

New Social Science Head

Professor Smith

Professor Smith, formerly the head of the social science department of Hiram College and part time instructor at Youngstown College, will assume full time teaching duties here in the same capacity. Prof. Smith is a Rhodes Scholar and received his A.B. from Oxford. He has taught night classes at Yo-Co since 1921, the first year of the Liberal Arts School.

During the summer, Prof. Smith has been in England studying various labor problems and searching for their solutions. He succeeds Professor Bowden who is taking graduate work at the University of Chicago.
