Dear Professor Domonkos:

At the Sixteenth Annual Conference of the AHEA, the association voted to hold its next conference in Toledo, Ohio in conjunction with the centennial celebrations of the American-Hungarian community of East Toledo (located in the Birmingham neighborhood). Since that decision was taken on March 10th, I have had the opportunity to meet with representatives of the Urban Affairs Center of the University of Toledo (April 11, 1991). The Urban Affairs Center will co-sponsor the 1992 conference with the AHEA. To this end we have already reserved conference accommodations for the weekend (Thursday - Sunday) of April 23-26, 1992 at the University of Toledo, Continuing Education Center.

The purpose of this letter is to provide you with a preliminary "call for papers." In this way the participants will have a year to prepare their studies. The conference focus will be "Ethnicity, Urban Communities and American Civilization." Within this context we would like to devote at least one panel specifically to the development of the Birmingham community. At the same time we hope that the theme of this conference will enable scholars from various disciplines to present comparative studies which focus on the problems and prospects of other American-Hungarian, Canadian-Hungarian and other ethnic communities. Furthermore, the conference will also provide the opportunity to treat many other aspects of American urban civilization.

I hope you will mark your calendar for participation in our conference next April. Please write if you have concrete proposals for papers or entire panels. With best wishes.

Sincerely yours,

Andrew Ludanyi
Professor of Political Science

From: Beth Kushner^{BK}, Research Coordinator
Date: April 1, 1991
Subject: Research Assistant

I've encumbered $1200.00 for your Research Assistant, Kathy Hurtuk, for the period 3/25/91 to 6/15/91. This means the student may work a maximum of 200 hours during the appointment period. (NOTE: The student is NOT permitted to work more than 20 hours a week).

Since we are working with limited funding, I am asking that you assist me in monitoring the status of your allocation by keeping a careful record of the student's hours. I CANNOT guarantee payment if the student exceeds the allocated hours and dollars. As a faculty supervisor it is YOUR responsibility to ensure that this does not happen.

Please call me at x3089 if you have any questions.

This time card is due in the Payroll Dept. no later than Wednesday, April 10.

I am writing to apologize for the Incomplete that has not yet been completed in your Western Civilization class. I have not been in school because of financial reasons, and this is partly why the Incomplete is still on file.

However, I am taking this quarter to make up all of my Incompletes and your class is one of the classes that I must make up.

I understand if you do not want me to participate in your class this quarter. I also understand that there may not be enough room for me in your class this quarter.

I will stop by your office either before or after class to speak with you about the Incomplete and what you think is best.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The National Endowment for the Humanities, Washington, D.C. has announced that Dr. L. S. Domonkos, Professor of History at Youngstown State University is the recipient of a major grant from the Texts and Translations Division, for the period of April 1991-March 1994.

The project will receive $50,000 from the NEH and with matching funds will total $84,000.

Professor Domonkos will be the Project Director, in charge of coordinating a team of twelve international experts, assembled from research and academic institutions in the U. S., Canada and Europe, who will produce a bi-lingual (English-Latin) edition of the Medieval Laws of Hungary. The resulting six volumes will ~~be~~ put at the disposal of historians, students of comparative law and government, ~~as well as~~ Latinists, a complete modern language ~~t~~ translation and annotated Latin text of Hungarian laws from 1000 to 1526.

The present project will result in the publication of volumes 3 and 4 of the series, and Professor Domonkos will be co-editor of these books. Volume one was already published in 1989, volume 2 will be available later this summer, while volumes 5 and 6 are in the planning stage under the editorship of Professor J. M. Bak of the University of British Columbia and ~~Dr.~~ Domonkos from YSU.

Dr. Domonkos, a specialist in Medieval and Renaissance history, received his graduate education at the Universities of Notre Dame and Vienna, Austria. He joined the YSU faculty in 1964, is the recipient of four Distinguished Professor Awards, has received two Fulbright and four International Research and Exchange Board (IREX) grants for study abroad. He is the co-editor of two books, and author of numerous scholarly articles published both here and abroad.

He and his family reside in Canfield, Ohio.

Dear Dr. Domonkos:

Dr. Gabriel received your check after he arrived home from Wisconsin. He did indeed have a very good time. He found a lovely Hotel on a lake, called the Waters Edge, which he just loved. His lectures went well and he is very pleased with the outcome.

The weather here is very dreary but hopefully the sun will finally come out and we will again have beautiful spring days. Give my regards to Eva, I hope you both have a wonderful summer.

Dear Professor Jenkins:

Thank you for your kind note of January 31 and the invitation to visit your university. Since the receipt of your letter, I discussed my program with Les Domonkos, and I am offering you the following talks in the hope that they will meet with your approval.

Thursday, March 7, noon: "In Search of a New East Central Europe."

Thursday, March 7, 7:30 pm.: "Multinational Armies: The Habsburg, Russian/Soviet and Yugoslav Experiences."

Friday, March 8, 3 pm.: "The Habsburg Officer Corps: Doing Research in the Central European Archives."

Also as agreed with Les, I'll be arriving in Pittsburgh late in the night of March 6. This means that you will not have to worry about my being late for the first lecture on Thursday.

I look forward to meeting you as well as your colleagues and students.

This is to thank all of you for your patience. Some of you also deserve thanks for submitting your studies in re-worked form.

I'm now writing to remind everyone that we are beginning the editorial work on the volume. Kent State University Press has indicated that it is interested in the proposed volume, but would like to see its contents before making a final commitment to publish. So this letter is intended to get the publishing process moving. Each of you who have not yet submitted your study, please do so as soon as possible.

Enclosed is a list of the studies we have received as of today. Consider this our acknowledgement of their receipt. We will acknowledge all subsequent submissions on an individual basis.

We look forward to the editing process and will keep you informed of developments along the way. Wishing you the best,

Dr. Bernard T. Gillis, Provost
Youngstown State University

Dear Provost Gillis:

Dr. George D. Beelen, Professor of History is a candidate for the position of Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, and has asked me to write a letter of support on his behalf.

I have known Professor Beelen for almost three decades and value him as a dear friend and an outstanding colleague. It is my firm conviction that he would be an excellent Dean, and therefore endorse his candidacy with great enthusiasm.

The deanship is one of those positions for which there is no formal training. Therefore, a Selection Committee is faced with the problem of choosing a candidate based upon future expectation or potential for growth.

It is this ability to grow which is one of the greatest strengths of George D. Beelen. Born into a family of modest means in Campbell, Ohio, he has matured into a man of broad vision, a true cosmopolitan academic. Under the most difficult circumstances he received his undergraduate degree and subsequently his MA and PhD. He joined the YSU History Department as a Limited Service Instructor and rose to become its Chairman, re-elected for a record three terms. His academic career is an example of constant development, maturation and growth.

A successful dean must have the ability to deal with people, both individually and collectively. Prof. Beelen is essentially a facilitator who has used his position to promote the academic needs of his colleagues. As a scholar he knows what is necessary for those who want to excel in that area, and at the same time he is fully cognizant of the importance of good teaching at the university. As a fine teacher-scholar himself, Beelen as dean would bring a reasonable balance between these two priorities.

He is blessed with the skills of a seasoned diplomat and is able to smooth ~~the~~ ruffled professorial egos. Instead of confrontation and conflict he seeks consensus and compromise. It is important to add, however, that Beelen is able and willing to take a stand on issues which he considers essential. He will not only facilitate but also lead, as he has amply demonstrated both on campus and in the community.

The dean must be must be an academic leader, and must have a vision of the role of the College of Arts and Sciences within the university. Dr. George D. Beelen has this vision. He has read widely on the subject of educational reform, curricular changes, the evolving place of the university in the community and the world. He is a man of imagination and is eager to infuse fresh concepts into the life of the college. (intellectual)

The Selection Committee will obviously have to come to terms with the question of the desirability of candidates brought in from the outside versus colleagues drawn from the ranks of the faculty at YSN. At this particular time in the history of our university, I feel that a local candidate with special skills should be given preference over an outsider.

Professor Beelen is known to the YSN academic community and is held in universally high esteem. He has been an innovative leader as Chairman of the History Department and has the personality traits which make him a logical candidate for the Deanship. He is well known and respected in the community at large, something which is increasingly essential as the University and the Youngstown-Warren area forge closer ties. It is important to add that in ~~an~~ an image-conscious world, Professor Beelen and his lovely ^{and graciously} wife Betty would be able to represent our University in a most positive light, both in and out of academia.

It is with great pleasure that I recommend Dr. George D. Beelen as a superb candidate for dean. YSN will only profit from his vision, wisdom and experience.

Sincerely yours,
L. C. Dunbar, PhD

Dear Friend,

By this time last year my wife and I were on tenterhooks. We were anxiously making arrangements for our flight to Cameroon. As a mandatory legal requirement for acquiring a Permanent Residency Status, we had to secure a number of documents from various towns in Cameroon and to present them to the U.S. Embassy in Yaounde, Cameroon. On our own, it could have been impossible to purchase a round trip ticket, pay the lawyer and the necessary fees for the various bureaucratic procedures. Your overwhelmingly generous response to Dr. Shipka's appeal last year took care of our expenses. You demonstrated through your contributions how much you care.

I do not need to rehash the unfortunate circumstances that forced us to go to Cameroon. What matters is that seven months after our temporary Permanent Residency Stamp at the New York Port of Entry in August, 1990, the Immigration and Naturalization Service finally sent the Permanent Residency cards.

Dr. Shipka and I, on behalf of my family, would like to thank you personally for your kindness and generosity. You have become an important part our lives in the U.S. We shall never forget your help.

Gratefully Yours,

I have known Mr. Zane Pappas for about three years. He has been a student in a number of my lower and upper division History classes.

Mr. Pappas is an extremely hard-working, reliable, and above all, intelligent young man. His performance in the courses he took with me has been uniformly excellent. He has the ability to evaluate and interpret material and information in a mature fashion. I have no doubt that he will be a successful employee in the area of education, business or industry. He is blessed with a sharp mind and a pleasant personality. Although my acquaintance with him has been mainly in a classroom setting, I do know that he had the respect and friendship of his peers.

It is rare to find in one person all of the desirable characteristics of intelligence, maturity and pleasantness. Mr. Zane Pappas is one of these rare people. I am convinced that he will excel in a wide variety of fields, if given the opportunity to prove himself.

Therefore, without any reservations, I recommend Mr. Zane Pappas as a deserving and highly qualified candidate. I would rank him in the upper 10% of all students I have taught in the last quarter century. In case any additional information is required by a potential employer, I am more than willing to elaborate on the fine qualities of this candidate either via mail or telephone (216-533-2771 home; or 216-742-3459 office).

Re: Thesis and Final Examination

Dear Dr. Domonkos:

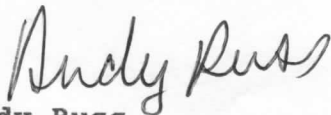

I am writing a reminder to you regarding my master's thesis and final examinations for my degree as we finish the school year and go off for the summer into different projects.

First, I would like to remind you that, as I finish the thesis chapters during the summer, I will give you copies for criticism. I know that you are teaching a Graduate Seminar the first five weeks, and after that you will away for the University. Taking that into account, I plan to finish the thesis Fall Quarter, and there is no great pressure on either of us to get it done right away.

Secondly, I need to know what information from the classes we have had together, (paper Seminar in Medieval Education, readings Seminar in Medieval Economic History and readings Seminar in Church History), which I need to master for my final examinations for my degree. I would like to do this also in the Fall.

If any adjustments are to be made, please contact me.

Thank You,

Andy Russ

Représentant du pays :

Comme chaque année, la Commission Internationale pour l'Histoire des Universités doit payer sa cotisation au Comité International des Sciences Historiques. Pour l'année 1991, ce paiement n'a pas encore été effectué.

Pour être en règle - dans les délais prévus - avec la cotisation au CISH pour l'année 1991 et pour subvenir aux frais du secrétariat, je me permets de vous demander de vouloir verser dans les meilleurs délais et en tout cas avant le 1er juin 1991, votre cotisation pour l'année 1991. Je me permets de vous rappeler que chaque pays, représenté dans notre Commission, est tenu de verser à la CIHU une cotisation annuelle fixée depuis 1987 à 60 (soixante) francs suisses ou 1500 (quinze cents) francs belges. Contrairement aux années précédentes, nous nous permettons d'insister pour que ce versement soit fait en francs belges. L'expérience nous a montré que le virement en monnaie étrangère pouvait coûter fort cher en frais bancaires et faisait perdre à la Commission des montants considérables.

Vous pouvez effectuer ce paiement soit par mandat international soit par virement au compte chèques postaux (Bruxelles) 000-0603290-47 au nom de Hilde de Ridder-Symoens, Grote Baan 98, B 9920 Lovendegem.

Il est également possible de verser au compte bancaire (Kredietbank - Lovendegem) 449-3676291-68 de la CIHU, Blandijnberg 2, B 9000 Gent. Comme les frais bancaires pour ces petites sommes s'élèvent jusqu'à un tiers du montant, je vous prie d'éviter ce moyen de virement ou bien d'augmenter votre montant de 250 francs belges pour frais bancaires.

Nous vous prions de croire, cher (chère) Collègue, à notre entier dévouement.

TO: History Colleagues
FROM: L.S. Domonkos
DATE: June 14, 1991
SUBJECT: Brief Report on the Activities of the Arts and Sciences Task Force.

The Arts and Sciences Task Force has had three meetings this quarter.

We had an excellent exchange of ideas with the seven member Screening Committee about a month ago. Almost 60 individuals have applied for the position of Dean of Arts and Sciences: of these, four are local faculty members (Beelen, Brothers, Dobbelstein and Mapley). The Administration would prefer quick action from the Committee and would like a "short list" before the end of the quarter. Members of the Screening Committee expressed considerable uncertainty whether they would be able to produce such a list before they disband for the Summer. The Screening Committee seems to be very much aware that the irrational policy of not granting tenure to Deans has a potentially negative effect on finding a suitable candidate.

The Screening Committee has requested the Task Force to submit questions that we would like posed to the candidates for Dean. In turn the Task Force is asking the faculty for its "input." Please submit to me questions you feel should be raised with the applicants for this most important position.

The Task Force has also requested the Administration to give us the opportunity to interview the candidates for Dean. I hope the answer will be positive.

Wishing all of you a pleasant summer.

Dear Paul,

Please excuse the long delay in writing this letter to you but the days and weeks seem to be passing with such rapidity that I don't know where the time flies. o.k.

First of all thank you for the fine lunch and the opportunity to talk to you on a wide variety of issues. I came away from our meeting convinced that you have a number of strengths which make you a superb candidate for the presidency of YSU. Since our meeting I have spoken about your candidacy to several people on campus. There are an increasing number of individuals who recognize the fact that you are our best hope in raising this University to its full potential. I promise you that I will continue to promote your candidacy until the day of your inauguration as President.

There were a number of items which you touched upon during the course of our conversation which make me hopeful for the future of YSU under your leadership.

1. First and foremost, you seem to have a vision of the future, a desire to raise this University to regional prominence. This, unfortunately, has been lacking in the past. We both know that this institution has some obvious shortcomings but it also has immense strengths which have never been fully recognized and nurtured. You are a product of this university, have served it with distinction on the Board of Trustees as well on the Ohio Board of Regents. If you become president, we do not have to wait for two years or more, ~~two~~ o.k. ← (as would be the case with an outsider) until you "grow into" the presidency. You can be an effective executive officer from day one of your tenure as president. YSU has been paralyzed by inaction for at least a year now and will continue to be rudderless for the period until the new president is installed. If we have to wait two more years until the president becomes effective, we have lost more than four years. That is a terribly long time in the history of a University; time we can ill afford to lose.
2. Your excellent contacts in the business world as well as in Columbus are greatly needed for the future development of the University.

We need a major endowment drive in order that the institution can better protect itself against the financial fluctuations created by the State Legislature. The ~~question~~ of Endowed Chairs, Special Research Funds would be most welcome. The building of a high tech classroom building, similar to what DeBartolo gave to Notre Dame, would be welcomed by all of us, who carry maps, slides, projectors from one building to the other. I am firmly convinced that a number of major donors would come forward with impressive amounts, if they were approached by the right people, at the right time. You are extremely well qualified to direct such an endowment drive, as well as keeping an eye on Columbus to make certain that we receive our just share of State appropriations.

3. The fact that you are not an "academic" in the classical sense is not a problem. You provide the vision and the means, let a first class Provost worry about the everyday workings of the academic programs. I was particularly pleased with your desire to explore the possibility of a "Core Curriculum." Since many of our students are first generation college educated, they are often culturally deprived. By insisting that all YSU graduates should take a number of core courses which exposed them to our common cultural heritage (in the broadest sense), we would be expanding their horizons, diminishing their provincialism and would help them to become educated in the best sense of the word.

Your desire to seek nationally recognized accreditation for the School of Business is to be praised. The revival of the prestige of the School of Engineering is most desirable. Programs which do not belong in the College of Applied Science and Technology, should be moved out, and the original aim of CAST maintained. The tail should not be wagging the dog.

Your idea of identifying certain programs and making them regionally or even nationally prominent is excellent. I do urge you to be cautious with the development of Ph.D. programs.

Finally, let me reiterate a point we have discussed during our last meeting. I feel that it is absolutely imperative for the future scholarly growth of this institution that the current practice of not giving academic rank to deans be discontinued. You are not going to attract first rate people to YSU if you are taking away from them their earned rank. If somebody is hired as dean and subsequently gives up that position, they should have the opportunity to reenter the ranks of the faculty and continue to teach. It would also be a good idea to encourage deans to teach at least one class a year in their discipline. This would prevent them from becoming professionally stale and would insure that they would have continued understanding of the needs of the students and faculty in their respective college. This practice is quite widespread at better universities throughout the country, and should be introduced at YSU. It has the added benefit of lessening the adversarial relationship between administration and faculty.

Stale

In the months ahead, if there is anyway that you think I can be of assistance to you, please feel free to call upon me. You can count on my support and council. I wish you continued success as you dedicate your energies to making YSU, an institution both of us love, into a first rate University. May the Lord give you wisdom, strength and above all patience in this endeavor.

Cordially,

L. S. Domonkos

Dear Eva,

I am enclosing the press release which Dr. Gabriel sent to Msgr. Trisco for publication in the American Catholic Review. Please give Dr. Domonkos my congratulations, I was very happy to hear the good news. Dr. Gabriel just gave me a picture to enclose which was taken in Spain. I like it, he looks like a Hollywood movie-producer.

Hopefully spring is just around the corner and summer will be here before we know it. I hope everything is going well with you, Dr. Domonkos said you were enjoying your retirement--that sounds good to me. My husband, Joe, and I spent a few days in New Orleans during the Mardi Gras. It is really crazy down there but we did have a very good time.

With best wishes to all----

Darling ~~Bob~~ ^{Eva} and Dear ~~Bob~~ ^{Lea}?

We have settled into a comfortable apartment, my word processor is doing yeoman service again, and my golf hasn't improved one bit. Still, Soph is feeling great, swims twice a day, walks, shops, and attends concerts. The weather has been nice and we've visited friends. Nevertheless, neither one of us is so in love with this congested Florida that we want to spend more than a few months of the winter here.

We saw "Hamlet," which you must see, even if you have to go to Cleveland for it. This is one Shakespearean play I know almost by heart (I fell in love with it in my senior year at Rayen and have reread it many times), so that it was easy for me to follow the dialogue. But even if I knew it less well, it is the best produced play by Zafferilli, in my opinion, because he does not subordinate the poetic language of the Bard to visual effect. He really "suits the action to the word."

If you want to see an interesting travelogue, try "The Russia House." I can never follow Le Carre's intricate plots, but the panorama of Moscow and Leningrad are worth the price of admission. Besides, the leading actress is easy to look at. I also saw "Dancing With Wolves," while in Washington. It's worth seeing, but is overrated, in my opinion. It shleps along for three hours, includes everything but the proverbial kitchen sink, and makes its point that Indians were the good guys and the U.S. soldiers the savages, almost with the frequency of the CNN news reports. I thought the most inviting part was when the girl sheds her apparel and her modesty in a display of believable passion. Amen.

I have been reading a good bit and have just written a critical review of Dorothy Healey Remembers, the memoirs of a past Communist Party activist, who joined the party in 1928 as a teenager, and only left it in 1973. She was a dedicated, self-sacrificing, loyal member of the party, who often risked her life to organize the poor Chicanos in agricultural labor, blacks in hospitals, and working people, in general. She went to prison several times for her beliefs, yet she managed to remain a supporter of Mother Russia (alias the Soviet Union) -- read Stalinism -- despite the horrors of Stalin's crimes made public by Khrushchev. I've taken notes on a work that seeks to define "Jacobinism" by an American professor whose prose reminds me of Gibbon's phrase, "the necessary obscurity of inappropriate nomenclature." In addition, I'm well into Robert C. Tucker's fine study of Stalin entitled Stalin in Power. Some time ago, after I had praised his first volume on the subject, he told me that people were jokingly saying he was "Stalin's last victim!" -

- because of the time he has spent on his subject.

I received a letter from Steve Cohen just before he left for the Soviet Union offering to take my article entitled "Trotsky's Fight Against Fascism," to see if it can be translated into Russian and published in one of the Soviet Union's historical journals. Unfortunately, the letter arrived late so I could not get it to him in time, but I wrote him that he can have it upon his return and see if it can be placed by him from the States. Incidentally, it is being translated into French and is scheduled to appear in a journal published in Grenoble entitled Cahiers Léon Trotsky.

My manuscript on the Hébertistes is with some lazy reader, I assume, because I was told many moons ago by the senior editor of the LSU Press that after earning "a most favorable response" from one of its editors it was being sent out to some reader "on the outside." This was a mere six months ago! The only thing I can think of by way of explaining this long delay is that the reader must be checking every reference of the MS. Ergo, I'm between projects as I wait for the verdict. It's a shame that after spending four years on a manuscript one still has to wait for an unknown critic to hand down his "objective" judgment.

Frankly, I'm waiting for spring up North and a return to my routine, studies, and friends. The swimming pool is fine, but I have to wait for the fat, old women to vacate it before plunging in so as to get my exercise. There's not a pretty maid in the lot -- in fact, there's no maid at all! So "Gather ye rosebuds while ye may, / Old Time is still a flying. . ."

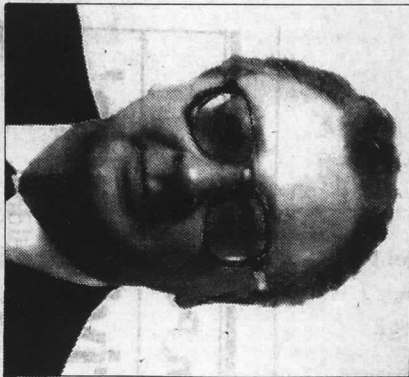

We like mail -- even with a 29 cent stamp.

YSU history professor receives NEH grant

—DR. LESLIE S. DOMONKOS—

Youngstown

YSU — A Y S U professor of history, Leslie S. Domonkos, Ph.D. has received a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) to head a team of researchers compiling a bilingual edition of the Medieval Laws of Hungary.

A former Sharon resident, Domonkos will serve as project director, overseeing 12 experts from the United States, Canada and Europe.

The resulting six volumes will provide for historians and Latinists, as well as students of comparative law and government. The volumes include a complete modern-language translation and an annotated Latin text of Hungarian laws from 1000 to 1526.

The $84,000 grant from NEH's Texts and Translations Division is for the publication of volumes three and four. Volume one was published in 1989, and volume two will be published this summer. Volumes five and six are in the planning stage under the editorship of Domonkos and J.M. Bak of the University of British Columbia.

The NEH provided a total of $67,000, and the American Association for the Study of Hungarian History contributed $17,000.

Domonkos specializes in Medieval and Renaissance history. He has received YSU's prestigious Distinguished Professor Award four times since he joined the faculty in 1964. He also has received two Fulbright grants and four International Research and Exchange Board grants for study abroad.

Born in Budapest, Hungary, he graduated from Farrell High School and earned his bachelor's degree from Youngstown University and master's and doctorate from the University of Notre Dame.

Congratulations & Good Luck

Say "Hi" to Steve & hope every thing is going well for him. You can be mighty proud of him. Good luck N.

RE: Letter of Recommendation

Dear Dr. Domonkos:

I have come across a stroke of good luck. Through our Foreign Languages Department, I became aware of an opening for a High School Latin Teacher in Canton, at Plain Local High. I interviewed for the job on Thursday, June 27. It went very well, and the Assistant Superintendent was so impressed that he all but offered me the job, saying I was the best qualified by far of the other applicants. I still need to furnish him and their school board as soon as possible with my credentials, which includes letters of recommendation.

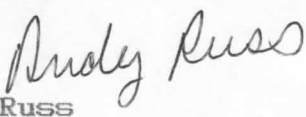

I would like you to please write for me one of your fine letters of recommendation. Please mention my studies with you in Medieval History, and my tenure as a Graduate Assistant in our department. As this job is very important to me, please paint the rosiest picture you can, and I would appreciate it if you did not mention my initial difficulties with Latin, as this may be damaging to my cause. I justify this by the fact that overall, the 80 some hours on my transcripts in Greek and Latin should average out to about a 3.5. Here is the name of the person and the address:

William R. Mease
Assistant Superintendent
Plain Local Schools
Administration Building
901 44th St. N.W.

Also, I am completing thesis chapters, and will be in touch with you regarding them in a couple of weeks. Also when we next meet, I would like your advice on my career.

I hope you have a good time over the Fourth of July weekend.

Sincerely,

Andy Russ

Dear Professor Kosary, distinguished friend,

First of all, allow me to congratulate you on your election as the first President of the Academy of the new, democratic Hungary. You, who have never bowed your head to authority, and even suffered imprisonment for your views after 1956, deserve this high office. May the Lord grant you patience and wisdom as well as many years to serve the intellectual life of Hungary.

Thank you for the kind invitation to attend the conference on "Matthias Corvinus in Central European Context", which will meet in Budapest in October. I would be most honored to participate and propose a tentative topic of "Matthias Corvinus: The Bohemian and Imperial Crown", as the title of my presentation. My ability to travel to Budapest in October will be completely dependent upon the success I have in finding travel funds. On August 22 I will be in Budapest at the Matthias conference organized by the Magyar Forum. Since I am using university travel fund for the August trip to Hungary, I can not, in good conscience, request more monies for the October conference I am in the process of finding alternative sources of funding and hope to be able to accept your kind invitation. As soon as I have ~~a~~ a definite positive or negative answer, I will immediately indicate if I can be in Budapest in October or not.

In the hope of seeing you soon, I remain,

Kedves Ernő bátyám!

Please excuse that I am writing to you in English but this way I will get this important letter out, while my Hungarian correspondence gets delayed because of my problems with the sentence structure and orthography of the language. Unfortunately I did not attend Hungarian schools and this has caused me difficulties in Hungarian composition.

My mother has shown ~~me~~ ^{me} the wonderful article ~~you~~ wrote, presenting my study on "Humanista Főpapok" to the Hungarian scholarly audience. Thank you most sincerely, dear and valued friend! Mother tells me that you had sent me copies of the reprint of the article. Unfortunately it never arrived. The copy Mother has, is the first time I saw the article! You have marvelously captured the essence of my study on "Ecclesiastical Patrons". I am most grateful for all of your work.

Hopefully I will be able to ~~thank~~ ^{see} you personally in August when I plan to be in Budapest for a conference on Melchior Corvinus to be held at the Hung. National Library organized by the Magyar Forum. It will be great to celebrate "Szent Istvan nap" in a free, democratic Hungary. My stay in Budapest will be brief (one week ^(Aug. 19-24)), then I have to go to Madrid for the World Congress of Historical Sciences before returning home.

A week ago, I received a letter from Kosary Domokos inviting me to another Matthias Corvinus conference in Hungary to be held in October. If I can find some foundation to ~~for~~ finance my air fare, I hope to be back in Budapest a second time.

Please give my warmest regards to Klara neni as well as the whole family.

In the hope of seeing you all soon, I remain,

Dear John:

Please forgive the long delay in answering your kind letter in which you invite me to give a lecture next September at Notre Dame. I am delighted and accept enthusiastically.

When your letter arrived I was on my way to our yearly vacation. Upon returning for the Fall Quarter in mid September, we were faced with a possible strike by the faculty, which fortunately was avoided. I have resumed my teaching and research and have finally undertaken to answer correspondence, thus the long delay.

Thank you again for the kind invitation. I will try for a balance between a scholarly and "popular" approach for the presentation. The honorarium is generous and most welcome.

Will be in touch and hope to see you before the end of the academic year.

Professor Akehurst, a respected scholar in the field of Old French studies, is eminently qualified to undertake the translation of the Etablissements de Saint Louis. He has demonstrated his ability to render difficult French texts, such as the Coutumes de Beauvaisis, into readable English prose, which is no small achievement. There is every expectation that the completed work will be published by a reputable academic press and thus will be available to a wide scholarly audience.

Using all the Old French I could still remember from my graduate school days, I checked the sample translation and found it to be excellent, although I do not pretend to be an expert in this field. The footnotes are useful and lucid.

The completion of the project within nine months seems a little optimistic, but by no means impossible. The two quarters and one summer term will certainly permit Professor Akehurst to finish the bulk of the translation. The preparation of the introductory essay, notes, glossary and bibliography might require additional time beyond the September 15, 1993 deadline.

The budget presented by Dr. Akehurst is most reasonable. The amount requested for consultant fee is modest considering the difficulty to the texts to be read.

Summary: A translation of the Etablissements de Saint Louis would be a welcome addition to the legal as well as social history of medieval France. There are few scholars anywhere who could produce a better translation with critical apparatus, than Professor Akehurst. This is an excellent project which deserves NEH support.

Dear Professor Domonkos:

Kalvin Pasi

This is to bring you up to date about the planning process of the AHEA conference for the Spring of 1992. Our advisory committee has been meeting monthly since May. We have developed an overall design for the conference and proposals have arrived for additional panels and papers since our initial call for papers went out in early May.

We are now urging all members of AHEA who have not yet responded to our call for papers to do so. This is necessary for two reasons: first, because the program is fast filling up; and second, because the Urban Affairs Center is submitting for grant support to help cover the conference expenses. To be able to receive such support, we will have to present the Ohio Humanities Council with a nearly finalized program when we submit our proposal on November 1st. So you can think of this as our "final" call for papers. As you may remember from our previous correspondence, the conference will be held April 23-26, 1992 at the University of Toledo. The theme of the conference ("Ethnicity, Urban Communities and American Civilization") links the centennial celebrations of the American-Hungarian community of East Toledo with the 500th anniversary of Columbus's discovery of America. We are hoping that this dual anniversary will provide scholars from various disciplines with inspiration to examine the problems, prospects and opportunities that lie ahead for American-Hungarian, Canadian-Hungarian and other ethnic communities.

We look forward to your concrete proposals and general suggestions. With best wishes.

Sincerely yours,

Aux membres de la CIHU

Cher, chère, collègue,

Je suis heureuse de vous annoncer que les personnes suivantes ont été élues comme nouveaux membres de la Commission:

L. Brockliss avec 15 voix sur 15 votes émis;

W. Frijhoff avec 11 voix sur 11 votes émis;

M. Lusignan avec 10 voix sur 10 votes émis.

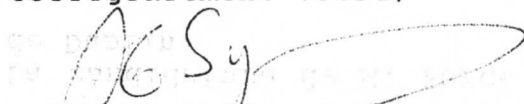

La candidature de M. Farge sera remise à l'assemblée générale de Dublin.

Au nom de la Commission, j'ai écrit une lettre à MM. Brockliss, Frijhoff et Lusignan pour leur annoncer le résultat du suffrage écrit et pour leur demander de se prononcer sur leur adhésion à la Commission.

Vous recevrez prochainement des nouvelles sur le congrès de Dublin (du 11 au 15 mars 1992) de notre collègue Helga Robinson-Hammerstein. Elle vous enverra une lettre d'invitation qui pourra servir pour la demande d'une subvention pour frais de voyage à votre université ou à une autre instance académique ou scientifique. Comme d'habitude, ces frais ne sont pas pris en charge par l'université d'accueil.

A. de García y García et J. Verger s'occupent de l'édition des actes du congrès de Madrid. Tous les manuscrits sont en leur possession. Il ne semble cependant pas aisé de trouver un éditeur. Nous vous tiendrons au courant du déroulement de la publication.

Kedves Laci !

Nagy illetlenség volt tőlem, hogy a leveledre hónapok óta nem válaszoltam. A Mátyás konferencia megrendezése után senki sem akar a kötetről hallani. Ez nekem azért is kínos, mert több kézirat is nálam van. Pénz egyre kevesebb van tudományra, mint korábban. A válaszom késésének másik oka pedig az, hogy május közepétől október közepéig Isztambulban voltam s végre dolgozhattam török levéltárakban.

Közös barátainkról a következőket mondhatom el. Barta Gabi Debrecenben lett tanszékvezető. Az Intézetbe mostmár csak alkalmilag jár be. Szakály Feri megírta a nagydoktori disszertációját. Nagy Jóska elment a Külügybe személyzeti főnöknek.

Mikor látogatsz el hozzánk ? Várunk!

This is to invite you to participate in a conference scheduled for September 17-19, 1992 on "Learning Institutionalized." Dear Professor Smethurst:

Mr. Andrew Russ, one of our fine graduate students, has applied to your university to pursue a Ph.D. ~~[in Classical Studies]~~. He has been in three of my graduate seminars and I am also the second reader of his MA thesis. Based on my knowledge of the candidate, I am convinced that he will compete well in your program.

Add
Keep Form II

Mr. Russ' GPA has been hurt by some of his grades in Greek and Latin. He developed his interest in Classical Studies rather late, which then necessitated enrollment in language courses rather late in his academic career. At first he had considerable difficulty with Latin, but has made great strides in this area according to his Classics Professor. If you view his grades in History and do not average in the Greek and Latin, it is obvious that he has an excellent academic record.

There is no doubt in my mind that Mr. Russ will be a successful graduate student, ~~[in Classics]~~. He is very bright, highly motivated, and dedicated to the discipline. His oral and written presentations have been very good and he has a strong sense of direction in his work. Once he decided to pursue Classical Studies, he set himself to the task of mastering the needed languages. → Russ is aware that his grades in Greek and Latin have hurt his GPA but his progress in that area has been most impressive.

If this candidate is given a chance, he will do extremely well in your Doctoral Program. I recommend him with confidence.

Dear Dr. Roberston:

The Executive Board of the Youngstown State University Chapter of Phi Kappa Phi has unanimously voted to request the National Office to bestow a Meritorious Service Award on Prof. ~~John~~ L. Grim.

Professor Grim has served the local chapter with distinction for over a decade. He is the Treasurer of our organization and has given countless hours of his time to the promotion of the aims of Phi Kappa Phi. His constant and dedicated service has been an inspiration to his colleagues. The Executive Board enthusiastically endorses the request that Prof. John L. Grim be given a Meritorious Service Award plaque.

Dr. Grim is an Associate Professor of Accounting and Finance and has taught at this institution for nearly three decades. He is a most respected member of our faculty.

The chapter secretary, Dr. Gratia Murphy, has spoken to your office and was told that an official letter from the local chapter president would be sufficient to receive the award.

Our annual Phi Kappa Phi Convocation will be held on May 16, 1991. We would like to present the award plaque to Prof. Grim on that occasion. We request, therefore, that you take the appropriate actions so that the plaque can be presented formally to this most deserving candidate at the time of the convocation.

Enclosed you will find the check for $35.

President, Chapter 143

The expression "end of an era" is overused to the point of becoming hackneyed. The retirement of Dean Yozwiak after twenty years as dean, however, surely qualifies as an occasion to properly use the expression "end of an era." In addition to being an occasion for accolades, it is also a necessary and appropriate occasion to step back and reflect and examine the various facets of the College of Arts and Sciences. We need to 1) review the role and function of the college; 2) examine the evolving relationship between the college and other colleges and schools within the university; and 3) scrutinize the structure and organization of the college. In short, we need to ask the questions which distinguish leadership from command.

There is at this time an unusual instability in the central administration of Youngstown State University. The Board of Trustees is currently seeking a new president. There is a vacancy in the position of dean in the College of Applied Science and Technology, and several possible reorganization schemes are being discussed for that college. At least one large department of the College of Arts and Sciences, Health and Physical Education, could be involved in that reorganization. If rumor is to be believed, one or more other key administrative changes will be forthcoming.

If there was ever an appropriate time and opportunity for the College of Arts and Sciences to examine itself and its role, it is now, particularly before a new dean is selected. Instead, the central administration has already taken steps, without consulting the faculty of the college, to begin the process of replacing Dean Yozwiak. Clearly, this action on the part of the administration is too hasty. We propose an alternative process:

We are calling a meeting of the faculty of the College of Arts and Sciences for Wednesday, April 24, at 3:45 p.m. in DeBartolo Auditorium. It would appear that this meeting should address itself to two primary issues: 1) examine the questions raised in the first paragraph of this letter as to the purpose and role of the College of Arts and Sciences; 2) provide input into the selection of a new dean. The faculty might wish to set up a committee to study the purpose and role of the college, ask the central administration to delay the process of the selection of a new dean, and request that the search committee be expanded in size. What action should be taken will, of course, depend upon the wishes expressed by the faculty of the College of Arts and Science at this important meeting.

Please make every effort to attend this meeting.

Dear John:

In a recent conversation with Professor Gabriel, he mentioned that you are planning a conference for 1992 to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the founding of the University of Notre Dame. It is my understanding that the conference will have a session on the history of universities and that you plan to invite my dear friends, Prof. Ridder-Symoens and Prof. Jacques Verger, among others.

Although 1992 seems to be far in the distant future, I would appreciate if you could include me in your plans. If possible, I would like to give a paper on the subject of "Continuity of Medieval University Traditions at Early American Colleges", or a similar topic on which we could mutually agree and which would fit the theme of the conference.

I have been interested in the history of the growth of American education and as a member of the International Commission for the History of Universities delivered a paper at Warsaw in 1977 on the subject of the Enlightenment and Colonial Colleges (reprint enclosed). In Stuttgart at the 1985 meeting of the International Congress of Historical Sciences, I spoke about Chancellor Robert Hutchins' quest for the Ideal University. This past summer I attended the International Congress in Madrid, participated in the work of our Commission and was unanimously elected one of its Vice-Presidents. As a former student of Dr. A.L. Gabriel it is not surprising that I have been drawn +

It is possible that I will be visiting Notre Dame sometime in late summer or early fall, and with your kind permission, would like to use the Institute Library for a few days. My monograph on Matthias Corvinus is nearing completion and I need to check some footnotes and bibliographical items. Your excellent collection of Central European materials would facilitate my labors. Furthermore, a few days ago I was notified by the National Endowment for the Humanities that a grant application for $84,000 for a translation project, for which I am director, has been approved. The grant is for the preparation of volumes III and IV of the bi-lingual (Engl.-Latin) text of the Medieval Laws of the Kingdom of Hungary. Volumes I and II were edited by Jim Sweeney (Penn State) and Janos Bak (U. Brit. Columb.), the next two volumes will be published under the editorship of Bak and myself. I will need to use your library for this project as well.

Hope you and your family are well. Happy Easter!
Please give my regards to your charming wife.

Doctissime Magister, kedves jó Laci bátyám!

Enclosed you will find the check for $25.00 as part of my contribution to the ~~yearly~~ yearly assessment of our American Subcommission.

It was so nice to see you at Vancouver, although I regret that we could not spend as much time together as I would have liked.

We are very sorry that you will not be here for Piroška's wedding but also realize that an occasion such as this would not have been conducive to unhurried discussion and quality time together. This place will be a mad house on the weekend of June 9th and we would not have had the opportunity devote the kind of attention to you, as you deserve. We would, however, love to see you in the fall, under less hectic circumstances. Our door and our hearts are always open to you.

Both Eva and I found Mrs. Blush to be a delightful, charming woman. It seemed that we had known her for years although this was our first meeting. Eva was happy to find a companion with similar interests and I was relieved to know that I could attend the sessions without a feeling of guilt that my dear wife is sitting alone in the hotel room or roaming the town without protection.

From: Joan DiGiulio, Dept. of Sociology/Anthropology/Social Work
Date: February 28, 1991
Subject: DINNER HONORING DR. KIRIAZIS

The Northeast Ohio Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers is honoring Dr. James Kiriazis with a lifetime award as a professional social worker. This is a very special honor, only awarded to a few in the state. The award will be presented at a dinner on Thursday evening, April 4th, at the Moonraker. Dinner tickets are $14.00 per person. We would like to have many of Dr. Kiriazis's friends attend. If you are interested in attending, call Celesta Dennison, Sociology Dept. Secretary at ext. 3442 (outside #742-3442) by March 18, 1991. Once the tickets are printed you will be notified about payment procedures.

Kedves Laci!

Íme a Jenkins professzornak írt levelem másolata. Remélem, hogy a terv megfelel Nektek.

Azóta megrendeltem, sőt megvettem a jegyeket. Érkezem március 7-én, a szerdáról csütörtökre virradó éjjel, 0:10 kor a PanAm 4929-es járatán és távozom március 10-én, vasárnap, 12:45-kor.

Igaz, hogy mindkét járat propelleres személyvonat (majdnem két óra utazás a szokásos egy óra húsz perc helyett), de így legalább "keresek" kétezer mérföldet a PanAm-nél, azonkívül pedig a jegy ára csak $ 238.-. Ha szombaton utaznék vissza, akkor a jegy majdnem négyszáz dollárba kerülne, vagyis rámenne a honorárium java.

Ha már takarékoskodásnál tartunk, akkor arra kérek, hogy igyekezz olcsó szállást találni nekem, mert különben a négy éjszakára is rámegy $200.-, ami azt jelenti, hogy megint nem sok marad a honoráriumból.

A fentiektől függetlenül nagyon örülök annak, hogy együtt lehetünk és köszönöm előre is, hogy éjnek évadján kijössz (kijöttök) értem a repülőtérré.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Dr. Domonkos
From: Andrew E. Russ, G.A.
RE: Letter of Recommendation and other matters.

Dr. Domonkos:

On Monday April 8, 1991 I spoke with Dr. Barbara Ramusack, Director of Graduate Studies, Department of History, University of Cincinnati. When I called her regarding my status of admission to their doctoral program, she informed me that my application was considered for neither admissions nor a graduate assistantship because it was incomplete. The reason being that you never sent there the letter of recommendation you agreed to write for me back in January of 1990. She further informed me that if she received your letter, at this time I would be considered for admission only. She further stated that the possibility may exist that I could be named an alternate for an assistantship. Therefore I would appreciate it very much if you would write a letter of recommendation and send it to her immediately. In case you no longer posses the relevant information, please send the letter to:

Dear Professor Domonkos:

The Department of History at the University of Florida was recently awarded a grant from the ACLS for the establishment of a tenure-track Assistant Professorship in Eastern European history (Poland, Hungary, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria or Albania). The ACLS has provided us with an additional one-time stipend of $10,000 to be placed at the disposal of the successful candidate for their personal use. The person we appoint will assist in the teaching of the European survey, teach upper division courses in their area of specialization, and conduct graduate seminars, as well as being a very actively publishing scholar. We have no preference as to chronological period or field of expertise. It is our aim to examine as large a pool of candidates as possible and to appoint the best young historian we can find.

You can greatly help us in our task by identifying for us the best qualified candidates in the field and by encouraging them to tender an application as soon as possible. I wish to thank you in advance for your assistance.

Yours sincerely,

Kedves Éva és Laci!

Telentem, hogy a régi világbeli repülőgép kellemesen és az ígéretnél gyorsabban hazaberegett velem. Itthon mindent és mindenkit rendben találtam, kivéve hogy közben vizsgadolgozatot írtak a diákjaim, nekily százhuszon, s most iszonyú tömegben tornyosulnak előttem a nagyra'szt olvashatatlan kék füzetek. Szerencse, hogy van három graduate segédem, velük javítottam ki az abszolút dolgozatait. Ha legelőbb imi tudnának a gyerekek, de a rosszullét keringet amikor látom, hogy fogják a tollat: nagyra'szt belkésben, dandobént szorongatva a fegyvert.

Nagyszerűen éreztem magam Youngstownban és környékén. Köszönöm a szíves vendéglátást, a remek ételeket és a finom kocogási lehetőségeket.

Laci, feltétlenül add át a kérsőkörmöt az édesanyádnak! A kollégákat üdvözlöm, Titeket pedig ölellek

Szeretettel

17e CONGRÈS INTERNATIONAL DES SCIENCES HISTORIQUES

Madrid, 26 août - 2 septembre 1990

Les pouvoirs politiques et le monde universitaire
Gand, le 25 février 1991

COLLOQUE

Aux membres de la CIHU

Cher, chère, collègue,

Voici, enfin, le procès-verbal de l'assemblée générale de Madrid, ainsi que ses annexes. Parmi celles-ci, vous trouverez le programme effectif des conférences qui ont été présentées et quelques résumés du Colloque de Madrid, qui nous ont été aimablement remis par L. Waelkens, secrétaire général de l'Association Internationale d'Histoire du Droit et des Institutions, notre partenaire au Colloque. Les résumés qui ont été distribués avant le Congrès n'ont pas été repris. Nous sommes en contact avec les collègues espagnols pour la publication des actes du colloque. Nous vous tiendrons au courant des décisions prises.

Madame Hannelore Fläschendräger nous a fait part en octobre 1990 du décès de son mari, Werner Fläschendräger, survenu le 31 août 1990. La plupart de nous ont connu personnellement monsieur Fläschendräger. C'est lui, notamment, qui a organisé les journées de Leipzig en septembre 1982. Au nom de la Commission j'ai écrit une lettre de condoléances à Madame Fläschendräger (Lösningerstraße 2, D 7113 Markkleeberg).

Par lettre du 7 décembre 1990, James McConica a donné sa démission comme membre de la Commission Internationale pour l'Histoire des Universités. Il a quitté Toronto et est maintenant fellow d' All Souls College à Oxford. Pour cette raison, il croit qu'il n'est pas opportun de rester le représentant du Canada au sein de la Commission. Il suggère deux noms de collègues qui pourraient lui succéder: 1° le professeur Serge Lusignan de l'Institut d'Etudes médiévales de l'Université de Montréal et 2° le professeur James Knox Farge, C.S.B. du Pontifical Institute of Mediaeval Studies à Toronto. J. McConica signale que les deux collègues sont des médiévistes, spécialisés dans l'histoire des universités européennes et qu'il s'agit de deux excellents savants. Les deux candidats, un francophone et un anglophone, répondent certainement à la nouvelle stratégie de la CIHU. Tenant compte du fait que le prochain congrès quinquennal aura lieu à Montréal, il serait utile d'avoir deux membres canadiens dans la Commission lors de la préparation de ce congrès à Dublin, en mars 1992.

Pour cette raison, nous proposons la procédure suivante: vous remplissez le formulaire annexe et vous me le renvoyez au début du mois de mai 1991. Si une majorité des membres accepte les deux candidatures, je ferai circuler les curricula vitae et les listes des publications. Vous pourrez alors, comme il a été convenu, donner votre voix par écrit. Si des collègues proposent d'autres candidats valables, je les prie de m'envoyer le c.v. de l'homme ou de la femme de leur choix afin de le faire circuler avec les autres c.v.

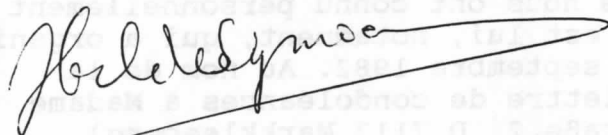

Sous ce pli, vous trouverez un c.v. abrégé du candidat néerlandais, le professeur Willem Frijhoff. Comme il a été convenu à Madrid, je vous demande de me faire savoir par écrit (voir le formulaire ci-joint) si vous acceptez ce candidat comme représentant des Pays-Bas.

Suite aux décisions prises à Madrid, et avec l'accord du représentant britannique, John Fletcher, j'ai demandé à Laurence Brockliss de nous envoyer son c.v. et la liste de ses publications. Plus tard, je vous prierai de remplir le bulletin de vote qui sera joint aux documents.

Je recommande aux membres qui sont seuls à représenter leur pays, de présenter un second candidat à l'assemblée générale de Dublin. Si nous recevons les curricula vitae à temps, nous pourrions les joindre à l'ordre du jour et aux autres documents qui vous seront envoyés une quinzaine avant la réunion.

Je remercie sincèrement tous les collègues qui ont participé au colloque et à l'assemblée générale pour leur collaboration.

Collégalement vôtre,

Hilde de Ridder-Symoens
Secrétaire général

kedves Éva, Laci és Gyuszi!

Sziasztok! A múlt héten a családunkkal együtt utaztunk a nyaralásunkra.
A nyaralásunkat a tengerparton szerveztük meg. Decemberben még csak kezdődött a tél, de már a hó is lejött, ami nagyon kellemes volt.

És azelőtt a kővárban, de az orvosok megnem adták a kővárban, csak fájdalomcsillakővárban volt a kővár és a környék nagyon fájós.
 Nagyon nagyon volt látni, hogy nagyon nagyon állapotok és meg tudták segíteni rajta, azelőtt mégis birtuk a csodában, hogy mégis javítani lehet még
 a helyzetet, illetve nem volt el az orvosok, islatás hogy 6-8 hét lehet látni. És még mindig sem volt, mert mégis 19-én délelőtt egy vafurios keret
 után elaludt és nem ébredt fel többet.

És meg befőttes a szövet (mehetett volna nyugdíjban)
 de még nem volt volna tovább dolgozni, de hát az nem sikerült. A nyugdíjban vállalat rendszer a kővárban, Sajzi pedig a Ferkaséti kővárban nagyon szép környezetet és kővárban kialakított nyugt is nagyon megviselte az orvosok, kővárban nem volt volna Évi megfigyelés a kővárban megállapodtunk egy időpontban, hogy ékezetes, de mire erre sor került volna előtte 2 nappal
 Évi meghalt. Természetesen az új málna mesét
 2 hétig, hogy meg könnyebben ne foglalkozzon annyit a kővárban.

Sajzi nagyon jól élt a kővárban, Évi megint ismét be a kővárban, most az ő

Attica munkásterve és több mint napi 8 óra elfoglaltságot jelent. Az újság írtam, hogy a Dunapack ottról - nagy megismerésével dolgozik.

Hajai híresen leírásról és feltevése és azt még az évégi vizsgálatait elárulja. A nyári meg elég kitalálással, mert azazai gyakorlati és kell minden, barátokat is van hollandiától és is szeretne utaztatni de az időpontokat még nem egyeztettem.

Ennek fennmaradásához nagyobb nyaralás, legfeljebb egy hétre meg kell Anatóriába vagy Olaszországba és azután a visszatérő hármában fel kell egy hétet.

Jó lenne hallani Ricardó ismét, ha a szöglet után elvártam Judit néni levelet de azóta is sok újdonság fordulékattal. Remélem jól megy és a gazdát is Andrást kiszélelve - rövidesen beférnek az egyetemen. Az újságírók kedvet értek magamhozra jók mindenek között Beateket. Talán Judit néni a legvalószínűbb, és a gátlás jón és akkor hallandó Ricardó is.

Az újság elég hívtetésen írtam azt elvétel, hogy kísérlet képe hűdöm a gyakorlati. Nem azután level névelni bontásba tenem.

CENTRE DE RECHERCHES DE LA RENAISSANCE

Institut d'Études Littéraires de l'Académie Hongroise des Sciences
H-1118 Budapest, Ménesi út 11-13, Hongrie.

Budapest, le 20 décembre, 1991

Chère(e) et éminent(e) Collègue,

Fidèle à nos traditions, j'aimerais vous informer, en cette fin d'année 1991 aussi, de l'activité de notre Centre de Recherches de la Renaissance durant cette année.

Deux nouvelles publications viennent de s'ajouter aux précédentes: dans la collection „Humanisme et Réforme” est sortie la monographie de M. István Botta sur un des plus importants réformateurs hongrois: Huszár Gál élete, művei és kora (Vie, œuvres et époque de Gál Huszár), et la „Bibliotheca Hungarica Antiqua” qui publie en fac-similé les anciens imprimés hongrois, a fait paraître Soltar Könü (Psaumes hongrois, Cracovie, 1548) d'István Székely, avec une étude de M. Géza Szabó.

Parmi les grandes entreprises qui se poursuivent dans le cadre de notre Centre, ont dominé, cette année encore, les travaux préparatifs du IV^e volume du manuel de la Renaissance qui verra le jour sous l'égide de l'Association Internationale de Littérature Comparée. L'affaire a beaucoup avancé en 1991, la plupart des manuscrits en retard sont enfin remis, le travail des traductions et de l'uniformisation a fait aussi de grands pas en avant. Au mois de juillet, les trois directeurs de l'entreprise, Mme Eva Kushner, M. André Stegmann et moi-même, réunis à Paris pendant quatre jours avec plusieurs autres collaborateurs, ont discuté l'état des travaux, les nouveaux manuscrits remis et les tâches qui restaient. Nous avons bon espoir de terminer le travail en 1992.

Les autres travaux du Centre, avant tout l'édition des textes latins des humanistes de Hongrie (tel la correspondance de Dudith dont le premier volume va bientôt paraître), aussi bien que l'édition critique des œuvres poétique en langue hongroise des XVI^e et XVII^e siècles, ont à leur tour avancé comme prévu. Nous avons pu commencer, après de longs préparatifs, à préparer sous presse une des sources les plus importantes, mais jusqu'ici inaccessible, de l'antitrinitarisme hongrois et international, l'Historia Unitariorum, en latin, des prédicateurs unitariens de la Transylvanie du XVIII^e siècle. Ce manuscrit inédit d'environ 1000 pages, dont l'édition et les commentaires critiques vont être présentés par M. János Káldos, verra le jour grâce à l'appui magnanime de la Fondation Bibliotheca Unitariorum (Pays-Bas).

Nous avons organisé trois colloques au cours de l'année. Le premier, dont l'initiative et la préparation revient à M. Iván Horváth, a eu lieu du 28 au 31 janvier à Budapest, sous le titre Sur les normes internationales des bases de données pour l'étude de la Renaissance, avec la participation de MM. G. Battara (Ferrare), L. Burnard (Oxford), Mlle. L. M. Dolby (Minneapolis), MMes. J. Kecskeméti (Paris), Raïa Kuncheva (Sofia), MM. J.-F. Maillard (Paris), W. McCarty (Toronto), D. Robey (Manchester), M. Rossi (Ferrare). Cette rencontre a eu pour but de recenser les besoins en matière de bases de données sur la Renaissance et de parvenir à l'établissement de normes internationales communes. Le petit „Communiqué à la F.I.S.I.E.R.” de ce groupe de travail vient de paraître dans le Bulletin de Liaison. La réunion annuelle des chercheurs de la Renaissance hongroise a eu lieu du 24 au 25 mai à Pécs, où une dizaine de nos collègues ont rendu compte des derniers résultats de leurs recherches. Enfin du 10 au 14 juillet a eu lieu, toujours à Pécs, le colloque organisé en commun dans la série des rencontres régulières de notre Centre et du Wolfenbütteler Arbeitskreis für Renaissanceforschung sur le sujet suivant: Antike Rezeption und nationale Identität. Les conférenciers ont été les professeurs I. Borzsák (Budapest), A. Buck (Marburg), B. Guthmüller (Marburg), L. Havas (Debrecen), T. Klaniczay (Budapest), K. Péter (Budapest), G. Schmidt (Freiburg), A. Szabó (Budapest), Gy. Török (Budapest), Cl. Uhlig (Marburg), J. Vásárhelyi (Budapest).

commented that the Hungarian motto was "every silver lining has a cloud." Also, I can't refute that. I can understand the rather gloom outlook, being conquered for 1000 years is not cheery. And Communism isn't a barrel of laughs either; it scares the hell out of people & that paints everything gray. But I know a Russian woman, married to a Hungarian, who can claim a similar background, & she seems to have weathered her history & maintained a capability to smile. Very odd. This is certainly one of the things I wish to discuss with you. Is it really history that has created this grim stoicism? The heartiest, most positive thing I've heard so far this year is when my colleague & translator began his commentary on the Gulf. He felt the solution was to drop everything on the Middle East because "those people" are sub-human. Wipe out Iraq, Iran, Israel, Turkey & the world's problems would be solved. I was appalled & protested enough that he went back to apologetic dolor. (Is that what is meant by status quo ante bellum?)

Actually, I've been doing more travelling than analyzing ("where," you say?); Sopron, Kőszeg, Budapest, Szentendre, Jác, Eger, Debrecen, Győr. I'll rest a bit & wait for some warmth to do Pécs & Szeged. I also put in a long day in Vienna.

Speaking of which, I hear you put in a long evening with Laci, Eva, & the children. Thank you for that. Till sometime. Always, Frank

Jan 20, 1991

Dear Les & Eva,

Although I have been mindful of the fact that my being here owes much to your kindness & counsel, I fear that I have waited a bit too long for the optimistic moment to report in & say thank you. At first I decided to wait until the initial, gosh-all-the-roofs-are-orange, horribly naïf stage passed. Then I got immersed in teaching-despite-alien-biorhythms - the multi-variable schedule, no classroom of my own, 45-minute class hours, endless hike up 2 flights of steps to find my students, & attendance that might or might not be compulsory, depending on the State Middle-level language Exam results. Add to that my basic inability to remember names & the fact that every 3rd girl is named Eszter & you find someone devoting a lot of time & energy to avoiding an international crisis. Then there was a brief period of postcard burnout and simultaneous I've-got-to-see-all-of-Hungary-before-it-snows. Before I knew it, Christmas was on the horizon along with Jim & Chris's visit. Fulbright & Peace Corps visitors arrived; Melba arrived. I was spending half my life at the bus, arranging tickets. But now, finally, time & place converge & I don't think that war in the Gulf can be construed as a reason for further epistolary lapse.

Naturally, the whole experience is proving interesting on a number of levels: personal, educational, & social/political. I suppose I should be a bit cautious in my commentary, or at least, the vacation from children, spouse, & committees, has a certain salutary effect. (Has the concept of sabbaticals for wives/mothers reached its moment of glory yet?)

Certainly 6000 miles puts many things into a different perspective. Nevertheless, it was wonderful to have Jim & Chris here for Christmas; and Melora is carrying January doldrums away very nicely.

Educationally, I find the public secondary schools very busy. I question whether they might be too busy. The students seem to have a kind of siege mentality & learn their material from crisis to crisis (viz. tests). Sometimes it seems as if they personally wish to re-invent the encyclopedia. But I'm not convinced that the real learning is much better than what goes on in our upper level classes in the U.S. Also, I have one class that I must meet Wed. afternoons from 3-4:30 in a double lesson because that's the only place Eng. can be scheduled. Also, they must still come to school at 7:30 & sit through the regular 7-lesson day. They are practically zombies when I get them. I can't imagine their education is truly enhanced by that kind of pounding.

And politically? sociologically? economically? I feel surrounded by Marsh-wiggles! (That's C.S. Lewis & THE Dr. Houch can explain if you've never read The Silver Chair from The Narnia Chronicles? One of the cultural attachés (U.S.A, naturally).

measured, considering that you really know this country & its ethos, but wise restraint is not one of my famed character traits. I do want to talk to you a good long time when I return, for I would like to toss out impressions & get some confirmations or refutations before I start babbling publicly or to classes. Offending the entire Hungarian population of Youngstown/Warren is not one of my life goals, nor is misleading the youth of America.

Personally, I have found the people around me very kind and extremely generous, but I go mad trying to reciprocate. Melora & I wanted to take Laci's parents to dinner because they have been more than generous with time, travel, & (of course) food. They would not hear of it because we "are the guests." Conversely, I gave a number of people at school small Christmas gifts, received a pro forma thank you, & never got a single word that they liked them after opening them. (Even if they hated them, by U.S. standards, they should have remembered to lie!). By all this I'm concluding that I don't understand Hungarians customs very well. I just always hope that I'm not doing too much wrong & that if I am it won't create too many Ameriphobes. Basically, however, I'm enjoying myself and trusting that everyone understands that little things vary. Although "being alone" has reared its ugly head from time to time, I find

Dear Les,
 We are about half way through the Isthmia season and already the summer has been a productive one. For three weeks in June a colleague from Ohio State and I co-directed an archaeological survey near a late Roman and Byzantine site in central Greece. There is also an archaic sanctuary in the area and the excavators found a number of fine statue pieces. Our survey revealed the nature of the settlement distribution in the valley. From the modern perspective the area holds interest as well. We were right next to the Turkish occupied zone and had regular visits by U.N. troops who would barge by in their armored vehicles. Near at Isthmia, we are

 Dear Professor Domanikos,

I just read David Halibut's obituary in the N.Y. Times, and I thought of you - you introduced me to his work and I thought that I'd thank you for that contribution to my "historical part." He certainly was a good historian. I am sorry that I missed him in N.Y. this past Dec. I was in and I had to cancel our plans to attend AHA at the last minute.

I hope that you are enjoying 1991. I passed my Ph.D. orals in January and am now doing the research for my dissertation. I am loving every moment! Perhaps when I see you next I can tell you all about my work!

Dear Les + Eva
 Christmas greetings from the North of England. We continue to travel each weekend, as there is no end of things to see. We have become acquainted with many good pubs, the beer here is so much better than what we have in the U.S., we are off to Scandinavia to visit Viking relatives in mid-December. Hope all is well with you + the whole family

Kedves Laci, (

BUEK!

Köszönöm leveledet - persze, hogy értek ennyit angolul s ha "nehézséget okoz" a magyar levelezés, csak nyugodtan: irj angolul! - és a küldeményeidnek, amiket feleségem is ez-uttal köszön meg. A bibliográfiából látom, hogy mennyi értékes művet irtál - kár, hogy ezek "csak" a tudos világot és nem a nagyközönséget érdeklik. Nekem most májusban jelenik meg egy német könyvem - a 22-ik? 23-ik? - amely hét (seven) év alatt íródott. Persze: II.vh.- történet ez is, mint a többi. Melléklek németnyelvű ismertetőt - ha lenne esetleg ötleted, hogy egy angol/amerikai kiadó érdeklődést tanusítana e valóban "szüz" téma iránt - Kiadóm (neves NSZK katonai kiadó) megköszöné.

Bp.-re február második felében indulok. Kutatni fogok - svájci ösztöndíjjal. 1956 anyagot. Moszkvába is el kellene menni - amig még lehet. Most igen: de egy fél év múlva?

Te mikor jársz megint Európában?

Feleségem is én is örülnék, ha Svájcban üdvözölhetnénk!

Dear Dr. Domokas,

Thank you for your advice regarding closed classes. I was able to obtain a permit.

Sorry to panic - I was so darn discouraged - every class "required" by the education dept takes so long to get. I'd been trying for the classroom speech class since Winter Qtr. 89 - it was always closed.

I'm adjusting to "free time", love my classes and am so excited, I'm getting $900. for fall Qtr. - YSA foundation. I told John it was his early Father's Day present.

I received an invitation to join Alpha Gamma Beta and will be inducted April 5th. I feel truly a part of the history dept. now.

Thanks Again for your assistance.
Happy Break & Easter.

Sincerely,

Dear colleagues:

You will be interested in the enclosed correspondence. Perhaps we should try after all to submit a proposal for AHA 1991. Susan, is it too late to add to the next newsletter a request that anyone who has ideas for a panel we could propose to the AHA for 1991 send them immediately to me?

I have not heard from the Nominations Committee, chaired by Lee Congdon, but expect something soon.

*All the best,
Tom*
