CO-ED FOUND SLAIN; LOVE NEST XPOSED

Wicked Women

The Victim

PAUL WRETCH DISCOVERED IN LOVE NEST

Student Council President Paul Wretch was expelled from Hungtown College in disgrace yesterday when he was discovered in a love nest with co-eds Jean Prattleson and Norma Jean Foo, pictured above. Wretch was missing from the picture since he had just walked into the water in a desperate attempt to commit suicide.

Fate guided the footsteps of Business Manager P. Calvert Lickerd when he entered the lounge last night and discovered the mutilated body of co-ed June Slymer. Apparently no one else noticed her. Miss Slymer was slated to get one of the D-C pins this year according to her own statement.

$10,000,000 BUILDING PROGRAM ANNOUNCED BY GONES

Story on Page Two

College Founders Fight Over Root Beers In Salon

In the days before Hung Co was really an institute of learning, a few of its founders were snapped by ace candid cameraman, Nate Fatmann, while quaffing a root beer or so at the Spa Ye-Slingem on Hungtown's north side.

The question of debate was: Should the decoration on the front door be a half-moon, a knot-hole, which was already conveniently placed, or should there be no decoration at all?

Phineas Gones was strongly in favor of having the door without any decoration. He stated, "It will give the buildings a serene air."

Caleb Pillbox stated: "I think we should have a half-moon, so as to let in more light. As I understand it, a half-moon would let in more light."

Up to this time, P. Calvert Lickerd hadn't said a word. After much hemming and hawing around, he spoke forth. "Why don't we just use the knot hole for decoration? In doing so, it will be easier to balance the budget. In the first place, we really don't have the money."

After this heated argument, between beers, which kept the vocal cords oiled, the three took a closed vote. As to the outcome of the vote, you can see for yourself. If the windows are clean, it means that Phineas Gones won; if someone pressed his nose against the dirty window panes, it means that P. Calvert Lickerd won; but if none of these clues are present, you can assume that Caleb Pillbox swung the vote.

It is men such as the above three who have the gumption to raise a stink to get things for the betterment and glory of Hungtown college. May there be many more like them in the future.

HuCo Morals Higher Than Ever Before

Five thousand years ago today the honorable ancestor of Jack Wender was hanging by his tail and picking the flees from his wife, preparatory to leaving for Miami for the winter. En route he met a couple of jitterbugs on the way to Washington to become elected president, but were persuaded to go to Florida instead because of the beautiful necks about this region.

The diverse politicians, Joe Banana and Dave Wackie, thought that picking up a couple of "chickens" would furnish more diversion than rolling barrels in cellars. They thought the cheapest way to travel would be via "V-8" belonging to Wender but Wackie thought his "A Rocket" would be safer as it went 20 miles to the flat tire.

Let us leave these brain-wavy citizens to their folly but keep an eye peeled in the future for such extravaganzas and warn them that according to the Book of Genesis, 51st chapter, 25th edition in red letters, it says, "God created the earth not for such carousing as is going on but to give each a chance to better themselves spiritually and morally."

In our day we have no drinking, smoking, necking (commonly known to most of you by the terms pitching and woo-wooing), speeding, dancing, laughing story telling (you know the kind), and all such ridiculous and immoral things. But gee, look at the fun we're missing.

Fraternity Enjoys No-Women Weekend

Columbus, Ohio — (ACP) — Women, an institution hitherto regarded as a necessary factor in the building of happy home life, will have no place in—nay! are strictly prohibited from—the home of the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity—for one weekend a year at Ohio State University.

From the front of the fraternity house hangs a huge sign which proclaims in bold letters to the world that "Anti-Woman Week End" is in progress.

All pictures of women are taken from the rooms and, following a solemn ceremony, deposited in a safe until Monday morning.

Gones Announces Building Expansion

BULLETIN

In a sudden statement that racked the surrounding collegiate world with its intensity, President Howard W. Gones revealed late Monday that the Administration has outlined a ten million dollar building program for Hungtown College. Voluntary salary cuts taken by every member of the faculty has so greatly increased the treasury that the expansion schedule can be undertaken with only two mortgages being placed upon college property.

Teachers Dubbed Colonels

Accepting the faculty's decision for the reduction of their own salaries, Prexy Gones, with a tear of gratitude, gratefully dubbed the teaching body colonels to his staff. As spokesman for the faculty, Bean Pillbox was quoted as saying (surrounded by three reporters and two photographers) "We are not concerned with the monetary rewards of our efforts, but only in that heartfelt satisfaction coming from a good deed." The "Old Bean" even offered to keep the books of the college free.

In a personal interview, Colonel Plymouth-Ford, suh, was questioned as to whether he believed this surprising move would obtain the desired result or would only succeed in making faculty members the laughing stock of the country. His reply was a deliberate "Yes." Such is the typical consensus of our revered instructors. But we love 'em, everyone!

Field House Planned

A gigantic field house, to be erected upon the rolling campus opposite "Old Main" will constitute the first piece of construction in the building schedule. A science hall; a new library; a student union and dormitories are other additions to be effected within the five-year program. W.P.A. aid is being arranged for the Pig Delt Fraternity house.

Ground for the field house will be broken next September, with President Gones doing the breaking. In his honor, the structure will be named "Howard's Hothouse" with the aging savant retaining the Coca-Cola concession. The field house will achieve a new high in architectural designing, and will undoubtedly be the most complete ever constructed. The first floor will consist of the athletic department offices, lock-room facilities, and a large basketball court, which will be movable so as to permit artificial freezing of the area for inter-collegiate hockey matches. Above the court will be suspended an indoor track.

Shooting Gallery

The second floor will contain a small gymnasium, a swimming pool, boxing and wrestling rooms, and a gymnastic training room, an indoor tennis court, golf range, shooting gallery, and handball courts will fill up the third floor.

The basement will be constructed so as to fit the requirements for a polo-playing field. Automatic elevators will be installed for the convenience of occupants and be run by student labor at 50c per hour.

Bids for the field house are now being received and the contract is to be let Mai 1. Of course the lowest bidder wont receive the contract, as it will go to the concern making the best arrangements with administration officials.

Piggy Lovewell Said To Be Reincarnated Pete Penguin

The Slummy Pig, Piggy Lovewell, pictured on this page seated on the edge of the Y.M.C.A. pool ready for a plunge into the depths, is said to be a reincarnation of Pete Penguin. This little-known Slummy Pig lost her cause and supporters when she partook of the roasted Pete. Miss Lovewell is showing her lost supporters.

It will be remembered that early in March when Miss Lovewell was cleaning up at the Phoo Slams rootbeer parlor she became exahusted and then hungry. Famished, she slooped to the kitchen where she prepared to lay out a snack.

In the refrigerator the Phoo Slams were concealing Pete Penguin whom they had kidnapped the preceding afternoon. It was their plan to plant him on the Pig Delts. The Pig Delts would then be forced to pay the usual hush fee of one dollar.

Miss Lovewell mistook Pete for a turkey sandwich. Delicately she carved Pete and then stuffed him in the oven.

A few hours later Miss Lovewell was thrown from the house in throes of indigestion.

A mark of Miss Lovewell's tragic feast is her unmistakable strut.

Books on the European war are most popular of the non-fiction books used by students in college libraries.

Of the nation's 10 largest education institutions, five are members of the Big Ten.

Slamma Pig's Lost Cause

Miss Piggy Lovewell is reported to have gone and lost it at the Phoo Slam House following a tragic feast. Miss Lovell is shown holding self together without her lost supporters.

Expelled From Hung-Co

After ten minutes of deliberation, a committee composed of Phineas Gones, Caleb Pillbox, and Kathryn Cement, president and deans of Hungtown College ruled to expell Marge Hurray, Barbara Tulick and Peg McFooland, students of the Liberal Arts College.

"So this is Youngstown," says Pete the Penguin, as he scans the horizon. "Well, if I'm going to be mascot here I may as well look the place over a bit. Where are those beautiful —"

"Ah — here they are, at least one of them. And a greeting from Rachel Brown is not to be sneezed at. I'm staying, so help me!"

"Oh-o, so one does pay tuition here, gridded or no gridded. This Pickard's a tough guy. Oh, well, business managers always are tough when it comes to getting money! Maybe I won't stay so long, after all."

"How did I get in here? I'm not looking for snap courses that is — not much. But biology under Dr. Semans is going to be tough sleddin'. I'll watch my chance and paddle out when he ain't looking."

"Now this is more like it. In fact, I like this. Oh, oh, there goes my flipper in somebody's coffee. Oh, well, skip it."

"A born leader, that's what I am. Well, I'll strut my stuff today, for tomorrow I may be a dead one."

"This is all Greek to me, but Coach Beede usually knows what he's doin' so I suppose he does now. Anyway, I don't have to worry about winning the games. I'm the inspiration."

"Well, guess I'm as good as the average college grad. So I'll chisel a diploma out of Prexy Howard Jones."

"I may look intellectual but I'm tired. Believe me, going to college is a wearying business. I'll take my home at Crandall Park any day. S'long."

Co-Ed Meets With Foul Play

The body of an unknown woman was found after moving back the Erie Terminal a week ago, chief engineer Hurry stated today. The picture shows the mangled body of the beauty. (If anyone recognizes the face please don't tell us). We are having a lot of fun with the body. This is the reason no one here was alarmed when a well-meaning person told us it was Louise Wantmorski. The cause of death was a pin prick with a deadly poison sodium chloride.

June Slymer Found Slain In Lounge

Mutilated Body Discovered By Calvert Lickerd

The body of June Slymer, Duntown co-ed, was discovered stabbed in the lounge by Business Manager P. Calvert Lickerd, when that trusty individual locked the pool-room at 8:40 last night.

The corpse had evidently been sitting in the lounge all day, for rigor mortis had already set in. Mutilated torso was unearthened behind the eighth ball, and a search for dismembered parts of the body revealed concealment of one arm and three legs in ash-trays about the room.

Several members of the police force received minor injuries in an effort to assemble beat-up ligaments. Matching prizes were awarded Officers J. Nobeat and F. Feet. (Interment Friday.)

Miss Slymer, a prominent bathing beauty, was a member of Missi Sippi Delta sorority, and leaves her parents, thirteen brothers and several nickelodeon slugs.

The mystery in this murder case consists in how this body could have lain around the lounge a day without being discovered.

Gad! What a lovely person we have in Mary Full, the average student at Duntown College. This writer had the great fortune of having a friendly chat with Mary the other afternoon and found her to be a most interesting and charming person.

But more in detail, I found that Mary . . . does not go steady, but is always dated a week ahead . . . she can't wait until spring . . . likes psychology . . . loves spaghetti . . . likes to watch Hiram Walker smoke . . . does not drive her own automobile . . . wilts when she hears George Palaver sing . . . gets all her latest dance steps from Peg McFooland . . . has a date for the Junior prom . . . likes to watch Ted Gogash eat bananas . . . has a date for Saturday night . . . plans a career in preference to marriage . . . thinks that the tans that Bob Dittis and Bill Peach have are adorable . . . likes hamburgers . . . does not like to wear formals . . . has a date for Friday night . . . never misses chapel . . . thinks that Pat Lamarr has the bandages on her fingers from holding hands too much with Plain Gerdes . . . thinks that James Button is fickle . . . has a date for Foo Baron . . . spends most of her Saturday afternoons at the Yoicks . . . has a date for the Floppy Moe dance on the 13th . . . See Erick Billson for tickets . . . says that her man must not only be the tall, dark, and handsome type but also must have Mark Medicine's laugh, Bob Cash's sense of humor, Lit Fleeson's pipe, Bob Ganderson's Chevrolet, Mike Susabelle's wardrobe, and Paul Wretch's good-naturedness. If you feel that you

All in all, Mary Full, the average student at Youngstown College is a pretty "fine thing" and I'm sure that we all think a lot of her.

Len Scraggs Tripped By One of the Girls Entering Lounge

After a hard night in his secluded chemistry laboratory, Mr. Len Scraggs went to the lounge for a tasty cigarette. As he walked into the lounge he was tripped by a certain Miss Betty Hotchkiss.

Carefully, she picked him up and dragged him to a quiet corner of the lounge and proceeded to gush at him. After many shrieks of laughter, Mr. Scraggs came to and was unable to see, because the janitor had conveniently blinked the lights. Having finished his cigarette, Len went to find the Flee-Floo boy and start on the homeward trail.

The moral of the story is: Look carefully before entering the lounge. If you don't trip over the billiard table, someone's foot is bound to get in your way.

CAMPUS COMMENTS

By Dick Thomas

Among the many comments regarding our last "best" (allright for you) column—thanks to guest writer Frank Jaczko—was an effectively written epistle from an unknown reader. So well did we enjoy this letter that we decided to print it in our column. Therefore, with apologies to our talented correspondent, here 'tis:

Dear Dick,
 I waded into your column last Wednesday without reading the preamble. When I came to Courtship Gush, I was very indignant. You see, Dick, even though I don't know you personally, you impress me as a sort of romantic figure. (Columnist's note: Now, readers, do you blame me for printing this letter?) Imagine my anger until I found out the guest-for-a-day was the original campus commentator.

"Even ten minutes is a long time to be away from you" may sound goody and silly to Joe Chapel but, as a member of that weaker sex, I still think it's much more love inspiring and prefer it to any paw maul (as Joey insinuates), oggles or slobber which makes you so uneasy that you don't know what the next move will be.

I turned down one boy because I never knew if he was just dumb or too intelligent. He never said anything. Silence may be fitting to Tarzan but I'd never want to live with him.

As for Frank's opinion that no noise is good news, what about Dykema's front page Jambar statement, "Nobody has written good poetry since women were educated." Can you account for it gentlemen? I can. While women weren't granted masculine intellects along with equal rights (what pity!), we still have kept our ears above the animal level. And I still say no "glib" sayings makes no poetry.

What is it college men so miserably lack? Shall I try to tell you? Why does Charles Boyer have it any day over Robert Taylor? It's that nasty little thing called sex-appeal.

Please, we don't expect verses and flowery speeches, but the use of the right word here and there will step up any romance tempo.

YoCo men have freedom of speech and can't use it. What a waste! It might be leap year but speak, boys, SPEAK!

With most respectable intentions,
 M.I.N.A.

On the social bulletin board under a notice which stated, "Pig Deltis, wear your crew shirts for the Phi Gam basketball game" was this thoughtful caution: Phi Gams, be sure and wear at least your pants and shoes—after all!"

Heard in passing (after the Phi Gams again threatened to drop out of Inter-fraternity Council unless their "slick trick" were overlooked): "Brothers, now wouldn't it be a pity when the I.F. Council would sponsor a dance if the publicity should read: "Inter-fraternity Council made up of all social Greek Letter organizations at YoCo, except Phi Gamma Fraternity, will sponsor a dance on such and such a date, etc. etc. . . ." A former YoCo student, noticing the present unsightly table and accessories in the lounge commented: "Now what are they using the lounge for—a stock room?"

SLOOSING AROUND

With Jean Louse

After a winter of cozy smoky hibernation in the hole someone opened the window in the lounge. It was quite by accident, you understand. He simply leaned against the window ever so gently and creakingly it opened half an inch. Through the crack, in through the dense of smoke, into the holy of holies, wandered a half inch zephyr of spring. Immediately the school became contaminated with Spring Fever . . . Being on the front, I report, the victims to date as follows . . .

Frankie McHoughlin has settled down and is going steady with a freshman girl as yet unknown . . . Joe Banana and June Slymer have declared their love. Quote, Miss Slymer: "As yet I can only look upon Mr. Banana as a friend, but a friend whom I admire and respect greatly." Characteristic of modest Joe Banana he simply hangs his head and says nothing . . .

George Wager, president of the Junior Class, has announced the Junior Prom to be an informal Floppy Moe session to represent the spirit of the student body . . . The student body applauds Mr. Wager's action. Music will be furnished by an up-to-date nickelodeon . . . Dick Donnors has confessed his hair is only a result of strong carrot dye. "Twiddle eye" Donnors, a natural brunette, will give the name of his beautician, to anyone interested . . . Barbara Tulik and "Comments" Homas have been observed holding hands in movies and sharing hot dogs. "Comments" Homas you will remember as that dimple cheeked, lovable personality tanned by courtesy of the Y lamp) who is so far this year the best bet for May Queen . . .

Nate Fatmann and Edie McLormick have been observed in quiet tete-a-tete . . . Carion Cascom has given up the choir to become a chorus girl at the Mellar . . . Florence McBibben and Bill Beff are the newest romance on Wick Oval . . . Jean Goodmorgan has been elected Queen of the Cafeterial ociety . . . Hiram Walker and Betty Mae Bones may be seen cutting up the carpet in the lounge . . . Betsy Finzel and Chuck Apemann are sharing a beautiful friendship . . . Billie Bue Bonway has con-

Science Group Takes Field Trip To Laboratories

An interesting trip was taken by the Phi Epsilon, honorary chemistry fraternity a week Saturday to the American Aluminum Laboratories at New Wilmington, Pa., and to the Buhl Planatarium at Pittsburgh.

At the New Wilmington laboratories one of the most interesting sights was the new million pound "scull-crusher" recently illustrated in LIFE which exerts enough pressure to crush a log 1 foot x 1 foot and yet measure the force necessary to crack a watch crystal. Also was seen a new machine called the polarograph and another called density spectroscopy which does quantitative analysis.

About two hours were also spent in the science exhibit at the Buhl Planitarium.

Installation will be held tomorrow at which new members Henry Bartolo, Bernard Glass, Steve Hyrzek, Frank Kitko, Robert Revis, Carl Schrock, and George Spirtos will be initiated.

COLLEGE TRIO FOUND BRUTALLY MURDERED

The sensational murder of Dave Wackil, Coupe Wactrick, and her sister, Totty, is one of the season's most horrible crimes.

Wackil was driving a 1929 custom-built Rocket and had just let Totty out at her door after a few hours of sitting in the driveway, it was reported by the neighbors, and Coupe had just turned off the light preparatory to going to bed as her sister came home. He was found dead, shot through the head, stabbed through the heart and with a slit throat, on Canfield Road, Hungtown, Ohio, at midnight last night.

The doctors as yet have not discovered the cause of his death and after the confession of the crime by Coupe, they can find no motive.

Coupe said the reason she killed him was that Mackil wouldn't marry her after dancing with her, but insisted on marrying her sister Totty, after a mere engagement to her. She then committed suicide by walking across Wick Avenue as Hungtown College let out.

This made Wackil turn over in his grave and frightened Totty to death. The coroner (the fourth coroner of the lounge), said he had never seen such mangled bodies.

JEAN LOUSE—lovely debutante of Hungtown College, awaiting her dip in the YMCA's luxurious pool, has just returned from winning the beauty contest of Fogs Pond winter resort. Miss Louse's ears have jut appeared in Meter - Golden-Wires picture "Pinochle."

BETROTHED

In 1939, one major alliance missed our hawk-like eyes, so now we are happily on the inside and want you there.

We take great pleasure in announcing the marriage of two of our popular students. The president of Missi Sippi Delta and the reason for the recent Interfraternity Council meeting thumbed out to Mr. Banana, Sr., on Thursday afternoon between class and chapel and took the vows that made them one. Mr. Banana is a personal friend, sometimes, so we heard all.

This act culminated from an early lounge romance, which began when Hiram entered our sacred lounge and saw Betty Mae Bones. One look and his bachelor days were over—since neither party wore glasses no moments were lost as in some cases I've heard.

Confidentially, I think they would have announced it on their own, but Miss Bones had grown tired of husband Hiram and was working on Beef Chuey, but we have other plans for that boy so we are slap-happy to announce this our chance for revenge and Beef.

Starting April 12th:
 "I Take This Woman" with Spencer Tracy and Hedy LaMarr.
 "Viva! Cisco Kid" with Cesar Romero.
 Starting April 19th:
 "Three Cheers For the Irish" Mitchell. "Of Mice and Men" with Betty Fields and Burgess Meredith.

PARAMOUNT
 Starting April 5th:
 "Shop Around The Corner" with Margaret Sullivan and James Stewart. "Man from Dakota" with Wallace Beery.
