College Greeks to Hold Inter-Fraternity Formal

The Greek organizations will revive the tradition of their interfraternity Sweetheart Dance on Feb. 23 at the Stambaugh ballroom. A sport dance without a queen has replaced the formal since '43.

Helen DeCicco, interfraternity sweetheart of '43, will present the crown to this year's sweetheart. Members of Kappa Sigma Kappa and Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternities will elect a sweetheart from among the four sororities, Alpha Theta Delta, Eta Delta Sigma, Gamma Sigma and Phi Lambda Delta.

Admission to the formal will be limited to members of social sororities and fraternities represented in Pan-Hellenic council. Members may bring guests. Alumni of the groups and the currently inactive Phi Gamma and Sigma Delta Beta fraternities will be invited.

Tickets may be purchased by active members from the respective presidents. Alumni will purchase tickets at the door. Music will be by Tee Ross and his orchestra.

Dan Rich is chairman for the dance. The committee is: Jean Mellinger, tickets; June Grimsley, program; and Grett Rothermund, decorations.

STD Will Close Semester With Banquet on Jan. 26

Sigma Tau Delta English fraternity will close the current semester with a banquet at Shady Lawn Tea Room, Saturday, Jan. 26. Several members of the faculty will be guests and friends of the fraternity members will be welcome as guests. Final reservations are due today.

The after-dinner program will feature a talk on choral speaking to be given by Miss Elizabeth Miller, director of speech in Youngstown public schools. Miss Miller will also lead the English group in impromptu choral speaking. Madelaine Pucci, member of the fraternity, will complete the program with vocal numbers.

Shakespearean quotations will be given in answer to roll call by the banquet committee: Louise Denkelberg and Jean Mellinger, co-chairmen, Polly Velker, Marcia Welsh, and Bob Gnagy.

Newmanites' Communion Breakfast to Be Jan. 27

Members of the Newman Club, organization for all Catholic students on campus, will hold a communion breakfast, Sunday, Jan. 27, at St. Stephen's Church, Wilson Ave.

The Most Rev. James McFadden, bishop of Youngstown, will officiate at a low Pontifical Mass which will begin at 8:30.

The breakfast will be served and prepared by the women of St. Stephen's Church. Tickets for the affair may be purchased from Joe Peyko, Marie Lesky, Larry Blazina, Andy Cafaro, and Marcia Welsh.

Dana Students Present Original Recital Jan. 15

Advanced harmony students of the Dana Music Institute presented an original composition recital, Jan. 15, in the college auditorium. Mrs. Raymond Dehnbostel, Dana instructor, was in charge of the program.

The program included the following works and student composers: "Dance Melodique" by Leona Ehrhart; "Loyalty," Mary Ferranti; "Andante Grozioso," Joseph Perez; "Fantasie in D Flat," Philomena D'Orsi; "The Black Beetle," Elvera Hrecz; "Romanza," Edith Baxter; "You Are My Song," Otto Jacoby; "Oriental," Dorothy Gard; "Comparison," Elizabeth Taylor; "Etude Lyrique," Gladys Peppel; "Reminiscence," Helen Lukich; and "Clouds," Emil LaCivita.

An orchestra suite, "Miniatures," written by William Robinson, was played by the orchestra under the direction of Prof. Alvin Myerovich. The suite contained a prelude and nocturne, gavotte, and serenade.

Accompanists for the recital were Elizabeth Taylor, Philomena D'Orsi, Elvera Hrecz, Edith Baxter, and William Robinson.

O. S. U. Director Rev. L. Sanborne to Address RIL

Rev. Leon Sanborne, director of student religious activities at Ohio State University, will address the Religion in Life group, Sunday, Feb. 10, at the Westminster Presbyterian Church.

Reverend Sanborne will discuss plans for making the organization stronger on campus and in the community. All Protestant students are urged to attend the meeting.

At the Jan. 6 meeting at the home of Advisor Dr. Henry V. Stearns, Dr. Harvey Holt spoke to the group. A party at the end of the semester is being planned with definite plans to be announced later.

Drama Course Still Open For Dramatic Aspirants

The dramatic course to be offered next semester by Richard Gage, director of the Youngstown Playhouse, remains open to registration. The course has been divided into two classes in order to accommodate the expected increase in enrollment. The classes will meet at the Playhouse on Monday, 3:30 to 5:30, and Tuesday, 3:30 to 5:30. Students interested in dramatics may sign up for either of the classes without further permission from Mr. Gage or Professor Dykema.

Work in this first course of a planned three-year dramatic curriculum will consist mainly of laboratory technique. Scene design, make-up, costuming, stagecraft, and lighting will be studied under Gage's direction. Out of class work will be done in connection with the Playhouse productions.

Former Students Share Spot on Symphony Bill

Two former YoCo students shared the program at the Youngstown Symphony Concert Sunday, Jan. 13, at Stambaugh Auditorium. The East High Choir, directed by former Dana student, James S. Miller, presented for the first time "The Voice of Freedom," written by James Tavolario, also a former music student.

Tavolario's composition was first written for a male chorus while he was overseas with the army. On shipboard, between Leyte and Luzon, he heard the words and music, and later in a foxhole in the South Pacific, the melody returned to him. At one performance overseas, Mrs. Douglas MacArthur heard the arrangement and praised the local artist's work.

Returning to Youngstown after his discharge from the armed services, Tavolario arranged his music for the choir of East High, of which he is also a graduate. He received his B. A. degree with a major in music here.

ETPC Sale of TB Stamps Reaches Total of $21.75

Marjorie Davis, chairman of the drive, announces that the Elementary Teachers Professional Club sold $21.75 of tuberculosis seals in the drive that ended Dec. 10. Working on her committee were Lola Raptou, Pauline Thomas, Florence Bailey, Violet Tornich, Margaret Durley, and Mary Bell Gilbert.

College Women to Hold Tea for Freshman Girls

The women of the college will hold a tea for the freshman girls, tentatively Thursday, Feb. 8, from 2 to 4:30, in the college auditorium. Serving on the committee will be two representatives from the three social sororities, the two business sororities, and the Independent group. Miss Stella Cassano is heading the group.

Registration Will Remain Open Until Jan. 19

Registration records show that over 2,200 students have enrolled in Youngstown College for next semester with night school registration remaining open until Jan. 19. Of these students, 770 are veterans, totalling more than most of the nation's college veteran enrollment.

A break-down shows 583 of the total are new veterans, with 75 of these being former students of the college. The current semester veteran enrollment is 187 ex-servicemen.

College officials have scheduled classrooms outside the college buildings to cope with the greatly enlarged student body. A few classes will be held in the William Rayen Technical Institute, while the entire building is to be opened for use March 1. Until that time lectures will be given in nearby churches and public buildings.

S. A. I. President Attends 3-Day Province Parley

Madelaine Pucci, president of the Alpha Nu Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota music fraternity, represented the organization at the Province Parley, Jan. 14, 15, and 16, at Syracuse, N. Y.

At the Jan. 11 meeting Elvera Hrecz was elected editor of the chapter. A scrapbook of the fraternity was arranged and presented by Teresa Cassini, while the yearbook, headed by Doris Welker, was completed for 1945-1946.

The program for the year was presented and approved. The chapter by-laws, compiled by Mildred Vieweg, were adopted by the members.

Vets, YWGS Hold Joint Party at Legion Post 15

On Friday, Jan. 11, 1946, the Gamma Iota Alpha, veterans organization of the college, held an informal party at the American Legion Post 15. All veterans of the college were invited. The club also invited the Independent women's group.

The social committee for the affair consisted of: June McCartney and Helen Parsons, hostesses; Mike Matune, chairman; Earl Williams, Ed Luszcz, Anthony Cook, Jr., John Kerr, and Jim Lapaze. Lots of food and dancing were enjoyed by the crowd that attended.

A committee has been appointed to make the rules and by-laws for the constitution recently adopted. The monthly meeting will be held Wednesday, Jan. 30.

Movies Shown at D. M. F.

The Dana Music Forum met Jan. 8 at Dana's for its regular monthly business meeting. Movies were shown of the life of Stephen Foster, a woodwind choir, and a brass choir.

MAY WE REMIND YOU
that closing time for the Lounge is 10 p. m. on the dot! The night custodian has reported difficulty in clearing the Lounge at the time. Student Council asks that students co-operate with him by leaving promptly at 10.

WHAT DO YOU THINK about the respective merits of our campus organizations? YoCo is rich in extra-curricular activity for a college of its size. We have four national honorary organizations, 13 local clubs, seven social fraternities, and an up-and-coming independent women's group.

But all is not lost by our less-strict method. The social fraternities are more than active in their own way. The two religious organizations, Sigma Tau Delta national English fraternity, and the still young independent women's group have made splendid records along more constructive lines this semester.

Because so many students devote so little time to a great number of separate activities, the college suffers a loss of potentially valuable results. Maybe if we each took a few of our extra-curricular irons out of the fire...

concerning the way, we, the students, keep the Lounge? Twice a day, the Lounge is cleaned by the custodian; yet, just a little care and consideration from each of us would keep it neater and more pleasant.

about extending a sincere welcome to the 583 additional veterans who will be coming to Youngstown College next semester. Seventy-five of these men are former students and after an interruption of several years, are returning to college.

Getting a paper out is sometimes fun, but it is never a picnic. If we print jokes, people say we are silly. If we don't, they say we are too serious.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Editor, The Jambar:

I am a veteran attending night classes here at YoCo, and working during the day. My free time between classes, work, and study is very limited, consequently this belated letter.

The billboard that Mr. Love stigmatizes as a sore thumb, dedicated by the American Legion Post No. 15, pictured a group of children gazing at the names of American soldiers.

groups that made up the fighting forces of this country. The caption on that billboard read: "We fought together; let's work together — Catholics, Protestants, Jews."

Those in the category with Mr. Love can quickly forget the war. Possibly the only inconvenience that he suffered was that of food and gasoline rationing.

Of course, Mr. Love will rigorously deny that he needs to be reminded, yet, obviously he does need to be reminded — else why the article condemning the billboard?

Very truly yours, A Veteran.

Hunter College of New York Sponsors 75th Anniversary Year Essay Contest

In celebration of its 75th anniversary year, Hunter College of the City of New York is offering a series of prizes totalling $12,000 in victory bonds for the best essays on intercultural relations.

Awards will be made to winners in three categories. College and university students are asked to write on the general topic, "How Can American Colleges or Other Social Institutions Promote the Appreciation of the Culture of Other Peoples and Co-operation Among Them?"

Teachers in colleges, universities, high schools, and elementary schools of the continental United States may compete for a similar group of awards, writing on the topic, "How Can the American Teacher Help to Foster Intercultural Relations?"

Essays in the competitions for college students and teachers must not exceed 1,500 words. An interesting feature of the contest is that three special awards of $1,000 each in victory bonds will be made to the schools which the student first prize winners are attending.

With the Greeks . . .

By Elizabeth Patrick

Have you heard the good news? The Greeks are holding a formal dance, Feb. 23. It is really something wonderful, for we haven't had an interfraternity dance for three years.

Well, fellows and gals, here's wishing you the very best success on those final exams, especially those we HAVEN'T seen in the library.

ALPHA THETA DELTA — Alpha Deltas pledges will be formally installed as actives, Jan. 24. Jean McCormick is chairman for the event.

The pledges are entertaining the actives at the home of Barbara Green, pledge president, soon. Serving on the committee are Clara Yoho, Mid Noufer, Violet Tornich, and Rita Donie.

GAMMA SIGMA — The Gamma Sigs enjoyed spaghetti at Carosella's and then attended a movie together, recently.

A business meeting was held at Lucille Guidas' home Wednesday evening, with Lois DeBias as co-hostess. Plans were made for a party with the Kappa Sigs on Jan. 25.

KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA — The Kappa Sigs will welcome back Bob McCracken, Alex Downie, and Ed. Lindsay next semester. It certainly will seem like old times, having all these older members back.

A party is being planned with the Gamma Sigs. It will be held at the American Legion Hall, Jan. 25.

PHI LAMBDA DELTA — The Phi Lams are starting a new tradition, "The Phi Lamb Campus Nite." It is an informal get-acquainted dance to be held in the near future at Pioneer Pavilion. It is open to the entire school, and their guests. Pat Ford is in charge of tickets, Lola Rappou, Ida Adavasio, and Ida Aswad are handling the publicity.

New Books in Library

THE SHAPE OF BOOKS TO COME is the intriguing title of J. Donald Adams' latest book of literary criticism. He says the pendulum has swung through the doldrums, the negative and fantastic. There is an upswing toward the sound and the mature. American literature is headed toward a lively renaissance.

Could he mean such books as Adria Langley's A LION IS IN THE STREETS? This story of Hank Martin, a Huey Long sort of character, with driving ambition and shrewd knowledge of mankind tells of his rise to power and his fall. The ordinary decent people of America couldn't be deceived forever, and we see the terror of their revenge.

A story with sweep, color, and romance is THE SEAS STAND WATCH by Helen Mudgett. This is the story of a New England sea captain and the China trade in the period after the Revolution.

Another sea story, ASK NO QUARTER, by George Marsh, has Hugh Jocelyn, sailor and privateer for a hero. It is a rich, authentic picture of Colonial days with a vivid cast of characters. A grand adventure story.

Another American book is RAW MATERIAL, the autobiography of Oliver La Farge. We know him best as the writer of Indian stories, particularly LAUGHING BOY.

A book with universal appeal is COMICS AND THEIR CREATORS by Martin Sheridan. He says comics are as American as baseball and as much part of our lives as the 5 o'clock rush. He tells some of the true stories of the artists and their rise to fame.

Edgcomb Pinchon's biography of the American general, DAN SICKLES, is as fast paced as the general's own incredible life. It is the first full-length portrait of this colorful American. His true story reaches a theatrical extravagance that fiction couldn't risk.

These books are now ready for circulation in the college library.

PHI SIGMA EPSILON

Detective Earl Huffman spoke to the Phi Sigs at their Jan. 5 meeting. He told of the departmental functions of the police and detective departments in Youngstown, as well as a few of his thrilling experiences during the time he has been with this department.

The fraternity attended the Polka Dot Prom at Lake Erie College for Women, in Painesville, Jan. 12.

Among those servicemen home for the holidays were Don Nye, serving at present with the navy in Texas, and Robert Martinko, who has just been commissioned a second lieutenant in the army. The latest news from Jim Hammond in Hawaii states that he enjoyed a reunion with Jack Kramer a few days before Christmas, having met him quite by accident.

Notes from Dana's

The end of the first semester brought forth the annual original composition recital given by the second year harmony students. After listening to each number, one can readily see that we have some unusual talent in our midst. We hope our efforts will afford a little inspiration to those in the first year harmony class who will soon begin working on their recital compositions.

Alpha Nu
Madelaine Pucci, president of the newly-formed Alpha Nu chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota national music fraternity, is attending a three-day convention at Syracuse, N. Y. Representatives of the Eta Province Chapter are attending the meeting. Alpha Nu is planning a community sing for the enjoyment of all the college students as well as those especially interested in music. The young chapter has reason to be proud of its own fraternity room on the third floor at Dana's.

Local Talent
Our hats off to Jimmy Tavorario, one-time student at Dana's, whose composition for choir and orchestra, "Voice of Freedom," was presented by the East High Choir under James Miller and the Youngstown Symphony Orchestra conducted by Michael Ficocelli Sunday afternoon. Those who do not know Jimmy personally, will remember him as the dashing figure who played the "Ritual Fire Dance" and the relaxing strains of Debussy's "Clair de Lune" for us in chapel a short time ago.

Opera Goers Attention
Anyone planning a trip to New York City in the near future should consult the Met's year program listed on the bulletin board in Dana's entrance hall . . . that is, if they are interested in attending the opera. The famed "Met" can be enjoyed in the comfort of your own living room. Station WKBN carries performances every Saturday afternoon.

Practice! Practice!
Every music student has been practicing diligently of late. No doubt in preparation for the final exams in applied music. Whatever it may be, I'm sure the instructors deeply appreciate our putting forth a little more effort.

Hope you all came out on top in the exams.

—Lee Ehrhart

V-5 Program Resumed; Gift Exchange Features Recruitment Has Begun Alpha Iota Annual Party

Recruitment of aviation cadets, Class V-5, has been resumed by the navy after a lapse of nearly two years, it has been announced by Naval Officer Procurement, Detroit.

Applicants must have completed four college semesters before March 1 and be between 18 and 23 years of age. Previously V-5 aviation training had been limited to high school graduates and those with only one semester of college work.

Aviation cadets will be placed on inactive duty upon enlisting and will be called up after March 1. They will go directly to pre-flight training.

Scholastic requirements include two years of high school or college mathematics, preferably elementary algebra and plane geometry; a course in physics, and a course in trigonometry.

Interested college students should contact Naval Officer Procurement, 947 Book Bldg., Detroit 26, for full information. Applicants will be examined by Naval Officer Procurement, Detroit, and if found qualified, will be enlisted for four years. Transportation and lodging in Detroit will

Hi-Eds Discuss Teaching Methods at Club Meeting

At a meeting of the Hi-Eds held Jan. 4, Elvera Rossi spoke on "Liberal Education." The talk was followed by a group discussion on superior teaching methods.

The Hi-Eds were guests of Dr. and Mrs. George Wilcox, Bryson St., at a Christmas party held during vacation. Lois McCallister gave an essay entitled "Christmas Stillness." Dr. and Mrs. Wilcox described their visit several years ago to Bethlehem and other places of interest in the Holy Land.

CAMPUS COMMENTS

By Kenny Love

The letter appearing on page 2 was forwarded to me by the editor of the Jambar. Since the article in question was written by "Yours Truly," I am taking the pleasure of offering a reply that will, I hope, make things clearer.

Dear Anonymous Veteran,

Before I take-off into an atmosphere of explanation, allow me to extend my sincere compliments to an American that will forfeit his valuable time in reprimanding a fellow American for something that meets his eye as being very un-American. Please let me assure you that your so-called belated letter was merely the evil fruit from the tree of "MISINTERPRETATION." I definitely think it unfortunate that there are not more people with your keen interest in what tends to be our biggest social problem.

Now, sir, if you will descend momentarily from your categorical perch I shall attempt to pacify your dogmatic pen. At the time when the article pertaining to the "BILLBOARD" was written there was no caption decorating the gruesome contraption. By keeping this in mind perhaps you can understand that it was not the caption that I was objecting to, but the means and situation. You see, I am proud of my school and I, for one, would like to IMPROVE the campus at Youngstown College. Therefore, I think that this desire of mine for a better campus, considering the circumstances, justifies my writing of the condemning column upon whose value you pass rash judgment. Along with this desire comes also the opinion that, if the money spent on erecting billboards were used in benefiting those that suffer from war and racial discrimination, the world would be much better.

True to your prediction, Mr. Anonymous Veteran, I vigorously deny that I need be reminded of the war, for you see, it did leave its impressions, both physically and mentally. You speak of my suffering from gas rationing and the food shortage; these inconveniences were not of the type that I suffered, for at the time I was busily employed by the United States Infantry and had little use for the then much-valued gasoline. So please don't feel too insulted, sir, if I place myself in the category of a vet, even though it is contrary to your opinion.

In closing, I should like to quote a few words from the Essay by Alexander Pope, I think we would all do well to keep them in mind.

A little learning is a dangerous thing,
 Drink deep or taste not the Pierian spring,
 There shallow draughts intoxicate the brain,
 And drinking largely sobers us again.
 Fired at first sight with what the Muse imparts,
 In fearless youth we tempt the heights of arts,
 While from the bounded level of our mind
 Short views we take, nor see the lengths behind,
 But more advanced, behold with strange surprise
 New distant scenes of endless science rise!

Respectively yours,
 K. F. L.

BUECHNER'S BUZZIN'S

Dormitory Dope

If you cut through the college parking lot, walk out the curved drive to Bryson St., then up a block—you'll see it. Buechner Hall. This column will appear from time to time to inform you of doings (and, believe me, plenty does) on the illustrious second floor where a lively collection of 28 YoCo girls reside in complete harmony. Well, almost complete. Your columnist will remain anonymous—after all, I have to live with them.

How Times Have Changed

This time last year dates were as rare as radium. A phone call from a man caused excitement akin to that of an atomic bomb. But this year! It's as if all the veterans were coming home just to see the Buechner girls. One night last week there were TEN real live dates in the tiny reading room on the first floor. They were not reading. The shock almost caused Mrs. Kagarise, the college mother, to take to her bed after shooting them out at 10:30. ALL GOOD little college gals are supposed to be in bed by 11.

Seen Through the Keyhole

June reading a letter from Ed—didn't he get it all said on that date, Grimmy? . . . Patsy B. gloating over new skates from an admirer. . . At least six girls having their locks trimmed in Mary Bell's room—and then didn't Mary Bell get a call from Washington, D. C., right in the middle of it all—think his name is Clarence. . . The darling clown dolls Janie Stimmel's Mom made for Janie and Sally B.'s beds. . . Levie writing letters. . . Cookie K. sleeping anytime of day—never at night. . . Jean M. and Betty M. trying to squeeze another date on their calendar. . . B. Arnold, psychologist, trying to find what's wrong with the rest of us—quite a collection of characters, we must admit.

Heard Through Transom

Sis A. talking (on the phone, of course!) to Dave. . . Nora P. singing "I Wish I Knew." . . Mid B. lamenting the blind date that never came off—blame it on the telephone strike. . . Anne Y. on the phone, "Is this Chuck? Joe? Oh, Jay!" . . . Jambar typewriters clicking like fury. . . Most anything.

And then we have chicken every Sunday, courtesy Mrs. Donna Gray, the cook.

Okinawa

Dear Editors,
 We found the post office here at Okinawa quite removed from its former site after the October typhoon. In the debris, two copies of the Jambar fluttered aimlessly. I guess you know I salvaged them, but fast. They seemed to be waiting for a former YoCo lad to pick them up. Needless to say, I was extremely overjoyed. . . . Accept this brief note with my warmest thanks. . . . I expect to be "stomping" through YoCo soon.

Dear Editor,
 I've just received two copies of the Jambar. Thanks a million. I appreciate the steady flow of the paper for the past three years. Just thought I'd let you know that I'll soon be a civilian again, and I'll get it in person. It would be swell if someone would send some dope on accounting courses given to night students, the date of the beginning of the second semester, the last possible date for registering. Thanks again.

The information you requested is on its way, Civilian Palmer. We're glad you'll be back with us next semester. It will soon seem like old times again, for so many of our old gang will be back this term.

Dear Editor,
 I wish to thank you for sending me the Jambar for the past two years. It has revived many memories spent at YoCo. I have been able to follow the whereabouts of many friends I had lost contact with. I spent two years in Washington, D. C., before I was transferred here to help discharge Navy nurses, officers, and enlisted personnel of the Women's Reserve. I enjoy my work very much, but my naval career will soon end. I expect to return to Youngstown in a few months.

Thanks again, and the best of luck to all of you in the new year of 1946.

Sincerely,

June E. Howell, USNR

Austria

Dear Editor,
 Today, I received two copies of the Jambar. It is about as popular as our own "Stars & Stripes." Thanks a million. Soon I'll be leaving scenic and picturesque Austria with its Blue Danube and Tyrolean Alps, for the Land of Milk and Honey. So till then—Auf Wiedersehen!

Please convey my best regards to Prof. Reid, Dr. Smith, and Dr. Gould.

Yours truly,

We talked to Lee Ricalton, a former Phi Sig, in the Lounge this week. Lee, a T/5 in the Engineers, recently received his discharge and plans to enter Penn State soon. Leaving YoCo in 1943, Lee served 24 months overseas. He wears the Good Conduct Medal, the E. T. O. ribbon with four battle stars, the American Theater, and the Victory ribbon. Of course, the one he's proudest of is the "ruptured duck." We're glad Lee and so many of the former students are home, too.

Leo Mogus Signs up With Bears Professional Team

Leo Mogus, former Penguin football and basketball star, joined the Youngstown Bears, local professional basketball team, when he received his discharge from the army, Jan. 13.

Mogus, who scored nearly 500 points in his senior year at YoCo, saw action overseas. While convalescing from wounds, he played in a meet in England, and was named the "outstanding player in the G. I. Kingdom Basketball Tournament." While he was stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., he bagged 544 points in 27 games against top college and service teams.
