Do you have a photograph you're proud of, one you really think is worthy of showing off to friends and neighbors? If so the Jambar and KCPB have combined forces to provide you with an outlet for your "prize" photo. The First Annual Jambar-KCPB Photography Contest/Exhibition will begin taking photographic works at the beginning of spring quarter for judging, and exhibition of the photos will be May 23 through June 12.

An application for the contest will appear in the Jambar at a later date (probably at the end of this quarter). Rules for the contest/exhibition have been drawn up by the contest committee and are as follows:

1. The contest is open to the University "family" (students, faculty, staff and administration.)
2. All photos must be framed or matted (white mats are preferred.)
3. All photos must be covered with glass, acetate or other suitable covering.

4. There will be a 5 print maximum for all entrants (both B & W and color).

5. All photos must be labeled. Name, phone number, address, and value (for insurance) are required (on back of photo).

6. All photos should be titled.

7. Upon entry, the photographer will relinquish copies, so that the winning photos can be published in

Efforts to eliminate leaky roof in CAST

Building continue slowly due to weather

Efforts to eliminate the leaky roof of the College of Applied Science and Technology (CAST) Building continue to proceed slowly, according to statements made this week by Dr. Karl Krill, Vice President for Administrative Affairs.

Krill stated that the University is waiting for the roofing season when "something will have to be done." The leakage is not only staining wall and floor tiles but is also presenting a potential danger to the building's electrical system.

The faulty roof was discovered in September of 1975 when the State Architect inspected it and notified the contractor that it would have to be replaced. Since then officials have been unable to determine who is responsible to pay for the repairs. The decision may have to be decided in court.

The problem was previously attributed to the use of wet building materials and improper cementing procedures, but these theories have since been proven incorrect. Currently, Krill thinks that a difference in the rates of expansion of the insulation and the roof could be the source of the leaks. The sun's heat causes the roof to expand so that it is no longer tightly glued to the insulation. This causes wrinkles and open seams in the roof.

Krill added that he has no idea when the third floor will be ready for use.

Ticket Buyers Beware

Before you buy tickets for the Benson-Hancock concert on Sunday night, be sure you check the number.

Because of last Monday night's theft of the concert tickets, numbers 00486-00600 will not be honored at the performance, said Phil Hirsch, director of Kilcawley Center. If you run across one of these tickets please contact Hirsch, ext. 571 or Campus Security, ext. 460.

Restates position on library noise

To the Editor of The Jambar:

I would like to respond to Mr. Seefeldt's Friday, Feb. 4 letter concerning my previous letter to the Jambar about the noise in the library.

First of all, I did not complain about the noise in the smoking lounges, nor did I say that the noise and talking should be stopped. What I complained about, as well as others have, is the noise and talking that goes on in the areas of the library designated as study and research, where quiet is needed. Is this too much to ask from a library,

Mr. Seefeldt?

I did find Seefeldt's suggestions on what the library could have done with the University's money by not erecting quiet signs, as slightly humorous. It seems that Mr. Seefeldt missed the point. Even if these posters were given to the library, it's a shame that at a college level, quiet signs are needed at all. If Seefeldt is an employee of the library, he should try to encourage a reasonable amount of silence throughout the library, instead of making humor of this problem.

As for the animal noise comments, Seefeldt has missed the point again. I was trying to express the conditions that exist somewhat sarcastically. So Mr. Seefeldt "all I am saying is give silence a chance" in the study areas, the "study areas," the "study areas," and all the noise and talking you want in the lounges, the "lounges," the "lounges."

What Do We Want?

Let's look at YSU's proposed Sports Complex and sports programs objectively. What are the benefits? For one it (the stadium) would give the Penguin teams (football and tennis) a decent place to play out their schedules. Better opponents could conceivably be signed because of the good facility instead of playing at Rayen Stadium. The Penguins could then become part of a conference instead of just playing single teams.

However, is that what we want for this school? Can a commuter school with a fairly stable population of 15,000 provide the income and support for several good teams? By several we mean football, basketball, tennis, wrestling and swimming. And can the money be provided to support both men's and women's teams since by the Title IX provision women must be given equal facilities and programs? Do we want several teams that play halfway decent or would it be better to have fewer teams that are contenders? Maybe it would be a good idea to abolish one or two sports and funnel their support money partly to the other sports and partly to intramurals. It would be better to have many individual YSU students participating in sports than just a few "stars."

There are several schools around the country which have switched from intercollegiate sports to intramural sports and have not been the worse for doing so. In fact, many of these schools have a better academic atmosphere because the emphasis is on strengthening a person's body both intellectually and physically, instead of bettering their sports records or seeing how many wins they can get.

Before the Stadium is begun these and other questions have to be answered. Once the six million is spent and the Stadium constructed, it will be too late.

Board of Trustees Meeting Agenda

The YSU Board of Trustees will meet at 9:30, Saturday, Feb. 12, in the Art Gallery of Kilcawley Center.

According to the agenda, Dr. John Coffelt, YSU president, will recommend resolutions to ratify faculty/staff appointments, authorize a two-year program in respiratory therapy technology, and a new management major.

Among the reports by Committees of the Board of Trustees to be given is the introduction of a resolution to authorize election to determine if classified employees desire exclusive recognition, and also a resolution on earned and courtesy rank for professional administrative personnel.

Slide Show

The Iranian Student Organization is sponsoring a slide show about Iran at noon on Sat., Feb. 12, in room 240 of Kilcawley Center.

Questions use of security patrols

To the Editor of The Jambar:

It is really too bad that things have reached such a point in Maag Library that people are suggesting security patrols to keep everyone quiet. There are enough flashers, drug pushers, book thieves and potential rapists frequenting the library to keep our security forces quite busy. As for the library employees, we have enough to do just directing people from one department to another (Um...Where's the bathroom?...Hey, how do I get out of the building?) and explaining that the second floor is the main floor, the first floor is really the basement, 3a comes after 3, etc.

I think that it is every library patron's right to 1) ask the noise makers to shut up, or 2) go to either the Circulation Desk or the Serials Desk and ask that a policeman or a librarian handle the situation. With 6 floors and 4 half-floors, it is impossible for those employees working on floors 1 and 2 to be aware of what is happening throughout the whole library.

As a library staff member and a student who uses the library for study purposes, I have not noticed a whole lot of noise or rowdiness, but I'm not questioning its existence. When I see the number of students who come to the library with absolutely no idea of how to use a library, what a card catalog is, what alphabetical order means or what an index is, it is quite easy to believe that they don't know what the library's function is, nor how to behave in one. This is not high school, kiddies—you are on your own now.

Special English Courses

The English department will be offering four special courses next quarter. They are "Journalism: New and Old" an interdisciplinary course combining "Introduction to Literature, Fiction and Poetry" (1304) and "Introduction to Political Science" (3654); "Writing Stories for Children" (1320); "Landmarks of Literary History" (1310); and "The Bible as Literature" (1329).

Prefers progressive to top 40 music

To the Editor of The Jambar: This letter is in regards to the article on what radio station is the most popular in your poll. We weren't asked during the poll, so here is our opinion, and we're sure many other people will go along with our ideas.

To those people who prefer a top 40 station like Y-103, it is our belief that you have led a sheltered life. How would you know if you liked any new artist or group if you never got a chance to listen to them? Has it ever occurred to you that you might like a new sound? Progressive radio stations give you an opportunity to listen to new groups instead of the same groups over and over. WMMS is one of the top radio stations in the country. We pity those people that like listening to the same song nine or ten times a day, as on most top 40 stations, including Y-103.

For those not quite ready for the step up to the music of WMMS, there are alternatives to start with. For example, WHOT at 101 just changed their style of music to a progressive format.

To those who listen to top 40, we encourage you to expand your musical knowledge and listen to the best rock-n-roll on the best stations; and those stations are progressive. WMMS stands for Where Music Means Something. Listen to where it's at.

Commemorates birthday of Susan B. Anthony

To the Editor of The Jambar: Tuesday, Feb. 15, is Susan B. Anthony's birthday. The U.S. government has yet to declare the date a national holiday, but you can join in the celebration, commemorating the life's work of this famous American Woman by wearing a yellow ribbon. The yellow ribbon was worn as a sign of support by the women in the suffrage movement, who could not accompany Ms. Anthony when she went to Washington, D.C. Wearing a yellow ribbon on the 15th will be a visible means of showing your support and recognition of the women who have fought for equality in the past and of the women who are still struggling for equality today. Susan B. Anthony devoted her life to the fight for human equality. She was an active proponent of the abolitionist movement, as well as a driving force in the women's suffrage movement. Ms. Anthony lectured across the country on the right of women to have control over their own property, to have legal guardianship of their own children and to have an equal voice in the government by securing their right to vote. In 1872 Ms. Anthony registered and voted in an attempt to prove the legality of women voting under the 14th Amendment. She was arrested, tried, and found guilty of willfully breaking

AMERICAN MUSIC AWARDS

Elton John, Loretta Lynn and Stevie Wonder were all double winners in the fourth annual American Music Awards, telecast live on the ABC Television Network from the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium. The program was hosted by Glen Campbell, Lou Rawls and Helen Reddy.

In addition, country and western singer Johnny Cash received the special Distinguished Merit Award, presented by Tennessee Governor Ray Blanton.

Double winner Elton John was named Favorite Male Vocalist in the pop/rock category. His single, "Don't Go Breakin' My Heart," recorded with Kiki Dee, was named Favorite Single in the same category.

Country and western singer Loretta Lynn was twice honored by being named the Favorite Female Vocalist in the country category, and with her partner, Conway Twitty, she received the Favorite Duo or Group Award in the country category.

Stevie Wonder was named Favorite Male Vocalist in the soul category, and his album, Songs in the Key of Life, received the award for Favorite Album in the soul category.

In receiving the Distinguished Merit Award live from Gov. Blanton, Johnny Cash also received congratulations, via videotape, from Roy Clark, John Denver, June Carter (Cash's wife), Kris Kristofferson and Waylon Jennings.

A summary of the awards, determined by the votes of music fans, follows:

The Other Concert

There is a second concert this weekend, one that has not received nearly the publicity or the build up that the Benson/Hancock concert has. Unfortunately, though the admission is only $1.50, there will be less than a third of the crowd at this concert, than the Benson/Hancock concert will draw.

James Lee Stanley and Terry Beard have no top 40 songs, however, and for this reason the students at this University will miss the concert, even though these two will probably put on a much better and more entertaining show.

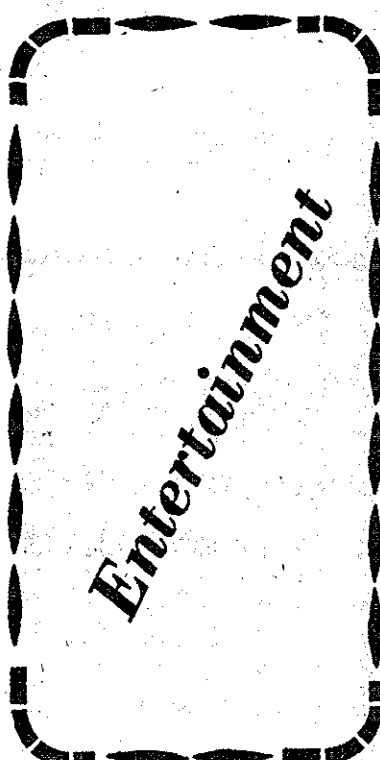

Terry Beard has previously played at Youngstown on two separate occasions. Both times he drew some 300 students, and numerous ovations. His brand of music is that hillsy type of folk music that transcends all the labels and ranges from blue grass to folk rock. His voice has the mellow quality that is necessary for the ballads, yet he can come up with the underlying harshness needed to do the blue-grass and mountain ballads.

James Lee Stanley was a complete mystery to me until last night. Because of my position, I receive an album of his for review. This turned out to be one of the more pleasant surprises I have had since I began as entertainment editor two years ago.

His voice has that rasping quality, not unlike that of James Taylor or Kenny Rankin. The tunes he sings are his own, and express both feeling and beauty. Unlike most vocal artists, his lyrics neither dominate, nor submit to the music. This blend provides the listener with something much better than average in listening pleasure.

And this quality will not be lessened by not being done in a recording studio, as most artists who rely on double tracks and electronically blended music falter when they perform live.

All in all Stanley and Beard should provide those students who do attend, one of the better shows produced on this campus.

Acting classes

Once again the Youngstown Playhouse is offering, free of charge, a series of six weekly acting classes. These will be held on Wednesdays from Feb. 23 through March 30, 1977. The class sessions will each begin at 7:30 p.m. and finish at approximately 9:30 p.m.

The classes will be taught by Rennie Griffith and Bentley Lenhoff. They will be aimed at beginning acting. However, if the number of enrollees who have had some acting experience and/or training merits it, a section for advanced acting will also be offered.

Roots

One final word about Roots. Fantastic! Both the show and the audience response! Here are a few of the mind-boggling figures.

The final Roots episode on Sunday, January 30 achieved a 51.1 rating for a 71% share, representing 36,380,000 homes. The homes total exceeded by 2.4 million the audience reached by Gone With The Wind.

In numbers of people, the final Roots program reached a total of 80 million people for an average minute.

Other Roots statistics:

****A total of 130 million viewers, representing 85% of all United States TV homes, saw all or a part of Roots.

****The eight episodes averaged a 44.9 rating, 66% share.

****For the week ending January 30, the top seven rated shows were all Roots episodes.

****Seven episodes of Roots are among the top ten programs of all time.

What does the impressive showing of the television Roots mean for the best-selling book Roots?

****The week of the television program 99,000+ copies of Roots were sold.

****67,000 copies of Roots were sold in one day.

*****Roots* has had 14 printings, bringing the figure of total books-in-print to an outstanding one million copies.

The book, published by Doubleday, is not yet in paperback form. This makes the statistics of sales in one week even more outstanding when you consider that the cost of the book is $11.25. The impact of television was so great that more of these type of shows are being planned, and on consecutive days.

The New Indians

The New Indians, a National Geographic Special about American Indians who are reviving their ancient heritage, will be shown over Channels 45 and 49, at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 15.

Narrated by Robert Redford and hosted by E.G. Marshall, this one-hour program focuses on four American Indians—a tribal chief, an attorney, a rock musician and a young education counselor—who are building an exciting future through pride in their roots.

Kwakiutl chief James Sewid is renewing the ancestral ceremony of his people called the potlatch. This ritual, where tribal chiefs would lavish impressive gifts upon guests, was outlawed in 1867. The ban was lifted in the 1950's, but the ceremony is only now being revived.

Claudeen Arthur is the first Navajo woman lawyer. She is seen at a hearing, presenting reactions of her people to a proposed power plant on their reservation in New Mexico. Stephen Tiger is an artist, a rock musician, and a Miccosukee Indian. After 10 years away from his tribe, he returns home to the Florida Everglades.

A young Chicago Creek Indian and education counselor, Susan Supernaw, journeys to Alberta, Canada to search for an Indian identity.

The New Indians will be repeated at 9 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 19.

Coming Events-KCPB

Programs to spark every interest, from music to movies and travel to art, have been planned for the rest of this quarter by the KCPB.

James Lee Stanley and Terry Beard will be headlining this Saturday's second Mini-Concert. The purpose for the experimental Mini-Concert series is to present up and coming performers to the students. Ticket prices will vary in price, depending on the concert, but they will never be more than $3.00 each.

Marx Brothers' week will be kicked off Monday Feb. 14, and will continue until Feb. 18. Both films and video tapes of their movies will be presented. Copacabana can be seen for free the entire week in the Kilcawley lounge on video, and also on Feb. 16 at 10 p.m. in the Pub. On Thursday, Feb. 17, Night at the Opera and Monkey Business will be shown at noon, 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. in Kilcawley's Multipurpose room. The charge for these movies will be 75 cents for YSU students.

If you like mystery, then the second Magical Mystery Tour on Feb. 19 will meet with your fancy. Students who participate in this activity will board a bus to an unknown destination. Only the people in charge will know where the bus is going. The cost is $3.00 per person.

Art admirers will not be forgotten when the KCPB will present Monotypes, an art show from the Ohio Council on Arts. The display can be seen in the Kilcawley Art Gallery from Monday, Feb. 28 until Friday, March 18.

On Wednesday, March 2, the KCPB will feature Rick Sowash in a presentation of Sounds of Silence. Sowash will play piano background music to three silent movies which span the years of 1916 to 1929. The three movies will star Charlie Chaplin (1916), Buster Keaton (1922) and Laurel and Hardy (1929). The films will be presented free, in the Multipurpose room.

Sunny Fort Lauderdale, Florida will be the destination of this quarter's Florida trip. A maximum of 120 students will be able to enjoy the March 19-26 stay.

To date, 110 students have signed up, leaving only ten reservations. Anyone who is interested in going on the Florida Trip should contact the KCPB. A survey will be taken of the students who go, so that the KCPB can determine why the trip met with such an overwhelming response.

Sports enthusiasts need activities too, so four trips are being planned for just that purpose. On Sunday, Feb. 13, a ski trip is slated for Holiday Valley and on Sunday, Feb. 27, a second ski trip is planned for Blue Knob. The cost to YSU students for each trip will be $16.00. A trip to a National Hockey League game in Pittsburgh is scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 16. The cost is $7.50 and the bus is free. An additional trip for those wanting to attend the YSU-Akron game in Akron is planned for Saturday, Feb. 26.

Senior Art Show

The Kilcawley Center Art Gallery Committee has announced that the annual YSU Senior & Graduate Student Art Show will open the spring quarter Art Gallery program.

The Senior Show will run from March 28 through April 15 and is open to participation by any YSU senior or graduate student. Applications for the Annual Student Show are available in the Kilcawley Center Staff Offices, Art Gallery and in the YSU Art Department. Due to the limited size of the Kilcawley Gallery, the Student Show is limited to YSU seniors and graduate students.

The student shows have grown in popularity over the years and this year's organizers expect this show to be the largest yet. Each participant may submit up to two works. Every effort will be made to use all works submitted and ensure that each participant has at least one piece on display. Limitations will be subject to the size of the Kilcawley Gallery and suitable presentation. Application deadline is March 1. All applications, as well as any questions, should be directed to Kevin Fahey, assistant director, Kilcawley Center.

The remainder of the spring program will include a Pop Art Show from the New Gallery in Cleveland and a student photography show (details forthcoming). Currently in the Kilcawley Gallery is a show by Willis (Bing) Davis which will be followed by Monotypes circulated by the Ohio Foundation of the Arts.

Shaw Recital

Richard F. Shaw, a magna cum laude graduate of YSU's Dana School of Music, will present a piano recital at 8 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 17, in Dana Recital Hall. The program is free and open to the public. Selections include Mozart's Sonata in B-flat Major, K.333 Schumann's Waldscenen and Ginastera's Sonata.

Gannon hands Penguins fifth loss; Indiana-Purdue here Sat. night

by John Creer
YSU's victory train, headed towards a post-season tourney depot, was temporarily derailed Monday night, 85-68, by Gannon College. The defeat ended a four-game winning streak and dropped the Penguin's seasonal mark to 15-5 going into Saturday night's 8 p.m. tip-off with Indiana-Purdue in Beeghly Center.

Head coach Dom Rosselli's cagers now have seven games remaining and must win at least five to reach the coveted 20-win circle which would assure the Penguins of their 13th post-season tournament bid in the last 29 seasons and their ninth NCAA tournament invitation. YSU, who will travel to neighboring Westminster (Pa.) Monday, is currently battling for one of the four spots in the March 4-5 Great Lakes regional tournament and have hopes of being selected to host the event in Beeghly, which seats 6,000.

In Monday's loss, Gannon held a 42-32 lead at halftime and increased that to a commanding 47-point margin before the Penguins rallied and narrowed it to 73-63 with 3:35 to go. Unfortunately, freshman Steve Miodrag and All-American Jeff Covington fouled out enabling Gannon to cruise to their triumph.

The Knights sank 17 straight second-half free throws to aid their cause and outrebounded the Penguins 44-38. From the field, Gannon meshed 31 of 60 for 58 percent compared to YSU's poor 28 of 70 for 40 percent.

All five Gannon starters hit for double figures against the Penguins with Stan Sligh leading the way with 19. Fate Harris had 15 and Neal Stoczynski, Ed Warner and Dan Adamson each hooped 12. Covington led the Penguins with 20 to raise his career scoring total to 1,538—just 26 points shy of Joe Nigro's sixth place total 1,564.

Senior forward Tony Mitchell sank 7 of 16 field tries for 14, thus surpassing former teammate Phil Gaston for 12th place in career scoring, with 1,092.

Despite the loss at Gannon, who are now 13-3, Rosselli was encouraged by the return to form of senior guard Terry Moore and Miodrag who were both suffering from ankle injuries. Originally Miodrag was feared lost for a minimum of 10 days but the scrappy freshman forward recuperated quicker than expected and saw nearly 25 minutes of action scoring 10 points and hauling in 4 rebounds before fouling out. Moore had nine assists and four points with just one turnover in his best performance since the injury.

PENGUIN NOTES—There hasn't been a 20-victory basketball season at YSU since Billy Johnson and Company went 22-7 back in 1972...Covington is averaging 22.2 points a game and is grabbing rebounds at a 12.4 clip, both marks being tops on the team...Jeff is shooting at a fine 59.7 percent from the field...The Penguins have a 49 percent shooting percentage and a 65.8 touch at the foul stripe...Mitchell will be presented a basketball for becoming the 15th Penguin player to top the 1,000 point mark during halftime ceremonies tomorrow night...Several of the Indiana-Purdue players were high school opponents of Frank Andrews and Mitchell in Indianapolis...When YSU and Westminster tangle, Monday, former Farrell teammates Steve Miodrag and Dave Sudzina of the Titans may be matched against each other...The Great Lakes selection committee of NCAA Division II headed by Dick Scharf of St. Joseph's (Indiana) hopes to choose two of the four teams for the regional tournament by February 15 of 16...YSU is currently second in the district with their 15-5 record.

open to all students

An evening of dinner and dancing open to all YSU students will be held from 7:30 p.m. to 1 a.m., Saturday, Feb. 19, at the House of Valley in Hubbard. The annual "Greek Ball," sponsored by the IFC/Panhel Council, in conjunction with Student Government, will include a full buffet dinner, continuous open bar and dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Tickets are available at the Kilcawley Center Candy Desk for $20 per couple. Featured for dancing will be one of Cleveland's finest bands, Bock, which was "highly recommended by a Cleveland booking agency," according to Mark Shanley, director of Student Affairs. Shanley stated, "We wanted to bring in quality entertainment from outside the area in an effort to break away from bands used repeatedly in the past." Those in attendance will be able to vote for king and queen to be crowned at 9 p.m. Candidates were selected by the dance committee from nominations by various Greek organizations on campus. Candidates for king include Wayne Brodman, Phi Delta Theta; Frank Dixon, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Clint Karlstrom, Sigma Chi Alpha. Queen candidates are Carrie Thompson, Alpha Omicron Pi; Martha Serian, Zeta Tau Alpha and Elaine Klempay, Phi Mu. The dance is an annual affair, which until two years ago was open only to fraternity and sorority members. Committee members in charge of this year's dance are Pete Mohl, John Vicarel, Lee Ann Vogelbergger and Sue Kightlinger.

Council offers YSU students plan for group blood donor assurance

Student Council is sponsoring a blood bank in cooperation with the Mahoning Valley Community Blood Center (MVCBC) the week of Feb. 22 in the CAST lobby.

David Blystone, chairman of the blood bank committee, explained that the MVCBC is offering YSU students a group donor assurance plan. The plan states that any student currently enrolled at the University will receive free blood if they need a transfusion if 6% of the students donate blood to the bank.

The full coverage plan is as follows:

1. Anyone who donates blood will be able to receive blood, free of charge, for themselves, their spouse, dependent children and retired parents and parents-in-law. Single individuals may choose to designate three non-dependants for coverage. This coverage will last for one year from the date the blood is given.

2. If the 6% quota is met (around 900 students per year), every student enrolled at YSU will be covered according to the same policy as if he had given himself (no. 1 above)

3. If the first drawing indicates that the 6% quota will be met, the whole University will be covered for a period of one year from the date of the first drawing.

He said that normally the blood for a transfusion would cost between $30 and $90. Under the donor plan the blood is free and the only charge for a transfusion would be a small administration fee. Of the group donor plan, Blystone said, "It's hard to believe everyone who's covered by the 6%.

Blystone said the whole donation procedure would take about 15 minutes. First volunteers will ask for you name address and medical history. Your blood pressure, pulse and temperature will be taken. A small blood test for hemoglobin will also be given before the pint of blood is withdrawn.

Those who are eligible to give blood must be in good health, over 18 (or 17 with written consent from parents), have negative blood serology and no history of yellow jaundice or hepatitis.

On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the week before the blood bank, Student Council will have a display in the Kilcawley arcade, with information about the donation procedure and about the blood bank itself.

The YSU student nurses will be helping out and there will be some volunteers from fraternities and sororities. But anyone may volunteer to help with the blood donation procedure. Blystone can be contacted at the Student Council office, ext. 309.

8. Decision of the judges are final for show acceptance and awards.

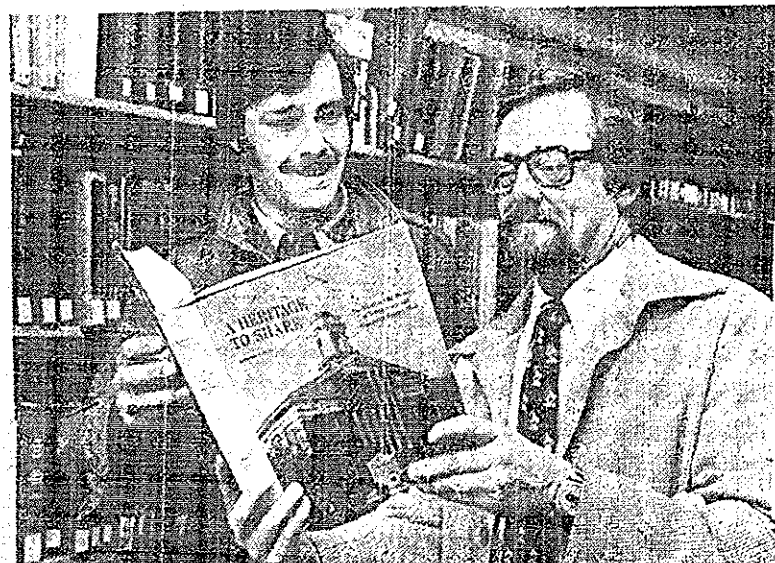

9. Any type format and subject matter is acceptable.

There will be eight categories for the awarding of prizes. Best of Show in Black and White photography and Color and first, second and third prizes in both black and white and color.

Cash prizes will be awarded for Best of Show, while gift certificates are the prizes for first, second and third places.

Since there is no theme for the contest/exhibition, any subject matter and type format (from an 8 x 10 to an Sx-70 and anything else) can be submitted. The photographs will be exhibited in the Kilcawley Student Center Art Gallery from May 22 to June-12.

If you have that favorite photo tucked away somewhere at home or in the back of your mind you better get working on it. Spring quarter isn't that far away, and you might not get time later.

LIBRARY MEETS NEEDS
—Since YSU Maag Library opened in January, 1976 one million people have entered its doors to use the spacious study areas and instructional books, periodicals and micro-forms. The magic number of one million was marked when 1973 YSU grad, Gary Garchar, 383 Jackson, Campbell, entered the library yesterday.

Negotiations to begin today between YSU & YSU-OEA

Negotiations will begin Friday, Feb. 11, between YSU and the YSU chapter of the Ohio Education Association (OEA), the exclusive bargaining agent of full-service YSU faculty.

Representatives of the University and the YSU-OEA will negotiate contract terms for a new Agreement. The current two-year Agreement expires June 15.

Members of the University negotiating team are Dr. Taylor Alderman, associate vice president for academic affairs; Dr. Ronald W. Jones, director of planning; Dr. Leon Rand, dean of graduate studies and research; Dr. Bernard J. Yozwiak, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences; Dr. Frank A. D'Isa, chairman of the mechanical engineering department and Donald W. Byo, director of the Dana School of Music.

Members of the YSU-OEA team are Dr. Thomas Shipka, associate professor of philosophy and religious studies; Dr. Elizabeth Sterenberg, professor of political science; Joseph J. Koss, assistant professor of economics, Dr. Howard D. Mettee, associate professor of chemistry, Dr. Anthony H. Stocks, professor of economics and Dr. Daniel J. O'Neill, associate professor of speech communication and theatre. Chief negotiators are Dr. Alderman and Dr. Shipka.

The YSU faculty, first to have union representation at a state-affiliated university in Ohio, voted in 1972 for the OEA as its exclusive bargaining agent.

the law. Ms. Anthony was fined, but refused to pay the fine for breaking an unjust law. Ms. Anthony continued the struggle for her right to be recognized as one of the "citizens" or "persons" which the constitution gave the right to vote. Because of her influence and determination, women secured their right to vote in the 19th Amendment, which was passed fourteen years after her death.

It has been more than 100 years since Ms. Anthony was arrested for asserting her right to equality. In that hundred years women still have not attained full equality under the law. The Equal Rights Amendment has not yet been added to our Constitution. Show your support of human equality and wear a yellow ribbon on Feb. 15.
