Greek Pledging Season Begins

Council Stops Political Ads In Newspaper

Steve Casper and Russ Swegan were named Co-chairmen of the Junior Prom by Student Council, Friday at Council's weekly meeting. The theme of dance has been chosen to be "April in Paris".

Judy Garland was chosen to head the "Student Handbook," a yearly publication presenting the University, its curriculums, activities etc.

Discipline Committee of Student Council, during the past two weeks has submitted and passed the following rules: The names and qualifications of each candidate must be duly publicized to the student body before each election if possible. Publication in JAMBAR or other suitable media shall comprise proper notification. Candidates for any election are not allowed to purchase JAMBAR ads. If JAMBAR ads are purchased by any candidate for any university election this person shall be disqualified from same.

CHEERLEADERS ATTENDANCE. 1. During football season only two absences from home games. 2. During basketball season only four absences from home games. Normally if more than the above absences occur in a specified season, the person shall be dismissed from the cheerleading squad and an alternate will usually be chosen.

LIBRARY OFFENSES. 1. Two talking offenses on the Main Floor within 30 calendar days will cause the student to come before the Student Council Discipline Committee. 2. Any offense involving defacing or destroying school property will cause that student to come directly before the Student Council Discipline Committee. 3. Above offenses will be recorded on the back of the Library card.

Cheerleading tryouts will be held on May 18, 1961 in Strouss Auditorium at 5 p.m.

Junior Prom Candidates To Compete Mar. 20, 21

Junior Prom elections will be held in Strouss Auditorium, March 20 and 21 from 9:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. All full time students are eligible to vote. Candidates are Marleta Barnes, Annette Cioffi, Ellie Novotny, and Barb Wolfert.

Marleta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Barnes of 431 Lawrence Ave., Girard, is a student assistant in the University library, a major in elementary education, member of R.L.L., a majorette, and Alpha Omicron Pi sorority. Annette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cioffi, 1706 Carlisle, New Castle, is a student assistant in the record's office, Neon co-editor, a cheerleader, member of Student Council, member of Kappa Delta Pi, a major in art education, and a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority.

Ellie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Novotny, of 519 Wilbur Avenue is secretary to Father Petric, campus editor for the Jambar, vice president of Newman, a major in elementary education and a member of Beta Sigma Omicron sorority. Barb, daughter to Mrs. Marian Wolfert, Atlantic NE, Warren, is a major education major, a Newman member, Panhellenic, and Phi Mu sorority.

Results of the election will be released approximately 4:30, March 21 outside room 213, Main building.

The Junior Prom will be held Friday, April 7 at Idora Park Ballroom. Co-chairmen for the dance are Steve Casper and Russ Swegan, who will carry out the theme "April in Paris".

Westbrook Awarded Fellowship For Study at Pittsburgh Univ.

John T. Westbrook, a senior in the college of arts and sciences at Youngstown University, has been awarded a three year graduate fellowship under the National Defense Graduate Fellowship Program. The Fellowship, which is extendable provides a stipend of $8200 plus all university expenses for graduate study at the University of Pittsburgh. Pitt has waived all university expenses for Westbrook, in accordance with a clause in the Fellowship Program.

A sociology major at Youngstown University, Westbrook will receive his A.B. degree in June. He will work toward the doctor's degree in the field of anthropology. Westbrook also received honorable mention in competition for a Woodrow Wilson Scholarship this year.

At Youngstown University, Westbrook has been active in extracurricular life. He has served as chairman of the constitutional committee of the Student Council, is currently vice president of Beta Tau fraternity, a member of the English Society, and has served as promotion manager for the Horizon magazine for the past two years.

Presently an insurance consultant for the local agency of Mutual and United of Omaha, Westbrook has worked for Desilu Productions in Hollywood, California in lighting, and has been house manager for the Kenley Players since their beginning.

Westbrook is the son of Dr. and Mrs. E.R. Westbrook, Warren, Ohio, and is married to the former Sandra B. Stephen.

New Pledge Class Dons Paddles and Knee-socks

Pledging season began as the Greeks attracted 215 pledges. Sororities received 32 pledges while the fraternities will be pledging 183.

Chemistry Prof Added to Staff

Prof. George Graff has joined the Youngstown University faculty as a full time chemistry professor.

Graff, who was born in Budapest, Hungary, graduated from the University of Budapest with the European equivalent of a Ph. D. He has held positions at the College of Organic Chemistry in Szeged and at the Polytechnical University of Budapest.

He has had much practical experience having worked for Columbia Cellulose Co. as senior research chemist, the Food and Drug Administration of Budapest, and as vice president in charge of research for Korosky Pharmaceutical Laboratories in Budapest.

He is a member of the American Chemical Society and the Hungarian Academy of Sciences.

Concert Postponed

The concert of the Youngstown University Orchestra which was to have been held on March 15, will be postponed until Monday, April 17.

Lommatzsch Attends Advertising Meeting

Jerry Lommatzsch, senior advertising major will represent YU at the 11th annual Inside Advertising Week at New York City, April 2 to 7.

As part of the program, Lommatzsch will visit the advertising departments of Macy's, Esso Standard Oil, the International Nickel Company and others. He will lunch at such places as The Advertising Club, The Sales Executives Club of New York, and The Downtown Athletic Club.

The participating sponsors of IAW represent all phases of advertising, McGraw-Hill Publishing Company, McCann & Erickson, The Wall Street Journal, Outdoor Advertising, Inc., and many others. IAW is designed to introduce the nation's top college advertising seniors to the New York advertising world.

Assistant Professor William Flad will accompany Lommatzsch.

There was an increase of 40 pledges over that of last semester, which was due to increased enrollment and an increase in the number of eligible students.

The sororities accepted their pledges last week and the fraternities received theirs this week. The fraternities and sororities and their pledge classes are as follows:

THE INDEPENDENT AND STUDENT COUNCIL

Today marks the end of the sixth week of this semester. Before long Student Council elections will be held again. In an effort to stimulate interest in Council, specifically to stimulate independents to run for Council seats, we are re-running the following letter from Student Council. It was originally printed in the December 16, 1960 issue.

The question will probably be asked, but why talk about Student Council elections so soon? This is the reason. Any independent who seriously wants to be a member of Student Council should begin planning his campaign, and organizing his support now.

Why is it that the Youngstown University Student Council is made up almost entirely of "Greeks", members of fraternities and sororities? Why do we often hear the statement, "the 'Greeks' run everything-an independent doesn't have a chance"? The answer to both of these questions, or at least a very good indication of what the answer is, can be found in the fact that only one independent placed his name on the ballot for Student Council elections this semester - only one independent and 25 "Greeks".

In order to place one's name on the ballot for the election, it is only necessary to carry a 1.75 (2.75 under the 4 point system) average, be a full time student, and have the time (from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. on Friday free) to serve on Council.

There are no other requirements to run for office on Council. One need not be a member of a "Greek" organization, he need not pay a poll tax, he doesn't even need a petition signed by a number of students - all he need do is sign his name to the roster of candidates which is located in the office of his respective dean, and he is in the running.

The question in our minds is, then, "why don't independents try to gain offices?" It can't be that, as is often stated, they are outnumbered; the Greeks are outnumbered by independents better than ten to one. The problem cannot be a lack of interest on the part of the independents, or they would not be constantly talking about their "lack of representation". It can't be the expense involved in an election, since the cost of one or two posters would, at most, be five or six dollars. The problem involved can't possibly be that there are not enough independents on campus to supply the Council with one or two qualified members; there are over 3700 full time independents and less than 600 full time Greek organization members. The difficulty cannot stem from a lack of importance of the student government, since the Council has the power to legislate in connection with everything from school dances and discipline regulations to building projects. What, then, is the reason that independents do not attempt to gain office? The only answer that we see is that there must be a lack of information - a lack of knowledge about the entire situation. If that is the case, it is our hope that this letter, and future information bulletins that will follow, will solve the very pressing problem of non-participation by "independent" students.

This letter, in itself, should be sufficient indication of the fact that the Student Council members themselves are vitally interested in having "independent" membership among their numbers. We, as a legislative body, do not enact legislation on a basis of the affiliation of the members, we act as independent individuals, representing whatever school voted us into office. We would very much like to mirror this legislative fact in our membership by having a Council composed of "independents" and "Greeks" working together toward better, more efficient student government.

With the honest hope that the "independents" of Youngstown University will assert themselves and become active in their own government, we are sincerely, The members of the Youngstown University Student Council.

Letters to the Editor

Editor:

I am sure that many students will probably disagree with my point of view, but I feel that chapel services during school hours should be discontinued. If I had wanted to attend a church school, I wouldn't be enrolled at Y.U. I came to college to attend classes for which I paid and not to have them cut for chapel services.

Likewise many of us students are not advocates of the Christian faith and those that are should find plenty of opportunity to express their faith through the several religious organizations already active on campus.

I do not deny that the Christian students have every right and should support their religious views, but on their own time.

Hike in Membership Dues Attests to Union Decline

By Frank Court

Last week, the AFL-CIO added an extra $2.2 million to the dues of its members. The unions claimed that the rise was caused by "bad luck".

They blamed their lack of fortune on poor membership and bad national working conditions. Norman Walker, Associated Press Labor Writer, commented that the dues hike was a sure sign of weakness in the union's internal organization. He claimed that this was due in part to the changing American labor scene -- "the fact that the era of manual labor familiar to most union leaders is fast disappearing and that the day has dawned for the clerical workers more highly skilled and less susceptible to becoming union members."

MR. WALKER'S COMMENTS parallel closely a general opinion that has gradually evolved among labor critics in the past few years. Unless some radical changes are made, these labor writers see a gloomy future for unions.

The changing current of American life has brought with it a generation of workers who no longer look upon the unions as the only friend of the laboring class. In fact, most laborers are skeptical of union policy and rarely take it as serious pronouncement.

The strength of unionism that was so attractive in the past is now a thing forgotten, and the energetic young men who were at one time attracted by "the good fight" are no longer influenced and are entering other fields of endeavor where their talents can be used with more profitable results. For the unions, it is a struggle against the inevitable.

THE DAYS OF WORKERS being pushed around by their employers, poor wages, bad working conditions and short coffee breaks are no longer with us, and the unions are discovering, much to their disappointment, that they no longer have anything for which to crusade. This has left them without confidence, and as a result, they have entered into new areas of struggle.

The amount of money spent on new struggles far outweighs any union interest they might have renewed. And this extravagant squandering of union funds is one of the reasons why the dues were raised $2.2 million dollars last week.

The search for the new "crusade" coupled with a dwindling minority of union members has left the AFL-CIO with pocket-book anemia and woolly organization.

The fact that in two years union membership has decreased by close to a million, is ample proof of their present stigma. The evident contrast between the steel strike of 1959 and the steel strikes of other years is also proof of present union status. How many people -- both public and workers alike -- looked with extreme agitation at the strikes just recently settled?

And what about the union budget? Can it stand the loss of membership and cost of crusades? Or, will it raise the dues higher and by doing so burden its members?

In 1958, the organized unions in California spent some two and a half million dollars in a crusade to beat the "right to work law". A similar amount was spent in Ohio.

At the end of the expensive venture in 1958, the New York Times estimated total union spending for both "right to work" crusades and backing of favored politicians some where in the neighborhood of eight million dollars. One can readily see where the majority of union money goes.

UNION STATUS IS DECREASING, yet, it continues to spend money in an area where it has no business being. This area is national politics. The unions were not founded as political organizations but that is what they have become.

Unfortunately, not enough union leaders can see the hopelessness of the situation they are now pressing. They must realize that they can no longer count on the sympathy of the public majority.

The only hope for the future existence of the union movement is to loosen its ties in fields that will eventually bankrupt it or be the cause of its ruin. It can no longer afford to be both a workable union and a political influence.

Little Noticed Landmark Exists on "West Campus"

By Marianna Kane

A very interesting rock has been on the "West campus" for about twenty five years, but students have paid little heed to it except several years ago when it was a traditional order during Freshman Week to "lift that stump." Even though the rock bears a bronze tablet reading: "PETRIPIED ROCK FROM COSHOCTON COUNTY, OHIO," students still fail to notice it, (especially if you are like I am.)

Despite the fact that you may never have seen it before, but hoping you will next time you pass by, its history has been tracked down through the efforts of JAMBAR staff members.

As the story goes, about 1935 a man named Paul H. Chase, who was director of the Youngstown Playground Association and well-known naturalist, heard about some rare and unique specimens of petrified wood. With Paul Kuegel, also of Youngstown, he traveled to the southeastern part of the state where, in a rugged hilly section of the country, they found four petrified logs after inquiring among local residents. Mr. Chase brought two of these trifles (weight about 200 lbs.) to the University, while the other two specimens are in the possession of Mr. Kuegel at his Loveland Road home.

The petrified stump is an unusual fine specimen. Its type is very rare and unique for the eastern part of the country. It differs entirely from the fern trees and club moss specimens, both commonly found here, and both of which grew to be of tree size in the "Coal Age" many millions of years ago. Mr. Chase's specimens are of a much later age and are of the same type as the more attractive rocks found in Colorado.

"Petrified Wood" as it is sometimes termed is an ineptly applied name for there is no longer any wood in the stump, the wood having been gradually replaced by the material which we now see. Although there is no verification for the story, it is said that the chip missing from the top was taken for study in the university laboratories.

Fearing what future generations might think if they found such a specimen in Mahoning County, Mr. Chase had the plaque attached to prevent anyone thinking a great glacier had run a little berserk.

Music Fraternity Holds Style Show

Members of Sigma Alpha Iota, Fraternity of Music for Women, met at the home of Mrs. Howard W. Jones last Sunday to put the finishing touches on their second annual "Easter Fashion Parade and Gala" to be held March 24 from 8 to 10 p.m.

The show will feature men's and women's fashions, furnished by the Men's Squire Shop and Abraham's Salon.

Music will be furnished by John Petrone, a Dana graduate and faculty member of Cardinal Mooney High School. The Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Jazz Combo will furnish intermission melodies.

More than 30 door prizes, donated by local merchants, will be awarded. Free refreshments will be served by the patroness members.

The show is a joint project by the Active Membership, the Alumnae Chapter, and the Patroness Membership. The proceeds are used to give a $200 scholarship to a worthy member of the Dana Chapter every year. This year's winner was Miss Rivka Zaidman.

Spanish Club Meeting Will Feature Speaker

The Spanish Club of Youngstown University will feature an address by Mr. Viavatel at its meeting tonight at 8:15 in the Blue Room of Pollock House.

Viavatel is an Indian exchange student in engineering and will speak on social, political, and economic aspects of Indian-American relations.

Los Buenos Vecinos is open to all Youngstown students, and is designed to promote Spanish-American relations.

Campus News Featured On Weekly YU Show

The YU Show has been on the air for many years keeping the students of Youngstown University informed of the latest happenings on campus. This year's stars are "Bill" Hudak of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity and "Rusty" DeAngelis of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority. They can be heard each Saturday morning during the school year from 11:00 to 11:30 a.m. on WBBW radio. Popular records add to the format of the program, along with the cheerful chatter of Rusty and Bill.

'60 Grad Honored At Fort Knox, Ky.

Recruit Joe J. Reddick, a 1960 graduate of Youngstown University's School of Business Administration, was selected as the 1st Training Regiment "Trainee of the Week" February 23 at Fort Knox, Ky., where he is currently undergoing advanced individual armor training.

Reddick was named on the basis of his character, knowledge of military subjects, discipline, appearance, his day to day relationship with fellow trainees, and his familiarity with the news of the day.

The 22 year-old soldier, who entered the Army last November, is assigned in Company 3 of the regiment's 2nd Battalion.

Whenever a school function or special event is being held, you can hear of it on the YU Show. Interviews are arranged with the sponsors of these events to inform the students and the general public of the purpose and history plus other interesting information concerning the event and the sponsor. If a student has won an award or is nominated to be a queen or an officer of Student Council, he or she is also interviewed.

Is your organization sponsoring a dance? Do you know of anyone on Campus who has achieved an honor or an award? If you have any information or news which you think might be used on the show, contact Bill or Rusty. Your cooperation will be appreciated. And if you have nevertuned in to the YU Show, why not wake up earlier this Saturday morning and tune to WBBW. You're sure to enjoy it.

This Week with Greeks and Clubs; Socialites Await Spring Activities

With the charm of spring crowding lives with the tone of romance everyone will enjoy the whirl of dances, parties, and the gay laughter about to begin.

Fraternities have received pledges this past week as can be attested to by the "extra crowdedness" of the Snack Bar. Be careful. Don't Get Trampled!

Now let's see what "greeks" have been doing for the past two weeks.

ALPHA OMICRON PI

Congratulations and welcome to our new pledges who were installed February 28, after a dinner at the Golden Drumstick Restaurant, they are: Judy Baumann, Sandy D'Antonio, Patty Green, Patty Martin, Rosalie Messina, Joann Peroni, Winnie Krohn, Judy Raffield, Diane Simunic, and Phyllis Zerella.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

THETA CHI

The brothers of Theta Chi would like to congratulate our new pledges for the spring semester. Have fun, pledges!

Theta Chi lost a tight basketball game to the Kappa Sig's Tuesday, Feb. 29, the score 29-26. This makes Theta Chi and Kappa Sigma Kappa tied for second place. The last game comes on Thursday, March 2 with the Bombers. If Theta Chi wins this one, we must play Kappa Sigma Kappa again to decide position.

Congratulations to all fraternities' and sororities' pledge classes. It seems like a long time, those ninety days. Good luck!

There will be a new addition to the Theta Chi house on Bryson Street. The addition is a new shower and sink upstairs. This will help greatly in the new look for spring on Bryson.

KAPPA SIGMA KAPPA

New members initiated into Kappa Sigma Kappa this semester are: Jim Richards, Karl Sachs, Tom Burton, Jim Tsagaris, Tom Ruban, Don Gorgei, Joe Pitori, Vic Angel, Ken Melek, and Gregg Ramm.

The brothers of Kappa Sigma Kappa held their first two rush parties February 12 and 19; both were tremendous successes. The third, held at Brendt's was just as successful.

Kappa Sigma Kappa would like to thank Delta Chi Epsilon for the fine party they had with us on Feb. 16.

Congratulations to the following brothers on their recent pinnings. Jim Brakney to Carolyn Peluso of Alpha Omicron Pi; Brian Donley to Elaine Sefara; and Bill Kay to Annette Cioffe of Sigma Sigma Sigma.

Mickey Davis wanted to see his name in print; so here it is.

ALPHA PHI DELTA

The brothers of Alpha Phi Delta would like to congratulate brother Ralph (Butch) Morrelli on his signing with the Washington Redskins of the National Football League. Good luck, Butch!

With the Greek Sing coming up the brothers might be found humming the "scale" so don't think we're crazy.

At the last meeting, the brothers of Alpha Phi Delta were visited by our National Vice-President, brother Sococia and National Treasurer, brother Scati. They attended our meeting to meet new brothers and to present our president, Sam LaLama, a beautiful plaque representing the "Most Outstanding Undergraduate Award." This award is given to the outstanding undergraduate in Alpha Phi Delta National Fraternity annually.

Our basketball team is doing very good; led by Dave Veita we now hold a 3-1 record.

PHI MU

The Phi Mu's were very happy to receive their new pledges, Carole Listiak, Rita Ritz, Nadene Marshall, Ginny Ward. The pledges were to be honored at a dinner. We had 25 girls and only 2 cars. Have you ever heard of overcrowded cars? Well, there were eleven Phi Mu's and one pledge in Susie Berndt's car. It was really fun driving up Wick Avenue.

The sisters of Phi Mu visited a newly installed chapter at Westminster College. We had a terrific time and are looking forward to having our sisters visit us.

Founder's Day will be Youngstown Phi Mu Alumnae and Youngstown's Alpha Mu chapter at a tea on March 5 at the sorority apartment. Phi Mu, the second oldest National Panhellenic Conference member was founded 109 years ago on March 4, 1852 at Wesleyan College, Macon, Georgia and now has over 35,000 collegiate and Alumnae members.

BETA SIGMA OMICRON

Since our last visit, the Betas have been busy with rush parties under the guidance of Joyce Cople and Ellie Novotny. As a result we now have ten pledges -- Merrily Beringer, Karen Chain, Jeanne Davies, Joyce Emery, Barbara Gioppo, Karen Kasmer, Patricia Loveless, Janice Manolio, Joan Pletnik, and Gerri Sfara. The girls were installed as pledges in Tuesday, February 28, followed by a dinner at the Golden Drumstick. Carole Walton will be pledge Trainer.

Best wishes to sister Judy Garland on her recent pinning to Lynn Newland of Sigma Phi Epsilon, to Jeanne Davies who is pinned to Dave Kessler of Tau Kappa Epsilon and to Joy Miller on her recent engagement to John Mellon of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Sister Patty Wagner was in a car accident recently. We are looking forward to her speedy recovery. The Betas visit her each day at South Side Hospital. Patty would like to thank everyone for the many cheery cards and gifts.

BETA TAU

The Brothers of Beta Tau moved into their new house at 1348 Bryson, and would like to thank everyone who gave a helping hand. (They'll be returned!)

The Beta Tau Social Committee, which comprises David Rosensweig, Edward Schwartz and Bruce Irwin, has been complimented by the appointment of Steve Meyers of New Castle.

Don Steinman, Larry Dubbs and Richard Passan attended the regional convention of Zeta Beta Tau's Michigan State chapter, Beta Epsilon, on March 3, 4 and 5. Discussions consisted of rushing, pledging, public relations, administration, and scholarship.

The Brothers of Beta Tau wish to congratulate John Westbrook who has been awarded a 3-year fellowship under the National Defense Graduate Fellowship Program, for graduate study at the University of Pittsburgh.

ZETA PHI

The brothers of Zeta Phi announce the pinnings of Dave Pond to Judy Waters and Ken Litwin to Bernie Dutko. Dave is now set with a date to the New Year's Eve party.

Congratulations to the basketball team which made the intramural league playoffs with a perfect 5-0 record. Bob Callen was the surprising spark of the team. We are looking forward to intramural action.

Congratulations are also extended to Lee Rowbottom who placed third in the Topsy Turvy contest.

TAU KAPPA EPSILON

Congratulations are in order to fraters who recently became pinned or engaged. Those who were pinned are Bob Kling to Maxine Custers, Nick Rega to Sandy Bevilacqua, and John Bermann to Pat DeMichela. John Mellon became engaged to Joy Miller and Ron Viets to Pamela Tedrick.

Recently we visited the chapter at Penn College for a basketball tournament between several chapters and took a trophy for second place.

Congratulations to Brother James Riley who was the co-chairman of the annual Military Ball held March 4th.

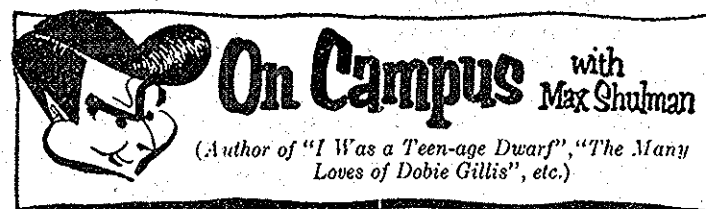

TKE's new officers were elected recently. They are John Bermann, president, Walt Rusnak, vice-president, John Passarelli, treasurer, Bill Paddock, secretary, Don Edwards, chaplain, Jack Faulkner, pledge trainer, Ron Brothers, sergeant at arms, and Dave Hopper, historian.

ALPHA IOTA

At Alpha Iota's business meeting March 7, Mrs. Johanna McKenna was installed as co-sponsor. After the ceremony a business meeting was held. Final plans were made for the St. Patrick's Day Dinner Dance to be held at the Shenango Inn. Carla Clark is chairman.

Best wishes to Kathy Waddell on her recent engagement to John Zavar and to Mary Kay O'Day on being pinned to Greg Bardon of Zeta Phi.

I WAS A TEEN-AGE SLIDE RULE

In a recent learned journal (Mad) the distinguished board chairman (Ralph "Hot-Lips" Sigafos) of one of our most important American corporations (the Art Mechanical Dog Co.) wrote a trenchant article in which he pinpointed our gravest national problem: the lack of culture among science graduates.

Mr. Sigafos's article, it must be emphasized, was in no sense derogatory. He stated quite clearly that the science student, what with his gruelling curriculum in physics, math, and chemistry, can hardly be expected to find time to study the arts too. What Mr. Sigafos deplors--indeed, what we all deplore--is the lopsided result of today's science courses: graduates who can build a bridge but can't compose a concerto, who know Planck's Constant but not Botticelli's Venus, who are familiar with Fraunhofer's lines but not with Schiller's.

Mr. Sigafos can find no solution to this hideous imbalance. I, however, believe there is one--and a very simple one. It is this: if students of science don't have time to come to the arts, then we must let the arts come to students of science.

He will know that he is a fulfilled man...

For example, it would be a very easy thing to teach poetry and music right along with physics. Students, instead of merely being called upon to recite in physics class, would instead be required to rhyme their answers and set them to familiar tunes--like, for instance, The Colonel Bogey March. Thus recitations would not only be chock-full of important facts but would, at the same time, expose the student to the aesthetic delights of great music. Here, try it yourself. You all know The Colonel Bogey March. Come, sing along with me:

Physics
Is what we learn in class.
Einstein
Said energy is mass.
Newton
Is highfalutin
And Pascal's a rascal. So's Boyle.

Do you see how much more broadening, how much more uplifting to learn physics this way? Of course you do. What? You want another chorus? By all means:

Leyden
He made the Leyden jar.
Trolley
He made the Trolley car.
Curie
Rode in a surrey,
And Diesel's a weasel. So's Boyle.

Once the student has mastered The Colonel Bogey March, he can go on to more complicated melodies like Death and Transfiguration, the Eroica, and Love Me Tender.

And when the student, loaded with science and culture, leaves the classroom and lights his Marlboro, how much more he will enjoy that filter, that flavor, that pack or box! Because there will no longer be an unease gnawing at his soul, no longer a little voice within him repeating that he is culturally a dolt. He will know--know joyously--that he is a fulfilled man, a whole man, and he will bask and revel in the pleasure of his Marlboro as a colt rolls in new grass--content, complete, truly educated--a credit to his college, to himself, and to his tobaccoist!

And while he is rolling, colt-wise, in the new grass, perhaps he would stop long enough to try a new cigarette from the makers of Marlboro--unfiltered, king-size Philip Morris Commander. Welcome aboard!

YU Student Society Launches Drive For Added Membership

The Student Affiliate Chapter of the American Chemical Society will begin a membership drive during the next few weeks. Those students who have had at least one semester of chemistry and are majoring in chemistry or chemical engineering are eligible. Application blanks can be obtained at the office of the department of chemistry.

The chapter has plans for a well rounded semester of activity. Research laboratory tours are scheduled and films and talks will be presented at the meetings.

At the last regular meeting Dr. Kuether of the chemistry department spoke on "A Bird's Eye View of Biochemistry." In his talk he related biology to chemistry and pointed out the importance of this relationship to the research and development of new drugs.

As a contribution to the new Science Building the chapter has donated chemistry handbooks which will be placed in the laboratories for student use.

Five Attend Meeting

Miss Laborde and four executive members of the Women's Recreation Association will attend the annual ARPOCW Convention at Muskingham University on March 10 and 11.

The convention deals with physical education and recreational aspects of surrounding colleges and universities.

SEA Banquet

The annual Student Education Association banquet has been set for Thursday, March 16, at 6 p.m. at the Foster Memorial Presbyterian Church, corner of West Indianola and Glenwood.

All members will be sent two tickets. The banquet is open to S.E.A. members and friends. Admission is $2.50 per person.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Sidney Berkowitz whose topic will be "I Call You Kids for the Last Time."

Dana Presents Concert

A Concert will be presented by the Dana Percussion Ensemble on Monday, March 22 at 8 p.m.

The Ensemble under the direction of Prof. X James Wisler, has been noted for its many interesting and unusual performances during the past years.

International Club Selects Officers

The International Student Association held their spring election on Thursday, February 23. The new officers are Panayratis Mitas, president, Manouchehr Hazrati, vice president, Thomai Batianis, secretary, Borislav Vuksanovich, treasurer, and Marleta Barnes, social chairman.

The purpose of I.S.O. is to bring students of diverse nationalities and backgrounds together. Twenty-six countries are represented in the organization. Meetings are held twice a month and include talks by members and guests, films, and recreational activities.

The next meeting will be held tonight at 7 p.m. in Ford Hall. The guest speaker for the evening will be K. Ramachandran of India. His topic is "Education in India." It will be followed by a table tennis tournament and refreshments.

All students interested in joining the organization are invited to attend.

Pre-Med Students To Tour Hospital

The Youngstown Association of Medical Technologists has arranged a tour of all pre-medical technology students through the South Side Hospital labs on March 15 at 4:30 p.m.

Students interested in the tour are requested to sign up in room 208 of the Science Building. Cars will be leaving from the Bryson Street entrance of the Science Building at 4:10.

Contact Dr. Bridgham in room 208 for further information.

Dance Contest Planned At Strouss, March 21

The Women's Physical Education Department will sponsor a dance contest 8 p.m. March 21, at Strouss Auditorium.

The program will feature modern dance numbers, folk dances from Romania and Croatia, and a Charleston number.

All participants are Youngstown University students. Rosemary Modarelli and Kathi Roberts are assistants in program planning. Gary Scavnicky has assisted in the choreography for the folk dances.

The entire program is under the direction of Miss Marilyn Kocinski, instructor in physical education.

ROTC Dance Held Last Week

The 11th Annual Military Ball was held by the ROTC Corps of Cadets of Youngstown University last Friday night at Stambaugh Auditorium. Honored guests included President Howard W. Jones, Dean Smith, Dean Gillespie, and their wives.

The theme "Airborne" was emphasized by five orange and white cargo parachutes which hung, stretched across the ceiling. Other decorations included insignia of various Army Airborne divisions.

Officer of the Day was Cadet Major Ed Yaugo. Cadet Captain Ed Schwartz, as master of ceremonies, introduced the staff of the corps and presented gifts to the dates of the seniors.

A varsity tennis meeting will be held in the Athletic Office, (basement of Tod Hall), Monday March 13th at 3:00 p.m. All students interested in playing tennis for YU this spring are urged to attend the session.

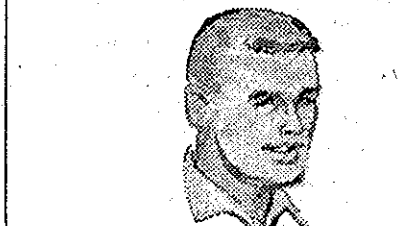

Beede Speaks at B-W

Penguins Open Tourney Against Wittenberg

YU Penetrates NCAA; Tigers Top Defensively

Wittenberg College is Youngstown University's first opponent in the NCAA Mid-East Regional College Division Tournament at Crawfordsville, Indiana, March 10. Wittenberg earned the right to meet Youngstown by capturing the Ohio Conference Tournament defeating Akron 51-43.

The powerful Wittenberg quintet has won 33 straight games in the Ohio Conference and has an over-all record of 20-4. They are the No. 1 defensive team in the NCAA college tourney. This is Youngstown's first entry into this tournament and should provide teams of higher caliber than the NAIA, the small college tournament in which Youngstown previously had participated. A significant factor that will lessen the Penguins' chances of capturing the tournament is that no freshman is permitted to participate in the tournament by NCAA rules. This will hamper Youngstown's over-all effectiveness somewhat because freshman such as Jim Hemmelwright and Fred Jones have helped the team.

Win or lose in the first try at the NCAA championship, the school and the student body have a lot to be proud of. The coach and team have displayed a morale and desire unequalled in college basketball today. Pre-season forecasts did not indicate whatsoever that Youngstown was going to have a successful season. Yet, they have captured the respect and admiration of everyone who have seen them play. The team has brought a great amount of dignity to our school by its accomplishments. We will be equally proud of this year's team win or lose in the tournament.

Boosters Form To Aid Athletes

Several followers of Youngstown University athletics have combined to form the University Boosters Association to aid the athletic program at Youngstown.

The primary purpose of the club is to provide adequate training meals and suitable living quarters for athletes here. Long range plans call for annual testimonial banquets and the construction of a football stadium.

The association, the first attempt to organize a club to boost Penguin athletics, is still in the formative stages. At present there are about 150 members signed for 1961. A membership drive is currently being conducted with a goal of 300 active members.

While the club is not directly associated with the University, it will operate within the limits set up by the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the governing body of college athletics.

Pres. Howard W. Jones and Willard L. Webster, athletic director, will act as advisors for the club. Officers of the new organization include John Baglier, president; Frank Kryzan, vice president; Victor Johnson, secretary; and Charles Wolfe, treasurer.

- Zeta Phi - - 15-17
- Phi Sigma Kappa - - 12-20
- Beta Tau - - 9-23

Nine Hopefuls Vie For Championship

With intramural basketball season over, the sectional playoffs began this week. Commissioner John Georges stated that the boys cooperated very well to make a successful basketball season.

The playoffs, which decide the league champions, began last Tuesday, March 7. The top two teams of each division were eligible for competition.

The contenders chosen from division one are Zeta Phi and the defending champs, the Bombers, both boasting perfect records. Entries from division two were the Cavemen (6-0) and KEK (3-1). Pollock House will represent division three in play. The Rejects (6-0) and the Donkey AC's (3-2) represented division four. The undefeated Vikings, and the Riflemen with a 4-1 record played from the fifth division.

The championship game will be played at 3:45 p.m. this afternoon. At press time no results were reported from the league.

One of the best investments you'll ever make...

You know what you invest in advanced ROTC ... two years of classroom time and outside study.

But just see how handsomely your investment pays off.

First and foremost, there's the proud moment in Graduation Week when the gold bars of a Second Lieutenant are pinned on your Army uniform ... and deep inside the warm sense of accomplishment at having made it.

There's immediate help in meeting expenses

... a subsistence allowance of $535 for the two-year advanced ROTC course. Uniforms and military textbooks paid for. $117 for your six-week summer camp training, plus travel allowance. And when you're commissioned, a $330 uniform allowance.

You discharge your military obligation with the traditional rank, pay, privileges and responsibilities of an officer in the United States Army.

And later, when you're starting your climb up the civilian ladder, advanced ROTC will still be paying off. Success in the executive areas of business and industry comes earlier and more substantially to the man who can lead. Few are born leaders; but leadership can be learned. And advanced ROTC is a great place to learn it.

Talk with the Professor of Military Science at your school. Learn more about advanced ROTC. Ask particularly about the ROTC course in Leadership, with its practical experience in command responsibilities.

As We See It

The Call of the Wild

By Pat McCarren and Blaise Deleo

Yes, sports fans, that time of year has come again, when the cry of the wild is once more heard, from the Snack Bar to North Hall, ringing across the campus - - "Hey, PLEDGE!!" The neophytes will surely note and will long remember these happy (?) daze of pledging to their respective Greek organizations, and we want to tell them just one thing... Congratulations, and good luck. (That was two things, wasn't it? Oh well...)

Of course, all of you have no doubt noted by now that Spring is coming, (at least it seemed that way at deadline time) and the school game warden has suddenly announced that the professor was coming up. And by gosh, he was right. You can refer to Bob as "ears" now.

Overheard in the Snack Bar: "When I let him steal a little kiss, I didn't know it would develop into a one-man crime wave."

If you read this during your 9:00 class, there are only 138 hours, 45 minutes 'till St. Patrick's Day is officially here. ZOWIE!

year, the Ole' Obbodokie Swamp next to the Snack Bar will be stocked with fish. The fish will be put in after the second thaw, when the ground is good and mucky, and the faculty ceases to park their cars there. (The reason for the fish is that many of "the boys" who stand outside the SB have complained that they want something to do besides just watching the girls go by. Boy, things are tough all over.

Some of the more ingenious students have invented a new game, which can be played in the Cafeteria, the Chaplains' office, in class, the Dean's office, or just about anywhere. It's called MYSTERY GUEST. The rules are fairly simple. Just wear a pair of shades (dark glasses to youse guys that are OUT), and pull your coat collar high around yourself. The object is to see how many of your friends you can fool with this disguise. Score one point for each friend that you manage to trick. Deduct four points for each friend who calls you "Marlon" or "Marilyn", or some similar name. When you reach 79 points, go to the cashier's office, collect $200., and proceed to Kent State.

Kampus Kop (to student struck by a hit-and-run delivery truck on campus): "Did you get his number?"

Student: "No, but I'd recognize his laugh any place."

Do you remember all those cards you filled out during registration? Why, shore you do. Anyhow, over in the Records Office, in the lower regions of the Library, they were very busy compiling statistics about student religious preferences. They found the usual number of Baptists, Methodists, Catholics, Jews, and so on listed under "Church Preference." But a neatly lettered card filled in by a civil engineering major really stopped them. His Church Preference was "Gothic."

Did you know... that you aren't allowed to have your chair extend into the aisle in the Cafeteria.

An extensive course is one in which the material that isn't covered in class is covered in the quizzes.

We aren't sure who gets the Nice Guy of the Week Award, but it goes to one of two persons who parked their cars in front of and behind a little white Renault on Spring Street. Each of these persons pulled up tight against the little one, and the unhappy driver of the Renault had to have some friends lift his car out of the spot, sideways. Thanx boys.

One of the best ideas of the year is the spotting of the pop and coffee vending machines in Tod Hall. We have an 8 o'clock in Tod Hall five days a week, and there's not enough time to go to the Cafe or the SB. One thing... be sure to bring your own cup for coffee.

Have you been looking for a new way to open a conversation? Try this one... "Hey Joann! Do you have your contacts on today?" Credit for that one goes to Bill Zuti.

Speaking of talented people, Bob Calcagni was standing outside a classroom in Tod Hall one day at 11:00, listening to the sounds of footsteps on the stairs, when he
