REV. LINDER TO SPONSOR MID-SEMESTER TRIP IFC Sweetheart Ball Is Feb. 2

Queen To Be Crowned At Intermission

The Second Annual Sweetheart Ball will be held Feb. 2, in the ballroom of Stambaugh Auditorium. The co-chairmen for the dance, Bob Foreman and Ernie Gauld, have announced the candidates for Queen as follows:

Gert Bury, a member of Phi Lambda Delta sorority, is a sophomore majoring in Education, and is active in Newman Club.

Pat McGowan, of Phi Mu sorority, is a sophomore working towards a Bachelor of Science degree in medical technology.

Member of Pan-Hell

Patty Flynn is Secretary of Gamma Sigma sorority, and a senior completing work for an ABA degree. She is a member of Pan-Hellenic Council and Newman Club. She was also the 1955 Harvest Moon Queen, and Attendant to the 1956 Homecoming Queen.

Judy Johns, of Beta Sigma Omicron sorority, is a junior majoring in Physical Education. She is a member of

JAMBAR STAFF

All members of the JAMBAR staff who want to have their pictures in the 1957 NEON, go up to Klein Studios, 1302 Market Street, at 1:00 Tues. or 1:00 Wed., January 22 and 23.

Leave a notice in the JAMBAR mail box in the Registrar's office (No. 69) designating the day that you will be there.

Pan-Hellenic Council, W.R.A., and Booster Club. Judy is also a Cheerleader for Youngstown University.

The candidates will be judged at the dance by a committee of fraternity advisors, who will choose the 1957 I.F.C. Sweetheart.

Comic Valentine Theme

The general theme of the dance this year will be Valentines Day. Each booth built by a fraternity will be designed after a comic valentine, and they will be judged by members of the faculty who have been invited to chaperone the dance.

The Queen will be crowned and the trophy for best booth will be presented during intermission by Master-of-Ceremonies Bill Sponser, of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity.

The dance will begin at 9:00 p.m., with music being presented by Nick Barile, until 1:00 a.m.

The decorations for the dance will be under the supervision of Don Thorns, John Ulicney, and Al Portine; invitations and publicity, John Youngstead; floor, Tim Abraham and Bill Scannell; and, flowers and gifts by Jim Fedorchak. One member of each couple must belong to a fraternity or sorority.

One Will Reign

Candidates to be chosen for the IFC sweetheart are (L to R): Judy Johns, Patty Flynn, Patty McGowan, and Gert Bury. One of these girls will reign at the 2nd Annual dance. They are to be elected by the advisors of the fraternities.

Booster Club Is Re-organized; Now Known As Y. U. S. A.

A group of former Booster Club members met on Nov. 29, to re-organize. Newly elected president John Ulicney presided, and the meeting was opened with a discussion of the lack of spirit and cooperation in campus functions. The recently re-organized group decided that they would support, and promote all of the University's activities, scholastic, athletic, and social.

Also at this meeting, new officers were elected. They include: Judy Johns, secretary; Ron Isali, treasurer; and Gerry Wargo will take over the office of vice-president.

Booher Admitted To Naval Program

Bruce O. Booher, former Youngstown University student from Struthers, has been admitted to the Naval Aviation Cadet Program.

In order to qualify for the Cadet program, he had to complete six landings aboard the light aircraft carrier USS Saipan in the Gulf of Mexico.

He is now undergoing instruction in instrument flying at the Corry Field Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Pensacola, Florida.

Bruce O. Booher is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce O. Booher, of 520 Fourth St., Struthers.

GRADUATING SENIORS

During Jan., Feb., March, and April, many companies will be on campus to interview graduating seniors majoring in Chemistry, Mathematics, Physics, Engineering and Business Administration.

Anyone interested in such interviews should contact the Placement Office immediately.

Students Will Tour N.Y. For Five Days

On Sunday January 27, at 7:20 p.m., the second annual mid-semester New York trip, sponsored by Reverend Linder, will leave the Erie Terminal bound for five days in New York City.

NEON Plans New Section; Asks Help

By Jack Menosky

The NEON staff is requesting the help of the students in completing a pictorial section illustrating the more humorous side of university life. There will be a box in the library starting the 18th of January in which you can drop the photos.

All seniors who have not received a letter concerning their picture and extra-curricular activities should drop by the NEON office, West Hall. If no one is in, slide a paper under the door with your name and address.

The editor of the NEON wishes to thank all organizations for their splendid cooperation in helping complete the pictorial work on the campus organization's section. Any organizations that have not submitted their copy, please do so immediately.

Any student who has suggestions or comments as to the contents of the book should feel free to come in and discuss it with the staff. The book belongs to you, the students -- we, the staff, are only trying to edit and give you a creditable and enjoyable book.

This trip is open to all Youngstown University students and faculty members. The cost for the trip is $38.50 per person.

A brief schedule of activities and what the trip includes is as follows:

- *Round Trip Railroad fare in Coaches.
- *Breakfast in diner, going, and return trips.
- *Hotel Piccadilly 2 nights, 4 to room with bath.
- *Double room $1.00 extra per person per night.
- *Single room $2.00 extra per person per night.
- *Uptown and Downtown sightseeing tours.
- *United Nations tour.
- *RCA Observation Roof.
- *Radio City Music Hall Theater.
- *Pillow Service on train.
- *Transfers from train to hotel and from hotel to train.
- *Tips on train and at hotel.
- *Plenty of free time to do as you wish.

"Where Do We Stand?" Subject of Dr. Flagg's Speech To Students

By Tim Bowser

Students of Youngstown University were privileged to hear a recitation by Dr. Mildred B. Flagg, who is extremely well known, being a world traveler in the full sense of the term, an accomplished lecturer, writer, and ghost-writer. On Jan. 11, at 11:20 a.m., in Strouss Auditorium, Mrs. Flagg spoke to the students on the subject "Where Do We Stand?"

Opening the lecture with an experience she had in North Africa, Mrs. Flagg continued by proposing this question, "What makes our (college age) generation and America important and different?" She continued by answering the question for us, with accounts of her many pleasant experiences interposed throughout the lecture.

She also, later, stressed the importance of serving all man-kind, and humbleness, and challenged all students to take up the candles of education and light the way to truth.

Mrs. Flagg then reiterated her encounters with many famous personalities, and the reasons she considers each one of them a "lighter of candles." In conclusion, Mrs. Flagg displayed her strong patriotic beliefs by declaring that America is the "arsenal of democracy!"

Honored guests present included Mrs. Frank Furnell, Mrs. Howard W. Jones and Miss Mary Atworth. Miss Irene Wilson introduced the speaker. She is chairman of the program/committee, of the Youngstown Branch of American Association of University Women, who presented her as a speaker

NOTICE TO ALL SENIORS

Information is arriving daily at the Dean of Women's office concerning scholarships and assistantships for various graduate schools. If interested, you may check the bulletin boards on the second floor of the Main Building or the files in the Dean of Women's office.

The Campus Voice

Larry Krempasky - Sigma Delta Beta

During pledging, which I enjoyed, I learned that the Sig Deltas are a great group of guys! They know just how to harass a pledge, carrying it to a certain limit, but not letting the pledge become discouraged. I didn't mind at all when I had to "have words" with some cute girls.

Most embarrassing of all, though, was when I had to wear a fireman's hat, the significance of which I am sure most fraternity men are familiar.

Jim Trimble - Theta Chi

Jim is a freshman majoring in Industrial merchandising. His most embarrassing moment was when he walked into the cafeteria without his paddle, on the day when all Theta Chi pledges were to have their paddles completed. Jim was given a severe "balling out" by all of the actives, and was "taboo" for the rest of the day.

Bill Ipe - Sigma Phi Epsilon

My most embarrassing moment as a pledge of Sigma Phi Epsilon was followed in quick succession by another just as embarrassing. No sooner had I completed my paddle, and begun carrying it, than someone stole it! This wasn't bad enough, I discovered to my horror, one dismal day, that I had lost my pledge pin. Now I ask you, what worse fates can befall a pledge?

I have since constructed a new paddle, and acquired a new pin, but "suffering" and embarrassment until things were righted! Oh, my!

Stan Swope - Theta Chi

My most embarrassing moment as a pledge of Theta Chi Fraternity was the day a rival pledge ran off with my paddle. I was sitting in the cafeteria when someone flew by me, and I suddenly realized that he had taken my paddle! He disappeared out the door, and I felt sick when I looked outside and couldn't find him. Luckily my paddle was returned the next day.

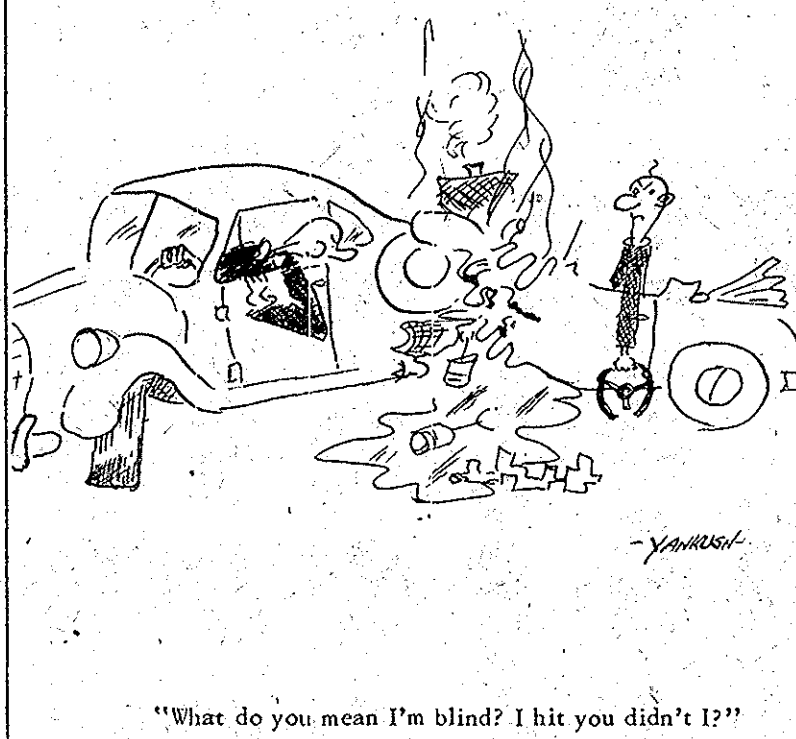

Bill Baker - Nu Sigma Rho

Bill Baker is a freshman majoring in Engineering. When asked what his most embarrassing moment was, while pledging, Bill gave this reply. "My most embarrassing moment as a pledge came on the very first day. One of the actives made me go over to West Hall for a little project. You can imagine my embarrassment when I had to walk into the middle of a sculpturing class, bow, and say 'good morning' to a statue."

A guy wandering through a department store squeezed one doll and it cried "Mama." Later he squeezed another doll and it screamed "Floorwalker."

For exercise, the laziest man we know reads horror stories and lets his flesh crawl.

ENGINEER'S ANGLES

By Two Engineers

Returning from two glorious weeks of looking at unfinished lab reports (just look, no do), we notice that everything is back to normal. The seniors are still starting their theses which were first started way back in September.

After looking at some test papers we got back, we believe that the teachers made a few mistakes and put the temperature on our papers instead of grades. As all of you know, it has been pretty gosh-awful cold outside.

We have noticed that Tom Jones, Dick Zbell, and Andy Bernard have removed all reference books on geometry from the library and are hard at work studying the spheroid and its effects when coming in contact with a circular ring of tempered steel attached to a rectangular object constructed of hard wood.

This Happens Because ...

All this is coming about because it appears that this threesome are now gracing the hardwoods with their basketball prowess.

We hear from the grapevine (it was said with a whine) that professor D'Isa has been awarded a sharpshooters medal for his unerring accuracy with a piece of chalk which bounded off the head of one drowsy, prostrate student by the non de plume of Tim Abraham.

We now have a nomination for the rodent of the semester. It is the person who removed the back file of thermo tests which was posted in the lounge for the benefit of all the thermodynamic students. It was not for the use of some student (?) who terms his dishonorable self as expendable to the field of engineering.

Please Return

Please return the book or we will be here another decade. Oh well, one thing spurs us on, and that is the fact that we'll be up for student pension soon. This is awarded to a student who crowds four years of schooling into five and one-half years.

The salaries of schoolteachers has, for a long time, been a subject of controversy and, to add a little fuel to the fire, another case comes to the fore.

It seems that a certain dean has just finished paying for a suit he purchased in 1937. He claims it took so long because he used to spend his spare pennies for a book entitled "English Self Taught."

Well, we have come to the end of the trail again partners, and must mosey over to the bunkhouse and get a little shuteye for the big week of exams.

Speak French? Apply For Foreign Training In France

The French Government is offering approximately thirty university fellowships through the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and forty teaching assistantships through the Ministry of Education. The fellowship awards are for students with definite academic projects or study plans.

The assistantships afford language teaching experience and an opportunity to become better acquainted with France.

Nominations of candidates for fellowships and assistantships will be made by a joint committee of French and American educators working in cooperation with the French Cultural Services and the Institute of International Education.

Closing date for application is February 1, 1957.

Must Be Citizen

The French Government awards are open to men and women preferably under 30 years of age. Applicants must be U.S. citizens. Other eligibility requirements are: a bachelors degree from an American college or university by the time of departure; good academic record; good knowledge of French; correct usage of English; good moral character, personality and adaptability; and good health.

Assistants must be unmarried, and unmarried candidates are preferred for the fellowships.

Graduate fellowships are open to students in all fields of study. In the field of medicine, candidates must have the M.D. degree. Fellows study in French universities and other state institutions. These awards provide tuition and a modest maintenance.

BETA SIG'S TO PRESENT "CHEZ PARIS"

Beta Sigma Omicron presents their 2nd Annual Chez Paris on Friday, February 8, 1957. Place and band to be announced at a forthcoming date.

The theme will be a Parisian cafe with a floor show at intermission including the French can-can. Lahni Stanier and Bart Wentz are chairmen.

Always Plenty of Questions

Everyone is talking about class schedules and courses they want to take now that the semester is drawing to a close. As usual, the students' look to upperclassmen for advice on what courses and instructors to take and which to avoid.

Many a "You're taking that?" and, "Boy, what a bore!" is heard. And there are many courses which deserve such a description. There have been many such "bores" for years and they will probably remain "bores" for many more years unless some effort is made to improve them.

Deans do not always know the weak courses in their colleges. A professor rarely is aware that the course he teaches is considered a bore. Only students can supply such information, but they rarely do -- to professors.

Many courses at this university could be improved through suggestions from students, or at least from a knowledge of the situation; graduating seniors logically could provide such information.

A very likely and interesting solution has been presented in an editorial written by the editor of the Ohio University Post, which states that after four years of college "students develop definite ideas about some of the courses they have taken, and they sometimes feel a little cheated when they recall this 'worthless' class and that 'nothing' course. Sometimes, 'senioritis' stimulates heavy cutting of such courses.

If capable students continually cut a class when they get the chance, the course needs revamping. There are courses well attended, although virtually no attendance is taken. This is excellence.

To constantly improve the curriculum, an endeavor a university must always be interested in, every senior should be required to write a critique of the department courses he has taken.

Without a length requirement, disinterested students could write a paragraph, but conscientious seniors could turn in pages. Among the manuscripts there undoubtedly would be many helpful suggestions."

Such a plan as this would need the support of administration, deans, and the students themselves. Youngstown's Senior Class officers still have time to investigate the possibility of such a procedure at Youngstown. This would be a very worthwhile and needed contribution to our university.

E.G.

We Regret--

Attendance at chapel services prior to the holiday season reached a high. Students filled both the Protestant and Catholic chapels in a genuine example that the student body is not so detached from spiritual meditation as certain quarters might claim.

Yet it is lamentable that the student body does not turn out in such force during the regular weekly chapel services. A considerable amount of the lack of attendance is a direct result of various group meetings (and some classes) being scheduled for the noon hour. In most cases these instances cannot be helped and are usually justified.

President Jones' repeated examples of attendance at chapel services when possible, despite his often heavy noontime schedule has been much appreciated by both students and faculty.

But at a university that wisely does not require compulsory chapel attendance in deference to the granting of the right for each person to decide for themselves, increased examples of certain members of the faculty at chapel services would be an excellent example to members of the student body.

Let us trust that this will be remedied in the near future.

Wiretapping

By Janice Simpson and Bob Foreman

Elvis Presley, the wiggin' hillbilly, was the subject of a recent survey by the Associated Collegiate Press.

Among other things, it was discovered that about 38 percent of those queried like him, 51 per cent say nix and the other 11 per cent are undecided.

More coeds than men students "dig" Elvis and many said they enjoy his singing but not his gyrating.

An observation at Maryland University a Junior hits the nail on its head:

"Some of his hits are very enjoyable. Many people who do enjoy him will not admit it for fear of degrading themselves."

University of Michigan

HURLING PLATES

Several hundred University students at Michigan dormitory protested against bad food Sunday. They threw plates of asparagus and vanilla pudding against the walls of the dorm.

According to one student, the quality of dormitory food has been declining since school opened in September and this riot was the culmination of dissatisfaction which has been mounting since then.

The demonstrators calmed down only after the dean of men promised to investigate the matter.

The Sunday's menu included corned beef, Swiss cheese, asparagus, vanilla pudding and milk. Egad!

Findlay College

SORRY WRONG NUMBER

If a man answers, hang up! This bit of advise in the Daily Texan was directed towards men seeking dates with a certain coed at the University of Texas.

When enrolling, she wasn't sure of her new phone number, so she listed it as she remembered it, but, sorry, wrong number.

Callers are greeted by a hearty "hello" from Austin's police chief, whose number she used by mistake.

University of Chicago

THE WORD

University of Chicago tells this sad tale of a frustrated student that studied his notes for an exam. He studied his textbook, studied his notes, he outlined both. Then he summarized his outline and outlined his summary on three-by-five cards.

"He reduced the card outline to one single card, boiled the sentence down to a phrase and the phrase down to a word.

"He entered the exam, analyzed the question and then - forgot the word."

Marquette University

Men returning their dates to dormitories have been forbidden to kiss them good-nite in front of those buildings.

The dean of women cites a rule which prohibits public display of affections outside women's residence halls.

Male students are rather indignant over the proposal, and rightly so, we think.

Such restrictions are liable to cause bitter students to "display their affections" in out-of-the-way places in a more disastrous form than a good-night kiss!

However, until further notice, couples at Marquette will be shaking hands - no more.

NEW YEARS RESOLUTIONS

1. Don't spit on the campus greens. This disturbs the chlorophyll. Use the sidewalk instead.
2. Don't play footsie in class with the members of the opposite (sex). This is detracting from the lectures. Try instead a nice game of tic tac toe when things are getting a little dull.
3. When calling for a date, don't sit around and make out with the house mother.
4. Don't smoke in bed and fall asleep. Cigarettes are too expensive to start fires with.
5. Don't sleep in class. Stay home in bed where it's more comfortable and there is no disturbance from the prof.
6. And finally, when indoubt - sack out.

"Dear Pop:
Everything is fine at school. I'm getting plenty of sleep but working hard.
Incidentally, I'm enclosing my fraternity bill.

"Dear Buzz:
Don't buy any more fraternities.

Pop

Soph.: "I see by the paper that nine professors and one student were killed in a wreck."

Senior: "Poor chap".

Clerk: "What sort of toothbrush do you want?"

Frat. Man: "Lem'me have a big one - there are 30 men in our fraternity."

Emanu-el Defeats Univ. Chess Club

The winter match of the Youngstown University Chess Club was held at the downtown fire station in December. The successful opponents were members of the Emanu-el Chess Club.

The total scores of the match were: Emanu-el 6½ and Youngstown University 3½.

Individual scores of the members of the two clubs were as follows:

Mort McKinney	½
*Paul Tremmel	1½
*Bill Tassian	0
Bill Shelley	2
*Nick Paparadis	2
*Philip Hahn	0

Announce Exams

The Graduate Record Examinations, required of applicants for admission to a number of graduate schools, will be administered at examination centers throughout the country four times in the coming year. Educational Testing Service has announced. In 1957, the dates are January 19, April 27, and July 6. ETS advises each applicant to inquire of the graduate school of his choice which of the examinations he should ordinarily take the designated examinations in the fall administration.

A Bulletin of Information, (in which an application is inserted) provides details of registration and administration as well as sample questions, may be obtained from college advisers or directly from Educational Testing Service, 20 Nassau Street, Princeton, New Jersey, or P. O. Box 27896, Los Angeles 27, California.

Engineers Initiate 15 To Sigma Tau

Alpha Theta Chapter of Sigma Tau National Honorary Engineering Fraternity held its semi-annual initiation ceremonies Sunday Dec. 16, at the Mural Room.

The program consisted of the formal initiation, banquet, and talks from guest speakers - Mr. Eugene Brooks, Asst. chief engineer at Deming Pump Co. who was also initiated as an alumni member; Mr. Gibbs, a member of the engineering school faculty, retired chief engineer of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation and also one of the original members of Sigma Tau; and Dean Charignon, Dean of the Engineering School and chapter advisor.

Among the alumni guests were Mr. Kramer, Mr. Richley, Mr. D'Isa, Mr. Gris, all of whom are instructors at the engineering school.

New Members Chosen

The candidates are chosen on the basis of scholarship in the engineering field, sociability and personal worth. New student members included: T. Jones, M. Solomon, D. Arnold, R. Zbell, A. Bernard, R. Dills, E. Salata, L. Petruska, M. Conroy, D. True, D. Lewis, W. Lloyd and newly initiated alumni members are: T. Mosure, M. Siman, E. Brooks

The aim and purpose of Sigma Tau is to stimulate scholarship in the engineering field and to recognize those individuals who have attained a high level of educational development above and beyond that expected of average students.

Active: "Give me a match."

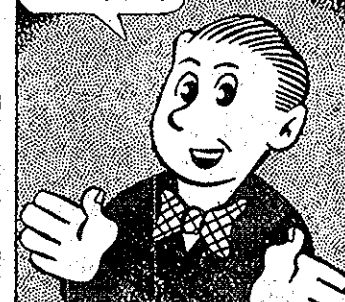

Pledge: "Here you are sir."

Active: "Well, can you beat that? I left my cigarets at the house."

Pledge: "S'to bad, give me back my match."

IT'S GREEK TO ME

By Pat Hrinko and Pat Gubany

Congratulations to IFC candidates Patty McGowan, Patty Flynn, Judy Johns and Gert Bury. A queen, from this bevy of lovely girls, will be chosen at the Second Annual IFC Sweetheart Dance, Feb. 2.

Many thanks Kappa Sig pledges on erecting the new Greek boards. Respectful silence is due the relic on the second floor.

Paddles seem the thing these days as the various fraternities ran their pledges through the ropes. Congratulations men on your choice.

The Sig Delt's Annual Christmas Dance highlighted the Christmas season. Bringing back the old Greek spirit was the Teke's "January Jump" and the Alpha Phi Delta's "End of Semester Dance".

Zeta Phi Eta

The members of Zeta Phi Eta want to extend a sincere thank you to all other Greek organizations for their warm welcome and pledged cooperation. They hope this association will be a long and happy one.

This spirit was evident as the boys joined Beta Sigma Omicron sorority in a Christmas project. The Zeta Phi's wish to thank them for an enjoyable and lasting experience.

The new year saw the boys at the Valley Park Hotel giving a rousing welcome to '57.

The basketball season was inaugurated on a winning note as the frat edged a good Nu Sig team, 65-64. Athletic chairman, Mel Klinger offers a standing challenge to all comers.

Plans for a spring dance are incomplete, but president Jim Kane hints at a "surprise".

New appointments were made at the last meeting: Bob Vaclav, social chairman; Don "Corky" Parm, pledge master; and Mike D'Amico, historian.

Kappa Alpha Psi

The Kappa's had a back-to-school party and the affair was a large success. Hats off to Brother Frank Wainwright, the party chairman, who did a magnificent job of seeing that everyone had a good time. He was ably assisted by his co-chairmen, Brother Roger Raines, Connie Williams, the Kappa Sweetheart Queen, and Sandra Bell.

A large crowd turned out. The highlight of the evening was when the visiting brothers from Central State University and Kent State University joined in and sang some Kappa songs.

Congratulations to a new sister, Soror Pearl Jackson. Just recently, Pearl was initiated into the Kappa's sister sorority, Alpha Kappa Alpha. To Pearl, best wishes from Kappa Alpha Psi Brothers.

One of the good brother's 1957 Cadillac broke down recently, causing some of the brothers to have to walk a mile and a half as a result. Ask "Scally" about it?

Beta Sigma Omicron

Beta Sigs and Zeta Phi Eta's had a Christmas project of helping a needy family. They trimmed a Christmas tree for them, and Santa brought them gifts. Caroling followed.

Pat Beacom and Bob Bucher, Teke, were pinned, as were Sue Ritzie and Mark Brooks, Kappa Sig.

Congratulations are also in order for Laura Dittler, who was elected to Student Council; Judy Johns, who is Beta Sig candidate for I.F.C. Queen; Gerry Wargo, who is vice-president of Y.U.S.A.; and Judy Johns, who is secretary of Y.U.S.A.

A surprise birthday party was held for Peg Cramer ... with a get together at Fran Minghetti's.

Some Beta Sigs traveled to Akron U. to see the game. How come Push and Lahni are transferring to Akron. (Yes, Larry!)

The Beta Sigs are busy getting ready for their dance, Ches Paris, to be held Feb. 8. Lahni Stanier and Barb Wentz are chairmen.

Put On Finishing Touches

IFC CO-CHAIRMEN Bob Foreman and Ernie Gauld pause a few minutes before putting the finishing touches on the annual dance. The second annual affair is open for all fraternity and sorority members and their dates.

Sigma Delta Beta

The members of Sigma Delta Beta Fraternity would like to thank all those people who helped make their 11th Annual Christmas Dance a huge success, especially all the Greeks who were helpful. Everybody there had a good time.

The brothers would like to congratulate brother Clive Unger on being elected to Student Council recently. Go to it Clive!

Installation of new members was held on January 13, with a dinner at the El Rio. After Hell-Night, which was held on the night before, several Sig Delt's slept through the dinner, (all that Porterhouse steak).

The Sig Delt's entry into the Intramural basketball league suffered an opening loss to Nu Sigs. The score is a secret, (excuse ... too many weeds).

Plans are currently being completed for the annual raffle. This year a portable TV set will be given to the lucky ticket holder.

Gamma Sigma

The Gamma Sig's had a wonderful time during the holidays. They had their Christmas party on Dec. 19. A Christmas caroling party with the Theta Chi's was held a few days before Christmas. A good time was had by all at both of the parties.

Helen Reardon honored the former Jody Konesky with a sorority shower during Christmas week. The girls also exchanged Christmas gifts at the shower. Jody became Mrs. Neil Maslin at a beautiful evening service in St. John Episcopal Church. Jody looked very lovely in her white velvet gown. She's still walking around on clouds!!

Congratulations to Loretta Liptak and Madalyn Sweeney, who were hostesses for the Sig Delt Christmas Dance. Patty Flynn was chosen to be a candidate for IFC Queen. Congratulations Patty!

Moe Cooney, Pat Quinnan, Dot Daley, Joanne Kaschak, and Madalyn Sweeney are all excited about the trip they plan to take to New York during the semester vacation.

One of the alumni, Helen Savic, has recently been pinned to Bruce Bond.

Alpha Phi Delta

Alpha Phi Delta will present its first annual "End of Semester Dance" at the Eagles Ballroom after the Baldwin Wallace game, January 16 from 9-12. Admission is 75¢ and music will be provided by Mike Roncone and his Twilight Serenaders. Chairman for the dance is Tony Mastrangelo.

The New Year's Eve party was an A-No. 1 blast. Brother John Felde made a big hit with his little Boopie hat. Brother Red Nolli was at his best while he tried to make out with everyone's girl. The saying "never leave your girls alone when Nolli's around" held true New Year's Eve.

Buck up Vito, you have a year to practice your jitterbugging. The party was handled by Vito Leordi and Tom Marcone.

Co-chairmen for the annual fraternity Valentine Ball are Tom Fortunato and Vito Leordi. Drawing for the raffle will be held at noon in the cafeteria, January 18. A men's and women's Bulova watch will be the prizes.

Phi Lambda Delta

After a busy holiday season, the Phi Lam's are beginning to get back into the swing of things as they begin cramming for finals.

Several of the sisters were taken from the ranks of the available when they received Christmas rings. Congratulations are extended to Barbara Knott, Norma Jo Mitchell, Eileen Larson, Tessie Todarello and Ariene DiLisio, who are engaged and to Gert Bury on her pinning to Marve Minneman. A lifetime of happiness is wished to Mrs. Bob Magni (Carol Pachell) who was married on Dec. 29.

The Phi Lam's have received offers from Decca Records to record Christmas Carols. The sisters went caroling to a variety of places, namely, Pat and Tony Vivo's. A new book on mechanics, entitled "How to Change a Tire" by "Big Ange" and the gang, is now in the process of being printed.

Congratulations to Gert Bury, our lovely candidate for IFC, and to all the other candidates. Congratulations are also extended to Peggy Tiller on her re-election to Student Council.

The only word for the Theta Chi-Phi Lam party, held before Christmas, is "terrific." Karl Mogg was again his own inimitable self, ably assisted by Ruth Navin. That means something good, Karl!

It seems the Phi Lam's have become world travelers. They have been following the basketball team on their recent out of town jaunts. Their recent trip to Akron proved to be quite something. The word for the evening was BNSDH!

See you around campus, gang!

Kappa Sigma Kappa

The year 1956 was concluded with a gigantic New Year's Eve party. A great time was had by all actives, inactives, alumni, pledges and guests.

The Kappa Sigs would like to congratulate the Sig Delt's on their wonderful Christmas Night Dance.

Following the true Christmas spirit, the brothers have given a sizeable contribution to "Father Flannigan's Boys Town".

Congratulations to Brother Mick D'Amico on his recent engagement to Irene "Betty" Yakubovic, Christmas Eve; also to Brother Bruce Bond on his recent pinning to Helen Savic.

Initiation welcomed back Ned Mervis, Buster McCloud, Jerry Eberhart, and Jim Maugie.

During pledge period Ed Pacic came up with a new name for a certain brother, "Silly". Who is silly?

Pledge of the month is Tom Maloney who was elected by the active brothers for being an excellent pledge of Kappa Sigma Kappa.

Nu Sigma Rho

Highlighting the functions of the year were the Christmas and the New Year's Eve parties. Thanks to Bob Succieri, Gil Prokop, John Andreyko, Tony Jannetto, Gus Hazifotis and Frank Kpicak for the wonderful job done.

With all the pledges shaping up, the March of Dimes campaign was very successful. In the 10 above zero weather, the pledges came through with their shoe shine campaign and collected a nice amount of money for the victims of Polio.

Ralph Donofrio, Pledge President, and pledges: Bill Baker, Jack Sirak, Larry Menosky, Tom Marsteller, Steve Vrabie, Dick Thurik, Jeep McDonald, Sam Traficant, Dick Vecchio, Dick

Looking Around..

With Ernie Gauld and Bill Sponsler

Well old bean, it's a bit chilly outside, what? (I give up, what?) This is the beginning of a new year and we are sure we'll all strive to be good little boys and girls, and from what we hear, it's a good thing.

The Christmas vacation was a huge success, spirits were high as were most of the students. It seems that Mr. Poulson's little boy John got home from the Snowflake Frolic in the wee hours of the morning (in fact the hours were getting pretty big by the time he arrived) and the elder Mr. Poulson thought that it would be an opportune time to tar the roof. Oh well, all the best roofers are wearing ivy league suits this year we hear.

Pledging is now in full swing again and any unusual activity seen around the campus can be attributed to the intense training these young stalwarts are receiving.

After all, what can be of more value to a math student than counting the venetian blind slates in the library while saying the Greek alphabet backward; or for a history major to count the names of the veterans on the statue on the square while standing on his head on top of Central Tower looking through field glasses (we couldn't spell binoculars) and whistling the Marine's Hymn.

And of course what could be better than music supplied by the various fraternity pledges. We can think of a thousand things better, but, according to Bob Amy, Jack Snow, Marvin Jaffee, Jim Carr, Roger Cain, Buckley Banish, John Catheline, Andy Tisome, and Tom Lundquist, we just don't appreciate good music.

Speaking of music we would like to know what has happened to those days of ballads and songs with a fairly "human twang?" Everyone seems to go for rock-and-roll now, so here is a bit of poetry for you. (For the non pulsed, poetry is that form of literary art which expresses lofty thought, feeling, or action in beautiful language.)

Haley-Presly-Richard-Boone
And "Well all rootie"
With "Hound Dogs"
And "Tootie Fruti!"

I tell you, the
Music world is shot,
It's completely gone!
(I mean to pot!)

So give me a tune
That isn't nutty;
A tender ballad like
"Cement Mixer, Putty-Putty."

Getting away from music (and you can see why) we get back to our little campus scenes. It seems as of late we have acquired a bunch of Katee Knitters or Audrey Argyles around here. These knitters have no particular habitat and can be seen anywhere, anytime, and anyhow.

You'll always see them with their trusty yarn and needles and, in order not to waste a minute, they even knit while standing in line in the cafeteria.

These girls are really working on their new project "Socks For Needy Profs." All profs who are interested please apply on the roof of West Hall.

In closing we leave you with this thought: Skiing, skating, and sled riding are not the only forms of winter recreation.

NEWSFLASH: It has just been announced that the library will be torn down in the near future to make way for the building of five new annexes!

Student Council Notes

By Paul Kennedy

Controversy over the past Student Council elections terminated in the decision that the elections in the Business School are null and void. Reasons for this is that two candidates did not have the necessary point average to be eligible for election.

It is stated in the Student Council By-Laws that "candidates must have a cumulative scholastic, point average of not lower than 1.75." Two of the candidates in the Business School were disqualified because of this clause, resulting in the decision of Student Council members in declaring the election void.

Held Again

Elections in this School were held again for one day only, and, at the time of this writing, those results were not known. The elections of the Liberal Arts and Engineering Schools were declared valid.

Elections of new officers for Student Council will take place today for the following year.

The newly constructed Grievance committee has been in full swing discussing the possibility of a jukebox in the cafeteria. Also plans are almost completed for the placing of more pencil sharpeners in classrooms.

Parking Discussed

Also, a special committee under the direction of Joe Nohra has been trying to come to some conclusion over the possibility of relieving the congestion of cars in the Main Parking lot.

Lucille Elias, Snowflake Prolie chairman, read the final report on the dance. It was unanimously accepted by the members of Council.

Dick Hixon, editor of the HORIZON, gave a report concerning the sales of the literary magazine. He stated that approximately 200 copies of the book are still available for sale.

ACS Arranges Field Trip; New Plans Discussed

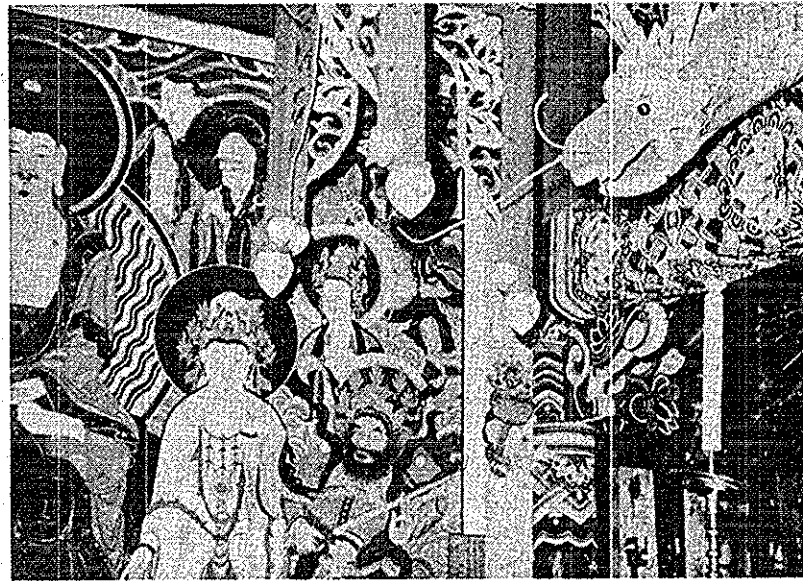

At their last monthly meeting, the American Chemical Society discussed plans for the coming new year and arrangements were made for a field trip to the Cold Metal Products.

"Cellular Chemistry" was the subject of a lecture given by Dr. Charles Evans of the biology faculty at the conclusion of the business meeting.

The ACS celebrated the Christmas season by presenting a chemical open house for the freshmen students. The students were given a guided tour of all the chemical labs.

The tour was supplemented with chemical demonstrations and explanations given by affiliate members of the Society.

WHAT'S THIS? In the collection of George Bosak's (JAMBAR Staff photographer) is this picture of the inside of a Buddhist Temple in Korea. Interesting, huh?

Middle Management Course Offered

In cooperation with the Mallory-Sharon Titanium Corp., Youngstown University opened the first course for middle management last week in connection with the University's Technical Institute program.

The course consists of 32 lecture-discussion meetings scheduled for Wednesday evenings from 7 to 10 p.m. the last one to be scheduled on May 15. The classes meet on the third floor of the Board of Education Building, Room 35. The course is not offered for university credit.

On the faculty for the series are Jack Carpenter, superintendent of Steel Corp.; Al Treadwell, vice president in charge of operations, Sharon Steel; Harold C. Buel, vice president in charge of sales, The P.R. Mallory Co., Indianapolis; Dr. F.R. Hensel, vice president in charge of engineering and research of The Mallory Co., and Dr. O'Brien of the English faculty of the university.

Coordinators of the program are for the company, William Howell, executive staff assistant and for the university, Prof. Harold Crites.

WRA Holds Annual "Playday"

The Women's Recreational Association of Youngstown University held its annual "Playday" Jan. 12. Seventeen colleges from Ohio and Western Pennsylvania were represented.

After registration at noon on Sat., the activities, built on the theme of "Fantasy Land" took place at the YWCA, the Physical Education building, and at the Strouss Memorial Auditorium.

Trophies were awarded to the students who best illustrated different characters of cartoon fame.

Board Members Direct

The program was under the direction of the WRA board members. The committee chairmen were Marilyn Yurak and Ann Schmidt.

The purpose of the annual "Playday" is to aid the members of WRA to become acquainted with students from other colleges and universities.

Baker, Fred Seminara, Ed Hritz and Tom Knight.

Pete Torek, Larry Cipriano, Steve Garchar, Ron Zupko, Ron Wolfgang, Joe Vukovich, Randall Porter, Ace Verdram, Andy Tissione, Glen Spillman, Gary Rapp, Terry Milan and Rock Cuya all looked very sharp in their costumes. Good work Men!

The Nu Sigs all had a terrific time at the parties with Tau Kappa Nu. Their thanks to Clair Sozio, Caroline Yankush, and Arlene Borghetti, who are wonderful hostesses.

Congratulations to Brother Jack Menosky, the proud father of another little girl, Leah Theresa. Also to John Andreyko, who has been elected to Student Council.

The Nu Sigs would like to extend a happy and successful New Year to all Greeks and to all the students of Youngstown University.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Most of the Sig Ep's have recovered from the holiday spirits. Many exciting events kept them on the jump over the holidays. On Dec. 21, they held a very successful party at Krieders, and it was the general consensus of opinion that the decorations were the best ever! Congratulations go to social chairman Bob Foreman.

On the 29th, another Sig Ep began, what we hope will be a long and very happy married life. Best wishes to Brother Bob Magni and his new bride, the former Carol Pachell, a Phi Lam.

Also, congratulations are due Brother Bill Fergus, who became engaged over the holidays and for Brother Tim Bowser, who became pinned to Miss Mary Jane Olsen on Christmas Eve.

We are happy to report that Brother Dick Remick is now home and doing very well. Note: girls, Dick will be out of circulation for awhile due to the "neck" brace he must wear!

The new year was welcomed by a very satisfied crowd of Sig Ep's, who gathered at Ma Perkins' to, among other things, tear up tentative resolutions, and to toast each other in looking forward to what they hope will be an even more successful year than the last one was. They also wished the same for everyone else!

1957 got off to a rather discouraging start for Brother Howard Mason. The treacherous roads brought about a very unfortunate accident, and although the others involved have been released, "Huck" still welcomes all visitors at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Plans for a sensational I.P.C. Dance are in full swing, under the direction of co-chairmen, Gauld and Foreman. The Sweetheart Ball, this year, promises to be a tremendous occasion for all Greeks.

SENIOR WOMEN

Miss Harkins of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., Cleveland, Ohio, will be at Youngstown University to interview graduating senior women on Jan. 29 from 10:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m.

Any senior women who are interested in talking with Miss Harkins regarding employment may make an appointment in Room 210 of the Main Building.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

The Ninth Annual January Jump was held January 11 at the Eagles Hall. Highlighting the evening was square dancing, round dancing to the music of Joe Parlink and his orchestra and a dance contest judged by Arthur Murray dance teachers who also gave a demonstration on the elementary steps in rumba, samba and swing dancing. The Teke's wish to thank all those who attended and made it the success that it was.

Highlights of the holiday season for the Teke's were a combined Christmas caroling trip and a party with Delta Chi sorority and of course, a very hale and hearty New Year's eve party.

Caroling took place at President Jones' home, the Tuberculosis Sanatorium and a few other places such as Mr. Warren Williamson's home. The latter was a gesture of good will for our "striking brother" John Bradshaw. The candy sale was a big success and the members of TKE wish to thank the students for their part in helping to make it thus.

RUSHING NOTICE

Any girl interested in being rushed, who is a full time student and has a minimum 1 point average, along with being a full time student 1 semester previous to rushing, come to a meeting February 1, at 4:00, in the Audio Visual Room of the Library.

Registration for girls wishing to be rushed is as follows: February 4-6 8 A.M. to 5 P.M. Room 210 (Dean of Women's Office) $1.00 registration fee

Theta Chi

The second annual Christmas caroling party held with the Gamma Sigs was a big success. The faculty members and administration living near the University enjoyed the many carols sung. A party in the Christmas spirit followed.

Theta Chi held its first annual New Year's Eve party, with Paul Anstead doing a wonderful job as chairman. Everyone enjoyed themselves and are looking forward to more of the same.

Congratulations to Bill Carnie and Sam Sanfilippo on their election to Student Council.

The pledge class, Bob Amy, Bill Kesner, Don O'Neill, Ted O'Neill, Jim Trimble, Tom Flynn, Jack Ebert, John Hite, Sam Sanfilippo, Harold Sinn, Jim Rounsley, Lou Devlin, Calvin Stroble, Dick Johnson, Stan Swope and Jim Roof, have as their project, under the direction of Jack Storey, chairman, the Theta Chi booth at the IFC dance.

The trophy, last year, for the best booth, went to Sigma Sigma Fraternity now Theta Chi.

A party was also had with the Phi Lams at the D.A.V. There was plenty of dancing and singing and Karl Mogg even "called" a square dance. He went down fighting.

The pledge class somehow got the idea that they could beat the actives in a basketball game. The final score was 60-25 in favor of the actives. Bill Bigley who bet heavily on the actives won so much money that he'll have to lend some of it to some of the pledges to become activated.

Closing out a very busy week, the Theta Chis entertained the freshmen girls, excuse me, the "beautiful" freshmen girls at a gala party and dance.

It's being rumored that a couple of the more reserved members are getting fat on chicken and ?, I guess!

Phi Gamma

Dan Cupid played a major role in the Phi Gam holiday season. Heading the list are Mr. & Mrs. Jerry Tindall (Barbara Miller), with Bob Williams ready to tie the knot on Jan. 28. Jack McGuire and Tessie Todarello - Joe Phelan and Jane

- A fee of $5.00 is charged for a final examination taken at any other time than the scheduled time. A Late Examination Permit may be secured in the Office of the Dean.
- If the regularly scheduled hour for the class does not appear on this schedule, select the nearest hour given on the schedule and clear the room with Miss Brownlee in the Records Office.
- Examinations must be held at the hour scheduled because the classroom may not be available at other times; however, the hours may be adjusted as follows if arrangements are made with the instructor who has the preceding or following examination in the room and the students have no conflicts with other examinations: 8-10 a.m. period may begin earlier or extend to 10:30; 10:30-12:30 may begin at 10 or extend to 2; 2-4 may begin at 12:30 or extend to 4:30; 4:30-6:30 may begin at 4 or extend to 8; 8-10 p.m. may begin at 6:30 or extend beyond 10.
- Final marks for each class are due 48 hours after the examination is given. Directions for turning in final grades are issued by the Registrar's Office.
- Teachers are requested to talk with their classes about their examination schedules. If there are any conflicts, please inform Mr. K.W. Dykema, Chairman of the Academic Standards Committee.
- FINAL EXAMINATIONS MUST NOT BE GIVEN BEFORE THE FINAL EXAMINATION PERIOD.

Ann Buckon are engaged, and Marve Minneman is pinned to Gert Bury. Congratulations, men. The grey-haired fellow in the corner will gladly accept old phone numbers. He needs a date for May Day.

Heading the list of holiday activities held at the room were the Christmas and New Year's parties. The Christmas party included a gift exchange which resulted in the fraternity receiving an ultra-modern gas razor. The New Year was introduced with a gala party at the room. A zorchy time was had by all.

Home from the wars were the back porch soldiers, Ed Simons and Jack Fleckenstein. Tom Moran made it home from the far land of Arkansas. Jack Boyle was home from Georgetown U. and Dick Rein was in from OSU. The "Maj" was in rare form, as usual. Naturally, the single alumni came out of seclusion to add to the parties.

If you're following the red hot basketball team as the Phi Gams are, don't complain about the lights. The glare is caused by Herb Bartelmay of the varsity and Pledge Jerry Pierce of the reserves.

The Phi Gams sincerely hope that everyone enjoyed the holidays. Now comes the serious business of pledges and -- finals! Good luck, men, and watch that physical stuff. It ruins your athletic prowess.

Phi Mu

The holidays and parties are now over and the Phi Mu's are set for the forthcoming exams. Aren't we all?

Christmas brought much cheer into the lives of the sisters and many pleasant surprises. Have you noticed the bright armor on one Judy Brownlee? It's not a Christmas gift, but a New Year's one.

December 26 was the Christmas Dinner Dance at the Cascades Room of the Pick-Ohio Hotel. The following evening a large party was held with the Phi Mu alumnae. A grand time was had by all. For the New Year, a number of girls established resolutions. Ada resolves to watch out for certain "Rushing". Also, Mary resolves to stay out of jail. Oh, those Hubbard cops.

On Jan. 26, the pledges will become active Phi Mu members. Also on the agenda are a number of fraternity parties.

Alpha Pi Epsilon

Alpha Pi Epsilon is glad to welcome all the new actives. The annual installation banquet was held at the Mural Room on Jan. 19. The doll contest was a big success. Thanks to all those who participated. These dolls made Christmas a brighter one for many children who would have gone without.

Everyone enjoyed themselves at the Christmas party at Theresa Krocko's - the food was delicious. Alpha Pi Epsilon has furnished sewing kits for the Ladies' Rest Rooms. We hope these will be taken care of.

A football player and his wife following the birth of their fourth son, received this message. "We've rejoiced over the addition to your team of a center, a guard, and a tackle. This, we presume, is the end."

Nobody Gave A Hoot For J. Paul Sheedy* Till Wildroot Cream-Oil Gave Him Confidence

"Wise everybody avoid me so?" h-owled J. Paul. "Because you're such a ruffled old bird," replied his best buddy. Well that really opened Sheedy's eyes. He took a taxi-dermist down to the store and pecked up a bottle of Wildroot Cream-Oil. Now he's the picture of confidence because he knows his hair always looks its best from morning till night. So if people have been hooting at your messy hair, screech for a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. It's guaranteed to keep your hair neat but not greasy. And all the gals will go out of their way to beak to you.

Jet's Jargon

By John E. Tudhope

There have been many statements made about referees in the various sports that we are engaged in in this country. This column is now going to make one. The refs at the Akron game needed "seeing-eye dogs".

The Akron game could have been more efficiently officiated from the stands. The Zippers center, Ray Pryear, did everything but commit murder under the boards and still the refs did not penalize him for it.

As for the game itself Youngstown was having one of their bad nights and when they have a bad one it is really a stinker. Herb Lake was not able to score as easily as he had been because of his injured back.

Had Many Troubles

Everyone else on the team had troubles of one sort or another. If the Penguins had been playing at their top capacity Akron wouldn't even have been in the ball game. The supposedly highly touted Zippers were not in the same class as Youngstown. The Penguins are far superior to the Akronites. Even on an extremely bad night they made the Zips look pretty sick at times.

Our Cleveland correspondent, Lakefront Louie, is wondering why the Detroit Lions are all of a sudden screaming about "Dirty Football." Louie thinks they have a short memory. It was all right with the Lions when one of their men took it into his own hands to do plastic surgery on Len Ford's face a few years ago. Guess the shoe fits pretty tight on the other foot.

The trainers of Pete the Penguin (Mr. Beede and Mr. Rosselli) are still hoping that the New Year will bring Pete several appropriate gifts. Pete only asked for more big linemen, more fast backfield men, and a dozen or more basketball players over 6'3". Lots of Luck, Pete.

Watch the Games

If you sports fans want to enjoy an exciting Saturday afternoon, tune in to the professional Ice Hockey games. The action is so fast in these games that just watching them on television you can feel the tension that envelops the ice as well as the whole arena.

Hockey is reputed to be about the fastest game in the world and after watching some of the games I am convinced. There is much more action than you see in other major sports. For the more sadistic individual there are also frequent flare-ups because of frayed tempers. Look in and enjoy yourself.

Beantown Bertie from Boston has been sending notices out about the great new center that the Boston Professional basketballers have acquired. Already after a few short weeks, Bill Russell of the Celtics is being touted as one of the greats of the game.

Maybe Bertie had better wait until the season progresses a little further. Russell will have to prove himself over a period of time before he can be classed with men like George Mikan, Bob Pettit, and others.

In this writer's book Petit of the St. Louis Hawks is about the finest basketballer to ever play pro ball. Last year he led the league in scoring and also took the top honors in rebounding.

Reaching High

Surrounded by the complete Central State team, Mickey Yugovich scores with a, now famous, jump shot.

Easy Does It

Going in for a layup, Charlie Moore (17) balances the ball on the tips of his fingers in complete defiance of a Central State cager who looks on in amazement.

Once Over Lightly

By Ron Vanasky

Rebounding from an opening game loss to Baldwin Wallace, the flashy Penguins quickly shifted into high gear and handily cut down Kent, Marietta, and Alliance in rapid succession, then toppled John Carroll and Muskingham quite easily.

Featured in these contests were Herb Lake's 48 rebounds in consecutive games with Alliance and John Carroll, his 27 against the former setting a new school record and freshman star Mickey Yugovich's 30 markers, including 11 of 15 field goal attempts in the first half in the tilt with the Blue Streaks from Cleveland.

After five straight triumphs, the net men were edged by a tall Akron U. combine, 68-63 in a road contest.

Meet St. Vincent

Returning home, the Penguins met St. Vincent College of Latrobe, Penn. The Pennsylvanians, last year were voted the most improved small college team in the nation. The Youngstowners won 88-63. St. Vincent stayed in contention through the first half, trailing by seven points at halftime, 38-31.

The locals, however, though beset with ball-handling difficulties, made up for this by presenting another 50 per-cent shooting percentage, bagging 31 of 62 fielders, and 26 of 39 foul shots.

The Penguins, playing sensational ball by combining an ever-alert crackerjack, iron-curtain defense with a tremendous exhibition of shooting, met Central State College of Wilberforce, Ohio, at the South High fieldhouse, and trounced the All-Negro combine 80-56, to register their seventh success in nine starts.

Many Return

The visiting Marauders, with most of the boys back from last year's Ohio championship team which gained the quarterfinals of the NAIA tournament at Kansas City, came to the Steel Town highly touted.

In the Penguin's unforeseen early season successes, credit must be given to Steve Hawthorne, John Melfi and Charley Moore, stalwart men who have turned in a fine defensive job for the squad in addition to scoring crucial points in several games.

A couple of sharp boys to watch out for on the reserve team are John Georges, former New Castle High ace, and Charley Bushman, erstwhile Rayen High star.

Lake Is 4th

In a recent MCAA statistics release, Herb Lake is placed 4th in the nation in rebounding and freshman

Hernando's Hide-away

By John Hernandez

It goes without saying that something has happened to Youngstown University's basketball team. The team is quite unlike any we have had before. At the time of this writing, the Penguins have won seven of their last nine games, losing to Akron after winning five straight, and have won ten straight on their own floor. The friendly confines of South High Field House seem to agree with the Red and White cagers.

The question arises, "Just what is it that has caused this sudden emersion of Youngstown University as a basketball power-house?" I will try to answer this question, or at least to offer an explanation.

The first, and I think the most important, factor in the Penguin's success, is team-work. This years squad has displayed, so far, an uncanny ability to get things done the way they want to do them. They have changed their opposition over to their speed of play. Their ability to move the ball with certainty and their expert ball handling, prove that they have acquired a cooperative spirit. Many times I have witnessed a Penguin netman pass off to his mate when he could have added a two-pointer to his record. But this squad is not out to break records; it is out to win ball games.

Undoubtedly, team-work is not enough to win constantly. A coach must have raw materials or if you prefer, talent. Coach Dom Rosselli has a wealth of talent. Showman and dead-eye Herb Lake, dependable Mickey Yugovich, versatile and hustling Bob Atterholt (who is this month's outstanding sportsman), along with diminutive John Melfi and bustling Charley Moore who have talent aplenty.

Again, talent and team-work are not enough. A team needs a good leader, just as a sleek liner or a streamlined jet are worthless without a pilot. The pilot and leader in this case is Coach Dom Rosselli, who has done a commendable job of molding his natural resources into a well polished, and able functioning aggregation. Rosselli does not hesitate to "pull" anyone who shows signs of tiring or bewilderment. A few minutes rest on the bench and some expert instructions from Rosselli, and our Penguin is out there again with new life. This is the rest of a good coach, one who can instruct his boys and instill into them a feeling of competitiveness and aggressiveness.

The Penguins are on their way to one of the best, if not the best, seasons they have ever enjoyed. With the toughest part of the schedule still remaining, Steubenville, Baldwin-Wallace, and Westminster are still to be played, the Penguins will find it difficult to maintain their present pace. But if they keep up their hustling, their team-work, their cooperative spirit, and their level headedness, the rough road ahead will lead to success and praise.

star Mickey Yugovich is 9th in field goal percentage. Hitting on 57% of his shots.

The Penguins are 19th in the country as an offensive unit, averaging 84 points a contest. These figures are tabulated games as of January 1.

return engagement with Baldwin Wallace this past week, with results too late for press time, the Penguins trade baskets with the Mount Union Purple Raiders tomorrow evening at South Fieldhouse.

SPORTS NOTES

Ron Vanatsky

Basketball spirit on the campus and around the Mahoning Valley is the best it has been in the last several years since Dom Rosselli's fast moving, hard working Y.U. cage quintet has jumped off to such an outstanding start this season.

The team's smooth functioning, in toppling almost all early season opponents, is interesting to watch, as is confirmed by the attendance jump at the home games played at the South High Field House.

Every member of the starting five has shown quite well his scoring ability, and this year's squad has a well-balanced attack. An interesting sidelight on early season statistics show that the Penguins, in capturing five of their first six contests, have averaged 84 points to 69 for the opposition.

Top Record

This, incidentally, is one of the top records in the Buckeye State for a point spread between teams.

To show the stiff opposition the Penguins have this season, four of the nations top seven small college offensive teams, as of Jan. 1, are on the Red and White's schedule.

These teams are: John Carroll, Baldwin Wallace, West Virginia, and Akron.

Early as the season is, already two important basketball winning streaks have stopped. San Francisco University, minus gangling Bill Russell and K.C. Jones, tasted defeat after copping 60 wins in succession.

Steelers Streak Stopped

The Farrell Steelers, a perennial Pennsylvania powerhouse, surrendered a 99 game winning streak at home.

Speaking of Bill Russell, unanimous All-American choice last season, brings up the fact that he has finally joined the ranks of pro basketball, the Boston Celtics.

After a successful tenure with the U.S. Olympic championship team, he has made quite a splash with the pros. Already setting a rebounding record. Rival coaches have started to pounce on him with all sorts of accusations of unfair play.

No Fuss Made

These accusations include his staying in a zone defense, particularly around the net, which is outlawed in professional play. However, officials have not yet made too much of a fuss over it.

The other big boy of basketball in the nation today is Wilt "the Stilt" Chamberlain. His antics at Kansas University have earned the team a top ranking spot in the sportswriters nationwide polls.

"The Dipper", an old moniker unknown to most fans, is leading the nation's big colleges in scoring and promises to have a tremendous season in his first year with the varsity team.

A sharp cager to watch is Lennie Rosenbluth of North Carolina who led the squad through the first seven games undefeated. He has set an all-time scoring record and may have some surprises for the fans before he graduates.

Scores Most Points

Another Carolinian, Grady Wallace, of South Carolina, has hit the headlines by scoring the most points in a single major college basketball game this season, 54, against Georgia on Dec. 21.

This topped Chamberlain's previous high of 52 against Northwestern in Kansas' curtain raiser.
