

Deep Purple - Appearing Sunday at Struthers Fieldhouse at 8 p.m.

SC letter on Pugsley issue planned for Trustees, Gov.

A letter from Student Council to the Board of Trustees and similar letters to the Board of Regents of the State of Ohio and to the Governor explaining Council's interpretation of the vote on the 'Pugsley referendum' will be formalized and presented at the next council meeting as a result of action at yesterday's Council session.

Joan Kravynski, Arts & Sciences representative, asked for the formulation of the letter because "the students, as a result of their vote on the 'Pugsley referendum' have expressed an opinion and we as representatives of the student body should take action."

Discussion by council members centered on the question of whether the vote on the recent ballot was a valid sample. Some felt that the small number of people who voted on the referendum (6%) did not constitute a valid sample. Other members felt that those who did vote however, were the students who interested themselves in campus affairs and therefore were representative of the students who normally respond to campus issues. Ron Kessler suggested that if the elections were not considered a valid sample of student opinion and council did not indeed represent the student body perhaps a motion should be made "to dissolve Student Council."

Artist Lecturer

Dr. John Tyson will speak on "Contemporary Sexuality" at 2 p.m. tomorrow in Strouss Auditorium. Dr. Tyson's speech is part of the Artists Lecture Series presentation.

Dr. Tyson is being hosted by the Health and Physical Education Department. The speech is open to the public.

Council chairman Skip Davis closed the debate whereupon a motion passed calling for the drawing up of a letter to the Board of Trustees commenting on the 'Pugsley referendum'. The motion also stated that similar letters to be sent to The Board of Regents of the state of Ohio and the Governor.

Under old business John Peterson of the Discipline Committee made a report which declared the recent elections to be valid even

'New image' bands headline concert at Struthers Sun.

Two groups, the Buddy Miles Band and Deep Purple, will be presented in YSU's Winter Concert II at 8 p.m. this Sunday in Struthers Fieldhouse.

Both bands will be showing new images. Buddy Miles changed his style and his band in 1970, a change which many call the most significant in his career. Miles, who has recorded with such names as Hendrix, Pickett and Bloomfield, has been called "temperamental." Says Miles, "I want people to realize that I'm just as qualified and just as ready to handle all kinds of music as anyone else."

With his new band and a small studio in Chicago, he cut a new album called "Them Changes", radically different from his R&B days.

After recording such songs as "Hush" and "Kentucky", Americans still seem confused as to whether Deep Purple is a jazz, classical or rock group. Recently, when the group recorded an album with the Royal Philharmonic, adding more confusion.

The concert is $2.50 and tickets can be bought at the Athletic Business Office, room 130, Beeghly Physical Education Building.

Irregularity resolved-----

Elections declared valid by SC Discipline Comm.

The Student Council Discipline Committee responding to a charge of an election irregularity reported at yesterday's Student Council meeting that there, indeed, had been a violation of Article 611.01 but further stated they did not believe the violation necessitated declaring the election null and void.

The by-law in question requires a student wishing to vote to show his I.D. card and one additional proof of identification such as Draft Card, Driver's license or Social Security Card.

Students were not required to show any identification but their YSU student identification card in last quarter's student government elections.

Committee members John Peterson, senior in Engineering, Elaine Pochiro, senior in Arts and Sciences and Cynthia Anderson, junior in education held the investigation to hear charges brought up by Miles K. Free III, sophomore in Arts and Sciences who wanted the elections declared invalid. The report stated: "It is only under violation of

SC, League of Women Voters sponsor candidates on campus

Student Council and the League of Women Voters are sponsoring a "Candidate's Fair" from 2 to 4 p.m. this Friday in Strouss Auditorium in Jones Hall. The fair is open to all students and the public.

Letters were sent to all of the candidates running in Mahoning County including candidates in the 51st Ohio District and the 19th Congressional District. There were 29 favorable responses from major candidates and nine favorable responses from district delegates.

"The purpose of the fair is to give the students an opportunity to meet the people that will represent them," said Dan Dunmire, sophomore Arts and Sciences, who is one of the organizers of the fair along with Mrs. Clyde Hankey of the LWV. Dunmire went on to say that "when the student meets the candidate face-to-face he will have the chance to question him and will not be able to say that he doesn't know who his representatives are."

There will be a formal introduction at 2 p.m., followed by a "rap session" and question and answer period. Each of the candidates will have a seat at a table where people can informally talk to them after the question and answer period.

This is probably the only time that all of the candidates will be together during the campaign, Dunmire said.

All of the 19th Congressional District candidates, save one, will be represented at the fair: Congressman Charles J. Carney, and his Democratic challenger Richard P. McLaughlin and Republican Norman M. Parr will attend the event. Gary D. Schreckengost has of yet not given reply on whether he will attend or not.

Many of the 51st Ohio District Senator candidates will be present along with the sheriff candidates, county engineers and district delegates to both Democratic Convention in Miami and the Republican Convention in San Diego.

Bargain Collectively

The issue of collective bargaining will come to a head on the YSU campus this spring. Forty-four percent of the faculty in a secret gathering of authorization statements have indicated that they wish the Ohio Education Association to represent them in negotiations with the university administration.

The key question here, one which has been present throughout history in management-labor relations, is one of unionization. Since the Middle Ages, workers have banded together whenever they have felt oppression or unfairness in their relationship with employers.

Whether one considers the issue in a historical context or in the context of its ramifications on this campus alone, the answer to whether collective bargaining should be instituted on this campus appears to be an overwhelming yes.

The OEA collective bargaining questionnaire, a poll of 96 questions, the results of which will be released later this week, reveals some remarkable attitudes on the part of faculty members on this campus. The majority of the full-time faculty answering the questionnaire (137-16) favor collective bargaining at YSU "as a method of attaining the economic and professional goals of the faculty." Some 132 of those replying to the questionnaire do not believe that YSU's present system of salary increases is based on merit.

Collective bargaining will obtain many benefits for the YSU faculty, most of which they deserve. But just as important, the students will gain. The issues to be negotiated will include smaller classes, more full-time professors and smaller teaching loads, all of which will lead to a more satisfied faculty. The student body will undoubtedly benefit.

For these reasons we urgently recommend that President Pugsley and the Board of Trustees set up an election at their April 22 meeting. Such move will show that they are truly interested in the welfare of the faculty and students at YSU.

Letters to the Editor

'Shocked' by campus hippies

To the editor of the Jambar:

In recent months, I have noticed the growth of a serious problem. I am shocked and led to tears every night. Just before I drop off to sleep, I utter a silent prayer that I hope will be answered soon. My mother never told me I would encounter this problem when I entered the hallowed halls of YSU.

What problem am I concerned with? I am concerned with the problem of hippies on campus. As a loyal American who recites the Pledge of Allegiance 10 times everyday, my blood boils at the thought of these pointy-headed social deviants who smoke LSD and wear odd clothes. Why don't they wear Brooks Brothers suits and white buck shoes like Pat Boone? Let us all join together and rid ourselves of this problem.

Long live butch haircuts, The Boppin' Frosh.

Cites requirement's leniency

To the editor of the Jambar:

I have been puzzled by the recent feelings on campus that the foreign language requirement should be abolished. I would like to remind my fellow YSU students that this is one of the most lenient requirements we face.

If a student has had two years of a language in high school, he only needs to take a mere 8 hours here. However, the fact that a student has had two or even three years of science in high school is totally ignored and he still faces a 16 hour requirement.

In my case, if I had not been required to take two quarters of French I would never have even considered it as a major. I can, however, understand how you must feel since we must never let it be said that a YSU student received too much education. Think about what that would do to our reputation!

Worry not, though. Apathy still reigns at YSU.

Says Poddar 'wakes up' students

To the editor of the Jambar:

Prior to my first meeting with Dr. Bhagwati P. K. Poddar I had, regrettably, little concern for campus affairs. As I became familiar with Dr. Poddar and his process of edification I realized that my preconceptions of him were unfounded. The man I came to know is dedicated to seeking out truth in all areas of life, whether it be about the individual, the university, the 'corporate chieftans' and 'fat cats', or the U.S. as a whole.

You may ask, "So what? How does this affect me?" Students! Wake up! This man is not being fired because he puts students to sleep in class. Quite the contrary it is my firm belief that Dr. Poddar is being fired because he wakes students up...he shows them the power grabs and atrocities performed by various groups in our society.

Any dedicated YSU student should read the opinions of the senior members of the sociology department for not renewing the contract of Dr. Poddar. Dr. Poddar "antagonized personally" several members of the department. Then follows a list of reasons ranging from pay raise disputes to poor relations with members of the department.

With all due respect to the senior members of the sociology department and members of the administration, the 'reasons' given for the dismissal of Dr. Poddar do not seem to be sufficient. There are no complaints about his teaching ability. To my knowledge no group of students (or even one student) of Dr. Poddar has been consulted about his teaching ability.

I recall that the U.S. Constitution guarantees freedom of speech. Is it now 'the American way' or, more concisely, 'the YSU way' to brush aside any bothersome elements? I heartily urge any concerned students to become acquainted with both sides of the case before forming an opinion.

Mad at the 'Madman'

By Elrod Ponder

It is always difficult to say ugly things about someone you admire but it's hard feeling charitable towards Madman. Prior to this Bernie Taupin had written several fine songs, some of which have been recorded by people like Rod Stewart and Aretha Franklin, and they bear a marked similarity to those of the Band's Robbie Robertson. In fact Elton's second release Tumbleweed Connection, dealt almost wholly with America's Old West or Civil War, giving the album a definite thematic unity. This unity is appallingly absent from Madman. According to Rolling Stone the album describes Elton's tour of America last summer, (it must have been one massive downer for him), but to piece all this together takes some really intensive listening.

Elton John is most effective when working within the trio context of Nigel Olson, drums, and Dee Murray, bass. In concert these people are simply fantastic. This is why the use of string accompaniments, synthesizers, and full choirs for backing vocals on several songs distract the listener's attention from Elton's superb singing. The best example of arranger Paul Buckmaster's genius is "Moonlight Mile" on the Stones' Sticky Fingers album. Elton's voice is much stronger than Mick Jagger's and doesn't need that much backing support. "Tiny Dancer" and "Levon" are obscure to begin with, and their burdensome string arrangements clutter up melodies which would have greater effect if done with more simplicity. Still, most of the sidemen seemed to have an understanding, particularly organist Rick Wakeman and guitarist Caleb Quaye. Yet even this understanding doesn't help clarify the vagueness of "Razor Face" or "Rotten Peaches".

Everyone involved with Madman tried to make it a success. Elton's vocals are comparable to Roger Daltrey's on Who's Next. Gus Dudgeon's remix engineering is flawless. Even the record company has tried to draw attention to the album by releasing "Tiny Dancer" and "Levon" as singles. Sadly, Madman lacks the unity and overall vitality of the two previous studio albums, and doesn't come anywhere near approximating the fanatical energy of the live 11/17/70 performance. Elton's voice is as distinctive as a John Lennon or Robert Plant. His voice is worthy of better songs than these.

Pens open tomorrow; 'header' against Case

Penguin baseball swings into action against Case Western Reserve in a double header at 1 p.m., tomorrow in Pemberton Park.

Coach Dom Rosselli's cowhiders have had 21-10, 24-15, and 24-9 records in the past three seasons which have set or tied Penguin baseball records. They will be put to the test to do as well this year with their 38 game schedule against many improved teams.

The Penguins lost second bager Nick Gesacion, catcher Bill Kozak and rightfielder Brad Lawson to graduation but should have the staying power to have another good season.

YSU does have five regulars among 11 lettermen returning including Jim Hamrock, senior centerfielder from Mooney, Gary Lisko, sophomore second baseman from Mooney, Gregg Merrill,

Ron Smith named athlete of month in 'Black Sports'

Ron Smith the Penguin's outstanding senior forward has been named one of the five College Athletes of the Month in the April issue of Black Sports on sale now at the newstands.

Smith, a 6-4, 190-pounder, inished his Penguin career as the ninth leading scorer with 1,187 points. He was second in both scoring (15.1) and rebounding (9.6) this past season.

Smith previously was named to the Pittsburg Press all-district second team. He will join YSU teammate Billy Johnson in the eighth annual North-South All-Star game on April 8 at Erie, Pa. Another all-star game slated for April 14 at Edinboro, Pa., has been cancelled.

senior first baseman from Delta, Steve Rector, senior third baseman from Boyertown, Pa. and Lou Zitello, senior left fielder from Chaney. Lisko is being switched from short to second.

Hamrock hit .363 last year, Merrill, .330, Rector, .304, Zitello, .263, and Lisko, .242. Rector (5 home runs, 24 RBI) will provide most of the power with help from Hamrock (23 RBI), Zitello (22 RBI) and Merrill (20 RBI). Rector is one homer from tying the career home run mark of eight held by Jim Ferraro and Kozak while Zitello is just one RBI shy of the career record shared by Gesacion and Lawson. Freshmen will hold the key at the three other slots. Chuck Olenyck, frosh from Chaney, and Greg Balakoff, sophomore from Hubbard are running one-two in the battle for Kozak's catching post. Either Mike Szenborn, frosh from Campbell who also pitches, or letterman Fran Davison, junior from Warrendale, Pa., will replace Lawson in right. The shortstop job will go to either frosh Brad Hoagland of Canton Glenwood or Doug Bosick of Conneaut.

Whichever newcomers break in, Rosselli figures to have better overall hitting and fielding. The big losses will be in overall team speed and leadership.

Rosselli will toss basically a young pitching staff into the teeth of a 38-game schedule including 17 doubleheaders. The Penguins face four toughies--Akron, Ashland, Point Park and Clarion State--in the first two weeks.

Five letter winners are back led by senior righthander Gary Balakoff (Greg's brother) of Hubbard. The other vets are Steve Bartolin, junior from Hubbard, Jim Criscione, junior from Chaney, Rich Hanuschak, sophomore from Chaney, and Darl Smith, from West Farmington.

Hanuschak, who will miss a few of the early games due to a back injury, finished 5-1 with a 2.88 ERA. Balakoff was 5-3, Bartolin 4-3 with 59 strikeouts and Smith was 4-0. Criscione, who missed last season, has an 11-3 career mark.

Rosselli also expects help from Szenborn, fellow frosh Bruce Donahue of Wilson and Ed Knauts of Latrobe, Pa., and junior Joel Petkovic of East. Bartolin, Szenborn and Donahue are all lefties.

The complete Penguin schedule follows: April 5--Case Western Reserve (dh), 11--Akron (dh), 13--Ashland, 15--at Point Park (dh), 18--Clarion State (dh), 21--Steubenville (dh), 22--Alliance (dh), 27--at Hiram, 29--Ohio Dominican (dh), May 2--at Case Western Reserve (dh), 4--Ashland, 6--Westminster (dh), 8--at Alliance (dh), 10--Gannon (dh), 13--at Cleveland State (dh), 16--at Malone (dh), 18--at Gannon (dh), 20--at Akron (dh), 23--Cleveland State (dh), 25--Baldwin-Wallace, 27--Wooster (dh).

Director Wilkinson to speak on laws and civil liberties

Frank Wilkinson, executive director of the National Committee Against Repressive Legislation, will speak at 3 p.m. today in the Engineering Science Building Auditorium. Wilkinson has worked in the field of civil rights for 18 years and has been executive director since the founding of the civil liberties organization in 1960.

Dr. Alice Budge, assistant professor of English and advisor to the Community of Concern said that the National Committee engages in a national education-action program and limits its civil liberties focus to the defense of the first amendment rights of freedom of speech. Dr. Budge added that the Committee also opposes "repressive legislation and seeks the repeal of laws purportedly enacted to protect the internal security of the nation, but which in fact stand in direct violation of the Bill of Rights."

Wilkinson entered the citizens movement in 1938 for slum clearance and public housing and subsequently worked for 10 years with the Housing Authority of the City of Los Angeles. He became the first manager of an integrated housing project in Watts in 1942.

As NCARL filed representative, Wilkinson has spoken and debated before 1,000 universities, colleges and high schools and to many church, professional labor and community organizations.

Dr. Budge said that all are welcome to hear the speech and especially urged those interested in civil liberties to attend.

Elections

Article 611.01 that there are stipulations requiring new elections." A precedent may have been set, the report continued, by elections held after the by-laws revision (October, 1970) which, in the Committee's opinion, did not require the presentation of two I.D.'s.

To solve any future problems activities, as well as informing them of council activities."

Larene also proposed the creation of a YSU Student Grievance Board to handle the complaints and campus problems of students. This motion was passed unanimously by council with one abstaining vote cast by A&S representative Dan Dummire.

Larry Simko, President of Student Government, proposed the creation of a weekly seminar through which YSU students would be informed of the formal and informal administrative and legislative structure of the university. Each seminar would explain and illustrate the channels which carry the information relevant to the university function. This plan has been taken under consideration by council.

In other action Joan Kraynanski moved that a letter be sent to Joseph Rook, vice-president in charge of financial affairs, asking for the immediate declaration of the penguins as surplus property to expedite their removal. This motion was approved.

In a final report Chairman Davis read a letter from the American Red Cross thanking Student Council for their assistance and effort on behalf of the victims in the Buffalo Creek Disaster in West Virginia.

the Committee recommended the educating of the election workers in the proper technique or introduction of an amendment to the election by-law.

Social Security assignment will report student status

Students 18 and over who get monthly social security payments have an important "assignment" due before the end of the school year, according to Bernie Gunter, social security district manager in Youngstown.

Full-time students in school who are 18 and over and are unmarried can get monthly checks from social security until they're 22—if a parent gets social security benefits, or if a parent has died after working long enough under social security.

A reporting card, form SSA-1388, is mailed to each student beneficiary about three months before the end of the school year. The student's "assignment" is to fill in the card and mail it back to social security as soon as possible, Gunter said.

"This attendance report is used to determine if the student can continue to get monthly checks," Gunter said. "Any delay in returning the reporting card could mean a delay in payments for the student."

Any student in the Youngstown area who needs help with the report or information about his benefits can call the Youngstown social security office at 207 W. Federal Street. The telephone number is 746-8071.
