Discrimination charges discussed during Student Council meeting

Charges of discrimination made by Black football players against the Penguin football coaches will be investigated by Student Council according to a motion made by Student Council member Darryl Tukufu which passed Council yesterday.

Representatives of the Black Student Organizations arranged a meeting with Head Football Coach Bill Narduzzi, Affirmative Action's Hugh Frost, Special Assistant to the President Lawrence Looby, and Athletic Director Paul Amodio.

According to Tukufu, the meeting was not very satisfactory. Narduzzi told the blacks that their point was invalid, but he would try to be more open with his players. He asked for specifics, such as the names of the complaining players.

Tukufu told Council that the players wanted to remain anonymous for fear of retaliation. Another meeting has been scheduled between Narduzzi and the black representatives of the black student organizations. Meanwhile, according to Takufu, nothing had been done to improve the situation. For instance, Tukufu pointed out, no meeting has been held with the players.

Tukufu said the problems are not a recent development on the team, but have been present for years. He said the black players on the basketball team also have experienced discrimination, but that in the past year their situation had improved.

In other actions, Council listened to a member of the Gay Liberation Organization question why the Organization's Budget was completely cut, while other organization's budgets were left intact or only partially cut.

ME concert termed success despite loss, Brown says

Approximately, 4,256 people attended the Major Events concert featuring Blood, Sweat, and Tears, Cheech and Chong, and Gary Wright. Although the concert lost about $2000 President of Student Government, Bill Brown termed it "a great concert, just terrific."

Brown said there were no known incidents of disruptive behavior at the Sunday night

State funds run out for grant program

by Greg Garland

"The Ohio Instructional Grant (OIG) program is out of funds," revealed William T. Collins, assistant director of YSU's financial aids department.

Financial aids will continue to process the forms for the OIG, however, added Collins, so the state will be able to find out how much they came out short in appropriations for the biennially funded program.

While it is late to apply for financial aid for the current academic year, students can apply to a variety of sources including scholarships, loans, and federally funded Basic Educational Opportunity Grants (BEOG), said Collins. Scholarships are based on academic performance with a 3.00 gpa, a usual requirement, while grants are based on academic need. Loans are usually low interest and made repayable nine months after graduation.

The financial aids department expects to have forms for the 1976-77 school year, available in late November or early January, and Collins urges students to apply early for maximum consideration.

Students will have to fill out either a Student's Financial Statement (SFS) or a Parent's Confidential Statement (PCS) in order to qualify. The SFS costs $3.75 and the PCS costs $4.

"Some students may be deterred by the forms," said Collins, "and some of them are redundant." But, he added, his office is more than willing to help anyone with a significant problem.

Although Collins stated that roughly 3500-4000 students are receiving some form of aid, there is still room for improvement, he noted. "The middle income people, in particular, are being squeezed out and the income eligibility limits for independent students are rather strict," Collins stated.

Feitler appointed administrator of faculty evaluation

Dr. Fred C. Feitler, secondary education, has been appointed the first director of the Office of Instructional Improvement, announced YSU President Dr. John J. Coffelt.

Feitler's duties include: administration of the student evaluation of the teaching process, and coordination and development of the total faculty evaluation program; development of programs, workshops, courses and other activities designed to improve instruction; collection and distribution of information relating to external resources in the area of instructional improvement; and representing the University in organizations and activities relating to instructional improvement.

Total income from ticket sales, came to $24,000 from the $5 and $6 ticket fees; $7,500 was paid to Cheech and Chong, Blood Sweat and Tears received $5,000 and Gary Wright $2,500. The total payment for security was $800; gym rental $100; agency fees $2,100; $2,500 for advertising; $1,500 for sound and lighting (Cont. on page 2) systems; $500 for stage hands; and $200 for food for performers and stage hands.

When asked about the future of Major Events, Brown said promoters must be used for future concerts. "Between $31,000 and $32,000 were lost in the last two and a half years," he added. The biggest loss was the Steve Miller concert in spring quarter 1974, losing $17,500. Next was last years Ramsey Lewis and George Benson concert which lost about $9,000.

With the exception of the two losses, Brown said most of the other concerts had been successful.

Duped

Governor James Rhodes' four proposed bond issues appeal is a media hype of the slickest type, a real sucker campaign. And anyone who believes what the Rhodes' ad men are advertising is a real sucker.

Issue Two is the prime example of the syrupy stuff that Rhodes' ad men are spooning out to the public. In all the commercials, and in all the newspaper spreads, some two million dollars' worth of publicity, this amendment is billed as being able to bring new and improved industry to Ohio with no concurrent raise in taxes, and without great cost to the taxpayer. But, student voters, just wait 15 or 20 years—the debt will be yours to pay.

Examine the facts:

1. Issue Two will allow industry to expand with property tax abatement for a minimum of 15 years; if the industry is declared an essential need industry, that abatement on property will be extended to 30 years. So reads Issue Two.

Inevitably, however, the taxpayer will have to make up that lost revenue. This means an increase in property taxes, or closing of the schools, or worse.

2. Issue Two cannot create new jobs, as ads promise. Ohio has the second largest energy curtailment in the nation. New industry cannot locate in the state because of lack of energy sources, and no amount of tax incentive can replace natural gas. (Not even the omnipotent Rhodes can pull off that trick.)

Rhodes' men state that 500,000 new jobs will be created upon sale of the bonds. But, it is a United States Labor Bureau fact that half a million new jobs have not been created in this nation in the last seven years. How will a mere 14 billion dollars buy all those jobs within five years?

What it all amounts to is a clever, even classy, appeal to the middle class sensibilities of the greater portion of Ohio voters, average, hard-working voters. Expansion of industry (good), jobs for the jobless and welfare-supported (better), stable taxes (great)—it all sounds so good, so American, that some voters will not be able to resist all too believable hype. And, once again, James Rhodes will have duped millions.

What this amounts to is this slickest piece of political propaganda since the governor's 1967 bond issue for transportation.

Vote against the bond issues this election day. Rhodes' plan is a buy-now, pay-later proposition. And you will pay later.

Feedback

Sees no degradation in rush poster

To the editor of The Jambar:

In response to the letter concerning the Delta Chi poster that was published in the Friday, Oct. 17 issue of the Jambar:

I fail to see the human body as anything but sexist. I fail to see the human body as demeaning. I fail to see exposing parts of the body, as displayed on a poster, as exploitation. If I fail to see a person's body I offend his or her dignity, and display disrespect.

If the point in the letter about the Delta Chi poster was that it displayed a woman's body I fail to see the point. You say, why not a man's body? Why not?

Demands apology from Jambar

To the editor of The Jambar:

I feel an apology is necessary from The Jambar staff in misquoting my letter to the editor. Dr. Coffelt did not arrange to close classes, he only asked that teachers schedule some type of library work. Secondly, I am not the one who had requested this from Coffelt.

Calls Ohiocon photo spread neat

To the editor of The Jambar:

Pretty neat! Your two-page photo spread on the Ohiocon comic book convention in last Friday's Jambar was a decent attempt at recapturing the atmosphere of that event. There were a few mistakes in the article however, (like, for instance the statement that Ray Bradbury and Edgar Rice Burroughs got their start writing for comics when actually they started out in pulp magazines, with neither one ever actually writing for comic books, although both writers have had stories adapted into comics form by other writers). But other than a few more scattered minor errors (mostly misspellings and typos) the only other fault I could find with the article was that the writer failed to mention that the convention was put on by YSU's very own club of comic fanatics — the Youngstown Comic Art Association.

Hot wax: BS & T

by Steve Furgas

After their explosive performance on the Beeghly stage, Sunday night, BS&T member Bobby Colomby, the only remaining original member and the leader of the group, granted an interview with The Jambor.

Jambar: When the band first began, you worked with Al Cooper and Steve Katz, what was it like?

Colomby: It wasn't anything that was memorable, I don't have any fantastic memories. It was nice; it was fun. They're nice guys. Steve was our best friend or years. No bad memories came from it.

Jambar: Why has BS&T gone through so many changes in personnel?

Colomby: For the same reason my band that has good jazz players in it changes; the primary difference between a rock n' roll musician and a jazz musician is that a rock n' roll star wants to be a superstar and a jazz musician wants to be a great player.

If a guy wants to be a really great player, he can't stay in one environment too long or he gets stagnant, unless he can do other things, then it's cool. Otherwise he gets edgy and stale.

We have always had good players in the band, for example, Miles Davis. Look how many bands he's had and if you ask him why he keeps changing bands, he'll say that when he changes bands, he changes his music, his direction. Every major jazz musician has been in his band, people like the late John Coltrane and Herbie Hancock. That's part of his growth.

Jambar: You show such diversification, where are your roots? Are they in jazz or rock?

Colomby: Actually, it's hard to say. Even though we all come from different sources, we've all listened to the same music as young adults. We listen to jazz mainly but also plenty of blues and good rock n' roll. We're influenced however, mainly by Herbie Hancock and Chick Corea type music. A lot of times we're asked where we're going. It's simple, we're going out and playing music that we like. We always keep our ears open to new sounds, that's how we keep ahead of it.

Jambar: Since you began back in the mid-sixties, how has the field of music changed?

Colomby: There is a trend toward better music. Even music that has been considered commercial music is a lot better. I'm enjoying it more. Kids are starting to idolize the really good musicians rather than the pop idols. That's why Jeff Beck albums are selling, because he has some really good players. The kids are starting to like that, and it warms my heart because I like to think that I had something to do with it.

Security funds needed by YSU organizations

Some student organizations will be requesting a transfer of funds because of unanticipated security costs, according to Student Government President Bill Brown.

The security money will be needed to fulfill Kilcawley Center's requirement of one security guard for every weekend event held in the Center.

Brown said the Subcommittee on the Allocation of the General Fee cut security money from Organization budgets with the assumption that security would be handled by Kilcawley Center. Kilcawley Center had a large security allocation but cut it completely from their budget anticipating that an increase in the Security Department's budget would allow the department to handle their needs without any additional money, according to Brown.

Penguins victorious

saw plenty of action with the kicking teams. Rated as the nation's top punt returner last week in Division II, he returned seven punts for a net 65 yards Saturday.

Kot threw a pair of second-half TD passes to pull out the win, and Evans did a fine job of eluding would-be tacklers on the game-winning score. He was hemmed in at the 12, but fought his way into the end zone.

Through seven games, Kot (6-0, 185) has completed 44 of 94 passes (46.8 percent) for 725 yards and four TDs. He has thrown six interceptions. Evans (5-10, 165) has caught 26 of those tosses for 387 yards (14.9 avg.) and one score. Ron Fuller (5-10, 165) has made 15 receptions for another 265 yards (17.7 avg.) and one TD.

On the ground, junior halfback Billy Mills (5-9, 170) and senior fullback Tom Wilhelm (6-2, 215) are the leaders. Mills has gained 570 yards in 153 attempts for a 3.7 average and three scores. Wilhelm, among the Division II scoring leaders nationally, has gained another 370 yards on 84 rushes (4.4 avg.) and added nine TDs.

Should the ground or air game falter, Akron placekicker Jim Embick is a fine clutch player. He had converted 13 of 16 placements, and seven of 12 field attempts. His longest field goal was a 48-yarder.

Akron is averaging 295.4 yards in total offense: 177.7 on the ground and 119 through the air lanes. Defensively, the Zips have recovered twelve opponent fumbles and are allowing an average of 314.2 yards; 180.9 rushing and 133.3 passing.

The Zips are doing well with a 5-2 record against a strong schedule. In addition to a win over Temple, they have defeated Marshall (20-8), Western Michigan (27-21), Central State (34-8), and Northern Michigan (31-13). Their two defeats came at the hands of Delaware (21-0) and Dayton (31-9).

Campus Security had been allocated money for three new positions, but though it has hired four new men recently, they filled long standing positions vacated due to death and resignations.

Chief of Security Paul Cress said that assigning additional men to any one building would result in other buildings immediately demanding their own police persons. Beegly is in greater need of additional coverage, rather than Kilcawley anyway, according to Cress.

"I don't think students want a police person hanging around killing time," said Cress. "They don't want someone to baby-sit them."

Cress said that for dances and other events in the Center, security provided coverage at a cost to the sponsoring organization of $35 a night.

In 1939 a highly censored motion picture struggled out of Hollywood. There has been a lot of talk that something like a conspiracy boiled around this film, because what it contained was not good for public consumption. Cut from it were the innuendoes that depicted one man's different approach, an elementary approach—pure deduction. This poignant film, set in the late 19th century, displayed the first hip cop—a violin-playing cop, a junkie cop hooked on a 7% solution. His record—unimpeachable; his habits—eccentric; his name—Sherlock Holmes. We proudly present the uncensored original version of The Hound of the Baskervilles, starring Basil Rathbone & Nigel Bruce. Not seen legally in the U.S. or Canada on TV or theatre for over 30 years. Plus the only film interview with Sir Arthur Conan Doyle talking about Holmes, occult sciences, & psychic phenomena.

YSU victorious over Morehead; breaks losing streak for Penguins

In the words of Coach Bill Narduzzi, YSU's football squad "seemed to put it all together offensively and defensively" in Saturday's 28-0 homecoming victory over Morehead State at Rayen Stadium.

The triumph ended a two-game losing streak for the penguins (3-2) and could not have come at a more opportune time. This Saturday night at 7:30 p.m.

YSU travels west for a backyard scrap with arch-rival Akron at the Rubber Bowl.

The Zips raised their record to 5-2 Saturday night with a 24-23 victory over Division I foe Temple. Akron scored the winning points on a 26-yard scoring pass from quarterback Tom Kot to split end Glen Evens in the final 18 seconds.

Earlier this month Akron upset nationally ranked Northern Michigan, 31-13, knocking the Wildcats from the unbeaten ranks. One week prior, NMU stopped YSU, 15-0.

The Akron-YSU series dates back to 1940, when the Penguins blanked the Zips 13-0. Overall, the series stands at 7-7. YSU has won two of the last three games, including last year's 30-0 decision that earned the Penguins a berth in the NCAA Division II football playoffs.

With the split by the NCAA into three divisions, the game actually is for the mythical Division II title of Ohio. Both Akron and YSU have beaten Central State, the other Division II foe.

YSU's big win Saturday was the third whitewash of the campaign for Coach Wayne Chapman's defensive unit. Other shutouts have come at the expense of Central State (10-0) and Tennessee Tech (15-0). Overall, the YSU defense is allowing just 247.4 yards per game: 139.8 rushing and 107.6 passing.

Offensively, quarterback Cliff Stoudt had his best game of the season with eight pass completions in 12 attempts for 167 yards and a 29 yard TD to split end Ray Hernan. In the third period the pair hooked up on apparent TD plays of 71 and 54 yards, but each was nullified by penalty.

Stoudt also ran for 39 yards in four attempts, while fullback Dave Garden led the ground game with a pair of touchdowns and 65 yards in 11 attempts. Andy Kuchmaner, who tallied the other score, added 35 yards in 13 attempts.

Narduzzi substituted freely in the second half as seven different players carried the football for YSU, rolling up 216 yards in 45 attempts.
