Nominees For Homecoming Queen

R. I. L. Club Plan Hayride

The Religion in Life Club held their second meeting of the semester Sunday afternoon, October 4th, in Dr. Stearn's room. The club members heard Prof. Harold N. Burt of the faculty give a challenging talk on Christianity. The club is planning a hayride to take place in the near future. Plans are also being made for Thanksgiving and Christmas activities.

College To Aid War Training Program

Youngstown College is announcing a number of new evening classes to be started in October as a part of the war training program of the college, for the purpose of helping to meet the shortage in industry of engineers, production managers, and scientists with specialized training in fields essential to the war effort.

Tuition for these classes is paid by the government, the student paying only for necessary supplies. The training provided in the courses will be specific, preparing women and older men in the shortest possible time to fill positions in industry where serious shortages have developed due to younger men entering the armed services.

Another important function of the war training program is to prepare partially trained men to fill positions of greater importance, where there is a shortage of skilled help. All of the courses are of college level and require graduation from high school as pre-requisite.

The castor bean may become a major United States crop from which will flow needed oil to replace imports cut off by the Pacific war, says Dr. W. L. Burdison of the University of Illinois.

We regretfully announce the death of Capt. Anthony D. Piccolo, the first Youngstown College student to be killed in the service of his country.

Capt. Piccolo died late Tuesday at Eglin Field, Fla., of injuries received in an airplane accident.

One of the youngest Captains in the service, he was supervisor of the single engine training group at his field.

Dorm Enforces Quiet Hours

Quiet hours will be enforced at Beuchner Hall. At a recent meeting of the B's Carol Jones was elected president and Kay Hatch vice president. Carol and Kay will be on guard duty from 7:30 p. m. on. All violations of the new rules will be punished by "K. P." duty.

University of Wisconsin students who attended the 1942 junior prom went without corsages to buy more than $500 worth of defense stamps.

Voting Day Set For October 30

Officers for the Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior Classes will be voted of Friday, October 30. Official voting booths will be set up in the auditorium and all votes will be cast by secret ballot.

Upperclassmen will vote for four officers: President, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer. The Freshmen will vote for the same officers plus two student council representatives, one man and one woman.

Any upper classmen desiring to be a candidate must submit his name with the signatures of ten of his classmates to student council one week before election day. Freshmen who wish to run, may do so by securing ten signatures, not necessarily those of their classmates.

Take Your Pick—and Pray!

Freshman anxiously await invitations to rush parties, smile hopefully at the Greeks—the Greeks beam invitingly at the freshmen and smirk patronizingly at rival sorority and fraternity members, from their corner in the lounge, when they have a prospective pledge in tow—the freshmen suddenly realize how wonderful they really are, while being thoroughly coached on the advantages of joining a particular sorority or fraternity. Rushing season is in full swing and the hunt is on.

There are three sororities to consider, each one different, and each with its good points—Gamma Sigma, Alpha Theta Delta, and Phi Lambda Delta. During rush season freshmen are given an opportunity to see the members at parties, as well as in school, to decide which group they would choose as "best friends" and then to wait and wait, hoping like mad, until October 23 when the bids finally come out.

Five social fraternities, Sigma Delta Beta, Phi Sigma Epsilon, Kappa Sigma Kappa, Phi Gamma, and Sigma Lambda Phi are offered at Youngstown college.

It, at the end of rush season, you find yourself without a bid—well, there are still seven more rush-seasons before you graduate, and you might make it next season. Don't accept a bid from a group that doesn't interest you simply to be one of the Greeks. Hold out until next season, and you might make it then.

In the meantime, have a super time at all the rush parties, and remember, getting into a sorority or fraternity isn't everything in life, but there's hoping that you make it.

Homecoming Functions To Start With Pep-Rally

Presentation of Queen To Be Made At Palace Theater, October 28

The annual Homecoming functions will start Thursday, October 29, with a pep-rally at the Palace Theater.

Six cheerleaders will lead cheers and Coach Beede will introduce the football team. The presentation of the Homecoming Queen by Bob Ameduri will climax the rally.

Dolan Is I. F. President

Falls Settles Political Deadlock

Lou Dolan is the duly elected president of Intrafraternity Council for 1942-43, according to a decision handed down last Friday by Raymond L. Falls, dean of Youngstown College law school. Mr. Falls decided the legality of a contested interfraternity election which took place several weeks ago.

Inter-Fraternity Council, made up of four representatives of the eight social fraternities, each with one vote, elected officers recently with the vote for president ending in a 16-16 tie. Lou Dolan, last year's president, serving as chairman, was forced to cast the deciding vote, thereby electing himself president.

Bob Seidner, president of Kappa Sigma Kappa, acting for the fraternity, protested the election, stating that a candidate for office is not permitted to preside over a meeting. He contended that last year's vice president, Evelyn Traylor, should preside in a situation of this sort.

After several council meetings in which no decision was reached, the question was turned over to Mrs. Karl Dykema and Joseph Smith, faculty members, who in turn referred it to Mr. Falls.

After considering the question and hearing arguments for both factions, Mr. Falls decided in favor of Mr. Dolan.

Other officers for this year's council are: Dorothy Otterman, vice president; Joseph Sontich, Treasurer; and Edith McCormick, secretary.

The Presentation Ceremony will be in conjunction with the Ted Lewis stage show. Tickets for the stage show and rally may be obtained from Bill Ceglie and his committee.

The Homecoming dance will be held at the Elms, Friday, October 30, following the Illinois-Western game. The queen will lead the grand march during the half, followed by a parade of sorority and fraternity floats.

Carter Pickup is general chairman of the affair; Joe Markell and Fred Mangie, orchestra; Tony Raggizine, field decorations; Virginia Rostan, invitations; Bill Ceglie, tickets; Michael Maruskin, publicity.

Recruiting Board To Visit YoCo October 27

On Tuesday, October 27, 1942 the joint Army-Navy-Marine Corps and Coast Guard Procurement Board will visit YoCo from 8:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. The purpose of this visit is "to present to the college faculty and student body, a factual description of the plan pertaining to each service for the enlistment of college students herein."

The board is to be followed by a joint recruiting party, to interview, select and enlist individual students.

Students who wish to be enlisted during the interim which precedes the visit of the board should see Mr. Botswick. Emphasis is placed on the fact that enlistment procedure may require from two to eight weeks, depending on the service chosen. Selective Service Boards have precedence over all reserve programs and once you have received your induction papers you are automatically disqualified.

Newman Club To Elect Officers

The Newman Club of Youngstown College held its first meeting on Sunday, October 4, at the auditorium of St. Columbus Church.

At the meeting plans were made for a Communion Breakfast to be held on October 18, at St. Elizabeth Hospital Chapel. Tickets can be secured from Lillian Lesky, Betty McDermott, and Mike Kirwin.

Election of officers will be held at the next meeting and plans will be made for a social. All Catholic students are invited to attend the next meeting on November 1.

Soliciting During Elections

The profound thought occurs to us, after meditating on the elections of last Friday, that the students of Youngstown College are completely ignorant of the way a legal election should be conducted. Can it be possible that young men, most of whom are old enough to have the right to cast their vote for president of the United States, are not cognizant of the fact that a person must stand at least one hundred feet away from a ballot box in order to legally solicit anybody's vote?

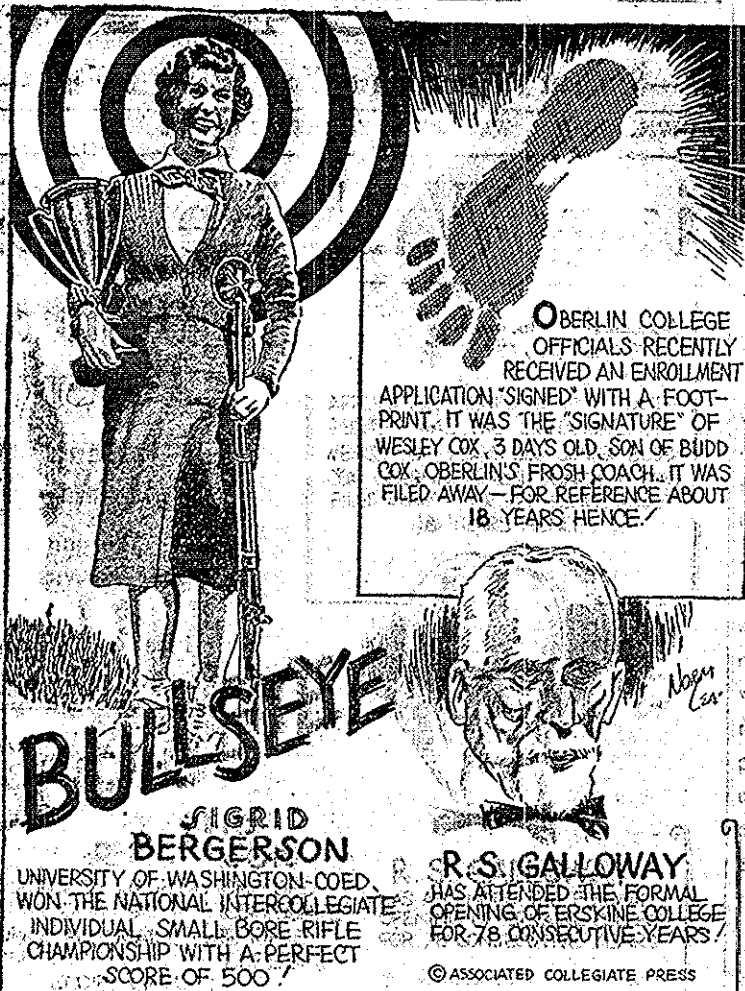

We can think of no reason why YeCo elections should not be conducted in as proper and honest a manner as any other elections, congressional, local, or otherwise. We are not grade school children, we are young men and women preparing ourselves for making a way in the world. A person who refuses to conduct himself properly at the polls is not going to make a very successful or useful citizen, is he?

Let's Increase Our Efforts

Our President has asked each and every one of us to aid in the war effort. Here at Youngstown College the majority of the students are doing absolutely nothing to aid in this vital campaign. There is a definite need for an organized group to put on scrap campaigns and to aid in the selling of war bonds. Most colleges of this size have already provided means for the students to buy defense stamps at the school.

It isn't necessary to curb all social activities. The war will take its toll in time and curfew of activities will come with necessity. Let's plan activities that will help in constructive war aid and they will take the place of lighter social pleasures in due course.

By HIRAM WALKER

The casual passerby would certainly have received a stiff jolt if he had been passing by Room 110 about 12:30 on the 28th of September. For sure enough that harmonious, cooperative aggregation known as INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL was going at it tooth and nail. Judging from the noise within, one might easily have been led to believe that the stage show "Hellzapoppin" was being recreated in the sanctum of Dean Wilcox's office.

The rafters shook with the repartee that was freely flung from one enraged outfit to the other. The "Book of the Month" according to this group certainly was "ROBERT'S RULES OF ORDER" (or is it Robert's Parliamentary Law?). One group had one book, the opposing group had the other book. The sixty-four dollar question was, "Who presides over what meeting, when?" The problem was to decide which outfit's translation of certain passages in the said books was orthodox. It was at this point that the barrage began and, because of utter lack of support from the involved parties, the presiding officer was driven to the showers and the game was called until Wednesday at the same time.

The two day breather allowed each side a chance to collect their wits as well as sharpen their knives. So when Wednesday rolls around the four-member brain trusts tripped into 110, with the light of battle in their eyes. But lo and behold there was no mud slinging or name calling. In its place was order and a business like attitude. The question of "Who'll get the bounce, in Interfraternity Council?" was placed in the hands of a faculty committee.

I only have a few observations to make at this point. The first is a tribute that must be paid to a member of the faculty that sat through both of those sessions and at all times conducted herself in a manner befitting the thoroughbred that she is. How can American Education go wrong with that kind of leadership?

I must also remark that one of the groups in the entanglement reminds me very much of the New York Yankees. You all know the Yanks considered themselves the "strongest team in either league" and that therefore, they would coast through the World Series. When the bands of the nation now play "You Got the Neck of the Chicken", they always dedicate it to the Yanks.

It is hard to tell what lilted song the smaller outfits will croon to the "FRATERNAL GOLIATH" if the decision favors the Parliamentary Law group and it should be interesting to see how the big boys react to being set push on the seat of their draped shapes.

All in all it was a great fight boys. So pull your knives out of each others backs and lets settle down to things of less ferocious nature. Namely Rushing!

Council Amends Constitution

Student Council last Friday noon proposed an amendment of the constitution concerning election of class officers. The motion which was posted on the bulletin board for the past week is as follows:

That the election of class officers be held on the same day in the following manner:

1. One week before the date set for class elections any student desiring to run for any one class office must place in the Student Council mailbox a petition containing the signatures of 10 members of his own class. This will permit his name to be placed on ballot as a candidate for the said office.
2. Regarding Freshman class elections the same procedure will be used. Offices to be filled are class president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and two Student Council representatives.
3. A student may run for only one office; that is, he may run for any one class office or as a Student Council representative.

Editor's Mail Box

Dear Editor,

Why don't the fraternities, sororities, and student council get together and give the lounge that much needed collegiate atmosphere? We have nothing in the entire school which gives it the impression of its being a college. The lounge would be a logical place to start. First, student council should have the brown gruesome walls of the lounge painted a light pleasing color. And then they could hang up a few large Youngstown College banners. Plaques of fraternity and sorority pins would add very much to the bare lounge walls. Other groups can also be represented by plaques with their names and insignia imprinted on them. And then, of course there is the question of keeping the lounge clean. Well, the only thing I could suggest is to put in more ash trays.

Now if all this were done don't you think the incoming freshman and visitors would be "prop-erably impressed"?

Yours truly,
MICHAEL J. MARUSKIN

Fond Felicitations to Commentor Hill foresee the dawn of a new era in journalism. Campus Commenter and Looking Around, hand in hand—no fights, no feuds, everything affectionate and serene. Gone are the good old days when things got so bad that the Jambar's ace columnists were not on speaking terms with each other—you think I'm kidding? The eminent MISS NAEG still goes around with a murderous glint in her eye—so fast and furious was the mud slinging as of last year. But seeing as how both columnists must necessarily see eye to eye on all political issues, having been inducted into the same "clique", there's no point in scrapping now, is there?

Speaking of politics, you wouldn't know it was the same school, would you? An olderster returning to the dear old place would swear the GREBKS had gone off the beam. Everybody backing the wrong candidates for the wrong party—or just the wrong candidates—or something screwy. People going around speaking affectionately to one another, who really shouldn't be at all. Allow me to set the bewildered alumni straight, however, nobody's gone berserk. They all claim they know precisely what they are doing. But we timidly venture to ask how long this insanity—I mean sanity—can last.

WITH THE GREEKS

By EDITH McCORMICK

Rush season at Youngstown College was ushered in by three sororities and five fraternities. Many novel parties have been given by each group with many more to come.

PHI LAMBDA DELTA CIRCUS PARTY

The circus idea was carried out in the Phi Lambdas first rush party of the season held at Glacier Hill Cabin on Thursday, October 8th. Decorations were carried out in the circus theme and games were enjoyed by the rushees. There was group singing of sorority songs and Jane Wood gave several vocal selections and Barbara Roberts several piano selections. Refreshments were served by the committee headed by Dotte Hamady and helpers were Rita Vaschak and Lucille Lewis.

Officers that were recently elected to fill vacancies of girls unable to return to school this semester are: Rita Vaschak as vice-president, replacing Jeanne Belleville and Helen De Cicco as recording secretary, replacing Mircea McDougal. Jo Bregar has been appointed as social chairman for this semester.

GAMMA SIGMA HAYRIDE

The Gamma Sigs opened their rush season with a hayride followed by refreshments at Owl's Nest Lodge. Little wooden jugs were given to rushees as favors, fitting the rustic atmosphere. Committee consisted of: Carol Jones, Norma Malin and Jean Loney.

Their second rush party is to be held October 16th which will be a joint party with the Sig Deltas. No details to be revealed, as yet. Serving with the Sig Delt. committee are: Dot Otterman and Norma Malin.

ALPHA THETA DELTA SWEATER PARTY

A sweater party was the theme of Alpha Theta Delta rush party held Tuesday evening, October 6th in the Colonial Room of the Y. M. C. A.

Popular music, barn dancing, and various games were the diversion of the evening. Helen Humphries won the prize. A delightful lunch was served by the committee which consisted of: Mayje De Moll as chairman and Evelyn Park and Elizabeth Hrecek as riding. Novelty wool pins were the favors.

HI GAMMA DATE HAYRIDE

Rushees, active Phi Gams, and their dates, enjoyed a hayride to Ellsworth, Friday, October 2nd. After arriving at their destination, they all gathered around a fire, ate hot dogs, and sang.

fraternity songs. Committee consisted of Joe Sontich and Tom Barrett.

Their next party will be a stag smoker on Saturday evening, October 17th. Committee will be composed of Pat De Blasio and Mike Kiwan.

SIGMA DELTA BETA STAG

The first rush party was held last Thursday evening at the Diner Bell with motion pictures shown by Bill Kelly. The pictures shown were those taken on the campus and, also, those of Y.C. football game. Refreshments were served by the committee.

The Sig Delt Honor Roll is on the increase. A farewell stag was held Monday night, October 5th at the home of Joe Chapel in honor of Sturg Carbin who left for the army.

Plans for the joint rush party with the Gamma Sigs are rapidly being completed. The party is planned for Friday, October 16th and is to be held at the Light House with Bill Valentine as Master of Ceremonies.

KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA STAG

The first rush party of Kappa Sigma fraternity was held at Duquesne Club. Bill Foley was in charge. Speeches were given by Dr. Max Wolff and Bob Seidman. Music was furnished by Al Mangie's "cats" and refreshments were served.

A farewell party was given to Ed Enterline at Youngstown Grill on Friday, October 2nd. Ed entered active service in the Navy, going to officer's training school at Notre Dame University.

The second rush party was held at the Duquesne Club on Monday, October 12th.

PHI SIGMA EPSILON STAGE

The Phi Sigs started off their new term by giving their fraternity house a good Fall cleaning. Bill Colgrove was in charge, assisted by Henry Richetto and John Henderson.

Actives and rushees had a very enjoyable time at a stag rush party on October 7th. Bridge, pool and ping pong were the diversions of the evening. Lee Ricallon was chairman ably assisted by Bob Coughlin.

Bull Session

(Any similarity between this and a recent Inter-Fraternity Council Meeting is purely intentional). The wind was blowing hard to-day and from behind the shed manure was spreading over me. 'Twas almost o'er my head.

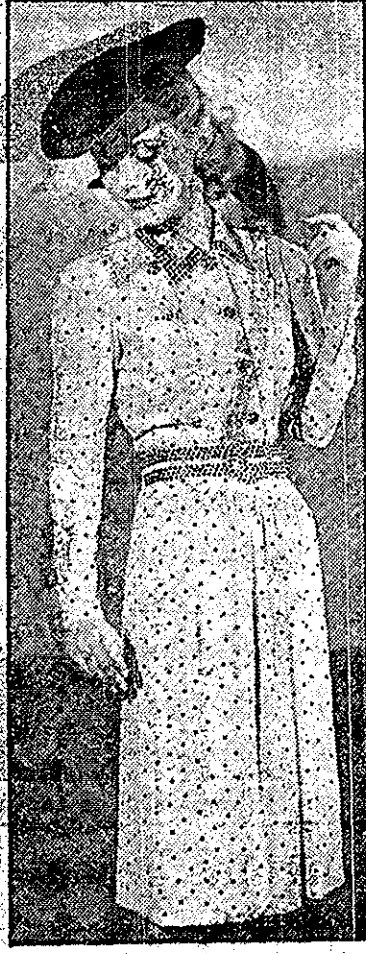

"I thot," said one, "its pretty bad that the stuff weren't piled more neatly."

It surely blew about a lot," said they so sweet, discreetly.

"I placed mine well," said Member Two. With nose held high in air, "Oh yeah!" replied a listener in "How did this straw get in my hair?"

Varsity Hall Staggering On

By Irma McKinney

A head peers cautiously out of the floor of the big house at 422 Bryson street. Another pokes nonchalantly between the living-room curtains. In fact a good number of heads are apt to appear and disappear while they are waiting for HIM. And when HE arrives, chaos begins. That's how the mailman comes to Varsity Hall.

Upon the third floor the other night, someone had a night mare and 34 sleeping Apollos fell out of their double decker beds, striking matches while in flight, to investigate the disturbance. There is a general mad rush on all occasions for the one electric razor in the house, but the manliest struggles are those for the possession of a decent mirror in which to survey the results of hours of labor which include a long grind pressing the pants.

These 34 stalwarts have consumed about 8 bushels of Dr. and Mrs. Seman's finest apples and authoritative sources say that every one of the cores has been fed to poor little Kinky, the spaniel. The snittles seem to be prevalent right now judging from the number of pitchers of hot lemonade being trotted upstairs. The second floor is reserved for studying or the general trading of homework and the lounge is on the main floor. It is here that one is most likely to hear the talented piano virtuosos. Midnight is the accepted time for consuming spaghetti dinners and it seems to be a rule never to miss one of the movies that comes to town.

There's a Mr. Calera living there who came from Western Reserve after the big game. Poor fellow! Two gentlemen, H. Minitz and J. DeRose from Butler insist on keeping the rest awake while they recount their thrilling exploits. Joe Ferl is trying to recuperate in the mad turmoil. Our sympathies are with Dr. and Mrs. Smith, who declare they don't need them, for having to be a member of this boisterous institution. One had better stop right now or one will become too verbose and then where would one be? Right back where one started from—waiting for the mailman.

Chemistry Course Cut In Half

To meet the urgent need for women trained in the field of chemistry, Youngstown College is planning to start an intensive course in chemistry which will permit students to take two years of college chemistry in one year. The course will include training for laboratory work in the industries, as well as preparation for advanced work such as metallurgy and organic chemistry. To qualify for this work, they must have civil service rating which necessitates three years of college chemistry, including organic chemistry.

Dr. E. D. Scudder, head of the chemistry department of Youngstown College, said: "There is an urgent need today for women chemists in the industries of the valley."

The new course will open October 20. The class will probably meet from 7 p. m. to 4 p. m. four days a week. Registration will be accepted at the college offices immediately.

Classes in military science and tactics will be conducted during summer sessions at the University of Minnesota, this year for the first time.

I. R. Club Hear Dr. Wolff

"Our philosophy in life, reflected in our constitution determines clearly our position in this conflict," was the climax of a speech made by Dr. Max Wolff at a recent meeting of the International Relations Club.

Dr. Wolff emphasized the relationship between this conflict and the French Revolution. He said, "This conflict is the continuation of the fight for the rights of the French Revolution, rights which are the heart of the American Constitution and democracy. It is also a struggle between revolution and counter-revolution."

Last Friday night the Penguins showed that something can be learned even in defeat. No doubt the Penguins have profited greatly from their two defeats and will prove to the fans that they can take it.

Al Perl has been doing most of the scoring for the Penguins thus far this season, but let us not forget the boys on the line who make it possible for him and the other backfield men to score and gain yardage. When the line is functioning faultlessly, as they were last Friday, the backs go rushing by, but when the line defaults the whole team is in a rut.

Last Friday night the fans were cheering for Youngstown as they should cheer all the time. Sincere loyalty is not a cloak that can be put on and taken off at will. It is something over which a person has no control. People don't have to ask if you are loyal, they can sense it and know it without asking. The team doesn't need cheers when it is winning—it needs them when it is losing and the morale of the boys is low. Remember that the next time that YoCo is on the short end of a score. Cheer until it hurts and then notice the change that comes over the boys on the gridiron.

Freshmen, here is a little advice—take it for what it is worth. We advise that you meet and get to know the football players at school. Say "Hello" to them every chance you get and associate with them. Once you get to know the gridgers you will find that there is much more pleasure in watching them play than previously.

BOB BURNS, former YoCo gridder, is in the army at Fort Ord, California. His address is: Pvt. R. G. Burns—Co. C. 300 M. P. Bn.—East Garrison—Fort Ord, California.

SKOKO GILL, former YoCo star, wrote and asked the Penguins to win a game for him and they did. Skoko is playing professional football with Detroit.

OUR PENGUIN PERSONALITY—This week we salute none other than No. 36—Pete Lanzl. Pete graduated from East High School in Youngstown. While at East he was a star performer and a member of the All-City Team. Pete, with his pleasant personality, is a very nice kid to know. He has many friends and no enemies, unless they be YoCo opponents. Pete likes good shows, dancing, and plenty of spaghetti. He eats, sleeps and lives his favorite sport—football.

St. Vincent Tops Youngstown 19-7

Youngstown's Penguins dropped their second game in three starts on October 2nd as St. Vincent defeated them 19-7. Fullback Frank Forys was the star of the evening, making two of the Bearcat touchdowns. The other score was made by Halfback Henry Giobbi.

A fumble by Al Perl on the second play of the game gave the ball to St. Vincent on the Youngstown 28. Three plays later fullback Forys plunged over for the score from the 9 yard line. The placement was not good for the extra point. St. Vincent 6—YoCo 0.

Two plays after the second quarter started, Forys smashed through right tackle and raced 40 yards for the second Bearcat marker. Again the placement missed leaving the score 13-0 in favor of St. Vincent.

Later in the second quarter, Giobbi intercepted a pass from Aiello to Mogus on the Bearcat 20 and raced 30 yards for the third and final Bearcat score. Youngstown continued filling the air with passes and scored before the half ended.

Perl Scores

Al Petrollini tossed 20 yards to Mogus and 18 to Perl to put the ball on the 3 yard line from where Alex Wolansky took it over for Youngstown's lone score. The Penguins' "Automatic Jack", Bob Coughlin, kicked the extra point making the score 19-7 in favor of St. Vincent.

The third quarter found Youngstown dominating the play, twice going deep into enemy territory only to be repulsed by the Bearcat forward wall, which put up a stubborn fight. The Penguins once lost the ball on down on the St. Vincent 3 yard line.

The last quarter found Youngstown again deep into Bearcat territory, taking the ball to the seven where it was lost on downs. As the game ended Youngstown was again driving into Bearcat territory.

Penguins Defeat Western Ky. By 40-6 Count

Youngstown's Penguins snapped their two-game losing streak by solidly trouncing Western Kentucky State Teachers College 40-6 last Friday night at Rayen Stadium.

Youngstown took to the air lanes and scored 4 of their 6 touchdowns on perfect pass plays. Aiello and Petrollini completed 9 out of 13 passes to gain 210 yards.

Youngstown's first score came 3 plays after the opening kickoff. Al Perl carrying the ball. Later in the first quarter Aiello faked back and flipped a pass to Mogus, who knifed his way to the Kentucky 40 and then tossed a lateral to Perl, who raced the remainder; 40 yards, for Youngstown's second score. Coughlin's kick was good and Youngstown led by a score of 13-0.

Penguins Score Again

In the second quarter Lucci snared a Kentucky Pass to set up Youngstown's third score. After a bad pass from center and a 15 yard penalty had hampered their efforts, the Penguins scored again as DeRose plunged through for the third score. Coughlin's kick hit the mark and the score was 20-0 at the half.

The net Youngstown score came shortly after the third quarter started. Aiello passed to Perl who picked up interference and raced 52 yards for the fourth score. Coughlin again converted.

Two minutes later, Mogus grabbed a fumbled punt. Perl's fourth score came as he snagged Aiello's pass in the end zone, leaving the score 33-0.

Early in the fourth quarter Coughlin intercepted a Kentucky pass to make the score 40-0.

Kentucky's lone tally came in the closing minutes of the game. They marched 70 yards through the third team and after losing the ball on a fumble on the one-foot line, rallied to make the score 40-6.

Psychologically speaking, it is sound to maintain many peacetime extra-curricular activities during war, in opinion of Dr. Paul White, University of Texas psychiatrist.

All City Stars Join Penguins

Two of the new members of our Penguin grid squad are Al Petrollini and Conzy Lucci.

Petrollini played football at Woodrow Wilson High School, where he was first string quarterback and an all-city man. His hair has brought him the name of "Curley" for it's as curly as the ocean waves. Al likes spaghetti and chicken. He is considered good backfield material and will probably be on the first string.

Lucci came from Ursuline where he fought for the Green and White. He graduated from Ursuline in June of 1941. While there he was a first string back and a member of the All-City team. He is rather a quiet person and all of his friends call him "Conze." Lucci is a lad to keep your eyes on in the future.
