Student Receives Honorable Mention In Contest

"The Atlantic Monthly" recently announced that Elizabeth Zaborsky, a junior in Dana School of Music, has been awarded an honorable mention certificate in its 37th annual creative writing contest for college students. Miss Zaborsky's entry, "On Huxley and Passion Versus Reason," ranked among the top 20 essays submitted from colleges and universities all over the United States.

Her essay was written as a term paper last semester for the Communication 107 course taught by Prof. William C. Baker.

This is the second award made by the Atlantic to a student from the University. Louise Maron was given a merit rating in 1957 for an essay, "Man and Superman: a Play on Sex, Marriage, and the Life Force."

Miss Zaborsky is a graduate of South Union Township High School Uniontown, Pa.

Science Building Contracts Let

Tues., May 13 -

Contracts have been awarded for the new Youngstown University science building to cost more than a million dollars and work will begin soon. Dr. Howard W. Jones, president of the university announced today The Heller-Murray Co. was given the building contract, A.F. Beil Electric, Inc., the electrical contract and C.J. Little & Son Co. the contract for the plumbing work.

Dr. Jones said the exact cost is not known at present since contracts for equipment are not due but he said the cost may be close to $200,000 less than the administration had originally anticipated. Dr. Jones said, to quote one contractor, "You folks are getting the lowest price you could have procured at any time in the past 15 years. You are either lucky or smart." Dr. Jones added that this is a good time to build when there are so many needing employment.

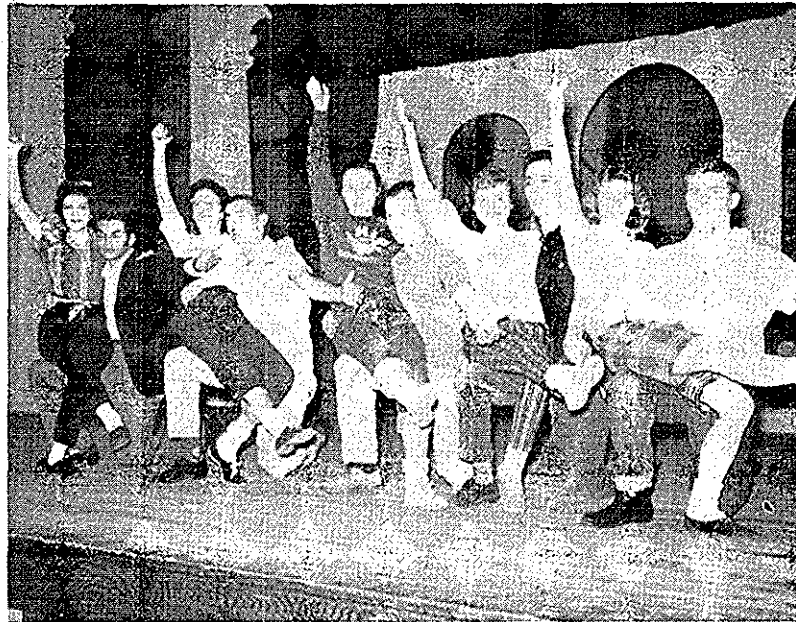

The university houses that were located along Bryson St. where the new science building will be built, have been torn down and the building will be erected on the site directly South of the University Library. To be constructed of brick with stone trim, the color and architecture will be in keeping with the library building. Kling and Frost are the architects.

The building committee includes J. Lester Mauche, chairman of the board, The Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co.; Eugene Bennett, general Counsel and secretary, The Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co.; Carl W. Ullman, president, The Dollar Savings and Trust Co.; William F. Maag, Jr., editor and publisher, The Youngstown Vindicator; and Walter Bender, chairman of the board, The General Fireproofing Company. All are members of the board of trustees of the university of which Bender is chairman.

Musical Comedy 'The Boy Friend' To Be Presented By Drama Guild

Production Depicts Roaring Twenties

Play Will Run Two More Nights In Auditorium

Several members of the cast of "The Boy Friend" are preparing for the production to be presented tonight and tomorrow night.

The blood, sweat, and tears that for the past weeks have been pouring into this year's Drama Guild production last night paid off in the spectacular opening of the Boy Friend. The musical comedy, a spoof of the roaring 20's, will continue to run tonight and tomorrow.

The show has international flavor in so far as the Author, Sandy Wilson is an Englishman, the scene is the French Riviera, and it depicts the craze that swept the world in the 1920's, flappers, dandies, and the Charleston.

Basically, the story involves Polly Brown, poor little rich girl who wants a boy to love her for her money, and Tony, a poor little rich boy who wants to make good on his own and their trials and tribulations in getting together. Add to this an old revived love affair between Polly's father and the head of the finishing school, mix in one english wife looking for her son, and her husband just looking, season with a generous measure of love songs, charlestons, rousing chorus numbers, and you have the recipe for an evening of delightful fun.

The 20 member cast, under the able direction of G. San Sanfilippo have mastered some extremely complicated and exhausting routines, and yet seem to be enjoying themselves tremendously.

President of Ohio University To Address Graduates At Anniversary Commencement

Dr. John Calhoun Baker, President of Ohio University and internationally known in the fields of education, economics, and foreign affairs, will deliver the address at the Golden Anniversary Commencement of Youngstown University to be held Tuesday, June 3, at 7:30 p.m. in Stambaugh Auditorium. Approximately 540 graduates will receive degrees and titles at the commencement.

Music will be by the Youngstown University Concert Band under the direction of Prof. Raymond Dehn-bostel of the Dana School of Music faculty. Invocation will be by the Rev. Paul M. Petric.

Announcement of honors and awards and conferring of degrees and titles will be done by Dr. Howard W. Jones, President of the University. Presentation of candidates for degrees and titles will be done by the Deans of the respective schools. Rev. Albert Linder will give the benediction.

Two honorary degrees will be presented at the commencement.

Admission is by ticket only.

Eleven Students Are Elected To Council

Six students were recently elected and five students re-elected to serve on Student Council for one year.

The various schools and their representatives are: Liberal Arts - Janice Georges, Judi Appelman, Joyce Bailey, John Esposito, and Jim Zamary.

Those chosen from the Engineering School are: Alan Hegedus, Dale Cunningham, and Douglas Yargas; Business Administration - Judge Repasky; Dana School of Music - Dale Rauschenberg; Secretarial School - Donna Stellianna.

Social Science Test Announced

Students wishing to compete for the Social Science annual Vindicator award (see the University Catalog, p. 53) may take the required examination Tuesday, May 20, 10 a.m. to 11 a.m.

The test is open to all who have completed three of the four required courses in Social Science, be in process of completing the fourth, and have two A's and no grade below B in these subjects. For further information, see Dr. Fulker-son.

Sigma Sigma Sigma, Kappa Sigma Kappa Win In Greek Sing

Kappa Sigma Kappa and Sigma Sigma Sigma are the newly crowned champions of the annual Greek Sing. The Tri Sigmas, with Julie Caravarii as director and singing the beautiful "Madam Jeanette," stole the hearts of the audience. The Kappa Sigs showed their many talents as Chuck Lehnerd directed "The Road is Calling" with a perfection all his own.

Everyone participating in the program did their part toward making this year's sing the most successful held thus far. Second place went to Nu Sigma Rho and Alpha Omicron Pi.

At the termination of the sing, awards were presented by Dick McLaughlin. In a close contest, Theta Chi fared better than Phi Gamma with T.K.E. a close third for the coveted Point average Trophy. Tau Kappa Epsilon for the second straight year captured the golf trophy as Gerry King repeated as the medalist. The first annual Mayer-Gillespie award given for outstanding service on I.F.C. was presented Jim Roof.

Bruce Bond and Brenda Hayes were co-chairmen of the event and kept everything running along smoothly.

Retrospection of An Old Grad

Ed. note ; This editorial was meant to be placed in the Anniversary issue of the JAMBAR. Since it was received past the deadline, it is published below.

The Golden Anniversary of Youngstown University presents an occasion when graduates and students alike should pause from the multitude of activities for thought. It also is an occasion to express unending gratitude and appreciation for the golden opportunities extended to them to realize and accomplish the ambitions and dreams that otherwise would not have been accomplished.

Early in youth I acquired an intense desire and ambition to become a lawyer. I was a frequent visitor at the Court House to observe the challenging forensics and conduct of a law suit. As I became older, that desire increased. Had it not been for the opportunity offered by Youngstown University, I would not have been able to achieve this ambition.

I know that the opportunities and advantages offered by the University in Youngstown, the high quality of instruction and personal interest of the faculty and administrative staff has helped thousands of others to attain satisfaction and happiness.

What did the experiences at the University mean to me? Well, my fondest recollections include the influences of such inspiring personalities as Judge George Gessner, Theodore Johnson, Henry Church. No reunion with classmates or students is complete without recalling the numerous acts of assistance and cooperation that was so graciously and unselfishly extended by Freda Flint.

My years at the University have taught me that it requires far more than book knowledge alone to become a successful person. The ideals instilled in the students by the instructors and staff, and their untiring efforts - without thought of personal reward - have instilled in me the desire to also help others, which I have tried in my own small way, to do.

Fifty years have passed since this University had its humble beginning -- years of service and successful accomplishment -- years of faith, courage and determination. This University stands as a glowing monument to the inspired unselfish efforts of the founders, faculty and staff. May it continue to grow, to prosper, and to continue to be a guiding light to all of us who have been and those who will be, privileged to be students of Youngstown University.

Needed: Weekly Newspaper

Instead of the usual end of the year editorial which usually appears in the last issue of the JAMBAR, a few strong words in favor of a weekly newspaper will follow.

To begin, a bi-weekly, published every other week, defeats the purpose of a newspaper in that there is not always enough space for all items, thereby prohibiting the publishing of all the news for everybody's benefit.

Secondly, the staff of any bi-weekly works under the tremendous pressure of trying to sort out stale news, that which happened right after the preceding deadline, and that which will occur far in advance of the respective issue of any given time.

By looking over the various schools in the Ohio College News Assoc., it was found that several colleges with an enrollment approximately the same as ours have weekly newspapers. Even schools like Marietta with an enrollment far less than ours have weekly newspapers.

It remains up to the student body to make their feelings known. Talk to members of Student Council, for the matter rests on their shoulders.

The Campus Voice

By

Shirley Pavlov Peggy Lou Dignan

In collaboration with the convocation, do you think that a student variety show would help promote the purpose of the convocation?

Mary Lou L'Hommedieu

We could have a class night with everyone participating, not only the Greeks, but the whole school. It would give everyone a chance to participate. In order to make it a success, you would have to obtain the interest of the students so you would get their support. You would have to "talk up" the idea to the student body and I'm sure it could be a lot of fun and very successful.

Stephen Hawthorne

This may be a little way out or in the realm of sput-nicks, but my personal preference is a jazz show.

Jazz is being recognized and promoted on anational scale, where as in years gone by, it was only recognized in certain areas, mainly the big cities. Lately the trend in colleges has been toward jazz. Jazz has become an international trade-mark of the United States. Jazz shows are being given by a large percent of colleges and I hate to see Youngstown as being socially backward.

Phyllis Camardo

No, I think a student variety show would defeat, rather than promote, the purpose of a convocation. The A.C.D. defines a convocation as a "group of persons met in answer to a summons." The mental attitudes toward a convocation and a variety show are entirely different. If the students would like to put on a variety show at another time it would probably be more appropriate. A combination of the two will not give the desired results for either.

Howard Williams

No. A variety show, in my opinion, would be a detriment to the serious nature of the convocation. Variety shows, as I know them would not add any prestige to the event, and might possibly de-emphasize the purpose for which it is being held. I would enjoy a variety show as much as anyone, but at a more appropriate time.

Student Answers Letter On YMCA

Dear Editor:

This letter is an answer to the one found in the last issue of the Jambar. A complaint was made about the waste of time spent in physical education courses at the YMCA. There are a large number of men at the University who thoroughly enjoy these courses.

The various kinds of activity that is offered is one reason. One learns group activity as well as techniques and knowhow in such sports as

by Fred Davis

Well, here I am for the last time, I hope.

My college life at Youngstown has been the happiest 6 1/2 years of my life. I kind of hate to leave because of all the seniority I have amassed in my stay down here in the dean's domicile.

We understand that Dean Charignon is taking a leave of absence for approximately two months. It seems that he has been chosen by a few do-gooders to run for the esteemed post of premiere of the land of can-can. He will be leaving within the next few weeks so let's all get behind him and get him started on his way.

His platform is that he promises a better and softer brand of grapes for the grape crushers who still use the ten toe method to make the nectar of the gods. He is also promising to do something about all the girly shows in gay Paris. What he is going to do is increase them. Oh well, vive la France.

Looking back over the last paragraphs, I may not graduate after all.

Since Joe New has been pestering me, I had better mention something about the OSPE Dinner Dance which is being held May 17 at Johnny's Gorneau's Smorgasboard. I believe it starts at 8:00. The tab is $8.00 a couple or as you mathematics majors will quickly figure, that is $4.00 a head or if you want to get the rest of your body in, it will cost $1.00 extra.

Lots of luck to all you graduating seniors and I sure hope you come up with some spectacular job.

Since I have a few more ponies to make up for the test, I had better shag along the trail into atmospheric density.

Why did the Indian sit on his toupee?? To keep his wig-wam.

Senior Wants Underclassmen To Realize Potential of OSPE

To the Editor:

In the past year the meetings and functions of the O.S.P.E. have been poorly attended. Let's take a look at the O.S.P.E. what it is every engineer is familiar with, but what it does is another item. Just what is the purpose of ten or eleven fellows taking one hour every two weeks to meet, while 99% of the engineering students are playing cards or relaxing in the lounge?

Is it worth their time to serve on several committees, to "beg" other engineers to attend functions of the school, and even be taken in jest? I would like to answer a loud "YES"! It is worth my time to learn how to communicate with my fellow students, how to express my opinion, how to take a defeat on a motion you favor, how to work in a committee, and give suggestions on how to further the ideas and aims of your profession.

Several years ago the engineerswimming, bas ketball, volleyball, judo, etc. Another reason is the get away from it all, feeling that students have when taking these courses. The activity is different from the hum-drum grind of the college classes. No science class could replace the various activity of a physical education class.

The YMCA building is located three blocks from the Main Building. A student can easily walk down in five minutes. Youngstown University students are fortunate to have such close facilities. At other colleges, like Ohio State, the distance to the gym is much further.

Sincerely yours,

ing students were "crying" about being left out of the social functions and student government at the University. The other students of the University were organized into fraternities, clubs and other groups that held the student power of the School. Then the O.S.P.E. was formed and very vigorously supported. Groups from the University solicited our help for voting on issues important to their school, and we in turn received their support for issues we wanted.

We had ballot boxes in our school for student elections, backed candidates for Queens, and even elected some of our own. As you can see none of these things take place now because we do not have any working organization. The engineers don't count any more!

As new students come into the school they follow the attitude of the senior students and are not active in any engineering organization. Thus, they are not aware of what has been done, and what could be done to make their stay at William Rayen more enjoyable. This article is aimed at the Freshmen, Sophomores and Juniors who can restore the organization to a status of high importance, on campus and benefit

Phi Epsilon, ACS To Hold Picnic

Phi Epsilon Honorary Chemical fraternity and the Student Affiliate Chapter of the American Chemical Society will hold a picnic June 2, at Arrowhead Lake. Events of the day will center around baseball, boating, and a weiner roast in the evening.

Phi Epsilon is an organization open to chemistry and chemical engineering majors. It sponsored several seminars and movies on different scientific subjects during the past year.

Officers of the fraternity for the coming year are John Esposito, President; Dave Johnson, Vice-President; Dale Keller, Secretary; and Bill Serjak, Treasurer.

The ACS, also open to students having majors of a chemical nature, is an organization which gives students a background in many chemical fields. Elections for the coming year were held May 15.

Choreographers Tom Dohar and Jeanette Zemko have put long hours in also, teaching the 18 other members of the cast to do the dances of the age. Music director Terry Capuzello has done outstanding work with the music end. All in all, it adds up to an evening filled with raucous laughter, and perhaps a sentimental tear or two.

Tickets are still on sale at the box office, 1-7 p.m. thru Sat. and phone reservations, will be accepted at RI-48451, ext. 12. All seats are reserved and students must show tuition receipt in order to obtain reserved seats.

Director Sanfilippo wishes to take this opportunity to thank everyone for their help and co-operation they have given so generously, and acknowledge that without their help the show could not have been possible.

Students Form Flying Club

With the up and coming age of private flying, a group of university students have formed a flying club here. The club has recently purchased a completely rebuilt piper cub which is stationed at Southern Airways in Boardman.

Flying time is charged at a rate of $3 per hour including gas and oil, and the dues are nominal. All interested parties are asked to call Tom Parknavy or John Yallech at SK-82717 for more information.

Picnic Planned By RIL

The annual Religion in Life picnic will be held Sunday, June 15 at Christ Mission Camp, Leffingwell Road. Rides will be furnished from the Chaplins residence, 634 Bryson, and Buechner Hall at 2 p.m. Swimming, baseball, dancing and food are planned.

There will be a meeting at First Christian Church on May 25 at 8 p.m. There will be an interesting movie with refreshments and fellowship.

I wish each of you younger students could sit in on the interviews the Seniors were taking this year. As you have undoubtedly heard, jobs were somewhat at a premium. It was not enough to have a 2.00 average; it was not enough to be in the top 10%; you had to have just a little more -- personality, leadership, and an interest in things other than slide-rules and T-squares. The interviewers did not ask you the stress on a beam or Ohm's Law. They wanted to know how you were as a leader. Did you possess social poise? Were you at ease?

How, and to what extent, did you participate in student activities? Don't get me wrong, grades were important, but your transcript has spoken for your grades, and now you have to speak for 'you'. Let me quote from an article in Industrial Science and Engineering, "What Does Industry Look For In An Engineer?", by S.E. Wilson member of the board of Hercules Powder Company.

"We need the basic characteristics that make a good citizen, i.e. HEALTH, HONESTY, TRUTHFULNESS, DEPENDABILITY AND AMBITION. To be a success in business, one has to have these attributes to a marked degree. But beyond these we need the ABILITY

OSPE To Hold Dinner Dance

The Youngstown University chapter of the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers will have their annual Dinner Dance on May 17. It will be held at Johnny Gomeaus Smorgasboard at 8 p.m. The price of the tickets to attend is $8 a couple. They are on sale at the Engineering School and may be purchased at any time during the day.

The Engineers will have Mr. Clyde M. Wood, Executive Assistant Vice President of the Automatic Sprinkler Corporation, as Guest Speaker for the evening.

The Co-chairmen for the dinner-dance are Dave Yeager and Joe New.

English Society Elects Officers

The English Society of Youngstown University held its annual election meeting at the Blue Room of Pollock House on May 7.

Officers elected were Frank Polite, president; Jim Perry, vice-president; Mary Louise Creed, secretary; and Louise Maron, treasurer.

President-elect Polite, a sophomore majoring in English and Spanish, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Polite of 44 N. Schenley Ave. Youngstown. He is also a member of the Spanish Club.

Majoring in Bus. Ed.

Jim Perry, a junior majoring in business education, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Perry of 263 Saline Street, Irondale, Ohio. He is also affiliated with the Young Republican Club and R.I.L.

Miss Creed, a senior language major, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Roth, 4747 Norquest Blvd., Youngstown. She is a member of Alpha Pi Epsilon and has recently been elected to Kappa Delta Pi Honorary Education fraternity.

Miss Maron, a senior majoring in English, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maron of 320 Porter Avenue, Youngstown. She is a member of Beta Sigma Omicron Sorority.

TO WORK WITH PEOPLE, that priceless ingredient - JUDGEMENT AND A DEEP SOCIAL CONSCIOUSNESS."

Much of this can be accomplished in the O.S.P.E. and other societies of the engineering school. It was a lot of work to organize these groups for your benefit. The curriculum does not have a course in social poise. It is left up to the student to acquire this on his own. In order to gain success in his field, it is a must.

Some people will do anything to get their name in our column. Gust Sam Sanfilippo got pinned recently, and Bill Metzler is now engaged -- to girls no less! Let that be a lesson to you men of single status.

Jo Ann Malone has a new theme song - "You Turned The Tables On Me".

We certainly wish to congratulate everyone who contributed to the special issue. Of course we're slightly perturbed that our names did not appear in any of the lists of all-time athletes. Wonder why they never mentioned the all-stars of bumper pool or shuffleboard.

Three cheers! Effie finally got her exhaust fan. Let's try for air conditioning next.

We had a serious discussion with Alfred E. Neuman, who was travelling with the Woody Herman band. He intends to write the board and have him dismiss any instructor that has been taking attendance or intends to give a final. After the dance was over, there was a short jam session with Alfred on the drums, John Fitzpatrick on the bass, Ignatz Fortz on the sax and Patrick Fitzjohn on the piano.

What is this new intellectual trend? Bill Beeman is trying to get everyone to read Greek novels.

They'll still be talking about that "greek" weekend next year. It started with a golf tournament under the direction of Dave Hewlahan and John Hernandez. Then the sing followed under the capable management of Bruce "RA" Bond and Brenda Hayes. The weekend was capped off with a picnic at Arrowhead. The picnic was handled by James Harris Roof and Jack Madden, and it included any kind of event that has been thought of for picnics. The following morning, Bill Holt, Karl Butcher and Dan Murphy came to school in pirate outfits.

When John Andreyko and Fred Seminara didn't show up for Monday classes, Jack Menosky sent a delegation out to see if they were still on the Wildcat. They also found Tom Syrakis and Ted Sefriadis on top of the Ferris Wheel. The only thing is, the Ferris Wheel was taken out last year.

No, Harry, I don't want to buy "Ten Easy Lessons on The Spanish Guitar".

Those two girls weren't hit over the head with the mallet they use to ring the bell. They're really that short. They're the Stizza sisters.

We saw the four Lee sisters at the dance. Ug Lee, Beast Lee, Ghast Lee and Home Lee.

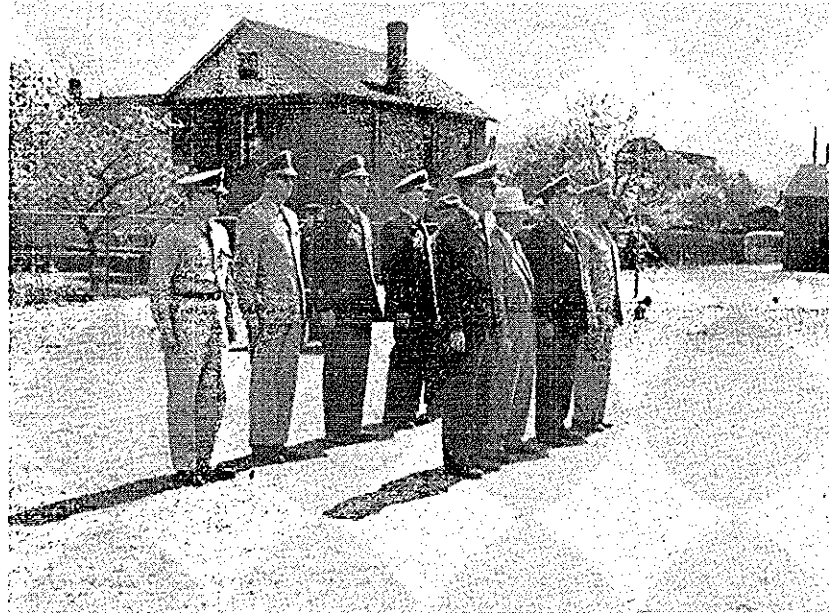

Karl, why doesn't that man at the shooting gallery take that rifle away from Mickey? I don't know why he's so mad. I told him we'd finish the column by tomorrow morning. Duck, Karl! Well, he only has two shots left and we can run for the dance hall.

Golf Team Wins Two, Loses One

Youngstown University's Golf team won 2, lost 1, and tied 1 match in the past two weeks.

The Penguin squad tied Grove City 12-12 on Friday May 2. Bob Siska took medal honors, shooting a 75. Tom Barto followed with a 76 as did Kennedy of Grove City.

On May 5, the Y.U. team traveled to Alliance where they won one match and lost another in a triangular meet with Muskingum and Mount Union. The Penguins defeated the Muskies 11 1/2-4 1/2 but were downed by Mount Union 11-9.

Tuesday May 6 saw the Youngstown linksters triumph over Geneva College 9 1/2-8 1/2. Pete Rosko took honors with a two-under par 70. He was the only golfer on either team to have a sub-par round. Pete wrapped up the match by dropping a long putt on the 18th hole.

Handed First Loss

Kent State handed the locals their first loss of the year 7-2. Simpson and Szabo garnered the lone points for the losers. Next time out, the Penguins drew revenge with a 9-0 shutout of Akron.

In a practice match, the New Castle Tennis Club held Youngstown to a 4-4 tie. Simpson, Garner, and Herm Yassall took single's tilts with the former two teaming for the tying point matches.

Three Matches Postponed

Matches with Penn, Geneva, and John Carroll were all postponed. Youngstown has five matches left on the slate. Gannon, Geneva, Penn, Kent, and Mount Union will keep the locals active.

The Penguins made it four straight for the year with an impressive 7-2 conquest of Hiram. George Dokmonovich, Dom Simpson, Don Garver, Harold Powell, and Steve Szabo all gained singles victories. Dokmonovich and Szabo teamed for Youngstown's sixth point with a doubles victory as did Simpson and Powell in the final net match.

Coach Bob Thompson's netters extended their season's slate to six wins and one loss as they downed Geneva and Gannon Colleges by identical 7-2 scores. The surprising racqueteers have now tripled their win output of last season, when they captured only a brace of triumphs.

Against Gannon last Saturday, the Penguin's No. 1 man, George Dokmanovich, was upset by Casimar Szymanowski, 6-3, 6-3. The other Penguins found no resistance as they captured their singles matches easily.

Students Interview Terry Brennan

A couple of Youngstown students, Pete Sloan and John Latham, journeyed to South Bend, Indiana, this past week to get a special interview with Notre Dame football mentor Terry Brennan.

Sloan is a member of the JAMBAR sports staff, while Latham has done some sports writing for the Warren Tribune. The TRIBUNE recently published a comprehensive biography on Gene Slaughter, Warren Harding High football coach, which Latham wrote after an interview with Slaughter.

Intramural softball interest on campus is high again this spring. Action is pictured at Harrison Field, where various fraternity, independent, and ROTC squads fight it out for top honors. Games are played Monday through Thursday at 3:00 and 4:15.

Kappa Sigma Kappa Leads Intramural Softball League

After two weeks of play, Kappa Sigma Kappa remains in first place in the Intramural Softball League, possessing an untarnished record of five successive triumphs.

Coach Ed Pacie's undefeated softballers, who are atop the American Division, have been paced by the outstanding pitching of Dick "Smode" Reilly. Reilly featured last week's action, fashioning a sterling no-hitter.

Takes Are Pacemakers

Tau Kappa Epsilon is perched on top of the National division with a record of 3-1, pressed closely by Varsity Y and the Bombers, who are 3-2 only a half game behind the leaders.

Games are being played at Harrison Field every day beginning at 3:00, under the direction of Frank Guarnati.

Eight Team Playoff

After league play has ended, the top four teams in each division will participate in a tournament, stated Guarnati.

Standings as of May 6, 1958, are as follows:

AMERICAN DIVISION
Kappa Sigma Kappa	5-0
Phi Gamma	3-2
Zeta Phi Eta	2-2
Nu Sigma Rho	2-3
Sigma Phi Epsilon	2-3
ROTC	0-4
NATIONAL DIVISION
Tau Kappa Epsilon	3-1
Varsity Y	3-2
Bombers	3-2
Alpha Phi Delta	2-2
Theta Chi	2-2
T.G.I.F.	0-4

Variety of Sports Offered at YU

One of the most successful of all sports at Youngstown has been golf. At this writing the golfers have copped 22 of their last 27 starts and again, as many times previous, they are top contenders for state honors.

Having its inception here around 1940, the linksters' first coach was Dean Joseph E. Smith. Recently the golfers have been tutored by Bill Carson. The home course has varied, most recently being Mahoning Country Club and Warren Avalon.

Tennis Is Older Sport

Tennis as a varsity sport started at Youngstown in 1937, and it stands as one of the school's older sports. The netters have had some rough years, such as 1957, but have continually bounced back to fine form. Thus far this spring, Coach Bob Thompson's boys have been toppled only once and look forward to an outstanding campaign.

Baseball saw action from 1948 to 1951, the Korean War curtailing play for several years. Last spring saw a revival of the diamond sport, with the squad compiling a creditable slate. Things look much brighter this spring and the Penguin nine rates a good chance to make the NAIA playoffs, to be held here the latter part of this month.

Rifling is another relatively new sport on campus, beginning about 1950. This year's record-breaking

Jet's Jargon

By John E. Tudhope

Here it is, the last issue of the Jambar and it seems like only yesterday the first issue was being placed on the newsstands. This is not only the last column of the year but this is also the last column that will be written by the old "Jet". (Aren't you happy?)

The past four years have been ones of constant turmoil for this writer. The Jet just never learned when to stop saying exactly what he thought. This situation has been remedied as you have plainly seen in the last few issues. Not once has the administration been panned but that does not mean that this writer has not been holding back on the national figures. Let us begin again.

The International Boxing Club has finally accomplished something that the government was unable to touch. Jim Norris was ousted as the President and the dawn has come on the boxing "racket". With Norris out of the way it will be possible to clean up the shady "goings on". What a laugh!

There will be someone to take his place that will be just as bad if not worse. Mike Jacobs was the man that preceded Norris and he was a tyrant. When Jim took over, all looked rosy for the fight promoters and the boxers, but the truth soon appeared and Jumbo Jim was quick to increase pressures that are brought to bear on those concerned with the game. Conditions worsened and there is no indication of improvement.

Sports Notes

The Penguin tennis and baseball squads get a chance for revenge at Kent State University next week when the Golden Flashes are entertained by the locals on Monday and Tuesday. To start the activity, Monday afternoon at Volney Rogers Field the Penguins will seek to upset the Kent netters, who earlier in the season broke their winning streak at four matches. Following, the baseballers will try to atone their 8-1 setback at the hands of the neighboring rivals.

Al DiBaggio, a member of Alpha Phi Delta fraternity, doesn't seem to be afraid of cold water. Each Easter for the past several years, the Youngstown University student plunges into the water at Conneaut for his annual holiday swim. The lakeside resident is keeping up a tradition of taking an Easter swim no matter what the weather may be. The only time he had any after effects came when his knee which had been injured playing high school football at Conneaut in 1954, gave him some trouble after one of his annual dips.

squad more than made up for the lean years of the past by compiling a 10-2 record and making a fine showing everywhere they fired.

Features which must be noted are as follows: the squad, this season tutored by M/Sgt. Nick Felt and Lt. John R. Harlan, has copped the rifle conference's sportsmanship award two of the past three years, and the only coed ever to gain a varsity letter at Youngstown, Mary Lou Moss, has been a team regular the past two seasons. Lt. Mishia Fredericks was in charge of the squad before Felt became coach.

In the past there has been inter-collegiate competition in bowling and fencing, the former around 1950, while the school possessed a fencing team in 1930.

There's the English teacher who wrote on the blackboard, "I didn't have no fun this weekend." Turning to the class she asked, "How can I correct that?" Johnny's eager answer, "Get a feller!"

Champ Coach Canned

News was released last week of the resignation of Alex Hannum as coach of the St. Louis Hawks. Alex and the owner of the Hawks, Ben Kemer, could not see eye to eye on the handling of the team and during the season their battle flared to astronomical and almost disastrous results. The Hawks, however, regained their stride and won the NBA title. It sure is odd that the coach of a championship team is removed from the scene. That argument must have been a "hum-dinger".

Big Alex will be back in the near future. Don't be surprised if he ends up with either the Cincinnati Royals or the New York Knickerbockers. Both are looking for coaches and there aren't many better men than Mr. Hannum.

The Major League standings are still standing on their heads. The supposed front runners are floundering in the cellar regions. The Chicago White Sox and the St. Louis Cardinals are hitting tough luck. The entire rosters of both clubs are slumping.

New Series Coming

If the men all break out of the slump at once, the Sox and the Cards will be in the World Series in October. Those "Dam" Tanks will get theirs, yet. An interesting sidelight to the race in the American League is the place that the Washington Senators occupy.

A year ago last week "Cookie" Lavagetto took over the reins of a ball club that was mired in the cellar and in just one short year has welded the team into an early season pennant contender. The Senators at this writing were battling in the first division.

Good-bye to all you faithful readers (mom, dad, and my girl). I sure hope there were a few more readers than that. To get serious for a moment, it has been pleasant to work for the Jambar staff. It has been a rewarding and invigorating experience and I am sure that it will aid me in the future.

Best of luck to the teams in the future and also to the man who will take over this corner next year.

So long.

Rain Plays Havoc With Baseballers

Rain has played havoc with Youngstown University's baseball schedule but their five-win and three-loss season mark isn't one to be improved easily.

Mike Santor and Charlie Bushman added wins to their hurling records with conquests of Mount Union and Alliance in the Penguins most recent encounters.

Santor Gains Third

Santor yielded but five hits in going the distance for his third straight triumph of the year 6-3 over Mount Union but ten free passes kept him in constant hot water.

In both the seventh and ninth innings, Santor loaded the bases before retiring the side. Eight strikeouts helped him out of many jams.

Bushman Stars

Bushman cracked out a two-run homer in the eighth frame, his record hit and third RBI of the game. Tom Razum knocked in a pair of runs with two hits. Stein rapped out a brace of singles while Suchora had a double, all for Youngstown.

The Penguins backed Bushman with a strong nine hit attack to down Alliance College 6-4. Bushman recorded but a single strikeout against five bases on balls and eight safeties but managed to come through when necessary.

Gain Big Lead

Collecting three runs in the first and second innings, Youngstown never fell behind. By the sixth frame their lead was increased 5-1. Alliance made it 5-4 in the top of the eighth but Bushman shut the door in the final inning to preserve the win.

Parm and Razum each had two hits. Razums double was the locals only extra base hit.

The Penguin baseballers ran into a tartar in Westminster, which continued undefeated by gaining its eighth straight triumph, toppling the locals, 15-6.

Ben Brenner, the Pittsburgh, Pa. ace, continued his fast pace as he tossed his fifth victory in a row. He scattered three hits in the five innings he worked, and was yanked after the Pennsylvanians piled up a big lead. The Penguins got to two other Titan hurlers for seven hits and six runs in the last four innings.

Tom Raptis, the first of three Penguin hurlers, absorbed the loss. He was blasted for eight runs in one and two-thirds innings. Ron Stoops had a brace of singles, also, to feature offensively for the Penguins.

Schugio, Pague, James, and Smith each rapped out two hits for Westminster. Among Smith's safeties was a two-run homer in the fifth inning. Each team made a trio of double plays, and the Penguins left nine men on base, while the Titans left a dozen runners stranded.

McConnell Offers Variety of Sports In Program At 'Y'

Don McConnell is well known among the male students taking physical activity courses at the Y.M.C.A. Don, the head of the Physical Education Department, and three assistants, Bob Mowry, Dick Bennett, and Les Sasvary, all put the University students through various sport activities.

Don starts out the year by having every-one swim the pool, and usually about ten can't make it. For six weeks these ten are shown the techniques of swimming. The rest of the class goes through rigorous calisthenics in the gym.

Squad Activity

After six weeks, the class of about forty is broken up into squads of around seven. Two squads play volley-ball in the small gym, two squads are up on the big gym playing basketball, and two are in the pool. In every class there are individuals who want to specialize in one sport. Don says that one should have a varied sports program. He will allow a student who specializes in one sport to take a few interested members of the class and teach them such sports as judo, handball, tumbling, weight-lifting, and working the trampoline.

Good Facilities

Don remarked, "The college is fortunate to have such modern facilities at the 'Y'. We have well-trained men that take an interest in the students. We try to stimulate interest in all sports so that the participants can use this know-

Track Team Defeated

The Youngstown University track team, washed out several times in a row, finally saw action at Grove City last weekend, but were edged out by the Pennsylvanians, 68-63. Featuring for the locals were speedy Ray Carter, who captured the 100 and 200 yard sprints and placed in three other events.

The Penguins had the top three finishers in the 100 yard dash as Carter won in the fine time of 10.1 and was followed by Youngstowners Bill Coleman and Jim Richards. Bob Barnes took the 120 yard high hurdles in 17.1, while other Penguin wins came as Coleman copped the broad jump in with 22'-9", this being just four inches below his school standard. Jim Chick tossed the shot 43-5/4 and Bob Ponder pole vaulted 10'-6" for wins, also.

Santor Gains Fourth Win

Dom Rosselli's ace pitcher this spring, former East High star Mike Santor, gained his fourth consecutive decision as he hurled the Penguins to a 10-5 triumph over Penn last Saturday at Cleveland. Santor was in fine form as he struck out ten batters and walked but one.

He scattered 10 hits and never was in serious trouble.

Featuring at the plate for the Penguins were "Corky" Parm, who has "four for five", and Ronnie Stoops and Tom Razum, who garnered three and two hits, respectively. Rich Suchora, the locals' stellar catcher, banged out a two-run homer in the third inning.

Care will save your car -- and your life.

By RON VANATSKY

With the end of the school year rapidly approaching, it seems proper to take a look back at the past nine months of sports at Youngstown University. We've had our share of rough spots and smooth ones, also, but I'm sure that everyone on campus had great fun watching the Penguins in action. Since Youngstown is a commuter school, athletics are an important factor in the establishment and preservation of spirit here, and should continue to be for a long time.

Although "Dike" Beede's gridders never lived up to preseason potential they were considered to possess, they nevertheless showed, undoubtedly, more clean, hard play than any squad in the past few years. Outweighed in almost every contest, the Penguin eleven just didn't have enough power.

A need for more depth was indicated through the aftermath of numerous injuries which hampered the team. However, as indicated by attendance, local fans still enjoy the Penguin brand of football, and our boys gave a fine account of themselves in every game.

BASKETBALL IS AT HIGH LEVEL

Basketball, which reached a really "big time" level in 1956-57, stayed there this past season, as fans saw the finest so-called "small college" teams in the country play here. Dom Rosselli's boys showed that they could stay in there with any team in the nation, as evidenced by their play against such stalwarts as Western Illinois, Niagara, and St. Francis. The Penguins again were stopped just two steps short of the NAIA national championship, and everyone is anxious to see the squad go all the way next season.

The University's rifle team produced two of the finest boy and girl shooters in this part of the country and exhibited real class and sportsmanship throughout the season to prove to be a real credit to the school. The fine record compiled by Nick Felt's shooters should provide an impetus for interest in the squad.

GOLFERS ARE SUCCESSFUL

The golf team, under Bill Carson, has continued its winning ways again this spring and can be tabbed as one of the school's more successful sports over the years. Lou DiOrto's trackers are shaping up very well and with most every one returning next spring, should field another creditable squad, as several of the boys will have two seasons of action under their belt.

The baseballers are enjoying a better than average season, and it looks as if the decision to take the sport out of temporary retirement last spring was a wise move. The season's play has uncovered several quite outstanding individual performers, and the encouragement of this talent can lead to better things in the future.

TENNIS SCENE CHANGES

One of the most heartening things to come along this spring is the complete transition of Bob Thompson's tennis squad. Garnering but a brace of triumphs all last season, the boys this year have essayed victories in all but one of their matches. That shows what determination can do.

Every major sport on campus has been handicapped by poor facilities in one phase or another. Athletically wise, as in many other ways, Youngstown is a school of very high calibre. Yet our athletic department is forced to operate with a minimum amount of funds, and this makes for hardships in every phase of the sport.

SWIMMING UP STREAM

To give credit where it is due, the department is to be congratulated for its fine accomplishments in the face of the most adverse conditions. Athletics are and have been very prominent in the construction of the outstanding reputation of the University in every part of the country. They have to be given a "fair shake". It's time to stop swimming against the current.

This being the last GRAPEVINE, I would like at this time to thank everyone who helped me throughout the year. The many various comments I have received and the interest shown in the column have made it seem just a little easier to write each time. The excellent cooperation I have received from the administration and the athletic department has made the tenure as sports editor, believe me, a most enjoyable one. In closing, the students of Youngstown University in the future can expect to find the best coverage possible in the sports pages of the JAMBAR.

EASTERN RAILROADS

Williard Webster, "Dike" Beede, and Dom Rosselli have had a hand in guiding Penguin athletic fortunes for 20 years.

Feature

Webster, Beede, Rosselli Have Held Top Reins In YU Sports

by Ron Vanatsky

The trio of outstanding men on the Youngstown University campus who have undoubtedly done more for athletics here than any other group are Williard L. Webster, Dwight (Dike) Beede, and Dom Rosselli. These three have held the reins of the top steeds in the sporting picture of Penguin athletics for many years now. They have been severely criticized when things were bad, and have been lauded to no end during the years when laurels were aplenty. This trio of names is to be used synonymously with sports at Y.U.

"Doc" Webster has been a fixture at the school for 20 years. At present he is athletic director and trainer, but in the past, in addition to these duties, he has handled the tutoring of various sports on campus. In 1946 Webster took charge of the tennis team and during 1950-51 was coach of the track team.

Letterman in College

Schooled in Beaver Falls, Pa., he set a few records while on his high school track squad and was an avid sports fan. At Geneva College he won letters in track and football and played some independent basketball and baseball. Since he has been athletic director at Youngstown, he has gained a nation-wide reputation as one of the top men in his field. Recently he received a special citation from the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for his outstanding work.

Webster is keen about building up the school's athletic program and has mentioned that "the more kids we can get into the program, the better it will be." Considering the extremely paltry athletic facilities available here, Webster has done a very commendable job, and the hopes of the school are that his next 20 years here will be much easier than the first score.

Beede Has Fine Record

"Dike" Beede has been at the helm of the sport which has been responsible for the subsistence of all others on campus. Football has brought in revenue that provided money for the budgets of all varsity sports, including, until the past two years, basketball. "Mr. Football" at Y.U., although he has been harshly criticized many times for his old coaching patterns, nevertheless can point to the record, which shows a winning percentage of well over .600.

Beede has brought the Penguin squads through some rough years, during which he has been accused of violating orthodox coaching principles, but a look at the gridders slate over the 20 years Beede has been at the helm shows only six losing seasons. The high spots of Y.U. football came during the 1940's when during five consecutive seasons the Penguins garnered 35 wins in 44 starts, with two contests deadlocked.

Coach of the Year

Some of "Dike's" nationwide fame has come from his introduction of the hour came last August in Chicago at a session of the Football Writers Of America, when he was honored as the "Small College Coach Of The Year."

Directing the basketballers at the school for the past dozen campaigns has been diminutive Dom Rosselli, at 5'3" probably one of the smallest coaches in the country. A very fine athlete while at Geneva College, Dom entered the coaching ranks at Y.U. in 1939.

Dom is in charge of all men's intramural sports, is assistant to Beede in the fall, and besides being in charge of the basketballers, is head baseball coach. His cage squads the past two seasons have gained the NAIA quarterfinals in Kansas City and have triumphed in 46 of 57 starts. Rosselli's high spot at Youngstown came last year when he was chosen as the state's collegiate basketball "Coach of the Year."

Proof of the Penguins outstanding schedule in basketball and football over the years is the fact that the Youngstowners have played teams from 17 states on the gridiron, while just the past two seasons the cagers have played some of the nation's finest squads, these coming from 12 states. Through the guidance of Beede, Webster, and Rosselli, the name of Youngstown University and its fine reputation for clean, hard play has been spread to all corners of the nation.

spinner play and his initiation into the sport of penalty flags, which probably constitutes his greatest contribution to the game. His finest

Alice Ann Mound and Co. are diligently at work on last minute arrangements for the Annual Dinner Dance that is approaching.

Well, looks like summer is closing in on everyone, as are the finals ... so, good luck to everybody, have fun, and see you at the Lake!

ALPHA IOTA

Congratulations to Clydora Stafford on her forthcoming marriage on August 2, 1958.

Everyone is packing their suitcases for the big event -- the 1958 Ohio conclave in Canton, Ohio, May 16-18. Have a good time girls!

We would like to thank all those connected with the Greek mixer and Sing. We had a wonderful time.

Sticklers!

WHAT'S A SENIOR WHO DOESN'T GET LUCKIES FOR A GRADUATION PRESENT?
(SEE PARAGRAPH BELOW)

WHAT'S A BANK'S ARMORED CAR?

JENNIFER BELT, RADCLIFFE
Buck Truck

GRADUATION PRESENTS? You may get a (Groan!) 6-cylinder European sports car or a (Yawn!) 6-month European vacation. These silly baubles just prove that parents don't understand the college generation. What every senior really wants (C'mon now, admit it!) is a generous supply of Luckies! Luckies, as everyone knows, are the best-tasting cigarettes on earth. They're packed with rich, good-tasting tobacco, toasted to taste even better. So the senior who doesn't receive 'em is bound to be a Sad Grad! Why let parents spoil commencement—it only happens (Sob!) once. Tell 'em to gift-wrap those Luckies right now!
