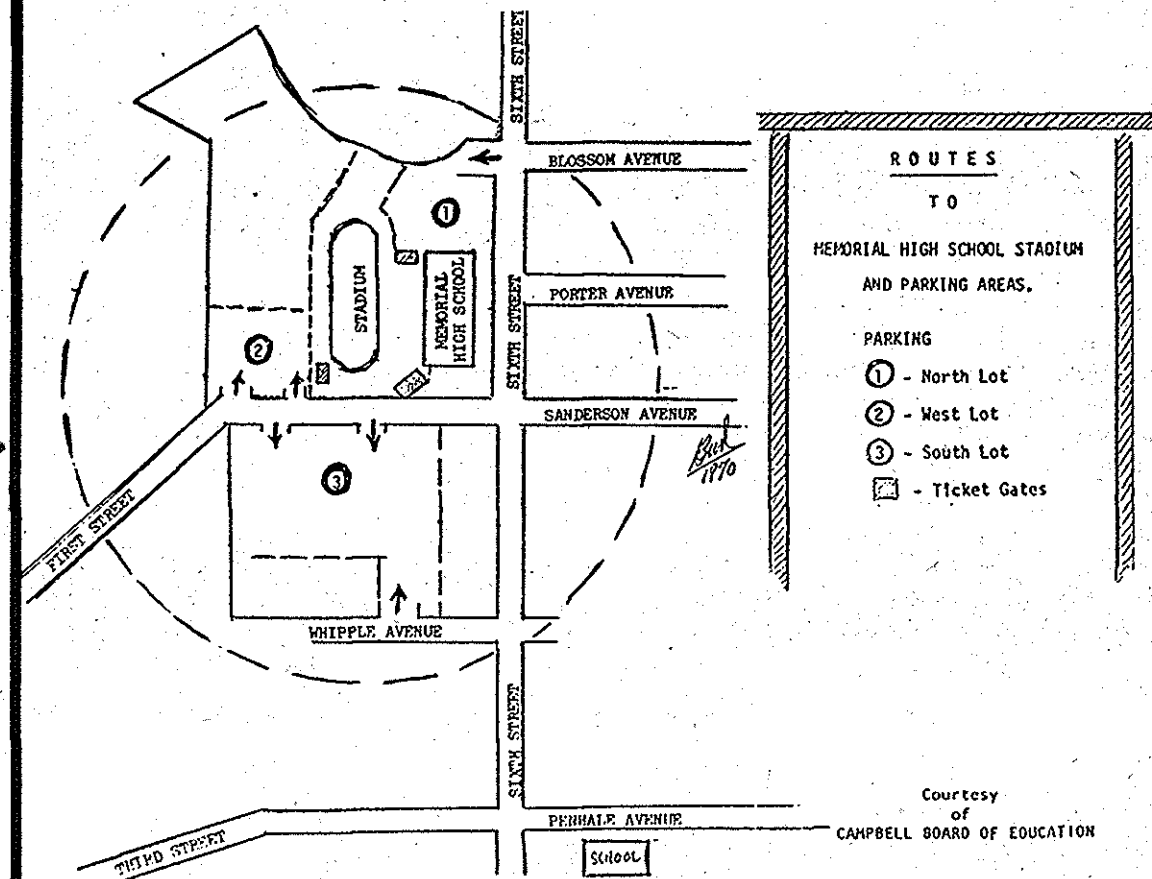

A first quarter safety came back to haunt the Youngstown State junior varsity Monday afternoon as they lost their opener to the Edinboro State freshmen, 16-15, at Edinboro.

Dave Mair, sophomore end from Hamilton, Canada (Glendale), scored twice on passes of 40 and 11 yards from frosh quarterback Jack Dugan of McDonald. However, it wasn't enough to erase the initial Scot score when the snap for a YSU punt went out of the end zone.

The Penguin offense was hampered by a fumble and four interceptions. Three times YSU drove to inside the Edinboro 30 only to turn over the ball each time, once on a fumble and once on an interception. YSU had a first down at the Scot 39 with 1:16 left in the game when Dugan was intercepted for the fourth time.

Dugan was 14 of 43 for 286 yards. Mair caught 5 for 92 yards. Fullback Jim Morgan, teammate of Dugan at McDonald, led YSU rushers with 34 yards in 11 carries. Frosh Bob Austin of Cleveland Collinwood picked up 32 yards in 17 tries.

YSU Gridders Fly Only Quality Airlines

Many questions have been raised in the wake of the Wichita State University airline disaster. Investigations have been launched by newspapers and federal agencies. Federal Aviation Association procedures have come under careful scrutiny. University methods of securing carriers has been looked into.

At YSU, athletic teams this year are using two different airlines. Both Purdue Airlines and Eastern Airlines, are "flag carriers." Purdue Airlines uses DC-9's and Eastern uses turboprops. James W. Morrison, manager of the Athletic Business Office at YSU, states that only the highest quality lines are used at Youngstown. Any airline that bids for a YSU contract is thoroughly investigated according to Mr. Morrison. To date, YSU has received no complaints in regard to the quality of these airlines.

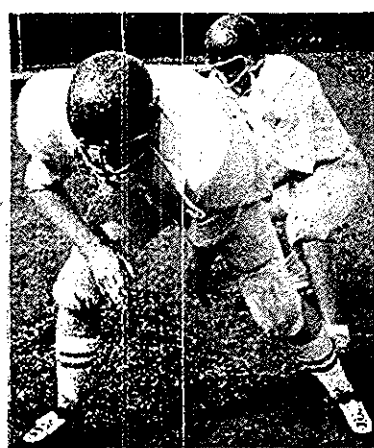

The FAA classifies some charter companies as "flag carriers." These include the 25 US airlines which make regular passenger flights and 12 airlines that are listed as non-scheduled supplemental air carriers. Other charter companies are classified as "commercial operators." These include airlines certified by the FAA to make passenger-carrying charter flights. Whereas "flag carriers" can advertise their services to the public and sell tickets, "commercial operators" cannot.

The FAA this past spring wrote stricter regulations regarding the maintenance, pilot experience, training and aircraft safety for air-taxi firms. This was due to the fact that air-taxi firms had a fatal accident rate 10 times that of the major airlines. Approximately half of the nation's 4,000 air-taxi carriers have been inspected. Golden Eagle, the company who chartered the Wichita State flight, had not yet been inspected.

FAA officials have said that it is impossible to keep an eye on every plane rental due to a lack of manpower. No normal surveillance of the sale, rental, or charter of aircraft between companies is practiced nor does the FAA have maintenance checks on these craft. One FAA spokesman said, "It's just like my buying a used car. You don't know what its condition is."

State universities must, by law, receive bids for contracts.

SNAP — Center Cole Pentz and quarterback Dennis Klembara practice YSU's unique center snap.

The chartering of flights falls under this rule. Many state universities will only consider "flag carriers." Other universities go to the other air-taxi carriers due to the lower charter fees. Kansas University turned down a bid $2,000 less than that of "flag carrier" Ozark Airlines made by a lesser Oklahoma air-taxi, in favor of Ozark. Quality was the issue.

The FAA warned, Tulsa and Wichita State of the unsafe aircraft that they planned to use for fans and football teams but did not prevent the owners from flying other people. The FAA assumed that the crafts were scrapped and took no further action against the chartering companies.

II Lettermen Return - -

Rosselli Opens Practice

Dom Rosselli, veteran Youngstown State basketball coach, opened practice for his 27th season yesterday with one goal in mind—finding a center.

Although Rosselli will welcome 11 lettermen back, the three letter winners who graduated all played the pivot. Gone are 6-9 Will Teague, an AP honorable mention Little All-American, 6-6 Wayne Davis, and 6-5 Don Graham.

Top candidate for the slot is leaping Billy Wells, a 6-5 sophomore who transferred from West Virginia University. Wells averaged 7.7 points and 7.8 rebounds per game as a Mountaineer frosh after gaining second team All-State honors at Williamson, W. Va., High.

"It remains to be seen if he (Wells) can replace Teague's rebounding and defensive contributions," says Rosselli. "That's why it's really hard to make a prediction about the season right now."

Also vying for the center job are Tom Cope, a 6-5 junior from Warren Harding, and Bill McMeans, a 6-6 sophomore from South Range. Cope will miss early practice sessions since he is recovering from a fractured wrist.

Regulars Bob Patton, 6-4 senior from Struthers, and Ron Smith, 6-3 junior from North Bloomfield, are back at forward along with lettermen Bill Barnhart, a 6-3 senior from Beaver Local, Rich Denamen, a 6-4 junior from Hubbard, and Jeff Skeeles, a 6-4 junior from Canton Lincoln.

The backcourt is in good hands with Little All-American candidate Billy Johnson, a 5-10 junior from Canton Lincoln, Gregg Merrill, a 6-1 junior from Delta, and Chuck Montgomery, a 5-9 junior from Salem, all returning. Lindsay Randall, a 6-2 junior from Hubbard, J.C. Williams, 5-11 sophomore from Youngstown North, and Joe Ziak, 6-5 junior from Campbell Memorial, add more scoring punch.

Rosselli, whose 26-year record of 404-256 is the sixth best among all active college coaches, will be shooting for his 22th straight winning season. His Penguins finished 22-5 last year, placed sixth on the AP poll and eighth on the UPI and played in

by Skip Miller

Well sports fans, here we are at the corner of Elm and Spring Streets in beautiful Youngstown, Ohio for the finals in the men's and women's outdoor team and individual car parking competition.

The United States is heavily favored to win a gold medal in this event when the hardened veterans from YSU travel to Munich in 1972 with the Olympic team.

The YSU parkers are anticipating stiff competition today from the 25-ton Euclid earth-movers operated by the Bartalone Brothers Construction Company—specialists in construction, destruction, and obstruction.

Favorites going into today's action, are last year's defending champions in the men's intermediate division, Mustopha and Mattuck Nazar, sons of Mr. Spiro Nazar, a refugee Albanian restaurant owner now residing in Lowellville. As you may remember, two weeks ago we saw Mustopha and Mattuck (who is better known to his friends as "Easy Parker") defeat a determined Northside Pirate team composed of members of the Y.P.D. and Picadilly Brothers' towing service.

Here with us to provide the expert commentary for today's exciting action are two former parking champions from YSU. Both are very well known to area parkers. First, a man who refereed this very same competition back in 1948, a former member of the Y.P.D., the highway patrol, the F.B.I., the Canadian Northwest Mounted Police, Interpol, Scotland Yard, and the Boardman Elementary school safety patrol, Mr. Effrem Zimbalist Crest. Also with us is the Inexecutive Director of the Bartalone Brothers Construction Company, Dr. Albert Pubsley.

Tell us Al, what do you think of the course our parkers will have to run today?

"Well Howard, as you know, we've had a little rain for the past forty days and forty nights and the mud is a little deep in places, as exemplified by the fact that the bones of a Tyrannosaurus Rex came to the surface near the corner of Arlington and Fifth last week." "Of course, finding those bones was a great boon to the University and we immediately sent the remains to our experts in the cafeteria."

Yes, that certainly was lucky for you Al. And now we will hear from Mr. Crest. Tell us Effrem, what do you think is the greatest obstacle our parkers will face today? I mean, what do you feel will cause the parker the most trouble?

"Well Howard, I think the biggest problem the YSU parkers will face is the fact that there are 87 times as many cars as there are parking places."

Thank you Effrem. I'd like to direct a question to both of you gentlemen. Is there any truth to the story about an amateur parker, a student, who was foolhardy enough to venture on this course?

"Yes Howard, unfortunately there is. The boy suffered from hemophilia (probably a side effect of smoking Marijuana). Naturally, the University couldn't accept his blood. Consequently, he could not get a parking place in the University Parking Lot. He then decided to park on our parkers course."

"Well, what happened?"

"Hummmmm—Well he never returned, no he never returned and his fate is still unlearned, he will ride forever 'neath the streets of Youngstown, he's the man who never returned."

Thank you Effrem and Al. Well sports lovers, be sure to tune in next week as the YSU campus is again the scene of the action as Walt Disney's Wonderful World of Colorful Language brings you "Alice in Wonderland," the story of a Coed trying to complete final registration at YSU.

Until then, this is Howard Rishell reminding you that a good citizen is a quiet citizen.
