SC discusses spring weekend---

Low ticket sales head problem list

Lagging ticket sales for the Spring Weekend Concert was the problem presented in the Chairman's report at Student Council's weekly meeting yesterday afternoon.

Council Chairman Skip Davis announced that, as of yesterday, only 510 tickets had been sold for the event to be held Sunday night in the new Beeghly gymnasium. Costs for the concert include $6,000 for the Grass Roots and $1,500 for comedian George Carlin. Student Government must also pay a fee of $900 for the rental of the gym.

Chairman Davis said that if sales don't improve tickets will "be on sale to the public, probably on Thursday."

The final item in the Chairman's report noted that there will be 24 booths at this year's Spring Weekend festivities on Saturday, double the number in operation last year.

In other action Student Council endorsed the Community of Concern's "Air-War Project" which is attempting to secure signatures on a Vietnam Peace Statement. The statement indicates that those who have signed their name express "no support" for the bombing in Indochina. It also offers "a profound apology to all the people of Vietnam for the carnage" the government has been responsible for. The vote on the endorsement motion was passed 13-7-1.

At the suggestion of Dee Stewart, arts and sciences representative, council unanimously approved donating $300 to the Billy Johnson Fund.

In final action, Chairman Davis, reading excerpts from a letter from Joseph S. Rook, vice president of financial affairs, said that the penguins are still the property of Student Council and will remain so until they are declared surplus property. Money for the penguins upkeep will continue only until July 1. The matter will be studied further this week and the results will be presented at next week's meeting.

A breakdown, item by item, of the rental fee for the gym was not available, according to Chairman Davis, because this is the first time Beeghly has been used for this purpose. He did say however that the costs will be itemized after the concert and presented to Student Government.

He stated that some of this cost is incurred because maintenance men who will work Sunday after the concert must be paid overtime.

Regarding the $900 rental fee for the gym Larry Simko, student Government president, felt it was excessive and said that the figure "was pulled out of the sky."

Spring weekend to offer carnival-like activities

Tricycle races, a pie-eating contest, a slide show depicting bombing raids in Vietnam and the movie "Bonnie and Clyde" will be among the events of this year's Spring Weekend, Ray Jackson, Spring Weekend coordinator, said yesterday. The weekend will begin with a casual dance at 8 p.m. Friday featuring "Cactus."

Saturday's activities will begin at 7:30 p.m. with the showing of the movie "Bonnie and Clyde" in the Kilcawley Cafeteria. At the same time, the carnival will get under way in the amphitheater, focusing on the theme of "Nostalgia," Jackson said. The races and contests mentioned above, plus a sack race and a short skirt contest, are being sponsored by the Major Events Committee. Anyone wishing to enter these contests should sign up in the Student Government office by Friday he added.

Viet bombing prompts C of C petition drive

The Community of Concern has undertaken an intensive campaign to collect signatures for a petition demanding an end to the bombing and all U.S. involvement in Vietnam, John Greenman, senior in Arts and Sciences and spokesman for the organization said yesterday.

Called the Community of Concern Air-War Project, the week long program begins at 9 a.m. today, with a table in the Kilcawley amphitheater to collect signatures for the Peace statement petition.

The petition states:

"As the United States government pursues one of its most reckless and serious escalations of the Vietnam War ever, through indiscriminate bombing of North Vietnam, we commit our names to this document because we believe that to remain silent is to be complicit in this action. Our signatures constitute an expression of "no support" for this action and a demand that the bombing and all U.S. involvement in Indochina end. Moreover, it is not sufficient to simply protest a government's action to that government, thus our signatures should be seen in the additional context of a profound apology to all the people of Vietnam for the carnage, havoc and terror of government's actions have pressed upon their land."

actions have pressed upon their land."

The petition will be personally delivered to two Vietnamese delegations in Paris: The North Vietnamese delegation and that of the provisional revolutionary government. Copies of the petition will also be sent to President Nixon, area congressmen, and Ohio and Pennsylvania U.S. Senators.

Tomorrow, local high school students will circulate the petition at their schools in an effort to obtain signatures from other members of the community.

On Thursday, the YSU Veterans Organization plans action on the Kilcawley green. Ten Vets will stand guard from 9 a.m. until noon at a funeral bier and coffin which will be decorated with white crosses. Collection of signatures will continue Friday with office-to-office canvassing throughout the university to

To hold adjourned meeting May 19---

Senate passes over pass fail issue

The University Senate will hold an adjourned meeting May 19 to complete business scheduled for last Friday, including consideration of reports from the Faculty Affairs Committee and an ad hoc committee on a pass-fail grading system.

Passed was an Academic Affairs Committee motion to allow Associate Degree graduates who have transferred from another institution honors eligibility if they have earned 60 or more quarter hours at YSU and meet other conditions of the present honors policy.

The Faculty Affairs The University Curriculum

Committee Report deals with procedures to be followed in the case of loss of tenure. The Senate nearly sent the report back to committee, but decided to reconsider it at an adjourned meeting in two weeks.

Also on the agenda to be held over to the next meeting is a report on the possible establishment of a pass-fail system of grading. The report states the "nontraditional grades will allow students to have the opportunity to explore other academic areas without incurring academic penalty."

Committee presented a proposal for infrequently taught courses which was passed by the Senate. The new policy states that the dean of each undergraduate school and college will receive each fall from his department chairmen a list of all courses that have not been taught during the previous two years. The faculty and department chairman and the dean will review each course and decide whether the course will be deleted or continued. The dean will submit a report of these reviews to the vice president for academic affairs by the end of fall quarter.

Saturday night at the Spring Weekend Carnival, the Community of Concern will have a booth that will present a continuous 4-minute slide show entitled "Craters, Bodies, and Blood—a Nostalgic Look at the Air War in Vietnam." Greenman said that this is an extremely effective slide show regarding the war.

Sunday there will be some leafleting of the local churches.

On Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. a press conference will be held in Pollock House announcing the number of signatures collected in the campaign.

Greenman said this action was prompted as a result of President Nixon's decision to reestablish the bombing of Hanoi and Haiphong.

A REAL NICE BUNCH

No More

President Nixon has taken an unprecedented step in the mining and blockading of Haiphong Harbor. He called last night for an end to the "bombastic rhetoric" of the North Vietnamese. He spoke of protecting the lives and form of government of the 17 million people of South Vietnam.

We question the continuance of bombastic rhetoric from our own president. Granted, he has said that a pull-out of all troops would follow the return of prisoners of war and an enforced international cease fire within four months.

Results remain to be seen from the plan of withdrawal proposed by Nixon last night. In any case, it would be a pull-out following even more warfare. Once again, we reaffirm our previous editorials urging an end to the war immediately. More lives lost will not prove anything.

The country of South Vietnam has been extensively destroyed by American military action - and for what? To save an agrarian populace from the supposedly despicable fate of a Communist rule. Can any Communist regime be as inherently evil as Thieu's purging police state?

We the American people have stood by and helplessly watched the land of Indochina be almost totally destroyed. Urging the end of the war in the Congress, in the press and even in the streets has been to no avail.

Protest of an insane policy to the government has been without result.

Petitions are now being circulated in the Kilcawley Amphitheatre to once more express opposition to the bloodshed perpetrated by the men who do not have to suffer the consequences of this war.

Even more important, these petitions apologize to blameless victims in Vietnam who have been devastated by the war. Seek out the petition and add your name as one of those who express empathy with the grief suffered by the people of Vietnam. Sign now!

Letters to the Editor

Clarifies Catacombs closing

To the editor of the Jambar:

This letter is just to clarify the May 5th article about the Catacombs, i.e., to define terms.

"Expanded use" refers to the planned use of the basement as a hall to be used for wedding receptions and offices for clergymen. "Remodel" means paint over licentious graffiti in the rest rooms and the quote "filth" (otherwise known as abstract expressionism) on the other walls.

"Reorganization" is to me a puzzling term. So far the CCM has closed down the coffee house, let the draft counseling center die, and given a student who was boarding there notice to pack his bags.

I hope in future articles of concern to the students, the Jambar will use ordinary English vocabulary instead of strange Latin and Greek euphemisms.

P.S.: Sorry for the mistakes in this letter. I was using a university machine.

Chides keeping caged chipmunks

To the editor of the Jambar:

Forgive me for remaining unimpressed by "Project: Chipmunk." How very fitting it is that we build more buildings, tear down more trees, lay more concrete, destroy more grass-driving all small creatures from the area - and then, study them in "synthetic environment."

Is it possible that the psychology department has not heard of the value of studying animals in their natural habitat? Perhaps Jane Goodall's studies of primates is unknown to them, as is the work of other scientists who have come to recognize that one learns as much about animals by observing them in captivity as by observing men in prison. How naive to assume that, because the Department is providing "approximate space required for the reproduction of innate habits," the chipmunks are stupid enough to mistake their "artificial environment" for nature.

One would hope that some students will have the audacity to ask the very simple and relevant question, "What are you doing and why?" It is also to be hoped that other students will have the courage to answer, "Making the world a little less caring, a little less humane and a little less full of the sense of wonder."

Angered at SG election apathy

To the editor of the Jambar:

I would like to voice an opinion of the current Student Government Elections.

I opened the voting booth in Lincoln Towers, yesterday at 9 a.m. I expected to see students willing to vote, but by 10 a.m. a total of 37 persons had voted there including myself.

When I asked students why they were not voting many asked me what elections were being held.

I feel that the reason for student apathy toward these elections is lack of organization and or advertisement.

Students, read the Jambar,

Proposes Polish culture courses

To the editor of the Jambar:

I have sent the following letter to President Albert L. Pugsley and carbon copies to the Board of Trustees.

Dear Sir:

I wish to bring to your attention a petition which is currently being circulated on the University Campus. A copy of said petition is enclosed for your convenience. This petition is concerned with the implementation of Polish language and culture courses into the University curriculum for credit in the language department.

This communication is addressed to you instead of the language curriculum committee because the need is immediate for such a course and following the procedures of referral to various committees may waste precious time of years before these courses become a reality.

You, as the educational leader of the University, should realize the need of such courses and use your influence to encourage implementation of such courses. Many past, current, and future students are being denied the opportunity of essential knowledge concerning great leaders of Poland, such as; Copernicus in Astronomy, Chopin in Music, Kosciuszko and Pulaski in military education, Sklodowska-Curie in Chemistry, Sienkiewicz in Literature, Paderewski in Statesmanship, Cardinal Wyszynski in Religion, Kiepcura in Opera, Styka in Art, Mickiewicz and Slowacki in Poetry and many others in every other field of endeavor.

Other reasons why I feel this is vital are listed below for your consideration: 1. No other Slavic language, except Russian, is currently offered; 2. There is no course dealing with Eastern European Culture; 3. Polish-Americans have not adequately been recognized for their achievements; 4. Many other universities offer courses in this subject; 5. Polish-Americans have been the object of "Polish Jokes" which have unjustly stereotyped their culture; 6. Heretofore, students on this campus have been denied the right to a course dealing with their Slavic heritage; 7. Such a course would enhance the intellectual growth of all university students.

I feel certain that many students would avail themselves of such courses were they offered. The petitions which are being circulated provide a space where students could indicate such action. The responses confirm my opinion.

I hereby respectfully request the University Trustees and you, as President to give grave consideration to this matter, and to adopt such needed programs.

I await your reply to this communication and thank you in advance for your consideration of such.

University Forum / Miss YSU Pageant

Youth is often encouraged to work within existing structures in order to change unsatisfactory systems. But when an attempt is made to work within these constructs, even if one follows all the established procedures, one is confronted with hypocritically biased backlash. A prime example would be our attempt to participate in the Miss YSU Pageant.

Perhaps we should briefly explain our untraditional reasons for entering the pageant. As students of this university and as women we feel that it should not be the business of this university to perpetuate such archaic exploitations of women. So we entered the pageant to work from within in an attempt to provide an alternative point of view. This was to be achieved during the talent competition wherein the contestant was provided with the leeway to display one's personality and ideals as they saw fit. It was through the talent that we planned to present our viewpoints regarding the pageant.

At the beginning we received the regulations for the pageant. We used these regulations as guidelines within which to operate in achieving our goals. If we were to work within the system it was imperative for us to abide by these regulations. But it was precisely the discriminatory misuse of these regulations that was used to prevent us from being in the pageant.

Although it was not stated in the regulations, it was rudely and abruptly drawn to our attention that it was mandatory for us to participate in the technically sophisticated opening dance number. This immediately assumes that every contestant is equipped to handle intricate choreography. We were falsely informed that this was to be judged. Immediately we launched a protest to Dean Painter, Dean Rishel, and Mr. Bernacki concerning the unfairness of being judged in a capacity demanding more than set forth by the regulations, both economically and competitively.

Although our protests were generally met with sympathetic understanding, those in a position to deal with the situation refused. And so the discriminatively warped regulations stood. Although there were many infractions of the national regulations by the other contestants they remained in the pageant, not to be singled out and disqualified from the pageant as we were. If the pageant would have existed as put forth by the national standards than we had every legitimate right to participate as contestants. But it was abused and twisted to accommodate the whims of certain individuals and should have been abolished.

It is our sincere hope that this pageant will henceforth be discontinued as economically unfeasible and abusive to women in general.

Pappas responds to CSO; assures animal control in caf

George Pappas, manager of food services at YSU, responding to complaints made last Thursday by the Concerned Student Organization about animals in the cafeteria, said that everything possible is being done to control the situation.

According to Pappas, an employee of Specialized Management Services, a private company, the controversy arose when the Concerned Student Organization accused a cafeteria worker of petting a cat and then dispensing food. Pappas said the accusation was true, but he had no knowledge of the incident until a small demonstration was held. The situation was promptly rectified. Pappas said he would like to know of problems in the cafeteria, but would rather be informed of problems before becoming the object of demonstrations.

He said the majority of cats or dogs in the cafeteria are brought in by students, but a few just wander in.

Bookstore shafts student with instant rules

A YSU student was questioned by campus police last Friday afternoon after allegedly repeatedly registering for a free bicycle without purchasing anything at the YSU bookstore.

Al Aho, sophomore, T&C student told the Jambar that he had gone into the bookstore last Thursday to register for a free bicycle and had returned on Friday to fill out more entry blanks. Aho pointed out that according to an advertisement in the Jambar, there was no obligation to buy anything, and he had entered the bookstore merely to register.

After filling out about five blanks, Aho was approached by the manager of the bookstore and cautioned against repeating his action. Aho then left the bookstore on his own accord and, according to his story, the security guard outside the building told him that he would have to buy something if he went back in. When Aho told him that according to the ad, there was no condition requiring a purchase in order to register, the guard told him that they "would have to come up with a few rules of their own."

Aho then went on to say that while he was outside the book-

Bureau seeks students; offers aid to agencies

The newly organized YSU Student Volunteer Bureau hopes to promote educational student development and to provide a valuable service to the community, said Diana Campana, junior in Arts and Sciences and coordinator of the bureau. Open to all YSU students, the bureau also welcomes high school students and others in the community to become volunteers.

The YSU Student Volunteer Bureau, working in cooperation with the Volunteer Service Bureau Inc. located downtown, serves as a clearinghouse to match volunteers and agency needs.

The SVB can place volunteers in programs dealing with the aged, drug abuse, public health, physical training and therapy, mental health, housing, welfare, and parole and probation. One can also work as tutor, big brother or sister, or assistant to the blind, handicapped, or mentally retarded.

Volunteers may work in the area nursing homes, Woodside Hospital, day care centers, or CCM free clinic as well as in some of the 89 social service organizations and agencies in the Youngstown-Mahoning County area such as Planned Parenthood, Gilead House, Associated Neighborhood Centers, and Children's and Family Services.

Presently the SVB at YSU has volunteers working in conjunction with a vocational rehabilitation counselor to help tutor inmates of the Mahoning County Jail for general education development tests. Volunteers are also working at Woodside Hospital in recreational therapy by playing games and talking with patients.

"Volunteering is one way a student can use his classroom education and gain an on-the-job, out-in-the-world, out-of-the-classroom learning experience," said Diana Campana, co-ordinator for the YSU Student Volunteer Bureau.

Miss Campana, a junior in arts and sciences, is aided by SVB assistant co-ordinators Philip Bracy, T & CC freshman, and Niki Scardina, arts and sciences junior. These three head the SVB Personnel, University Relations and Community Relations committees.

Organization advisors include Dr. Assad S. Kassees, assistant professor of sociology and anthropology; Syretha Cooper, assistant professor of sociology and anthropology; and Josephine Beckett, assistant professor of education.

"President Pugsley was reasonable, open-minded, and extremely helpful in helping the SVB get started on campus," said Diana Campana.

President Pugsley approved the SVB program and allotted the bureau phone, furniture, and room 200 on the second floor of the Jambar Building for its office. Miss Campana said that Student Council has also helped the SVB get started at YSU.

Impetus added to 'Johnson Fund' with fan support

The "Billy Johnson Fund" will be given a new twist as Dr. Peter Baldino, YSU athletic council chairman, suggested a "Bucks for Billy" campaign in which everyone who ever saw Johnson play would be asked to contribute one dollar or more.

The first financial report, released last Friday stated that the fund totaled slightly over $1,000. Approximately $5,000 is needed to cover the medical expenses incurred while Johnson was in Timken Mercy Hospital in Canton.

Johnson was released May 4 after spending 19 days in the hospital. He underwent successful surgery April 25. He is recuperating at his home, 720 Bellflower Avenue, S.W., Canton.

All contributions should be delivered in person or mailed to the Home Savings and Loan Company, 275 West Federal Street, Youngstown or any of the branch offices. All checks and money orders should be made

Flying Club holds meeting today in Cardinal Room

If you enjoy the thrill of taking off on your own in a plane, here is your chance to experience this by becoming a member of YSU's newly formed Flying Club.

The club, now being organized under the advisement of Dr. Edwin Bishop, assistant professor of physics and astronomy, will hold informational meetings today from 7:30 p.m.-8:30 p.m. in the Cardinal Room and tomorrow from 1:30 p.m.-3:30 p.m. in the Buckeye Room. The club will be open to all interested men and women.

The future plans of the Flying Club include leasing a Cessna 150 for training and personal enjoyment. The Cessna 150 is a two-seater and is considered one of the most economical and easy-handling crafts to fly. It has a six-hour flying range with a top ceiling of 10,000 ft. and a cruising speed of 100 knots. The plane will be leased through the Cessna Aircraft Company, the world's largest and most experienced manufacturer of general and business aviation equipment, who are now offering a unique new flying club plan which is being implemented in colleges throughout the country.

Training sessions for a pilot's license will be available through the club, with the requirements including 20 hours of dual instructions and 20 hours of solo. A ground school will be organized to teach flight planning, navigation, radio procedures, and weather conditions. The facilities for the plane and the training sessions will be made available at the Youngstown Executive Airport.

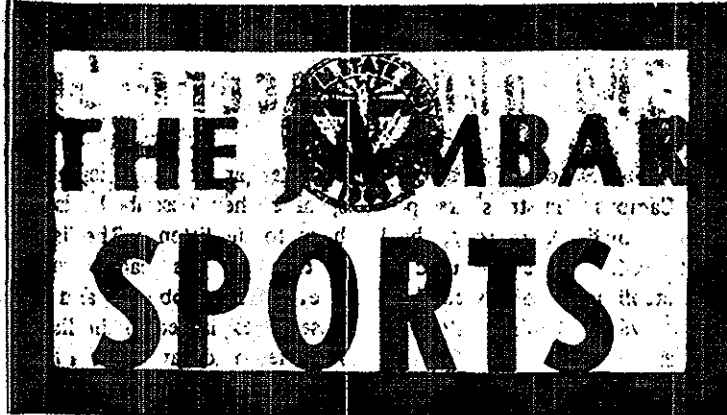

payable to the "Billy Johnson Fund."

"No university groups or individuals have or will be authorized by the council to make off-campus solicitation," Mr. Baldino said.

Your freedom-machine is too precious to take chances with. So why not give it the best care you can? One way is using Amoco[®] gasolines.

Not only does Lead-Free Amoco help cut down on air pollution, but tests prove that Amoco can double the life of your muffler and tail pipe compared to fully leaded gasolines; spark plugs last longer, too.

And in college mileage rallies, and over a thousand mileage tests, Amoco Super-Premium got better mileage than other premiums.

When you've got a lot of money in your car, and it means a lot of personal freedom to you, take good care of it... with Amoco gasolines.

You expect more from American and you get it.[™]

Service organizations help needy

The three service organizations on campus, Gamma Sigma Sigma, Alpha Phi Omega and Circle K, collect supplies for the needy, give parties for under privileged children and volunteer their help to numerous campus and community activities.

According to Ann O'Donnell, president for the service sorority, Gamma Sigma Sigma, their organization collects supplies such as food and clothes for the Drug Rehabilitation Center, provides help to the Cerebral Palsy Center by giving parties for children and gives swimming lessons to the handicapped children for the Easter Seal Center.

Their activities also include collecting funds for the Epileptic Center and collecting food and clothes for needy families at Easter and Thanksgiving, she said. They hope to have one of their members, who is an epileptic, speak to various groups in an attempt to dispel some of the prejudice and fallacies connected with epilepsy.

Gamma Sigma Sigma members also socialize with the women in the halfway house for Woodside patients, she added.

Working jointly with Circle K, Gamma Sigma Sigma visits the Goodwill dorms to tutor and just talk with the young people who live there, Miss O'Donnell noted.

The biggest money-making project for Alpha Phi Omega is their booksale at the beginning of each quarter, Mike Altieri, second place president, said. They accept used books on co-signment and take a 12½% for commission on the sale of the book if it is sold. They've sold over 1,000 books this year, he noted.

Alpha Omega also sponsors the Ugly Man Contest each spring with the Beauty and the Beast Dance starting of the activities, Altieri said. Besides giving parties for retarded and under privileged children, they also act as scoutmasters to children in low income districts, he added.

Circle K secretary, Al Dettore says their organization provides tutoring and recreation for the boys in the Steel Valley Home, take children from the Easter Seal Center and the Blind Society on field trips and gives tours of the YSU campus to high school students.

According to Dettore, Circle K in conjunction with the Junior Women's League, is presenting a film, "Drug Abuse" to fifth and sixth graders throughout Youngstown in order to record their reactions in an attempt to improve the methods of coping with drug problems.

History Club sponsors tour to Cleveland Art Museum

The YSU History Club is sponsoring a tour of the Cleveland Museum of Art and the Western Reserve Historical Society on Saturday, May 27.

The tour group will depart at 9:30 a.m. from the Arts and Sciences office and will return to Youngstown at approximately 5:30 p.m.

Those persons interested should contact Dr. William D. Jenkins, assistant professor of history, in room 101 of the Arts and Sciences building. The cost for the trip is $3 per person and the fee must be paid by Wednesday, May 24. All students and faculty members are welcome.

Presently Circle K is planning to join the Walkathon for the March of Dimes next month, he added.

In a recent district convention with 15 other Circle K clubs, the YSU chapter received first place in achievement and major projects, Dettore said.
