Newman Club Will Welcome Convention Delegates Here Tonight

Annual Freshman Breakfast Nov. 13

The annual Freshman Breakfast, sponsored by Student Council, will be held next Tuesday, Nov. 13, at Pioneer Pavilion, Mill Creek Park. The affair, headed by Chairman Virginia Blackman, will be from 11 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Morning classes will run on a Wednesday schedule ending at 11. Afternoon classes are excused so that all students may attend the traditional breakfast and Freshman-Upperclassman Bag Rush.

Tickets, selling at 35c, may be purchased from the ticket committee, Jean Mellinger, chairman, Mary Vesey, Jackie Smith, Jayne Foy, and Bob Hanssen.

Other committees serving are: food, Melva Mantle, chairman, Shirley Skinner, Levie Kosma, Rose Perry, Olga Poiniski, and Lola Raptou; entertainment, Kommy Love, chairman, Jack Parker, Dawn McClelland, and Judy Megala; publicity, Bob Burke, chairman, Olivia DeLucia, and Grett Rothermund.

The Freshman Breakfast is one of the most popular "get-togethers" at Yo-Co. It offers an excellent opportunity for upperclassmen and freshmen to meet.

All students are urged to come for the "more the merrier." See you frosh and upperclassmen at Pioneer.

J. Megala, J. Mellinger to Edit Neon

Judy Megala, senior, and Jean Mellinger, junior, were recently appointed editor and assistant editor, respectively, of the '46 Neon by Student Council. Dan Rich will be business manager for the annual, scheduled to appear in May.

Miss Megala's staff approved by the council includes:

Organization Ed. Jane O'Brien
Class Ed. Polly Velker
Senior Ed. Elizabeth Patrick
Feature Ed. Jeanne Grice
Photographic Ed. June Grimsley
Make-up Ed. Lotus Koken
Art Editors A. Mastodonna
Jacquelyn Smith
Adver. Editor Wm. Parmenter
Circulation Manager Mason Dyer
Early appointment of the staff and the lifting of WPB paper restrictions provide a good start for this year's Neon. The annual has been limited in size to 25% less than the 1941 edition for the past four years by wartime restrictions.

"Who's Who" Additions

Dorothy Gard, Gladys Poppel, and Clifford Moore have been added to the Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges list from Youngstown College. Due to the increased enrollment, the percentage of our membership has been raised. In the 1946 edition, 23 names will appear from the college.

Pledges to Greek Social Fraternities and Sororities

By Jean Mellinger

Sixty-one pledge members have been accepted into the five Greek social organizations active on campus this semester. Concluding the fall rushing season, bids were opened at a closed meeting of Pan-Hellenic Council last Friday at 3 o'clock.

Phi Sigma Epsilon received the most pledges with sixteen acceptances; fourteen were pledged to Gamma Sigma; twelve to Alpha Theta Delta; eleven to Kappa Sigma Kappa; and seven to Phi Lambda Delta.

Sorority pledges include: ALPHA THETA DELTA Mildred Bascom, Rita Donie, Jayne Foy, Barbara Green, Phyllis Hayes, Dolores McNally, Jeanne Mayhew, Mildred Noufer, Dolores Sostaric, Violet Tornich, Alice Woodside and Clara Yoho.

GAMMA SIGMA Harriet Cramer, Lois DiBiase, Lucille Guidos, Martha Jahn, Marjorie Love, Patricia Lynch, Lois McCallister, Dorothy Moore, Eleanor Morgan, Joan Owens, Jean Porter, Margaret Uray, Elaine Woods and Helen Wymer.

PHI LAMBDA DELTA Florence Blana, Dolores Burns, Alyce Detesco, Elinor Harris, Melvina Lanz, Mary Ann Pope, and Wanda Poremski.

Delegates to Represent Forty-One Colleges From Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, and Kentucky

The members of the Newman Club will be on hand tonight to welcome delegates and chaplains from colleges in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, and Kentucky when the Newman Clubs of the Ohio Valley Province hold their annual convention in Youngstown this week-end.

The highlights of the convention will include the election of new officers of the Ohio Valley Province of Newman Clubs, and a meeting of the National Executive Body of the Newman Club Federation.

Prominent out-of-town guests will include Father Dempsey, Boston, Mass., national chaplain; Father Holland, Purdue University, chaplain of the Ohio Valley Province; Elvira Caggiano, New York City, National Newman Club president; Lucile Becker, former national president; and Bernard Novy, Cleveland, national treasurer.

Sigma Alpha Iota Group To Go National Nov. 19

The Sigma Alpha Iota music group is completing work in preparation for its initiation in the national fraternity. Members are studying the pledge manual for the examination which will be given by national officers, Nov. 16. Pledges who pass the test will be initiated into the National Sigma Iota Music Fraternity at ceremonies, Nov. 19.

Kathleen Davidson, national president, and Mrs. Mildred Odell Sale, national secretary, will be the group's guests for the formal initiation. The ceremonies will be followed by a recital by pledges.

The local project is being supervised by Warren alumnae group.

HOW ABOUT IT, G.I.'S?

How about coming across with the latest A.P.O. or camp address, servicemen? We want to send the Jambar straight to you—not have it travel half way 'round the world catching up with you. The army and navy are not so keen on forwarding second class mail. So your pleasure (we hope) and our future plans depend on your latest address being on file in the publicity office.

Servicemen, their families, and friends can aid all concerned by jotting down the latest addresses of former YoCo students now in service on a penny post card. Send it to Youngstown College — post haste! Thanks.

STD to Hear Marian Resch of Station WFMJ

Marian Resch, director of women's activities for station WFMJ, will speak on "Writing for Radio" at the November meeting of Sigma Tau Delta honorary English fraternity. The meeting is scheduled for next Wednesday evening, Nov. 14, at Buechner Hall. It will begin promptly at 7:45 p. m.

A panel discussion of unusual interest to Youngstown College students will precede the guest speaker. The subject of the discussion is "The subject of the discussion." (Continued on Page 3)

Meet - - - Pete, the Penguin

By Grett Rothermund

Let me introduce you to the king of Youngstown College. His name is Pete. Pete is a round, sleek, South American penguin who stands proudly on his throne in a glass case in our college lounge. Pete may just be the product of a taxidermist now, but he was once a very live and active penguin.

Pete's first home was near the Straits of Magellan. He was just about five years old, the experts say, when he was taken from his native habitat by Admiral Byrd and shipped with other penguins to our United States.

It was just about this time that President Jones and the student body decided that they would like to have a living penguin as YoCo's mascot. Actually, Pete had been in existence for many years. Back in 1932 our basketball team was playing West Liberty State Teacher's College in West Virginia. When our players came into the cold gymnasium, they had to beat their arms against their bodies to keep themselves warm. Someone remarked that they looked like a flock of penguins. The name stuck. From then on our basketball team was known as "The Penguins." Soon, Pete, as the students called him, began to appear in cartoon and in print in the Jambar. Quickly he became the symbol and spirit of YoCo.

When football was introduced at the college, Pete was there, too, in name and spirit. But why not a live penguin, the students asked? So Pete was purchased from Admiral Byrd and on Nov. 13, 1933, he made his dramatic entrance in a wooden crate at the third quarter of the Youngstown-Westminster homecoming game. He was such an inspiration to our team that they made two more touchdowns and won the game, 46-0.

Pete still gives that same inspiration to YoCo students. Although we no longer see him waddling through the college corridors, snatching crumbs from the cafeteria tables, or flapping his wings at pretty co-eds, we know that he is still the living spirit of Youngstown College.

Robert Gnagy Awarded Four-Year Scholarship

Robert Gnagy, of Lowellville, has been awarded a four-year scholarship to Youngstown College by the Sharon Steel Corporation and is enrolled in the teachers training course.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gnagy, 20 West Liberty St., Lowellville, Gnagy is 18 years of age and a graduate of Lowellville High School in the class of 1945. He is majoring in English and plans to go on to graduate school when he has completed his work at Youngstown College. He is interested in music and dramatics as hobbies, plays the piano and sings, and plans to participate in the college chorus and the dramatics club. While in high school, Gnagy was employed for two years on a part-time basis. His father has been on the police force at Sharon Steel Corporation for four years.

YoCo Veterans' League Recognized Nationally

The Veterans' League of Youngstown College has been officially recognized as a chapter of Gamma Iota Alpha, national veterans' fraternity, and will be in operation as the Alpha chapter in Ohio.

National headquarters for the fraternity are at Polytechnic Institute, Brooklyn, N. Y. It was organized in October 1943 by veterans of World War II who returned to civilian life with the idea of continuing their education.

The main purpose of the group is to aid in rehabilitation of veterans. Membership is open to all with honorable discharges from the armed forces.

Officers of the YoCo chapter are: Ed Staron, president; Mike Matune, vice-president; Frank Covelli, secretary; Ray Davis, treasurer; Frank Krogec, sergeant at arms; and Ed Ostrowski, chaplain. The executive committee is: Bob Hammer, Tony Cook, and Ray Gaurano. There are 70 members here.

The local chapter is planning a membership campaign. Monthly meetings will be held at the American Legion Hall, and social functions will be held throughout the year.

Salute to the Newmans . . .

The Youngstown College Newman Club is host this week-end to the Ohio Valley Province Convention, consisting of delegates from Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, and Kentucky. The committees and the entire organization have worked diligently to make this convention a success. A rich program has been planned with religious and social events.

Delegates from 41 colleges and universities will meet as the guests of the local Newman Club. Many of these schools have large campuses and large enrollments. The Youngstown Newmanites were chosen as hosts not on material standards, but by their ability to handle the instructive and social meetings. The members of this organization have worked hand in hand with their advisor, Father DeCrane, and their officers to make it one of the strongest on campus. Their untiring effort and spirit of co-operation have made it a model for others to follow. Because of their dependability at college they have become an important part of the national and Ohio Valley Province groups. Their enthusiasm gave support to the success of the Newman convention in Columbus last year. As a result of service, Jack Loney was elected vice president of the province, an honor to the club and to the college.

Success to you in your convention meetings, YoCo Newmanites. You have earned the honor bestowed upon you. Youngstown College is proud to have your organization and its members on campus.

Note to Pan-Hellenic . . .

The close of rush season has brought to light considerable comment on the college's rushing system. Many Greeks and rushees feel that our way is somewhat inefficient—even unjust. They see room for change along lines followed by other colleges. Pan-Hellenic Council might do well to consider the following suggestions:

Many schools find the list system works to their best advantage. Some of these schools have smaller enrollments than YoCo. The procedure followed is: At the end of the rush party season, each Greek organization submits its first, second, and third choice-of-rushees lists to the dean's office. These lists are then compared with first, second, and third choices of organizations submitted by the rushee. Where the lists agree, a first list rushee is given a bid by his first choice Greek. After the first choice matching, the rest of the lists are worked out accordingly. That way all students interested in joining a Greek get bids. And there is a more equal distribution of pledges among the individual groups. No one is left out—not one is hurt beyond enjoying to the fullest extent his college career.

On most campuses, Greek rushing is ruled by a strict budget. Each organization is allowed to spend just so much—all the same amount—for every party. This does away with cases where rushees are misguided by glamour bought with money. One Greek often gets more pledges simply on the wealth of its rush parties. A great deal of money is spent by many Greeks at YoCo. We often rush more elaborately than national sororities and fraternities. Also, we sometimes go to needless expense by rushing students who do not want to, or can not join. At some schools freshmen pay a small rushing fee to show that they are interested in being rushed.

One of the main criticisms of our rushing is that we do it too soon. We start on a six weeks' acquaintance without any assurance that the rushees will remain at the college long enough to make the expense of rushing worthwhile. This surprises students from other schools where students must be enrolled for a semester at least, or even a year, before they may be rushed. This period of waiting gives the new students time to get settled in their studies and to observe the different Greek organizations. It gives the Greeks ample opportunity to consider the rushees—avoid mistakes and disappointments.

The best plan for YoCo, in our opinion, is the wait-a-semester way. That is, rush students who enrolled in January, the following September; and rush the fall semester students in January. This still provides parties twice a year and provides insurance to both Greeks and rushees.

Looking Around

. . . with Judy Megala

The 10th week of school. And, if you don't think too hard or too long about it, it's been some 10 weeks! Bewildered frosh tripping blindly through the school (that was before they learned and, my, how FAST they learned!); the new student council right on the ball; rushing season coming and going—the frosh who were rushed and the actives who are recuperating; the exciting class elections; and, as an afterthought, most of us exactly 10 weeks behind in our work. But, isn't life exciting anyway?

Johnny Agnone, Notre Dame's football star, is Alyce De-tesco's cousin . . . You may never know why, but John Milton, the poet, cost Bob Ray a quarter . . . Gal with a nice personality: Margaret Durley . . . Our song of the week: "The Blonde Sailor" . . . Eleanor Harris' favorite food is carrots. She and Bugs Bunny . . . For prospects of an exciting time check the "Saturday Nighters" at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow night . . . And didn't the walls positively jump when Chester High played in assembly . . . Someone suggested a Homecoming Day: no queen, no football game, and no one coming home—just something to look forward to. What a GOOFY idea, Howard Edsall . . . How about some time out for Community Sing in Chapel? Cute couple: Jeannie Mayhew and Woody Wilson . . . Solemn occasion: Greeks in the lounge just before bids were announced . . . The Frosh Breakfast promises to be a lot of fun . . . The Quiz Kid Bob Burke isn't the boy we know . . . Among the newest rages: ice cream dunking in the cafeteria . . . Congratulations to Olivia DeLucia for that BEAUTIFUL bond booth.

Memo's from the Sadie Hawkins' Dance: Dogpatch comes to YoCo. The beautiful auditorium; Lonesome Polecat's tepee; Skunk Hollow; Kickapoo Juice sold by the barrel; and a big, big hand to Johnny Hornyak for the decorations . . . Bucky taking his Lesson No. 2 in jitterbugging . . . Candy Grice and Kenny Love winning the awards for the best Daisy Mae and Lil' Abner. The prizes: a corn cob pipe and a piggy bank . . . Sull Thomas looking mighty proud of her navy beau . . . Earthquake McGoon, Steve Rosin, trailing Dorothy Gard . . . Helen Parsons bringing glamour to Dogpatch . . . Bill Turner taking pictures of everything and everybody . . . Among the notable guests: Leo Mogus. Oh, WHY weren't we born tall instead of wealthy.

POEME:

*If you see felas scrubbing floors,
Or co-eds jumping ledges,
Don't be alarmed — it's just the Greeks

DOTS WHILE DASHING:

Jim Hammond and Harry Williams, Phi Sigs, lunching with YoCo's Ensign Joe Costarella in Honolulu . . . Pat Lynch's B. F. naming his plane after her. "Miss Shorty," no less . . . Betty Bennett looking shocked upon receiving that "A" in a recent exam . . . Bev Jackson changing loafers and trench coat for slarpee clothes on South Ave. last Saturday night . . . Chuck Gardner now answering to "Miss" in classes . . . Jim McGovern getting engaged all proper-like to gal friend Mary Walsh . . . Hal Davies playing Hide and Seek with an Alpha Delta's shoes in the Lounge . . . Dr. Reid imitating Teddy Roosevelt in class—good, too . . . Anne Yewell receiving that ultra, ultra pic of Chuck Uray. Five minutes out for drooling, please . . . Frank Talbot furloughing and attending the Phi Sig dinner dance . . . Professor Dykema going musical on us in American Lit. class and Doc Stearns finding two new gray hairs as a result . . . Signs adorning the doors at Buechner Hall: Cookie Koken, The Jam Bar; No Minors Allowed; Anne and June, Merry Christmas and Happy New Year; Rose Ferry and Levie Kosma, The Night Hawks. Hours: 11 P. M. to 7 A. M.; June Findlay and Evelyn Oakes, Polk Annex. Morons Only; Mary Bell Gilbert, The Boudoir. Admission Fee: A Wealthy Bachelor . . . HIKIE! It's way past the deadline and I see the editor coming toward me with an evil gleam in her eye. Oh, well, I didn't want this column anyway. Bye for now. See you soon.

Limelight . . .

By Mary Vesey

This week the Limelight beams on that vivacious little brownette, JUDY MEGALA, recently appointed editor of the '46 Neon. Student Council feels she is just the girl to handle the job—in fact, everyone does. (She is also the wit who writes that fascinating gossip column for the Jambar.)

This is Judy's senior year. She will leave us soon to teach the younger generation some of the things she has learned at YoCo. However, she confesses that her real ambition is to marry an Irishman!

Judy is president of the senior class and vice president of Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity. She belongs to E. T. P. C., Delta Epsilon, W. A. A., and the Newman Club. Her social life centers around Alpha Theta Delta Sorority. In 1943 Judy edited the Jambar with success. All this has placed her on the Who's Who list for the past two years, which proves she is quite an asset to YoCo.

Among her favorite professors Judy lists Professor Reid, Dr. Gould, and Mr. Dykema. Her reasons—well, because they astound her with their brilliance.

Judy's pet hates are students who cheat in exams and people who are late for appointments. Her very special likes are tall, dark Irishmen (wouldn't say which one), murder mysteries, group singing, spaghetti, and pizza. Frank Sinatra and John Hodiak, too. Tom Drake, young movie star, has rated pretty high ever since she rammed her car into his on Hollywood Boulevard this summer. Mr. Drake just tossed it off with a smile. Jitterbugging is one of her favorite indoor sports—she's an expert at it.

Judy is five feet, one and a half inches (don't overlook that half inch) of dynamic personality and charm. Everyone knows her as the peppiest girl at the college.

PRESIDENT JONES, DEAN SMITH ATTEND INAUGURAL

President Howard W. Jones and Dean of Men Joseph E. Smith recently attended the inauguration of Dr. J. Gordon Howard as the new president of Otterbein College, Westerville, O. Dr. Kenneth Irving Brown, president of Denison University, was guest speaker for the occasion.

CAMPUS COMMENTS

When you read newspaper or magazine articles how much of it do you understand? That is, how many of the ideas expressed can you repeat accurately after reading the article just once. It is not necessarily a question of how quickly you "catch on." Your understanding depends a lot on the "readability level" of the article. How quickly and easily is it understood?

TESTING READABILITY

Mr. George R. Madtes, member of the editorial staff of The Youngstown Vindicator, gave an interesting talk on "Testing the Readability of Written Material" at the October meeting of Sigma Tau Delta, English fraternity here. Keeping their readability level fairly low is of constant concern to newspapers. It is of importance to you, too. Since newspapers are meant to give you a rapid, accurate account of the news, your convenience is measured by a low understanding point. Mr. Madtes gave a fairly detailed explanation of the Gunning test method as used by The Vindicator.

The Gunning Testing Service, used by many leading newspaper and magazine, considers three points in finding the school grade level of written material. They are: sentence pattern, the "fog" index, and human interest.

The sentence pattern is formed by the variety of lengths of sentences in a paragraph. Short sentences should be fairly evenly mingled with the long and medium ones. For example, the pattern might run: long, short, long, short, short, or short, long, medium, short, long, medium, short. Really long sentences (over 20 words) should be kept at a minimum. The average sentence length in a paragraph should not exceed 20 words. Thus reading is made more attractive and easy by a good, varied sentence pattern.

The "fog" index takes the changing of root stems and the use of derivatives into consideration. Fogging words by altering their root syllables with the use of prefixes, suffixes, tense endings, adjective endings, etc., is to be avoided. Words derived from Latin or foreign languages (that is, not from Anglo-Saxon) tend to make understanding less easy. A ratio of not more than 40 such "foggy" words per 100 words, should be maintained for clear comprehension.

The third factor, human interest, is easier to understand. So many points are given for names of people, personal pronouns, and personal nouns. Credit is given for personalized writing on abstract subjects. Anything which gives a closer, more personal angle to writing adds to the human interest.

Needless to say, the Gunning testing system is more complex than presented here. But the above points may be followed to some extent by students interested in writing as a career. They give the basic ideas.

ERNIE PYLE MASTER

Mr. Madtes noted that Ernie Pyle was a master of all three points. Ernie's writing is cited by many as the perfect example of simple, clear, yet interesting reading. According to Gunning, a sixth grade student could read his column with quick understanding.

The Vindicator has dropped from a 12th grade readability level to a seventh grade level since subscribing to the Gunning Service. The service sends monthly reports with suggestions on readability of the individual paper or magazine to its clients. The "Atlantic Monthly" gets a ninth grade rating, "Liberty" a seventh grade. The pulp magazines border on the kindergarten level.

JAMBAR'S LEVEL

Interested in the Jambar's level? Just for a lark, we have tested this article to the best of our ability. Results: The average sentence is 14 words long—a maximum of 20 is allowed. The sentence pattern is not so good. It is varied, but so much that there is scarcely any pattern to it.

Our "fog" index is pretty good—only 64 "foggy" words out of the total 550. That means a ratio of 12 altered words per 100—40 is the maximum.

Some human interest is aroused by the use of the second person. The subject of readability was somewhat personalized. Mr. Madtes' was the only person's name mentioned. Two well-known names of magazines were used.

All this was to give you an idea of what "readability" is. Of course, in the end you're the only one who knows if you can understand the thing or not.

With the Greeks . . .

By Elizabeth Patrick

Congratulations to all you new pledges. We know you will have many fine times with the organization you joined. Now that rushing is over the actives are taking a little time out to cram for those mid-term exams, but don't think they're neglecting you. Now you're one of them and us.

ALPHA THETA DELTA

The Alpha Deltas held a meeting at Buechner Hall Oct. 30. Plans for installation of new pledges were arranged. Levie Kosma was chairman for the affair, which was held Nov. 6.

The Alpha Delt alumni had a dinner at the Colonial Room of the Tod Hotel on Oct. 25. Miss Evelyn Trädler welcomed the new graduates into the alumnae. Miss Norma Trädler was chairman of the event. Marie DeMolli and Jane Erwin are hostesses for the next meeting when election of officers will be held.

GAMMA SIGMA

Fourteen girls became pledges to Gamma Sigma at formal installation held at the home of Polly Velker Wednesday evening. Following the ceremonies pledges received their instructions for pledge season to last three weeks. A buffet supper was served late in the evening.

PHI LAMBDA DELTA

The Phi Lams were given a costume Halloween party on Friday, Nov. 2, by one of their members, Ida Aswad.

Plans are being made for installation and initiation of new pledges.

PHI SIGMA EPSILON

The Phi Sig final rush party was a dinner at the Y. M. C. A., held Saturday, Oct. 27. After dinner Bill Patrinos, president, introduced the present active members, as well as the rushees.

Frank Talbot and Sam Hankins, two Phi Sig brothers who are home on furlough from the army, were guests at the dinner. Sam expects to get a discharge soon and hopes to be back at YoCo.

The evening was climaxed with dancing at the Poland Country Club, where the Alpha Deltas had their rush dinner party.

The Phi Sigs have been hearing frequently from two of their frat brothers, Jim Hammond and Harry Williams, way out in Honolulu.

Another Phi Sig, Dick Eisenman, is in the Navy Hospital at Astoria, Oregon. Dick is serving as a hospital attendant.

KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA

The Kappa Sigs wish to express their heartfelt appreciation to the many students who attended the Sadie Hawkin's dance and helped to make it the great success that it was.

The members of the committee deserve special commendation for the fine spirit of co-operation which marked their work. Special prizes were awarded to Jeanne Grice and Kenny Love for wearing the most suitable costumes of the evening. Edward Simko, acting in behalf of the fraternity, presented Olga Poiniski a gift for her assistance in secretarial work of the fraternity in the past.

We shall all be looking forward to the Sadie Hawkin's dance of 1946—with the hope of it's being bigger and better than ever.

Y. W. C. S. Sponsors Freshman Tea Nov. 8

Members of the Young Women's Group Social were hostesses at the annual freshman tea in the college auditorium on Thursday, Nov. 8, from 3 to 5 p. m. All women of the college were invited with the freshmen as honor guests. Women members of the faculty and staff were present.

Preceding the tea a musical program was presented. The program included a piano selection, "Claire de Lune," played by Mary Tavolario, and vocal selections from Victor Herbert by Madeline Pucci. An original piano-organ composition entitled "Fantasy in C Minor" written by Gladys Peppel, was played by Gladys Peppel and Leona Ehrhart. An oboe solo entitled "Scheherazade" was performed by Dorothy Gard who was accompanied by Mrs. Nellie Dehn-bostel. A reading was given by Isabelle Ezzo.

The chairman of the tea was Antoinette Carrino who was assisted by Betty Nace, Margaret Higham, Mary Lou DeCunto, and Evelyn Wolosyn. Madeline Pucci and Mary Tavolario were co-chairmen for the musical portion of the program.

Plans are being made for a social on Tuesday, Nov. 20. The place will be named later. Place a reservation with Miss Cassano, Miss Boyer, or Maryanna Tornich by Nov. 16.

Alpha Iota Sorority Takes Twelve Pledges

Alpha Iota National Business Sorority recently welcomed 12 pledges as a climax to an active rush season. The new pledges are Eleanor Davies, Alyce Turner, Betty Lee Wilson, Nancy Hays, Evelyn Oakes, Cora Cianciola, Jeanne Werden, Edna Mae Hainley, Bonnie Griffiths, June Findley, Betty O'Brien, and Peggy Guyer. Invitations to pledge were written on blue note paper engraved with the sorority seal.

Plans are being made for the pledge party to be held Nov. 13 at the home of Patricia Greenawalt.

The music school is still resounding with echoes from the hilarious Halloween party held at "Naughty Nellie's" (music school annex) on the eve when ghosts walk, howl—even sing. They did.

The music clan exhibited their rhythmic talents on the square dances. They had to go some to keep up with Mr. and Mrs. Dehn-bostel who danced like real sports—even jived and boogie-woogied like professionals.

The party was one of the most cleverly decorated affairs we've attended in a long time. Posters like "Leave Weapons (scissors, hammers, bats, clubs) Here" and "Music by Doc Stearns Hepcats" did the trick.

After the strenuous activity of a sandwich-bag race and opening of the "box," the ghosts were refreshed by cider, sandwiches, and donuts. In fact, they were so peppy they meandered up to Bryson St. and serenaded Dr. and Mrs. Stearns.

A pleasant note was added by the presence of Sgt. Arthur Horvath, and ex-serviceman Vern Hamilton, old Danaites.

Mr. Myerovich's new studio is on the third floor. A cordial invitation is extended to one and all to drop in for a visit.

Tau Kappa Nu Elects Officers at Meeting

Officers of Tau Kappa Nu Business Sorority for this year are Rose Feydna, president; Mary Louise Hura, vice president; Helen DeMain, secretary; and Julia Aurilio, treasurer.

The sorority held its second rush party Oct. 30 at Stoneleigh Tea Room. Invitations to the party were tucked in miniature bill-folds and favors were small drum banks. Committee for the affair was: Helen DeMain, chairman, assisted by Angela Gambarle, Mary Louise Hura, and Phyllis Bivliano.

W. A. A. Party

The Women's Athletic Association is planning a bowling party for Tuesday, Nov. 13, at 8 p. m. The place will be announced later. Dawn McClelland and Maryanna Tornich are in charge of the affair.

Elvera Rossi President Of Prospective Hi-Eds

Elvera Rossi was recently elected president of the League of Prospective High School Teachers. Other officers for the school year are Olga Poiniski, vice president; Maryalice Walker, secretary; June Bradshaw, treasurer; and Maryanna Tornich, historian. Dean George W. Wilcox is sponsor of the group, with Miss Stella Cassano as advisor.

Olga Poiniski will serve as program chairman for the next meeting today, Nov. 9, at noon in room 110. The purpose of the organization is to discuss the application of approved teaching methods. Students majoring in secondary education, having a two-point average and the rank of sophomore or higher, are eligible for membership.

ROBERT GNAGY AWARDED FOUR-YEAR SCHOLARSHIP

nician at Walter Reed General Hospital.

The scholarship awarded to Gnagy is one of four such scholarships to be awarded yearly by the Sharon Steel Corporation to sons of employees of the firm. The scholarships will go to graduates of Farrell, Struthers, Sharon, and Lowellville High Schools, communities where Sharon Steel plants are located. The recipients of the awards will be selected through joint action of officials of the high school concerned and officials of the college.

Application forms for scholarships are available at the employment office of the Sharon Steel Corporation plants, at Youngstown College, and at Sharon, Farrell, Struthers, and Lowellville High Schools.

Father Bowman Speaker For E. T. P. C. Meeting

As the center of a Chinese theme, Father Bowman, a former missionary to China, will speak at the Nov. 21 meeting of the Elementary Teachers Professional Club, in room 303. Members of the elementary and secondary education organizations are invited to listen to the lecture.

Chairman for the meeting is Helen Guterba, assisted by Ida Aswad, Mary Lou Morgan, Lillian Piques, Florence Bailey, and Antoinette Carino.

On Oct. 23, the club held its first social meeting of the year with the room decorated in the Halloween theme. President Rose Ceiss gave the purposes of the organization. Following were games and refreshments under the chairmanship of Polly Velker. A short musical program was provided by Catherine Felger and Myra Adair.

At a recent business meeting a committee was formed to revise the constitution. A deadline for membership dues was set up for the November meeting.

YoCo Co-Ed Receives Praise in Red Cross

Evelyn Bernard, former YoCo student, has received a commendation from the commanding officer at Camp Brooklyn, Saipap, France, for outstanding work with troops there. She is on the staff of a Red Cross Club maintained at the camp in the Assembly Area Command to help G. I.'s during the tedium of awaiting shipment home.

In commending Miss Bernard and her co-workers, Colonel Hea said, "The women assigned to the American Red Cross clubs have done wonderful work. They have performed many extra hours, often serving coffee and doughnuts to incoming and outgoing troops after midnight. Their cheerfulness and unflinching good humor have been a wonderful morale factor at this camp."

Miss Bernard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Bernard, N. Prospect St. Until her Red Cross appointment she was recreational director at Lexington Settlement and held a teaching position in Youngstown.

R. I. L. to Swim, Dance At Party Friday, Nov. 16

Religion in Life Club will hold a "Dance, Swim and Eat" party next Friday evening, Nov. 16, at the Y. M. C. A. Admission will be by club membership cards only. The dancing will begin at 8:00, followed by an hour of swimming. Refreshments will be served at 11.

Howard Edsall is in charge of the affair, aided by Ward Baker, Bill Jones, and Abraham Walters. Membership cards needed for admission may be purchased from June Bradshaw, Jeanne Grice, Betty Lou Reynolds, or Bill Jones. This party closes the club's membership drive for the semester.

The next regular meeting will be held at First Reformed Church, Wick and Lincoln, Sunday, Nov. 18, at 3:00. The Rev. Byron Kinlaw will speak. All members are urged to attend as plans for the Christmas program will be discussed.

Bob Hum Elected Mimes Club President for Year

On Friday, Nov. 3, the Youngstown College Mimes Club met in the college auditorium and elected the following officers for this year: Bob Hum, president; Barbara Green, vice president; Shirley Skinner, recording secretary; Melvina Lanz, corresponding secretary; Mike Matune, treasurer; and Phil Crook, reporter.

Miss Cassano is advisor for the group and Professor and Mrs. Dykema have consented to help direct this year's productions.

Any students who are interested in any phase of dramatics are welcome in this club. The time and place of forthcoming meetings will be announced at assembly and will be posted on the bulletin board in the first floor hall.

YoCo Faculty Wives To Entertain at Fall Tea

The Faculty Wives of Youngstown College will entertain mothers of freshmen at the annual fall tea on Thursday, Nov. 15, in the college auditorium from 2 to 4 o'clock. Mothers of all new students are invited to attend, and a special invitation is extended to the wives of veterans who are students this year.

Mrs. Howard W. Jones is general chairman for the tea; the program will be arranged by Mrs. George M. Wilcox. Mrs. P. C. Pickard is in charge of table appointments, and Miss Vera Jenkins in charge of invitations.

A parade of school activities will be presented during the program, deans of the college will speak, and Dana music students will present musical selections.

Dick Lane, recently discharged from service, stopped in at college. He is coming back to YoCo for brush-up work in mathematics.

POT POURRI . . . From Other Colleges

By Olga Poiniski

Interesting notes from other schools . . . there are others, you know. Congratulations to Mount Union College at Alliance, which celebrated its 100th Founders Day on Oct. 17. Quote—the first 100 years are always the hardest—Unquote . . . Item for YoCo co-eds—Opinions from Ohio State University city and campus beauty experts emphasize the fact that candidates for Miss Ohio State must be slender. One is quoted as saying "I'll take round figures if it's money you're talking about, but when it comes to women, the slimmer the better." . . . One affair which likens to the annual Kappa Sig dance is the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance at Kent planned for Nov. 17. The Kent Stater states that prizes will be awarded to the 10 most original costumes. "Hooked" men must wear an "I'm Took" sign all day Nov. 18 . . . Delegates to the Newman Club convention to be held Nov. 9, 10, and 11 are being chosen at Kent at the time of this writing. The convention at Youngstown will be attended by colleges from Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, and Kentucky . . . Bee Gee from Bowling Green, Ohio, brings in a mournful item on the departure of servicemen from the campus. Perhaps some here at YoCo can appreciate their feelings as they bid goodbye to the university's military career . . . Also from Bee Gee comes news that Dr. Clyde Hissoning, Dean of the College of Education, has been appointed State Director of Education by Gov. Frank J. Lausche . . . Resumption of football and possibly baseball is on schedule for Kent State next fall and spring . . . Veterans continue to swell enrollment figures at all colleges. They are forming groups which tend to become powerful forces on campuses.

International Relations Club Gets New Books

Four books on current world problems were presented to the International Relations Club at its Oct. 29 meeting. The books, an annual gift from the Carnegie Endowment for Peace, were presented to the club members by Lilly Yee. The volumes have been placed in the library with former gift books. They are: "The Future of Japan," by W. C. Johnston, "Food for the World," edited by T. W. Schultz, "A Report to the President on Results of the San Francisco Conference," and "European Manifesto," by Pierre De Lanux.

A discussion, led by Lilly Yee, on the secrecy of the atomic bomb, completed the meeting program.

The latest meeting of the club, Monday, featured a discussion on China, led by Ted Barber, a new member.

To Joe from Jinny . . .

DEAR JOE,

Here it is time for mid-term exams and grades, and with all these long-missed servicemen dropping in on us every day, we gals can hardly keep our minds on our work.

For example, just the other day, who should walk in the Lounge, but Kappa Sig ED LINDSAY, discharged and all ready to take up the college hitch here next semester. Then DAVE GUNDRY, Kappa Sig, and STEVE PHILLIPS, Phi Sig, were both in to tell us they have received discharges from the Army Air Corp. They plan to hit the home-work come next February.

The Jambar had a letter from Pfc. ED GRENGA telling us all about his experiences in Manila. Also a letter from Lt. ALMOND PISANI who saw action over China and Okinawa. He flew 56 combat sorties while serving with the 98th Composite Squadron.

And what's more, JOHNNY OLTEAN and FRANK TALEBOT, both old Phi Sig fraters, were back to see the old gang the other day. BILL STOKER, Kappa Sig, was up at the college in his sharp navy blues.

ROBERT TEETS will really be able to tell us about seeing history made when he gets back. He was right in Tokyo Bay the day the Japs signed the surrender papers. He was in charge of the radar gear on his ship—a Jap pilot led them into the Bay.

JOHN HARRIS, S. 2/C, sends his regards from sunny California where he is stationed at a separation center watching the fleet come home. He is anxious to get back to YoCo via the G. I. Bill of Rights.

Best I close for now and forsake you for the text books—those exams, you know.

Sincerely,
JINNY D'ISA

Last of Bond Drives Gets Under Way at College

At assembly on Wednesday, Nov. 7, Mr. Nichols, vice president and general manager of McKelvey's, spoke to Youngstown College students about the last national bond drive which is now under way and which will continue until Dec. 8.

There is now a bond booth in the second floor hall which is open for the sale of Victory bonds and stamps.

Alice Woodside, chairman of this drive for Youngstown College, plans to have competing bond teams. A prize will be presented to the team which sells the largest amount of bonds or stamps.
