

Dan Fogelberg to make rare area appearance

by Lisa Rossman

Dan Fogelberg will be appearing in a rare one-man show at 8 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 12 in Beeghly Center. His only area appearance is being presented by the YSU Major Events Committee.

Dan Fogelberg is one of the brightest talents to emerge during the Seventies. The twenty-six year old artist was encouraged early in his musical growth to follow his creative abilities. Dan's first album, Home Free, was recorded and produced in Nashville.

A year-and-a-half later he returned to the studio for the release of his second album. Recorded on the Epic/Full Moon label, Souvenirs was produced with the help of Joe Walsh and it sent Dan into the commercial firmament and yielded him a hit single, "Part of the Plan." Dan calls it his "L.A. album."

Following the release of Souvenirs, Dan's lifestyle took on a change and the results were obvious in his next album, Captured Angel. Both Souvenirs and Captured Angel achieved gold status.

Dan's newest album is called Netherlands and on this album the lyrics and music deal with the struggles and conflicts of youth and age within oneself. It is about living on the edge, or as Dan says in "Scarecrows Dream," "Between the world of men and make-believe I can be found."

According to Mark Shanley, YSU students can obtain tickets for the concert in advance at the price of $6.50 only at Kilcawley Center Candy Counter. General admission tickets priced at $7.50 can be purchased at all area National Record Marts, Ticketron Outlets and at the door.

Still have no contract

SEIU appeals court ruling

by Sherry Williams

A contract still has not been negotiated for the classified employees of YSU due to a court suit filed by the Service Employees International Union Local 627 according to Mr. Phil Rogers, director of personnel at YSU.

In an election last April the Ohio Civil Service Employees Association was chosen as the collective bargaining agent for YSU classified employees in a three way battle with the SEIU and the Communication Workers of America.

After the election a contract was to be drawn up for classified employees of YSU -- those workers who are employed by the University in staff positions other than faculty or administration, supervisors, confidential employees, management level employees, members of the security force and intermittent employees.

Before last spring's election the SEIU filed an injunction to hold up the election and it was delayed for seven days. They said that the interests of all classified employees could not effectively be represented by one bargaining agent. But Common Pleas Judge Charles J. Bannon ruled, "The evidence is not clear and convincing that any of the classified civil service employees at YSU lack a community of interest to such an extent that more than one bargaining representative should be elected."

It is this decision that the SEIU is appealing according to Rogers. Steve Lieber, staff representative of the OCSEA, reports that the SEIU filed this suit in May just after the elections on April 21 when the OCSEA received 222 votes, the SEIU received 120 votes and the CWA received 29 votes.

Lieber said, "The SEIU just wants to keep the 37 members they had before the elections." He also reported that, "The University will not negotiate on a contract until this matter is settled. There's a proposal for a contract ready to go now."

Lieber said if the SEIU wins their appeal another election will have to be held to select two separate bargaining units.

Meanwhile, YSU classified employees are working without a contract. Lieber reported that there several employee grievances which are hardly being acted on at the present time. He said if there were a contract a mediator could be brought in to settle these grievances. Two of the grievances he was referring to were those filed by library workers in protest of the dress code and by maintenance workers who are protesting having to cut the grass in the rain.

Rogers said these grievances are being taken care of now in standard grievance procedure with a University panel reviewing the cases.

Rogers said that no date has been set for the hearing in the appeal case.

State has allocated $9 million for Sports Complex construction

Governor James Rhodes signed a bill last Friday which will give YSU $9 million towards the construction of a Sports Complex and parking deck.

Seven million dollars of the money allocated to YSU will be used for the building of a $13 million Sports Complex. The Complex is to be built on 17.8 acres of land located on the northern edge of campus, off Fifth Avenue, behind Beeghly Center.

The Sports Complex will have multi-purpose sports fields to accommodate football, field hockey and soccer. Baseball and softball diamonds, tennis courts and an eight-lane all weather track are also planned.

A 13,000 to 16,000 seat stadium is to be built which will feature press and broadcasting areas, concession areas, players and officials dressing rooms and coaches offices. The shell of the stadium is to house administration, educational and staff facilities along with additional handball, volley ball and badminton areas.

According to Edward Salata, dean of administrative affairs, the stadium portion of the Complex is to be paid for with public funds, not state aid. $3.1 million was raised last year in a drive to collect money from the community and University personnel for the building of the stadium. The drive was headed by Frank C. Watson, president of the Youngstown Welding and Engineering Company. The remaining $3 million needed to build the complex was put up by the University.

Although the Sports Complex will be used extensively by YSU teams, University officials say other community events can be scheduled through the University. Fridays specifically will be open for use by high school football teams.

State funds totaling $2 million along with $5 million allocated by the YSU Board of Trustees will be used to construct a parking deck. The deck is to be located on Wick Avenue, across from the Maag Library.

According to Salata the deck will hold 2,000 cars and will compensate for the parking spaces lost in the building of the Sports Complex.

Salata said construction of the parking deck is to begin in late November or early December and should be completed by fall of 1978.

The Sports Complex design now must receive state approval before actual construction can begin.

Financial aid now available to laid-off steel workers

Special financial aid of up to $150 each awaits Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company workers and dependents of employees directly affected by the company's curtailment of operations who wish to attend YSU during the winter and spring quarters of 1978.

The aid will be generated by a $50,000 grant awarded by the Youngstown Education Foundation as previously announced. It will be used for the express purpose of helping employees and dependents already enrolled or who may wish to enroll to further their academic education or to learn new skills for other employment.

Applications will be available on Nov. 1 at the University's financial aids office in Room 162 of Kilcawley Center. Those who want to enroll for the winter quarter must return their applications no later than Tuesday, Nov. 15.

John E. Wales, III, YSU director of financial aid, said the awards will be made on a first-come basis so long as the funds last. Only students with good academic standing are eligible.

Not eligible for the special aid are students already receiving other Youngstown Educational Foundation awards, or those now getting other financial assistance equal to or in excess of normal fees plus book and supplies allowance.

The special YEF grant was conceived by the University President John J. Coffelt and Foundation Chairman Dr. Howard Jones in response to the economic problem created by the job terminations announced by the steel company.

Correction

The Jambar mistakenly reported in the Friday, Oct. 28 issue that the associate degree program in nursing is undergoing changes to meet accreditation for the National League of Nursing. The associate program is already approved by the NLN. The upper division program is now seeking NLN approval.

CAMPUS SHORTS

Toronto Trip

Kilcawley Center Program Board Recreation Committee is sponsoring its second trip to Toronto, Ontario on Nov. 11-13, 1977. This trip is being offered for $14.95, which includes round-trip bus transportation from YSU, hotel discounts, and an information packet of the city.

For more information contact the KCPB Recreation Committee in Kilcawley.

Wine and Cheese Party

The Penguin Ski Club is sponsoring a Wine & Cheese Party on Friday, Nov. 4, from 9 p.m. - 1 a.m. at Central Park West Clubhouse. To get there from YSU go out Mahoning Ave. five miles to Fazio's, turn left on Idaho Rd., go 300 feet past the first stop sign and turn in to the Clubhouse. Cost is $1.50 and you do not have to be a member to attend.

For more information contact the Student Government Office, ask for the Ski Club.

Achievement Award

Alpha Nu chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota at the Dana School of Music was awarded the college chapter achievement award given annually by the fraternity's Ohio province. In competition with five other province chapters, Alpha Nu was named for having best fulfilled national objectives for the 1976-77 school year.

The chapter actively pursues the musical goals of the fraternity, with performances at monthly musicales, and responds to local requests to present musical programs.

Interview Workshop

The Phi Kappa Phi Society and the Counseling Center are sponsoring an Interview Workshop for students who plan to attend a medically-related professional school from 4-6 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 9, in Kilcawley Center, room 216.

The workshop is open to any student majoring in pre-pharmacy and students with sophomore or above standing in medically-related majors. Sue Cochran, of the Counseling Center, will explain different types of interviews and students will have the opportunity to participate in practice interviews.

Sign-up for the Interview Workshop, which is limited to 30 students, is on a first-come, first-serve basis. The sign-up sheet is posted in Ward Beecher on the third floor wall outside the Graduate Student offices, Room 320, and Dr. Schilder's office, Room 321. If a large amount of interest is shown another Interview Workshop will be held.

Senior Recitals

Thomas Dalahunty, Christine Blice and Allan McCarthy, all senior students in the Dana School of Music will present their senior recitals in November.

Their performances, in the new Bliss Recital Hall, comprise a part of the Dana School's Friday Series. Each performance is at 8:30 p.m. and is open to the public without charge.

Delahunty will present a trombone recital on Nov. 4. He is a student of Vern L. Kagarice, associate professor of music at Dana.

On Nov. 11 Blice will present an organ recital, playing the new Schlicker organ in the Bliss recital hall. She is a student of Professor Ronald L. Gould.

McCarthy, a student of Assistant Professor of music Walter Mayhall, will present a flute recital on Nov. 18.

Composition Placement Tests

The English department will be administering the freshman composition placement test at 4 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 3, in Schwebel Auditorium. All current students at YSU who have not yet taken the placement test and who have not received credit for English 550 should take the test Nov. 3 in order to receive placement recommendations and permits to enroll in appropriate sections of 550.

Please bring 2 pencils, a thirteen cents postage stamp, several sheets of white notebook paper and your social security number. There is no fee for taking the test. Any questions should be directed to Nancy McCracken at the English department.

"WHERE HI-FIDELITY BECOMES REALITY"

Sports Complex soon to be reality

The YSU Sports Complex is one step closer to becoming a reality since Governor Rhodes' signing of the $526 million dollar capital improvement budget last Friday.

From the $526 million, $9 million is to be allocated to YSU, $7 million to be used for the building of the sports complex and $2 million to go toward a parking deck.

The controversies over whether or not YSU needs a stadium and the arguments about putting the money to a better use are now no longer relevant. The bureaucratic wheels have been set in motion and YSU is going to have a sports complex.

What is important now is that those involved in the project make sure that the complex lives up to its expected promise.

The sports complex can be an asset to the University if it is constructed with proper planning and put into use with the students in mind.

It is important that the expanded volleyball, handball and badminton courts are fully open to student use and that the new facilities are easily accessible to the often overcrowded intramural program. Also it is important that the extra space in the shell of the stadium be used to relieve the overflow of educational, staff and administrative needs from Beeghly.

By keeping the original purposes of the complex in mind and by proceeding on the project with planning and foresight, maybe some of the pitfalls that seem to accompany new buildings at YSU can be avoided.

Council discusses the possibility of obtaining student discount card

Student body president George Glaros and student council members will be looking into the possibility of obtaining discounts for students, perhaps through an advertising agency which sponsors Student Buying Power Cards, it was decided at the student council meeting last evening.

The agency that sponsors these Student Buying Power Cards would solicit merchants in the Youngstown area and ask them to give discounts to students with these cards. Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. has already agreed to give students a 20 percent discount on new tires if a system such as this were set up.

A motion to adopt and distribute these cards was tabled pending further investigation of the discount system.

Glaros said he favors having student council members contact area merchants to determine if they would be willing to give student discounts by showing a YSU I.D. card instead of joining the Student Buying Power Cards.

In other action a committee has been formed to look into security problems on campus, a meeting with the treasurers of student organizations had been called and money has been allocated to the Day Care Committee.

A committee of three student council members, chaired by Sam Barbara, will meet with Security Chief Paul Cress concerning matters of campus security, such as vandalism.

A meeting to be held at 3 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 3, in Kilcawley Room 216 will be held to discuss the budget policies of student council to the treasurers of various student organizations. Penalty for not attending the meeting is the freezing of the organization's funds.

$103.50 was approved to be given to the Day Care Committee so that they may man a table in Maag Library during registration week. They will be conducting a survey concerning day care needs and money is being allocated to pay someone to man the survey table.

LETS also requested a transference of funds for travel to the University of Pittsburgh to examine a brochure they put out for handicapped students. Further investigation of the request is pending.

Cherrie Lytle, engineering representative to council, read a list of complaints and comments from an unscientific random sampling of students that she took. They included concern over book store reselling practices, coverage of sports and comics in the Jambar, and suggestions for a Student Council newsletter, among others.

Letters:

Would like to correct misprint

To the editor of the Jambar:

I appreciate the review by Doreen Barnett of my book, A New World Ideology, in the October 25 issue of the Jambar. However, one sentence in the review evidently resulted from a rather serious misprint, which I would like to correct. The sentence in question read, "Dr.

Eshleman also questions man's belief in a god and the existence of the earth.

The first half of the sentence is reasonably accurate. I not only question man's belief in a god, but I emphasize the total absence of any scientific evidence that would support a belief in gods, devils, angels, miracles or supernatural powers of any kind.

But nowhere in A New World Ideology do I question the existence of the earth. That portion of the sentence in question probably resulted from the editing down of a somewhat longer article in order to fit the review with space limitations.

Nevertheless, I want my friends and readers to understand that I am a strong believer in the existence of the earth.

Graduates are warned of hazards filing bankruptcy on school loans

Do you have a student loan? Are you thinking about getting one? If this is the case, then here are some important facts you should know regarding loan payments and bankruptcy.

In 1975, Ann graduated from her state university with a master's degree in education, lots of confidence - and $7,500 in debts she had accumulated during her last five years of schooling. She quickly discovered that there were no jobs for high school French teachers, and that she was either overqualified or unskilled for any other available jobs. Her best opportunity, it seemed, was a $5,500-a-year clerk in an insurance office - a far cry from the $9,000 she had counted on as a teacher. To top it off, she received the first monthly bill of $91 for repayment of her college loans.

Unwilling to face ten years of repaying a loan with only meager earning prospects, Ann declared bankruptcy - that is, she went to court, told the judge she was unable to pay her debts, and asked to have them legally cancelled. Under bankruptcy law, which varies somewhat from state to state, a person declaring bankruptcy must turn over most of her assets to be distributed to her creditors - in Ann's case, this was the $65 in her savings account. She handed over the $65 and left the courthouse legally free and clear of her $7,500 debt forever.

From 1974 to 1976, 12,300 former students filed similar bankruptcy claims totaling $15 million borrowed through various government-funded loan programs. Is bankruptcy a sensible step if you are confronted with heavy college debts that your budget can't accommodate?

If you go through bankruptcy, you should remember that a report of your bankruptcy remains in your credit bureau file for fourteen years. This means that every time you apply for a charge account, bank loan or mortgage, the prospective lender will read about your bankruptcy. Some creditors may take into consideration the special circumstances surrounding your action (and by law you can write your own explanatory statement and have it placed in your credit report), but nevertheless, you may have trouble getting credit for a long time to come.

Bankruptcy is a last resort for those clearly in a position in which they will never be able to repay their debts and carry on with their life; it is not meant for young men and women who find it temporarily inexpedient to meet debt repayments.

All government loan programs encourage former students who are having trouble repaying educational loans to apply to their bank of college lenders for "forbearance" - the term which is used when you ask an institution to change the terms of your loan to make it easier for you to repay. For example, if you are scheduled to repay your loan in ten years with minimum payments of $30 a month, you can ask the bank to reduce your monthly payments to a more manageable level by spreading out payments over a longer period of time. Also note that new 1976 laws specifically provide for deferment of repayments for up to twelve months during any one period when you are unemployed and looking for full-time work.

There are two very popular loan programs for higher education. One, the Guaranteed Student Loan Program (GSLP), lends up to $2,500 a year, with a maximum loan of $7,500 for undergraduates (including those taking vocational training) and $15,000 for undergraduates who then go on to do graduate work. Most of the lenders are banks, credit unions, savings and loan associations and state agencies; in a few cases, the college or university makes the loan directly. The Federal government reimburses the lender 100 percent if the student defaults. Repayment is required in ten years or less, with minimum payments of $30 a month, and usually begins within nine months after leaving the college program. A new law, which was enacted last year and which went into effect Oct. 1, 1977, prohibits any student with a GSLP loan from having it discharged through bankruptcy until at least five years after the required repayment period begins. There is talk in Congress, though, about repealing this.

The other, the National Direct Student Loan Program (NDSLPL), lends up to $5,000 for undergraduate education, $2,500 for certain vocational programs, and up to $10,000 for undergraduate and graduate education. Under the NDSLPL, the school itself makes the loan with some 90 percent of the money coming from the Federal government and 10 percent from the school. If the student defaults, the school is out its 10 percent. Repayment is required in ten

Planetarium opens '77-78 series this Thursday

Not even the sky is the limit at YSU's planetarium where the first of three shows for the 1977-78 season is being readied for its Nov. 3 premier.

Open to the public without charge on a reservation basis, the show makes use of the planetarium's sophisticated projection equipment to present what lies ahead in the amazing field of space exploration.

The first of the three shows is entitled, "The High Frontier" and takes a look forward to the wide ranging space spectaculars planned for the years immediately ahead. The visionary but practical minded scientists who have brought the space shuttle into being have other missions in mind and these are examined in the planetarium's initial presentation.

THE DEAN OF BEER'S QUICKIE QUIZ.

Q: The figure "130" represents:

- a) The number of mailmen in the U.S. answering to the name of Louie.
- b) Any combination of the numbers 70 and 60.
- c) The number of times the word porcupine can be written on a zucchini.
- d) The number of Schlitz taste testers.
- e) Both (b) and (d).

A: (e) I can think of no combination of 70 and 60 that does not equal 130. (If you can, you now know why you are flunking math.)

I also can't think of anything better than being a Schlitz taste tester. Except, perhaps, owning Kuwait.

And Schlitz maintains a trained panel of over 130 of them. They're qualified and requalified experts who make sure your taste for quality is never disappointed.

NEWS BRIEFS

Mary F. Berry, HEW Assistant Secretary for Education, announced the establishment of an internal HEW Task Force on Civil Rights Issues in Vocational Education. This Task Force will examine compliance problems of state, area, and local vocational education institutions with civil rights laws which prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, sex, national origin, and handicap.

The Task Force will also identify Title VI, Title IX, and Section 504 compliance issues in vocational education.

Members of the Task Force represent the Assistant Secretary for Education, The Assistant Secretary for Planning and Evaluation, the Assistant Secretary for Human Development Services, the Director of the Office for Civil Rights, the General Counsel, the Commissioner of Education, the Director of the National Institute of Education, and the Deputy Commissioner of Education, Bureau of Occupational and Adult Education.

Panamanians have now approved by a two to one margin the "canal treaties" negotiated with the United States, despite the lighter than expected voter majority. The canal accords would give Panama control of the strategic waterway by the year 2000.

According to George Beelen, chairman, History, the advantages of ratifying the treaties outweigh the bad.

Dr. Beelen says the Carter Administration may be acting hastily in trying to get the Senate's ratification which must be a two-thirds vote.

Senate debate on the treaties is expected in the nation's capitol early next year.

YSU grad Friedkin places third in Little People golf tournament

Last month Gary Friedkin, a 1975 YSU grad, placed third in the finals of Billy Barty's 5th Annual Little People's Invitational Golf Tournament.

The contest was held on the manicured knolls of the Azusa Country Club in Azusa, Calif., a suburb of L.A., on September 25.

It included 200 golfers: celebrities, sponsors, guests and 55 "little people", as some persons 4'10" and under prefer to be called.

Friedkin, who is a little person, has played in the tournament four of the five years it has been held at Azusa. This tournament, his first triumph, netted him a beautiful trophy and national recognition as the third best golf player in his category in the U.S. He was preceded by first place winner, Jeff Scot, of California and second placer, Darryl Monzango from Washington State. Friedkin was .12 over par with a score of .82. He said he had no trouble with the course but that he blew a chance to win a color television and a mini-bike at par 3 where he came in second.

Friedkin has been playing golf for 10 years and is a nine year member of Little People of America, a national organization founded in or about 1957 to bring dwarfs and midgets in America to unity. It was at the group's 1972 national convention that well-known midget actor Bill Barty compiled a list of known golfers within the organization to take part in the 1st tournament. Since then, the yearly event has been held at the Azusa Country Club which is donated every year by owner John Johnson. All the proceeds go to the Harbor General Hospital where dwarfism is being studied and researched. Harbor General is in Los Angeles and has been the site of the television show Medical Center.

Some of the celebrated personalities who have played the years or less, usually beginning within nine months after education is completed. Minimum payments are $30 a month.

Filing for bankruptcy at any time is still a legal alternative for NDSLPL loans. However, a New York State Appeals Court ruled recently that even though a young man had declared bankruptcy, his NDSLPL loan was exempt - that is, it was not cancelled. The ruling so far is applicable only in New York State, but it could have far-reaching effects on potential bankruptcy cases in other states where NDSLPL loans are involved.

Penguins top Tartars for fifth win; strong defensive effort features

by Bill Snier

A strong defensive effort, which limited the Wayne State Tartars to only 33 yards total offense in the first half, helped keep the YSU Penguins playoff hopes alive by scoring a 31-10 victory over the Tartars at Rayen Stadium Saturday.

A Penguin problem all season long, too many costly turnovers, hampered the opposition this time as the Tartars fumbled four times, losing two, and threw two interceptions. Two of the Tartar mistakes were turned into Penguin tallies and two others halted Wayne State scoring drives.

At the outset, the game looked like it was going to be another of those kind of games when nothing goes right. Marschell Brumfield fumbled the ball on YSU's initial possession at the Penguin 27-yard line.

But the Penguins defense was equal to the task, stopping the Tartars cold at the thirty. A 47-yard field goal attempt by Duane Lockhart was short of the mark.

YSU then put on a drive of their own, getting into Wayne State territory at the 42. But Chuck Haynali was just short on a sixty-yard field goal attempt with the Tartars taking over at the twenty.

Three plays later, Tartar fullback Bruce Nichols coughed up the football with Sam Barbera falling on it to give the Penguins a first down at the Wayne State 16-yard line.

From there it took Freshman tailback James Robson only two carries to get into the end zone for a 7-0 lead, after Haynali's conversion.

On Wayne State's second play following the kickoff, a Jim Gendron pass was picked off by Freshman cornerback Larry Grist at the Tartar forty-three yard line.

On the Penguins' first play after the interception the Keith Snoddy to Jim Ferranti passing combination, which has worked so many times in the clutch this year, connected again on a beautiful 39-yard bomb to give the Penguins the ball on four. From there Robby Robson slashed in for his second tally, to increase the Penguin lead to 14-0.

The only other score of the first half came following a poor punt of only nine yards by Wayne State punter Tim Duffy which gave the Penguins possession on the Tartar 34-yard line.

The Penguins needed seven plays to get into the end zone, with the Snoddy to Ferranti combo working again, this time on a nine yard scoring pass. The TD pass was the fourth scoring pass thrown by Snoddy this season and was the second caught by Ferranti. At the half, YSU had taken command 21-0.

On their first possession of the second half, Wayne State fumbled again with Larry Grist coming up with the loose ball to give the Penguins the ball on the Wayne 36. But a fifty-one yard field goal by Haynali was wide to the right.

Following a Wayne State punt, the Penguins again ran for paydirt on a 31-yard pass from Snoddy to Freshman Randy Beal, in for Ferranti who was injured early in the second half. Beal ran a straight fly pattern down the left sideline with Snoddy pumping once to fool the defensive back and then letting go. For Beal it was his first touchdown pass in his YSU career.

Haynali later added a 32-yard field goal for the final Penguin points of the game.

The Wayne State Tartars finally got on the board in the fourth quarter when they intercepted a Bill Fink pass at the YSU twenty-five. For plays later Lockhart booted a 32-yard field goal to decrease the gap by 31-3.

The Tartars final tally came on a 41-yard touchdown pass from Terry Copacola to Dean Morrison to make the final count 31-10.

This Saturday, the Penguins continue their quest for the national playoffs against Eastern Illinois. A pre-game look at the Panthers will appear in Friday's Jambar.

COACHES CORNER

by Bill Narduzzi

"Winning isn't everything; it's the only thing." Vince Lombardi, the former coaching great with the Green Bay Packers is credited with this statement which most athletes believe in. They believe in it, not at the expense of breaking rules to achieve victory; not at the risk of life and limb of an opponent; not to the extent that all life ceases if victory is not attained, but they believe in it because of what one must endure in order to achieve winning, and what they achieve by enduring.

Winning - Victory - after a week of physical, mental and emotional preparation thrills a ball player more than the achievement of anything you can mention.

The YSU football team is learning more each day what Coach Lombardi really meant. Some Quoteable Quotes might give you an idea of some of the things we believe in relative to athletics. I'll bet we can all find one or two which could apply to our daily lives.

"Greatness is the ability to win in a stadium filled with people who are pulling for you to lose." Georgg Allen

"My ambition is to win more than anyone else. It makes you feel good to know you have accomplished what no one else has." Jack Nicklaus

"Football is two things. It's blocking and tackling. I don't care about formations of new offenses or tricks on defense. You block and tackle better than the team. You're playing, you win." Vince Lombardi

"You take the best team and the worst team and line them up and you would find very little physical difference. You would find an emotional difference. The winning team has dedication

They will not accept defeat." Merlin Olson

"Winning tastes good." Jean-Claude Killy

"We think back to the games we've lost and that makes us drive harder to win." Eric Russell

"Winning is like taking a vacation." Sonja Henie

"Never look back, someone might be gaining on you." Satchel Paige

"Challenge is the core and mainspring of all human activity. If there's an ocean we cross it; if there's a disease, we cure it; if there's a wrong, we right it; if there's a record, we break it; and finally, if there's a mountain, we climb it." James Ullman

"It is entertaining but takes vast dedication and sacrifice, and gives a great feeling of accomplishment when victory is achieved." Steve Haag, Sr. Linebacker, San Francisco

"Coming together is a beginning; keeping together is progress; working together is success." Winston Churchill

"Belief is a passion, or involuntary operation of the mind, and like other passions, its intensity is precisely proportionate to the degree of excitement." Percy Bysshe Shelly

"In each human heart are a tiger, a pig, an ass and a nightingale. Diversity of character is due to their unequal activity." Ambrose Bierce

"The blues of mental and physical wear and tear are not as devastating as the yellows of the quitter." James J. Walter

"Destiny is not a matter of chance, it is a matter of choice; it is not a thing to be waited for, it is a thing to be achieved."

SPORTS

SHORTS

Volleyball
With a 3-5 record, YSU's women's volleyball team will journey to Mt. Union on Tuesday, Nov. 1, for a triangular match with Mt. Union and Akron.

In a triangular match last Saturday, YSU won twice. In its first match, the Penguins defeated St. Francis, 15-10 and 15-6.

In the day's third match, YSU downed Duquesne 15-7, 15-9. Duquesne drops to 9-4 on the season, while St. Francis' record fell to 6-5.

Saturday's matches were the result of an outstanding team effort in which only two serving errors were committed.

In Saturday's action, Paula Patrizze served 11 points, Beth Fenton 11 points, Judy Rutz 10 points, and Roseann Napolitan served eight more points.

The offensive combination of setters Judy Rutz and Roseann

Napolitan, plus spikers Linda Fredericks, Youngstown and Paula Patrizze, combined for a total of 34 points.

Varsity Soccer

The YSU varsity soccer team won their second match of the season last Saturday when they put out visiting Hiram, 2-0, at Roosevelt Park.

Randy Lewis scored first for Coach George Hunter's booters as YSU held a 1-0 lead at the half. Early in the second half, Hamid Shajaree tallied a goal to give YSU their winning margin.

The win boosts the Penguins record to 2-5-1.

The Penguin booters return to action Wednesday against the Kent State Golden Flashes at Roosevelt Park. Game time is 3 p.m.

Haynali's mark
YSU sophomore placekicker

Chuck Haynali has established a new school mark for field goals in a career. His 32-yard field goal in the third quarter of the Wayne State game gave Haynali ten career field goals, one better than the old record of nine set between 1960 and 1963 by Dick Hartzell.

Dr. Pepper
YSU and Dr. Pepper have joined in a combined effort to promote YSU football and Dr. Pepper.

For one time only, Dr. Pepper is offering a colorful and warm knit stocking hat bearing the official YSU seal. Fans can obtain this useful Penguins souvenir by bringing 25 Dr. Pepper bottle caps to the YSU-Eastern Illinois football game this Saturday, Nov. 5, at Rayen Stadium.

This will be the only time that the bottle caps can be redeemed for a YSU Dr. Pepper (Cont. on page 10)

Field hockey team wins two in state tournament

by Linda Marker

YSU women's field hockey team suffered its first regular season loss last Tuesday to Kent State by a 3-0 score.

YSU also participated in the State Tournament last Friday and Saturday, Oct. 28-29, compiling a 1-2 record. Ohio Wesleyan beat the Penguins in their first game, 2-0.

YSU then defeated Bowling Green, 2-1, in a consolation bracket match. Cindy Burazer (Cortland) and Donna DeFiore (Girard), the two senior co-captains, scored the two goals.

DeFiore scored first for YSU giving the Penguins a 1-0 lead at halftime. BGSU tied early in the second half but Cindy Burazer drove in a goal at the 8:30 mark to insure victory for YSU.

The Penguins next battled Hiram in the tournament. The match was dead even with the first half ending in a scoreless tie and most of the second half also was scoreless. Then with four minutes remaining in the game, Hiram scored a lone goal to beat YSU for the first time in three seasons and knocked the Penguins out of the tournament.

The tournament saw many upsets, including the first two seeds, Denison and Ohio State, being knocked out early in the second round.

The University of Dayton captured the 1977 State Championship with Wooster College the runner-ups.

The YSU record now stands at 5-3-2 overall and 4-1-2 for the regular season.

The Youngstown State women's field hockey team will travel to Lake Erie College, Tuesday, Nov. 1, for a 4:30 p.m. match.

Lake Erie has already suffered a 7-0 defeat at the hands of the Penguins earlier this season at YSU's field.

INTRAMURAL RESULTS

by Linda Jo Smith

Intramural action moved into its fourth week at Bort's Fields.

From the Saturday games: Mad Dog-Royal Oaks won by forfeit over the War Lords. The Red Devils swamped the Engineers 40-0. Y.S.A.S. handed the Stars their second loss, winning 15-0. Insulated Glass Specialties won their first game, defeating Junk Yard Dogs, 14-0. The Roundballers won easily over the Bruins, 40-0. The Ohzones hand led Mortons Marauders handily and rolled to a 48-0 win. Next week they will be playing for the Division II lead. Herpes Simplex Virus III lost their fourth straight to the Cardinals 21-6. Gib Stit took its fourth victory, defeating What, 14-0. The Ques defeated Niles All-Stars 13-7 while the Degenerates knocked off Adidas, 7-0.

From Sunday's action: The Fishermen reeled in their third victory, defeating Mean Machine 20-12. Red Pride handed the Assassins a 12-7 defeat, while B.M.F. took their third victory, beating Kilcawley II, 15-0. Austintown All-Stars are again on their winning ways, defeating the Sweat Sox 20-0. Valley Crew lost a hard fought battle to the Outlaws, 0-6. Hana's Bananas rolled to a 36-0 victory over A.S.C.E., 36-0 and the Quantas Bears won by forfeit over Z-Seven. Richley for Mayor defeated Kilcawley Diseases 15-7, recording their sixth safety in three games. Next week's game between Richley and Red Pride, both 3-0, will determine the Division IV champs.

In women's action: The Specialty Team defeated Just Passin' Thru 19-6. The Ram Jammers took their third victory, beating the OB's 18-6. Next week the Jammers and Specialty Team will clash for the Division I title.

From the fraternity games: Sigma Phi Epsilon won by an extra point 7-6 over Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Theta Chi won their third straight, beating a determined Phi Sigma Kappa team 26-12. Those are the only points to be scored against the Theta Chi defense all season. Sigma Chi rolled to a 40-0 victory over Phi Kappa Tau, while Tau Kappa Epsilon won by forfeit over Phi Delta Theta.

In coed water polo action: The Forestry Club won by forfeit over the T.K.E. team. Harlequin lost to a tough Phi Tau-Delta Zeta team 10-1. The H&PE Club took a 6-2 victory from the Hana's Bananas.

In Intramural Soccer action: Richley for Mayor was forced to forfeit to the Engineers. North Side Blues defeated Red Pride 4-1 and Quantas Bears defeated the Eagles 2-0. The Assassins forfeited to Kilcawley Diseases while the PE Majors dropped out of the competition giving Kilcawley II a victory. Valley Crew lost to the Palestine Tigers 1-4. Theta Chi defeated Sigma Alpha Epsilon 2-1 and Sigma Phi Epsilon notched a victory over Phi Kappa Tau 3-1.

We're counting on you.

Basketball team preps for opener; Penguins return seven lettermen

by John Magulick

"We definitely feel it will be an exciting season," said Coach Dom Roselli, as the YSU basketball team, fresh from a 22-7 record and an NCAA Tournament berth last year, preps for another season.

Coach Roselli enters his 34th campaign at YSU with a 524-321 overall coaching record, and is currently tied with Rey Meyer of DePaul University as the ninth winningest coach in NCAA history.

When asked about his goals as a coach, Roselli replied that "goals are always a team goal. I don't particularly set any personal goals."

The Penguins return two starters and seven lettermen from last year's midwest regional participants.

Headlining the returnees is two-time All-American Jeff Covington, 6' 7" senior center from Washington D.C. In his three years at YSU, Jeff has amassed 1,764 points and grabbed 1,019 rebounds. Covington enters his final season here needing 455 points to become YSU's all-time leading scorer.

Last year Covington was chosen Division II "Player of the Year" by the National Association of Basketball Coaches and was named to every Division II All-American team.

Roselli deems Jeff as "one of the finest players we've ever had at YSU."

The other starter returning is aggressive Gerald Parks, 6-0 senior guard from Cleveland Benedictine. Parks averaged 13.4 points a game last year and also added 40 steals and 77 assists.

Parks is "a tremendous offensive and defensive player," said Roselli. "He excites the crowd and makes things happen."

The Penguins lost four players from last year's team, including three starters, due to graduation. Filling those three empty starting spots is the big job ahead from Roselli and assistant coach Roger Lyons.

The probable starter for the inside forward post is Frank Andrews, 6-7 senior (3.5 points per game). "Frank should be a capable replacement for forward," noted Roselli.

Vying for the job of second starting forward are 6-5 sophomore Steve Miodrag (5.4 points per game), 6-5 freshman Rick Rosnack (Wickliffe, Ohio) and 6-4 junior Steve Tackzak. Louis Whiting, 6-3 freshman (Washington, D.C.), rounds out the forwards.

Competition is also strong for the point guard position. Candidates include 6-2 junior Don Thomson, 6-2 sophomore Joe Sekora, 5-8 sophomore Joe Votino and 6-2 freshman Joe Lombardi (Sharon, Pa.).

Behind Covington at center are 6-6 freshman Tyrone Askew (Washington, D.C.), 6-7 junior Robin Vincer and 6-7 sophomore Mark Brown.

The back-up guard for Gerald Parks is 6-1 sophomore transfer Chris Wisneski (Elyria, Ohio).

When asked about his outlook for the upcoming season, Coach Roselli replied, "with the loss of four players, it's hard to predict." He said the team's success probably will depend on how well some players develop.

Roselli said he hopes to have a good enough year to get into the NCAA Regional Playoffs. However, he said it's going to be a rough chore. "We play a lot of tough road games," he said and noted that the "road trips are going to be determining factors."

YSU open the 1977-78 basketball season at Beehley Center against Saginaw Valley on Nov. 26. They then hit the road to play a Division I foe, Ohio University, on Dec. 3.

Expressive talent emerges

Fogelberg establishes distinctive style

by Joe Jackanich

Dan Fogelberg is an artist who enjoys a position of considerable envy as one of the brightest and most enduring talents to emerge during the Seventies.

His music is distinctive in a manner which is difficult to adequately describe. You have to listen, and that's the beauty of it. When you do, you'll be drawn into every song as a separate experience, finally blending into an undeniably impressive whole. It's this from-the-heart feeling in Fogelberg's work that has helped create an intensely loyal and ever-increasing legion of fans across the country.

The child of a bandleader father and singer mother, Fogelberg was born twenty-six years ago in Peoria, Illinois. He was encouraged in his musical growth early, taking piano lessons and receiving an acoustic slide guitar. He also played in a number of bands dating back to grade school, but it wasn't until his sophomore year in high school that he broke away, took his acoustic guitar and began to blossom, allowing his "child of the woods" sensibility to emerge.

Fogelberg was studying painting at the University of Illinois when he realized music was becoming the pre-eminent occupation of his creative talents. So he left school to follow the muse, eventually meeting Irv Azoff, a person equally as ambitious as himself, who immediately recognized his potential. After becoming fast friends and striking up a business relationship, they left together for the West Coast, where Azoff obtained a recording contract for Dan with Columbia Records.

Fogelberg's first album, Home Free, was recorded and produced in Nashville by Norbert Putnam, who lent a luxurious touch to material richly veined with echoes of Dan's early influences: Joni Mitchell, Neil Young and Richie Furay. Even so, it was obvious that Dan was an original talent.

Meanwhile, Dan's days and nights were filled with songwriting, studio work in Nashville and helping out on the albums of friends and those who had heard of his singing, songwriting and playing abilities. His album credits include: Randy Newman, Eric Anderson, Buffy St. Marie, Roger McGuinn, Michael Stanley, Florence Warner, Alan Rich, Joe Walsh and Jackson Browne.

Fogelberg's next release, on the Epic/Full Moon label, was Souvenirs. Produced by the inimitable Joe Walsh, with a little help from friends such as Eagles Glenn Frey, Don Henley, and Randy Meisner, Graham Nash, Walsh and others, it helped catapult Fogelberg into the commercial firmament and rendered him a hit single, "Part of the Plan." Dan calls it his L.A. album.

Following the release of Souvenirs, his life changed when he sold his Tennessee farm and purchased a house in the Rocky Mountains near Boulder, Colorado. The results of that shift was evident on his next album, Captured Angel. Fogelberg played most of the instruments and produced this enterprising and ambitious work himself.

Captured Angel was also transitional in nature and representative of Fogelberg's efforts to keep from being too closely identified with the sickness of Los Angeles. Both Souvenirs and Captured Angel achieved gold status.

Fogelberg had now established his roots in the mountains, where he pursues painting, photography and composing classical music when not touring with his band Fool's Gold, (not appearing with Dan at Beeghly), recording or writing. Dan's newest album is called Nether Lands. It's a many-faceted return to the spiritually sensitive essence of Home Free, though from a more mature point-of-view. It is this constant change of perspective that continues to keep his music fresh and stimulating.

Co-produced with Norbert Putnam, the Nether Lands lyrics are vivid, emotional and personal. They succinctly transcend the words themselves to form lasting images. The music is expressive, innovative and allows greater freedom of movement.

Senior Bill Nelson offers course on ESP, witchcraft, mind control

by Lisa Yarnell

Interested in witchcraft, psychokinetics, ESP, and mind control? Then, attendance at Bill Nelson's "Mental Force" control classes is a must. Response to publicity ads in the Jambar has aided Nelson in gathering together a class of ten enthusiasts who meet every Tuesday at 10:00 a.m., Rm. 238 in Kilcawley Center.

The purpose of this course? "To attempt to develop and school the intuition," explained Nelson. And how can one develop and school the intuition? "Through exercise, of, and experimentation with, the right hemisphere of the brain," Nelson replied.

"There are two halves of the human brain, and each side reacts differently to the outside world. The left-hemisphere responds in a logical, precise, and very realistic manner - this hemisphere contains our verbal speech center. The right hemisphere houses our intuitive, emotional responses - it is the dream center, and responds to the world in an idealistic, illogical manner. The right hemisphere is what we're trying to work with," explained Nelson. "We want to enlarge and strengthen the intuitive processes of the human mind."

with a solemn solo piano. Strings accent the mood and by the song's end, the lyrics have posed a situation in which one of two life-paths must be chosen. The decision is revealed as the album unfolds, ultimately ending on a strong, declarative note. The statement is evocative, memorable and very powerful.

Nether Lands also finds Fogelberg emerging from the protective, albeit nurturing cocoon of his Colorado hideaway, to confront life's extremes from a new position of strength. On this album Fogelberg trades in the initial stages of his self-awakening for the understanding and excitement of moving forward and new experiences. Lost love still hurts, but now the pain is viewed through the eyes of distance and acceptance.

Finally, Nether Lands is about dealing with the conflicts of youth and age within oneself, and the gray areas the struggle encompasses.

Dan Fogelberg is an artist unto himself; one of the few contemporary performers capable of and charismatic enough to capture the attention of any listening audience - live or on record. His music is simply that of youth, a majesty with a personal, mystical and romantic flavor. After you hear him, you won't forget him.

The mental exercises of the class are based in eastern cultural philosophies, tempered by Jungian psychology, and sprinkled with transcendental mysticism. Nelson referred to one exercise in which mediation is involved. A person is asked to meditate on making himself physically lighter by drawing his energy upward; next, the person is asked to do just the opposite, and concentrate on pulling his energy downward, making himself heavier. While the individual is meditating, two or three others are asked to physically lift him/her and then guess if the meditator had been mentally imposing a state of heaviness of lightness upon his person. Nelson stated that those involved have always guessed correctly, not only because of the mental current that runs between the meditator and the others, but because of the meditator's actual physical weight change.

Nelson feels that western cultures have to change their perception of the universe. "There are actually two universes that exist simultaneously. In America, we have always emphasized opposites: science vs. art of religion, idealism as opposed to realism. What nobody seems to recognize is that the two overlap, and they are complementary - not opposite at all. The Chinese hit upon it a long time ago with their idea of yin and yang, and Carlos Castaneda proposed it in his novel, Don Juan."

"In Don Juan," Nelson summarized, "the Indian (Don Juan) explains to Carlos, who is of our culture, that the right hand, right ear, (left hemisphere) controls the real world or the 'tonal' world. The left hand however, interprets from the 'nagual' world - a completely individual, idealistic state. In this world you are the center of the universe, and its controller."

From this viewpoint, Nelson explained, it becomes easy to understand witchcraft and psychokinetics. "If you are the center of the universe. You can idealistically control your environment. Thus - one's ability to bend a spoon, or elevate a table, simply by mental concentration."

Nelson emphasized that it is not good to go completely over to the right side. "For the left hemisphere forebrain, provides us with goals and ambitions which we need to survive. Without these, he explained, we would merely sit around and do nothing."

"Drugs and starvation will promote the right hemisphere to take-over the body. This is why so many Indian monks or Hindu priests fast for long periods before experiencing visionary enlightenment," explained Nelson. "This excited mental state is often interpreted by our culture as psychosis. We should study the schizophrenics because they are overly controlled by their right hemispheres. This would give us some true insight to the unadulterated mind - free from the impositions of 'speech-logic.'"

Nelson, who has been doing extended research on the subject for quite some time, is a senior psychology major at YSU, and a director at Buckeye Elks Youth Center. He is assisted in this project by Steve Kolzar, who also attends the University. All those interested are welcome to participate Tuesday in the meetings.
